Freaks of Icebergs.

The fishermen of Newfoundland possess the curious faculty of being able, as they say, to smell icebergs and thereby escape many encounters with them. Really, however, the fact is that the approach of a berg is heralded by a sudden and decided cooling of the atmosphere, which these experienced mariners soon perceive and are warned by. But oftentimes a vessel will run into a nest of bergs and may have to be towed to safety by her boats. A frequent cause of disaster is that, the submerged section of a berg being caught in the grip of a current, the mass moves steadily against wind and sea and crashes into the craft before she can escape. The same circumstances cause the remarkable sight sometimes witnessed of floes driven one way by the wind, while bergs cut a wide swath through them in another direction, impelled by the currents. The lee of a berg is often a favorite shelter from storm, and arctic steamers, northern whalers and Newfoundland sealers frequently adopt the novel expedient of anchoring to bergs which experience shows them to be surely balanced.

Made It Brief.

Dr. John Kerr, in his book of memoirs, recalls a number of humorous Scotch stories. For example, there is the story of the "argumentatively tipsy" Scot, who, calling on the minister and being told to go home and return the next day when he was sober, replied, "Man, minister, when I'm sober I dinna care for religious conversation." Then there is the story about Thomas Thorp, who died leaving his fortune to a poor relative on condition that a headstone with the name of the said Thomas Thorp and a verse of poetry be erected beside the grave. Costing so much a word to chisel letters in the stone, the poor relative ordered that the poetry should be brief. Upon his refusal to approve on account of their too great length the lines

Here lies the corp
Of Thomas Thorp,

the following was finally offered and accepted:

Thorp's Corpse.

"Tattletale" Boys.

Both teachers and parents should discourage tattling among children. The practice is bad enough among girls, but is contemptible among boys. A boy who tells tales on others will doubtless be properly castigated by the courts of juvenile justice which convene in alleys and back lots, but he should not have the satisfaction of feeling that his punishment is in the nature of martyrdom nor should he be made a favorite with his teacher for doing that which most boys instinctively detest. Boys have always been educated to regard tattling as cowardice. This code of ethics has developed some pretty good men. It is good enough for the present generation of schoolboys.—Chicago Tribune.

Backed by Authority.

A certain railroad, according to the Boston Transcript, has set its face against the free pass evil and has resorted to Scripture to make plain its position. It has posted in the two or three passenger cars that comprise its equipment the following notice:

This means you!
Thou shalt not pass.—Numbers xx, 18.
None shall ever pass.—Isaiah xxxiv, 10.
Suffer not a man to pass.—Judges iii, 28.
The wicked shall no more pass.—Nahum i, 15.
This generation shall not pass.—Mark xiii, 30.
Though they roar, yet they cannot pass.—Jeremiah v, 22.
So he paid the fare and went.—Jonah i, 3.

Grilled Lion Steaks.

An explorer who has often by compulsion eaten the flesh of animals not generally used as human food says that grilled lion steaks are delicious and much superior to those of the tiger; that the flesh of the rhinoceros, properly prepared, has all the good qualities of pork; that the trunk and feet of young elephants resemble veal, and that stewed boa constrictor is a splendid substitute for rabbit.

Coal Tar Colors.

If a pound of coal is subjected to a dry distillation and the products and residual treated chemically by the processes for obtaining the well known coal tar color, it will yield enough magenta to color 500 yards of flannel, vermilion for 2,560 yards, aurin for 120 yards and alizarin sufficient for 155 yards of red cloth.

Happy Simile.

"How tall is that fellow?" nodding in the direction of a manager of a hotel, who was the same size all the way up and had to stoop to pass through doorways.

"Why, he's as long as a wet week."—New York Press.

Strange.

There's something significant in the fact that when one hears of a woman keeping a pile of old love letters they have generally been written by some one she didn't marry.—Baltimore American.

A Future For Him.

Mrs. Skemer—Willie's teacher says Willie never gets his arithmetic sums right at all. Mr. Skemer—Maybe it'll be all for the best. He may turn out to be an expert short change artist.—Exchange.

Hit the Nail on the Head.

"So my daughter referred you to me, eh? Well, I hardly understand it. She never consults me except in a financial way."

"Well—ah—sir, that's just it."

Kindness is greater than laws, and the charities of life are more than all ceremonies.—Talmud.
