THE CIRCUIT COURT GRINDING SLOWLY

ONLY TWO CASES DISPOSED OF BEFORE THAT TRIBUNAL.

Jim Lundy Found Guilty of Murder in Third Degree—Sentence Suspended in Stiles Case.

The Circuit Court convened at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, Judge Wills presiding and all officials in their respective positions.

The jury in the case of the State of Florida vs. Jim Lundy, charged with murder, which had been out all of Tuesday night, filed into court and returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the third degree. L. W. Jackson was foreman of the jury.

In the case of the State vs. Ben Stiles, an aged white man who plead guilty the latter part of last week to selling liquor, appeared before the court for sentence, when the court announced that sentence would be suspended pending good behavior. The defendant thanked the court, assuring His Honor Judge Wills that he would "behave himself," and retired.

The special venire of fifty, summoned for the purpose of selecting a jury for the trial of the State vs. Lewis Martin, Cronin Martin and George Powers, charged with rape, was returned by the sheriff, and the following jury was qualified:

H. C. Parrish, S. S. Polk, M. H. Slaughter, E. H. Waters, T. P. Boulware, J. E. Hays, B. F. Kite, J. R. Zetrouer, Jr., T. B. Means, M. N. Sanchez, C. S. Bennett, W. G. English.

The case went to trial, and several witnesses were examined before the adjournment of the court shortly after 6 o'clock until 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

WILLISTON IS PROSPERING.

Williston Manufacturing Co. Developing That Thriving Town.

Williston, which has always been one of the progressive villages of Levy county, continues to forge ahead, being pushed by such energetic concerns as the Williston Manufacturing Company.

Among the most important improvements in Williston of recent date may be mentioned the elegant new hotel, the Hotel Savoy, which is just completed, and which would be a credit to any town of much larger population.

Hotel Savoy is constructed of wood, and the architecture is very attractive. It contains in the neighborhood of twenty-five rooms, is equipped with modern conveniences, and inasmuch as the hostelry is to be operated under the management of Mrs. Morgan, formerly of Meredith, it will no doubt prove a popular resort among the traveling men.

The Williston Manufacturing Company, owners of Hotel Savoy, have also completed an elegant two-story brick building. The dimensions are 40x75 feet. The lower floor will be occupied as a bank and store, while the second story will be devoted to offices.

The good people of Williston are to be congratulated upon their energy, which has brought that town into prominence throughout this entire section.

Mrs. Waters Indisposed.

Frineds of Mrs. Rosa Waters—in fact the public patrons generally of the postoffice—have missed her from the general delivery window for the past two or three days, and regretted to learn that she was indisposed. Mrs. Waters and Mrs. Zetrouer form a most clever and accommodating pair at this window, and patrons feel lost without them. Mrs. Zetrouer has been exercising every effort to fill the position since Mrs. Waters' illness, but finds it difficult, as the position really requires the service of two clerks. It is hoped that Mrs. Waters will be enabled to resume her position within the next day or two.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTION.

"The Servant In the House" Is Said to Be Fine.

It is a curious fact that "The Servant In the House," which Gainesville will have an opportunity to see tonight at the Baird, seldom elicits applause from an audience until the curtain has descended on the last act climax. As a matter of fact the members of the company use every effort to avert applause before the end of the play. To them, holding their auditors in breathless attention until the inevitable ovation at the end of the play, is the greatest triumph they can achieve—the spectacle of an absolutely motionless and perfectly quiet audience, for "The Servant In the House" has been witnessed in every big city in the United States. In its criticism of the first performance in San Francisco, The San Francisco Examiner called attention to this unusual feature. "A first night audience at the Van Ness Theatre," the critic said, "followed the play with breathless interest. And at the finish—for the last act is the most acutely dramatic of all—there was no hurrying with wraps, no noise of shuffling feet. When came the fall of the curtain there followed an outburst of applause which lasted until the stage was disclosed again, with the acting cast bowing its concerted acknowledgements. And the curtain went up again and Charles Rann Kennedy, the author, came down to the footlights. Very briefly, very heartily, he thanked San Francisco for its welcome. It is not often that such a demonstration comes at the conclusion of any play. You may go season after season without seeing so entirely compelling a play as 'The Servant In the House,' or a cast of players so adequate to the drama's demands."

RADIANT HAIR.

New York Society Women's Hair Matched Only by Parisians.

For many years the clever women of Paris have been famed for the magnificent beauty of their hair.

"Glorious hair," a Virginian calls it; "so radiant and luxuriant that it not only attracts but fascinates, and compels unstinted admiration."

But now that the elite of New York, ever anxious to improve their beauty, have learned that Parisian Sage, a remarkable and almost marvelous hair nourisher and beautifier, is almost entirely responsible for the charming hair of the ladies of France, the demand for it has become enormous.

A Philadelphia chemist who analyzed Parisian Sage said: "It is the ideal dressing for the hair. The ingredients are so scientifically combined that Parisian Sage is first of all a hair grower, because it surely destroys dandruff germs, and nourishes the hair roots.

"Second, it puts life, substance and brilliancy into the hair, which improves the attractiveness of any one.

"Third, it is very delicately scented; is not a particle sticky or greasy, and does not contain one atom of anything that could possibly injure scalp or hair."

Parisian Sage is now sold all over America by progressive druggists, and in Gainesville by W. M. Johnson, who is glad to guarantee it to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Price 50 cents. Made in America by Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., who fill mail orders. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

FATHER 80-MOTHER 76

The aged father and mother of a prominent Boston lawyer safely carried through the last two winters by

Vinol

The son says: "My father and mother owe their present strength and good health to Vinol. During the last two trying winters neither of them had a cold, and were able to walk farther and do more than for years. I think Vinol is perfectly wonderful. It certainly is the greatest blood-making, strengthening tonic for old people I ever heard of."

We want every feeble old person in this town to try Vinol. We will return their money without question if it does not accomplish all we claim for it.
