NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

F. F. Paulling of Lake View, John G. Dampier of Hague, Captain J. J. Barr of Micanopy and R. H. Martin of Hawthorn were among those who spent Friday in Gainesville.

Miss Daisy Rawlings, a charming young lady of Memphis, Tenn., who has been in this city for the past few days on a visit to Mrs. T. S. Dorsey, has returned to her home. Miss Rawlings is well pleased with her visit to Gainesville, which she declares to be one of the finest little cities she has ever visited. She made many friends during her short sojourn here who hope to have the pleasure of a longer acquaintance at some future time.

After the illness of Wm. Bradford, who is still indisposed and says he will not be a candidate, B. R. Colson, a young man well known and popular in this city, has decided to make the race for city tax assessor, and his announcement will appear in due time. Mr. Colson is thoroughly competent for this position, having been engaged in the abstract business for some time. He is familiar with every tract of property in the city, is accurate, and will no doubt make a good run.

HIGH SPRINGS NOTES.

High Springs, March 21.—Postmaster Glass of High Springs has just received a cable message from his son, Charles, apothecary of the U. S. S. Monongahela, recently burned in Guantenama Bay, Cuba. He reported all safe. Young Mr. Glass was reared in this town and has hosts of friends who have noted his career in the navy with much interest. They are delighted to know of his safety.

M. Foreman of High Springs served on the Monongahela forty-five years ago, and, as is proverbial with sailors, loved the old ship. In her day she excelled every ship afloat of her class. She was designated a sloop of war, and was as nimble and easy to handle as a small sailboat, notwithstanding her formidable armament. Her hull was three feet thick and as hard as iron.
