FLORENCE, S. C., Nov. 26, 1900.—I was first advised by our family physician in Charleston to use TEETHINA with our baby when he was but a very young infant, as a preventive of colic and to warm and sweeten the stomach. Later it was useful in teething troubles, and its effect has been found to be so very beneficial and so free from dangers that are consequent upon the use of drugs and soothing syrups, that we have come to regard it, after use with three children, as one of the necessities when there is a new baby in the house and until the teething troubles are over, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends instead of the horrid stuff that so many people use to keep their baby quiet. SOUTH LAKE WEIR

Mrs. L. F. Crowley, of Philadelphia, who has spent the winter in Ocala, joined her son, Mr. W. A. Crowley, here last week and will make an extended stay at the Pleasant Hills House.

A little daughter joined the family of Mrs. and Mr. Frank Lytle the past week at Stanton.

Mr. W. L. Bard commences the shipment of melons from his fifty acre patch this week. Ben Raysor, the irrepressible, had the first two cars. He says they are the finest melons in Florida.

Rev. J. G. VanDyke will not preach next Sunday, which is his regular appointment here, but will preach on the following Sunday, the 31st, instead, there being five Sundays in this month. There will be a meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society on Sunday morning, at which time it is expected the delegates to the recent state convention in Ocala will give a report of that meeting. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. as usual. All cordially invited.

Mr. Clinton F. Bard, who returned from Asheville, N. C., some months ago in poor health, died on Tuesday morning, the 19th, aged thirty-eight years. For some weeks past it had been apparent that he was rapidly failing, but so patient and uncomplaining was he that few realized that the end was so near. His brother, W. L. Bard, was with him, but his brother Charles, who had been telegraphed for, did not arrive until Wednesday. Undertaker McIver prepared the remains for burial and Mr. Charles Bard started with them on the sad journey to his home in Asheville, N. C., on the A. C. L., Thursday. Thus ends the mortal life of one of the sweetest and most loveable natures it has ever been our privilege to meet. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and died trusting in the atoning power of his Savior. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F. and of the Royal Arcanum in Asheville, in both of which orders he was deeply interested. The Odd Fellows of Ocala had extended to him the benefits and sympathy for which that beneficent order is so well known.

WHAT IS IT, ANYHOW?

A News Item

A few days ago there was a silent buzz around the court house. It was not the almighty tax collector-democratic-executive-committee governor recommending, etc. No, it was not that. Judge W. S. Bullock was just scooting around—in here, out there, all the way up to about 9:30 a. m. You would then have seen one big Scotchman bolt into the door leading up to the Judge's office. Then another slim jim rooster, labeled phosphate in his genial, kindly eye make his way up to the door, and just literally scoot. After that a stout, pudyeny man, with panama hat and an awful smelling cigar stump, plainly stamped insurance; he just bolted in. Then by and by Judge Wynne, of Eastlake, who was here on the democratic executive committee, with his long, white hair (although he says he's young), he dodged diplomatically across the street from the court house and sauntered up the legal stairs. Gad! the Judge must have something serious on hand sure. A party tried the door, genteelly, by knocking. No reply. All silent. To wind up this mysterious procession, what appeared to be an Alabama darkey crossed with a Winnepesauka Indian, marched stoically, as Indians do, right up the stairs. And he got in. There I stood, but no admission for me. Now, I thought I was as respectable as any full-blooded Indian, or African, or Afro-Indo. I got curious. What the devil was it, or what was going on in there? Was it an opium joint? No. I scouted the idea, and just waited right there. About 11 o'clock the great big Highland fling fellow, and the fat one, and the lean one, and the Pottawattomie Indian came down, and all I heard was, "I'll bet you, Judge Wynne gets there. He'll never give up till the finish. It is a great pity Chambliss was not in town. The result would have been grand, wouldn't it? But, my Lord, what will happen when we meet again with Chambliss? MacKay will have to leave town.' That's all I heard, and they passed on. Now, what in the name of Paradise is this mystery? B. H.
