THE MOST COMMON CAUSE OF SUFFERING

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that Chamberlain's Liniment will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. In many cases the relief from pain, which is at first temporary, has become permanent, while in old people subject to chronic rheumatism, often brought on by dampness or changes in the weather, a permanent cure cannot be expected; the relief from pain which this liniment affords is alone worth many times its cost. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sal eby all druggists. m

LIGHT IN WAR PAINT AND FEATHERS

Is After the Corporations—"Whom," He Asks, "Are You Going to Serve—God or Mammon?"

Mr. Speaker and Fellow Representatives:

We are up to this proposition: The appropriations made by the last legislature exceed the revenue collected by $600,000. We now must prepare a way to raise this amount and additional amounts to meet increased demands, or cut expenses to meet the revenue collected.

I don't see how we can make so large a cut without doing more harm than good. We simply must provide the revenue needed, and now I ask who is going to foot this bill?

Will you correct our assessment laws and make ALL pay their just proportion of taxes, or will you let the rich, strong, powerful foreign corporation off with less than 20 per cent. on its interest bearing wealth, and tax the small native citizen sufficiently to cover this shortage?

Morgan's interest (the St. John's River Terminal Co.) so says the comptroller's report, is assessed at $9000 a mile. In its report to the railroad commission this company gives its capital stock and bonded indebtedness as $217,000 per mile; thus it is assessed at less than 5 per cent. on its property.

It is now up to you, Mr. Speaker and fellow legislators, to say whether this road shall pay its full share of taxes or not.

Will you permit this road, whose yearly net earnings are nearly as large as its assessed valuation, to pay taxes on less than 5 per cent. of its property; while you tax the native 60 per cent. on his?

You have got to settle this proposition.

At this session you have got to say, by your vote, "I am for the corporations," or, "I am for the people."

You have got to say "Equal taxes for all," or "I'll give these foreign corporations special favors in taxation."

This road, by excessive charges and low taxes, earned enough to increase its capital stock and bonded indebtedness in the last to years to $217,000 per mile. And now, Mr. Speaker, and fellow members, are you going to make it pay its share of taxes, or not? What are you going to do about it? Whom are you going to serve, God or mammon? The voice of God, the people, are now crying, whom will you serve?

LIGHT'S COMPLIMENT TO CARN

Pays Gilchrist a Splendid Tribute—Is Still Fishing for Whales

Tallahassee, May 9, 1909.

To the Editor Ocala Banner:

Saturday morning I had a little business in the comptroller's office, and meeting Miss Jeffie Bell, pension clerk, my heart was made to rejoice and be glad, as she showed me 7600 envelopes with a check in each for each person drawing a pension, and in a few days the old veterans and needy widows will have their pension money.

Light in the Limelight

Representative Light, who is one of the former members from down in old Marion county, and isn't a bit ashamed of the fact, has suddenly, and really unexpectedly to himself, sprung into the limelight. He introduced a bill providing for a franchise tax of one per cent. of the gross earnings of practically all public utility corporations in Florida. One per cent. doesn't sound so big, but the manner in which the corporation representatives have been jumping around the legislative halls and appearing before committees against the measure, indicates that it is considered a decidedly stringent bill.

Mr. Light says he don't understand how a little farmer down in Marion can raise such a racket, but he has succeeded magnificently in that direction anyhow. He is an honest and altogether straight and conscientious member and his intentions are the best, regardless of how different people may view his bill.

The corporations claim that the bill will work a great hardship upon them if passed and that it will seriously retard the development of Florida. Governor Gilchrist urged the imposing of a franchise tax in his message to the legislature and the same recommendation was made by Governor Broward to the legislature of 1907. Such a measure introduced by Senator Trammell, now state attorney general, caused one of the warmest fights before the last session.—Tampa Tribune.

At the time Governor Mitchell was nominated at Tampa, I heard Governor Gilchrist make what I thought was the biggest fool speech I ever heard, and when he came out in the campaign with his monkey card I thought he had gone daft sure. Since being here, meeting the governor in his private office, at his table, reading and hearing his messages read, etc., I find he is wonderfully broad between the ears, with a mighty long head from front to back. His mingling, as he does, with the people; his plain, practical actions and manner convince me that the governor is full-grown, big, broad, sane to the heart, and I believe his administration, when ended, will compare with any of his predecessors. Watch the governor play politics in the sweet bye and bye.

Well, well, it's the biggest kind of fun to see a little one-eyed, one-horse farmer fishing for whale, and here I wish to say that I have a bite, a sure enough bite, and a big bite, too—the Southern Express Company—and I've got him hooked. Don't know whehter I can land him or not. Met three of their leading representatives last Friday for several hours in committee rooms. Committee reported favorable.

Yesterday, in committee rooms, for an hour I tried to hook Peter O. Knight on franchise bill. Well, Peter is surely the smartest eel in the whole push. He's as slick as grease or well oiled lightning. He can argue, twist, turn, screw and dodge when cornered, and make as good a speech for the "poor, unfortunate corporations" as I ever heard. If I hook Peter I've got to be smart. I have facts, figures and undeniable reports that Peter can't chew, swallow or cram down very easily. Live in hopes of doing something on this line.

Am now at work with sub-committee on our assessment laws—and, say, if the bill becomes a law the tax dodger, if he is a cussin' fellow, will have something to cuss about. If he is a praying fellow, if the good Lord don't have mercy on his stingy soul the tax assessor won't. He's certainly got to cough up. The honest man will say "amen," while the tax dodging rogue will say "d—n!"

Some of our members are like a wood-pecker on a dead lightwood snag—constantly noisy, but doing no good. The only speech I made in the house for a week was to lay a motion for more committee clerks on the table, and on the table it went. The fellows that are after my scalp will keep me from having the big head all right.

Carn's a mighty good man, so say some of the good looking women up here—and I sorter think he is trying to hold down two jobs at the same time. It makes me grin.

JESSIE BROWN RELEASED

Is Young Woman Who Killed Actor Earl P. Adams

A Jacksonville special says that two sensational killing episodes which stirred this community were ended today when the grand jury ordered the release of Miss Jessie Brown, the young woman who shot and killed Earl P. Adams, the actor, and R. A. Humphries, who shot and killed his sixteen-ear-old wife and Thomas Mcnamus, when he found them in a compromising position.

The killing of Adams followed the announcement of his engagement to another woman. He and Miss Brown had been sweethearts for years, and he is alleged to have betrayed her. When he told her he was to marry the other woman, she shot him dead.

The killing of Mrs. Humphries and her lover was followed by the suicide of the mother of Mrs. Humphries, who was overcome because of the denouement which preceded the tragedy.

Mother's Day was duly observed in all parts of the country.
