BEST OF THE BLOTTER
JAY MEISEL

Some criminal cases are unusual, humorous or just outright odd.

And there's no shortage of them on the Treasure Coast.

This column will highlight cases that often leave observers shaking their heads.

No body odor

One certainly must applaud a Fort Pierce man for doing what he can to avoid inflicting body odor on others.

The only problem is he committed a crime in doing so.

A police report said the man walked out of a drug store with several bottles of deodorant, but didn't pay for the items.

The report said he stole several different brands. Perhaps he was trying to find out which one worked the best.

Not likely recipes for jail food

A Fort Pierce man was arrested after he left a business without paying for a book.

The title of the book was "Busy Mom's Weeknight Favorites, 130 Suppers Your Family Will Love."

While the St. Lucie County jail prides it self on meeting the nutritional needs of its inmates, it's unlikely a prisoner would be served the meals featured in the book.

Body found in lake

Staff Report

MARTIN COUNTY — There's no sign that foul play was involved in the death of an unidentified man whose body was found floating in Lake Okeechobee, authorities said last week.

The body was found in the area of Southwest Connors Highway in Port Mayaca on May 31 at 2 p.m., the Martin County Sheriff's Office said in a press release.

Investigators also found an abandoned single-occupant kayak on the shoreline, authorities said.

Treasure Coast kids going hungry

TREASURE COAST — About one out of every three children on the Treasure Coast doesn't have enough food to stay healthy.

A new national study found that more than 33,500 children in Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee counties are what the U.S. Department of Agriculture call "food insecure," which means they lack "consistent access to adequate amounts of food."

The study, sponsored by ConAgra Foods Foundation, is called "Map the Meal Gap: Child Food Insecurity 2012."

Food drive is success

Nearly half a million pounds of food generated

By Samantha Joseph
sjoseph@hometownnewsol.com

TREASURE COAST — A food drive by letter carriers on the Treasure Coast and part of Palm Beach generated nearly half a million pounds of food for area agencies that feed low-income residents.

About 1,000 postal workers and 300 retirees converged on Branch 1690, the local arm of the National Association of Letter Carriers, to contribute to a national effort to "Stamp Out Hunger."

They collected 477,938 pounds of food from

Vandals cause thousands in damages at park

By Samantha Joseph
sjoseph@hometownnewsol.com

PALM CITY — Vandals caused $3,000 to $5,000 in damages at Jock Leighton Park when they destroyed a bathroom at the Palm City recreation site.

An individual or group of people destroyed fixtures, ripped a partition and urinal from the wall and smashed two sinks, said Gabriella B. Ferraro, spokeswoman for the Martin County administrators.

The incident took place on May 27. About one month earlier, hockey players expressed frustration after finding the rink at Stuart's Halpatiokee Park had been vandalized for the fifth time in four months, causing its 65 players to cancel dozens of games and practices.

Investigators apprehended the culprits in Stuart, but are still looking for the perpetrators of the Palm City crime.

Martin County District 5 Commissioner Edward Ciampi said the cost of replacing damaged property warranted considering investing in security measures for parks. His comments were part of a May 31 press release that stated, "Vandalism of county assets is a persistent problem."

Vandals destroyed fixtures, ripped a partition and urinal from the wall and smashed two sinks, causing $3,000 to $5,000 in damages at Jock Leighton Park in Palm City.

"With budgets as tight as they are it is difficult to continually fund replacement costs," Commissioner Ciampi said. "I will be bringing to the board (of county commissions) suggestions to increase security at our historically vulnerable locations."

Park vandalism typically increases during the summer and other times when children are on school vacation, officials said.

Randy Philips, the county's deputy parks director, said incidents of vandalism are relatively rare in the area's parks system.

"In the parks around Martin County you'll have occasional vandalism with people using graffiti or people wadding toilet paper and throwing them into toilets. This (Jock Leighton Park incident) is certainly more severe," he said.

MARTIN COUNTY — Hibiscus Children's Center welcomes new volunteer Sarah Hill, who has created a new way for the community to support the children.

Her venture "Brighter Future Friends" is a volunteer group for Hibiscus and Ms. Hill is the first president.

"My vision for this group is to create opportunities for the children of Hibiscus to participate in events and activities that allow them the normal pleasures in life that all children should experience," said Ms. Hill.

"I was blessed with an amazing family who provided a loving, enriching and fun life for me and I want to share that with the children of Hibiscus through this group."

Ms. Hill organized her first event on April 22, and raised more than $1,300 for the children's summer camp program.

Sarah Hill presents Jacquelyn Caramma from Hibiscus Children's Center with a check for more than $1,300 to help fund the children's summer camp program.

Park's fishing pier to close for repairs

By Samantha Joseph
sjoseph@hometownnewsol.com

MARTIN COUNTY — The fishing pier at the popular Indian Riverside Park is getting a makeover.

The park is located at 1707 N.E. Indian River Drive in Jensen Beach. Its pier is about 780 feet long, and among one of the favorite draws at the 63-acre park that offers half a mile of waterfront.

The park is open from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m., but the pier usually remains open 24 hours.

However, during the project, workers will close portions of the fishing pier as they undertake maintenance jobs and do repairs there.

Crews will perform several routine maintenance tasks, including replacing deck boards and fixing fences. An estimate of the cost was not available at press time.

Park visitors will still be able to fish, as workers will only close portions of the pier at a time over several weeks, said Randy Philips, Martin County's deputy parks director.

Workers will close the pier intermittently during the daylight hours. They will, however, reopen it at nights and for peak use on weekends.

Jensen Beach resident Carol Kohlter said she visits the park eight times a month for fishing and exercise.

"Even if you don't fish, the deck out there is just gorgeous to rest and take in nature," she said. "I'm grateful every time I'm out there that I'm part of this beautiful community and climate. And I take my hat off to the parks department for doing such a great job at maintaining this part of it. It can't be easy what they do and they do it well. I have no problem with the closures. I know they're only making it better, and I can't wait to see what they do."

Park officials had no deadline for the project, but said the goal was to allow public access to as much of the pier as possible.

Program

with on-the-job training, teaching eighth graders to dress for success, conduct job interviews, fill out applications and interact with potential employers.

It then matches each student with a volunteer from a company willing to mentor and help them acquire career skills, said Derick Hayhurst, Big Brothers Big Sisters' match support specialist.

One day per week, the students serve as interns at the participating companies.

By the end of the program, the benefits for many of the children include stronger communication skills, higher self-esteem and improved grades, Mr. Hayhurst said.

About 100 qualified students have applied to participate in the next class of the program that once accepted only 25 applicants.

But thanks to widespread interest, administrators said they've expanded the program and will accept 50 students from Stuart Middle School and between 20 and 25 from Murray.

And last month, the group held a ceremony for its largest graduating class to date. Thirty students completed the year-long program, triple the number from three years ago.

"We're growing quite a bit," said Stacey Brownlow, the local group's executive director.

Renewed interest means the group must also find businesses willing to participate. It is especially interested in recruiting mentors near Murray Middle School, located at 4400 S.E. Murray St. in Stuart.

Big Brothers Big Sisters provides transportation for the interns to travel to and from their "employment" sites, and also covers the cost of insurance related to the program.

"Everyone wins," Ms. Brownlow said. "The foundational principal here is one-on-one mentorship and developing skills. It's about building a trusting relationship between an adult and a child facing adversity."

customers along their mail routes on May 12. Another 15,000 pounds came in after the official drive date.

The contributions will provide about 435,000 meals for individuals and families across the region, said Rick Abbarno, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers Branch 1690.

"This is a great effort that we put together every year to help the food banks replenish their shelves at a time when they need it," he said.

Summer is a high-demand period for agencies charged with feeding the hungry, said Judith Cruz, CEO of the Treasure Coast Food Bank.

School closures usually mean families who get assistance to pay for their children's breakfast and lunches at school have to find other means to provide these meals during the long vacation.

"That's always a big concern," said Ms. Cruz.

To help these families, the Treasure Coast Food Bank offers a summer feeding program that begins June 11 and runs through August.

The donation from the Stamp out Hunger project will go a long way toward meeting the increased demand, food bank representatives said.

The mail carriers gave 140,000 pounds of food to the Treasure Coast Food Bank, which serves Martin and St. Lucie counties.

They also collected 88,000 pounds for agencies in Indian River County, 15,000 for Okeechobee and several thousand pounds for residents in other parts of the Treasure Coast.

This year marked the 20th anniversary of Stamp Out Hunger, the largest single-day food drive benefiting Feeding America and its partner organizations, said Angie Francalancia, a public relations specialist with The Connection. The event collected about 70 million pounds of food nationwide.

Vandals

"In all parks and recreation systems nationwide you deal with some vandalism. I would not say in Martin County we have a huge problem."

Park officials are asking anyone with information about the damage at the park to contact Martin County Sheriff's Office Detective John Bowdoin at (772) 220-7060, or call Treasure Coast Crimestoppers on (800) 273-8477.

of children who qualify for federal feeding programs. It also shows that despite not knowing where their next meal will come from, more than 10,000 area children do not qualify, based on family income and other criteria, for public aid and must depend on help from local nonprofits.

In Martin County, 6,740 children don't have enough food, and 44 percent of those don't qualify for federal child nutrition programs.

In St. Lucie County, 16,400 are going hungry and 29 percent cannot participate in federal assistance programs.

In Indian River County, 7,310 children do not know where their next meal will come from, and for 31 percent, if help comes, it will come from local nonprofits.

"The statistics speak for themselves," said Judy Cruz, CEO of the Treasure Coast Food Bank, which serves the four-county region.

"There's still a long way to go. About 30 percent of the children on the Treasure Coast are suffering from food insecurity. We're reaching a small percentage of them, but you have to start somewhere."

The nonprofit distributes about 7.5 million pounds of food each year, enough for 6.3 million meals.

It has also created an extensive set of programs to help feed the region's hungry, especially children.

A summer feeding program provides meals for children who typically get discounted food at school cafeterias, and would likely go hungry during vacation months.

The group's backpack program relies on school staff to identify students who might need extra food to take home on the weekend. Its school pantries expand on that idea, giving children enough food for their siblings and family.

"There are many families who have not felt any recovery from hard times yet. They continue to struggle for basic needs, and their children, who need good nutrition for health, education and future success, are especially at risk," said Ms. Cruz.

The nonprofit organization, which contributes to more than 250 charities on the Treasure Coast, is in need of financial assistance to help meet growing demand.

Every $1 donated provides seven meals for people in need, administrators said.

And supporters who want to volunteer can help stock shelves, sort food and work in other areas.

For ways to help and more information about hunger in the region, visit www.stophunber.org or call (772) 489-3034.

Just imagine the reaction you would get if you addressed your girlfriend by the wrong name.

That was close to the case when deputies stopped a Vero Beach man on suspicion of having stolen a radar detector and other items.

He claimed to have taken it from his girlfriend's car. But when asked the name of his girlfriend, he gave three different names.

As it turns out, a man identified the radar detector as the one stolen from his car and the suspect was arrested on burglary charges.

Besides having to deal with the legal system, the man might also have some uncomfortable moments with his girlfriend, if in fact he has one.

Remembering the Spirit Guide

To the editor:

I read your article on James Tucker aka "Spirit Guide" on May 31.

I would like to add my own personal tribute to James that a very special spiritual friend has passed and will be sorely missed.

I, too, happened to be a reader of Hometown News and was living in Palm Beach Gardens when the paper was being delivered there. I never missed reading his articles in "Spirit Guide" for even though he was writing for the masses, it always seemed to hit you personally and made you feel as though he had dedicated the article to you personally.

I read the column for a few years and then the paper was no longer distributed in our Palm Beach County area. This to me was a great loss, for I so looked forward to reading James pearls of wisdom.

I am not sure of the actual dates and time, but I wrote to James and included a poem based on one of his articles. He called me and there began a friendship of two people who believed in the same quest for life and thinking positive and living a life filled with joy, love and "doing unto others as you would have them do unto you".

James had been a part of the South Florida Fair in West Palm Beach for many years and it was about that time that we discussed me going to the fair and to be a "meeter greeter" and sign people up for eadings, and also talk to them as they went by to interest them in talking to James.

It really worked out perfectly, for I got to meet and greet people, which I love to do, and James could concentrate on his readings.

When James first brought me to the fair to set up his booth he introduced me to his fellow "carnies" vendors. He introduced me to one of the girls as "This is my friend, Gail." With that she said, "Oh, your Gailfriend." Well it stuck and from then on I was known as Gailfriend. James even had a little wooden name plate made up for me at the desk "Gailfriend" in purple of course. That definitely was his color.

One day at the fair a couple came up and asked me where James was.

I told them he was on break and he would be back shortly. I told them he might see him walking back to the booth and to look for the "Purple People Reader." That also stuck and all his friends at the fair started calling him the "Purple People Reader."

I learned a great deal from James during the time that we worked together.

When he had finished writing a column for the "Spirit Guide" he would call me and read it to me and get my opinion on how I felt about it. We were very much in tune on our beliefs because when we were both younger we followed a spiritual leader, Emmet Fox. This was the true foundation of our belief in positive thinking and living life to the fullest with joy and laughter being at the head of it all.

I will miss my dear friend but know that his teachings and beliefs will always be a part of my everyday life so he will remain in my heart alive and well.

I'm sorry this was so long but I just wanted to share with all of you at Hometown News how much he really did touch other lives through your newspaper.

ON CARS
EARL STEWART

I was very disappointed to read the slanted news article in Sunday's paper resulting from Palm Beach Post reporter, Bill DiPaolo's, interview of me last Friday. Mr. DiPaolo called me because he had heard about my efforts to erect the tallest American flag in the world to honor the fallen heroes of Sept. 11, the firefighters and policeman who sacrificed their lives to save others.

Below is the letter I wrote last week to the Lake Park town commissioners:

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing you in hopes of getting your support on what I feel is the most important and meaningful endeavor I have ever undertaken.

As America winds down a decade of war, I cannot help but feel there is something we should do as a community to honor the sacrifices made by our soldiers and by the first responders of Sept. 11.

I am proposing to erect a monument in our town that will serve this purpose. I intend to install the tallest flag pole in the United States of America and fly what will be the tallest American flag in the entire world on top of it, here, in Lake Park, Florida. I will assume 100 percent of the cost of its construction, installation, and continued maintenance. The pole will be constructed by a licensed and bonded company that specializes in flag poles of this scale and it will be installed by a local contractor. Once complete, the height will reach 341 feet and will fly an American flag that is 60 feet by 30 feet.

This flag will benefit our town in numerous ways, among which is the draw it will have on visitors to south Florida. It will have very positive impact on local tourism. It will serve as a source of pride in our community, particularly among each of us who were so profoundly affected by the attacks of Sept. 11 and who call Lake Park their home.

Once installed, I will arrange a dedication ceremony and the monument will be dedicated to the living and fallen first responders of Sept. 11. This will be tastefully done, as will the continued display of the flag without the taint of commercialism or hype.

I am asking for your support because I believe this requires people with a vision of the possible to not think that this is "crazy." I'm used to being called crazy, but I know that credit for my successes in life and business goes to my craziest ideas. I am asking

Museum, student make difference at parade

Memorial Day marked the yearly commemoration to all service men and woman serving our country now and in our past. It was a long weekend for most individuals filled with store sales and barbeques, but the No. 1 purpose of the weekend was set aside to thank all of our service men and women.

I was quite moved watching and participating in the Memorial Day parade. The parade was well attended and enjoyed by all. The renovated Veteran's Memorial Park was the final destination of the parade followed by speeches marking the importance of Memorial Day.

After the parade and speeches, many attendees went to visit the military exhibits and displays set up at the Road to Victory Museum. As a docent at the museum, I was privileged to meet and greet those who have served our country, and I was able to say thank you to the many veterans who went through our former World War II barracks, home to the RTVMM.

Several veterans that day donated artifacts to the museum. A WWII Bible donated by a WWII veteran was one of the artifacts that the museum preserves. That artifact, along with the valuable exhibits and displays at the RTVMM, make me realize how important it is to say thank you to all veterans whenever we see them interacting in our society. We have so much to be thankful for here in the United States.

Please feel free to peruse the exhibits at the Road to Victory Military Museum Saturdays from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. We are always searching for interested volunteers to assist on Saturdays (brochures and information is available at the museum entrance).

The RTVMM also has an active 804 Scout Venture group for students ages 12-20 that meets on Monday throughout the year serving our city at scheduled events and reenactments.

Close calls on the road

To the writer of "Slow down, speedsters." I had two close calls by cars driven by elderly women just lately. A third one pulled out in front of my husband and I from a store or bank near the corner of U. S. 1 and Roseland Boulevard. I mean, this one nearly got us! This woman didn't stop to look, just inched out onto the road.

Coming home from the VA in Viera, an elderly woman was driving approximately 35 to 40 mph on I-95. I don't believe the elderly should be discriminated against because of their age for driving privileges, but I do think their driver licenses should be given on an individual basis.

We all see people of all ages driving hell-bent-for-leather on the road and even in residential areas, but something should be said for older people who sit so low in their seats they can't see over the hood ornament (others look like they're sitting on the floor too), don't know how to exit or more importantly, enter a ramp onto moving traffic.

My son drove over-the-road trucking for 15 years with a perfect safety record. He had lots of near misses to talk about, but one in particular (he called her a blue-haired old lady), coming off a ramp entering heavy traffic, both hands tightly on the wheel, looking straight ahead, going about 30 mph, and he had nowhere to go with a 42,000 pound load on a 48-foot long trailer behind him. He actually peed his pants.

I am age 76 with a clean driving record. I keep up the pace, don't tailgate, don't speed up for tailgaiters, just get out of their way, stay away from crazy lane changers, constantly watch my rear view mirrors, keep my distance (then other cars cut me off) and watch the tail lights of the car in front of the car ahead of me, and of course, buckle up. Driving is an individual right and should be judged as such for all ages.

I wonder how many accidents are caused by people who never realized it was their fault, and went on their merry way.

Congrats on your rant

I want to congratulate the writers of the following rants: To the person who wrote, "Plagiarism?," You are right on! To the person who wrote, "Sending kudos," You are right on! To the person who wrote, "Throw the bums out," "You are right on! To the person who wrote, "Changing direction of politics," You are right on! Wow, to all of you! Now, we're getting somewhere.

A waste of time?

There are three ongoing, stupid activities in Florida: controlled burns, re-nourishing beaches and restoring the Everglades. Man can't seem to resist trying to control nature.

Chamber supports Amendment 4

CHAMBER PRESIDENT
JOE CATRAMBONE

Tax relief will be put forth via an amendment to the ballot in the November general election, specifically Amendment 4. This proposal will lower property taxes for new homebuyers and business owners and encourage much-needed economic growth in the housing market by offering a healthy new exemption for first-time homebuyers.

Amendment 4 will protect working families, small businesses and homeowners from unfair and unexpected tax increases by eliminating the "recapture rule," a tax gimmick that increases property taxes even when property values decline.

Also, Amendment 4 will lower the maximum annual assessment increases on non-homestead properties from 10 percent to 5 percent.

Specifically, Amendment 4 will:

• Create an additional homestead exemption for first-time homebuyers for five years.

• Protect Floridians from increased property taxes when their property values have declined.

• Lower the maximum annual assessment increase on non-homestead properties from 10 percent to 5 percent.

We are told the Florida Chamber of Commerce is planning to partner with local chambers across the state to build support for Amendment 4.

For more information on the Tax Your Assets Off Coalition, visit www.TaxYourAssetsOff.com.

We will continue to monitor its progress and keep you informed between now and the November election.

Freedom of speech

Freedom of speech is for bigots as much as the rest of us, but have the guts to sign your name when making accusations about other people.

Have you heard about the Mexican invasion in Arizona? Yes, invasion, people crossing our borders with thousands of all kinds of weapons including military issue. This has not been on the big news broadcasters' agenda, but you would be educated to find out for yourself.

Our socialist government is feeding, sheltering, educating and giving them every right that Americans who shed blood for things such as freedom of speech have.

Obama blatantly stated he wants complete amnesty for all illegal Mexicans crossing our borders. But our border patrol is mandated by law to keep these people out of the U.S.! How two-faced can a president get?

Did you know there are more gangs, murderers and criminals than ordinary people getting into the U. S. illegally? You can bet your bootie we are taking care of illegal kids here. That's not bigotry, just common sense. Please be aware, these Mexicans are not coming here to work. They are fully armed to take over.

Party on, Florida

For far too long our state has been known as the party state. It's past time to declare the party over. We are flooded with people from other states who come here and engage in non-stop drinking, drugs and law breaking on our highways, in our schools, the workplace and in public. It's a disgrace and it's time to put a stop to it.

No longer should these offenders, upon pleas or convictions be placed in rehabs, house arrest or probation, so they can continue their "party." It's time to send the message that this illegal behavior will not be tolerated in the state of Florida by ending "second chances" and delivering harsh prison sentences to drug offenders.

Build prisons, put Americans to work, keep the criminals in prison doing hard labor and serve the law-abiding, tax-paying citizens of our great state by "taking out the trash" once and for all. Forced rehabilitation doesn't work.

They know how to tax

Greece, Spain, Italy and other European countries have made grievous mistakes over the years and the chickens have come home to roost.

But now California is sending us additional warnings about what happens when there is irresponsible government spending.

Liberal Gov. Jerry Brown admits he has a budget shortfall of $15.7 billion. California has the highest tax rates in the nation, but he is proposing a higher sales tax and other tax increases.

Leftists do not know how to balance a budget but they sure do know how to increase taxes.

Grants

"The re-branding of these grants to innovative project grants reflects the nature of these special projects," said Lisa Rhodes, executive director of the Education Foundation of Martin County.

"Each funded project has a practical, real-world application and builds 21st century skills like critical thinking, problem solving, team work and communication. Projects will allow students to address community issues, explore careers, interact with adult mentors, use technology and present their work to audiences beyond the classroom."

The grants fund science-, technology-, engineering-, arts- and math-related projects that will enhance the core curriculum.

Last year, 43 classroom enrichment grants totaling $35,000 were distributed by the Education Foundation to teachers across the district.

One grant funded the use gel electrophoresis for DNA fingerprinting. Another grant allowed a class to re-create a living slice of the Indian River Lagoon in their classroom.

A third grant allowed elementary students to experience the Japanese art of Group seeking donations of canned meat

For Hometown News
newsfp@hometownnewsol.com

MARTIN COUNTY — The Salvation Army of Martin County assists hundreds of needy families through its emergency food assistance program and the numbers are on the rise and expected to continue to grow.

As needs and costs steadily increase, the Salvation Army is concerned about effectively meeting the needs of Martin County residents.

The organization is asking the community to help put food on their neighbors' tables by the immediate and continued support of monetary and canned meat donations for their food pantry, Booth's Café, the community feeding program and Compassion House, the shelter for women and women with children.

"Sources which we have utilized in the past for purchasing inexpensive or even receiving free canned meats are having difficulties meeting our demand, and meats that were received during annual holiday food drives have been depleted," said Scott Hoover, corps officer and pastor for the Martin County Salvation Army.

"As our donor population declines in the summer months, it can create real challenges for nonprofits and churches in Stuart. Canned meats, a staple and excellent source of protein for hungry families and individuals, are almost nonexistent in our food pantry right now and with the Compassion House fully operational, we are truly feeling the shortage. We are hoping and praying that concerned members of our community will realize this shortage and donate these desperately needed items."

Items needed to restock the shelves are canned chicken, canned tuna, canned ham and canned spam.

Donations of non-perishable canned meats can be delivered to 821 Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd., in Stuart, across from the Stuart police station.

For more information, visit www.salvationarmyusa.org or call (772) 288-1471.

Health officer to be inducted as fellow

For Hometown News
newsfp@hometownnewsol.com

MARTIN COUNTY — The American Academy of Nursing recently selected its slate of nurse leaders from across the country and internationally for induction in October as Fellows of the Academy.

Among those selected was Donna H. Griffith Martin Health System senior vice president/administrator and chief nursing and patient care officer.

Composed of the nation's top nurse researchers, policymakers, scholars, executives, educators and practitioners, the honor of induction is a culminating event for an outstanding track record in the profession.

The academy is composed of around 1,800 nurses who have been honored over time. Selection criteria include evidence of significant contributions to nursing and health care along with sponsorship by two current academy fellows.

Donna Griffith

Applicants are reviewed by a panel comprised of elected and appointed fellows, and selection is based on the extent to which nominees' nursing careers have influenced health policy, care delivery systems, and the health and well-being of all.

Ms. Griffith, who has served in her role at Martin Health since June 2011, was one of only four nurses selected from Florida to be inducted as a fellow.

"It is an incredible honor to be included with these professionals because the work they have done has had a profound impact on the quality of health care delivery both in the United States and internationally," said Ms. Griffith.

A health care and nursing executive leader with more than 30 years experience, Ms. Griffith is past president of the American Organization of Nurse Executives and has provided service to several national associations, including the American College of Healthcare Executives, the American Nurses Association's Magnet Recognition Program and the American Hospital Association, where she is currently in the fourth year of a six-year appointment to the AHA health professions committee.

She has also published several professional and research papers related to patient care, most recently in the "Journal of Nursing Management's" May 2012 edition.

In the paper, "Global nurse leader perspectives on health systems and workforce challenges," Ms. Griffith and her co-authors identified international patient care issues and how health care leaders can better work together to develop innovative solutions.

Martin Health System is a nonprofit, community-based health care organization that has served the region for more than 70 years.

you to believe in this crazy idea. I am asking for a leap of faith.

You can read the Post article by clicking on this link, www.PBPostFlagArticle.com. The headline may have been changed by the time you read this because I strongly protested it, but it's already run in last Sunday's paper and the text of the article remains slanted and inaccurate.

I was disappointed because what DiPaulo reported was not what I told him.

After reading my letter above to the Lake Park town commission, you can see there's no resemblance between that and DiPaolo's article. My main motivation for erecting this flag is to honor the fallen heroes of Sept. 11 and to bring attention to this flag. which will be the tallest American flag on the Earth. By bringing attention to the world's tallest American flag, awareness will also be brought to the U.S., Florida, Palm Beach County, the town of Lake Park but most importantly the 422 first responders who died.

Yes, of course, it will also bring recognition to me because the flag was my idea, it's on my property and I paid for it. But to write and headline the article that a "Car dealer seeks towering legacy in flagpole" is maliciously false and libelous. Florida, Palm Beach County and Lake Park all will benefit by those who travel to our community to see and take pictures of the world's tallest American flag which is dedicated to honor our fallen Sept. 11 heroes.

I did say to DiPaolo that "I would be less than honest if I did not admit that having the world's tallest American flag flying above my property would bring awareness to me and my business, too."

I did not think he would take that honest admission and make it the focal point of the "news" story.

Isn't it interesting that nowhere in the article does DiPaolo mention the American flag, only the flagpole? In fact, this is not the tallest flagpole in the world, there are taller flagpoles flying the flags of other countries. I specifically told him that and suggested that he Google tallest flags and flagpoles. He said he would. He also makes only a slight, passing mention of the fact that I'm dedicating the American flag to the fallen heroes of Sept 11. DiPaulo also brought up the long forgotten feud that I once had with one of the Lake Park town councils many years ago. This had to do with the ire of a very few Lake Park residents and councilman who resented my using the name of North Palm Beach in my marketing. I believe DiPaulo supported that view at that time and decided to resurrect the argument for this article, presumably in an attempt to defeat my request for permission to erect this American flag.

I believe DiPaolo's comparing this flag to Donald Trump's flagpole was a deliberate attempt to make what I'm attempting to do appear to be an ego enhancing marketing stunt, which "the Donald" is famous for.

I've been interviewed by the press and other media hundreds of times over the years including national and local and most often by the Palm Beach Post. Ninety-nine percent of the time I'm quoted accurately and the story is written honestly.

Training offered to healthcare, technology professionals

For Hometown News
newsfp@hometownnewsol.com

TREASURE COAST — The move toward making medical records and information more accessible through computerized record-keeping means future career opportunities for those familiar with both fields.

Indian River State College is offering online training in this emerging career discipline through the HITECH workforce program.

Open enrollment is now available for the program, which can be completed in six months or less, and it is completely online.

Experienced IT or healthcare professionals looking to enhance their education and training in the implementation of electronic health records will want to sign up for the HITECH workforce training program. Student stipends are available for those who qualify.

Since September 2010, the program has enrolled more than 350 students. Graduates from the program have received positions with regional extension centers, electronic health record vendors and local hospitals.

The IRSC HITECH Workforce training program focuses on six workforce roles: practice workflow and information management, clinician/practitioner consulting, implementation support, implementation management, technical/software support and training/instruction.

These courses are being made available to healthcare and IT professionals as part of a nationally funded grant from the office of the National Coordinator for Health Information Technology.

Anyone interested in this unique training can still apply.

For more information, call (772) 462-7176 or visit www.irsc.edu.

Computer service club is great, affordable way to keep computer maintained

COMPUTE THIS
SEAN MCCARTHY

Computer repair is a tricky business. I never know what kind of problems I am going to be asked to solve and there is always the pressure to get it done quickly. Every call is a different challenge and most of the time, it can take a half hour or more just looking around trying to get a handle on what's going on before the actual repairs even start.

Virus and malware cleanup calls usually always involve running one or more scans to "sweep" the computer for infected files and these scans can really run up the clock. There is nothing more frustrating than having to wait for a scan to complete and watching as the progress bar inches its way across the screen. The temptation to do other things while a scan is running is high, but if you do that on an already sick machine, it can just make matters worse. It's best to tackle additional tasks after an infection is cleaned.

Let's face it, computer maintenance is expensive. At the typical hourly rate, one unexpected glitch, such as a virus infection or registry problem can quickly add up to hundreds of dollars. And who's to say that next month it won't be something different?

Most computer manufacturers assume everyone already knows what they need to do to keep their new machine maintained properly, but that can be an unreasonable assumption to make, especially if the new computer owner has little or no experience.

Without proper maintenance it's only a matter of time before something goes wrong and the repair bill can approach the price of a new machine! There's got to be a better way.

Wouldn't it be smarter to have an expert set up your machine and then maintain it every month and avoid costly repairs? Doesn't it make sense to have someone who knows what they're doing keep regular tabs on things and nip problems in the bud rather than letting them grow to the point where an expensive service call is inevitable?

Well, I think it is, and I've spent the last couple of months putting together a program that does just that: gives regular computer users a way to keep their machines maintained on a regular basis at a cost that won't break the bank.

What I've put together here, a computer service club, if you will, is a way to offset the high cost of sudden repairs by performing regular monthly "check ups" to make sure things are running smoothly. This way we can stop little issues before they become big ones.

We want to start out with a clean system, so when a person joins our club, we connect to their system and do a full tune up and get it running in tip-top shape. Even if it's infected with viruses or malware, we'll clean it first. We'll even set up the backup system and make sure it's configured properly.

Then, once a month, we reconnect and give the system a once over. We encourage people to use this time to ask any questions that they have and we'll address any issues that may have come up over the previous month. We'll verify the system, the antivirus, the backup and the security settings. And we make sure they are all set for the next month.

After a trial run, all of my club members seem pretty satisfied and we have been able to nip a few problems in the bud; just the way I planned.

If this sounds like something you would like to take part in, drop me a line or give me a call. I'll be happy to answer all of your questions.

TREASURE COAST — The move toward making medical records and information more accessible through computerized record-keeping means future career opportunities for those familiar with both fields.

Indian River State College is offering online training in this career discipline through the HITECH workforce program.

Open enrollment is now available for the program, which can be completed in six months or less, and it is completely online.

Experienced IT or healthcare professionals looking to enhance their education and training in the implementation of electronic health records will want to sign up for the HITECH workforce training program. Student stipends are available for those who qualify.

The IRSC HITECH Workforce training program focuses on six workforce roles: practice workflow and information management, clinician/practitioner consulting, implementation support, implementation management, technical/software support and training/instruction.

Anyone interested in this unique training can still apply.

THROUGH JUNE 17

• "The Smell of the Kill," an uproarious black comedy by Michele Lowe about three marriages on the brink when fate intervenes, will be presented by The Barn Theatre with performances at 8 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday and at 2 p.m. Sunday. Three unhappy wives, three contemptible husbands, add in a meat-locker and a life-or-death decision and the result is a wickedly entertaining comedy. Tickets are $20 and are available Mondays through Fridays at the Barn Theatre box office, 2400 S.E. Ocean Blvd., Stuart from noon - 4 p.m. Tickets can also be obtained by calling (772) 287-4884 or on-line at www.barn-theatre.com.

FRIDAY, JUNE 8

• Christian concert Light of the City will be held from 6 0 8 p.m. at Charles Ray Park, 5626 N.W. Manville Drive in Port St. Lucie. Bring a lawn chair and enjoy the evening with family and friends. For more information, call (772) 237-1367.

SATURDAY, JUNE 9

• Saddle Up for victory 2012 will be held at the Sunlight Saddle Club from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. The event will include an equestrian show, pony rides, face painting and "clowning around," square dance performance, a bake sale, Italian ices and music by Nikki Knox Rocks. Enjoy a barbeque with chicken, pork, hot dogs and all the fixins'. In addition, the candidates will be on hand for a meet and greet, providing information about their candidacy and answering your questions. The event is sponsored by the Martin County Republican Executive Committee. The Sunlight Saddle Club is located at 6650 S.W. Kanner Highway, Indiantown. Male revue makes ladies' night sizzle

By Samantha Joseph
sjoseph@hometownnewsol.com

MARTIN COUNTY — A popular international show was the talk of the town when it opened for a one-night-only performance at the Lyric Theatre in downtown Stuart.

Australia's "Thunder From Down Under" took the stage at the Lyric's Flagler Center for a special "ladies night" performance aimed at bachelorette, birthday and other female-friendly outings.

The local performance offered a taste of the critically acclaimed Las Vegas show that has been named best in that city and best adult attraction.

Based at Vegas' Excalibur Casino, the show features Australian male dancers performing provocative routines.

Now in its 20th year, Thunder is sleek and stylish, and its dancers have made several television performances on shows such as "The View" and "The Tyra Banks Show."

"We basically brought the Vegas show to the Lyric Theatre," said Adam Hughes, the show's emcee and former dancer. "It's a very tastefully done strip show. It's not sleazy. Excalibur is part of the MGM Corporation, and to be part of that you have to be a class act."

Six attractive dancers or blokes performed high-energy dance routines to songs from several musical genres, including rock 'n roll, hip hop and country.

When they were dressed, they sported an array of costumes ranging from Spartan warrior to 1930s Chicago gangster and pirate, playing out fun and sexy scenes.

"(Attendees) quite often say it's not what they expected from a strip show and that they got a lot more than they thought they would," Mr. Hughes said. "They expected dollar bills stuffed in a thong and guys all over them, but our show is a staged dance show."

But the best part of Thunder is perhaps the opportunity for its fans to come on stage and get close to the dancers during performances.

"It's done in the most tasteful way you can imagine, but there's still plenty of cheekiness," Mr. Hughes said.

Week of 6-8-2012

ARIES - March 21-April 20

Expect to expend a little energy this week to get the job done right, Aries. Leaving it up to others is not the best way to go in this instance. Step up.

TAURUS - April 21-May 21

Taurus, focus on the big picture or nothing will get accomplished. It's too easy to get lost in all of the little details. Follow through on the task at hand.

GEMINI - May 22-June 21

Gemini, someone will catch your ear and it will only serve to confuse you. You won't know what to make of it but don't get worried. It will all begin to make sense once a few pieces fall into place.

CANCER - June 22-July 22

Lots of people need your help, Cancer. Focus all of your energy on helping others for the time being. You will feel good about your efforts and the good karma that results from them.

LEO – July 23-Aug. 23

Leo, you need to figure out how to turn all of your great ideas into workable projects , especially ones that can make you some money. Get started on a plan.

VIRGO – Aug. 24-Sept. 22

Change will be all around you, Virgo. While you're not overly excited about it, you realize change is essential to growing in your life and career. New work arrangements need to be made.

LIBRA – Sept. 23-Oct. 23

Don't expect this week to go smoothly, Libra. But that Event raises $16,000 for agency

For Hometown News
NewsFP@hometownnewsol.com

MARTIN COUNTY — The United Way of Martin County's 2011-12 campaign received a $16,000 boost from the recent fourth annual Escape to Fantasy Island cocktail party.

About 400 people attended the annual benefit at Paul and Lehr Filipe's private Palm City estate on April 28 that included everything from tropical libations, locally made craft beer and music by local reggae band No Ka Oi.

Guests also enjoyed hors d'oeuvres, a relaxing massage station and a live auction that featured a custom built pergola, golf outings and a one-of-a-kind surfboard hand painted by Hobe Sound artist Dan Mackin.

"We had a blast raising money for the less fortunate kids and families in our community," said Jade Smith, Fantasy Island chairwoman and owner of Island Party Rentals.

"We're fortunate that Paul and Lehr allow us to have the party at their private paradise and we're already looking forward to next year's event."

Led by Ms. Smith, this year's Fantasy Island committee included: Tara Biek, Stephen Leighton, Justin Beard, Dakota Jones, Kathleen Dempsey, Nick Ciotti, Krissy Schmidt, Geoff Schmidt, Robin Moynihan, Lauren Black, Christopher Jonathan, Patrick Geair, Devin Teal, Lorna Brazil-Teal and Carl Newton.

"Fantasy Island has become an important component of our annual campaign and its success helped us raise $2,385,000, the most money United Way has ever raised in its 39-year history," said Mr. Beard, communications and marketing director at United Way.

"Because of that, we were able to put more money back into the community through programs that provide everything from early learning opportunities for at-risk children to stocking the shelves of local food pantries to Alzheimer's caregiver support."

For more information, call (772) 283-4800 or visit LIVEUNITEDmc.org.

TREASURE COAST — Hibiscus Children's Center has been selected to present at the 2012 Florida Coalition for Children's annual conference scheduled for Aug. 7-8 in Orlando.

Hibiscus' presentation will be an independent living roundtable featuring the agency's Career Pathways to Independence program, implemented in July 2011.

The Florida Coalition for Children is comprised of community based care and provider agencies statewide.

The coalition focuses on children's needs and works directly with Florida's Department of Children and Families on programs and services.

"Presenting to this esteemed group of child welfare providers is a privilege for Hibiscus and we look forward to sharing with them about our new teen mentoring program that has already significantly impacted young lives," said Tom Maher, Hibiscus CEO.

The Career Pathways to Independence program was implemented last year for youth ages 15-17. This collaborative, multifaceted program is specifically designed to address the needs of these youth in preparing for their independence at age 18.

The program helps youth write resumes and prepare for interviews, provides opportunities for internships, job shadowing and part-time employment.

Hibiscus Children's Center, founded in 1985 by LaVaughn Tilton, is a nonprofit organization serving Martin, Indian River, Okeechobee and St. Lucie counties.

doesn't necessarily mean it will go badly. It's just full of distractions and interruptions.

SCORPIO – Oct. 24-Nov. 22

Scorpio, you may be feeling sensual and romantic for the next few days. It could be because of all of the positive attention you have been receiving lately.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov. 23-Dec. 21

You may feel happy when a friend or family member comes over to visit today, Sagittarius. You have been waiting for some company for quite a while. Enjoy the visit.

CAPRICORN – Dec. 22-Jan. 20

Capricorn, your mind will be all over the place this week unless you find someone to help you get focused. Think of it as having a babysitter who can call you out if you start to stray.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21. -Feb. 18

Aquarius, you will be amazed at the results when you finally set your mind to something. Stick with what you're doing and enjoy the ride.

Peter's Hardware team prepares to participate in the walk to cure diabetes Treasure Coast event in Palm City in April.

Hardware center supports anniversary walk

For Hometown News

MARTIN COUNTY — Peter's Hardware Center in Palm City was among the sponsors of the April 2012 walk to cure diabetes Treasure Coast event that raised more than $145,000.

The Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation presented the walk, which celebrated its 10-year anniversary. Employees from the Palm City hardware store joined more than 700 participants.

Peter Wernick, owner of Peter's Hardware Center, assembled a team to walk and his employees collected donations at the store prior to the event.

"Our employees are enthusiastic about participating in community events on a regular basis," said Mr. Wernick.

"This was our second year that we put together a JDRF team to support this worthy cause."

James Christie Jr., mayor of Stuart, joined the crowd in commemorating the anniversary and cut the start ribbon.

The event featured a 5K walk along Flagler Avenue in Flagler Park in Stuart. Individuals and corporate teams walked, rollerbladed, biked and skateboarded. Even dogs on leashes walked and supported the cause.

The JDRF estimates more than $1 million has been raised for diabetes research and education over the last decade from the Treasure Coast walk site.

Walk to cure diabetes is JDRF's largest fundraising event, held annually at more than 200 sites.

Participants enjoyed a complimentary breakfast and lunch, music, children's activities and entertainment provided by WRMF 97.9 FM.

The event was held to benefit the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation International.

JDRF is one of the most cost-effective agencies in the world, allocating at least 80 cents of every $1 to fund diabetes research and education to find a cure for diabetes.

Peter's Hardware in Palm City supports many community events throughout the year. Store hours are Monday through Sunday, 8 a.m.-6 p.m.

FISHING
HENRY CAIMATTO

With wind speeds of 3 mph and waves as high as 2 feet, it has been an excellent week for the offshore angler. Lake Atlantic is calling. Yes, the dolphin fishing has been good, with fish in the 15- to 20-pound class, eating trolled baits and live from 80 feet out. It is the bottom fish that are holding most anglers attention.

Grouper season is open and they don't know it. Gags to 30 pounds from many locations, mix in the snapper and you have some sore muscles. I will be the first to tell you I am a trolling angler, but it is hard to go past fish to catch fish, especially when a sardine in 60 feet of water will fill the box and I can be back for lunch. Need a change now when the fishing is so good that it is hard to miss. Know of a ledge where you might catch bait, that is the location. Try putting a bait on the bottom and do not set the rod down, set the hook.

Back to the dolphin and pesky sails from 80-feet out with the numbers coming from about the 150-foot area. Kingfish have been absent from all reports, not sure what happened to them. Beautiful weather, great fishing, I love Florida.

To the surf it is whiting, snook, permit, a scattering of blues, big jacks and the tarpon are at the Bathtub, it must be summer. Snook know the season is closed so take the barbs off the hooks. If it is in the water they will pick it up. Do not crank them up on the sand, step into the water and get your picture and a quick release, please.

Big whiting all day, permit are taking sand fleas and the scattering of blues, it seems, are there for the early angler.

Tarpon were eating big mullet but we all know that will change about the time you get there. Bring from small to big and we are still waiting to hear about a release, heard plenty about break offs.

River it is slot trout a plenty, suspending baits are the key, fishing north or south, lots of trout. Reds have been a little difficult, some south of the Stuart Causeway and north to the west from Walton to Midway Road, fishing those long docks, slow presentation.

Big flounder with plenty of blues, both big and small to take your soft rubber baits, bring extra, you will need them. Snook, well they know and you know, so release and if you like you give them a kiss and send them on their way. September is coming.

Great weather, great fishing, what is there not to love?

Henry Caimatto is the owner of the Snook Nook Bait and Tackle shop in Jensen Beach.

GOLF
JAMES STAMMER

As golfers, we constantly try new ways to improve our game. We try lessons. We try new clubs. We give up the game for months to see if that will make things better. But what do we do when all of those things fail to make us better?

Perhaps your body simply isn't ready to play golf. I'm not talking about stretching and hitting a few balls before heading to the first tee. I'm talking about your body not being flexible enough or strong enough to make a proper golf swing.

The Academy of Golf at Duran Golf Club in Viera partnered with Health First's Pro-Health & Fitness Center a few years back to create a golf performance training program. This program evaluates golfers to see where we are physically in relationship to where we need to be to play golf at the level we expect.

Most of us lack the time in our busy lives to work out every day. We also have numerous aches from old injuries or accidents that make our bodies resistant to making certain moves. The plan behind the golf performance training program is to evaluate your body, find out what those things are and design a program that will help make your body more ready to play golf.

This program has established a golf regimen that is used successfully in many areas of the country and offers golfers of all ages the opportunity, through better physical conditioning, to not only improve their game, but also their daily lives.

Players are evaluated prior to any programs, allowing the instructors to key in on necessary and weaker areas. The programs are then customized using Titleist Performance Institute recommendations.

The program begins with a 23-step physical test that enables Health First's specialists to evaluate and diagnose physical limitations that may affect your golf swing. The resulting report allows the instructors to customize your program. This program, with easy access online, gives you specific exercises and drills that will work on your weak areas so that your body will be able to perform at its best.

The golf performance training program helps your golf game and your every-

The initial program includes the evaluation and TPI report. From there, you can move up to additional sessions with a Pro-Health certified trainer, as well as re-evaluation to see how you are coming along.

The Academy of Golf at Duran offers combination packages that team lessons with the fitness program to give you the best value and program. It's a small investment with a huge return on your golf game and health.
