THE SALVATIONISTS

Ballington Booth, of the Salvation Army, with several of his staff, were in Jacksonville last week and detailed some of their plans in regard to establishing a Salvation colony on the east coast, probably near Miami, where Mr. Flagler offered them a large tract of land, with which they were pleased.

They propose to send 250 persons to the colony in time. They have been experimenting with colonies in Ohio, Colorado and California with success. These colonists are supplied with, say $500 with which to start themselves, which they pay back at the rate of $1 a week with interest. In this way they are enabled to make persons out of employment self sustaining and in time independent.

The army is doing a grand, noble work. Last year its hotels fed 2,500,000 and they were more than self sustaining. The "War Cry," the organ of the Salvation Army, has 1,000,000 subscribers.

Governor Jennings Fully Explains His Actions On the Convict Question

Tallahassee, Fla., April 17.—Governor Jennings Tuesday communicated to both houses of the legislature a detailed statement of all actions taken by the board of commissions of state institutions during the present year. He shows that bids were received early in February, and tentative contracts were made with certain bidders to lease 300 convicts at $100 per capita per annum. Before any contract was made the board learned that more could be secured for convicts, and advertised for new bids. Fourteen bids have been received in response, and are now in the hands of the board unopened.

After receipt of this communication, the senate postponed action until Thursday on Senator Kirk's resolution, introduced yesterday, providing for a joint committee to investigate the acts of the governor and board in these premises. Both houses made great progress today in clearing the docket, so ample time can soon be devoted to consideration of the urgent questions of convict reform and judiciary reorganization.

The House

A resolution was introduced, which sought to explain the reason for the house's refusal to adopt the Wolfe resolution on Saturday. The explanation was to the effect that the house desired to leave the matter of leasing the convicts entirely to the wisdom and honesty of the board of state institutions.

The resolution, which read strikingly like an apology, was vigorously opposed by Watson, Zewadski and others. The resolution went over until tomorrow.

No Compulsory Vaccination

The house administered a somewhat severe rebuff to State Health Officer Porter at today's session. Dr. Porter, early in the session, introduced a bill requiring compulsory vaccination in all the counties of the state. It was the doctor's pet measure. On motion, the house indefinitely postponed the bill. It is not believed that it will see the light again.

Abandoning the Unfortunate

Considerable debate was precipitated in the senate today over the Adams bill, making incurable insanity good and sufficient grounds for divorce, on the part of either husband or wife. The bill provides that after the wife has been confined in a lunatic asylum for a period of not less than four years, and has been pronounced incurably insane by a board of competent physicians, that divorce shall be granted immediately upon the application of the husband; or vice versa. The measure was passed by a vote of 24 to 8.

MR. McGAHAGIN'S STATEMENT

His Business is Not in Any Way Entangled in the Postoffice Drug-store Failure

W. E. McGahagin, Jr., the groceryman, feels much put out over the action of Mrs. Garrett, widow of the late Charles J. Garrett, of the firm of Garrett & Gerig, in the matter of directing the injunction against J. J. Gerig and himself, and the statement which she makes, to the effect that Mr. Gerig was interested in the business, and advanced the money on which Mr. McGahagin was operating. Mr. McGahagin has paid no attention to the injunction, refuses to consider it, will give no bond, and will allow no supervision of his affairs or interference with them on the part of Mrs. Garrett's lawyer, or the receiver for the late business of Garrett & Gerig. Mr. McGahagin states most emphatically that Mr. Gerig has not now and never had a dollar in his business; that there is no such firm as W. E. McGahagin & Co., the business being in his own name, W. E. McGahagin, Jr.; that he is solvent, has paid every bill that has been presented to him, and expects to continue to do so.

When the proper time comes, he will make a due and proper answer to the court on the bill of injunction, and satisfy the court and all others concerned that Mr. Gerig has no interest in his business, and therefore neither Mrs. Garrett nor any creditors of Mr. Gerig's have any right to interfere with him.

CAUGHT A DREADFUL COLD

Marion Kooke, manager for T. M. Thompson, a large importer of fine millinery at 1658 Milwaukee avenue, Chicago, says: "During the late severe weather I caught a dreadful cold, which kept me awake at night and made me unfit to attend my work during theday. One of my milliners was taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time, which seemed to relieve her so quickly that I bought some for myself. It acted like magic and I began to improve at once. I am now entirely well and feel very pleased to acknowledge its merits." For sale by the Anti-Monopoly Drugstore.
