SFSC softball player killed in crash

Freshman Lauren Phillips one of 4 killed in head-on collision

News-Sun staff report

AVON PARK — "She was an angel that we didn't even know we had until now. We took her for granted," South Florida State College softball player Kala Thompson said about her teammate, Lauren Phillips, who was one of four people killed in a horrific head-on crash on State Road 60 in Plant City just after midnight Friday.

The Florida Highway Patrol says 31-year-old Rolando Silva lost control of his 2006 BMW just after midnight, veered across the grass median and crashed head-on into a Cadillac driven by 26-year-old Joseph Vizcarrondo. The Marine veteran was giving 19-year-old Phillips, a freshman pitcher for the Panthers from Plant City, and his room-

Witness Jason Floyd points out to Sebring Police Officer Shannon Lei Strenth where a van was Friday that reportedly pulled out in front of the two-door Chevrolet sitting disabled by them in the center southbound lane of U.S. 27. The car's driver, Amanda Louise Joel, 21, of Sebring, was taken to Florida Hospital Heartland Division with possible injuries received when her car ran into the back of the van.

Wreck at Grand Prix blocks southbound 27

BY PHIL ATTINGER
Staff Writer

SEBRING — Witnesses Friday said that they didn't expect the light-blue Honda Odyssey minivan to pull out from Grand Prix Drive in front of southbound U.S. 27 traffic.

But that's what happened, directly in front of a dark-blue two-door Chevrolet sedan, according to Sebring Police Department accident reports.

The Chevrolet's driver — Amanda Louise Joel, 21, of Sebring — attempted to stop, witnesses said, but she couldn't and hit the van directly in the back. Joel's airbag deployed and she came to a stop in the center lane of the highway.

The van continued south and stopped approximately 100 yards south of the wreck site.

Sebring police cited Lydia Milagros Colon, 47, of Sebring with failing to yield to southbound traffic, stating that she was "inattentive" to other traffic.

Joel was taken to Florida Hospital Heartland Division by Highlands County Emergency Medical Services for possible injuries. Neither Colon nor her two Sebring passengers, 52-year-old Luz Fulgencia Maldonado and 87-year-old Carmen Arizmendi, were injured, accident reports said.

Tom Barabas of Sebring was in the median with a bicycle, waiting for traffic to clear so he could cross, when the wreck occurred. He said that the car in the middle lane was going a normal speed.

"I thought 'that van is not going to pull out,'" he said.

At that same time, Jason Floyd of Sebring was in his car, waiting in the median turn lane at Grand Prix Drive to make a U-turn. He said the driver of the van hesitated several times, inching out further each time before pulling out into the center lane, directly in front of a southbound car.

He said the car's driver tried to avoid a wreck.

"She had enough time to hit her brakes. That's about it," Floyd said.

A Sun 'N Lake of Sebring firefighter on leave for injuries, Floyd immediately made his turn, parked on the southbound shoulder and went to see if Joel was OK.

"She was banged up pretty good," Floyd said. "She took a hard hit."

Barabas ran to the van to make sure people there were OK.

"She told me, 'They pulled out in front of me,'" Barabas said.

Both expressed concern about wrecks on U.S. 27 and connecting roads. Floyd had his own misfortune riding his motorcycle in late-July 2012 on Thunderbird Road, heading toward U.S. 27 when a large sedan driven by an elderly man pulled out in front of him.

He ran directly into the side of the car and the other driver was called at fault. He was hospitalized with bone-deep gashes in his right forearm and injuries to his back and his right knee.

He's been out of firefighting work since then.

"If you just take an extra second to look," Floyd said. "People get in that rush."

HAL plans 'Roast & Toast' for Hensley

SEBRING — Raise your glasses and join the Highlands Art League (HAL) on Saturday, April 5 at the Jack Stroup Sebring Civic Center to roast and toast one of the community's most respected and admired public leaders – George Hensley, mayor of Sebring, businessman, and community advocate.

HAL's Roast & Toast celebrating Mayor George Hensley will also serve as the Art Village's grand opening with every building slated to be completed the end of March. The event will start with an Art Village Wine Walk to the four HAL buildings and feature entertainment, food and beverages and the "Roast & Toast" honoring Hensley.

Sponsorships, corporate tables and individual tickets will be available soon. Contact the Highlands Art League at 385-5312 or email info@HighlandsArtLeague.org for more information or visit www.HighlandsArtLeague.org.

LPHS SGA collecting bikes

LAKE PLACID — Lake Placid High School's Student Government Association has teamed up with the Highlands County Sheriff's Office to prevent delinquency and develop strong, lawful, resilient and productive citizens who will make a positive contribution to Highlands County for years to come.

Each summer, the Sheriff's Office hosts a youth camp. This year, the SGA has decided to take on the task of collecting bicycles for that camp, where the bicycles stay to be used in coming years.

The SGA has a goal of collecting 30 bicycles during the month of April. They are asking for gently used or new bicycles, but will also accept monetary donations to buy bicycles. If interested in sending a check, make it payable to Lake Placid High School and mail it to 202 Green Dragon Drive, Lake Placid, FL 33852, Attention SGA. To find out more about donating a bicycle, call the high school at 699-5010 or email sohnm@highlands.k12.us.

Man charged with swindling brother

BY PHIL ATTINGER
Staff Writer

SEBRING — Sheriff's deputies arrested a man Thursday on charges of grand theft of more than $5,000 and scheming to defraud his brother out of that money.

According to arrest reports, Highlands County Sheriff's deputies charged Donald Jordan, 54, of 5110 Whiting Drive in Sebring after his brother, Harry Jordan, and his sister and brother-in-law, Barbara and Bernard Poole, made complaints against him on Aug. 19, 2013.

At that time, the family members told investigators that Donald Jordan was given power of attorney over his brother's finances since Oct. 9, 2008. Harry Jordan had suffered medical issues while married to his ex-wife. Arrest reports state his family believed he was being victimized and they all agreed to give Donald Jordan power of attorney, since Harry Jordan could not read or write.

Harry Jordan told investigators that his brother would show him paperwork and tell him to sign it, but he never knew what he was signing. He simply trusted his brother.

He didn't realize what was happening until he was out of money and his brother would not let him have access to his debit card or financial records.

LP Town Council issues Relay for Life proclamation

Special to the News-Sun

LAKE PLACID — The Lake Placid Town Council has issued a proclamation making this April 4 "Lake Placid's Race for a Cure Day."

Saturday will be the American Cancer Society's big Relay For Life event at the high school football field on Dal Hal Boulevard, and the entire community is invited to attend. There is no entrance fee.

The Relay begins at 6 p.m., but survivors can begin registering on site at 5 p.m.

After the opening ceremonies, led by event chair Chelsea Lowder, the JROTC will raise the flag and the Lake Placid High School band will play as they lead the survivors and caregivers around the track.

Some of these folks are celebrating many years of survival, others are currently fighting their battles with the disease, and others are the faithful caregivers who have made these journeys possible.

Under the leadership of Survivorship Chairperson Nancy Sanders, the survivors and caregivers will be treated to a dinner funded by Lykes Bros. Inc. and Highlands Regional Medical Center, complete with live entertainment and prizes.

Everyone else will begin walking the track and enjoying games, activities, food, drinks, raffles, and fun at campsites built by 13 community teams.

At sundown, the lights will go down for the luminaria ceremony. If you have a loved one who is a survivor or has lost their battle, you can donate for a luminaria bag to honor or remember them.

This has to be done prior to 7 p.m. so the bags can be labeled and placed around the track.

With all of these bags lit, it becomes a time of reflection to remember why Relay For Life is so important. Money is needed to support research and to help support community services for people fighting this disease.

There are purple ribbons on light poles around town on Interlake Boulevard, Dal Hall Boulevard, Main Avenue and at the Chamber of Commerce. Try counting the number of bows, locate the Mission Advocacy tent at the Relay event, and submit your count on a slip of paper with your name and contact number.

A drawing from all correct answers will be held at about 9 p.m. to win a basket of goodies.

Survivor's Reception a celebration at Relays

Special to the News-Sun

In a nation where thousands of people will be diagnosed with cancer this year, county residents are invited to celebrate life at their respective Relays for Life.

The American Cancer Society Relay For Life is a unique fundraising event in which teams of participants take turns walking the track overnight in an effort to fight cancer. Teams camp out, eat and play games.

This year's Relay For Life will take place at Scarbrough Field at Lake Placid High School on April 4, at Firemen's Field across from Sebring High School on April 12 and at Joe Franza Stadium at Avon Park High School on May 2.

The message of the event is that no one fights alone. Although schedules will differ at the three events, the Survivor's Reception is held toward the beginning of each event. The reception is simply a celebration that honors all individuals who have survived a diagnosis of cancer.

After the reception, all cancer survivors, meaning anyone who has ever been diagnosed with cancer, and their caregivers will gather on the track and walk or wheelchair the first lap, unified in victory and hope. This emotional lap honors the courage of all who have defeated cancer.

The atmosphere of Relay For Life is one of camaraderie and celebration, providing an opportunity for cancer survivors to pass the torch of hope on to those still battling cancer or those that might be touched by cancer in the future. Because no one fights cancer alone, friends, family members, and caregivers are encouraged to attend the Survivors Lap and join their loved ones as they walk around the track.

If you are a cancer survivor and would like to take part in your respective Relay For Life, call Nancy Sanders in Lake Placid at 659-1345 or register at relayforlife.org/lakeplacidfl.

The opening ceremony is set for 6 p.m. April 4 with the Survivors Lap being the kickoff. In Sebring, contact Tracy Palmer at 443-0178 or register at www.relayforlife.org/sebringfl. Registration for the Survivors Reception is set for 4 p.m. April 12 with dinner following at 5 p.m. and the opening lap and Survivors Lap set for 6 p.m.

Cheryl Bateman, 873-4775, is the contact person for the Avon Park event, or register at www.relayforlife.org/avonparkfl. That event is set to begin at 6 p.m. May 2.

For more information anytime regarding the American Cancer Society, call toll free 1-800-ACS-2345 or visit www.cancer.org.

For additional information, call Chelsea Lowder at 863-243-0214 or contact Cheryl Henderson at Cheryl.henderson@lykesranch.com. You can also go to www.relayforlife.org/lakeplacidfl.

HCSO warns of tax, grandparent scams

Special to the News-Sun

SEBRING – Have you been surprised to find that someone has already filed your taxes for you, and you didn't get the refund?

Unfortunately, many Highlands County residents have found this to be the case when they try to file tax returns only to learn their identity has been compromised.

The Highlands County Sheriff's Office has seen such cases, as do law enforcement agencies throughout the country regularly take reports this time of year, said Sheriff's Office Crime Prevention Specialist Nell Hays.

Tax scams have taken another spin in 2014. Citizens are getting calls from a scammer pretending to be an IRS agent who informs them of a pending tax debt.

The caller threatens the victims with seizure of accounts or arrest if they do not send money immediately, then instructs them to get a Green Dot Card or Western Union Moneygram to pay the debt.

"The IRS will not ask for payment over the phone, nor will they tell you to get a Green Dot Card or Money Gram," Sheriff Susan Benton said.

Her advice: "Just hang up on the caller."

Another scam involves offering money for your credit.

A caller offers a $9,000 grant for having good credit, but then asks for bank information so money can be transferred into an account. Instead, money will be going out.

Hays reminds residents never to give out personal information, bank account numbers or credit card information over the phone unless they initiated the call and are absolutely certain they are speaking with a valid representative of whatever company they contacted.

Another popular spring scam is the "grandparent scam."

A caller pretending to be a grandchild or someone speaking for them calls to say they have gotten into a situation — such as being arrested or admitted to a hospital — and that money must be sent immediately to solve the problem.

Grandparents should be wary of any calls like this, Hays said.

She encourages grandparents to call another relative to establish the well-being of the grandchild.

"Please do not send money, and I'm sure you'll find your grandchild is just fine," Hays said.

For more information on frauds and scams, please call the Sheriff's Office Crime Prevention Unit at 863-402-7369 and speak to Nell Hays.

If you have been a victim of a scam, contact your local law enforcement agency and make a report as soon as possible.

Mom charged with fatally stabbing son

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — A mother has been charged with first-degree murder after authorities say she fatally stabbed her 4-year-old son.

St. Petersburg police say Tasha Trotter has not given a statement and it's unclear why she allegedly killed her son.

Authorities responded to an apartment building Friday night and found Joseph Artis outside with multiple stab wounds. The boy was pronounced dead at the hospital.

The boy had been staying with his grandmother, who had legal custody.

Trotter had visitation rights and stopped by the apartment Friday night. At some point, police say she grabbed a knife and began stabbing the boy.

Keep kids alive and drive 25

You know how it is. One moment you're 10 minutes ahead of schedule, the next you're five minutes behind.

And you probably have a lot on your mind. For example, you might be wondering what to cook for dinner, or worried the contract won't arrive in time, or disgusted with your granddaughter's new boyfriend, or scared you'll get detention for being late.

Whatever is on your mind, you're comfortable in your neighborhood — after all, you know the streets like the back of your hand — but, you're distracted and unconsciously press down on the accelerator. Without knowing it, you're going over the speed limit by 10 miles per hour.

Then the phone rings, or you look at your watch, or you reach for the coffee — just as your neighbor's 5-year-old child darts out into road without warning. You try to stop but there simply isn't the distance. The sound the little girl makes as she bounces off the hood of your car onto the hard pavement lives with you the rest of your life. It wakes you from sleep and spoils your appetite.

Lives end or drastically change in a matter of split-seconds. A life of joy can turn to ashes with a single intake of breath.

Spare yourself the agony that will haunt you your entire life. Slow down in residential neighborhoods, especially those that have ditch-like swales or no sidewalks.

People who make one horrible mistake do not belong in prison. But there serial speeders among who put us all at risk everyday.

We think the time has come to revisit the Florida statutes and tighten the laws regarding culpability when people are killed by a driver going too fast. Currently, the speed a vehicle at the time of a crash is not enough, by it self, to assign criminal responsibility — even if the crash results in a death, like in the case of Matty Waldrup, who was killed in Avon Park two years ago.

In the meantime, we urge all county government agencies to support the "Keep Kids Alive, Drive 25" campaign, set 25 mph limits in all residential areas and making that clear by posting the Drive 25 signs and issuing citations.

Signs alone, of course, are not enough. Only self-discipline will stop the terrible, painful waste. Please think of that when you start your vehicle's engine. Be a part of the solution instead of ruining your own life and that of your neighbors.

Picking pockets of disabled veterans

An open letter to Sens. Bill Nelson (D-Florida) and Susan Collins (R-Maine):

The Veterans Administration is picking the pockets of millions of disabled veterans to the tune of $3.1 billion in 2014. Sens. Nelson and Collins are ranking members on the Senate Aging Committee on new anti-fraud hotline. This fraud by the Veterans Administration has been going on for more than 40 years, taking trillions of dollars out of the pockets of America's disabled veterans. The projected amount for 2014 is $3.1 billion. These veterans are also senior citizens and deserve better.

"Reimburse the VA" floor speech by deceased Sen. Bob Filner, date April 4, 2011 in Washington, D.C.: Mr. Filner introduced HR 814, the Medicare VA Reimbursement Act of 2011. This legislation authorizes the establishment of a Medicare VA reimbursement program where HHS reimburses the VA for the provision of health care to Medicare-eligible veterans for treatment of non-service connected conditions at VA medical facilities.

Today there are veterans who have earned VA health care benefits with service to our country, as well as Medicare benefits by paying into the Social Security system during their working years. Even though these individuals have clearly earned both of these benefits, current law unfairly prohibits them from using their Medicare benefits at VA facilities even though they may feel more comfortable seeking care among their fellow veterans from VA providers who specialize in caring for veterans.

This is also inconsistent with the authorities granted to other Federal entities such as the Indian Health Service (IHS) and the Department of Defense (DOD) Tricare for life that are allowed to bill Medicare. IHS and DOD are able to augment their resources with Medicare collections and reinvest the extra funding back into their programs and services. HR814 would provide equity in such billing practices among the Federal entities.

In other words, the VA would be able to access any important new source of revenues from Medicare, which may be reinvested to further strengthen the VA's health care system. The Treasury Department of the United States is a party to this theft.

LAURA'S LOOK
Laura Ware

As a former teacher and a parent that has shepherded two boys through various school systems, I understand that schools have rules. And at time said rules have to be enforced whether the parent likes it or not.

But there have been two recent stories in the news regarding school discipline that have me wondering what the powers that be were thinking. The decisions they've made have landed them in a world of unwanted bad press and they've ended up looking, at best, somewhat clueless.

First let me tell you the tale of Sunnie Kahle, an 8-year-old girl in Virginia who wears her hair short, dresses in T-shirts and sneakers, and likes sports. Until recently, she was attending Timberlake Christian School, a private religious school in Lynchburg.

According to the article I read on www.washingtonpost.com, the school sent a letter home to Sunnie's grandmother, who is also her guardian. The letter states that in part, that unless Sunnie starts dressing and acting more like a girl that the school might not be the best fit for her.

The family was not happy with the school's opinion and responded by pulling her out of the school. The article says that Sunnie is currently attending public school, but misses her old friends.

The school's response has been interesting. Citing privacy concerns they initially didn't go into details about the situation. From what I've read they lament that the family went public with the story and said that the "narrative" given in the news reports doesn't tell the whole story.

In another article on the Washington Post's website it says that the school issued a statement through its lawyers, claiming that they had not asked Sunnie to leave school or accused her of immoral behavior.

Yes, I believe that God made male and female, and that the two have differences. But in my opinion, given what we know, the school is taking an odd stance. I also like wearing T-shirts. I enjoy video games, a male-dominated realm. Does any of this make me less of a female?

It would help to get more of the school's side of things, because it would clear up some questions I have about the situation. Such as if it's not a "hairstyle and tomboy issue," as they state, what exactly is the problem?

My second story takes us to Grand Junction, Colo. According to the article I read on www.denverpost.com, third-grader Kamryn Renfro decided to have her head shaved to encourage and show solidarity with a friend dealing with cancer and chemotherapy.

Sounds like a sweet thing for the kid to do, doesn't it? I thought it was. Unfortunately, the officials at her charter school didn't see it that way. Citing the school's dress code, they told Kamryn's parents she could not attend classes there.

Kamryn's mother took her case to Facebook, which proceeded to make its displeasure known. The school's website and own Facebook page was flooded with angry comments. Their phone rang off the hook.

The school relented and let Kamryn return to classes the following day. School administrators met and voted to amend the dress code to allow for exceptions such as showing solidarity with a cancer patient.

I'm glad the school worked it out. And I saw three cheers for Kamryn and her willingness to forgo her looks to help a friend in a time of need.

The article cites part of the charter school's mission statement: "Our mission is to help all students achieve their highest academic and character potential using proven, accelerated academic programs, while providing a safe environment."

"Highest character potential." I think Kamryn's doing fine there.

County Commission to be serenaded on Tuesday

Expected to approve purchase of land for HCSO building

BY BARRY FOSTER
News-Sun correspondent

SEBRING — Highlands County commissioners will have a rather unusual presentation when they meet for their meeting Tuesday — music.

Local artist Cammie Lester is slated to perform a rendition of "Amazing Grace" in recognition of the upcoming Pinwheels for Prevention event.

The Highlands County Champion for Children foundation will have a presentation at 8 .m. that morning on the Highlands County Courthouse lawn, featuring music by the Sebring High School student as well as presentations by a number of dignitaries, including 10th Judicial Circuit Court Judge Angela Cowden, Vice President of One Hope United Barbara Moss and Steve Houchin, lead prosecutor for the State Attorney's office among others

Lester, a recent winner at Walt Disney World's American Idol Experience, also will be hosting an April 12 concert at the Circle Theatre in downtown Sebring to benefit the Champion for Children foundation.

April is nationally recognized as Child Abuse Prevention Month. Heartland for Children and partnering agencies have joined efforts with Prevent Child Abuse Florida through the Pinwheels for Prevention campaign "to help the community take an active role in preventing abuse."

The campaign promotes healthy child development, positive parenting practices and community action.

Following the presentation, the county commission is expected to approve the purchase of a pair of lots on Palmetto Avenue as the site for the new Highlands County Sheriff's Office law enforcement facility. The price tag for that has been set at $99,000.

Commissioners also will be asked to approve the actual expenditure of $97,000 from the county's reserve for contingency, or "rainy day," fund. They approved that expenditure last week to fund the Industrial Development Authority through the end of this fiscal year in September.

Jeep hydroplanes into mailbox, tree on Lakeview Drive

News-Sun Staff Report

SEBRING — Wet roads proved to be too much for a Jeep that Sebring Police said was going too Fast Thursday around Lakeview Drive near Scenic Highway.

Justin Allen Scudamore, 18, of Sebring, told Sebring police he was driving eastbound at 40 mph around Lakeview Drive.

Reports said the pavement was wet, although it was not raining.

As he approached a curve, Scudamore lost control and his 1998 Jeep four-door started to hydroplane.

It struck a mailbox at 3221 Lakeview Drive and then continued into the house's yard and struck a tree, police reports said.

He and his passenger, 18-year-old Dalynette Padro of Sebring, were wearing seat belts. He was uninjured; she complained of soreness in her knee, but declined to be taken to the hospital.

Damage to the mailbox was $50. Damage to the car's left front end was $1,000, reports said.

Police cited Scudamore for driving too fast for conditions.

‘I am not a replacement’

Students hold anti-tobacco campaign at Lakeshore Mall

BY SAMANTHA GHOLAR
Staff Writer

Samantha Gholar/News Sun

SEBRING — Though they were a small group, the five Students Working Against Tobacco (SWAT) members caused enough stir at the Lakeshore Mall on Saturday to get the attention of store managers, customers and even mall security.

Director of Tobacco Free Florida’s local chapter Amanda John, along with Josh Etinne, Ronika Etinne, Tatiana Matos, Anthony Rutinglino and club president Hailey Mitchell held up signs with one huge statement: “I am not a replacement.”

“It means, we are not a replacement for another tobacco user,” said Matos.

The national campaign helps SWAT members to stand up against big tobacco companies that target young adults.

“These companies target us, they target us young so that we can become addicted and become lifelong tobacco users,” said Mitchell.

By saying “I am not a replacement,” students tell tobacco companies that they won’t replace a person who has died as a result of longtime tobacco use.

The signs held by each of the students also had “selfie statements,” which told the public what each student would be instead of a replacement and instead of a new lifelong tobacco consumer.

“I’m a future business woman,” read Matos’ sign. “I’m going to college,” Mitchell’s sign read.

Along with their selfie statements, the students talked to the public about the dangers of tobacco usage.

“Eighty-eight people die from tobacco in Florida every day,” said Matos.

Rutinglino, a former smoker and Sebring High School graduate, shared his experiences with tobacco.

“I used to smoke and then one day she (Mitchell) told me that it was either her or the cigarettes,” said Rutinglino. “It wasn’t a hard choice. Now even though I’ve graduated I help support SWAT.”

John and the SHS chapter of SWAT is currently working to create SWAT clubs in both Lake Placid High School and in Avon Park High School.

The next SWAT event will be held in late May and will coincide with the annual World No Tobacco Day.

Truck knocks down light pole, driver arrested on DUI

BY PHIL ATTINGER
Staff Writer

SEBRING — A man who claimed he had only had two beers after work early Friday morning and that his truck “just died” at an intersection miles from where investigators said it had hit a pole was charged with driving under the influence and leaving the scene of a wreck with property damage.

Tomie Jon Bandy, 27, of 4523 Harder Ave., reportedly also told police he had just finished work at the Blue Lagoon Saloon at 2 a.m. and was on his way home but didn’t realize it was three hours later.

The first call to police came at approximately 4:30 a.m. Friday when a northbound motorist on U.S. 27 saw a southbound truck cross all lanes of traffic, go over the median, enter the northbound lanes, cross the median again and keep heading south at high speed.

Believing the truck would crash, the motorist turned around and followed it.

The driver saw it turn onto Hammock Road in Sebring, so she returned to where she saw it cross the median at U.S. 27 and Flare Road, to wait for police.

That’s when she saw what made the truck shoot across the highway. It had hit a light pole and guard rail.

Police reports state the guard rail had been bent back and the pole was broken off at the base and was leaning on the traffic light support wires.

While the road was blocked off and power crews called, police found a headlight and several pieces of a front bumper, along with a Chevrolet emblem. Red transfer paint was found at the base of the light pole.

At that same time, police learned of a possible wreck at Lake Haven Boulevard and Dozier Avenue: A Chevrolet pickup was there with severe front-end damage.

When asked what happened, the driver — Bandy — said the truck had just “died at the intersection.”

The officer from the U.S. 27 scene arrived. Reports state Bandy was “swaying as he stood, slurring his words” with watery eyes. The officer also found severe damage to the truck’s front and passenger side.

Bandy told the officer he’d had the truck for only a month and a half, it didn’t have any damage and that he hadn’t hit anything.

Reports state that he told the officer he had gotten off work at 2 a.m. from the Blue Lagoon and was headed home. He told the officer he thought the truck broke down because of problems with the starter.

He also told police he thought it was 2:30 a.m., but was surprised to learn it was actually 5:15 a.m. When asked if he’d had any alcohol, Bandy told the officer he’d had two drinks after work, reports said.

The officer showed Bandy the passenger side of his truck and he “exclaimed” that someone must have hit his truck in the parking lot at work. The officer then told Bandy he had hit a guardrail and light pole at U.S. 27 and Flare Road, but he then repeated that he hadn’t, reports said.

The officer then performed field sobriety tests, which Bandy failed.

LAND

Samantha Gholar/News Sun

Katanya Carr, a Fort White High School student, examines top soil Friday morning at Rafter T Ranch as part of the 55th annual statewide Soil and Water Conservation Land Judging Competition. The competition was held in Highlands County for the first time in several years.

Future Farmers of America (FFA) and 4-H members made up 34 teams for Friday’s event, which offered an opportunity to go to the national competition next month.

The Highlands County chapter of the Soil and Water Conservation District hosted the schools, students and parents. Rafter T, a cattle ranch with more than 5,000 acres of land, made for the perfect location for students to observe, study and analyze four specific areas of soil.

“There are four different pits. Each pit is different. The four groups, which have about 40 students each, rotate from one pit to the other,” said University of Florida Agricultural Science Division scientist Greg Means.

Means was accompanied by UF research professor Dr. Rex Ellis and State Land Judging Competition Chairman Joel Love.

“This pit here has some weird, but beautiful, soil. The students will learn a lot from that one,” Ellis said.

Large piles of topsoil were dug up and placed just outside the marked pits used for judging. The pits, measuring approximately five feet deep, were dug at an angle to allow students to study the soil through every layer.

Students were directed to use identifying markers, such as the look and feel of the soil as well as the surrounding area, to determine the type of land and/or any foreign materials in the chosen area. The students also determined any issues regarding water in the area or other potential harmful and helpful items.

Not only do FFA and 4-H members learn about soil, water and the conservation of land in the state, these students learn important lessons that are vital to their development and growth, Love said.

“They (clubs) teach them leadership skills and public speaking, those things are important. It’s not just about farming. With those two things they are able to go a lot farther in life and in society,” said Love.

Kathleen High School and Manatee Middle will travel to Oklahoma City in late April for the national competition to compete against FFA and 4H clubs from around the country.

Friday marked the second year that the statewide competition was held in Highlands County. A previous competition was hosted at Highlands Hammock State Park.

Cornerstone Hospice's six-legged teams provide patient companionship

SEBRING — Some Cornerstone Hospice and Palliative Care volunteers who have been trained to provide respite care and companionship to patients have added reinforcements to their visits.

The volunteers own certified therapy dogs and are making regular visits to Highlands and Hardee county assisted living facilities where all facility residents can benefit from the four-legged, plus two-legged visitors.

"Our pet therapy volunteers bring a unique experience of cheer to the facilities," says Dorothy Harris, Cornerstone Hospice Volunteer Specialist. "It's a delight to hear the laughter of the residents as they share stories of pets they have owned or ask questions about the therapy dog. Even non-communicative residents sometimes respond as they stroke a dog's soft fur, sparking a momentary connection that might otherwise be missed."

Avon Park resident Dan August takes his certified therapy dog Holly to facilities such as Hardee Manor and Royal Care in Avon Park.

"She knows when I put on her scarf that she's going to go visit," said August, who has also provided respite care for Cornerstone patients and their families and helped out at community events. "She's good about putting her nose close to people and will even put her paws up on someone's bed so they can pet her."

Cornerstone Hospice seeks more volunteers like August to help with a variety of services. All volunteers must attend 16 hours of training which provides a comprehensive overview of hospice care as well as introduces prospective volunteers to the various ways they can help the organization. The following classes are scheduled in Sebring: Tuesday, April 8, and Friday, April 11; and Tuesday, April 15, and Friday, April 18 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. each day at Cornerstone Hospice, 209 N. Ridgewood Drive, Suite 3.

Breakfast and coffee will be provided. All four days of training are required.

No special skills or talents are required to be a Cornerstone Hospice volunteer. Interested participants should pre-register by calling Dorothy Harris at 382-4563.

"Therapy dogs must be certified in order to visit patients," said Harris. "We can help interested volunteers learn more about the certification process for their pets."

HERO

and photographs of major events, leading families, landmark sites and civic organizations. In addition, Goad reaches out to the community, bringing historical displays to classrooms, government buildings and special events, like the Juneteenth celebration.

Because she works so far above and beyond normal expectations, shows initiative, writes a monthly newsletter and shares her depth of knowledge with anyone who asks, the News-Sun is pleased to name Goad as our Unsung Hero for March.

Tucked behind and below the Sebring Public Library, the Historical Society is a quiet, relaxed place. Some days a steady stream of people pass through, other days no one comes to the door.

The room is ringed by displays, the center filled with library tables. Newspapers dating back to the town's beginning are available for study, as are 140 books Goad has assembled with the help of volunteers, each focused on a particular topic, group, building or person.

For example, Harder Hall is documented from its construction to its current financial problems. The Sebring family, the citrus and cattle industries, the Raceway and county schools are some of the other subjects covered in depth. Goad's system makes research much easier.

"I know what belongs here," Goad told the News-Sun recently. "It's pretty easy to determine what's valuable."

Goad pays attention to the good deeds and good people. "We do focus on the positive," she said. "It's healthy to do that. Good is all around us, that's what I want to show — what I want to be a part of. There is so much good in this town. I like to think I help the city in showing what we have."

"Carole worked very, very well with the city during Sebring's Centennial year," said Assistant City Administrator Bob Hoffman. "She's a true unsung hero, and a tremendous asset.

"As I get older, history means more to me," he added. "Carole preserves our history. She is a wealth of information. Right now she's helping us create a Hall of Fame highlighting city facilities."

Wanda Whitehouse's family has been a part of the Sebring community since the town was established. "There's not a better person on this earth," she said of Goad. "Even though she's a transplant, she knows more about Sebring history than most people who've lived here all their lives. Carole totally organized the society's archives. She's just a marvelous person."

One story sums up Goad's philosophy and goals. A woman from Avon Park called her one day. She worked with a man who had been born in Sebring, but had never met his father. The woman wanted to help him, but the only information she could give Goad was her friend's family name. It turned out that was all Goad needed to find two pictures of the father. She enlarged one of them and sent it to the son. He called her back. "I never knew what he looked like, and I look just like him," the excited man told Goad.

"It's just all worth it," Goad said, smiling at the memory. "It made me so happy. It's the wonderful things like that that make it all worthwhile. I blubbered all day."

Goad has a message for readers: "Please," she said, "Don't throw out anything. Bring your photos and papers to the society. Some may not be relevant, but others are pure gold."

We thank Carole Goad for the passion, dedication and care she takes in preserving Sebring history. She is an unsung hero saving our past.

PURGE

Security database the state has been using to help identify potentially ineligible voters.

"We got the notification Thursday in an email," said Highlands County Supervisor of Elections Penny Ogg.

The action came in the wake of a conference call that involved supervisors of elections and their representatives from throughout the state.

OGG

"As far as we can tell, this database is going through a number of upgrades and that would limit our access to at least parts of it," she said. "And that would hamper our ability to verify some of the information."

Ogg said it appeared that most of those on the call said they would just as soon wait to continue the action until they could gain access to the needed information so their staff could substantiate information themselves.

Despite the fact there has been at least one case of an ineligible voter casting ballots here in the past, a previous purge of voter rolls has only turned up a handful of questionable entries.

Former supervisor of elections Joe Campbell only found five cases that came up for review. The one case of ineligible voting was not prosecuted, due to its exceeding the statute of limitations.

Ogg said that given the history Highlands has had with integrity of the voter rolls, putting off the purge would not be a problem here.

"We didn't see a huge list last time and I don't expect that we would see one again," she said.

"And I will be nice to have the ability to go verify the information ourselves."

She pointed out that after local officials get information from the state, they only have a seven day turnaround time to act on it.

"It really is time sensitive — and if we don't have the ability to go out there and check it for ourselves it is more difficult," she said.

Gov. Rick Scott initially pushed to have the state look for non-U.S. citizens on the voter rolls before the 2012 elections.

people."

He said he learned from his time in Tallahassee how to get along with people he doesn't agree with.

"You've got to have someone who can create the atmosphere where everyone had been heard and gets something they want," Hutchinson said.

By losing Tuck, the board has lost liaison with Legislature, he said.

Hutchinson also said his goal is to find out what the other members want done and work as a coalition to provide schools the tools and backing they need to succeed. It takes a lot of work from school board to implement policy, Hutchinson said.

"It's over $100 million budget. It's hard to turn a big ship around," he said, adding that he's not unhappy with the Highlands County School District. "(But) being happy doesn't mean not doing something about it."

Hutchinson said he's concerned that Highlands County may be getting the reputation among professionals of a place they don't want to go because the schools are not good enough. He cited a recent dinner he attended where a local hospital's newest surgeon was one whose children had all left for college.

He also was upset at FCAT grades: Five C schools dropped to D grades in 2013; a D school dropped to an F. Three B schools dropped to Cs and three A schools dropped to Bs.

One C school jumped to an A grade: Cracker Trail Elementary School.

Hutchinson claims that only three systems in Florida's 67 counties have a higher percentage of Ds and Fs than Highlands County.

"That says a lot in itself. Anybody can analyze that and it makes me sad," Hutchinson said. "And again, when people run, they run because there are issues that make them sad."

Hutchinson, with 20 hours of college education courses, said from 2005-08 he taught in all district schools except Memorial Elementary School, in all grades and disciplines. He also volunteered more than 1,000 hours with more than 50 hours in 15 of the 17 schools in the district, he said.

A Republican from Avon Park now living in Sebring, Hutchinson said he may have to move from his new home in Sun 'N Lake of Sebring to qualify for Tuck's old seat. He said he and his new wife are willing to do that to have him serve county schools.

Hutchinson said he was also involved in the National Education Summits in Washington, D.C., in 2010 and San Francisco in 2011, hearing from corporate executives on their education needs.

CHANGE OF COMMAND AT AVON PARK HIGH SCHOOL JROTC

structure, battery and obstructing justice in connection with a home invasion robbery that took place at 5:15 a.m. on Dec. 15, 2013, at 509 Wilhite St. in Avon Park.

Four other men, arrested in connection with a similar robbery at 1:59 a.m. Dec. 17, 2013, at 245 Highlands Boulevard in Lake Placid. They are:

- Brian Stanley Jones Jr., 29, of 703 State St., Avon Park.
- Jesse Lee Personette, 26, of 17B East Adams St., Avon Park.
- Devion Marcell Randolph, 22, of Avon Park (general delivery).
- Edwardo Luis Rodriguez, 26, of 2205 N. Desoto Ave., Avon Park.

Six victims living in the two-story Avon Park home, which was divided into five bedrooms on the ground floor, said they saw at least three suspects enter the home and rob them.

The first victim said he was sleeping when a suspect entered his bedroom wearing a mask, put a gun to his head and robbed him of $550 in U.S. currency and $700 in Mexican pesos.

Two other victims said their room was invaded by a black man, who punched one of them in the head and told the other to get out of the room

Another two victims' bedroom was invaded by three suspects who demanded money, one of them holding a long-barrel handgun. From one man they took $1,000 in U.S. currency, $3,600 in Mexican pesos and a Metro PCS phone. From the other, they took $600 in U.S. currency and a Metro PCS phone.

The last man was sleeping in a bedroom under the stairs, reports said. One of the men, in Spanish, told him, "I don't want anything from you," and they left him alone.

Investigators conducted interviews of Personette, Randolph and Rodriguez. Details of the interviews were redacted from Johnson's arrest report, but as a result of those interviews and the victims' testimony, each of the five men mentioned was charged with aggravated assault, five counts of armed burglary of a dwelling, five counts of robbery with a firearm, two counts of battery and two counts of tampering with a witness by depriving them of 911 communication.

mate, 25-year-old Jenna Kelly, a ride home.

They were on their way back from Highlands County, where they had picked up Phillips, the Tampa Bay Times reported. All three of them died, as did Silva, who had a revoked license.

Vizcarrondo's father told the Times that troopers told him Silva was going more than twice the speed limit.

"He was going, they said, way over 100 mph," Joseph Vizcarrondo Sr. told the Times.

The Times reported that Silva was serving a four-year sentence of drug offender probation and had been convicted of driving without a license five times and was charged with DUI in 2008. Troopers say alcohol was not a factor in the crash, however.

"It's a terrible day. Lauren was a member of one of our teams and South Florida teams are a closely knit group," SFSC Athletic Director and baseball coach Rick Hitt said. "She was a real nice young lady with a tremendous personality."

"Of course, our thoughts are with her family and our family will be working together to move forward and honor her," Hitt said.

"Lauren was a very happy person. Always thinking positive and striving to get better all the time," Thompson said. "She never said anything negative like she couldn't do something. It was always 'we can do it.'

"She was someone I could talk to and I knew I could trust her," Thompson said. "We all will miss her very dearly and it's an extremely hard time for us. Of course, it's always going to be hard. It's just so weird to have a huge wake-up call like this one — just to know this could be over so fast and it not even be your fault.

Thompson said she had been interviewed by several media outlets, and while it was hard to talk about the tragedy, "I knew I needed to talk about her to people who didn't really know her because everyone needs to know how wonderful she is."

The Lady Panthers are planning to hold a ceremony honoring Phillips prior to Tuesday's 5 p.m. home game against Polk State College.

'It's a terrible day. Lauren was a member of one of our teams and South Florida teams are a closely knit group. She was a real nice young lady with a tremendous personality.'

Justin Mason went four strong innings in Lake Placid's 3-1 win over Clewiston Friday.

Dragons tame Tigers

BY DAN HOEHNE

Hits were hard to come by for both teams Friday night at Scarborough Field.

But Lake Placid made the most of their opportunities late in getting a 3-1 win over visiting Clewiston.

LAKE PLACID 3

CLEWISTON 1

Dragon starter Justin Mason worked around a walk, hit batter and error to keep the Tigers off the board in the first.

In the bottom of the frame, however, that same combination – a walk, error and hit by pitch did get a run across for Lake Placid in the form of Tyler Carr.

Mason got through a scoreless second, but the Tigers bit in the third when their lead-off hitter reached on an error, moved to second on a sacrifice and score on a one-out single to tie things up.

And tied it stayed after Mason got out of a bases-loaded, no-out jam in the fourth by striking out consecutive batters and inducing a grounder to second.

Justin LaRosa then came

Tanner, Singha memorialized during softball tourney

Special to the News-Sun

SEBRING – It was a very emotional day for several local softball players as they fought back tears during an award ceremony on Saturday, March 22, during the 15th annual Special STARS Softball Classic.

Special STARS recognized two very special athletes who passed away last year by naming an award in their memory.

The newest award for the tournament was the Jonny "J.T." Tanner Heart of Gold Award.

It was created in memory of Tanner who lost his life during a hit and run accident last year shortly after the softball tourney.

Tanner was not only a great softball player in the community who was dedicated to playing with Special STARS but he went beyond the field to establish a friendship with one very special athlete William Dickson.

Tanner made Dickson his honorary coach even though he could not play ball any more – they were best buds.

The Heart of Gold Award is presented to an individual who goes beyond the ball field to reach out to people with disabilities to make them feel loved, appreciated and above all respected.

Dickson made a special trip from Hardee County to be at the tournament to present the award along with Tanner's widow Candice Day and their children Kelsey Day and Kalea Tanner.

The family continued Jonny's legacy by playing on a softball team in the tourney this year.

Together they presented the award to Mary Basso, of Lake Placid.

Basso was the coach and sponsor of the Coffee News softball team.

This was the same team that Dickson and Tanner played on together.

Blue Streaks get back at Bulldogs

BY DAN HOEHNE
daniel.hoehne@newssun.com

Dan Hoehne/News-Sun

Jimmy Peck wouldn't be able to make this play, as the somewhat soggy sod gave way, but he would rip a two-run double to help Sebring's Friday win.

SEBRING – It was 17 days prior that the Blue Streaks of the baseball diamond had taken one on the chin in a 5-2 loss at DeSoto, leaving a collective bitter taste.

"We have such a tough non-district schedule partly so that we'll be better in our district games," head coach Jayson DeWitt had said about that unfortunate outcome. "We shouldn't be beating teams like Lakeland and Tampa Catholic and then dropping the ball in our district."

SEBRING 5

DESOTO 2

Well revenge was sweet Friday night at Firemen's Field as Sebring flipped the script and took a 5-2 win.

Southpaw Jonathan Struck went the whole way on the mound, surrendering single runs in the first and third, and was this close to keeping it just at a lone run.

With runners on first and second in the third came with nobody out, second baseman Josh Crouch snared a bouncer up the middle, raced to second and made the throw to first for a double play.

With a Bulldog on third, the inning seemed over when the next batter popped one up.

But it fell safely just inside the foul line, just onto the outfield grass.

That run didn't matter much, however, as the Streaks already had five on the board.

Two came in the first when a Matt Portis sacrifice fly plated Jordan Austin and Cullen Lovett raced in on a passed ball.

Three more came across in the second with Portis again making a productive out when his grounder got David DeGenaro in.

Jimmy Peck then belted a double that scored two and give Sebring all the runs it would need.

They would see a fifth-inning chance go by, after Peck and Crouch both singled.

But the missed opportunity was of little concern as Struck kept the Bulldogs handcuffed the rest of the way and would finish strong with a pair of strikeouts in both the sixth and seventh.

"It was definitely a good game, we still had a bad taste in our mouth from the first game so it was good to get back at them,"

Sebring races to meet win

BY DAN HOEHNE

Jordyn Blount was his high-flying self Thursday, winning both the long and high jump at Firemen's Field.

SEBRING – It was another dominant performance for the Blue Streak boys of track and field in Thursday's five-team meet at Firemen's Field.

The Sebring lads more than doubled up on the field, with their 180.5 point total taking first over Hardee's 86.5, Bartow's 52, Lake Placid's 26 and Avon Park's 7.

On the girls side, the Lady Wildcats got the win by just five points over Sebring, 103-98, while the Lady Dragons finished third with 98, Avon Park fourth with 53 and Bartow fifth with 28.

For the girls, Lake Placid had a stellar performance by Quiahja Williams who won three different events.

She won the 100-meter dash with a time of 12.94, the high jump (5-feet, 2-inches) and the long jump (17-feet, 1-inch).

Williams was also on the Dragon relay team that took second in the 4X100, along with Rosa Ramirez, Tara Lowder and Allison Kinchen.

That event was won by the Sebring quartet of Ayana Thomas, Brittany Inch, Denise Constant and Imani Powell.

Dodgers top Angels after teams play through 'quake

JOE RESNICK
Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Playing through an earthquake that was felt in the ballpark, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Angels 5-4 in 10 innings Friday night after rookie Joc Pederson hit a tying home run in the eighth.

Pinch-hitter Darnell Sweeney won it with an RBI single in the 10th inning against Jeremy Berg, evening the Freeway Series at a game apiece just hours after the Angels signed Mike Trout to a $144.5 million, six-year contract.

A magnitude-5.1 earthquake was felt inside Chavez Ravine and surrounding counties at approximately 9:11 p.m., just as A.J. Ellis was batting in the Dodgers' sixth inning.

The epicenter was about 20 miles southeast of downtown Los Angeles in Brea, a short hop down the 57 Freeway to Angel Stadium.

TRACK

Kinchen and Thomas also took second and third, respectively, in the 200-meter dash, while Highlands County took the top four spots in the 400.

Avon Park's Keyanesta Fullerd was first, with Sebring's Constant and Carly Juve second and third and Lake Placid's Belkis Rivero fourth.

The Lady Streaks and Dragons got some points in the 800, with Katie Stoll taking fourth for Sebring and Sonia Becerra fifth for Lake Placid.

And all three county schools scored in the 1,600 as Kaytlyn Cooper finished third for the Streaks, Brittany Egan fourth for Avon Park and Gabriella Perez fifth for the Dragons.

Cooper also finished second in the 3,200, with Stoll fourth and Perez fifth.

Shanice Leverson took both hurdles events for the Lady Devils and took second in the long jump, while Lake Placid's Katie LeBlanc took second in the 300 hurdles.

The Lady Dragons got a second in the 4X800, thanks to Jacqueline Barajas, Perez, Elizabeth Gloria and Ramirez.

Avon Park got a third from Imani Tate in the high jump and Sebring took first and tied for second in the pole vault, courtesy of Ali Blackman clearing 7-feet, 6-inches and Anna Freitas hitting 7-feet.

Lashady Love won the triple jump for the Lady Devils, outdistancing Sebring's Powell.

The Lady Streaks then showed their strength in the throws as Latoya Henley and Denise Constant went first and second in the shot put and Constant and Sheliah Harris did the same in the discus.

Imani Tate was third in the discus for Avon Park and Sabrina Sarasola was fourth for Lake Placid.

Onto the boys side of the meet, and it was all Sebring.

Dygeriyan Barge and Willie Allen went one-two in the 100, Brian Dixon, Desmond Edwards and Jarvis Bridges then went first, third and fourth in the 200.

Kelvin Brown was first in the 400 and Damian Foster won the 800.

Eric Foster and Malcolm Holdman were first and third in the 1,600, sandwiching the second place finish from Lake Placid's Dalton Shelton.

Shelton then gave the Dragons a win in the 3,200, with Eric Foster second, Holdman third and Damian Foster fourth.

The wins continued for the Streaks in the hurdles, wit Cameron Cobb winning both the 110 and 300, with Luke Smith adding a third in the 110.

Allen, Dixon, Edwards and Jordyn Blount teamed up to take the 4X100 and Brown, Edwards, Bridges and Dixon were edged into second place in the 4X400.

But the Foster's were joined by Holdman and Lukas High to win the 4X800.

Blount and Byron Cobb were first and second in the high jump, followed by Avon Park's Jermiah Alamondea, and Mitchel Winslow and Joseph Piccione were second and third in the pole vault.

Blount won the long jump as well, by nearly two feet, with Edwards taking third and Alex Colon finished third in the triple jump.

Gary Demarest then kept up his strong throws for the season by winning both the shot put and discus, with Michael Ford second in the shot put.

Demarest's discus distance of 135-feet, 6-inches was almost 17 feet farther than the next nearest toss.

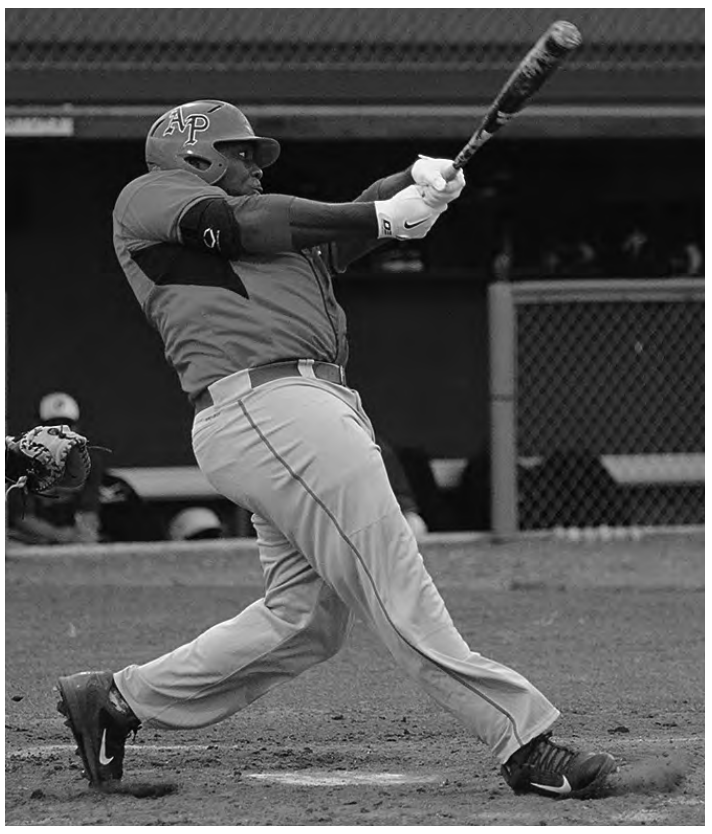
PERRY'S POWER CAN'T SAVE THE RED DEVILS



Dan Hoehne/News-Sun

Tyrone Perry plastered another pitch over the Head Field fence Friday night, but it was too little, too late for the Red Devils in a 4-2 loss to visiting Okeechobee. "We didn't start hitting and taking smart at bats until the last inning," catcher Alex Gomez said. Consecutive rain outs early in the week may have accounted for the slow start, but with their 12-3 record, Avon Park won't take that out. "I think the rain outs may have had something to do with it," Gomez added. "But we can't have excuses."

on in relief and shut Clewiston down over his three innings of work, retiring them in order in the fifth, sixth and seventh.

And it was in the bottom of the sixth that the Dragons got their chance and took advantage.

Alex Miller lead off with a single and moved around to third when Carr reached on an error.

Miller would come in with the tie-breaker on a wild pitch and Carr would soon scamper home on a passed ball for an insurance run they wouldn't need.

Lake Placid is back at it Monday with a visit to Sebring.

STREAKS

DeGenaro said afterward. "That win was good in helping us get back toward our goal of winning district."

The Streaks were on the road Saturday for a matinee against Tampa Catholic and return home Monday to Firemen's Field for a non-district tilt against county rival Lake Placid.

Josh Crouch steps on second and fires to first for a double play in Sebring's 5-2 win over DeSoto Friday.

BRIGHT MOMENT FOR PANTHERS

Dan Hoehne/News-Sun

A brief moment of joy on a trying day for South Florida State College athletics as Damian Boyum gets greeted by head coach Rick Hitt rounding third on his two-run home run Friday. The blast over the left field fence put South Florida up 3-0 against State College of Florida. But the Manatees did some heavy hitting from then on for a 10-3 win.

STARS

She has been a sponsor at the tourney for several years and coached a team.

She was there for Dickson during Tanner's funeral and organized her entire softball team to attend Dickson's farewell party when he left Highlands County to move to a different group home in Hardee.

She participates in other sports with Special STARS such as track and field and bowling.

She also helps with numerous fundraisers to generate dollars for Special STARS.

Last year, Special STARS established the Joe Singha Memorial Rookie of the Year award in memory of Singha who passed away in February 2013.

That award was presented once again to a special athlete who was playing for their first time on a team.

They have to demonstrate excellent playing skills, good sportsmanship and overall team spirit.

There were four newcomers to the field this year – Gwen Beavers, James Beavers, Jonathan Beavers, Katie Gibson, Butch Riley, James Reed and Nicole Warner.

The coaches from all six teams cast their ballots and selected Gwen Beavers of Sebring as this year's winner.

Beavers played on Dee's Place team.

Singha's step-sister Angie Ruckman attended the event to present the trophy to Beavers.

"I am so honored to get this award with Joe's name on it. I have known Joe since I was 3-years old," Beavers said. "I remember when I first met Joe. I was on the swing set at school and he came up to me to ask if I needed a push in the swing. I said yes and he pushed me real high."

Another new award was given to the Hardee County Rookie of the Year since this was the first year Hardee offered softball to its athletes.

The brought over a team and had several athletes compete in skills.

The Rookie of the Year for Hardee was Carey McQuaig.

Other awards presented were given to Donavan Harper of Lampe & Kiefer Hearing Aid Center who won Coach Sportsmanship; Francisco Hernandez of Heacock Insurance Group won Community Partner Sportsmanship; Jack Garnett of Hardee County's Florida Hospital team won Special Athlete Sportsmanship; Tim Ritenour of Dee's Place won Best Coach; Lori Bustamante of McIntyre's Mavericks won Best Community Partner; and Eddie Thomas of Coffee News won Best Special Athlete.

Dee's Place, coached by Tim Ritenour and Stacy Andrews, was the winner of this coed slow-pitch softball tournament.

They beat Heacock Insurance Group, coached by Craig Sutliff, in extra innings in the final championship game to take the first place trophy.

Heacock took second place.

In addition to taking home the first place trophy, the entire team from Dee's Place will be heading to watch a Tampa Bay Rays game on April 6 as part of their winnings.

Lampe Kiefer Hearing Aid, coached by Harper, played in the consolation bracket against Coffee News, coached by Andy and Mary Basso, for the third place trophy.

Lampe & Kiefer won third.

Other teams were Florida Hospital, coached by Sissy Camacho, of Hardee County, and McIntyre's Mavericks, coached by Jaime Bustamante. Raymond and Becky McIntyre sponsored the Mavericks.

All of the coaches were given medals by the special athletes on their teams to show appreciation for their efforts.

There were 16 special athletes from Highlands and Hardee counties learning the fundamentals of playing softball in a skill level.

Highlands was known as J & J Angels, sponsored by David and Doris Magowan.

Heartland Riders Association sponsored the Hardee athletes.

They competed for medals for throwing, fielding, batting and running the bases.

Danielle Jordon coached the skill level.

Skill level participants getting first place were Dasan Jordon and Jimmy Phipps of Highlands and Sue Egnoski and T.J. Camacho of Hardee.

Second place was won by Patricia Butterfield, Eddie Mae Jones and Connie Sharp, of Hardee and Joe Peacock, Gary Barwick and Sue Randolph of Highlands.

Third-place winners were Linda Decker and Diane Brown of Hardee and Frances Goff and Perry Bright of Highlands.

Sondra Jones, of Hardee, won fourth while Tammie Fennell, of Highlands, won fifth place.

The Home Run Derby was open for men, women, special athletes, teens and children.

Winners and their categories were Heather Barnes, women; Derek Aul, men; Gregg Ruggs and Greg Robinson, special athletes; and DaAagnan Sims, children.

South Florida State College was the major All-Star sponsor for the tournament along with Sebring Elks Lodge 1529, Highlands Sertoma Club and Highlands County Board of County Commissioners.

George Quell of the Sebring Elks threw out the first pitch of the tournament early in the morning.

During the opening ceremony, the Avon Park High School Air Force Junior ROTC presented the American flag followed by the national anthem sung by Nellie Ford, of Sebring.

The Highlands County Board of County Commissioners donated the usage of the fields for the tourney.

Umpires who donated their time were Tom Gailwniky, Roseann Kiefer, Nancy Jones, Patti Verrone, Barb Greenwell, Richard Prince and Mary Manning.

Other tournament sponsors included Reflections on Silver Lake, Highlands Independent Bank, Stephenson-Nelson Funeral Home, King Equipment, Jim and Carol Phipps, Beta Sigma Phi and Morris Funeral Chapel.

Overall, the tournament generated approximately $3,500.

Proceeds from the tournament went to Special STARS to help pay for the 12 different sports and six recreational activities done throughout the year for more than 400 athletes with physical and mental disabilities in Highlands and Hardee counties.

Dolphins see versatile Moreno as a 3-down back

STEVEN WINE
Associated Press

MIAMI — Miami Dolphins newcomer Knowshon Moreno showed last year he can run, catch and block, and they're counting on him to do all three a lot.

"Knowshon is a very talented back," general manager Dennis Hickey said Friday. "He's a three-down back who can help our team in lot of different ways."

Moreno signed a $3.275 million, one-year contract to play for Miami after five seasons with the Denver Broncos.

He helped them reach the Super Bowl last year when he rushed for 1,038 yards, caught 60 passes, scored 13 touchdowns and reinforced his reputation as a blocker of blitzing linebackers.

His catching skills should make him a valuable option for quarterback Ryan Tannehill, who was sacked a franchise-record 58 times last year.

"As a running back, you want to be able to do it all," Moreno said. "You need a running back to be an outlet for the quarterback, and to run the ball. You have to be versatile."

The Broncos made Moreno the 12th overall pick in the 2009 draft, and he had his best season last year.

But 2013 rookie Montee Ball made Moreno expendable in Denver.

"It is what it is," Moreno said. "It's a business. I'm just very excited to be part of another team with a great group of guys and coaches all coming in and building for a certain goal, and that goal is working hard and winning. I'm excited for that opportunity."

Moreno said he chose the Dolphins in part because of a positive visit with coach Joe Philbin and his staff.

Philbin came under fire last year during the Dolphins' bullying scandal, but Moreno praised him by comparing him to Denver coach John Fox.

"Both family guys, both genuine guys, just good people," Moreno said. "You want to be surrounded by good people, and it's no different with the Dolphins."

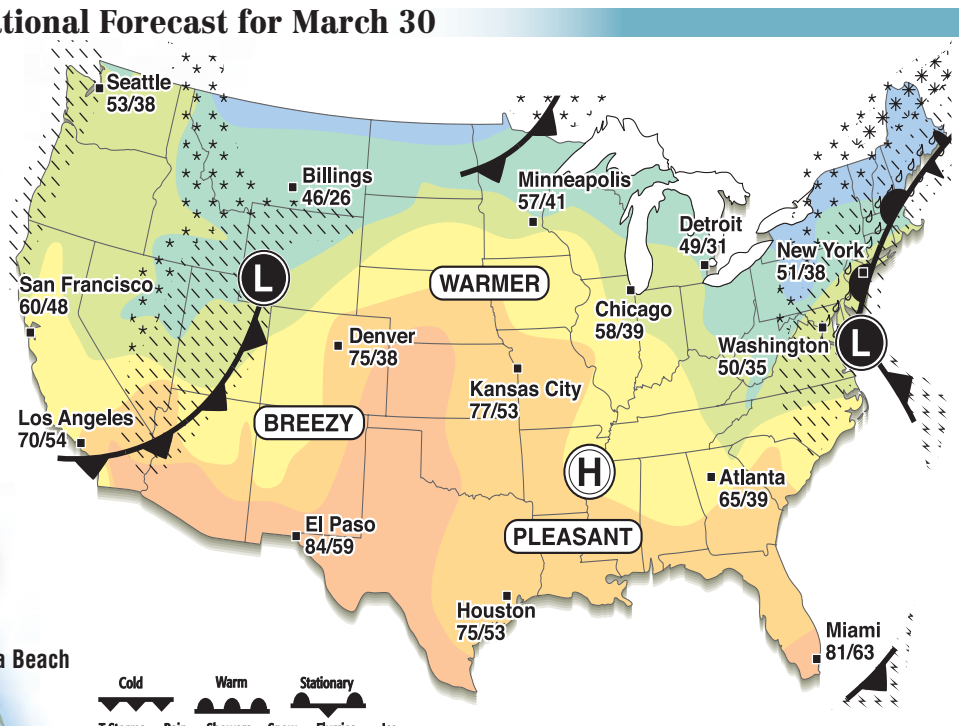
National Forecast for March 30



Shown are noon postions of weather systems and precipitation. Temperature bands are highs for the day.

National Summary

A slow-moving storm system will bring a mix of rain and snow to the Northeast today. Most of the snow associated with the storm will stretch from the mountains of Virginia and West Virginia into central Pennsylvania and New England. Much of the snow will only stick to grassy surfaces except in New England, where it can accumulate several inches. Rain, some heavy, will fall across the big cities of the Northeast and mid-Atlantic. A stronger-than-usual cold front will advance through the Desert Southwest.

With Family Pool Fun

Family Features

Warmer weather brings leisurely days spent poolside with friends and family. As you get ready to dive in to another season of fun in the sun, remember that safety comes first.

With more than 10 million residential pools across America, the opportunities for water recreation right at home are plentiful. But so, too, are the chances of water-related mishaps.

According to the Centers for Disease Control, drowning is the fifth leading cause of unintentional injury death in the United States. Children are particularly at risk; one in five drowning victims is age 14 or younger. However, dedicating appropriate attention to your family pool's maintenance and ensuring you have created an environment of safety will let you enjoy swimming and splashing with greater peace of mind.

"Pools are a great source of enjoyment for families, and with proper supervision and care, the entire family can confidently dive in to hours of fun," said Joe DeFuria, Brand Manager of BioGuard. "Taking time early in the season to brush up on this important information will help keep everyone safe all summer long."

The CDC cites "lack of swimming ability, lack of barriers to prevent unsupervised water access, lack of close supervision while swimming" as some of the leading risks associated with drowning. Preventive efforts such as learning to swim (or teaching swimming skills), ensuring at least one person with CPR training is present when the pool is in use and having proper safety devices (e.g., life vests and preservers) readily accessible help reduce injuries and accidents.

Put these measures in place so you can enjoy the fun at hand, without the worry:

Designate a "lifeguard:" Always pick at least one responsible adult to monitor children at all times.

Know CPR: Before investing in a pool, be sure to take a CPR class. The faster CPR can be administered to a person in distress, the stronger the long-term outcome.

Keep your water clean: Pool safety also includes keeping the water clean and sanitary for your family. Invest in the proper tools, such as the pool care systems from BioGuard, to keep your waters crystal clear.

Enroll kids in swimming lessons: Teach the skill of swimming to children at a young age. Enroll kids in classes to learn the basics and avoid accidents.

Teach the parts of a pool: Show children where tolocate the drains, pipes and other pool openings. Explain the importance of avoiding these areas while swimming as they can cause harm.

Keep an eye in the sky: Storms can strike at any time in the summer. Be aware of the current weather and the day's forecast before you jump in for a swim.

Don't rely on toys: Swimming noodles, innertubes and other inflatable pool toys do not take the place of a life jacket.

Keep a phone close: Always keep a cell phone or portable phone with you while supervising kids in the pool.

Keep your pool tidy: Keeping your pool toys and other clutter picked up after use will not only help prevent trip-and-fall accidents, it will also be less tempting for unwanted pool guests to engage in unsafe activities on your property.

Fence it up: Keep uninvited guests and potential accidents away from your pool property by installing a four-foot or taller fence along with a self-closing, self-latching gate.

Pool Care Doesn't Get a Vacation

If a getaway is on your agenda this summer, plan ahead to ensure your pool is as pristine and inviting when you return as the day you leave.

Work with a local pool care professional to create a vacation maintenance plan that matches your pool's specific needs and takes into account how long you'll be away.

Before you leave, clean the pool thoroughly, brushing and vacuuming walls and floors. Test the water and correct any imbalances. Set the timer or enlist the help of a trusted friend or neighbor to ensure the pump runs a minimum of eight hours each day while you're gone.

Upon returning home, have a professional water analysis performed to ensure that your pool is properly balanced and ready for swimming.

Saltwater Pools Are Making Waves

Did you know saltwater pools are the hottest trend in new pool construction? According to an article from Pool and Spa News, today there are about 1.35 million saltwater pools in the United States.

What's the difference between chlorine and saltwater? While both pool types clean the water with chlorine, saltwater pools also require a salt generator cell and a stabilizer to keep waters properly sanitized.

Why do customers choose saltwater over chlorine pools? Some feel saltwater is less harsh on the skin and eyes than traditional chlorine pools. However, saltwater pools require additional maintenance to avoid corrosion and to ensure chemical levels are in balance.

Pool Maintenance Essentials

Pool owners understand the importance of keeping it clean all season long. The experts at BioGuard provide these tips to keep your pool looking its best for family and guests:

- Make waves. Constant water movement helps prevent bacteria and algae from growing and ensures that the pool sanitizer is evenly distributed throughout the entire pool. Circulating pool water during the day for at least 12 hours also helps the filter catch debris.
- Check that filter. Backwash filters periodically and chemically clean filters a minimum of twice a season.
- Scrub-a-dub. Brush and vacuum pool walls once a week, even if you use an automatic pool cleaner, or hire a service.
- Test the waters. Every pool needs to be tested for the correct pH and sanitizer levels every week. Have a thorough water analysis performed by a professional every month.
- Keep that water treatment going. The right water treatment plan will both maintain pool equipment and keep the water inviting. For instance, the SilkGuard Technology in BioGuard's Silk sanitizer line makes pool water feel soft and smooth on skin while also preventing corrosion and protecting equipment.

WEEKLY HOROSCOPE

Now is a good time to try something new, Taurus

Metro News Services

ARIES — Aries, you have a great deal of energy but have no idea where to focus all of it. This could be a good week to visit with friends and family and spend time together.

TAURUS — Don't get swept away by old habits, Taurus. It is time to try something new and get a new perspective. Accept a new challenge and you will be glad for having done so.

GEMINI — Gemini, you may be tempted to question the actions of others this week. But try to focus instead on what you are doing and do not be concerned with the motivations of other people.

CANCER — Cancer, you have to go to great lengths to get your point across this week. Approach such situations with tact and patience and do your best to simplify your point of view.

LEO — Leo, all you need is a little spark to motivate you this week. You may be able to tackle projects around the house or assignments at work with ease and a little inspiration.

VIRGO — Virgo, your romantic life is full of complicated patterns and obstacles, which could be taking their toll on your relationship. Some subtle changes might get things back on track.

LIBRA — Unfortunately, sitting back and doing nothing this week will move you nowhere fast, Libra. The vacation is over; you need to find the motivation to increase the pace.

SCORPIO — Things move along quite smoothly for you this week, Scorpio. There are plenty of distractions heading your way, but do your best to stay focused.

SAGITTARIUS — Get outdoors and enjoy some fresh air, Sagittarius. Fresh air is just what you need after a bout of cabin fever. The weather is breaking and outside projects beckon.

CAPRICORN — Capricorn, start planning a much-needed vacation for you and your significant other. Some time away from the hustle and bustle is just what the both of you need.

AQUARIUS — Trust your instincts, Aquarius. When something seems off-kilter, you owe it to yourself to trust your gut and speak up, even if others aren't ready to believe you.

PISCES — Express your passion for a special project to a loved one, Pisces. Don't be afraid to share your feelings with those closest to you.

Guidelines make visits fun for stressed out parents

DEAR ABBY
Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: We're proud parents of a new baby girl. She's adorable, and we feel lucky and blessed.

Although having a new baby is an exciting, magical time, it is also very stressful. Sleep deprivation, difficulty with breast-feeding, plus endless visits and phone calls can wear any new parent thin. Also, if Mom had an episiotomy or C-section, she may be in pain. In addition — or perhaps because of these things — some women also struggle with postpartum depression.

Friends and family don't always realize everything new parents must cope with. I compared notes with other parents and came up with a short list of guidelines for friends and family of new parents:

1. UNLESS YOU ARE IMMEDIATE FAMILY OR VERY CLOSE FRIENDS, WAIT UNTIL THE THIRD WEEK OR SO TO CALL. Keep in mind the first two weeks are often the toughest. If you would like the new parents to know you're thinking of them, send a card.

2. LIMIT VISITS TO 20 OR 30 MINUTES. Unless you are staying to help with the housework, or know your presence is wanted longer than this, keep your visit short.

3. IF YOU VISIT, BRING FOOD! A simple casserole or some takeout will be gratefully accepted by the exhausted parents.

4. WASH YOUR HANDS IMMEDIATELY BEFORE TOUCHING THE BABY. While it's unlikely that you would unwittingly pass a cold or sore throat to the baby, seeing you wash your hands will make concerned new parents feel better.

5. LEAVE YOUR SMALL CHILDREN AT HOME. Even if you keep a close eye on your children, their high energy level can be too much for already stressed-out new parents.

6. BE SENSITIVE ABOUT MOM'S NEED TO BREAST-FEED. If Mom had a surgical birth, moving around can be an effort for her. If she needs to nurse, offer to leave the room.

— NEW MOM IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR NEW MOM: Congratulations on your new arrival. Your guidelines make sense, and I'm pleased to share them. However, as sensible as they may be, do not be surprised if most of your visitors don't abide by them — because if my mail is any indication, the majority will think they are the exception to the rule.

DEAR ABBY: My husband drinks milk straight from the carton. He says it's OK because he's the only one in the house who drinks milk. (True.) I have told him I find it disgusting and that company often drinks milk, having no idea that he drinks straight from the carton.

Isn't this unsanitary — not to mention rude and selfish behavior? I'd love to know how to get him to stop.

— GROSSED OUT IN N.J.

DEAR GROSSED OUT: I'm sorry you are grossed out, but what your husband is doing isn't a federal offense — particularly since he's the only milk-drinker in the house. However, a solution to your problem might be to separate a portion of the milk into another container, so that it will be available for guests should the need arise.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Watercolor Art Uncorked classes now offered at HAL

Special to the News-Sun

SEBRING — After nearly 2,000 seats sold for its wildly popular Art Uncorked acrylics painting class, the Highlands Art League (HAL) is pleased to announce Art Uncorked watercolor classes now offered as well for non-artists and artists who want to learn this medium in a casual, fun setting.

Watercolor paintings are considered a unique way to creatively represent dreams, illusions, emotions, and bright feelings using water-soluble pigments.

Instructors Kristy Harris and Alice Hansen are thrilled to be adding this technique to the variety of art classes HAL currently offers, which includes acrylics, pottery and graphite art portraiture and will soon include culinary, music and photography as well.

Upcoming classes include: "Wings of Spring" on April 8 taught by Kristy Harris and "Parrott" on April 29 taught by Alice Hansen. Attendees will complete a project in one evening, led by a professional artist, and enjoy a fun, laid-back evening of creativity with wine and light snacks offered.

Private party for 12-plus people are also available. Art Uncorked gift certificates can be shipped to you or your recipient.

Pre-registration with payment is required; class seats are limited and fill quickly. All class materials are supplied. Wine and light snacks will be available; attendees can bring their own as well. Art Uncorked is a class for adults; children are not permitted.

Art Uncorked classes start at 6 p.m. and are held at HAL's Visual Art Center (turquoise building behind Yellow House). Registration is $30 for HAL members; $35 for not-yet-members. Register at www.HighlandsArtLeague.org or call 385-5312.

Lambert, Strait to salute Haggard at ACM

Associated Press

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Country music's biggest stars are turning out for a salute to Merle Haggard.

Miranda Lambert and George Strait will team up to perform a tribute medley of Haggard's hits during the Academy of Country Music Awards on April 6, and Garth Brooks will present the legendary singer-songwriter with the academy's Crystal Milestone Award.

Songs Lambert and Strait will perform include "Tonight the Bottle Let Me Down" and "I'm A Lonesome Fugitive."

The academy also announced Friday morning that The Band Perry will open the show with a performance, Hunter Hayes will perform for a child hunger charity campaign, and Luke Bryan and Florida Georgia Line will team with Nitro Circus Action Stars, an action sports troupe.

Bryan and Blake Shelton co-host the CBS show.

Student art show at TAG Studio heralds spring

Special to the News-Sun

AVON PARK — The well-attended Adult Student Art Show at the Jacaranda Hotel on March 23 showcased the growing talent of students who take classes from the artists whose paintings, jewelry, and ceramics normally take center stage at The Artists' Group Studio and Gallery.

Many extraordinary pieces dealt with flowers, landscapes, and birds that reminded us that spring was truly around the corner.

Refreshments were served to the guests arriving to enjoy an afternoon of viewing artwork, talking to the professional artists and the students whose work was on display. Attendees were asked to vote for a "People's Choice" award, which was announced later during the event. The winner of that award was Teresa Torres for her oil, "St. Therese's Rose," which charmed the viewers with its rich, warm colors and its striking design.

The Artists' Group was honored to have as judges for the event three prestigious women associated with South Florida State College — Dr. Catherine P. Cornelius, past president of the college; Cathy Futral, art professor at the school; and Molly Doctrow, curator of its Museum of Florida Art and Culture.

They awarded ribbons in three categories. In Oil Painting, first place went to Manuel Ortiz for his painting "Sap Time," second place to Torres for "St. Theresa's Rose" and third place to Connie Nash for "Crystal and Gold."

In the Acrylic category, the judges awarded Ginger Godfrey the first place for her work "Beached," second place went to Nash for "The Lighthouse," and third place to Gayle Duncan for her delightful forest scene titled "Oh Deer."

There were also many beautiful watercolors that were on display. First place went to Hilma Shehan for her lovely "Viva la Vitis," which showed her ever-growing mastery of watercolor washes. Paula Lubin's "Tranquility" (second place) and Joanne Cunningham's "Flower Explosion" (third place) also displayed their excellent watercolor techniques.

The artists who regularly display their work inside the studio were available to answer any questions, as well as to discuss their own artistic thoughts and perspective.

Nancy Adams (oil painting instructor), Betty McCarthy (various media and clay instructor), Kathy Morgan (acrylics, artglass, jewelry), Bob Fishel and Louise Weis (acrylics instructors), and Betty Heim (watercolor instruction) were present during the event.

"We are so proud of our students," Heim said. "I see them work hard during every class and each year I am amazed how each of my students have improved. I have taught advanced watercolor techniques and practical things every watercolorist will need to know, including matting and framing a finished piece."

Acrylic teacher Weis agrees. "We want to make painting an experience our adult students will continue to enjoy. Many of my students are retired, and seeing how they strive to improve while still enjoying themselves makes it worthwhile for us as instructors."

Fishel, who also teaches acrylic painting, said, "It's wonderful to see artists of all skill levels produce such beautiful works of art. I'm constantly amazed that so many of our students, who are new to art, improve their skills so quickly and love the results."

Many students, their family and friends joined the public for the viewing of their artwork.

Duncan, who earned a ribbon in acrylics, hails from Wisconsin, but now spends her time year round in the Sebring area.

She travels to Wauchula to continue working in acrylics during the summer months with Weis. She loves the "fixability" of acrylics, and feels she approaches painting with more confidence.

Torres, the winner of the People's Choice award, has always loved art as a child, and she began serious instruction in 2008. She began studying with an artist offering classes at her church, and continues to study and paint at the TAG studio, and also with Weis at her Wauchula studio.

Many people enjoying the show were visiting from up North and enjoying the Sunday dinner buffet at the Jacaranda, a local historic building. They enjoyed speaking to various students who had their works on display. They marveled at the cut crystal vase that was painted by Nash, who has tried several media in the past but is now concentrating on perfecting her oil glazing techniques and various methods in acrylics to achieve professional effects.

Ortiz, a fellow classmate of Nash's, also paints in both oils and acrylics since retiring from his career as a postal worker. After leaving New York to enjoy more balmy weather, Ortiz started drawing as a hobby, and practiced draftsmanship for several years before venturing to add color to his creations — a process he greatly enjoys now.

Student artists Godfrey and Shehan, who both spend summers in Ohio with family and friends, look forward to returning here every fall to take advantage of the art classes offered by The Artists' Group Studio as well as other local venues.

"Betty encourages us to paint a lot at home and to work independently when unable to attend classes, so that we keep in an artistic frame of mind," Shehan says of Heim.

She has taken Heim's instruction for several years now, and feels that she is handling the medium wth more confidence.

The Midtown Men. The original Broadway cast of Jersey Boys comes together to make up The Midtown Men, who will be in concert at SFSC on Monday.

The Midtown Men close out Artist Series at SFSC

Special to the News-Sun

AVON PARK — The curtain goes down on the 30th season of the SFSC Artist Series on Monday at 7:30 p.m. with a spectacular performance by The Midtown Men. The original Broadway cast of Jersey Boys comes together for this awesome tribute to your favorite 60s hits from The Four Seasons, The Beatles, The Beach Boys, Motown, and more.

Christian Hoff, Daniel Reichard, J. Robert Spencer, and Michael Longoria were cast to play The Four Seasons in the original Broadway run of Jersey Boys in 2005. Each has an impressive resume of television, Hollywood, and Broadway roles. T ogether they take the stage as The Midtown Men to bring the sounds of the 60s back to life with their impressive renditions of songs like "Big Girls Don't Cry," "Working My Way Back To You," "Sherry," "Can't Buy Me Love," "California Dreamin'" and more.

The performance sponsors for The Midtown Men are MIDFLORIDA Credit Union (Gold), Gene Brenner Pottery and Craft Gallery (Bronze), Dr. Richard and Elina Campbell (Bronze), and the Sonni Family Foundation (Bronze).

Individual tickets for The Midtown Men are $33, $40, and $45. They are available for purchase at www.performances.southflorida.edu or at the SFSC Box Office, 863-784-7178. SFSC Box Office hours are 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The box office is in front of the SFSC Theatre for the Performing Arts, 600 W. College Drive. Visit us on Facebook at www.facebook.com/sfscperformingarts.

An hour prior to the performance, audience members can visit the Wild and Places Between exhibition at the SFSC Museum of Florida Art and Culture (MOFAC). Wild and Places Between features paintings by Dennis Aufiery. SFSC MOFAC is open to the public from 12:30 — 4:30 p.m. Wednesday through Friday, one hour prior to each Artist and Matinee Series performance, and by appointment for group tours.

For more information about the museum or its exhibitions and workshops or to request a museum tour, contact Mollie Doctrow, curator, SFSC MOFAC, at 863-784-7240 or visit the Website at www.mofac.org.

NEW CLASS OF CLOWNS

Nine new clowns recently graduated from Toby's Clown School in Lake Placid. Each developed a clown character and interesting personalities, as well as learned ballooning, face painting, magic, and skit development, during their three-day course. Graduates include Aaron 'Streamer' Green (back row, from left), Dana 'Crackles' Brooks, William 'Putter' Brinegar, Gary 'Snickers' Nicholson, and Dale 'Popsey' Farlee; Brenda 'Bubbles' Nickerson (front row, from left), Rhonda 'Lovie Dovie' Gagliardi, Jill 'Stink-Pot' Borror, Jacque 'Goody-Goody' Blair. They are now ready to spread smiles, love, and laughter to everyone they meet. For information about the American Clown Museum and School call 465-2920.

Tickets on sale for The Singing Diva's dinner, show

Show set for Thursday at Unity Centre

Special to the News-Sun

SEBRING — Unity of Sebring once again opens its doors to a night of dinner and song. The Centre is known for hosting a wide variety of life enriching classes, concerts and programs all designed to help one discover how wonderful life can be. Thursday's dinner and performance by The Singing Diva will proved Highlands County with the opportunity to experience outstanding musical talents, seldom seen in our area, of which everyone is welcome and invited.

Starting at 5:30 p.m. a soup and salad bar will grace the venue before the curtain rises at 7 p.m. on four of the most popular Positive Music artists in the United States.

The Singing Diva's concert features Sue. K. Riley, Faith Rivera, Sloan Wainwright and Karen Drucker .

Riley began writing in 1999, the same year she released her first CD, "All Is Right with My World." The CD was conceived, written and recorded in nine months, and from it came the song that has become popular with many New Thought people: "House Built on Love". Since "All Is Right with My World" was released, Riley has released another solo CD, "Generations of Love."

If Tony Robbins were a girl, could sing like Mariah, groove like Madonna, and inspire like Oprah, you'd get Faith Rivera. She is a Kauai-born, Emmy-winning singer, songwriter and touring Positive Music artist. With six solo artist releases, her music has been featured on TV shows like ER and Scrubs to NBC's Passions with her song "Forever Near," awarded an Emmy in 2003 for Outstanding Original Song.

Folk-pop artist Sloan Wainwright belongs to a musical dynasty of impossibly gifted singer-songwriters. Her family tree (brother and folk-music luminary Loudon Wainwright, sister-in-law Kate McGarrigle, nephew Rufus Wainwright, and nieces Martha Wainwright and Lucy Wainwright Roche) reads like a who's who of contemporary folk music. Wainwright's incredible gift is not only her unique songwriting ability but her dramatically voiced rendition of her original songs.

Defying standard categorization, singer/songwriter Wainwright consistently demonstrates her easy command of a variety of American musical styles — pop, folk, jazz and blues — held together by the melodious tone of her rich contralto. The end result, a unique and soulful hybrid.

With a solid and impressive discography of eight original CD releases to her credit, Wainwright continues to write, sing and perform live.

Karen Drucker has been called "a master of communicating presence and spirituality through music." She has recorded more than 15 CDs of her original inspirational music and written a best-selling book, "Let Go of the Shore".

Reservations are required for dinner and show. Tickets for dinner and show are $30. "Show Only" tickets are available at $20 each. For reservations or more information contact Unity at Unity@vistanet.net. Call 471-1122. Unity is at 10417 S. Orange Blossom Blvd. between State Road 66 and Lake Josephine Road, on the way to Henscratch Farms.

Simply amazing

PAUSE & CONSIDER

Jan Merop

What amazes you?

How about an infant's first smile or the realization she has a voice?

My great niece unexpectedly discovered her voice and laughter. It was a first for her and her parents were so amazed and delighted they recorded it and put it on Facebook.

I'm also amazed by the incredible beauty of nature. I suppose that is no surprise to regular readers of this column. But, God's creation never ceases to amaze me!

A gorgeous starlit night sky; an incredible, subtly changing sunset different each evening; tall, majestic mountains; waterfalls that seem to come from nowhere; individually different snowflakes; the incredible quiet beauty of a snowy day, and ocean waves breaking on shore.

All of these and so much more reveal the beauty, creativity and awesomeness of our Creator God.

Colossians 1:15-17, NKJV, speaks of Jesus Christ being the image of the invisible God and then goes on to say, "For by Him all things were created that are in heaven and that are on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers. All things were created through Him and for Him. And He is before all things, and in Him all things consist."

It's not difficult to continue along this line of thinking to be amazed.

Just think of the human body. Our incredible brain, eyes, ears, mouth, lungs, heart, digestive system, arms, legs, hands, feet… cells, DNA, blood vessels and more that are beyond the complete understanding of even the wisest person.

We are miracles of God's amazing love and design.

And yet I wonder what amazes God?

Is he amazed by the things we do and accomplish? Does he applaud our successes with us? Recently, in studying the book of Luke in the New Testament, I learned something about what amazes God.

In Luke 7:1, Jesus is approached by some Jewish elders on behalf of a centurion. A servant whom the centurion highly values is dying. Having heard about Jesus he requests that he come to heal him. However, as Jesus gets closer the centurion sends friends to ask Jesus to just say the word to heal him as the centurion didn't feel worthy to have Jesus come to his house.

Without a word, Jesus heals him. Jesus' response tells us what amazes him.

"When Jesus heard these things, He marveled at him and…said to the crowd that followed Him, 'I say to you, I have not found such great faith, not even in Israel!'"

Jesus is amazed by simple, unswerving faith. Selah

Inspirational
THOUGHTS & SCRIPTURES

By Patricia Valentine

Psalm 56:3-4, "What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee. In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me." It is in the midst of life's storm that God lets us glimpse Him and worship Him as we never can otherwise. We sometimes get in an emotional storm because God wants to hear us say what David said: "What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee." When you are in the shadows and you see no way out, you have been taken there for a purpose, and that purpose is entirely about your view of Him. It's only when you realize He's all you have that you discover He's all you need. Be Blessed!

Robert Butler autobiography to be released Tuesday

'Timeless Echoes: The Life and Art of Robert Butler' has more than 365 photos

Special to the News-Sun

Robert Butler's full color autobiography of 400 pages, Timeless Echoes: The Life and Art of Robert Butler, is set to be released Tuesday. The book features over 200 photos of Robert Butler art, as well as another 65 of art by each of his nine children, who became talented artists in their own right. Over 100 photos of Butler's life round out this most fascinating book of historic proportion.

Through talent, a fierce work ethic, and a winning personality, Butler moved from a turpentine still in Baxley, Georgia, to international fame as an artist, being named as one of the 26 original Florida Highwaymen. Butler's journey led him around the world and into the Florida Artists Hall of Fame. This book reveals the "heart behind the art" of Robert Butler.

The one thing that readers will experience in reading this book is the awareness that the hand of destiny was upon this man from very early childhood. As an African American artist struggling to survive midst the Civil Rights era of our country and facing myriads of conflicts, and even though Robert attempted to escape those conflicts, it was those very conflicts which served him well by honing his natural ability to paint and outfitting him with an eye to see the rapidly diminishing landscapes of a wild Florida. It pushed him to put those landscapes to canvas before they completely disappeared. Destiny had in mind to see to it that this artist would be the only artist attributed to having painted every ecosystem in wild Florida, something which will never be repeated in history, as many of these ecosystems no longer exist, having succumbed to "progress."

Butler paintings are distinctive in their dramatically lit, romanticized portrayals of his beloved wild Florida. His paintings are known to be finely detailed, while exuding an ethereal light in them, giving them an almost sacred quality, the music of his heart. He managed in his autobiography, just as he did in his art, to strike a balance in celebrating wild Florida, while at the same time grieving at her passing.

In reading this book, one cannot help but grow their love and admiration for the swamps, palmetto flats, hardwood forests, rivers, lakes, pine flats, and wildlife of wild Florida. The reader will come to understand not only the art of Robert Butler, but also the very heart of Robert Butler and his love for wild Florida.

As one reviewer of the book said, "This book is one of the best, recently written books on personal development." Another reviewer stated, "Butler's story will indicate that he . . . found (his life's) purpose and defined it. Along the way, he discovered universal laws that he used to give generously back to the world. And you thought this book was about art!"

Just prior to the realization of his dream of seeing his life story in print, Robert Butler laid down his paintbrush for the last time and departed this life on March 19, 2014. However, Florida, as well as the whole world, will forever know that "the Butler was here."

The editing, cover design, and interior layout for the book were done by Dr. Sheila R. Munoz of Lakeland, Florida.

The 8½ x 11, 400-page, soft cover edition of Timeless Echoes: The Life and Art of Robert Butler will be available through Amazon beginning April 1. The suggested price is $74.99 and qualifies for free shipping. The hard cover, image wrapped edition will be available in about a month and must be directly ordered through the editor, Sheila R. Munoz, at sheila.r.munoz@gmail.com for $94.99 plus shipping. In addition, families who own a Robert Butler painting may order a family Special Edition of Timeless Echoes featuring their personal Robert Butler painting on the cover by contacting the editor, as well.

Butler wrote another book, Highwaymen Artists: An Untold Truth; and a third book, The Cracker Cowman: The Heritage of Florida Ranches as Depicted by Artist Robert Butler, is coming out later this month.

Royalties for all books go to Robert Butler's wife of more than 50 years, Dorothy Butler.

Carter writes about prejudice against women in new book

PETER JAMES SPIELMANN
Associated Press

NEW YORK —In his new book, "A Call to Action," former President and longtime Baptist church deacon Jimmy Carter says prejudice and discrimination against women and girls is perpetuated in America and around the world by religious authorities who twist holy texts to assert male dominance.

Carter famously broke with the mainstream Southern Baptist Convention in 2000, denouncing it for drifting into doctrines he called sexist and racist.

He now worships at a New Baptist Covenant church in his hometown of Plains, Ga.

The 89-year-old Carter recalls how in his Deep South childhood the Bible was cited to justify white supremacy and asserts that patriarchs now twist the Bible, Koran and other Scriptures to denigrate and control women.

As a Bible teacher for more than 70 years, he tackles some of the passages cited by male supremacist Christians, notably St. Paul's letter to the Ephesians, which preaches: "Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church ..."

Carter contrasts this and other Old Testament writings that consigned women to male-property status with the four Gospels that "never report any instance of Jesus' condoning sexual discrimination or the implied subservience or inferiority of women."

While Carter's case that Jesus' example in the New Testament demonstrated fairness and equality is persuasive, Christians who cling to chauvinist Bible passages are unlikely to listen to his interpretation of Scripture.

After assigning the cause of much of today's discrimination to religious intolerance meant to preserve male dominance, Carter documents the vast array of effects.

Highlands unemployment remains unchanged

BY BARRY FOSTER
News-Sun correspondent

SEBRING — Although there were more people listed in the local workforce in February than there were in December, the projected unemployment percentages remain the same.

Statistics released last week by the U.S. Department of Labor Bureau of Labor Statistics estimated there were 41,168 people in Highlands County's labor force in February. That was up from January's estimate of 40,545. The numbers of unemployed, however went from the January figure of 2,956 to 2,990 last month.

Officials of the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity say that still translates into a 7.3 percent unemployment rate for the second straight month.

"What appears to be happening is there are a number of re-entrants into the job market," said CareerSource Heartland Chief Information Officer Alan Grimes. "Those are the people who were in the job market, left it and now have come back."

Meanwhile, Grimes said, there still appears to be many jobs being offered with not enough people to fill them. Among those most sought after are those in the medical field and those with CDL truck driving licenses.

"We seem to have more job orders and less job seekers," he said. "In February, marketing and retail sales actually had the most listings."

Also there are positions open for waiters, waitresses maids and housekeeping — which Grimes said shows activity in the county's tourism industry.

Highlands unemployment remained higher than Polk County's 7.2 percent joblessness rate and Hardee County which listed a 6.8 percent unemployment figure. No heartland county matched the statewide seasonally-adjusted figure of 6.2 percent unemployment.

Statewide, the designation gaining the biggest job growth was trade, transportation and utilities. Other areas of growth were listed as professional and business services as well as construction.

Legislature may reject consumer protections

GARY FINEOUT
Associated Press

TALLAHASSEE — Florida's chief financial officer went to the Legislature this spring with a simple request: grant additional protections to customers dealing with property insurance companies.

But the push by Jeff Atwater is in serious jeopardy. That's because insurers, such as State Farm Florida, are only willing to accept the added protections if they come with other changes that could help keep their costs down.

And that's proving to be a big problem.

The House and Senate are now divided over the issue and are advancing very different versions of the bill. It's a sign that nearly halfway through the Legislature's 60-day session that the bill could easily die.

"I really hope some important consumer stuff is not lost in the fight," Atwater said.

Atwater says he's pushing the bill in reaction to thousands of calls his offices receive from consumers confused about how to file a claim when their home is damaged by a storm or a fire. Atwater oversees the state's insurance consumer advocate office.

The bill would create a "homeowner claims bill of rights" that requires insurers to spell out to homeowners what they can expect when they file a claim.

The legislation also would prohibit insurance companies from using credit information to deny a claim or cancel a policy if the policy has been in effect for more than 90 days.

This provision came out of a dispute between regulators and one of Florida's largest insurance companies.

Atwater said that the Legislature has given consumers specific rights over the years, "but consumers don't have a bookshelf at home with these statutes.

SFSC alumna finds passion for helping students

Coone founded Links2Success

Special to the News-Sun

ARCADIA — At just 31 years old, South Florida State College (SFSC) graduate and lifelong DeSoto County resident Ashley Coone is the executive director of the DeSoto County Chamber of Commerce, bringing a fresh perspective to the small-town atmosphere.

After graduating from SFSC in 2002 with an Associate in Arts degree, Coone went on to earn a bachelor's degree in business management from Florida Gulf Coast University and a master's degree in management and leadership from Webster University.

As executive director, she is a key representative and advocate for business owners and employers in the community. She has the overall responsibility for management of operations, administration, budget, finance/accounting, building and facilities, chamber development and marketing programs, long-term strategic planning, and oversight of all board-directed initiatives.

Before coming to the chamber, Coone worked as a retention coordinator at Florida Gulf Coast University and then served as a constituent service representative in the office of Congressman Connie Mack. She currently serves as the chair, appointed by Governor Rick Scott, of the Early Learning Coalition of Florida's Heartland. Coone was also a student advocate and mentor for Take Stock in Children (TSIC) at SFSC.

She was recently recognized by her alma mater, Florida Gulf Coast University, as a Soaring Eagle. This award recognizes alumni that are thriving in their careers and giving back to their communities. She credits her education and experience at SFSC for making her well-rounded in various aspects of business a foundation that translates across industries.

"SFSC is where it all started," Coone said. "SFSC provided small class sizes, affordable housing, and close proximity to my family. I enjoyed the small campus atmosphere and the close relationships I formed with faculty and staff."

While Coone has a successful career as an executive director, she discovered along the way that a strong passion for helping students in her community was her true calling. Growing up, Coone's parents fostered children for more than 30 years. This inspired her to start a non-profit where students in her community were given the necessary resources to continue their education and become successful.

"Having multiple siblings come in and out of my life had a huge impact on me," she said. "It shaped me as a person. My passion and priorities in life are family and helping our youth plan for life after high school."

In October of 2012, Coone founded Links2Success. The non-profit was launched with a goal to increase the low amount of students that pursue education beyond high school that currently exists in DeSoto County and is available to students in both middle and high school.

The organization empowers youth to achieve higher education by equipping them with the skills, knowledge, and habits they need to gain entry to higher education and successful careers. Ultimately, helping people is what she loves to do since it has been such a huge part of her own personal identity.

"I hope that more of our students will not only graduate from high school and go on to college, but complete college and enter into the professional world as productive members of society," Coone said. "So many youth in my community have the potential. These students are our future, and I want to help facilitate a strong foundation for their lives."

As she reflects on the journey to her career, she advises students to take advantage of as many opportunities as possible, whether it's through mentoring, volunteering, interning, or getting involved in student organizations.

She continues to be totally sold on SFSC as the college of choice for students who desire an exceptional education and opportunities that add value to the learning environment.

"I encourage students to explore what is best for them," Coone said. "I'm pro-education, but realize that four-year degrees aren't for everyone. As long as students plan for a career or life after high school, they can be successful. My goal is to help youth in the community become more aware of the opportunities right here at home."

Warren did a lot for the bluebirds

BIRDS & OTHER WILD THINGS

Hank Kowalski

Welcome to the roost! It is entirely fitting and proper to dedicate today's "Birds & Other Wild Things," sort of in memoriam to Bud Warren, who spent many years of his life studying and protecting one of the most beautiful birds in the kingdom of birds, the eastern bluebird (Sialia sialis).

Sad to say, Bud Warren lost a well fought battle with a debilitating health problem on March 19. Sincere, heartfelt thoughts of condolences go out to his wife, Jean.

The Highlands County Audubon Society members should move quickly to name the Bluebird Trail on the state-owned parcel of property of the Royce Ranch in Lake Placid as the "Bud Warren Bluebird Trail." Bud was there from the very beginning, helping to set up the locations for the many nest boxes. His expertise paid off as the trail grew to be about 100 strong and requires lots of maintenance. Bud, Jean and many volunteers ensure the success of the trail, tolerating the heat of our summers and much physical labor.

The subject of today's article is a gentle, very attractive bird, and might well deserve to be our country's emblem, for it is literally red, white and blue. The Florida bluebird is a sub-species of the eastern bluebird. Both are common residents in the state, with approximately the same habits and plumage. The Florida bird has a larger bill, and ranges throughout the peninsular section from Lake County to Royal Palm Hammock, while the Eastern Bluebird is confined principally to the northern part of the state.

The head, back, wings and tail of the male are deep, purplish-blue, the throat and breast rich reddish-brown, and the remainder of the underparts white. Except for a duller breast, the markings of the female are similar. Adults are from 6.30 to 7.50 inches in length.

When house sparrows and European starlings were introduced to North America, eastern bluebirds were forced to compete with them for nest sites, and their numbers began to decline. The creation of bluebird nest boxes has helped matters as these boxes exclude competing European starlings because the entrances are too small for them but are perfect for bluebirds. The female builds a cup nest of grass, weed stems and small twigs and line it with finer materials; mostly the female incubates four to five pale blue eggs for 13-16 days. The male courageously defends his mate and nest, driving off intruders with a barrage of angry chatterings. His song during this period consists of two-syllable notes that blend in a mellow warbling whistle. The young are clothed in light gray; the speckled light brown on the breast turning dark as the birds mature.

The eastern bluebird could easily be called the country's bird.

Summer food, obtained on or near the ground, includes grasshoppers, worms, various beetles, caterpillars, and spiders. The winter diet is principally the fruit and berries of the juniper, Virginia creeper, dogwood, mistletoe, greenbriar, sumac and elderberries, supplemented by weed and grass seeds.

The bluebird is on the Honor Roll of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and is protected at all times by state laws.

Until next time, remember to send me any unusual bird or wildlife sightings that our readers will be happy to read and enjoy. As always, get out there and enjoy the Creator's outdoors. It's a quality of life activity that will add years to your life and life to your years.

Hank Kowalski lives in Lake Placid and is a graduate of the Dr. Reed Bowman Bird Study Course, given at South Florida State College. He is a past commissioner of the Natural Resources Advisory Commission (NRAC). He is also a past president of the Highlands County Audubon Society and a past president of the Heartland Environmental Council, Inc. Email him at hankwildbird@htn.net.

GOP House pushes vouchers

Associated Press

TALLAHASSEE — Republicans in the Florida House are pushing ahead with a major expansion of a state-backed program that helps low-income children attend private schools.

Just last week it appeared that private school voucher legislation was dead for the 60-day session after the Senate sponsor withdrew his bill.

But on Friday a House committee voted along party lines for a revamped version intended to win support from Senate Republicans.

This time House Republicans included the expansion of the voucher program in a bill that also would expand a separate program that aids disabled children.

Seaquarium sold

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Seaquarium is being sold to a California-based company that is a subsidiary of Spanish theme park operator Parques Reunidos.

The Miami Herald reported Friday that the company signed an agreement in the past month to buy the 38-acre park on Virginia Key.

Business never better for Eklund on 'Million Dollar Listing New York'

These are heady days to be in Manhattan real estate, what with supply lagging behind a demand driven to an all-time high by foreign buyers, and interest rates staying at near-historic lows.

Fredrik Eklund, agent for Douglas Elliman Real Estate and one of the stars of Bravo's "Million Dollar Listing New York," which returns for its third season Wednesday, April 2, just enjoyed his best month ever since he began selling properties in New York's richest borough.

"In February, the shortest month of the year," he says, "I sold $152 million in one month, which is about triple the highest amount I sold in a month in 2013, which made No. 1 in the nation. ...

"I've been doing this for 12 years," he continues. "I've never seen anything like it. ... It's booming now more than it ever has before, more than 2006 and 2007, before the downturn. The pricing is crazy; it's very strong. You have like a perfect storm of a lot of new developments, which I control most of, and then buyers international and even sellers, which is unique. Sellers are putting their apartments on the market, so there's a really healthy, moving, liquid market right now, yes. And interest rates are fairly low."

This season, much of the drama will come from the agents' personal life and considers children, fellow agent Ryan Serhant tries to balance his career with a new relationship, and Luis D. Ortiz moves out of his brother's apartment and into a luxurious bachelor pad of his own.

And then, of course, there are the deals, which can enrich agents beyond imagination but leave them emotionally drained.

"I like the difficult deals," Eklund admits, "although I don't feel like it at the time, when you're crying and pulling your hair. Looking back at them, even when you fail, there is something about them that makes you remember them; you grow from them, and you change with them.

"So the month of February ... I'm going to remember it with a happy heart, but it's not like I learned anything from it, really. All the deals went so easily and quickly that the more difficult ones are, in a

The Elder Scrolls Online

PC/$59.99plus monthly subscription/April 4

Over two decades, the "Elder Scrolls" series has evolved from its humble beginnings as a lackluster role-playing title to an epic gaming experience that has redefined open-world adventuring. With 2006's "The Elder Scrolls IV: Oblivion" and 2011's "The Elder Scrolls V: Skyrim," gamers lined up to pay their hard-earned $60 thanks to the technological achievements and compelling tales that both titles offered. Now, with the massive multiplayer market in desperate need of some fresh content, Bethesda Softworks is looking to move its beloved franchise into the ultracompetitive genre with the highly anticipated title "The Elder Scrolls Online."

Chaos has run rampant in Tamriel. Following a great explosion of arcane energy in the Imperial City, the Daedra, supernatural beings from the plane of Oblivion, have plagued the land, led by the infamous Molag Bal. This Daedric prince of domination and enslavement has created ultimately turn a once-beautiful land into a desolate nightmare. Within this turmoil, the people have formed three alliances, each of which is attempting to free the Imperial City from the clutches of Molag Bal. As you join the fray and mount your attack against the forces of evil and the might of your enemies, which banner will you call your own, and more importantly, what path to greatness will you follow?

"The Elder Scrolls Online" is a massively multiplayer online role-playing game that places you into the well-known landscape of Tamriel. At the onset, players must choose which banner to fight under. This choice decides not only your starting location and your goals as a collective but your available races as well. Once your hero is created, you'll find that alliances don't coexist nicely on the field of battle. Player-versus-player combat takes place on a large scale. As enemies become more entrenched in strongholds and castles, it may become necessary to use something with a bit more punch than just swords and spells. Siege weapons such as catapults and battering rams can be used to destroy walls and single-player adventures of the "Elder Scrolls" series coupled with innovative gameplay that redefines the genre, "The Elder Scrolls Online" is ready to take on the giants of the MMO world while raising the bar for any future contenders.

'Nashville' sisters in harmony and easy in each other's presence. If you haven't been watching ABC's "Nashville" Wednesdays, you're missing a terrifically written and acted drama with multidimensional characters and great music.

And you're missing the quiet showstopping performances the girls regularly turn in. There's a purity to their voices, which blend seamlessly. The sisters, Lennon (named after John), 14, and Maisy, 10, have always sung together.

This season, Lennon's character, Maddie, has had more drama. In the Wednesday, April 2, episode, she posts a video identifying herself as Maddie Claybourne, putting it out there that Deacon (Charles Esten) is her dad.

Her action leaves her mom, Rayna (Connie Britton), and others upset. With their roles expanding, the Stella sisters talk to Zap2it with their mom, Marylynne, close by. What follows is an edited version of the conversation.

Q: It looks as if "Nashville" is your first acting job. How did this come about, and have you had training?

Lennon: At the end of the first season, we got an acting coach, our first acting coach. Other than that, we have just been learning.

Maisy: Our mom helps us a lot, and when we are not in a lesson, our mom is going over lines and being really helpful.

Q: Did you always want to act?

Lennon: Maisy has. Since she was a baby, she would do the Maisy cooking show, the Maisy talk show, the Maisy news show.

Maisy: I am very, very shy. I would make like this is Food Network and this is bread, and this is peanut butter, and here's how you do a peanut butter sandwich.

Lennon: Any camera she had, she would pose for it. It was always in my mind it was kind of her thing, and I knew it was something she wanted to do, and I just eliminated it from my mind. I decided I would play music. I always thought we would do music together, and that's what I thought we would go for. And when the show came up, the show seemed like the best opportunity.

celebrityq&a

You came into the subject knowing it well, so what blew you away?

The many forms of the lust for life (among) actors and poets.

What binds Jews across lands, languages and centuries?

The Torah is such a lot of Jewish life.

As the series shows, there have always been movements against the Jews, and anti-Semitism is growing in certain parts of the world. Do you have fear?

I don't think we should go around in fear and trembling. One of the reasons I made this series is to hold your head up high. I am a Zionist.

Growing up in postwar England, what's the first anti-Semitism you recall?

I was probably about 6 and living by Thames Estuary near Southend, a big kind of working-class seaside resort, seeing on the wall by the railway station these faded letters "PJ," and I had no idea what they were. And I asked my dad, and he sort of stuttered a bit and said, "Never mind about that, son." And then I got home, and I was a persistent little bugger, and I said, "What does that mean, Dad?" And he said, "Oh, it's perish Judah." And it was a faded, semiwhite tall slogan that had been painted by the Mosley Blackshirts, and that was a real illumination for me that only in those miles of channel there, but for the grace of God I might have ended up like some of my mother's family.

OF O'S POSTSEASON HOPES

In case anyone forgot, Chris Davis' first home run of spring training would remind them that he's the reigning major league champ in that department.

It came in the Baltimore Orioles' March 3 game against the Minnesota Twins, when the left-handed hitting first baseman launched a towering 420-foot drive off the video board above the center field fence at Ed Smith Stadium, the O's spring home in Sarasota, Fla. His first home run of the spring certainly arrived in style.

Hopes are high at Camden Yards this season, what with Davis coming off a monster 2013 (53 homers, 138 RBIs, a .286 average and a 1.004 OPS) and the O's being active in the free agent market during the offseason. The team added, among others, former Colorado Rockies right-hander Ubaldo Jimenez, ex-Texas Rangers slugging outfielder Nelson Cruz and recuperating former Cy Young winner Johan Santana, late of the New York Mets, to a team that won 85 games last season but finished six games out of a playoff berth.

Though the Orioles don't expect the 28-year-old Texan to duplicate his gaudy numbers of '13, they'd certainly take something close to his breakthrough season of 2012, when he hit 33 dingers and served notice he was a left-handed force to be reckoned with.

Davis and the Orioles open the 2014 season at home against the Boston Red Sox Monday, March 31, in a game airing on ESPN2.

James Naughton gives 'Songbook' salute to Randy Newman

James Naughton is both an actor and a singer, and thanks to one particular songsmith, he uses both talents amply in a new PBS program.

Tunes by Oscar, Emmy and Grammy winner – and 2013 Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee – Randy Newman make up the set list of the "American Songbook" offering "James Naughton: The Songs of Randy Newman" on "Live From Lincoln Center" Friday, April 4 (check local listings).

The storytelling nature of many Newman songs attracted Naughton, who has won Tony Awards for Broadway's "City of Angels" and "Chicago" in addition to working often in movies and television.

"It went really well," Naughton says of the performance staged and taped in January. "It was kind of a high-pressure situation, because I had put the show together basically for that evening. I had done it exactly once before, only because I thought I would like a chance to do it somewhere out of town before I went into New York with it."

Naughton adds, "When you're learning all that material in a period of two to three months, if I'd had a chance to play it for a week or two beforehand, I could have developed a little muscle memory ... but that wasn't the case at all here."

In the process, Naughton applied his own sensibility to Newman's lyrics, which have fueled such popular hits as "Short People" and "I Love L.A.," plus many creations for movies.

"The second song in the set is called 'Shame,' " Naughton reports, "and I introduce it by saying, 'I like to think of it as a much-too-long message left by an old guy on the answering machine of a much-too-young woman.' That's what interpretive artists do.

"Randy doesn't write 'June Moon' love songs, and he doesn't write choruses, which means that learning them is even more difficult. Songs like 'The Great Nations of Europe' are political and philosophical, and 'God's Song' is how Randy imagines God might answer the question of how we reconcile the suffering that goes on in the world with the idea of a merciful, benevolent God. They're big, serious subjects, but he finds a way to come at them and make them accessible. And even funny."

You were in the Army during Iraq War, including the invasion of Baghdad. How do you feel about al-Qaeda reoccupying parts of Fallujah, which many U.S. Marines died to secure?

I lost a lot of faith in the leadership of this country a long time ago. It's pretty sickening to me. We're not on the same page. I was in Fallujah. My friends that I talk to, we talk about it every once in a while. It's just one of those things where it's pretty sickening, to be honest with you. There's not much to say about it. What are you going to do?

We fought in Fallujah for months, and to know what we did over there, that it was all for just to let them take it back over ... I don't know.

What about combat scared you the most?

Mortar attacks are pretty scary – anything that's out of your control, like sitting in the back of a Bradley (fighting vehicle) when a bomb explodes.

A link to a news article from your Wikipedia page said your back was injured by a nearby grenade explosion. How's it doing?

It's never good. It comes and goes. It's pretty much a constant thing, but there are days when it's much worse, as far as my back going out.

Are you involved in social media?

I'm not really into the social media stuff, to the dismay of the advertising team. I don't want a Wikipedia page, then I find out today, from you, that I have one.

BEST 'FRIENDS' MOVIES

BY BEVERLY FOSTER SEINBERG

"Friends With Benefits" (2011) "No Strings Attached" got there first, but romantic comedy fans didn't care that they might have "been there, seen that," thanks to the undeniable chemistry of Justin Timberlake and Mila Kunis as the titular platonic pals-turned-bed buddies.

"How to Lose Friends and Alienate People" (2008) The names were changed to protect the innocent – and the guilty – in this comedy adapted from British journalist Toby Young's memoir of his experience at Vanity Fair. Simon Pegg plays the Young-inspired character in a cast that also includes Jeff Bridges, Kirsten Dunst and Gillian Anderson.

"Friends With Money" (2006) Broke and single, Jennifer Aniston's character is the odd girl in her circle of Los Angeles gal pals (Joan Cusack, Catherine Keener, Frances McDormand) in this comedy-drama. If it reminds you of a Left Coast "Sex and the City," that's probably not a coincidence; writer-director Nicole Holofcener directed four episodes of that cable sitcom.

"Just Friends" (2005) If you can buy the idea that a guy who looks like Ryan Reynolds used to be a fat nerd, you won't be fazed by the other hard-to-believe plot points in this rom-com. Reynolds' character makes an unscheduled visit to his hometown, where his high-school crush (Amy Smart) still lives. Complications ensue. Lots of them.

"With Friends Like These..." (1998) Four small-time actors (Adam Arkin, David Strathairn, Jon Tenney, Robert Costanzo) find their friendship strained when they compete for a potentially career-changing role. Bill Murray has a cameo in this underrated comedy.

"Circle of Friends" (1995) The lives and loves of three female university students (Minnie Driver, Saffron Burrows, Geraldine O'Rawe) in 1950s Ireland provide plenty of drama in this adaptation of Maeve Binchy's novel.

"Peter's Friends" (1992) Art imitates life in this dramedy that's been called a British "Big Chill." Peter (Stephen Fry) is a Cambridge alumnus who hosts a reunion of his pals from the student theater group. In real life, Fry was in such a troupe, as were co-stars Emma Thompson, Hugh Laurie and Tony Slattery and the film's co-writer, Martin Bergman.

FAMILY VIEWING

SUNDAY

Despicable Me
8 p.m. on DISN

Steve Carell has a good animated match for his vocal talents in Gru, a master criminal who wants to be immortalized as the greatest bad guy ever. A rival (voice of Jason Segel) has his own designs on that title, so Gru takes several orphans under his wing, intending for them to infiltrate his competitor's lair, but they end up having an effect on him that he never anticipated. Russell Brand, Julie Andrews and Miranda Cosgrove also are heard in this 2010 comedy.

TUESDAY

Good Boy!
7:10 a.m. on SHOW

Owen Baker (Liam Aiken, "Lemony Snicket's A Series of Unfortunate Events") really wants a dog. He finds a stray and quickly bonds with the pooch he names Hubble. So he is a tad bit freaked out when he discovers he can understand everything Hubble says — and every other dog. It turns out that canines are aliens sent to take over the Earth and become the masters of humans. Molly Shannon and Kevin Nealon co-star in this 2003 family adventure.

FRIDAY

The Wild Thornberrys Movie
6 p.m. on NICK

The animated Nickelodeon characters have adventures at greater length in this 2002 feature-film version. Sisters Eliza and Debbie (voices of Lacey Chabert and Danielle Harris) put aside their differences when Debbie runs into big trouble in Africa, prompting Eliza to use her new ability to talk to animals in going to the rescue. Poachers pose additional dangers. The voices of Tim Curry and Vanessa Redgrave also are heard.

The Three Stooges
12:45 p.m. on HBO

Any actors who tackle playing the comedic trio of Moe, Larry and Curly automatically have the originals' image to work against — and given that, Chris Diamantopoulos, Sean Hayes ("Will & Grace") and Will Sasso ("MADtv") fare pretty well in the Farrelly brothers' ("There's Something About Mary") 2012 homage. The fellows meet in an orphanage, then have many misadventures. Jane Lynch, Jennifer Hudson, Sofia Vergara and Larry David also appear.

Carey, Ferguson trade places

Drew Carey isn't lacking for television jobs these days, but he's taking on an additional one anyway.

It's only for one night, though, and for a very specific occasion: April Fools' Day. The host of CBS' weekday game show staple "The Price Is Right" and Season 18 contestant on ABC's "Dancing With the Stars" trades places with the host of CBS' "The Late Late Show With Craig Ferguson" as they preside over each other's programs Tuesday, April 1.

The stunt is one that broadcast networks attempt every so often. A memorable instance was in 2003, when Katie Couric and Jay Leno swapped time periods on NBC for a day. Leno filled in for Couric in the co-anchor role she had then on "Today," while she assumed his place on "Tonight," opening monologue and all.

In the case of Carey and Ferguson, their skills might be a bit more evenly matched, though each still will have his challenges.

A big appeal of Carey as Bob Barker's "The Price Is Right" successor is his interaction with contestants. His improvisational skills factor in, since he never quite knows what he'll get when a player joins him – and improv certainly is something Carey knows well, also considering his "Whose Line Is It Anyway?" tenure.

The amiable Carey's interactions with late-night guests are likely to be harmless ... though one might wonder how he'll get along with Ferguson's perpetually snarky skeleton-robot sidekick, "Geoff."

Ferguson is famous for being edgy in his own right and for his stream-of-consciousness thinking that often takes offramps from the typical highway of celebrity interviews. How that will work with players on "The Price Is Right" could prove intriguing, though Ferguson is smart enough to know the game is the thing.

For him, that doesn't apply only to the April Fools' Day tradeoff: Starting this fall, Ferguson also will host the syndicated weekday "Celebrity Name Game" – so to a degree, "The Price Is Right" is a trial run.

However he and Carey fare on each other's stages, though, they get to go back to their day (or night) jobs soon afterward.

How I Met Your Mother
8 p.m. on 6, 10

The series wraps up its nine-season run tonight and it's going to be legen — wait for it! — dary. (Sorry, we had to.) If all goes well, Barney and Robin (Neil Patrick Harris, Cobie Smulders) will finally tie the knot, and Ted (Josh Radnor) will finally meet his children's mother (Cristin Milioti). Alyson Hannigan and Jason Segel also star in the hourlong series finale, "Last Forever." (HDTV)

Friends With Better Lives
9 p.m. on 6, 10

A sitcom about six young adults with "Friends" in its title — sound familiar? Created by Dana Klein, who worked on "Friends," this new series focuses on how six pals relate to one another 12 years after their single student days. Bobby and Andi (Kevin Connolly, Majandra Delfino) are married, Jules and Lowell (Brooklyn Decker, Rick Donald) are engaged, Will (James Van Der Beek) is newly divorced, and Kate (Zoe Lister-Jones) is still looking. (HDTV)

Prison Terminal: The Last Days of Private Jack Hall
9 p.m. on HBO

This poignant short documentary takes viewers inside the Iowa State Penitentiary's hospice system via the story of one prisoner. Volunteers from the inmate population provide much of Hall's care in his last months of life, and they benefit in their own way from the experience. (HDTV)

Independent Lens
10 p.m. on 3

The new documentary "Medora" covers a year in the life of a troubled high-school basketball team in Indiana. The Medora Hornets have been on a losing streak, and their struggle to compete parallels their community's struggle to survive. Depressing as it sounds, this is an inspiring story of a team and a town

The Originals
8 p.m. on 44

Locked in the sanatorium where she worked in 1919, Rebekah (Claire Holt) learns that a vengeful witch named Genevieve (Elyse Levesque) is after her in "Long Way Back From Hell." Elijah (Daniel Gillies) realizes one of his decisions has put Rebekah and Klaus (Joseph Morgan) in danger and seeks help from Marcel and Hayley (Charles Michael Davis, Phoebe Tonkin). (HDTV)

About a Boy
9:01 p.m. on 8, 20

Marcus (Benjamin Stockham) has an accident with a knife while home alone in this new episode. Will (David Walton) takes him to the emergency room and becomes instantly smitten with the pretty doctor (Adrianne Palicki) who treats the boy. Minnie Driver and Al Madrigal also star in "About a Buble." (HDTV)

The Story of the Jews With Simon Schama
10 p.m. on 3

The five-part series concludes with "The Return," in which Schama discusses how the Holocaust and the creation of Israel have shaped modern Jewish identity — and how Israel has shaped world events. Contributors include writer David Grossman, photographer Micha Bar-Am, kibbutz founder Freddie Kahan, West Bank settler Zvi Cooper and Palestinian villager Yacoub Odeh. (HDTV)

Cougar Town
10 p.m. on (WTBS)

Jules (Courteney Cox) and the gang are unhappy with Tom's (Robert Clendenin) choice of a site for their next vacation: home. Jules fakes being healthier than she is at her annual physical and gets a surprise. Bobby (Brian Van Holt) inadvertently signs up himself and Grayson (Josh Hopkins) for a break-dancing competition in the new episode "We Stand a Chance."

BEST

Arrow

8 p.m. on 44

When Slade (Manu Bennett) makes his move against Oliver (Stephen Amell), the fallout is huge. As Oliver works to protect his family, he finds a key player on his team is questioning his decisions. Isabel (Summer Glau) is poised to take control of Queen Consolidated in the new episode "Deathstroke." (HDTV)

The 100

9 p.m. on 44

While Bellamy (Bob Morley) takes his crew on a search for food, Clarke, Finn and Wells (Eliza Taylor, Thomas McDonell, Eli Goree) seek a remedy for Jasper's (Devon Bostick) wounds. A thick, acidic fog forces them to take shelter inside an old van, where Clarke confronts Wells on his betrayal. Paige Turco also stars in the new episode "Earth Kills." (HDTV)

Nashville

10 p.m. on 9, 28, 40

Maddie (Lennon Stella) posts a video online in which she refers to herself as Maddie Claybourne — basically telling the world that her father is Deacon (Charles Esten). Needless to say, Rayna (Connie Britton) doesn't take this well, and she isn't the only one. Hayden Panettiere also stars in the new episode "Crazy." (HDTV)

Down East Dickering

10 p.m. on HIST

Think "Storage Wars" without the storage part. This new series introduces several guys from Maine who make their living swapping, buying, fixing up and selling items that they find in the local classified ad magazine. In "Dickering 101," you'll meet Tony and Codfish, who specialize in vintage auto parts and soda signs; Roland and Mitchell, who are building a bridge; and Clint and Nate, who are bartering for a demolition derby junker

Parks and Recreation

8:30 p.m. on 8, 20

When Leslie (Amy Poehler) takes on the job of helping to organize the high school's senior prom, her colleagues get in on the act. Tom (Aziz Ansari) is enlisted as the DJ, with Ben assisting. Andy (Chris Pratt) takes a reluctant April (Aubrey Plaza) as his date. Leslie and Ron (Nick Offerman) clash over a potential future employee from the senior class in the new episode "Prom." (HDTV)

Suits

9 p.m. on USA

Jamey Sheridan ("Homeland," "Law & Order: Criminal Intent") guest stars in this new episode as Charles Van Dyke, a former partner at the firm who shows up with an ax to grind. Mike (Patrick J. Adams) faces a big decision, and Harvey (Gabriel Macht) faces off with a fellow lawyer who's relentlessly pursuing one of his clients. (HDTV)

Parenthood

10 p.m. on 8, 20

Zeek and Camille (Craig T. Nelson, Bonnie Bedelia) finally come to an agreement on what to do with the house. Julia (Erika Christensen) is unsure about the next step in her own life, but that doesn't stop her from trying to help Kristina and Adam (Monica Potter, Peter Krause). Sarah (Lauren Graham) gets tough with Drew (Miles Heizer) in the new episode "Cold Feet." (HDTV)

Vikings

10 p.m. on HIST

In this new episode, King Horik (Donal Logue) returns to Kattegak with a proposition that takes Ragnar (Travis Fimmel) by surprise. Lagertha (Katheryn Winnick) gets a disappointing welcome home from her new husband (Morten Suurballe).

Cloris Leachman

Unforgettable
8 p.m. on 6, 10

New episodes return with "Til Death." Al (Dylan Walsh) suspects a link between the murder of a wealthy couple and a series of homicides he investigated in the past but never solved. He and Carrie (Poppy Montgomery) pose as a married couple in hopes of luring in the killer. (HDTV)

Live From Lincoln Center
9 p.m. on 3

Better known to television viewers for his dramatic work ("Hostages," "Gossip Girl"), actor James Naughton is also an accomplished singer who's won Tony Awards for his work in the musicals "City of Angels" and "Chicago." He takes the stage to perform numbers by the composer of "I Love L.A.," "Short People," "You've Got a Friend in Me" and more in the new episode "James Naughton: The Songs of Randy Newman." (HDTV)

Raising Hope
9 p.m. on 13, 36

The sitcom bids farewell with a one-hour finale. Lesley Nicol ("Downton Abbey") guest stars in the first half as Jimmy and Sabrina's (Lucas Neff, Shannon Woodward) new maid. Then Virginia's (Martha Plimpton) dad (guest star Jeffrey Tambor) comes to town with a surprise. Singer Kenny Loggins also guest stars in "How I Met Your Mullet; The Father Daughter Dance." (HDTV)

Hannibal
10:01 p.m. on 8, 20

When a city councilman's body is found intertwined with a tree, some organs missing, suspicion falls on the Chesapeake Ripper. Will (Hugh Dancy) shares his suspicions about the fate of the victim's organs, leading Jack (Laurence Fishburne) to crash a dinner party that Hannibal (Mads Mikkelsen) is hosting. More clues from the dead man lead the BAU to a shocking discovery.

MTV serves up meals with a side of drama in 'House of Food'

Chris Nirschel

Construction noises are the ambient sound as Chris Nirschel surveys the new restaurant at the gateway to Greenwich Village, where he serves as executive chef.

By Manhattan standards, the restaurant is huge – 8,000 square feet upstairs, 5,000 down. He set the menu, which includes 20 New York beers on tap. Nirschel had already wrapped MTV's "House of Food," premiering Monday, March 31.

In it, aspiring chefs can learn from the best – provided they have what it takes to learn. Three accomplished chefs, rarely known for their retiring ways, are there to teach, and when one contestant admits she is there more as a hobbyist, they have no patience for her.

The aspiring chefs gather in an exquisite California house, and over the course of the show, they learn tricks of the trade. Living together, there is the usual drama of a group of 20-somethings living together and competing.

Nirschel says what surprised him most was the growth of the participants and how he enjoyed seeing them come into their own in the kitchen.

"Personality in a plate," he calls it. "I didn't really know what to expect. These are aspiring chefs, with no culinary education. They are also at the age where there will be drama and chaos in the kitchen and I work with them through that process."

Nirschel is no stranger to reality TV. He had been on "Food Network Star," "Chopped" and "Couples Therapy" and likes being a TV presence.

Being on this show, Nirschel says, reinforced that he loves to mentor and teach. He also instructs kids about cooking and is on a mission to improve lunches in New York schools.

"I enjoy coaching and teaching people who want to be taught," he says.

Classically trained at the French Culinary Institute, Nirschel has worked at a few New York restaurants and formed Culinary Bad Boy Productions, a New York catering company. Cooking comes naturally to Nirschel, whose first dish was pizza made with his dad.

"I would be kneading the dough with my dad to make calzones and make pizza," he says. "When I was really young and trying to make omelets, I was so terrible. My uncle from Argentina used to take me fishing, and he taught me his grandmas' recipes. I am very lucky to have a culinary heritage."

•What is always in your refrigerator?

"Butter, garlic, onion, chicken stock and cucumbers,"

•What did you have for dinner last night?

"I actually did a spicy sausage and broccoli rabe with rigatoni and arugula, basil, pistachio pesto finished with shaved Asiago."

•What is your next project?

"The new restaurant; I am its executive chef."

•What do you dislike cooking?

"I do not like cooking offals – kidney, tongue, brain. That is my least favorite, maybe because I do not do it enough."

Celebrity Wife Swap

3 p.m. on 9, 28, 40

Prepare to have your heart warmed by this episode from 2013, in which Melissa Rivers, daughter of Joan, swaps homes with Bristol Palin, daughter of Sarah. In Alaska, Melissa is surprised to see snow in May and to watch Bristol's 4-year-old son ruling the roost, while Bristol learns that structure is important and that even a Hollywood family can make it happen. Even Joan learns a lesson — about not prejudging a person because of her family's politics. (HDTV)

Man of Steel

9 p.m. on HBO

Superman's saga is rebooted by director Zack Snyder ("300") in a visually stunning 2013 reimagining with a darker tone than the Christopher Reeve adventures ... not a surprise, since the producers include Christopher Nolan, who made Batman "The Dark Knight." Henry Cavill assumes the role of the Krypton native who comes to Earth, as does an enemy from his home turf: General Zod (Michael Shannon). Amy Adams, Russell Crowe and Kevin Costner also star. (HDTV)

The Internship

10 p.m. on MAX

"Wedding Crashers" didn't have a sequel, so this reunion of Vince Vaughn and Owen Wilson is as close as viewers can get to that. They play veteran salesmen who lose their jobs, then try to update their careers and lives by applying for internships at Google. Much of the humor is of a then-versus-now nature. Director Shawn Levy's cast also includes Rose Byrne and

"ANCHORMAN 2: THE LEGEND CONTINUES"

It was a long time coming, but television newsman Ron Burgundy (Will Ferrell, of course, who co-wrote the film with director Adam McKay) and his crew go back before the cameras in a sequel that's virtually sure to please fans of the original comedy. It sends up the dawn of 24-hour news networks, as Ron leaves San Diego to join one in New York after being disappointed by not getting an expected promotion while his now-wife Veronica Corningstone (Christina Applegate) did. Steve Carell, Paul Rudd and David Koechner also are back on board, with Greg Kinnear and Kristen Wiig among newcomers ... plus some other very familiar faces, including Harrison Ford and Will Smith. ★★★ (PG-13, R and unrated: AS, P) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"47 RONIN"

Keanu Reeves learns the ways of the samurai in this fantasy adventure about a group of feudal warriors – the ronin of the title – who seek vengeance for the death of their master. Reeves' character has an extra reason for being on the mission, since he's in love with the deceased leader's daughter (Kou Shibasaki). The occasional appearances of witches and monsters add momentary visual interest, but some may find hanging with the story more of a challenge than expected; Rinko Kikuchi ("Babel") and Cary Hiroyuki-Tagawa also appear. DVD extras: "making-of" documentary; deleted scenes. ★★ (PG-13: AS, V) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"BROADCHURCH: THE COMPLETE FIRST SEASON"

Such a success that Fox is planning its own Americanized version, this British mystery series – shown in the U.S. on BBC America – casts David Tennant (who also will be in the Fox revision) and Olivia Colman as police detectives probing a boy's murder. The crime has pronounced effects on many of the area's residents, also including reporters who are covering the case; additional cast members include Jodie Whittaker and David Bradley. ★★★ (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"THE PIRATE FAIRY"

Characters and situations from "Peter Pan" inspire this animated Disney tale, with Mae Whitman ("Parenthood") returning from past projects to voice Tinker Bell again. However, the tale's central figure is Zarina, voiced by Christina Hendricks ("Mad Men") – a fairy who goes astray and aligns with a band of pirates ... led by one (voice of Tom Hiddleston) who will go on to be none other than the notorious Captain Hook. "Smash" alums Anjelica Huston and Megan Hilty also are heard in the film, which includes music

Blu-ray)

"THE LITTLE RASCALS SAVE THE DAY"

A classic character group gets a new sheen with this comedy. While the faces are new, the names are the same as Spanky, Alfalfa, Buckwheat and company try to help a beloved bakery owner (Doris Roberts, "Everybody Loves Raymond") stop her shop from being taken over by an unscrupulous businessman (Greg Germann, "Ally McBeal"). To come up with the needed funds, the kids enter a talent show and vie for the top prize. Eden Wood ("Toddlers and Tiaras") is among the film's younger stars, along with Camden Gray and Connor

AS) (Also on Blu-ray)

"SEAL TEAM 8: BEHIND ENEMY LINES"

As the title suggests, a Navy SEAL team sees plenty of action on a secret mission on Africa in this adventure. Tom Sizemore, who knows something about portraying military operations ("Saving Private Ryan"), plays the leader of the squad whose assignment is to stop uranium from being marketed to terrorists. The Congo poses its own natural threats to the heroes, who have those to contend with along with the perils posed by their main targets. DVD extras: three "making-of" documentaries; audio commentary by director Roel Reine. ★★ (R: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray)

Kevin Costner has enough time to kill in action tale

There are times when it takes just the right actor to sell the idea that fuels a movie.

In the case of "3 Days to Kill," Kevin Costner is very clearly that actor. The film isn't likely to be remembered as one of this year's greats, but thanks to Costner's typical earnestness and conviction, it works ... with assists from director McG ("Charlie's Angels") and co-writer Luc Besson ("Taken").

If you stop and think about it, it's pretty incredible that so much would happen in the life of Costner's CIA agent character in such a relatively short time, but that suspension of disbelief is a big part of what makes such a story work.

The lawman has a fatal illness, but he still takes out enemies with confidence and ease – making him just the person another agent, played by Amber Heard, needs to help her eliminate a couple of terrorists. In exchange, he'll get a big payout that includes an experimental drug possibly capable of curing what literally ails him.

At the same time, he tries to reconnect with his estranged daughter (Hailee Steinfeld, "True Grit") in Paris, a setting that gives the proceedings the wonderfully European flavor Besson's stories usually manage to work in.

That balance between trying to help a teenager through rites of passage and fighting bad guys on a global scale makes "3 Days to Kill" odd fun ... and it can't be overstated how much Costner makes it that way by playing it totally straight.

It's been a while since he had a showcase role on the big screen, and the praise and awards he earned for TV's "Hatfields & McCoys" surely had an effect on jump-starting his movie career again. It's a welcome return.

Look too closely at "3 Days to Kill," and you'll find plot gaps you can drive a fleet of trucks through. Take it as the fun ride it's meant to be, though, and it does have its pleasures ... thanks largely to a star who still knows how to do what he's always done, and still does it well.
