STEUNENBERG HAD ORCHARD'S ENMITY

Defense Continues to Show It Was Long Lived in Slayer's Memory.

Judge Allows a Considerable Latitude to Defense in Making Its Case.

LINE OF DEFENSE IS THAT IN ADDITION TO BEING A MAN OF VAST AND VARIED DEEDS OF INFAMY, ORCHARD HAD A PERSONAL MOTIVE AND WAS WITHOUT NECESSITY OF ANY ALIEN STIMULATION TO THE KILLING OF STEUNENBERG.

By Associated Press.

Boise, Idaho, June 26.—Continuing the work of breaking down the story told by Harry Orchard on the stand when he laid the foundation for the prosecution of W. D. Haywood, the defense today brought more witnesses to contradict statements made by Orchard.

So far, these witnesses have been as to the occurrences at Cripple Creek, Col., in 1903 and 1904, in the Couer d'Alene section of Idaho, where, Orchard says, he committed his first great crime by touching off one of the fuses that blew up the Concentrator at Warner in 1899, resulting in the death of two men.

Not There.

The defense is trying to prove that Orchard was not in fact at Warner on the day of the explosion. The defense has been allowed to ask questions bringing out the story of the disturbances at Cripple Creek during the period of the great strike of miners there. The state has objected to opening up this wide field, but the defense persisted that it had the right to go deeply into this matter of labor troubles in order that it may show what was done by the military and the provocation that was given to the striking miners.

Standing Grudge.

The foundation for proof of conspiracy on the part of the mine owners to exterminate the Federation, and thus eliminate an element that interfered with their working of the mines under conditions such as the mine owners should dictate, makes a large part of the fabric the defense has built up so far, but Orchard is never lost sight of, and witness after witness is called to show that Orchard, through all the years that intervened between his flight from Idaho, in 1899, and his return to this state in 1905, carried with him continually and expressed a private grudge against Steunenberg. If a sufficient weight of evidence can be brought to show that the assassination of the former governor was merely the culmination of one man's grudge, and not the part of a conspiracy, counsel for the defense say that the state's case must fall to the ground. Orchard will stand convicted out of his own mouth of this one murder, and if a conspiracy on the part of the detectives employed by the mine owners to destroy property or cause riot in order to continue a state of martial law can be shown, it is the opinion of counsel that the jury will abandon the conspiracy idea altogether, and that their client will go free.

State Tactics.

While the defense is trying to break down Orchard's story by sheer weight of testimony, the state is pushing each witness as far as possible to show that they are subject to impeachment later. The large number of witnesses to be examined by the defense gives promise of a large period of rebuttal testimony.

Orchard has been pinned down to a denial of a number of conversations and already the work of impeachment is well under way. Half a dozen witnesses have flatly contradicted portions of Orchard's story or insisted that the conversations he denies did, in fact, take place. Some of these witnesses were identified by Orchard in open court and to their faces he denied that he had ever said that he desired to kill Steunenberg because of the governor's interfernce in his money making in the Couer d'Alene.

Wide Latitude.

Today the defense continued along practically the same lines it followed yesterday. Judge Wood is allowing the defense the widest latitude. Objection after objection by the state's attorneys is overruled on a promise by the defense that they will connect the various matters later.

This is following the same course adopted by the court when the state had its innings.

Haywood, since the opening of the side for the defense, has been particularly alert. He sits among his counsel now and confers continuously. He watches each witness carefully and takes copious notes as the evidence is given. It is quite evident, too, that counsel for the defense pay much attention to the suggestions made by Haywood, who, it is stated by members of his counsel, will take up the study of law should he be acquitted. They say that he shows remarkable legal acumen and has a very considerable knowledge of the law.

HOLMES IN OWN BEHALF

He Denies in Toto that He Did any of the Wrong That is Alleged.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 26.—Testifying in his own behalf in the cotton leak case today, Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., said he never had advance information concerning reports from the field, had neither given out information previous to its publication nor agreed to do so, and had never attempted to signal Haas or any one else concerning the crop report. He said the crop reports from the field were never opened until the day the official statement was promulgated and that newspaper reports and previous estimates influenced the statisticians in agreeing upon final reports.

MONEY FOR A DIVIDEND

Harriman Loans It to the Rock Island Crowd to Avert Criticism.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, June 26.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says that Edward H. Harriman has adopted a new attitude toward the Chicago and Alton railroad, different from the predatory policy which members of the interstate commerce commission alleged he observed toward that property.

Authoritative information has reached here to the effect that in order to guarantee a dividend recently on Chicago and Alton, Harriman made a loan of $1,000,000 to that line, to be used for improvements.

At the last meeting of the parties to the agreement in New York, it was announced by representatives of the Rock Island that the surplus for the year aggregated $1,400,000, but as the road needed improvements it would waive the dividend and use the money for additional equipment, repairs, etc. Harriman instantly objected, insisting that the dividend should be issued. To practical financiers who listened to him, it was evident it was against the interests of the president of the Union Pacific to permit the passing of the dividend, because of the criticism that would follow.

However, the representatives of the Rock Island were in control and Harriman, after thinking a few moments, proposed to make a personal loan of $1,000,000 at 5 per cent, to be paid in 1915, if the board would declare dividends. The proposition was accepted.

BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED

Many Will Visit Pensacola To-Morrow for the O. R. C. Picnic.

SPECIAL TRAINS WILL BE RUN ON SOME DIVISIONS—LAMAR AND KEHOE WILL BE THE SPEAKERS OF THE DAY.

A big crowd is expected in Pensacola tomorrow for the annual picnic and celebration of Alfred Beck division, Order of Railway Conductors, which for a number of years has annually furnished amusement and pleasure for hundreds at Magnolia Bluff. The conductors have arranged with the management of the L. & N. to run special trains over some divisions, and on others reduced rates will be given, thus providing an opportunity for all to visit Pensacola on this occasion.

One of the principal events connected with the picnic will be the political speaking by Congressman W. B. Lamar and Hon. J. Walter Kehoe, both candidates for congress from this district. Congressman Lamar is now in the city and Mr. Kehoe will probably reach here tonight.

An interesting program has been prepared by the conductors. It includes many sports and voting contests, and arrangements have been made for special trains to leave the union depot for the picnic grounds at frequent intervals. As many of the stores and places of business will be closed there is no doubt but that an immense crowd will visit the bluff on this occasion.

By Associated Press.

Macon, Ga., June 26.—The directors of the Central of Georgia railroad today elected Marsden J. Perry, of Rhode Island; W. F. Sheehan and Oakleigh Thorn, of New York, members and President Hanson, confirmed the announcement of the sale of the capital stock of the road to Perry and Thorne. He said the sale will cause no change in the policies or officials of the company.

RECTIFYING THE BOOKS IN A CELL

By Associated Press.

New York, June 27.—Gustav A. Girard, former cashier for G. M. Minnesaimer & Co., bankers and brokers, will from a cell in the Tombs act as an accountant for the firm until next November.

Girard, in June, 1904, disappeared with bonds valued at $5,000. He has now pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny. Girard, while acting as cashier, purposely bungled the books of the company so that they are practically meaningless, and he was remanded to the Tombs by Judge Foster until November to assist in straightening out the books and recovering a large amount of assets which were lost through his work.

By Associated Press.

SUPPOSEDLY STOLEN STUFF

Goods Found and Negro in Custody, But Fact of Theft Unproved.

ASSUMPTION THAT THE GOODS WERE STOLEN, AND THAT THE VICTIM WAS A STEAMSHIP—POLICE LOOKING FOR SOMEONE WHO WILL CLAIM THE GOODS IN ORDER TO MAKE SURE OF A CRIME.

It appears that not from the L and N. alone have recent thefts of brass nozzles and hose couplings occurred recently in Pensacola, for yesterday the police found several nozzles and a number of hose couplings in the junk shop of Sam Sher on Tarragona street. Jean Jolly, a negro, has been arrested and identified by the junk dealer as the man who sold the property to him, but so far the police have been unable to locate the person or persons from whom the nozzles and couplings were stolen.

Probably a Steamship.

When the property was first found, it was thought that it was a portion of that stolen from the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, but when employes of that company were called upon to identify it they stated that the make was different from the paraphernalia of the company, the nozzles and couplings being smaller. It is therefore assumed that they were stolen from some steamship or tugboat. Vessels are equipped with hose of about the size of the couplings found yesterday, and it is the belief that some steamship or tugboat lying at a wharf has been robbed and that the master has not yet discovered the theft, or else it would have been reported.

Held By County.

Yesterday A. Malina, the Romana street junk dealer, was turned over to the county authorities from the recorder's court, and is held on the charge of having the stolen L. & N. property in his possession. The police have not yet been able to secure information which would cause the arrest of parties implicated in the theft.

FIRE VISITS EXPOSITION

By Associated Press.

Norfolk, Va., June 26.—One whole block of the Pine Beach section, immediately adjoining the Jamestown expositon general grounds, was swept by fire early to-day, the area burned being between the exposition grounds on the west, extending to the Pine Beach hotel, and from the car track running from the exposition grounds west to the original Pine Beach pier to the water on the north. The big Arcade Hotel, the Berkley Hotel, Outside Inn, Powhattan Hotel, Carolyn Hotel, several other smaller hotels and a large part of the outside warpath were destroyed. The loss may run up to $300,000, partly insured.

ROCKEFELLER AND OTHERS

They are Summoned to Give Testimony Wanted by Government.

By Associated Press.

CITY IS GETTING READY TO TAKE OVER THE WATER PLANT

An Exceptionally Important Council Meeting Held Last Evening.

Paving, Drainage and Harbor Figure Much in Deliberations.

INTRODUCTION OF ORDINANCE LOOKING TO DETAILS THAT WILL BE PART OF SYSTEM WHEN SEWERAGE IS COMPLETED—MANY OTHER MATTERS OF MUCH MOMENT.

Last night's session of the City Council was a busy one, and many matters of an important nature were considered. Among the more important matters were:

The receiving of a message from the mayor, recommending that an ordinance be drawn for the employment of a superintendent of the water works plant which is soon to come into possession of the city, and the referring of the message to a committee, to prepare, an ordinance.

The adoption of a recommendation to appropriate $325 to move a large 10-inch cannon and carriage from Ft. Barrancas and mount it in the Plaza.

Steps to prevent the indiscriminate driving of piling in the habor and to remove the present unsightly wrecks

Introduction of ordinances providing for the manner of making sewer connections; providing for a plumbing inspector; fixing the salary of street superintendent at $1,200 per year, the building inspector at $900 per year and the electrician at $1,200 per year; placing a license tax of $1 and $2 on dogs, and providing that they be muzzled during the months of June, July and August; providing that parties properly robed can bathe in the bay.

Paving Ordinance Passes.

The council passed the ordinance providing for grading, paving and otherwise improving streets of the city.

During the session there was a discussion of the weed cutting and removal ordinance, as it took the power from the Board of Health and transferred it to the Board of Works. Alderman Moyer opposed the transfer of authority on the ground that, as the removal of these weeds related to the health of the city, it should be vested in the Board of Health. The ordinance was passed to its third reading over his protest, his amendment receiving no second.

When the council convened in its semi-monthly meeting, there were present President Goodman presiding, and Aldermen Andrews, Brown, Cahn, Dunham, McHugh, Moyer, Rocheblave, Williams, Wright and Yonge. The lengthy minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Recommendations by Mayor.

The mayor submitted a number of messages to the council, recommending the passage of certain ordinances. One of the most important was that relating to the waterworks plant, which the city is to buy within a short time. He recommended that an ordinance be prepared authorizing the selection of a superintendent and an assistant so that when the transfer is made the city will be in a position to place its own force in charge. Upon motion, the council adopted the recommendation of the mayor that the matter be referred to the water and gas committee and the city attorney.

Another recommendation was that the council select some person to act as recorder during the absence of the recorder. This was filed, to be called up later.

The mayor also recommended that the bathing ordinance be amended, which was adopted, and called attention to the fact that the specifications of the new police headquarters do not call for any doors to cells, and recommended that the matter be referred to the building committee and the mayor for attention. Adopted.

To Mount Large Gun.

Alderman Yonge, for the finance committee, submitted the report of that committee with recommendations, the most important of which was that the sum of $325 be appropriated with which to move the large 10-inch gun and carriage from Fort Barrancas and mount the same in the Plaza. The gun was donated to the city, and the carriage recently purchased. The bonds of Tax Collector Whiting, Comptroller Morgan and Tax Assessor Johnson, had been approved. The committee recommended the employment of a deputy tax collector for a short period, and reduction of the assessments of R. L. Doundtree and E. L. Reese; and also recommended that $5,000 be transferred from the general fund to the street fund. The report was received, and all recommendations adopted.

Harbor and Sanitary.

Chairman Rocheblave, of the harbor and sanitary committee, called attention to the many unsightly old wrecks scattered along the waterfront, the wrecks of vessels in the harbor, the placing of ballast on Palafox wharf without piling to prevent same from rolling into the bay, and

THAW CASE CITED AS THE PRECEDENT

Defense in Loving Case is on Same Lines Followed in the Thaw Trial.

DEFENSE OBJECTS TO EFFORT TO DISCREDIT GIRL'S EVIDENCE HOLDING DEFENDANT TO BE INNOCENT OR GUILTY ACCORDING TO EFFECT ON HIS MIND AT THE TIME OF THE DAUGHTER'S STORY.

By Associated Press.

Houston, Va., June 26.—In the Loving case to-day, Judge Barksdale decided to admit a hypothetical question of the defense, as to the result of Sneed's and Miss Loving's stories on the defendant's mind. Dr. Charles L. Emmons, a Washington specialist, answering the question, said the natural effect of such a story on a father's wind would be to derange it.

Tremens and Shame.

After the examination of three witnesses for the purpose of proving Judge Loving insane at the time of the killing of Theodore Estes, the defense to-day closed its case. The plea of the defense is that the mind of Loving, through delirium tremens from years of excessive drinking, was impaired, and that, when he heard the story of his daughter Elizabeth, that she had been drugged and assaulted, his mind became deranged and he was not responsible for his act in killing Estes. Through this plea of emotional insanity, counsel for the defense hopes to prevent an attempt to impeach the statement of Miss Loving.

After the defense rested is case, the prosecution announced Miss Annie Kidd as the first witness in rebuttal, by whom the state expected to disprove Miss Loving's story. The defense objected, and while a lengthy argument ensued the jury was excused.

Thaw Case Cited.

The defense took the ground that the prosecution had no right to enter into the truth or falsity of Miss Loving's story to her father and cited the Thaw case and the testimony of Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, wherein District Attorney Jerome was not allowed to impeach her story. Attorney Daniel Harmon, for the state replied that Loving could easily have secured all facts at the Kidd home, a block away from his own; that the remaining contents of the flask of whiskey from which the alleged drink of drugged whiskey was given Miss Loving was given a man without ill effect, and finally, claimed that the prosecution has witnesses to disprove every statement of Miss Loving, who yesterday told between sobs a story of her ruin. Judge Barksdale will announce ruling to-morrow.

Steps Taken Which May Make For a Settlement of Telegraphers' Strike

By Associated Press.

San Francisco, Cal., June 26.—President S. J. Small of the Commercial Telegraphers Union, appealed yesterday directly to Clarence Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph Company. Small wrote a letter directed to offset the one written by Mackay to the officials of the Postal Company, in which Mackay commended the operators who refused to go out and condemned the men who struck.

President Mackay and the officials of his company have enjoyed the esteem of the telegraphers, who said yesterday that they hoped that Small's exposition of the case, from the standpoint of the employes, might be productive of peace.

A possible step toward settlement was made yesterday. The striking operators appointed a conference committee of seven members, including President Small, with a view of opening negotiations with the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies. Although the powers of the committee were not announced following its appointment, it is thought the committee will be clothed with authority to arrange a basis for settlement.

The operators declare that the companies are seriously crippled and must ultimately yield to the demands for a 25 per cent increase in wages. It was conceded generally that the strike was likely to continue for several weeks and the possibility of extending the strike was also admitted.

Officials of both companies declared yesterday that they were handling expeditiously all the business that came to them. Both claimed gains in their staff of operators.

Races Tomorrow Ought According to Entries Prove Up To Standard

An interesting program of races has been arranged by the Pensacola Driving Association for its weekly matinee at Kupfrian's park tomorrow afternoon, commencing at 2:30 o'clock and the fact that many visitors will be in the city will cause increased atendance.

In addition to the trotting and pacing races, other events have been arranged for the pleasure of the crowds. Three bicycle races will be pulled off after the four racing events have been finished, and these features will add to the pleasure of the evening.

The Entries.

The entries show that notwithstanding the fact that the two Montgomery horses have returned to that city, that the races will be interesting. In class A, there are entered Jim Crow and Billie A. The latter last year was considered the more promising of the two pacers, but in the races last Friday Jim Crow showed to better advantage and took the honors not only from Billie A. but Billie S. as well. In class B there are Kent McEwen and King Range, who won one of the two races against Katie Wilkes. Kent McEwen led the class C horses last week, and has been moved up to class B by Kee Campbell and will be against King Range tomorrow. This promises to be a most interesting race. Katie Wilkes has gone home to Montgomery.

In Class C there are Flora B., the Bay Mare and The Judge. The first is a new entry and has not been seen on the track here. Class D shows The Kid, Some Time and Bay Charlie, three horses which are likely to make this race interesting.
