METHOD IN HIS MADNESS

The Mullah Gives British Soldiers Plenty to Do

India, June 22.—Maj. Gen. Charles Comyn Egerton, who has been in command of the Punjab frontier force since 1899, has been appointed to the command of the Somaliland expeditionary force, which is operating against Mad Mullah, superseding Brigadier General W. H. Manning.

General Manning, who took command of the British expedition in Somaliland last November, after a reverse suffered by Col. Swayne, has not proved successful in his campaign. Columns detached from the force have been badly mauled by the Mullah's followers, the most serious British defeat being the ambushing of Col. Plunkett's flying detachment of 208 men, with two Maxims, on April 17, when Col. Plunket, his officers, and practically the entire force, were wiped out.

The last advices received in London, June 16, were to the effect that General Manning himself was surrounded and unable to assist Col. Cobb, whose column was in a serious position at Callady and on half rations.

One of the causes of the non-success of the expedition has been the cowardice of the native Somaliland regiment, of which so much was hoped when it was formed recently. Only a few days ago news came that the native camel corps had mutinied.

The operations against the Mullah, who first raised the tribes against the British in 1899, have already cost $2,000,000. A desire has been manifested to abandon the campaign, but in view of the predicament of General Manning's forces, it has been found necessary to order British troops from India, and when they arrive the British expedition in Somaliland will consist of 800 British, 1200 Indian troops and 4000 natives.

HIS LAST HOPE REALIZED

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

GOOD ADVICE

Hurry and excitement are the dominant features that characterize the girl of the period; she never has time for anything—little duties are forgotten, little brothers and sisters overlooked, while her mother is worried to death by her nervous, irritable temper. She cannot take life quietly, but rushes up and down stairs as if pursued by a legion of horrors, and knocks at the door, and pulls the bell with force enough to rouse the road. Everything belonging to her is chaotic, and her memory is so treacherous that other people are continually blamed for both her omissions and commissions. In short, she is simply a quiverng bundle of nerves, and will speedily develop into a fretful woman, dreaded by society at large, and a source of trial to those belonging to her.

Try and be quiet, set aside some of those countless engagements that occupy such a large portion of your time, and go into the nursery and study the beauties of child-life; go into the kitchen and learn the ropes of domesticity and culinary art, to fit you for the sacred office of wife; and then, when you emerge from girlhood to woman's estate, you will be fitted to guide the mechanism of a home of your own.

Build a thorough barrier of rest and peace between yourself and that work you are anxious to finish, put it away with a strong hand and decided effort. I grant you it is not pleasant to stop when you have the "lust of finishing" burning within you, but that is a home lesson all wise girls must learn. Physical inactivity will be useless without mental rest as well, and when you lie down to repose cease thinking over worries, and make your mind a blank. —What Women Should Know.

LADIES AND CHILDREN INVITED

All ladies and children who cannot stand the shocking strain of laxative syrups, cathartics, etc., are invited to try the famous Little Early Risers. They are different from all other pills. They do not purge the system. Even a double dose will not gripe, weaken or sicken; many people call them the Easy Pill. W. H. Howell, Houston, Tex., says nothing better can be used for constipation, sick headache, etc. Bob Moore, LaFayette, Ind., says all others gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work well and easy.
