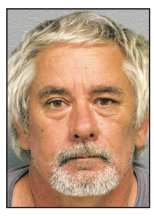
Marijuana initiative nets arrest



SCOTT WILLIAMS

By Cecilia Spears
Staff Writer
cspears@chipleypaper.com

CHIPLEY — The Washington County Sheriff's Office has reported the arrest of Scott Theodore Williams, 53, of Chipley on charges of growing marijuana during this year's marijuana eradication initiative.

According to the report, WCSO was working off a tip regarding an area in connection with Williams' property where marijuana plants were being grown.

Materials being used in the cultivation of the plants led investigators from where the plants were being grown to Williams' residence.

Williams was arrested and charged with cultivation of marijuana.

Reports indicate that the majority of the sites found for this year were designed to produce enough marijuana to sell in large quantities, not just for personal use. The latest eradication arrest resulted in dozens of plants ready for processing and packaging for sale.

Washington County Sheriff Bobby Haddock asks that anyone with information on illegal drug activity contact the WCSO at 638-TIPS (8477) or by email at tips@wcso.us.

REVIEW: ALL KINDS OF ENTERTAINMENT ON TAP AT KIWANIS SHOW

STEVE LINER | The News

The cast of the upcoming Spanish Trail Playhouse production of the musical play "Annie" gave those attending the annual Chipley Kiwanis Club dinner theater a preview from their show, which opens Oct. 13.

Dinner theater highlights Kiwanis

You don't get to more than $21,000 in donations without a robust effort. And the Chipley Kiwanis Club flexed its considerable fundraising muscle Thursday night when it pulled out all the stops for its annual dinner theater presentation. And in the meantime, a great deal of entertainment and preview of two upcoming productions were provided.

One of the highlights of the night was the witticism of "Big Mama," who helped with master of ceremonies chores.

And a definite highlight was Lee Williams' stirring rendition of "Proud to be an American." Also excellent were he pre-dinner songs performed by Luke Hinson and the piano work of Julia Veit.

Previewed during the evening were upcoming productions. Spanish Trail Playhouse brought over the cast of October's "Annie" for "Gonna Like it Here." And the drama team from Chipley High School performed as a way to garner attention for the school's mid-November presentation. Jessica Singleton's "Send in the Clowns" was special, as was "Come Fly With Me," styled by the Jazz Ensemble.

Dinner was provided by Kiwanis cooks, who made superb steak dinners for the full-house

Sand Hill Lakes hearing starts next week

By Steve Liner
Managing Editor
sliner@chipleypaper.com

The battle between Washington and Bay counties over water to be taken from the ecologically sensitive Sand Hill Lakes area reaches its next step in the coming week when a month-long hearing before an administrative law judge for the State of Florida begins.

"We expect no resolution in 2011," John Thomas, the attorney representing Washington County, told a group resisting Bay County's call for a Northwest Florida Water Management District permit to draw water last week.

Issues in the case are complex, and Bay County has amended its original permit request. Ultimately, according to Thomas and Washington County attorney Jeff Goodman, it is almost certain the whole matter will become a case in Florida's First District Court of Appeals.

Watching progress of the matter is the Sand Hill Lakes Coalition, a group of south Washington County citizens aligned to work against the permit, and the James L. Knight Foundation, a large landowner in the area.

At last week's meeting organized by Washington County, the coalition and Knight Foundation, those attending heard details of the changed permit request and heard an overview of information from hydrologists and ecologists who have studied the effects of the permit request in preparation for the hearing that is set to begin Monday, Sept. 19.

Since passage of the original permit by the water management district, Bay County has requested amendment that seeks an increase in the amount allowed to be taken to 30 million gallons per day on an emergency basis for up to 52 days per year. That amount in-

State Rep. Jimmy Patronis updates, visits with Kiwanis

Special to The News

The Chipley Kiwanis Club met for its weekly luncheon at Pattillo's Restaurant at the Washington – Holmes County Technical Center.

After the meeting was opened and normal club announcements were made, Dr. Sandra Cook, Washington County School Superintendent, passed out a flip chart to all members, showing the "Assessment Requirements for Graduation" which were passed by the Florida Legislature in 2010 (Florida Statutes 1008.22, 1003.428 and 1003.429). Beginning in the 2013-14 school year, all graduating 10th graders will be required to have passed the FCAT2 in reading, Algebra 1 and an end-of-year final exam, which will count for 30 percent of the final Algebra 1 grade.

Each year thereafter, graduation requirements will increase. In the 2018-19 school year, graduating student will have had to pass the following exams: FCAT2 reading, algebra I, geometry, biology, algebra II, either physics or chemistry, civics and one equally rigorous science course. Also, at least one course must be completed through a online course. There was no discussion of these requirements, but it is anticipated to place a great burden on the Washington County School System. Further information regarding 9th grade and higher student requirements can be obtained from individual schools or the School Board office.

Programs Chair Paul Goulding was present to introduced Rep. Jimmy Patronis from Bay County. Patronis opened his remarks by complimenting Rep. Brad Drake for his knowledge and professionalism. Patronis noted that Northwest Florida representatives have to stick together because of the state's diverse populations and interests. For example, Dade County alone has a larger budget than the State of South Carolina, $16 billion annually.

Partonis served on a committee that oversees state benefits. The Florida State Retirement System is one of the healthiest and best managed retirement programs in the country. Last session, the Legislature required state employees to put 3 percent of their pay toward retirement while the State of Florida funds the other 97 percent. This allowed the Legislature to deal more effectively with state education and healthcare budgets.

Redistricting occurs every 10 years in conjunction with the census. Last year, Amendments 5 and 6 passed. According to Patronis, these amendments were funded by ACORN and unions and basically state that districts must follow natural boundaries, which will reorganize voting districts.

Patronis then opened the floor to questions, the first being the status of the septic tank legislation. This law was authored by a state senator from Lee County to protect the Wekiva River Basin and the springs in the area. The inspection process has been delayed and a bill to repeal the law passed the House last year. Key senators from central Florida blocked its passage. The Department of Health is the oversight agency and has been tasked to do an impact study over 18 months. This has further delayed implementation of the bill.

Patronis said he will file a bill next session to opt all counties out because a repeal of the law won't pass in the Senate. This compromise will allow counties that need the law to vote themselves in, while all others will be exempt. It was noted that the law requires visual inspection, but does not require pumping unless there is a problem.

The next question focused on the status of the property insurance market and the status of Citizens Insurance, which is owned by the state. The company was formerly the JUA, which was also state run. Citizens has grown because several years ago the housing market was booming and loan institutions were demanding insurance coverage. Ciitzens met that need. New insurance companies entering the Florida market gives homeowners alternatives to Citizens. Patronis said he would like to see the role of Citizens Insurance greatly reduced.

The Kiwanis club meets Tuesdays at Patillo's restaurant in the middle of the WHTC campus at noon. For an invitation, contact any Kiwanian or David Solger, Membership Chairperson at 850-638-1276.

Pageant to have party for Peanut contestants

Managing Editor
sliner@chipleypaper.com

Following its annual tradition, the Washington County pageant committee has invited the community to attend a "Good Luck Party" honoring Miss Chipley, Charity Newsom; Little Miss Chipley, Genna Stewart; Miss Washington County, Kaitlin Porter; and Little Miss Washington County, Keygan Wilson.

The four young women will be participating in the Miss and Little Miss National Peanut Festival Pageants in a few weeks.

"They have worked tirelessly over the past several months preparing to represent our town and county in this prestigious pageant system," said pageant organizers in a statement.

The theme of the party is "Peace, Love & Peanuts!" to coincide with the National Peanut Festival theme of "Peanuts: We Dig 'Em!"

The party will be held at the First Baptist Church annex (across from the church) Tuesday, Sept. 20, from 5:30-7 p.m. Well wishers may stop in at any time during these hours and wish these young ladies good luck. Refreshments will be served.

The party is hosted by Macie Riley (Baby Miss Washington County), Julia Garvin (Tiny Miss Washington County), Kadence Green (Petite Miss Washington County), Hollie Smith (Young Miss Washington County), Scarlett Rogers (Junior Miss Washington County) and Tori Mashburn (Teen Miss Chipley).

Chase for Sprint Cup begins Sunday

By Cathrine Lamb
Editorial Assistant
clamb@chipleypaper.com

NASCAR fans, it's time for the so-called playoffs of the racing world. With the start of the championship races Sunday, there is plenty of excitement and trash talk going on among race fans. On Sunday, Sept. 18, 12 of the best drivers in NASCAR will start their journey toward winning the title of Sprint Cup Champion 2011.

The 12 drivers and their point standings as of the end of the Sept. 10 race are as follows:

1) Kevin Harvick #29; 2012; Leader; Chevrolet

2) Kyle Busch #18; 2012; Leader; Toyota

3) Jeff Gordon #24; 2009; 3 points out of the lead; Chevrolet

4) Matt Kenseth #17; 2006; 6 points out of the lead; Ford

5) Carl Edwards #99; 2003; 9 points out of the lead; Ford

6) Kurt Busch #22; 2003; 9 points out of the lead; Dodge

7) Ryan Newman #39; 2003; 9 points out of the lead; Chevrolet

8) Jimmie Johnson #48; 9 points out of lead; Chevrolet

9) Brad Keselowski #2; 2003; 9 points out of the lead; Dodge

10) Denny Hamlin #11; 2000; 12 points out of the lead; Toyota

11) Dale Earnhardt Jr. #88; 2000; 12 points out of the lead; Chevrolet

12) Tony Stewart #14; 2000; 12 points out of the lead; Chevrolet

These are 12 of the best drivers NASCAR has in its lineup. Keep up with the Chase for the Sprint Cup right here. See all you race fans right here next week, where I will have the results of Sunday's GEICO 400 at Chicagoland Speedway. You can see it on TV on ESPN at 2:14 p.m.

Incorrect Insertion Policy

For Classified In-column Advertisers

All ads placed by phone are read back to the advertiser to insure correctness. The newspaper will assume correctness at the time of the read-back procedure unless otherwise informed.

Please ☑ your ad.

Advertisers are requested to check the advertisement on the first insertion for correctness. Errors should be reported immediately.

Your Florida Freedom newspaper will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion, nor will it be liable for any error in advertisements to a greater extent than the cost of the space occupied by the error.

Any copy change, during an ordered schedule constitutes a new ad and new charges.

We do not guarantee position of ANY ad under any classification.
