COCOA.

Hear those charming bells—wedding bells—tinkling!

The orange market has revived and the fruit is going forward again.

Capt. Schoonmaker was circulating around Rockledge the first of the week.

Mrs. Jas. Mitchell has been enjoying a visit from her sister, Mrs. J. T. Knox, of New Smyrna.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Puckett have returned from Washington, and are again residents of our town.

Mr. and Mrs. Shinn, a brother of Mrs. Casey, are late arrivals in Cocoa. They will spend the winter here.

Mr. Casey has had a fine 1,100 gallon galvanized iron tank erected on a high tower by Wm. Hindle, the tinner.

The school vans come in loaded from each way every morning. The children are packed in like sardines in a box.

Mrs. W. G. Patterson attended the Palmetto club, which met with Mrs. Chatfield in Rockledge on Tuesday.

Willard street is being much improved by widening the driveway. Fine coquina rock was put down and covered with shell.

Mrs. J. W. Packard spent some time with Mrs. S. W. O'Brien in Daytona. She reports Mrs. O'Brien and the baby as well and happy.

A new walk has been laid from the entrance of the school building to the street, which makes a great improvement over tramping through the sand.

Rev. W. F. Allen, pastor of the M. E. church at this place, filled his first appointment in the charge on last Sunday morning and evening. The services were both well attended.

Mr. Harry B. Allen, of Hobe Sound, was viewing the beauties of Rockledge recently. Mr. Allen also has a place at Oak Hill. He came from the latter place to Cocoa to have dental work done.

Jack Frost lingered around this neighborhood the first of the week and he left his breath marks in several places and put a skim of ice over water in shallow dishes—just to let us know he had not forgotten.

Mr. J. F. Mitchell is making great improvements in the property he lately purchased on Palmetto avenue. One can hardly keep their bearing while traveling up the avenue so many improvements have been made.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Snyder, of Hudson, N. Y., have purchased the old Cooper property on Palmetto avenue and are putting up a fine cottage and will otherwise improve the premises. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder have rooms with Mrs. J. W. Packard.

Mr. J. A. Moore, wife, three children and mother arrived on Saturday night from Islip, L. I., N. Y., and are snugly domiciled in the Joseph Taylor cottage on Willard street. Mr. Moore is a nephew of Mr. A. I. Moore and a cousin of Mrs. W. G. Patterson.

ROCKLEDGE.

Miss Stella Douglass returned to Jacksonville Wednesday to resume her studies in the high school.

Who said it was cold on Sunday? Only the pessimist can remember it when enjoying this weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wilcox, of Brooklyn, are located with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Baker, at Riverside cottage.

Mrs. Wm. Young continues quite ill. She is still confined to her bed, but her friends hope to see her about again soon.

The Merwin cottage, Ledgemore, has been greatly improved by painting it white. It looks clean and stately in its new dress.

Mr. and Mrs. Osceola Currier arrived on Saturday night from Newark, N. J., and are cosily domiciled in their Indian river home.

Mr. Clarke Case, of Jacksonville, is the new pharmacist at the Rockledge Pharmacy which was opened to the public Monday of last week.

Gen. H. W. Haskins, of New York, is again at his old quarters at the New Rockledge. The genial general is attached to the Land of Flowers.

Judge Van Deman, of Delaware, O., arrived Saturday night and opened up their residence preparatory to his family coming on Wednesday.

Mrs. L. B. Chatfield is building a fine little cottage on the lot just south of the home place and it is a great improvement to the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Herring, of Brooklyn arrived at their home, Nemo cottage, Friday of last week and are glad to be once again in the land of sunshine.

Miss Mamie Hardee returned to Stetson university, at DeLand, the first of last week. Miss Lizzie Hughlett went on Friday, being delayed by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wallace and daughter Lucile, of Chicago, arrived last Friday from Chicago and have opened their curio store opposite the depot.

Miss Mabel Schuyler, with her little sister Helen, who last week visited their aunt, Mrs. J. E. Bettler, returned to their home at Jensen last Saturday evening.

Mrs. George A. Baker had the pleasure of welcoming her mother and sister, Mrs. and Miss Sumption, of Havre de Grace, Md., to the Land of Flowers, and of the orange.

Mr. Harold Baker and sisters, Misses Bertha and Maud are enjoying the sport of the finny tribes which inhabit Indian river and they bring in large strings of big fish as trophies of their skill.

Mrs. L. B. Chatfield entertained the Palmetto club on Tuesday. A most pleasant afternoon was passed. Mrs. W. G. Patterson will entertain the club at the same place on Tuesday of next week.

News has been received that Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Shares are rejoicing over the advent of a daughter. Their many friends rejoice with them in their new possession. Mr. Shares is proprietor of the Longacre hotel in New York city.

Mr. John Kendig believes in letting his light shine so he has presented a fine new street lamp to the church and it has been put in position in front of the chapel and was lighted last week for prayer meeting for the first time. The gift is greatly appreciated.

Master George Douglass during vacation helped his father in the store and made himself so useful the parent was loath to give him up, so he has been installed as a regular clerk and is doing splendidly. He is both courteous and expeditious.

Mr. Will Connors, of Pittsfield, Mass., is day clerk at the New Rockledge. Mr. Connors has been connected with the proprietors of the New Rockledge for several years, both here and at their summer hotels and has always been most popular with the guests.

Mrs. J. J. White and Mrs. W. E. Hall entertained the Ladies' Aid society on Thursday afternoon. A goodly number was present and much work accomplished. The work for the bazaar next month is being pushed rapidly along and it promises to be quite an affair.

Mrs. L. W. Battenfield received the sad intelligence that her eldest sister, Mrs. Dora Hill, had died at her home in Delaware, Ohio. Mrs. Battenfield did not go home as she could not reach there in time for the funeral, nor did she think it expedient that Mr. Battenfield should return there at this season and he did not wish her to take the trip alone. Mrs. Battenfield has the sympathy of all her friends here in her bereavement.

Mr. C. D. Marsh, of Syracuse, N. Y., will be violinist for the New Rockledge orchestra again this season. It will be remembered that he was with the orchestra two, three and four years ago and the people of Rockledge and the guests of the hotel will be glad to see him again. The orchestra sailed on the 6th from New York via Clyde Line. Mr. Rose is pianist, Mr. H. L. Bemis cellist and Mr. Marsh is leader—the sweetest orchestra that has ever visited Rockledge. Sunday evening song services at the New Rockledge will be resumed in the near future. They arrived here Tuesday.

EAU GALLIE.

The Roesch cottages are filling up.

Mrs. S. E. Barbour is looked for daily.

The Queen Ida is ready for the cruise down the coast.

Mr. Geo. W. Hopkins left for Jacksonville on Tuesday.

Eau Gallie is receiving a full share of the winter tourists.

G. F. Paddison has his lighter on Holgsons' ways this week.

The sound of the school bell is now heard all over our town.

Sarno hotel is receiving guests daily. More are looked for in the near future.

Letters from Capt. and Mrs. Colby, of yacht Pinta, report their arrival at Miami.

W. T. Wells, of Melbourne, and a party of friends were in Eau Gallie on Tuesday.

Dr. Carlos C. Booth's fine launch is being pushed to completion as fast as possible.

Capt. McNabb is adding to the beauty of the grounds about Craig-Ailsa by setting out more plants and shrubs.

A. R. Hodgson is shipping considerable oranges this week, mostly private orders. The crop in Eau Gallie is heavy.

Messrs. Shaw and Spencer, local steamboat inspectors, were in town this week looking over the fleet of steamers.

Mrs. Hopkins will leave for Kissimmee on Friday of this week after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Dr. Sarah C. Hodgson.

Mrs. Treutler is having erected one of the finest barns in Eau Gallie. The building is an ornament and a credit to the town. The site is on Oleander Ave.

Dr. Sarah C. Hodgson will move her office and consulting rooms to the new premises built for this purpose on the corner of Young and Houston streets very shortly.

Capt. Clemson, of Taunton, Mass., is having the yawl Princess prepared for another cruise about the 1st proximo. Mr. Clemson will bring a party of ladies, members of his family.

The Eau Gallie card club met this week at the residence of J. A. Gilbert. The usual routine of business was adhered to and some new members proposed. G. F. Paddison is president and Mrs. C. W McNabb vice president.

The Rev. S. D. Day, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, at Sanford, will hold services in St. Johns Episcopal church, on Young street, on Sunday evening next, at 7 o'clock. All are invited, seats free. It is expected that the choir will conduct the choral part of the service.

MELBOURNE.

Mr. C. A. Stephens, of Hastings, was a guest of the Brown House Sunday.

Mr. E. P. Branch is kept busy these days with increasing business in store and bank.

Messrs. Geo. Patterson and Geo. Hilliard, of Waukegan, Ill., are at present guests of Mrs. Robert Nicholson.

Melbourne has a new meat market in the Stewart building, managed by Messrs Whitaker & Stephens, of Eau Gallie.

Mr. Chas. T. McBride is again master of his store, after an illness of some weeks. We are all glad to see him well again.

Mr. P. P. Powell has been very busy these days getting the good ship J. F. P. in order, ready to take a cruise south.

Mr. H. J. Gidley, of Dunkirk, N. Y., and Mrs. Yates, also of New York, are among the late arrivals at Hotel Carleton.

Mr. Chas. Stewart is always found at his place of business, ever ready in his quiet, gentlemanly way to wait on customers.

Mrs. W. H. Dow and son, from Waukegan, Ill., arrived lately and are now with their family in their pretty winter home for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sposer, with their little son, Master Edward, all of Waukegan, Ill., are now in Mrs. Johnson's cottage, on the banks of Crane creek.

Capt. R. W. Beaujean took a jolly party to Melbourne Beach last Tuesday morning in his new launch, the Jessie B. All report a most enjoyable day.

Last Sunday morning, during a heavy norther, Postmaster R. W. Goode found a round bottomed rowboat afloat in the river and has it made secure. The owner can have same by calling for it.

The East Coast Canal company's dredge boat left here yesterday for points north, after cutting a channel into Crane creek. We now have a fine harbor for sailboats or launches to run into for shelter.
