Published in the interest of the people of St. Lucie County—"Of the people, for the people by the people."

Don't forget the primary next Tuesday. Every voter in St. Lucie county should go to the polls and cast his vote for his choice for United States Senator. The corporation crowd will see that their men are at the polls. The people will be left if they wait for some one to take them to the voting booths. No use to complain about freight rates and the oppression of monied interests, if you take no interest in seeing that men are elected to represent you faithfully. John N. C. Stockton or Nathan P. Bryan would be of inestimable value to the people of Florida in the United States Senate.

MISS VIOLA HORTON DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Although her serious illness was announced in our last issue, the death of Miss Viola Horton, in Palatka, early last Sunday morning, came as a shock to her many friends in Fort Pierce, and expression of sincere regret were heard on every side.

It was only Wednesday of last week when it was announced that she was a sufferer with pneumonia in the hospital at Palatka, and her sister, Mrs. W. R. Jackson, and brother, Charles M. Horton, were summoned to her bedside. During the few days remaining all the care and love that skilled physicians and anxious relatives could devise and apply for her comfort and assistance were brought into play, but the fiat of Him who rules our incomings and outgoings had been issued, and after a brief struggle, just as the new-born year was being ushered in, the sufferer's spirit took its flight to that home the Christian believes is the fulfillment of the life everlasting.

Miss Clara Viola Horton was born at Orange City, Fla., June 3rd, 1884. She moved with her parents to the Indian River while still a young child, and most of her life was spent at Melbourne. At an early age she united with the Methodist church, and has since been a consistent member of that congregation. Six years ago she entered the hospital at St. Augustine to take a course as trained nurse, graduating at the end of three years; the next two years she spent in special service as nurse, often being in Fort Pierce, on duty, or visiting her relatives when not employed. About a year ago, she, with her elder sister, Mrs. E. H. Williams, removed to Palatka, where they have since had charge of the local hospital, where her death occurred.

The remains were brought to Fort Pierce Sunday evening, and taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. W. R. Jackson, where they remained until the funeral hour Monday afternoon. A most impressive service was conducted by Rev. Harry W. McCombs, in the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. J. C. Jones, of the Methodist church, and a select choir, which rendered several appropriate anthems. After this service all that was mortal of Miss Viola Horton was laid to rest in the Fort Pierce cemetery, where she sleeps alongside the remains of her neice, Miss Sybil Horton, who passed away less than two years ago.

The floral offerings were most beautiful and profuse, and attested the high character of the deceased and the esteem in which she was held by the people of Fort Pierce. Indeed, were it not for the belief that she has been called to a better world, it would seem strange that one who has been of so much service to suffering humanity should be cut down in the prime of life.

The pall bearers were: W. E. VanLandingham, H. C. Conkling, W. H. Jaudon, Fred G. Hill, R. B. Robinson and Perry Saunders.

The deceased is survived by two brothers, Charles M. and Frank R. Horton, and two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Williams and Mrs. W. R. Jackson, and host of friends along the Indian River and the East Coast; to whom THE TRIBUNE extends sincere condolence.

Charles W. Busch and F. Hamor, representing respectively the Robert T. Cochran and Louis Hanselman, commission merchants of New York and Philadelphia, were business visitors here Friday.

Some of the ladies of the community have arranged quite an interesting meeting for Sunday evening on the well known hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The program consists of several solos, quartettes, recitations, reading etc., and we will be glad to see every body out.

N. Woods is unloading a car load of lumber, preparatory to building a house on his lot on the ridge, just south of Mr. Holt's. Mr. Woods has been one of our regular winter visitors for a number of years, and on his trip this year was accompanied by his father and mother and two brothers.

Prof. L. F. Geiger returned Friday evening, after spending the holidays with his parents in Cocoa, and school re-opened Monday morning. Although the school board placed eighteen new seats and desks in our school house this term, the room is again crowded, thirty-nine pupils being enrolled now and steadily adding to the number. The district needs a larger building now—quite a change from but a few years ago when it took close counting to get the lawful number of pupils to keep the school open.
