SCHOOL OPENING

Our schools will open next Monday, Sept. 27th. It is an important event to the youths of this city and their parents. The long vacation has drawn to a close. All of the children have had a good vacation and we trust are refreshed and strengthened for another school term. They should be eager to sling their school books and satchels across their shoulders and smilingly turn their steps toward the school buildings. They should be anxious to begin the work of acquiring knowledge that will be inestimable in value to them in the years to come. If the children have not that desire that should possess them, it is the duty of parents to so persuade and urge them that it will leave an impress for modifying their feelings and through such loving and kindly effort as to make them enthusiasts in their efforts to be on hand at the opening day. This is all important. Parents should see that all preparation is made to have their children there. It should be the pleasure and delight of parents to be ready to go with their children to the opening of the school term. This is a duty they should not neglect. There should be a willingness and cheerfulness on the part of the parents to be with their children on the opening day of school that should count for success to those children in their studies for the term. The enthusiasm on the part of the parents and children should be of a character to impress the principal and his assistants and so enthuse them that is bound to make the school term in Ocala for 1909-1910 the best yet enacted in Ocala. There should be elasticity and swing to this gathering, that is bound to portend great and good progress in every department of our schools. So let everybody be on hand and make the opening of our schools Monday morning memorable.

About all of Oak is in town today either as witnesses or specteators in the trial of the case of Jno Loose vs. Ed Priest, Eugene Harvey, J. S. Horn and Floyd Heaney, for asstult. It seems that on the 15th of September, these boys with others were working in the McDowell crate mill. When it came to knocking off time, the defendants in a spirit of boyish devilment, picked up Mr. Loose and jokingly carried him to a nearby reservoir and gave him a ducking. The defendants claim they used no violence in the act and the proceedings were in that spirit that can readily be imagined by a set of released youths bent on a bushel of fun. On the contrary, Mr. Loose testifies that the boys handled him roughly and in the act sprained and severely bruised his back and Dr. John M. Thompson testified to treating Mr. Loose for a sore back caused by rough usage. The interest in the case was so great that it simply depopulated the crate factory and it had to be shut down. Major L. T. Izlar acted for the complainant and R. B. Bullock for the defense. The jury consisted of S. S. Savage, Jr., W. P. Edwards, D. A. Miller and Messrs. Williams, Perkins and Ausley. Judge Bell held the scales of justice.

Henry L. Brooks, a genial boniface from Inverness, was a caller in town yesterday and was greatly cheered up at the bright prospects that are in store for the shire town of Citrus. He said two additional railroads are a dead certainty for Inverness and in time it would be a railroad center. That while the price of phosphates are not advancing, he thinks he sees prospects of a revival of the mining of the same and that the much talked about Alta phosphate mine, which John W. Pearson managed for years and for which deposits he built the finest electrical power plant of its nature in the state, has been bought by the Southern Phosphate Development Co., and recent prospections showed one of the richest deposits in Citrus county.

Mr. B. F. Boyd, a prosperous real estate man of Orlando, was in town today. He is here to see his brother at Reddick and renew old acquaintances. Mr. Boyd is one of the pioneer settlers of Marion and took an active part in the discovery of phosphates in Marion and adjacent counties and had the happy faculty of unloading his land when the market was on a boom. Mr. Boyd recalled some pleasant reminiscences of phosphate days with Dr. Boozer and Capt. Pyles.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gillis are home from their summer trip to New York, where they paid their children a delightful visit. Mr. Gillis said it was surprising to note the changes in that city that are continually taking place and it marvelous growth.

J. M. Liddell, merchant and postmaster at Santos, was here today with a load of cotton and eggs. George Giles & Co. took the cotton and the grocers the eggs.

The Kiblers and Mr. Grumblee with the Buttgenbach people, motored into Ocala today.

Hy Wall of Boardman and Arthur Reggin and Sam Senfred of Fairfield, were arrested by Deputy Sheriff W. E. Hutson for selling liquor without a license. They will have a hearing in a few days before Judge Bell.

The Star of last week spoke of the presence in town of A. B. Halsell and bride, shopping. Mr. Halsell, who was in town today, desired a correction, saying if the impression was allowed to prevail it would everlastingly ruin his matrimonial prospects. It was a mistake and the Star is ready on Mr. Halsell's affidavit to say he is heart whole and fancy free and is still looking for a sweet souled affinity of the orthodox kind.

A. W. Gates, a former resident of Ocala, but now of Crystal River, was in town today and with his wife and son, Albert Gates, who are following fishing in the waters of Crystal River, reported a fair catch at good prices. G. D. Gallipeau of Shady, will accompany the Gates family home today and take a hand in landing the finny tribe.

G. A. Sheehy, of Tampa and grand master of the colored Odd Fellows of Florida, was in town today and paid the Star office an appreciated business call. He said the order was making commendable progress in the state.

ONLY A MATTER OF HOURS

The Door of Death has Swung Wide for Governor Johnson

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 21.—William J. Mayo has just returned from the sick room and says he thinks the governor can live about an hour. The governor said to those in the sick room:

"Time drags on. I am so uncomfortable." Then he became silent again.

OCTOBER AMERICAN MAGAZINE

The October number is the first issue of the larger and amplified American Magazine, containing additional pictures, new departments and forty pages extra of reading matter.

A remarkable new series of articles begins in this issue, by John Kenneth Turner, entitled, "Barbarous Mexico." Few people in the world realize that actual slavery is at present not only being carried on in Mexico, but is tacitly protected and encouraged by the government. Mr. Turner's articles are bound to make a profound impression, as he has been an eye-witness of the things about which he writes.

Four important and remarkable articles make this magazine touch the high-water mark of literary excellence: "The Confidences of a Psychical Researcher," by William James, professor of philosophy at Harvard College and beyond question the greatest living authority on physical phenomena; "Stories of Football Strategy," by "Bill" Reid, the famous Harvard football coach; "The Soul of John Brown," by Eleanor Atkinson, a remarkable document of immense historical value; and "The Dinistegration of the Jews," by Ray Stannard Baker, an article full of startling revelations to Jews and Gentiles alike.

Other particularly attractive features are "Mr. Dooley" on "The Magazines" and two new departments in the magazine, one devoted to pictures and short accounts of "Interesting People," the other to the news of the dramatic season, new plays and photographs of actors and actresses who will appear in them.

Fiction of a distinctly high grade character is contributed by Robert Barr, Susan Glaspell, Zona Gale, Inez Haynes Gillmore, and Samuel Hopkins Adams, who writes a powerful allegorical story of three men who lived in "Stellopolis."

"The Interpreter's House" and "The Pilgrim's Scrip" contain an unusual amount of interesting reading matter.

GULF SHORES SWEPT BY EQUINOCTIAL STORM

Atlanta, Sept. 21.—With all communication with New Orleans and the lower Mississippi cut off by the Gulf coast hurricane and with all efforts to reach the city futile, much concern is felt for the Crescent City.

The storm, which had its origin below Cuba and Porto Rico, reached New Orleans and the Gulf coast yesterday. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon it struck New Orleans. At 4 o'clock it was blowing nearly fifty miles an hour. At 5 o'clock buildings were suffering and reports from Plaquemine parish below the city and on the Gulf coast indicated that the inhabitants had been driven from their homes and were in danger of their lives.

Gradually communication with the city became more difficult and wire after wire was reported down. The storm was still raging and growing in intensity. Finally at 8:40 the last wire went out and the city was isolated from the world.

It is known, however, that the storm at 3 o'clock had sent the waters of the Mississippi three feet above the usual stage. It is known also, that New Orleans is five feet below the sea level and that its only protection against a flood is its levees and dykes.

A BADLY SOILED RAG

South Atlantic League Pennant for 1909 Awarded to Chattanooga

Jacksonville, Sept. 21.—Besmirched by charges and counter-charges, the South Atlantic League pennant has been awarded to Chattanooga, while Augusta is still fighting the question before the National Association of Minor League Clubs. Chattanooga won from Augusta Saturday by a score of 2 to 1, with Demaree pitching and Augusta claims that every game won by the Lookouts was one in which a specially secured pitcher worked.

So the Sally League season ends in a "fuss" in keeping with the riotous year which has placed the once classy circuit in bad repute with baseball fans and higher powers alike.

FROM UNCLE PETER

Editor Star: As you granted my request in publishing my first letter, I ask to continue my letters. I arrived in Batesburg July 24th and met my youngest sister, whom I had not seen in almost 32 years, and what a glad time it was to us. It does a person good to meet loved ones on earth, but what must it be to meet loved ones in heaven.

Batesburg is a flourishing town with some 20 or 25 stores, two banks, two churches, Baptist and Methodist; has a cotton factory. Near the town is the beautiful Sumerland Inn, where a good many northern visitors stop and spend part of the winter. I saw some good corn and cotton growing around Batesburg. Had the pleasure of talking to the Sunday school and gave this advice to the Batesburg boys, which is good for all boys: Begin an active life with noble purposes. Always stand firm in favor of truth. Ask your father and mother what is best for you to do. Have respect for every good thing; despise no one on account of poverty. Strive to be of held to your parents. If they are rich they need your pity; if they are poor, they need your help. Resolve that you will never speak disrespectfully of girls, and always leaves the one who speaks evil of girls. Teach all with whom you associate that you will not do a mean thing. And when you have a home of your own always give your kind parents a warm welcome to your home. Always faithfully discharge every duty and you will have nothing to fear either in this world or in the world to come.

In my next I wish to write of Trenton and what I saw and learned there and what will be of interest to farmers. Uncle Peter.

IN MEMORIAM

Misses Lena and Sallie Fort, both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fort, passed away from this life in one short week of each other, Miss Lena dying August 31st and Miss Sallie following Sept. 7th. These two loving sisters are sleeping side by side in God's moonlight acre, awaiting the resurrection morning. We believe in the truth of these lines. It cannot be that our life is a bubble cast up by the ocean of eternity, to float a moment upon its waves, and then sink into nothingness. We were born for a higher destiny than earth.

Therefore, be it resolved, by the Moss Bluff Sunday school, that in the death of these two young ladies we have lost two of our brightest members, whose memory we shall ever cherish. They were punctual in attendance and showed great interest in the study of God's word, always ready to lend a helping hand.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be given to the bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fort, as an expression of our deepest sympathy in their loss, one be recorded in the Sunday school register and a third be published in the Ocala Star.

The eye that shuts in a dying hour,
Will open the next in bliss
The welcome will sound in the heavenly world,
Ere the farewell is hushed in this.
We pass from the clasp of mourning friends
To the arms of loved and lost,
And those smiling faces will greet us there
Which on earth we valued most.

Mrs. W. W. Jackson,
Mrs. J. S. Martin,
Miss Sallie Morrison, Com.

STEADY PROGRESS BEING MADE

Railway Trains Will be Running Into Key West by Christmas

From a reliable source we are assured that the work train of the railroad will reach Key West within the next sixty days. The track is now being laid across to Cudjoes and as the roadbed from there to Key West is practically complete it is figured by the engineers that the track can be laid into Key West within sixty days. The track over which the work train will come will not be laid for temporary purposes. All of the rail put down thus far is so placed that it can be used for the heaviest passenger train and that laid into Key West will be for permanent use.—Key West Citizen.
