RESURGAM.

Earth, I passed this way in winter—
You, beside the fire bent,
Shivering in tattered mantle,
Seemed a beldame old and spent.
In green garments of the Springtime
I behold you, Earth, today;
Blythely singing, blossom-laden—
Now a maiden, young and gay!
In my veins the frost of winter
Runneth sluggishly and cold;
Wrinkled age and death await me—
1,000 Earth, must still grow old!

"Child of mine," said Earth, "tomorrow
You shall come to me and rest;
I will warm you as the crocus
That is quickened in my breast!
Cerements of clay unfitting
From your joyous spirit fling,
As I doffed the grey of winter
For the green gown of the Spring.
To all things comes resurrection,
Then your eyes, undimmed, shall see
Age is only youth's renewing—
Death is immortality!"

F. O. S. OF A.

Mr. F. W. Alexander, of Virginia, Vice-President of the National Patriotic Order Sons of America, and National Organizer, was in the city this week in the interest of the Order here. He wants to resuscitate Camp No. 6, now defunct. He deputized Mr. W. H. Chancey to get the old members together, and as many new ones as possible, and try to form a strong Camp here. He will be back next Thursday to reorganize the Camp, and install its officers, and attend to any other preliminaries that may come up. The Order is a good one, and is growing in Florida.

"One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin."

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm-hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else.

A Little Printer's Ink Makes Millions Think—Think—Think!

More truth than poetry. A little Printer's Ink prints a little advertisement in a little "magazine" that circulates at a little price and goes into a million little homes, chiefly in the little cities and towns and country places.

The millions of people in these homes are caused by the Printer's Ink to think that they can get big bargains for their money by sending it away by mail, ordering the things advertised by the little pinch of Printer's Ink.

Sometimes when they receive the stuff they order by mail they have another Think coming. They think, "What fools we mortals be," and apply the Think to themselves.

And sometimes some of them think something like this:

"Wonder why Mister Man, our local dealer in many things we need, doesn't advertise these things in our local paper? Maybe if he did we wouldn't be tempted to send to the big city for these same things. If we were sure we could buy them at home for about the same price and have a chance to see the goods before taking, we think we'd prefer to buy them at home."

Now, Mister Man, what do you think—think—think?

CONCLUSION: THERE'S PLENTY OF PRINTER'S INK IN THIS NEWSPAPER SHOP.

Dear friend:

They put so many things in cans now. I do not see how they can, but they do. And things that come in cans are always fresh because the cans keep the air out. The grocer man told me I could get things in cans for mama for this much:

Lima Beans, 2 cans for 25c.
Small Peas, 2 cans for 25c.
String Beans, 15c. per can.
Veg. for soup, 2 cans 25c.

Your friend, JACOB.

P. S. Can you go where you can get things in cans. I can, to
