About Sewing Machines

Why Not Buy The Best?

There is no economy in buying machines that are cheap in mechanism and high in price, that you will want to trade off in a short time.

A "SINGER" is always the pride of its owner. The Singer Sewing Machine is recognized all over the world as the model of sewing machine perfection, and all other makes are judged by the Singer standard. That is why every woman is proud to own a Singer, sold only by the Singer Sewing Machine Co., dealing directly from maker to user. They are now being sold at lower prices.

MARTIN & CARN

SOME BELATED FAIR NOTES

Among the most perfect specimens of handiwork at the fair was the plumb bob made by Pratt Morris and shown among the exhibits of the Ocala Gas Engine Works. As a specimen of what a skilled hand and eye could do with metal, it had no equal.

* * *

Many people stopped at the Marion Hardware Co's. booth to watch the I. H. C. engine, which without anyone to care for it ran hour after hour as steady as a clock.

* * *

Those big blocks of ice with fruits and flowers and one with a big fish frozen into their centers, from Meffert & Taylor's factory, took the eye of everyone who passed.

* * *

The good-looking lady in the Globe's booth looked so natural that it took a close inspection to make sure she wasn't alive. Several shortsighted men took off their hats to her, and one lonesome widower with three drinks under his vest came very near hugging her.

* * *

Handsome and accommodating Will Dunn at Masters' superb exhibit, cheered many of his old friends and made new ones for himself and his firm by serving cups of delicious coffee to those who needed them. Will makes good anywhere you put him.

* * *

If everybody hadn't been honest, the Teapot's display would have been stolen. There was no one in charge of it and the goods looked very tempting.

* * *

The Ocala Furniture company had a regular parlor, and many folks found it an elegant resting place.

* * *

Probably the favorite corner was where the musical Lansford and his talented assistant, Miss Myrtle Whitfield, dispensed melody to all who would stop to hear. The auto piano was the favorite. Mr. Lansford sold five superb instruments during the fair, and will doubtless receive orders for many more.

* * *

John Heintz's flowers and ferns were a fitting accompaniment to Lansford's music. He had a superb display.

* * *

C. H. Dame, while strolling around, said every other man was a Woodman, or should be.

* * *

Mr. Isaac Stevens was placidly happy among the flowers and fruit. He took special delight in showing the immense cluster of grapefruit from Micanopy. One could not help thinking, if all Florida fruit was put up as carefully as Crosby and Wartmann's, what a price it would bring.

* * *

J. L. Smoak's exhibit of deer hides and horns was a happy combination of the handiwork of the sportsman and artisan. Jim is a lineal descendant of both Vulvan and Nimrod.

* * *

The Woman's Department was like a salon in Varsailles. Men didn't need to see the sign to take off their hats.

* * *

The colored department was surprisingly good. The exhibits were first-class, and were kept in perfect order and neatness. The most important exhibit was that made by Fessenden Academy. The display was an object lesson to the colored people—an encouragement to the workers and a spur to the ambition of the careless.
