-The third cricket test match between England and Australia ended with an Australian seven wicket victory.

Over 50 thousand spectators saw Australia defeat England on the fourth day of a five day test match, with more than a day to spare.

Some magnificent bowling by Titmos had the Australians in trouble, but they soon able to master that.

The scores:

England 265 and 233

Australia 389 and 111 for 3.

For England: Barrington made 85; Boycott 48 and Parks 65.

For Australia Berge made 160 Red Park 58, Hawk 50 - Red Park also scored the winning stroke for Australia.

-The fourth Test starts at "Old Traffords" on July 23rd. and remember: "Old Traffords" spells rain.

It was at "Old Traffords" where the West Indies lost their only match of the 1950 series due to rain and in 1903 they captured the English bowling at "Old Traffords" and beat England by ten wickets.

All cricket fans should be reminded of that score so we can compare it with Australia and England .

That score:

England 216 and 285

West Indies 501 for 6 declared and 2 for no wicket.
