FRIDAY'S PICNIC

The union Sunday school picnic is now only a memory and Weir Park a "blister," as the sunburnt faces, necks and arms of hundreds of young folks and some of the older ones who plunged into the sparkling and cooling waters of lovely Lake Weir and did the aquatic act can testify.

The train consisted of eight coaches and a baggage car, used for refreshments, over which C. H. Dame, of velvet cream fame, presided. There were no vacant seats. Conductor Carter pulled the bell cord and Engineer Hogan manipulated the throttle, while General Train Master A. L. Glass assisted the conductor to gather the tickets—530—and was satisfied a number were overlooked.

Everything went as merrily as a marriage bell, not a break or a skip worth mentioning, except that Weir Park was substituted for Eastlake, which to many was a sore disappointment, as the latter was the more desirable spot.

The sports of the day were bathing, swimming, rowing, sailing and a trip on Captain Fosnot's steamer Della, with a barge attached. This latter institution, though late in arriving, was the feature of the day. Three trips were made, and were pleasant and enjoyable. The waters looked so cool and inviting, the air so pure and refreshing and the landscape so inspiring, with its picturesque scenery of groves, dwellings, landings and woodlands, that those who "swung the circle" could easily forget the torrid rays of the sun on the beach and the glowing rays of the king of day on the dazzling sands. But everybody took in the situation and bore with it.

Rev. W. C. Lindsay did all mortal could do to fulfill the "glowing flyers." It is true the "band was mute," the piscatorial feast was wanting, etc., but the good doctor couldn't help it, and to prevent serious inroads into the Eastlake orange groves he changed the location to Weir Park.

The committee just fell short of one thing, and that was to have the steamer Della and the barge on hand early in the day. But then that must not count when all else was so pleasing to the crowd. They went to have a good time and they surely had it.

Notes

Robert L. Martin's peach crop, which he considerately and kindly invited the excursionists to assault, had been assaulted and overcome ere the peach-hungry excursionists could lay eyes on the luscious fruit, but he did throw open his hotel, and many availed themselves of its comforts.

Anthony C. Finzel, the whole-souled English gentleman of South Lake Weir, (Allendale) with a thoughtfulness born to a noble hearted young man, brought a load of watermelons to Eastlake to distribute to his friends, only to find they were not there, and his poor beast was too exhausted to continue with the load. Mr. Finzel footed it to Weir Park and for the rest of the day let his benign smile shed sunshine into the lives of his host of Ocala friends.

The fish story is as follows: On first blush Dr. Lindsay was pronounced the premium piscatorial artist of the excursion season. (Poor doctor) Later it was said the fishermen spread the report that it was an Ocala trick to get them to sell the fish to the excursionists and then be summoned before County Judge Bullock and be fined for seining in the lake—all fudge, as picnickers, under the law, are permitted to have all the fish they can catch and eat, no matter in what manner caught. The real cause was that the Ocala fish dealer came down and threatened the fishermen if they supplied the excursionists with fish he would boycot them and refuse to take their catch. This did the work, and the fish-hungry still famish. Dr. Lindsay is not to blame. It was a matter beyond his control. He made the arrangements in good faith, and the fish were caught and put in the wires, and the Ocala "boycotter" did the rest, and now he ought to be boycotted.

Young Mr. Ayer, of onion producing fame, on the island, was in evidence with a great big basket of peaches, and put his sailboat to the service of the excursionists.

Mr. Cason of Weir Park made himself useful in transferring the bathing tents from the baggage car to the beach and back again.

Miss Annie DeLong of Candler graced the occasion with her bright smile and winning ways.

Chief Justice and Postmaster General Wynne of Eastlake condescended to come down to the wharf while the Della was "wooding up," and unbend for a smile when he was proferred a few of Peyser's unsurpassed El Tropicos.

Little Pearl Fosnot was the "Rebecca at the Well" on the steamer, she drawing water from the lake and supplying the thirsty passengers. She won all hearts by her disinterested and lovely childlike disposition to serve.

D. S. Woodrow, who is a splendid swimmer, seemed happiest when he could part the sparkling waters of the lake with his sturdy strokes, and with several "kids" mounted on his shoulders.

Many inquiries were made for Rector H. W. Little, who it was hoped would return in time from White Springs to pull off the miniature yacht race and add his genial presence to the throng.

If you want to know who wasn't on the excursion, ask your neighbor.

It was a great day and the people of Ocala are none the worse for their outing.

John Starke, the Oklawaha vineyardist, supplied the excursionists with peaches and melons.

AN HONOR WORTHILY BESTOWED

In honoring Dr. Henry Robinson with the presidency of the State Bankers' Assaciation at Atlantic Beach this week, the association bestowed an honor upon one of the state's foremost financiers and most public spirited. Dr. Henry Robinson is president of the Commercial banks of Jacksonville, Ocala and Lake City. His judgment is keen and far seeing and his opinion is sought and depended upon by the moneyed men of the state.

H. D. Allison, representing the Levon Commission Company of Cincinnati, is in the city looking after cantaloupes and melons. He reports quotations for the former at $2.25 to $2.50 and the latter at $60 to $75, but with prospects of a better market as the weather is growing warmer. His house sold a carload of melons on the 15th for $190.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE AGONY IS OVER

The Executive Committee Has Ratified the Returns of the Last Primary

BROWARD'S MAJORITY 714 VOTES

(Tampa Tribune)

Jacksonville, June 18.—The failure of the Robert W. Davis managers to file their notices of contest with the executive committees of the various counties in which they alleged fraud threw their candidate entirely "out of court" when the state executive committee met today to declare the resuts of the second primary of June 7.

The committee was present in full, either in person or by proxy. The meeting was called to order by State Chairman Arthur T. Williams of Fernandina. The campaign committee was instructed to tabulate the returns from the various counties and arrive at the total vote for each candidate.

Pending this work, the committee took a recess. Upon assembling again, a formal contest was filed by Robert W. Davis of the vote in Taylor, Lafayette, Holmes, Santa Rosa and Jackson counties.

A Fatal Defect

The canvassing committee then reported its resolution, based on the tabulation of the returns, declaring Taliaferro the nominee for senator by 2561 majority, Broward the nominee for governor by 714 majority and Crawford the nominee for secretary of state by 5419 majority.

Alfred St. Clair Abrams, the champion of Col. Davis, moved that the committee take up the contests filed by Col. Davis and proceed to an examination of the returns from the counties named.

Chairman Williams ruled that Mr. Abrams and the Davis contest were out of order on the ground that Col. Davis had not filed notice of contest with the executive committees in the counties named, as required by law.

This was a fatal defect and the Davis advocates were ruled out of order.

The fight was a brief one, and the committee then adopted the resolutions declaring the results in the three elections as given above.

There was no excitement in the meeting, the Davis men accepting their defeat philosophically. Tom Wier and Jack Knight of Tampa took a leading part in the celebration of the Broward victory which followed.
