Live Oak Fire Dept. celebrates 108 years

By Jeffry Boatright
jeffry.boatright@gaflnews.com

The Live Oak Fire Department invites the community to join them in celebrating its 108th anniversary. The event will be on October 7 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., at the Live Oak Fire Department.

Firefighters will conduct fire ground demonstrations and a vehicle extrication, using the Jaws of Life. There will be opportunities for hands on participation, such as spraying water out of a fire hose, trying on firefighter gear and learning how to use a fire extinguisher.

County Commissioners to meet for workshop

Hot topics: County manager position, Wellborn fire/ rescue station

By Misty A. Ward
misty.ward@gaflnews.com

Suwannee County Commissioners are scheduled to meet on Oct. 5 to discuss the possibility of hiring a County Manager and to go into more details about whether or not to build a full time Fire/Rescue Station in Wellborn.

The county manager position would replace the position of county coordinator.

According to Chairman Jesse Caruthers, currently the directors for Parks & Recreation, Libraries, Public Safety and Public Works re-

The third annual Railroad Days and Suwannee County Heritage Festival was a great success, according to Museum Director Randy Torrance. The event was on Sept. 24, at the Suwannee County Historical Museum and Depot at Heritage Square in Live Oak.

Museum Director Randy Torrance was very pleased with the participation during the event, as well as visitor traffic.

"We estimate between 300 and 400 visitors came out for the event," Torrance said. "Many stayed for the entire day."

The event incorporated much of Suwannee County's history, but focused on the history of the area's railroads.

During the morning, several former rail passengers who had either arrived or departed Live Oak's depot by train gathered for a group photograph.

The event offered something for everyone. Vendors sold items in the

Art show

One man art show honoring the memory of Wayne Edwards is Oct. 8

By Jeffry Boatright
jeffry.boatright@gaflnews.com

Most people enjoy art and some create it. There are even multi-talented artists who seemingly breathe on a pencil or brush, majestically creating art. Wayne Edwards was one of those people. His multiple skills and talents made his phenomenal work appear to be easily done, while coming to life.

Wayne Edwards

The art of Edwards will be on display Saturday Oct. 8, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., at Heritage Park and Garden, formerly the Crapps Mansion, on Helvenston Street in Live Oak. There will be no charge and everyone is invited to attend and celebrate the art Ed-

Annual Tangles' Fall Bazaar

Shands Live Oak Regional Medical Center announced its title sponsorship of the 2nd Annual Tangles' Fall Bazaar, slated for Saturday, Oct. 15.

"Shands Live Oak is proud to support the 2nd Annual Tangles' Fall Bazaar. An event like this offers a fantastic opportunity to provide our community with beneficial health education programs such as breast and cervical cancer treatment and prevention," remarked Ricardo Diaz, CEO of Shands Live Oak Regional Medical Center. "The enthusiasm and drive to educate women makes Tangles a great partner for distributing wellness and preventative medicine information that can help our friends, neighbors, and families. As with any health awareness program, education of available services provided by local physicians is the first step in ensuring our community takes proactive steps to maintain healthy lifestyles."

Credited by The Joint Commission, Shands Live Oak Regional Medical Center has been meeting the healthcare needs of the residents of Live Oak, Florida, and its surrounding communities since 1948. The hospital's 24-hour emergency department cares for an average of 1,200 patients each month and more than 20,000 patients annually. Other services offered by Shands Live Oak include cardiology, gastroenterology, general surgery, respiratory therapy care, radiology, physical therapy, mammography, and a full-service laboratory and various primary care clinics. Shands Live Oak has recently recruited a full time board-certified cardiologist to the Suwannee Valley.

The 2nd Annual Tangles Fall Bazaar is set for Saturday, Oct. 15, from 8:00a.m.-4:00p.m. Florida Breast and Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program information will be presented by the Suwannee County Health Department. Tangles is located at 12986 Hwy 90W, Live Oak, just past Wayne Frier Mobile Home Park. Activities slated include free health screening, live entertainment, quality arts and crafts vendors, kids' activities, huge yard sale, great food, mini-art show, Zumba Party in Pink, local non-profit organizations such as Bosom Buddies on-site, demonstrations, free giveaways and raffles, Operation Christmas Child booth and more at this great family event. For information or vending contact Vickie Bass at 386-590-1543 or email shabbyT@hotmail.com.

Flu shots available at health department

The flu season will begin soon and now is the time to get your flu vaccine. The vaccine is recommended for people 6 months of age and older each year by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). It takes the body about two weeks to develop an immune response after receiving flu vaccine. The flu season typically begins in October and lasts until May.

Flu vaccine is available at the Suwannee County Health Department from 8-11 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The cost for adult vaccine, age 19 and older, is $20. Medicare will cover the cost of the vaccine. Please bring your Medicare card and photo ID if you have this coverage. Vaccine for persons age 6 months through 18 is provided by the Vaccines for Children (VFC) program and is free of charge.

To help prevent illness, get your flu shot and follow these other health tips:

Wash your hands often with soap and water or an alcohol based hand cleanser and teach your children to do the same.

Try to avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth.

When you or your children are sick; stay home.

Stay away from crowds where people are likely to cough or sneeze.

Do not share eating utensils, drinking glasses, towels or other personal items.

Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when you cough or sneeze, throw it away in a trash container and wash your hands.

If you do not have a tissue, cough or sneeze into your sleeve.

For more information or to schedule an appointment, call the Health Department at 386-362-2708, extension 213.

Thank You

I would like to start by saying a BIG THANK YOU. On Friday night my husband & I lost our 2yr old at the Bulldog football game. You can imagine the fear that came over us when we realized he wasn't with us or our friends. We have 5 kids and the thought of one missing was terrible We PANICKED. However every one we encountered friends, complete strangers, young, old were so kind in helping us & trying to calm us down. This seemed like FOREVER however I am sure it was only a few seconds. We want to thank each & every person for helping us find River, the kind man that picked him up & took him to Officer Lane We can't thank you enough!! To our friends, & complete strangers thank you for helping. It makes us VERY PROUD to live in our community were complete strangers run to your rescue & are so quick to help even though they didn't know us or our baby. Again a HUGE THANK YOU to everyone . love the Sansoucis Bobby, Amy, Ciara, Jaxon, Case, Tyler & River

Arnold E. Smith

Arnold E. Smith, 87, passed away on September 26, 2011 at his residence in Land of Lakes, Florida. Arnold was born in Williamsburg, Kentucky and lived in Williamsburg, Kentucky and Huntington, Indiana prior to moving to Live Oak, Florida in 1973. He was a World War II veteran and recipient of the Purple Heart. He graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1952 and went on to complete a successful 30 year career in the Rural Electric Cooperative business. He was the general manager of the Suwannee Valley Electric Cooperative for 13 years prior to retiring in 1986. Arnold and his wife of 63 years, Dorothy, lived in Live Oak for 36 years before she passed away in 2009. Survivors include his son, Darrell Smith, and his wife Marilyn of Tampa, Florida, daughter Rita Tower and her husband Tim of Seattle, Washington, two grandchildren Christopher Smith of Cumming, Georgia and Amy Tower of Seattle, Washington. He is also survived by his sister, Irene Ball, of Bronson, Florida. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that any donations be made to a charity organization.

A graveside service with military honors will be on Monday, October 3, 2011 at 2:00 p.m. at the Florida National Cemetery in Bushnell, Florida.

GUEST COMMENTARY

Of course – newspapers are number one

BY BILL WILLIAMS
The Paris Post-Intelligencer

Newspapers are the number one source of local news. That's the theme of National Newspaper Week, October 2-8.Well, duh. Of course they are.

Except for perhaps a few well-known papers that market themselves as national, every newspaper in the land considers local news its bread and butter. Consider all the newspapers in the country. Their combined news staffs dwarf those of any other medium.

At virtually any function that is considered to be the potential source for news, newspaper reporters are there, while other news media have to cherry pick for the juiciest plums.

Other media often get their tips on the top breaking news stories of the day from what comes out in print, or from what shows up on newspapers' websites.

In the same sense that all politics is local, so is all news. It is the impact on a local reader that makes a happening newsworthy. Good editors instruct their writers to evaluate events by how they stand to affect the reader. Part of good news coverage is taking the time, and the words, to explain why a news item is significant. That can be tough for electronic media, which are forced to concentrate on brief, punchy reports.

Newspapers have the advantage of all that space. The number of words on the front page of a daily U.S. newspaper exceeds the number of words of an entire 30-minute network newscast, the Newspaper Association of America (NAA) has calculated.

Here are some more factoids from NAA:

The Super Bowl attracts about 49 percent of U.S. households. In Super Bowl week, 70 percent of U.S. adults read a newspaper.

Ten million adults used Twitter in the past month, while 164 million read a newspaper in print or online in the past WEEK.

In the last month, 82 percent of adults took some action as a result of newspaper advertising.

CNN founder Ted Turner once famously predicted that printed newspapers would disappear within 10 years. His prediction was made 30 years ago. With a nod to Mr. Turner, it should be acknowledged that an increasing number of people get their news from a newspaper's website rather than from its print edition. But newspapers are no junior players in cyberworld. NAA says that the leading local website in the top 25 markets across the nation are those of the local papers.

But aren't newspapers fading? Well, NAA says newspaper subscription cancellation rates dropped 42 percent in the last decade. Ink on paper is still king.

If the constraints are not enough, write a letter to the editor (guidelines for letters appear below).

The sports section of the last week's Wednesday Edition, Sept 14, 2011 was very good. The section was well balanced with the Suwannee County High School football team's game articles, and surrounding county game reports. The layout also had a nice balance of relevant articles, pictures, and special short features like the "In The Zone" section with the "Play of The Week" and the "What's Next "summary. Adding the "Football Scoreboard" and "District Standings" results was a good enhancements, they were both informative and to the point. In regards to local football coverage I think you hit the mark with a well balanced content and layout for the sports section.

Is Gerrity the only employee in the county deserving of a raise? Employees now paying a portion of their retirement, already slapped once with their take home pay decreased are now slapped again where one employee is valued over another. No raise was placed in the budget for employees or Gerrity but Caruthers dares to give him a raise? Because he has the "right" as chairman? Did he think no one would notice? Most employees are having to do far more than their share due to the economy and freeze in hiring. Mr. Fowler correctly pointed out that all other departments MUST ask & receive approval from the Board for any raise given, yet, still made the motion to pass it. So much for Fowler standing up for what he knew was not right. What makes this situation so unique that Caruthers can bypass normal procedures? Not being an emergency item, Caruthers had plenty of time to submit it prior to the board meeting. Thanks to the Oxendine and Wainwright for not caving in. No thanks to all other parties for showing other county employees what they are worth. I do hope occasions such as these are remembered at election time.

I have had a dog hit by a passing motorist before and they did stop. The dog was following the children across the street. However, I had to realize that ultimately it was our own fault for not having him on a leash or at least under control enough to keep him out of the street. Though it would have been a good gesture to stop, it can also be dangerous since you don't know what the owner's response will be.

There are many private companies that offer health insurance opt out. However, it is meant to save the company money. I would like to know if the cost of the county health insurance premiums is significantly higher than the opt out money paid. Where I work the opt out money is only about 10% of what the company pays for health insurance, therefore saving them a lot of money if we do not take the insurance. Almost $8,000 per person seems excessive to say the least.

Let's hear it for the BAND!! The Suwannee Middle School Band, that is! At this past Thursday night's game they kept us cheering in the stands rain and all. They REALLY sounded like a college band! GREAT JOB!! And thanks!

Amanda Scarborough
(not a band mom)

With all of the negativity going around, I just wanted to give a little praise to a few good kids. I've attended three of the SMS Bullpups football games and have enjoyed the experiences! Although the game last night didn't end as we would have liked, the team never gave up!! They played the whole game and that's a lot to be proud of. GOOD JOB coaches and players! And the BAND!! What a great job you all are doing! You sounded GREAT! Keep up the good work!

After reading Misty A. Wards lengthy article in Friday's paper it appears to me that Commissioner Caruthers is under the impression that as chairman of the Commission that he is "all powerful" and can spend taxpayers money without board approval. I would be very interested in seeing the alleged policy that Chairman Caruthers and Commissioner Fowler referenced and further what state statute affords the board to provide for such policy. This one smells like Commissioner Caruthers tried sliding a fast one through and got caught with his hand, along with Mr. Gerrity's in the cookie jar. I am thankful that Commissioners Oxendine and Wainwright caught the underhanded action taken by Commissioners Caruthers. I am also disappointed that Commissioner Fleming missed the opportunity to put a stop to it when he had the chance to vote against approving the budget.

I am glad to hear rumblings that the Suwannee County Chamber of Commerce board is discussing ways to improve the Chamber and help to bring progress to Suwannee County. I look forward to hearing specifics of a game plan and course of action. I might suggest that an infusion of energy on on the board and staff would be a logical start. A thriving Chamber of Commerce does more than ribbon cuttings and host an annual banquet and festival. Let's roll.

Where is the sense of allowing all of these gambling joints to operate throughout the state and several in Suwannee County without any taxes of consequence being collected? Don't get me wrong, I'm not anti-business, nor anti-gambling joints. I am against giving them a free ride. Why not use these thriving businesses to generate tax revenue in a down economy. I just find it amazing that this community will do battle over legalizing an Applebees or Red Lobster coming to our community while turning a blind eye to this opportunity to generate revenue. Wake up!

Since I have not seen any reported change in position regarding the City Council adjusting their policy and reimbursing city employees to "opt out" from the city medical insurance plan, I am assuming it is business as usual. How can you possibly justify taking this money when our community and country are in such dire straits. This is as close to stealing as it can be. Change the policy and give the money back!

To all those who complain about the folks down at city hall, I read that Farley was using his personnel vehicle during business hours and NOT the city's when he had his wreck even if it was to get lunch. Get well soon Farley.

Good morning I would like to give a rave to the gentleman that runs the collection site on 51. He does an excellent job, unfortunately the residents of this county think that it is their own personal dump site and they just put trash wherever they want. This poor guy, has worked his tail off to keep this place straight. Our County Commissioners just don't heed the word, to close the walk in gate so it's kept nice for everyone. It is a crying shame for this to go on and on and on. They have been asked several times to put cameras up but they just bypass that and say the county doesn't have the money. But they have money to give raises in people in higher positions. Oh well, thanks for listening and have a great day.

Businesses, please look at your US flag and if it is not worthy of flying, take it down!

So lets see if we got this right. Jessie Caruthers signed off on a 5% pay raise for Joe Gerrity on Aug. 2 and had budget meetings on Sept. 8, 10, and 11, where all five commissioners agreed that there would be no pay raises. Jessie sat there and agreed to that, with the others, knowing what he had already done. Mr. Gerrity does deserve a raise, but why the big secret. I believe Jesse Caruthers, is history, this election. The sooner the better. Maybe after Nov. 2012 with Caruthers out, we will have some good clean politics in Suwannee County. Thank you very much.

I hope the voters in Suwannee County wake up and participate in next year's elections. If you are not registered to vote please do so now. Study the various candidates' backgrounds and if they are an incumbent, find out if they support progress and change in Suwannee County. It's time to remove the shackles and let freedom ring! Let's vote the bad ones out and bring intelligent candidates that are running because they want to improve Suwannee County, not worry about feathering their own nest at the taxpayer's expense. It's time to get active. Don't blame it on the good old boy system. It's about you as a citizen of Suwannee County performing your civic duty and educating yourself about community issues and candidates. Once you have determined your own conclusions, vote in the 2012 elections. Together we can improve this community.

At City Hall, if you want health insurance well then you get it. Otherwise, you should not get the money. One of last week's RNR's said "what's the big deal it is a benefit." The big deal is that these folks are getting about $9,000 a year hidden salary. This is a huge waste of taxpayer money and should be cancelled immediately. All voters, please pay attention.

United Way Report luncheon set for Oct. 12 at LOCOG

Enjoy The Arc North Florida Sharing The Art of Giving at United Way's October Campaign Report Luncheon at Live Oak Church of God

United Way of Suwannee Valley will conduct its October community fundraising campaign report luncheon at the Live Oak Church of God at noon on October 12. The cost of the luncheon is $10 per person.

The report luncheon will feature The Arc North Florida, formerly Comprehensive Community Services, one of the 22 United Way of Suwannee Valley affiliated agencies. The theme for this year's campaign is The Art of Giving.

"You are often measured by what you contribute to those around you," said Bobbie Lake, executive director of The Arc North Florida. "Whether your gift is your time, your treasure or your talent, every day you have the opportunity to make a difference in the life of someone else. "What is your gift, and how are you using it?

"Come hear The Art of Giving presented by members of The Arc North Florida, and get a glimpse of how special a gift can be," Lake encouraged. "They promise your life will never be the same."

Ronnie Poole, a member of the United Way of Suwannee Valley Challengers' Club, the organization's leadership donors, will speak about investing in our community as a member of the Challengers' Club.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by contacting the United Way office at 386-752-5604 by October 5.

During each month of United Way's annual community fundraising campaign, the local United Way conducts a campaign report luncheon to provide an opportunity for campaign team volunteers, community citizens, business representatives and agency personnel to learn more about the partner agency services, United Way community impact initiatives and businesses supporting our community's well being through their support of the United Way.

United Way of Suwannee Valley is a community impact and fundraising organization which, utilizing volunteers on all levels, advances the common good by identifying unmet community needs and seeking to alleviate those needs through United Way of Suwannee Valley initiatives and the funding of 22 affiliated health and human service agencies.

ASK DR. MANTOOTH
PUBLIC HEALTH DENTISTRY

Q: A person recently fitted with a removable appliance should be mindful of what?

A: Naturally, follow whatever advice your dentist or orthodontist gave you. The effectiveness of the treatment will depend to a large degree on your discipline in following the instructions given for your particular case. But here are some general points that you should keep in mind. And be mindful of the fact that the smile you'll end up with will be worth any sacrifice you have to make.

•When you remove the appliance, keep it in a safe place dedicated to it alone.
•Avoid hard or sticky foods that could damage it, like nuts, bagels, popcorn and caramels. Some hard fruits, like apples, are okay if you cut them up into small pieces.
• When playing a sport or swimming, take out the appliance. They're easy tot lose when swimming. When playing a sport, replace it with a mouth guard.
•Food particles get trapped in appliances. Clean it thoroughly after you eat.
•Be precise in keeping appointments and wearing the appliance for the amount of time prescribed.
• Any time you have a question, don't hesitate to call your dentist or orthodontist.

Agriculture, livestock, fashion and public speaking were some of the topics presented at the Future Farmers of America Roundup in Branford on Tuesday night.

Alumni members, chapter sponsors, students, faculty and supporters gathered in the cafeteria of Branford High School for dinner and presentations by Chapter officers.

Parents of FFA members brought covered dishes and desserts, while the Alumni members provided the chicken. Bill Gaylard and Mark Randell were in charge of preparing the chicken.

"The purpose of this event was to teach parents and students about the opportunities available through FFA for their children," Branford FFA Advisor Stacy Young wrote in an email.

Jordan Gaylard and JT Byrd did a presentation on Supervised Agriculture Experience projects. SAE are projects that agriculture students can do to win money and scholarships.

Jerrica Byrd and Taylor Randell presented Career Development Events which are contests that students can compete in through FFA such as public speaking, parliamentary procedure, livestock evaluation and tractor driving.

Lauren Smith, Tori Aderholt, Stevie Harris and Jesse Lynn Kelley educated the audience about Official Dress or what to wear to an FFA contest.

Katie Lloyd and Alley Randell discussed Leadership opportunities. There are Leadership conferences available for FFA members that build teamwork, public speaking and other essential skills to be successful. Some of the conferences include Chapter Officer Leadership Training and Florida Outdoor Adventures.

Former National FFA Alumni President Shirley Carte and Mark Randell, Branford FFA Alumni President, explained to the audience that the alumni role in FFA is to assist students and advisors with projects.

"It was a successful event. The kids learned a lot, and the parents earned a lot," Young said.

Liz Brown attended the Roundup and said, "It was a really good time. The kids told us about SAE projects and everything that was offered from FFA. Everybody ate, we had a great time."

She continued, "Some of the people from the community were there. It was a lot of fun. We had quite a few people there."

The Branford FFA Chapter will be in Lake City on Friday for a Leadership Conference.

Members of the Branford FFA Chapter eat dinner before giving their presentations to an audience of 150 people.

Branford Library hosts couponing class

Branford area residents clipped coupons and got a lesson in savings from extreme couponer, Kelly Clark, of Live Oak.

There were 18 people present on Monday night at the Branford Library. Participants were asked to bring coupons to exchange with one another and any ideas or problems they have come across with collecting coupons.

The next event is on Oct. 17, participants will be making cheesecloth ghosts. All classes are on Monday nights from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Children are welcome as long as they are accompanied by an adult. On craft night, it is one craft per family.

• Branford Town Hall office hours will be changing to 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, effective Oct. 1.

Donna Hardin, Town Clerk, would like to remind local businesses that it is time to renew business licenses.

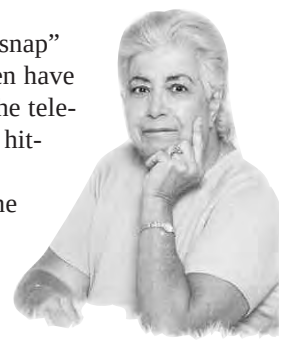
"Business licenses for all Branford businesses expire September 30, 2011. Please make sure to renew by then to avoid penalties," Hardin said.

• The Community Yard sale is tomorrow. Residents within the community will be setting up yard sales throughout Branford. Local churches will also be participating. All yard sales must be on one's owned property, or with permission from the property owner.

O'BRIEN AND OUR NEIGHBORS

"Bits & Pieces"

By Ana Smith



Well, that "cold snap" that the weathermen have been showing on the television seems to be hitting my family up north. A niece in the northwestern part of Massachusetts wrote that she finally had to give in and "fire up the wood-burning stove" a few nights ago, and another niece in the same area wrote that sweaters, light jackets and socks were now part of their daily attire. With that in mind, aren't you glad to have the temperatures "dip" down to the low 80s and high 70s the past few days? And if you haven't opened all your windows yet, hope you are thinking of doing just that. I slept last night with the windows near my chair open, and I think it was the most comfortable night without the air conditioner on in many months. Even my animals are enjoying the cool breezes, most of them perched on window sills and enjoying it.

Want to spend a nice evening learning a little about Live Oak and the Suwannee County area? Join Eric Musgrove the first Tuesday of each month at the Historical Museum in the newly restored train depot just north of the railroad tracks in Live Oak as he tells of the history and legend of the area. The free presentations are held at 6:30 p.m. For more information call Randy Torrance at 386-362-1776 or Eric Musgrove at 386-842-2174.

O'Brien Baptist Church will hold its annual "Home Coming" in the church fellowship hall on Oct. 9. There will be no morning Sunday school, morning worship will begin at 10 a.m. with special music, and a pot luck dinner will follow morning worship. This is always a special time for folks who grew up attending O'Brien Baptist Church, many now living quite a distance away, but who always make it a priority to "come back home" to visit and enjoy this time. If you are new to our community and have not yet found a church home, why not come to OBC on Oct. 9, meet folks who are most likely your neighbors, enjoy great food and wonderful fellowship.

How many of you get e-mails with what are supposed to be helpful hints, only to find out they don't work? Well, I've gotten quite a few, and once in a while I try them out. Did you know that those dryer sheets (I use them all the time) can cause a potential fire hazard in your dryer? Take your filter out and run it under a faucet. The water will stand on top of the mesh part, due to a build-up of waxy residue on the dryer sheet (that eliminates that static from your clothes) that forms a film on the mesh. So I did what the e-mail said, washed the filter with hot soapy water and gently scrubbed the mesh, and guess what? It works! The water ran right through the mesh. The e-mail says to do this to your dryer filter at least once every four to six months, and it will eliminate the danger of build-up and fire, and allow the filter to do a better job of trapping that lint.

And there was a good hint for choosing bell peppers. Peppers with three bumps on the bottom are usually sweeter and better for eating raw. Peppers with four bumps on the bottom are firmer and better for cooking. I always have chosen the four-bump ones for stuffed peppers because they sit evenly in the baking dish. That was before I read the e-mail, and now I know there was a good reason. Give it a try! I've been wanting to throw something like those hints in for a long time, so this was as good a time as any.

There's a lot of fun activities coming up now that fall is near, so keep watching the announcements in this newspaper, and plan to take in some of those activities with your family and loved ones.

Enjoy your life! God bless!

Ana Smith

United Way October Campaign Report Luncheon set for Oct. 12

Enjoy The Arc North Florida sharing The Art of Giving

United Way of Suwannee Valley will conduct its October community fundraising campaign report luncheon at the Live Oak Church of God at noon on October 12. The cost of the luncheon is $10 per person.

The report luncheon will feature The Arc North Florida, formerly Comprehensive Community Services, one of the 22 United Way of Suwannee Valley affiliated agencies. The theme for this year's campaign is The Art of Giving.

"You are often measured by what you contribute to those around you," said Bobbie Lake, executive director of The Arc North Florida. "Whether your gift is your time, your treasure or your talent, every day you have the opportunity to make a difference in the life of someone else. "What is your gift, and how are you using it?

"Come hear The Art of Giving presented by members of The Arc North Florida, and get a glimpse of how special a gift can be," Lake encouraged. "They promise your life will never be the same."

Ronnie Poole, a member of the United Way of Suwannee Valley Challengers' Club, the organization's leadership donors, will speak about investing in our community as a member of the Challengers' Club.

During each month of United Way's annual community fundraising campaign, the local United Way conducts a campaign report luncheon to provide an opportunity for campaign team volunteers, community citizens, business representatives and agency personnel to learn more about the partner agency services, United Way community impact initiatives and businesses supporting our community's well being through their support of the United Way.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by contacting the United Way office at 386-752-5604 by October 5.

United Way of Suwannee Valley is a community impact and fundraising organization which, utilizing volunteers on all levels, advances the common good by identifying unmet community needs and seeking to alleviate those needs through United Way of Suwannee Valley initiatives and the funding of 22 affiliated health and human service agencies.

City Council recessed meeting dinance 1304 for the approval of the City's 2011-12 operating budget, Ordinance 1305, pertaining to codifying utilities, and Ordinance 1306, regarding solid waste. All Ordinances were approved on the first reading. Councilman Adam Prins was not in favor of Ordinance 1304. All other first readings were unanimously approved.

Ordinance 1300 updated the text of the Comprehensive Plan for future land use development for the City of Live Oak.

"This helps us with a model to follow for future growth," George Curtis, Development Manager for the City of Live Oak said in reference to Ordinance 1300.

Ordinance 1301 pertains to the changing of land use.

According to Curtis, there are more than 300 acres that were annexed, to city property and the changes were never done from the county to the city classifications. He said the city will also be going through city land use to make sure it is accurate and ready for growth.

Ordinance 1302 amendment to the traffic and vehicle codes states that commercial vehicles are not allowed on residential roads. There are exceptions, including but not limited to, school buses, emergency vehicles and delivery trucks. The purpose of the Ordinance is to eliminate commercial trucks parking on or using residential roads as a main thorough fare.

Finance and Administration meeting

"Apparently there is an ordinance in place that was put into effect in '88 that automatically increases the elected officials salaries whenever we give the employees of City Hall a salary [increase]. Obviously that was not the intent of the council this year. We need to amend this ordinance, would be my recommendation to eliminate that provision. I wanted to bring that to the committee before we bring it to the full council," Councilman Adam Prins said.

What Prins argues is that not all city employees got a raise, so the Ordinance would be up for interpretation. Division heads did not receive a three percent raise for the 2011-12 budget year.

"I don't want to change the city ordinance. If it's in place, it's there for a reason to get that three percent or two percent or one percent or whatever raise with ourselves. Me personally, I don't want to change it," Councilman John Yulee said.

Prins called Yulee on his previous statement, "If I'm not mistaken, councilman Yulee, last year you wanted to put a two year moratorium on increases for elected officials."

Yulee agreed that he did say that last year. And that he changed his opinion on the subject.

"Because of the city ordinance that's already in place, I don't want to change it. Because in two years, I might not be here. We might have a new council," Yulee said.

He said later that when he voted to approve the raise for city employees he was unaware of Ordinance 775.

"When I voted for it, I didn't know we had a city ordinance in place, but there is a city ordinance in place," Yulee finished.

Members of the committee discussed Ordinance 775 with little resolve. The group came to a consensus to get a legal opinion from City Attorney Erny Sellers before taking any possible action or further discussion on Ordinance 775.

According to Sellers, the City Council's vote in prior budget meetings to abstain from raises to council members and the mayor for the 2011-12 fiscal year overrules previous ordinances.

County Commissioners to meet for workshop

port to the Board of County Commissioners. If in the future the BOCC voted to have a county manager, each of those departments would report to the manager directly. If the county went to a county manager it would also have to renegotiate terms for the Director of Libraries and the Parks and Recreation Director since the two positions do not solely report to the Suwannee County BOCC, Caruthers said.

Although the change would alleviate some of the immediate responsibilities of the BOCC, and seem to lessen the load, Caruthers said each commissioner should still be abreast of the issues and stay up-to-date with the departments.

"We (BOCC) have the final say in either situation," Caruthers said.

The BOCC will discuss whether or not to make the county manager position an agenda item at a BOCC meeting.

At the last couple budget meetings, Wellborn residents packed the chambers to urge the BOCC to consider making a line item in the budget to add a fire/rescue station in Wellborn. Commissioner Phil Oxendine made the request to earmark fiscally constrained funds the county usually receives in January from the state. The motion died for a second. The commissioners did agree to discuss it further at the workshop.

Caruthers said in a phone call about the Wellborn Fire/Rescue station, "That's going to be very interesting. I should have all my statistics ready for the workshop."

The BOCC workshop starts at 9 a.m. on Oct. 5, at the Train Depot. The county manager position discussion is first on the agenda. Any remaining time following the discussion will be slotted for the Wellborn Fire/Rescue station.

Art show

wards created.

If art truly takes on life, every piece that Edwards created could possibly be classified as a self-portrait because he epitomized liveliness, energy and vision.

"Wayne could see things in a building or in the outdoors that nobody else could see," his father, Wade Edwards said. "Then he would just create something out of the scene."

The Miami native moved to Live Oak with his family in 1976. With him, he brought a talent in art that never went unnoticed. In fact, the lively young Wayne had already demonstrated his abilities as a toddler through drawing on his bedroom walls with crayons.

From his early bedroom wall art shows to the real art shows that would come, Wayne created art out of passion, for the enjoyment of others.

When the Edwards family moved to Suwannee County, Wayne's new friends were captured with the young teenager's ability to create art. He was soon taken under the wing of former Suwannee High School art instructor Jeffrey Smart (Baisden).

Wayne's talents were not restricted to the pen and brush. He was a talented landscaper, decorator and builder of beautiful pieces of furniture.

"Wayne saw no boundaries in art," his mother, Winona Edwards commented. "Many people called upon Wayne's expertise when they wanted to re-design a room, landscape a yard or even paint a motorcycle or race car."

After many projects and countless paintings and drawings, a tragic accident ended Wayne's life far too soon on Oct. 2, 2010. He was 48.

"Although Wayne's passion was art, he never wanted it to be a job," Winona explained. "That is why he chose to become an insurance agent."

Many people knew Wayne through his business, Edwards Insurance Agency. Winona attributes Wayne's success as an insurance agent to his caring, loving spirit and going the extra mile for his customers and friends.

"He loved people and he loved the Lord," Winona said of her late son.

Wayne and Valerie's sons Clint and Clay, who are now about the age that Wayne was at the time the accompanying picture was taken, will always remember and appreciate their father's artistic abilities. They especially enjoyed his talents while working on school projects that required a little artistic know-how.

Although Wayne's grandchildren will never know him, they will always be reminded of the talent and charisma of their grandfather through the art he left behind.

Friends and family of Edwards have assembled much of his work to be displayed, in conjunction with a reception, at the Crapps mansion on Oct. 8. Everyone is invited to attend this tribute and enjoy the phenomenal work of the young man who seemed to easily bring his art to life.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

"What Do I Wait For"

We know King David was a man after God's own heart [I Sam. 13:14, Acts 13:22]. Yet in Psalm 39:7, David will asks the question we must all ask and answer, "In whom, or what, do I place my hope for the future?"

1) Our Life Is A Vapor: James 4:14
We may not have as much time as we think. Paul said we are closer to our salvation now then when we first started to believe [Rom. 13:11]

2) Our Things Are Temporary:
There were those who thought they didn't need anything because they had all of these THINGS [Rev. 3:17]. What they didn't realize is that these things are temporary [Psa. 39:6].

3) Is Our Hope In God?
In Psa. 39:7-8, David said God will deliver us from our sins. We are all sinners [Rom. 3:23]. We all need redemption [Rom. 6:23]. Paul was asked, "Why are you waiting? Arise and be baptized and wash away your sins, calling on the name of the Lord." [Acts 22:16] Our hope must be in the blood of Christ [Acts 20:28].

An apple a day keeps the doctor away

This popular saying has had generations gobbling up apples one day at a time and for good reason too!

Apples have been found throughout most of history, dating back more than 4,000 years. Today, over 7,000 varieties of apples are grown world-wide, with only about 100 varieties produced commercially in the Untied States.

Apples are a fat free, sodium free, and cholesterol free food. They are rich in fiber and pectin, which has been proven to reduce cholesterol, aid in digestion, as well as help diabetics regulate their blood sugar. Apples also contain boron, which has been shown to help strengthen bones.

While apples are sold throughout the year, they are harvested in the fall and freshest during the months of August through November. When selecting apples for this week's meal planning, look for ones that are firm, with a fresh fragrance, smooth skin, and free from bruises or gouges. Apples should be stored in a cool dark place, such as the refrigerator. Once cut, apples will discolor quickly if exposed to open air. To prevent this, store sliced apples in a lemon juice and water mixture in the refrigerator until ready to use.

Apples can be enjoyed in a variety of ways. Raw apples are a wonderful snack or can be added to salads. A raw apple eaten with the skin on has the most vitamins and nutrients. Apples can also be baked into pies, cobblers or crisps. Granny smith, cortland, cameo, and jonathan apples are best for this cooking method due to their ability to keep their shape and flavor during the long baking process. However, if choosing to cook apples over direct heat for the creation of sauces, McIntosh or golden delicious apples are preferred choices for this shorter cooking method, due to their ability to break down quickly. In addition to these cooking methods, apples preserve well in canning and freezing processes.

With apples in abundance this autumn season, why not try a few new varieties and different preparation styles? These Easy Caramel Apple Pork Chops are quick and flavorful, and will sure to be a hit with the entire family!

Easy Caramel Apple Pork Chops

Prep Time: 15 minutes Cook Time: 15 minutes Serves 4

4 (3/4-inch thick) boneless pork chops

1/4 teaspoon each salt and pepper to taste

1 tablespoon cooking oil

1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

3 tablespoon brown sugar

3 tablespoon butter

2 apples, cored and sliced into 1/2-inch wedges

2 tablespoon water

4 tablespoon chopped pecans

Heat skillet over medium-high heat. Season pork chops on each side with salt and pepper. Saute chops in oil, 5-6 minutes, turning occasionally, until both sides are evenly browned. Remove; keep warm.

In a small bowl, combine brown sugar and cinnamon. Add butter to skillet; stir in brown sugar mixture, apples, and water. Cover and cook for 3-4 minutes or just until apples are tender.

Spoon apple mixture over prepared pork chops and serve topped with pecans.

Fla. Department of education

Schools encouraged to submit video messages to promote reading ~

TALLAHASSEE – The Florida Department of Education, in partnership with Florida's First Lady Ann Scott and the Florida Department of State today announced the 2012 Celebrate Literacy Week, Florida! Public Service Announcement (PSA) contest focused on the theme "Take the Lead and Read." Celebrate Literacy Week, Florida! is a weeklong celebration of reading and literacy that will take place Jan. 23-27, 2012. Students from Conley Elementary in Leon County and Westside Elementary in Columbia County, two schools that participated in the First Lady's Summer Literacy Adventure, traveled to the Governor's Mansion to help kick-off the PSA contest.

"Our annual literacy PSA contest provides a creative and fun way to engage students in the educational process and remind them of the importance of reading in their daily lives," said Florida Education Commissioner Gerard Robinson. "I applaud Mrs. Scott and our partners at the Department of State for being such advocates in Florida's literacy efforts and for continuing to work with us to introduce exciting approaches to student learning."

During the event, Mrs. Scott also recognized the students for their support and participation in the Summer Literacy Adventure, where they collectively pledged to read more than 3,400 books. As a part of the Adventure, Mrs. Scott visited 17 sites, including public libraries and state parks, to encourage students to read throughout the break.

"As a lifelong reader, I am thrilled to share my love of reading with Florida's students," said Mrs. Scott. "This is a fun and easy activity that each of us can share with our children and I encourage our families to spend a few minutes reading daily with each other."

The 2012 Celebrate Literacy Week, Florida! PSA should be no longer than 26 seconds and must be postmarked no later than Nov. 18, 2011. Students from elementary, middle or high schools are eligible to participate, with winning schools selected and announced during Celebrate Literacy Week, Florida! in January. Sponsors for the contest include Daytona International Speedway and Scholastic Publishing.

To learn more about Celebrate Literacy Week, Florida! or for submission guidelines, visit http://www.justreadflorida.com/literacyweek.asp.

Railroad Days a success

"Unclaimed Freight and Baggage Community Yard Sale," while others dressed the part for Railroad Days. Visitors saw characters ranging from conductors to hobos throughout Heritage Square.

"The trackless choo-choo train was a hit among the little rail fans as Dave Blazer entertained throughout the day with his guitar," Torrance said.

Friends of Suwannee Springs (FOSS) displayed historical information about Suwannee Springs during the day as well.

The highlight of the event took place when 95-year-old Thomas Velie McFarland of the Advent Christian Village took the podium. His brief presentation offered visitors the perfect mixture of humor and historical memories. McFarland's father, O.D. McFarland, arrived in Live Oak by train. The elder McFarland came to Suwannee County to work for Thomas Dowling.

Suwannee County historian Eric Musgrove gave a historical presentation about the area.

"We had 11 or 12 different tracks coming through the depot with four to six different companies using them at one time," Musgrove said of Suwannee County's railroad history.

The annual event is presented every September by the Suwannee County Historical Museum.

All aboard for the trackless choo-choo ride.

Wiley Grantham and Keith Liebfried were present at the Friends of Suwannee Springs (FOSS) tent.

Back in the swing

Area volleyball teams are off to a rough start, as Suwannee, Branford and Hamilton County are 7-14 combined. -Photo: Paul Buchanan (SuwanneeSports.com)

The first half of the volleyball season is coming to an end and area teams are struggling.

Suwannee (2-5), Branford (1-6) and Hamilton County (4-3) are a combined 7-14 this season, while Lafayette (7-1) continues to be the areas best program.

Branford opened the season with a 3-0 sweep Sept. 1 over new District 5-1A rival Jefferson County but has since dropped six in a row. The Bucs (1-6, 1-2) fell 3-1 to Dixie County, 3-0 to Lafayette, 3-2 to Hamilton County, 3-2 to Bronson, 3-0 to Bell and 3-0 to Fort White most recently.

The Bucs travel to Bronson Oct. 3 for a non-district game before returning home Oct. 6 to host arch-rival Lafayette.

Hamilton County (4-3, 2-1) opened their season with two straight wins, with wins over Brooks County, Georgia and Taylor County 3-0, before dropping a 3-1 loss to Lafayette.

The Trojans swept Jefferson County 3-0, then fought off Branford 3-2, dropped a 3-1 decision to Madison County and 3-1 decision to Bell.

Hamilton travels to Madison Oct. 3, then Lafayette Oct. 4 for a key District 5-1A match, before finally returning home Oct. 11 to host Jefferson County.

Like Hamilton, Suwannee has seen their share of a roller coaster season as well, beating new District 2-5A rival Rickards 3-0 in the season opener before dropping four in a row.

The Bulldogs (2-5, 2-1) dropped 3-0 decisions to Fort White and Columbia, lost a tough match with new 2-5A rival Wakulla 3-1, before getting swept 3-0 again to arch-rival Columbia.

Suwannee regrouped to sweep Rickards again 3-0, but fell 3-0 to host Lafayette on Tuesday. The Bulldogs will begin a six game homestand hosting Lafayette Oct. 3, Baker County Oct. 6, Fort White Oct. 10, Wakulla Oct. 11, Madison County Oct. 13 and Hamilton County Oct. 17.

Since a season opening 3-1 loss to Trenton, Lafayette (7-1, 3-0) has reeled off seven straight wins.

The Hornets knocked off Hamilton 3-1, swept arch-rival Branford 3-0, defeated Bronson 3-0, Bell 3-1, Jefferson County 3-1 and Suwannee 3-0 Tuesday night in Mayo.

Lafayette travels to Suwannee Oct. 3, before returning home Oct. 4 to host Hamilton County in a key District 5-1A match at 6 p.m.

Taking a break

By Corey Davis
corey.davis@gaflnews.com

Suwannee and Branford both are off this week but that doesn't mean you have to take a Friday night off of football without them. There are still plenty of area games you can check out.

Hamilton County travels to Cross City to take on Dixie County, Columbia hosts Ocala Vanguard, Fort White host Wakulla and Lafayette host Sneads.

A bye week last week may have come just at the right time for Lafayette.

Two weeks ago, the Hornets dropped their second game of the season in the closing minutes.

The Hornets have used the open week to heal some wounds and prepare for their next opponent, the Sneads Pirates.

Aside from Jefferson County, there may not be a more difficult challenge waiting for the Hornets than the Pirates.

Sneads (4-0), who won but one game last season, has outscored its opponents 163-49 so far with wins over Franklin County 33-14, Cottondale 46-12, Jay 33-7 and Graceville 51-16.

The Pirates wing-t offense centers around junior fullback Tre Keys, who has already rushed for 904 yards and 15 touchdowns on 81 carries through four games.

Keys ran for 170 yards and three touchdowns in the season opening win over Franklin and has followed that up with a 150 yard and four touchdown performance against Cottondale, 305 yards and four touchdowns against Jay and 278 yards and four touchdowns against Graceville.

No team has been able to stop Keys from at least gaining 150 yards a game. Will the Hornets be able to?

Pinned back at their own 8-yard line against Jay, Keys got the Pirates out of the jam with a 92-yard touchdown run. A 54-yard touchdown run on the next possession put Keys over 200 yards yards with 4:34 left in the first half.

Key on Keys and the Pirates, who rushed for 342 yards against Cottondale and 483 yards against Jay, will counter with junior wingbacks Jalon Daniels, Joe Boyd and Dontarious Williams and sophomore wingback Reggie Creel.

Boyd added 71 yards on 12 carries, Daniels 43 yards on 13 carries, Williams 26 yards on six carries and Creel 21 yards on six carries in the win over Jay.

Lafayette is the lone area team playing at home this week as the Hornets host Sneads Friday night at Dale Walker Field. Photo: Jack Howdeshell

Last week's home opener against Graceville was anything but ordinary.

Daniels took a sweep off right tackle and scored from 51-yards, Keys broke loose for a 5 yards, 8 yards and 36 yards to give the Pirates a 31-16 lead at the half.

According to the Jackson County Floridian, as the Sneads marching band was getting ready to take the field for the halftime show, the lights went out in the stadium around 8:25 p.m.

Schools officials determined the game would have to be finished in Marianna, by the time the teams made the trip, warmed up again, the second half didn't kickoff till 11 p.m.

Sneads wasn't rattled and scored on their second possession tacking on 20 unanswered points in the second half to get the 51-16 win.

Daniels added 68 yards, Boyd 52 and two scores and Creel 31 yards apart of the 429 rushing yards accumulated by the Pirates.

Skinner back in action

As the Sprint Cup chase heats up so does Fain Skinner's chase for NASCAR experience. Next up in the crosshairs is the Monster Mile, Dover International Speedway.

Skinner will take on the daunting task of taming the concrete 1-mile oval Monster. Known for being a self-cleaning track with its 24 degree banking turns, Skinner will be in a chess match to add another track to his resume of experience.

Skinner is in line to drive the #12 TWR/CarportEmpire.com Dodge in Friday's K&N Pro Series East race prior to his scheduled Nationwide appearance on Saturday.

"Dover has quiet the reputation for being a challenging track and with the higher speeds of around 160 mph, it adds to its prestige of challenges. Again, I just want to go out there and race hard but bring the #39 CarportEmpire.com Ford home in one piece and gain valuable experience," stated Skinner.

The OneMain Financial 200 on Saturday will be CarportEmpire.com's sixth entry for the season. President, Kevin Keen is an avid NASCAR fan and now supporter of NASCAR racing. "NASCAR has some of the most loyal fans in sports and many of them have need of our products. We are excited to introduce our company through such an exciting portal," exclaimed Keen.

Troy Williams, owner of TWR added, " We are very excited to have Fain Skinner behind the wheel this week, in what we hope will be a great weekend for Fain, TWR and CarportEmpire."

CarportEmpire.com plans to continue its support of Skinner with several more races before the 2011 NNS season end.

The impact of Suwannee County 4-H

The Suwannee County 4-H first place senior and intermediate meat judging teams.

Healthy living activities are a major component of Suwannee County 4-H.

UF/IFAS Suwannee County Extension
4-H/Youth Development

Suwannee County 4-H impacts 2,500 of the 6,464 school aged youth in Suwannee County every year with a minimum of six hours of face to face teaching by either the 4-H Agent or approved 4-H volunteers. That's two out of every five kids in the county! Suwannee County 4-H uses a variety of program delivery modes to teach life skills to youth including community clubs, project clubs, school clubs, workshops/clinics, day and residential camps, and competitive events. Life skills specifically targeted support the National 4-H Council's mission mandates in Healthy Lifestyles, Science, Engineering and Technology, and Citizenship, Leadership and Communication. Suwannee County specifically focuses on the areas of community service, public speaking, leadership, animal science, and family and consumer science curricula areas to enhance youth's life skills. Additionally, 4-H provides classrooms and teachers with experiential learning programs to further enhance life skills through 4-H in the Classroom programs, such as the 4-H Tropicana Public Speaking Program, offered to every 4th, 5th, and 6th grade student in Suwannee County.

A research study found that, compared to other youth, 4-H members are more likely to be involved as leaders in their school and community, be looked up to as role models by other kids, and to help others in their communities (Astroth, Kirk, and Haynes, The Montana Study. Montana State University, 2001). The following is a snapshot of Suwannee County 4-H:

• Over the past three years, 736 school-aged youth in Suwannee County have been reached through 4-H club programming.

• Over the past three years, 4-H youth have been elected to the following club, county, district, and state leadership positions:

◊ One hundred and sixty eight youth have been elected to club officer positions.

♦ Twenty-seven youth have been elected to county council officer positions.

◊ Four youth have been elected to District 4 council positions.

• One youth has been elected to a state council position.

• Over the past three years, 4-H youth have exhibited citizenship by participating in community service projects:

◊ 4-H community service projects involved 617 youth

◊ 4-H youth participated in 112 different community service projects

◊ Four 4-H clubs have received $2,200 in funding from the Chevron Community Pride project to fund community service projects in the county.

♦ Two Suwannee County 4-H clubs placed in the top five for all Chevron Community Pride projects in the state

• Competitive events in shotgun, dairy quiz bowl, livestock, meat, and farm judging, and livestock exhibiting have reached 520 youth as well as individual competitive events at the Suwannee County Fair, Florida State Fair, North Florida Fair, and several other area fairs.

◊ Four judging teams have placed 1st or 2nd at their respective 4-H state contests.

♦ Two teams have participated at national 4-H contests.

♦ One team will participate at a national 4-H contest in October.

◊ One Suwannee County 4-H'er has received a blue ribbon and first place as top 4-H public speaker in the state.

• Nine hundred and fifty-three youth have been reached through summer day camps with a minimum of six hours of educational programming in the past three years.

• Five new 4-H clubs have been created and chartered with the state 4-H office since 2008, resulting in 71 new 4-H youth in the Suwannee County program, annually

• Since 2008, $89,904 has been generated for the Suwannee County 4-H program in the form of volunteer hours, grant monies, donations, and in-kind contributions.

Studies have shown programs that provide youth with caring adult interaction help them to benefit more from the program than youth in programs who lack caring adults (Paisley and Ferrari, 2005). As of February 2011, there has been a 59% increase in the number of 4-H volunteers during the past three years. Please consider volunteering for the Suwannee County 4-H program so that you can be a part of this exciting adventure and help "Make the Best, Better!"

Extension programs are open to all people regardless of race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin. In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, any person needing a special accommodation to participate in any activity should contact the Suwannee County Cooperative Extension Service at 1302 Eleventh Street, SW, Live Oak, Florida 32060 or telephone (386) 362 - 2771 at least five working days prior to the event. Hearing impaired can access the foregoing telephone by contacting the Florida Relay Service at 1 - 800 - 955 - 8770 or 800 - 955 - 8772 (TDD).

CELEBRATE YOUR LOVE FOR GOD

RELIGION

Be mindful of pride

Heart Matters
By Angie Land

Although it happened almost 20 years ago, it was one of the most unforgettable things I had ever witnessed. It was a Sunday morning, and the church my husband and I attended introduced a guest speaker, obviously well loved by many in the church. We were fairly new members, though, and to be honest, I was a little disappointed that our regular pastor would not be bringing the message. That changed quickly when our guest began to speak. Suddenly, he had my full attention. Probably somewhere in his 70s, this very soft-spoken man began to preach, holding his Bible with one hand and using his other hand to hold one eye open so that he could see to read the words. Later, we learned that he suffered from a condition affecting the nerves that left both eyes unable to stay open. It was difficult to watch his struggle, and I couldn't help but wonder why he kept preaching, surely at his age and with this condition, no one would blame him for giving it up.

Through the years, this man became a dear family friend. After getting to know him, I can assure you he had nothing to prove. Near the end of WWII, he became a pilot in the US Air Force, and later served as a missionary in Germany; served as a pastor for countless years, and in countless ministry capacities. To this day, in his 90s, he still serves by teaching Bible studies in his community. If you met him today, he wouldn't mention any of these things; instead, he would tell you about how much Jesus loves you.

Looking back on it now, I believe I was the one suffering with the vision condition that morning. I'm convinced the problem affecting my eyes was pride, and sadly, we all suffer with it on occasion. We judge based on what we see, and think, "I would never put myself in this or that situation!" We worry about how others see us and whether they will think us successful or valuable, even to the point that we boast and brag over accomplishments or possessions. The irony is the more we try to convince others of our worth, the more we reveal our own insecurity! What I missed years ago is so obvious to me now…he preached, even in his humbling condition, because his life is about bringing glory to God, not himself.

In contrast to my friend, one of the clearest examples of how pride can destroy a person is found in the book of Daniel, concerning the king of Babylon, Nebuchadnezzar. Listen to his words: "Is not this the great Babylon I have built as the royal residence, by my mighty power and for the glory of my majesty?" (Daniel 4:30) Can you count the "I's" and the "my's?" Clearly, it was all about him. (Keep reading the rest of chapter four to get a good idea of how impressed God was with King Nebuchadnezzar!) The ironic thing was, He had been warned exactly one year earlier to renounce his sin and acknowledge God. Sadly, some of us insist on learning the hard way!

In light of this, Proverbs 27:2 is a very short verse that has a very big message: "Let another praise you, and not your own mouth; someone else and not your own lips." Drawing from the two lives we have looked at today, it seems that if we insist on singing our own praises, others will be discussing our downfall. A better idea is to glorify God and let others tell of your good deeds…because every heart matters!

Blessings, Angie

A Godly living, final thoughts

Dr. Donald M. Minshew
Senior Pastor
Wellborn Baptist Church

Godly living courageously speaks the truth. Being ready to give "a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you" as Peter says in 3:15 created a whole branch of theology: apologetics. Apologetics is a theology devoted to giving an answer to the non-Christian that accurately defends what we believe. Giving the defense, however, has more to it than content; than being able to refute arguments against Christianity. It is less being able to answer every question than being able to explain why we live as we do – knowing that for most it will be a ridiculous way to live -- and a ridiculous answer.

So, the question is: can you explain to someone why you live like you live? This really cuts to the heart of faith. At several points in my life in the early 1990s I was in places of great danger where my life was on the line, literally. Why did I do that? Those outside of Christian faith might say, "What were you thinking?" Here's what I was thinking and what I think today: I serve a God who is able to take care of me in the middle of every eventuality. He is Lord over life; he could take it right this moment. Why worry about what man may do – when man is limited by the One I serve? For those outside of the faith, this is a ridiculous notion – but it's the only answer I have.

Godly living courageously speaks the truth – with the correct attitude. Too often, apologetics turns into debate where we try to come out with the winning argument. Peter refutes this idea by telling us that the correct attitude for defense includes two key characteristics: gentleness and respect. What is gentleness? Literally in this passage it is meekness, an attitude that directly reflects the character of Christ. How can we defend faith in Christ if we do not do it with the attitude of Christ? This means no pride; no haughtiness; no "in your face". This must also be done with respect. The literal word here is fear, not fear of men but fear of God. Every action and statement must be accompanied by a clear conscience. So we are not simply conscious of man, but conscious of God and His standards when we interact with men and women about the hope that is in us.

Lastly, godly living prepares for every eventuality. Peter's last thought about this kind of living is in 3:17. He says, "For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God's will, than for doing evil."

We have come full circle - back to the possibility of suffering. The key to his statement is this: if it is God's will. Probably the most important characteristic of Christian living is living for Christ rather than for ourselves. What if it should mean suffering? Many suffer. A great many suffer for doing evil. It is possible, in the context of building His kingdom, that God may call some of us to suffer for Him. This is the ultimate defense of Christian faith, suffering because we have served Him!

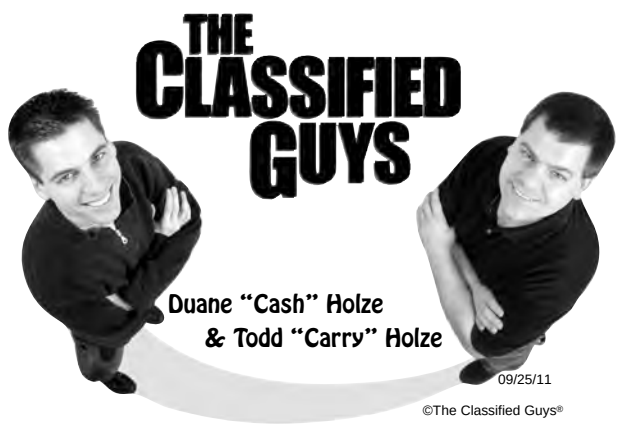
THE CLASSIFIED GUYS



Dear Classified Guys,
I must admit. I am a packrat. So when the car could barely fit into the garage, I knew I had to do something. That's when I made a deal with my 13 and 14-year-old sons. I told them that if they cleaned out the garage and had a yard sale, I would give them the money. I figured they'd make enough for a new bike or a video game. I never expected them to make almost $1500 on the sale. Not only did they overprice everything, but they became little sales demons. People bought almost everything. Now what do I do? I can't set them loose with that kind of money. Any ideas?

Cash: First, you might want to make sure you still have your car in the garage. Considering their new-found talents, you never know.

Carry: It sounds like your children may have a successful future in sales. Maybe you discovered a way for them to pay for college.

Cash: Your intentions were great. Getting children involved in the yard sale process can be a great experience for them. Not only does it motivate them to help clean out the garage, but it's also a great way to teach them about the value of a dollar.

Carry: Or in their case, the value of $1500.

Cash: We agree that it is not a good idea to give $1500 to two young teenagers. That is a lot of money for them to have and they may not have the skills to manage it yet.

Carry: However, you also don't want to go back on your word. They did earn the money and taking away their payoff will not build trust with your children.

Cash: The best approach would be to commend them on a job well done and help them with managing their earnings. Since you anticipated they would earn enough for a bike or video game, limit their spending to that amount.

Carry: Then, help them open a bank account with their name on it. That way they can still experience ownership of the money, and you can help manage how it is spent. Encourage them to save for a goal, like buying a car when they get older or helping to pay for the insurance.

Cash: And considering how successful they were with the garage, maybe you should have them work on the attic!

Fast Facts

Cashing In

Since most schools don't offer a course in personal finance, children are left to learn how to handle money from their parents. Recent studies show that American teenagers spend more than $100 every week. Those spending habits may not be preparing them for the future. The number of consumers under age 25 that file for bankruptcy has increased significantly in recent years. Maybe we could all use a course in money management.

Money Tree

As the saying goes, "money doesn't grow on trees." However in 2005, one man found out that a tree could have a credit card. Fed up with receiving credit card applications, a California man signed up "Never Waste a Tree" for a card in hopes it would signal the company to stop sending applications. To his surprise, the company mailed him a card made out to the fictitious name, "Never Waste Tree". Although he cut up the card, it seems almost anything these days can have a credit line.

Reader Humor

Priced to sell

My teenage son is quite the prankster. Late one Friday night, he gathered a bunch of junk from around the neighborhood and put it on my neighbor's lawn. Then he posted a sign out front that said, "Yard Sale."

Sure enough, at 7:00 am there were people knocking on my neighbor's door waiting for the sale to open. He was so annoyed that he called our house and left an angry message. When I arrived home that day, I immediately went over to apologize for my son's behavior.

"I can't believe my son put all that junk on your lawn," I apologized.

"That's quite alright," my neighbor replied rather calmly. "It turns out I made $200."

LOOKING FOR A NEW HOME FIND IT IN THE CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE TO ALL PROPERTY OWNERS AND TAXPAYERS OF SUWANNEE COUNTY

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the Suwannee County Value Adjustment Board, in compliance with Section 196.194, Florida Statutes, will meet in the Union Train Depot located at 210 Ohio Avenue North, Live Oak, Florida, (a red brick building near the railroad between the Museum and Old City Hall) beginning on October 12, 2011 and again on October 24, 2011. There will be an additional meeting date for possible Rescheduling of hearings on November 7, 2011, and to. finalize the VAB process, approve the final certification of the tax roll for 2011 and adjourn. The meetings begin at 9:00 a.m. each day and continue until the end of the day's business, to consider: (1) complaints against denials of homestead and other exemptions by the Property Appraiser, (2) objections to the valuation placed on real and tangible property, and (3) disputed or appealed applications for use classifications of property, (4) denied tax deferrals. Specific categories are listed below. The Board may recess and schedule additional meetings if and as in their determination the need arises.

Separate lists of applicants for exemptions that have been wholly or partially approved by the Property Appraiser, and of applicants for exemptions that have been denied by the Property Appraiser, are maintained for public viewing in the Suwannee County Property Appraiser's Office, 215 Pine Ave. Suite B, Live Oak, Florida, 32064, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The lists include applications for the following exemptions:

Homestead-all categories; Widows, blind persons; Certain permanently and totally disabled persons and veterans; Disabled veterans confined to wheelchairs; Renewable energy sources; Non-Profit, Charitable, religious, scientific or literary uses and additional exemptions relating thereto; Educational property; Property owned and used by labor organizations; Certain agreement with local governments for use of public property; Economic development; Real Property; Tangible Personal Property; and Agricultural-Water Recharge and other classified use property.

Affected Property owners should have already filed petitions for the Value Adjustment Board with the Clerk by September 14, 2010, as advised on each Notice of Proposed Taxes. Any taxpayer also may bring a civil court action to contest a tax assessment pursuant to Section 194.171, Florida Statutes.

Any person anticipating appealing any action or decision of the VAB either administratively or through the courts should themselves insure a verbatim transcript of their proceedings is made at their own expense. The Clerk only video records the meetings and does not prepare transcripts.
