WESTERN UNION WOULD FIGHT AN INVESTIGATION

To Prevent Further Consumption of Valuable Time Resolution to "Probe" Laid on Table.

TALLAHASSEE, June 1.—The passage of a bill providing for certain changes of the primary election law was possibly the most important action taken by the House yesterday, outside of the failure of an effort to reconsider the vote whereby the Jacksonville charter bill was passed Saturday.

The House spent a busy day, though few bills were acted upon. The effort to call up the bill providing for repeal of a section of the statutes relating to the making and selling of pools at race tracks out of the committee's hands failed and it seems improbable that the measure will pass.

House resolution by Mr. Cash to allow the enrolling clerk such assistance during this last busy week as he shall see fit was passed.

House resolution by Mr. Hardee, stating that since the committee to investigate telegraph franks had never been appointed and that the W. U. T. and stated that they would fight any investigation of their files through the courts, and also pointed out one case in which Mr. Alexander had used a free telegram, he moved that this resolution be adopted. The gentleman accused stated that he had never used a complimentary frank on any telegraph, express, or railway company in his life and that any such accusation was false.

By motion of Mr. Calkins the resolution was laid upon the table, as Mr. Calkins said, to prevent further consumption of valuable time.

House Bill No. 764 was introduced by Epperson, to establish the town of Williston.

Senate Bill No. 63, Harris, to acquire and maintain a sanitorium for treatment of tuberculosis, was called up out of its regular order and passed.

Those Free Passes.

The report of the pass judiciary committee was made to the House. The report declared that since some of the salaried men who seemed to have used passes had denied receiving them, others that they had not used them when received, and others that they were for legitimate service, therefore the committee could take no responsibility of saying who broke the law and who did not, therefore no names were submitted to the House and the report of the committee was received and spread upon the journal, while the communications of denial and explanation were received but not spread upon the journal, thus ending in no man's name connected with passes being put upon the journal at any time.

The Primary Law.

House Bill No. 795, by Mr. Cash of Taylor—An act to require certain sworn statements of campaign expenses from candidates in primary elections, making certain requirements in the form of ballots used in primary elections, requiring certain duties of inspectors in properly identifying persons to whom ballots are given in primary elections, providing for the absenting of employes from their work on primary election days, prohibiting candidates from making donations of things of value, prohibiting persons from distributing certain writing against any candidate in the primary on primary day, providing for compensation of inspectors of the primary in certain cases, prescribing for the violation of primary laws of this State by officials, electors and other persons, prohibiting the use or solicitation of money to influence primary elections, including payment of poll taxes; prohibiting tax collector from receiving poll taxes from persons other than the one owning it, and providing penalties for violation of the primary law by members of committees, inspectors and clerks of primary elections, and for the publication of this act.

The vote was finally taken and the bill passed, 48 to 17. An amendment placing "any" in place of "Democratic" party.

The measure is considered by many to be unconstitutional.

A Resignation.

A resignation as chairman of the committee on miscellaneous legislation was tendered and read to the House by Mr. Malone, giving reasons that he and another member of the committee had failed to agree as to the proper disposition of the bill repealing a section of the statutes relating to the making and selling of pools at race tracks.

Motion by Mr. Taylor to take the bill from the hands of the committee was carried.

Motion by Mr. Stokes to take out of its regular order for second reading was lost, a two-thirds vote being necessary.

Also a motion by Mr. Carn for a special order for the bill today lost by the same vote.

The legislative expense bill being introduced by Mr. Chase, the House adjourned.

CHARLES LUTTERLOH DIES FROM WOUNDS

SUFFERED DERANGEMENT AND WAS INJURED DURING TIME.

Former Resident of Gainesville, But at Time of Death Resident of Cedar Key.

News was received here Wednesday of the death of Charles Lutterloh, a former resident of Gainesville, he having attended school here a couple of years ago. He was engaged as book-keeper for his father, J. B. Lutterloh, at Cedar Key up to a short while before his death.

The young man was about 22 years of age, and the manner in which he met his death is a mystery but it can hardly be believed that he was the direct cause of his own death, although indications point to that way.

Sometime during Monday he was stricken with a fit, to which he had been subject for the past few years. While in this state he would act peculiarly.

About 4 o'clock Tuesday morning Dr. J. F. McKinstry, who was in Cedar Key, was called to attend him and it was found that his neck had been broken and he was stabbed in fifty or more places behind the ears and along the back of the neck—in fact they were so close together that pieces of his flesh had been picked up which were cut from his neck.

While it is the opinion of some that the wounds were self-inflicted, a greater number of people realize that it would have been almost impossible for him to have butchered himself in this manner and think that something further will yet be learned as to the cause.

Although everything was done to prolong his life, he expired late Tuesday evening, never regaining consciousness so he could talk and enlighten anyone as to how he had been cut in such a manner, which completely paralyzed him.

Mr. Lutterloh was a young man, very apt in all his studies while attending school and was a very rapid scholar, always ranking first in his studies and was a recent graduate of Massey's Business College, Jacksonville.

For Twenty-Six Years

Mrs. Lamaster, of Kentucky, Suffered with Internal Catarrh and was Finally Relieved by Peruna.

MRS. W. W. LAMASTER.

"I SUFFERED for twenty-six years with bladder and kidney trouble, and being advised to give Peruna a trial, I did so, and am thankful to say that eight bottles of Peruna and three bottles of Manalin entirely cured me of that trouble, and I am as well as ever."—Mrs. W. W. Lamaster, 3127 McAtee Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Catarrh Causes Kidney Disease.

Catarrh is a frequent cause of kidney disease. The pelvis of the kidneys, as well as the tubules, is lined with mucous membrane, and is therefore subject to catarrhal congestion. Sometimes the catarrh is so slight as to cause no attention. Other times it leads up to very serious conditions.

Any remedy capable of mitigating the catarrh is a much more rational treatment than to give palliatives that only relieve the patient of one or more disagreeable symptoms.

It is claimed for Peruna that it is an internal systemic catarrh remedy, and reaches the catarrh in whatever organ it happens to be located.

"I was cured of a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels by taking Peruna. I am glad to recommend Peruna to any one."—Mrs. J. J. Eross, 553 Water St., San Antonio, Texas.

MELTON IS ENCOURAGED OVER PRESENT OUTLOOK

STATES DEMAND IS INCREASING FOR PRODUCTS OF PINE.

Lumber Is Steadily Advancing in Price and Operators Will Soon Be Running.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

C. E. Melton, who is a member of the Georgia-Florida Lumber Association, was here Tuesday and spoke very interestingly of the future outlook for the mill men.

To a Sun reporter he stated that within the past three weeks lumber has advanced from $1 to $3 per thousand, according to grade, and all of the members of the association are of the opinion it will soon return to its former price, before the days of the panic.

When asked about the mills starting operations, he replied that from reports received by him he thought he could safely say that all the mills that were in operation two years ago would soon be running on full time and selling all of their output, as the demand is increasing every day, and the prices are looking up considerably.

Mr. Melton stated that he personally knew of a dozen or more large concerns which have recently began operations again and among the entire number there is not one that is not receiving orders for all of its output, and that within the very near future, in his opinion, they would meet for the purpose of establishing a regular price on all of their timber and better protect their interests.

Very Painful Accident.

Alexander, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. King, was busily playing in the Express office Tuesday and in some manner pulled down the heavy iron door to one of the safes and got his hand caught, cutting off the ends of two fingers. Dr. DePass was called and dressed the wounded members and is of the opinion that the fingers can be saved. Outside of the wounded member being bandaged, the little man showed no ill-effects from his injury and was playing in the afternoon the same as ever.

NEGROES USE KNIVES AT SILVER SPRINGS

TWO GAINESVILLE NEGROES ENGAGE IN A FIGHT

Was Arrested by the Marion County Authorities and Will Be Given a Hearing at Ocala.

Two Gainesville negroes became engaged in a difficulty at Silver Springs Tuesday and as a result both of them are now in the jail at Ocala waiting to stand their preliminary hearing.

James Mulberry and Handy Hughes became engaged in a row which resulted in knife-pulling and Hughes received much the worse of the encounter. His throat was cut from side to side, but fortunately for him the blade was not long enough to reach the wind-pipe.

As soon as Hughes has sufficiently recovered the prisoners will be given a preliminary hearing before the county judge at Ocala, and it is expected that some of the friends of the darkeys from this city will go down to attend the hearing.

No other rows were reported on the entire trip or at the springs.
