Hearing at a very late hour in the day that January sixth was Mrs. James Neal's birthday and recalling the old adage, "better late than never," a number of her friends hastily collected their best cakes, concocted a bowl of delicious punch, and proceeded to the lady's home, where they unceremoniously took possession ,drank to her health and prosperity, and enjoyed a pleasant hour.

Held on illomened Friday, the thirteenth day of the month, the lawn social given by the Ladies Aid at the home of Mrs. C. H. Munch was in every way a decided success. The day was perfect, the company most congenial, refreshments of the best, and netted the society the sum of thirteen dollars. A pleasing diversion was the raffling of one of Mrs. Munchs' famous pound cakes, the lucky number being held by Mrs. L. L. Yelvington.

Once more the wilful and capricious little craft, the "Lady May," has changed owners, F. E. Wilson selling to the Rev. Loudermilk on his last visit to this place. As all the funds collected by this society are for the Bishops missionary fund and used elsewhere, it was decided to organize a Guild for the purpose of aiding the church in every way possible. All the ladies present became members and Mrs. L. L. Yelvington was elected president and Miss Mattie Coon, secretary and treasurer. A most hearty invitation is extended all the ladies interested to join, and with united effort to make the church a spiritual and social factor in our lives.

The church building is so charming and picturesque and its pastor, Rev. Lacy, so energetic and willing and such an able teacher that with the bettering of the road it is hoped more will take advantage of the semi-monthly service and make an extra effort to attend.

At the same time it was agreed that a dance should be given at the Mid-River Country Club as the initial event of the season and as it was later found that Tuesday night, January 17th, was the most promising time for it, because of the delightful weather and the bright nights accordingly preparations were made and invitations sent out.

A gay and happy party gathered at the club their number and enjoyment very much advanced by the presence of J. K. Williams and a number of his Fort Pierce friends. Another party of Waltonians were also in attendance and with the numerous residents of the River colony made up a pleasant company for an enjoyable evening.

Of course dancing was the most popular amusement, but quite a few availed themselves of the bowling alleys and pool tables between times.

The music was furnished by Mr. R. Gunst, who is only lately from Denmark.

Refreshments were served and when it came time to bid adieu all agreed that they had enjoyed an extremely pleasant evening and expressed a wish that it might be repeated in the near future.

The money secured will be used to swell the fund for the new organ lately installed in the church. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. R. T. Garrison, Wednesday, January 25th.

Fort Pierce Music Institution.

Mr. Roff Gunst, the young Danish musician, who has lately come into the community, has decided to enter the profession of music teacher. To this end, Mr. Gunst and Mrs. McCombs have combined their interests and have instituted a school of music, which they will for convenience call the Fort Pierce School of Music, the methods of instruction will be used which have made Leschetizky, the Polish artist so famous as a teacher of music. Too much stress cannot be laid upon the importance of a good foundation for the musical education of the child, or for the artistic development of the advanced scholar. It is the earnest effort of this school to furnish this foundation. The home of Mrs. McCombs will, for the present, be the headquarters of the new institution. Mr. Gunst will take a class in Fort Pierce, but his chief field will be in outlying points—such as Jensen, White City and Viking, at which places he can spend one day or more, in the week, as the work demands. The terms in the institute are uniform, $10 for terms of twenty lessons. All grades of pupils will be received. Vocal instructions are included in the school and piano instruction both technical and theoritical. A class in harmony can be started at any time, special rates of $1 per month being offered for a class not less than six pupils. Arrangements can be made for study with either teacher by applying to Mrs. McCombs, corner Palmetto and Magnola avenues, telephone 6-20.
