ARIDITY IN ATLANTA

Minus $220,000 of Revenue, the City Departments are Planning on Hope. What Prohibition Costs the Gate City of the South.

(Atlanta Journal.)

It is not believed that the loss to the city's income of $220,000, occasioned by the prohibition law, will make necessary the discharge of a single city employe or any reduction in salaries.

The preliminary apportionment sheet as prepared by Comptroller J. H. Goldsmith and Chairman John W. Grant, of the finance committee, did not contemplate the cutting off of employes or the reduction of salaries paid them. The estimates were all based on the expenses of last year, and the list of employes of each department and the salaries to be paid them during 1908 was reckoned on the lists and salaries which prevailed in 1907.

The finance committee has listened to the requests for appropriations from the heads of all city departments except the board of health, and the sanitary department, and after considering these requests the majority of the committee members are of the opinion that there will be few changes made in the preliminary estimates.

Few Improvements

As was anticipated by the comptroller and chairman of the finance committee, there will be but a small fund for improvements during the year. No new employes will be taken on, and no salaries of old employes will be raised. After taking care of the fixed expenses of the city the finance committee hopes to be able to find sufficient funds with which to complete and equip the third and fourth ward schools, build the foundation for the new waterworks pump and equip the new eighth ward engine house and pay the $25,000 installment on the auditorium-armory.

Neither the chairman nor other members of the finance committee believe it will be possible to build the fifth ward school, the North avenue underpass or any of the other proposed improvements which have not already been contracted for.

Departments That Will Suffer

In practically every instance the amounts asked for by the various departments will be considerably below what is desired. As stated above, the appropriations will in a few cases exceed those of last year, and in several instances will be much lower. These departments, which will probably suffer most from the lack of funds will be the schools, the public works, the sanitary, the waterworks and the police.

There will be no increase in the teachers' salaries, the new fifth ward school will not be built, the work of the public works department will be materially curtailed, the expense of the sanitary department will be held down as much as possible, there will not be as much water pipe laid this year as last and the amount of tapping, will, of course, be less, and there will be no additional policemen.

It is probable that when the finance committee meets Friday morning some changes will be made in the preliminary apportionment sheet, and it may be found necessary to take from some departments and give to others, but these changes will not be radical, and the general complexion of the sheet will remain unchanged.

THE BIBLE

Does Not Teach Prohibition in a Single Instance

We have recently heard much discussion from our prohibition friends (?) upon the attitude of the Bible relative to prohibition, but the following quootations from the Book of God do not teach prohibition, and that it is taught only by those who are paid with money, and who do not entertain the least interest for your soul's welfare or the future of your families prosperity. Listen to the teachings of God himself:

Go into the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink. Jer. 35 Chap. 2 Ver.

And thou shalt spend the money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, for oxen, or for sheep, or for wine, or for strong drink, or whatsoever thy soul desireth. Deut. 14 Chap. 26 Ver.

Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto those that be heavy of hearts. Let him drink and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more. Prov. 31 Chap. 6 and 7 Ver.

Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for the stomach's sake. 1st Timothy, 5 Chap. 23 Ver.

Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy and drink thy wine with a merry heart, for God now accepteth thy works. Ecs. 9 Chap. 7 Ver.

And they shall build up the waste cities and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof. Amos. 9th Chap, part of 14th verse.

Should I leave my wine, which chereth God and man? Judges 9th Chap. 13th Ver.

In the holy place shalt thou cause the strong wine to be poured unto the Lord for a strong drink offering. Num. 28:7.

I have drunk my wine with my milk. Eat, O, friends, drink; yea, drink abundantly, O beloved. Sol. 5th Chap. 11th Ver.

Behond that which I have seen; it is good for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labor. Ecs. 5th Chap. 1th Ver.

And for a drink offering thou shalt offer the third part of an hin of wine for a sweet savour unto the Lord. Num. 15th, 7.

Let's take the Bible for our guide, and not the vaporings of a few fanatics who are trying to ride into prominence on the hobby of prohibition. All together with a vote that keeps good enough as it is. Observing Citizen.
