TIDE OF TRAVEL CAPT. QUENTIN IS AGAIN TURNING ROOSEVELT SHOT TOWARD EUROPE BY A HUN SQUAD

Hundreds of Thousands of Emigrants Will Leave United States, Is Predicted

Fate of Son of Ex-President Is Told by an American Captain

United States Aviator Made Successful Landing But Was Murdered by Germans

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Capt. Quentin Roosevelt was shot by a German flying squad after he had made a successful landing over the enemy's lines, and did not meet death in the air, as told in official American and German dispatches according to Capt. Charles G. A. Dodd, son of Brig. Gen. George A. Dodd, U. S. A., retired, of Bedford, Ohio.

Capt. Dodd stopped off here on his way home from New York. Photographs taken by an official German photographer and sold by him to American officers with the army of occupation,ough for the victory of the story told by German soldiers, who claimed to have witnessed the accident.

"Captain Roosevelt was shot by Germans," Dodd said.

New York, Sept. 28.—A stream of emigrants from America that will number hundreds of thousands will flow back to European countries as soon as transportation facilities will permit, according to consular officials in New York, who noted that many Americans are returning from the wave of emigration, which reverses the usual trend of traffic. Hitherto, there has always been a huge flow of immigrants from the European lands to America.

Several reasons are suggested as responsible for the turning of the emigration tide between Europe and America. Jointly they are considered sufficient to cause a wave of immigration to Europe.

The general tie-up in trans-Atlantic traffic during the five years of war is one of the causes for the concentrated desire of Europeans to return home now, think authorities. Many men who came here to work have not been able to visit their families during the war. Applications filed with consulates show that the majority of these emigrants do not intend to return to America with their families, but feel that they will have better opportunities in the old countries. High wages during the war, and especially during American participation in it, have enabled most of the foreigners to return home with savings sufficient to make them independent on the old scale of living.

It is predicted, however, that few of them realize the cost of living in Europe, where wages have risen more than in America, and that those returning capitalists will be disappointed. This will be especially true of Italy, it is believed, where it has long been the custom to go to America a few years and return well-to-do citizens.

The greatest permanent result of people will be to the small nations freed from yokes of Austria and Germany by the allied victory. It is thought, judging from indications at capitals of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Serbia and Russia. There is also a strong movement under way toward countries formerly under the Russian czar's rule, especially Finn and Lithuania. According to unearths of the Russian Soviet government in New York, more than half a million Russians throughout the country want to return to Russia.

It is impossible to estimate the strength of the movement to Germany and Austria, there being no regular representation of these countries in America.

There also is in the emigration movement serious problems for America, which may lose almost a million workers in the course of two or three years. It is said this will cause a scarcity of the skilled cheap labor for unskilled work, and keep wages high.

At the same time Europe will

Corporation Exps Thousands of Men Will Return to Work While Labor Leaders Are Confident No Back in Ranks Will Occur

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 28.—(The Associated Press)—Sunday passed quietly in the steel strike zone of the Pittsburgh district. Mass meetings, called by the union organizers, were held in several sections. Crowds gathered but were dispersed. No disorders were reported.

The Steel Corporation expected Monday will show a radical change in their favor. The trust officials say the assurance that they will be protected will lead thousands of the men who quit work ago to return to the mills.

The leaders of strike headquarters expressed confidence that there would be no break in the ranks of the union.

Speaking of the situation out of the Pittsburgh district, Strike Leader Foster said that the union expects "every man in the steel plants of the Bethlehem Company, against which the strike became effective Monday morning, will respond to the call."

President Wilson according to outward appearance seems to be little affected by the strenuous twenty-five days Peace Treaty speaking tour, which was abruptly curtailed in Wichita, Kansas, Friday.

The President stepped from the train to the station platform at 11:10 and walked through a long corridor to the outside, whence he entered to the White House.

JOSEPH BUCKLIN BISHOP REVEALS THE MANY-SIDED ROOSEVELT IN SECOND PAPER OF EX-PRESIDENT'S BIOGRAPHY

New York, Sept. 28.—Driving into the city of 10,000,000 inhabitants which Theodore Roosevelt wrote during his public career, Joseph Bucklin Bishop, the author's biographer, brings to light a number of "secrets" in the intimate correspondence between the former President of the United States and Sir George Otto Trevelyan, Bart., a British historian and author, with whom the great American enjoyed a close friendship covering twenty years.

Mr. Bishop's paper, the second of the series, entitled "Bismarck and Trevelyan," reveals the many-sided Roosevelt as "an singularly elusive of him," his fierce sympathy for soldiers and his broad and profound knowledge of medical and military literature. He could the views of the Revolutionary.

Mr. Roosevelt, it is shown,

In Sir George Trevelyan, a member of the historical Bismarck, he found a man singularly responsive to his own intellectual tastes and knowledge. Secretary of the Treasury Glass Will Be Principal Speaker at Meeting

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—Secretary of the Treasury Glass has announced that the Pan-American governments have almost unanimously accepted President Wilson's invitation to send their ministers of Finance and other delegates to the second Pan-American financial conference, to be held in Washington in January 1920.

The delay by a few countries in accepting was said to be due to the fact that they were not yet certain whether their Ministers of Finance would be able to leave at that time. Many national congresses being in session then, it is confidently expected that all the twenty-one countries will be represented.

Secretary Glass will invite the financial and industrial leaders of the United States to participate in the conference.

MR. WILSON'S SICKNESS

In his sickness President Wilson has the sympathy alike of those who are with him and those who are against him in his fight for the peace treaty and the length of ratification. He has fought the good fight through long hours in alone against tremendous odds, and between body and soul not breaking down for a bit under the strain. It is not surprising. It serves to emphasize what tremendous work the man has done.

He has fought against the solid bulk of over-conservative society, the strong nationalists, the reactionists, the people who were held to be with high irresponsibility, the managers of the world's affairs, until the war shook the thrones and the vested interests and brought the bulk power of the poor people to the front. He has fought against all the old school, versus the young, immature to new ideas,
the ideals of the vision of a better life.
He has fought against the and distrust of ignorance and prostitution among the people whom he represents. It has been a stupendous task he undertook, against such appalling odds.

There is one champion back of Mr. Wilson on whom he has always relied and with whom he has gone far along life's way of achievement. It is his unwavering faith in the will of the mass of mankind to do justice. "There is a tide running in the hearts of men," he has said, and that is the tide that demands more of peace and freedom and good faith and justice. Mr.
Wilson counted on this champion and when he espoused the cause of the length of nations with his fourteen points of international adjustment, and it is our belief that he has not counted in vain.

ROOSEVELT AND THE OLD TIMERS

Talk of Mr. Roosevelt and the memorial suggests an incident related by one of the Canal men returned from France.

Six months after the armistice he was in Paris. Everybody was making the holiday, and among the officers and men of the allied armies every variety of uniform and cap and decoration was in evidence.
Opposite Notre Dame his eye was caught by a big gleaming adornment on the breast of an American officer, and he called over to have a look at the officer and this new decoration. The officer proved to be an old timer who was one of the designing engineers at Culebra and the decoration was a Roosevelt medal with three service bars.

The two Canal men fell on each other like long lost brothers. After a while some reference was made to the engineer's decoration.

"Oh," he said, "I always did like that medal, and it has helped me to meet a lot of the old timers over here."

From which we might point the ancient moral, it pays to advertise by the way, it paid Mr. Roosevelt.

THE TROPICAL TRAMP

"A regular tropical tramp."
That was the comment one of the day after the departure of a visitor.

WINTON
THE JEWELER

partment, Made Address at Meeting Saturday
Colonel Fisher, of Health De-

At a meeting Saturday night at the National Institute in this city, which was held to consider the elimination of venereal diseases in the Panama Canal Health Department, made the following address:

A few weeks ago a small group of Panamanian and American doctors came to consider what steps should be taken to control the ravages of the so-called venereal diseases.

One of the members present asked "Who is responsible for bringing this group together and what is the aim of this campaign?"

The answer was that the movement represents the spread of a social interest and awakening that has extended throughout the United States and is likewise sweeping over Panama.

As indicating what this movement is in the United States, I cannot do better than quote from a pamphlet issued in the U. S. A. entitled "Ravage of Innocents Must Stop," a portion given the approved method of attack upon Venereal Diseases.

THE PROGRAM OF ATTACK

Against these ravages of the innocent and their allies America is at open and relentless war. Begun with the protection of the young men of the Army this war is now being prosecuted by the public health authorities of the Nation and State for the protection of the whole citizenship. Years of patient study have developed a means of recognition and effective cure. The authorities showed that these diseases are not an uncontrollable force.

This will be no peace warfare with the plenipotentiaries of disease. There is now organized not only a defensive campaign of war, but a great health offensive prevention by suppressing prostitution and propagating education, enforcement, hygiene, law, to protect the American public against inundated against syphilis and gonorrhoea.

Medical Measures

The use of prostitutes is a vital part of the fighting force against venereal diseases. Every victim, whether innocent or guilty, is a potential carrier of the poison to others. All means, therefore, must be used to extend free prompt and scientific treatment to all who need it. A prompt cure, moreover, cuts off the disease in its infectious stages, saving others as well as the victim from the severe consequences of a relapse and the final stages.

Comes free to venereal patients in every center of population will extend prompt and accessible treatment to infected or exposed persons. These are being established rapidly by State boards of health and the United States Public Health Service. Local communities must be alert to the needs of the prostitute who is a truly frequent visitor.

He comes in dressed in white from his pipe-clayed shoes to his neat Panama hat. His sleeves and his pants legs are frayed about the ends; the collar of his coat is roughened with broken threads; there is a wet, neat patch in the back; the detachable collar of his shirt has one domestic mishap and approaches another. But trousers, coat, shirt, collar and medals wash are alike spotlessly clean and bunchy fresh. The man is clean all over.

He likes to wear a cap for a roll-call into the Dacca region. He makes vague allusions to a honky-tonk. Lumber and gold are spoken of, and of late there have been hints of oil fields. But these things take time to repeat. All put through yet. After a while he speaks of meeting someone at the central, and struts out.

He has about forty cents in his pocket, of course. But what of it? Money is but filthy lucre and here is a man who is clean, happy honest, well cared for, whose daily thoughts are employ of wealth unmarred by a hosts and ne'er-do-well acquaintances, a man who can count without being afraid to swearing. Truly a bonny character, a delightful companion, and quite the cleanest kind of tramp you ever saw, a sort of Alice in Wonderland bleached out tramp.

Yet there say he has wasted his life in the tropics.

cooperate in their establishment and support.

Many hospitals and physicians have in the past turned away venereal patients. They are now offering their facilities to help in treating these dangerous carriers.

These cars are being required to report venereal diseases to health boards. This will give an audience to the first time of the carriages due to the enemy. It will also enable health authorities to guarantee those who refuse to take precautions to protect their fellow beings.

Good treatment must be offered free, poor, inexpensive treatment that gives only a false sense must be suppressed. The best drugs of the country have agreed not to sell patent medicines for self-treatment or to prescribe for these diseases. Newspapers and other advertising media are refusing to advertise quack doctors and quick remedies. Prompt and thorough medical treatment for all victims will greatly reduce the danger to innocent mothers and children.

Education

In every medical war much attention has been paid to the spreading of information about the enemy. Telling the truth about the enemy's enemy to the American people will help greatly to win the war. Venereal diseases maintain themselves largely on public ignorance. State boards of health and the Public Health Service have prepared pamphlets, exhibits, motion pictures, newspaper advertisements through which they are exposing the educational offense to individuals and groups throughout the country.

Every young man and boy in the United States must be taught the truth about his sexual nature, he should learn that continued abstinence from marriage is entirely compatible with health and that promiscuous sexual intercourse is a constant danger to health because practically all loose women are carriers of venereal diseases. He should learn the very serious consequences of venereal diseases to his own body and the danger of passing them on to his future wife and children.

Women and mature girls should learn of the havoc wrought by prostitution and syphilis.

Learn the effects of a chivalrous, still clean mind and body a sure protection against venereal disease.

Law Enforcement

The supply of prostitutes must also be reduced as far as possible by strict law enforcement. This means the absolute closing of any segregated districts that have survived the war, and the effective policing and supervising of streets, cafes, rooming houses, dance halls, amusement parks, for hire autos and road houses in order that prostitute women will lose their means of getting customers. Prostitution made an unprofitable business will decrease in volume.

Many unfortunate women, after being arrested and sentenced will want to return to the old life as soon as they are released. A percentage of these are feeble-minded, others are beyond reclaiming. They must therefore be confined permanently in the institutions. At large they are voluntary carriers of venereal disease. Other unfortunate can be reclaimed to a decent life by having their health restored and by being taught a useful occupation. By arresting and isolating all prostitutes by keeping the feeble-minded and hardened prostitutes permanently isolated from society by turning them away does proposed to live a decent life, the supply of commercial prostitutes can be reduced to a minimum and the most prolific cause of the spread of the disease largely removed.

Recreation

A most valuable aid to these days of public health attack is sound, healthy recreation for all young people of all ages when they are not in the schools, their homes, their clubs and especially their sweatshops. These are also the advantages and disadvantages in the case of existing recreation. Very little is available for the masses, but there is a lack of good advice and guidance and entertainment, especially to their working-class.

It is a miserable, sordid, lawless kind of recreation they are leaving the venereal disease to waste, but it is recreation. Elemental, adventurous, coarse, and wantonship, however, can be replaced by companionship in a more wholesome way, such as outdoor sports, an effective attack on the venereal disease.

The Comptroller Watch
In attacking the venereal disease we must bring to bear all the efforts of the medical profession, articles

DEMPSEY WOULD FIGHT THREE ON THE SAME NIGHT

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, has made one of the most unusual offers to the sporting world that any champion pugilist ever made.

The heavyweight titleholder declares he will fight Tom Beckett, champion of Great Britain; Fred Fulton the American, now fighting in Great Britain, and Georges Carpenter, the French champion in the same ring one after another, on the same night.

"If the National Sporting Club of London, Mr. Cochran of Olympia or any other responsible British promoter will guarantee me a substantial purse, I will agree to meet Fred Fulton, Joe Beckett and Georges Carpenter in the same night, one after the other. Dempsey has raised the ante and the sport in world is really amazed. Dempsey insists, however, that Fulton first step up to the ring in his proposition is accepted. Jack is justly incensed against the Rochester professor who sought to belittle the achievement of Dempsey by declaring the match at Harrison a fake. Jack believes that the same one-two punch that dropped Fulton then will drop him again.

Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, is in whole accord with his charge in the offer to fight the three men in one night. He said:

"Go ahead. Make it as strong as you like. Cable it to London. Call Fulton's bluff. If the other two did not possess any more heart than the Man from Boston, the whole thing would be over in three rounds. Jack will be on the job. All he wants is a reasonable purse and fair play. He will do the rest."

None a Real Ted.

It is felt that none of the men included in the offer could afford more than light exercise for Dempsey in single combat. The champion and his manager believe that the challenge is not serious. They say that the fight will be a "no-holds-barred" affair.

Dempsey's proposition is the result of an offer made by Fred Fulton, the pianist, whom Dempsey plastered in about 40 seconds, less than a year ago at that time. Fulton offered to meet Beckett and Carpenter in the same night, one after the other. Dempsey has raised the ante and the sport in world is really amazed. Dempsey insists, that the same one-two punch that dropped Fulton then will drop him again.

Where They Play

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York at Philadelphia. No other games scheduled.

Johnson proved in his battle with Willard that he is one of the most terrific hitters that ever lived. No man can hope to stand against him in the ring. Fulton, with his glass eyes, surely could not. Beckett failed to startle the world when he took 17 rounds to wear down the rather passive Merdoury. That fiery, plucky Carpenter, player of France and decorated for gallantry in action, aroused a sympathetic chord in the hearts of faint fans. Although boxes stand on their own feet, the fans would not like to see Carpenter swept down, even by an American.

Carpenter is still a young man, but there can be little doubt that his experiences in the war have affected his fighting qualities. He was much the worst of the greatest fight of all, serving with honor wherever stationed. At one time he was regarded as a real fighter. He may have deteriorated.

Dempsey believes that he will end Carpenter eventually. He said: "It looks as though this fellow Carpenter is the one the public will elect to try me out. It does not matter to me. This stage stuff does not appeal to me. I want to get out and fight. I like it. I am used to living close to nature. I want to go and mix with the world. I planned to play. Fighting is not me. You won't see me in the footlights many more.

The school boys defeated the working boys at basketball at the Balboa Clubhouse Saturday by a score of 11 to 9. They held the lead during the whole game. Referee, H. J. Goss.

The more I read Carlyle the more beauty grows up around him, profound intelligence and for his striking delineation of Shakspeare.

I have never understood public men who get nervous about assassination. (Merton shortly after the attack upon his life in Milwaukee in 1912) For the last 11 years I have, of course, understood that I might at any time be shot and probably would be shot some time. I think I have come uncommonly well. I cannot understand any serious minded public man not being so absorbed in the great and vital questions with which he has to deal as to exclude the rights of assassination. It is not a question of courage."

Roosevelt, in what was probably one of his best letters to Sir George in 1905, referred to the fact that his four sons and a son-in-law were fighting for the allies. After referring to them in terms of affection and that he would not for anything "have them anywhere else," he concluded: "I fear we would welcome their return home, each with an arm or a leg off, so that they could feel that they had played their parts manfully—and yet we could have them back!"

SOCIETY IN THE MELTING POT

By F. B. BOYCE

HOLD ON! HOLD ON! STEDY! What and? Do you think a patched-up, a terrible vibration! The earth is resiling like a drunkard; it is rocking, staggering, tottering; the foundation thereof seems to be moving; it is falling! Down, down, down it goes with a crashing, hissing noise, over the precipice of a twentieth century civilization into the abyss below; the anarchistic seething masses, into oblivion, from whence it will never rise again.

Thus in a short span of less than seven years, The seven years mentioned dates from 1905-1912, mankind will have the awful, excruciating experience of witnessing the greatest cataclysm since the days of the deluge. With nothing to hold on, no stabilizing influence, no system worthy of administering genuine antidote to the growing rule of corrupted individuals, with social, political, financial and economic. Every form of government has tried and failed; every effort to out-flank the rushing forces and to check the onslaught of human passion of greed and avarice, whether it be an attempt to minimize the growing tendencies of the rich from becoming richer, or to prevent the poor from getting some of this world's goods, have been a complete failure; so that there is a dual calamity this poor world of ours is now undergoing.

This dissonance that exists between the classes and the masses, between the capitalist and the laborer, between the autocrat and the democrat, between the clergy and laity is too far fetched to be well- ed overnight. Everyone has mis- used their trust; now the day of reckoning has come they have been arraigned before the bar of Justice-for-the-people, to give an account of their stewardship. They have been found guilty, sentence pronounced; the execution order has been issued and the penalty is being carried out with apt precision.

There are more strikes and lock-outs registered in the world during the last ten months, than during twice that number of years preceding. While the European war was in progress, feverish preparations were being made for the great world war. Now we see that the world war has just commenced, which spells destruction for society as it now exists. But as frightful and gloomy as this picture is, it is the only one, because our King is marching on. Of him it is written: "Ask of me and I will give thee the heathen the nations, for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Then shall break them as a rod of iron, then shall dash them to pieces." As a father's word, he was not therefore. O ye kings, princes, presidents, potentates and despots! he instructed us judges of the earth, serve Jehovah with fear, reverence, and respect with trembling, but the rod repaid and do justice, lest be be angry, and ye perish from the way when his wrath is kindled but a little. "Look righteously seek meekness, it may be ye shall be led in the day of the Lord's anger." Psalms 2:9-12. Zeph-

to boost their bowling averages considerably, Lewis and W. Alleyn getting four wickets for five runs each and Minda capturing one for three.

B. G. batted first and were disposed of for the very ordinary total of 32 runs, of which Knight was responsible for 12 not out and Mr. Lewis II. Bowing for the Red Tank C. C. Wilton captured six wickets for 15 runs and Allen got 1 for 23.

Owing to the wickets Red Tank failed entirely to negotiate the bowling of Lewis and Alleyn, the whole side going down for the insignificant score of 10 runs, Mr. Extras being top scorer with 6 hits and gage and butterfly dancin'.

Those who are acquainted with this talented troupe know, at the bare mention, what they are to expect, and those who do not know, have only to attend to find out for themselves. To say that something more than ordinary is in store is but putting it mildly. The admission is so trivial that there is no excuse for not attending.

Wherever and whenever this company has performed, long before the commencement, standing room is at a premium.

Epicurus, the great philosopher, taught that pleasure was the highest good, and though that delusion, ignorance, prejudice, and all noxious vapor must be completely subsumed in the melting pot before nevertheless there are sometimes this world can be a fit place to live when loneliness or solitude finds room. Then Messiah's Kingdom will vivification in the wholesome enjoyment of all nations, spent of innocent pleasure without hurting society or public or individual opinion. So on the night of the 10th October, if you are depressed or melancholy you will find panacea for such ills at the Wesleyan schoolroom.

WEST INDIAN RED CROSS MEETS TOMORROW NIGHT

For Sept. 29.—People in some of the villages of southern Russia are wearing dresses made of leather, and grown even together with leather straps on to the identity of the garment, cloth says Major G. F. Evans, who is in charge of the Red Cross activities along the shores of the Black Sea.

It is an ideal costume for the winter when northern Russia has a temperature like that of the Arctic of Siberia when I think of what a hard life to those little girls when the snow begins to fly.

The Red Cross is interested in the welfare of children in southern Russia before autumn.

Miller's Works, Proverbs prove these words. They do not open any violent disturbances to the stomach pain or griping, but in their work early and positively so that the connection of the owners is imperceptible. Yet they are thorough, and from the first does there is improvement in the condition of the customer and the master engineer of man for the sake of internal trouble.

Bad Police—

Although it is forbidden for any one to stop on the train the practice continues. On occasions when labor trains are pulling out one can be seen indulging in the "flea-hops," and this also is repeated by some in the evening when to train gets into the city. There are some who refuse to get on the train before it moves off. The man who hops has nothing to gain for doing so and there is always the chance of his being "hopped" or losing a limb. The hopper may say, "Oh, I can hop well, I have done it for years," but one should know when trouble near, to be advised, and discontinued the habit.

PICKWICK AT BOW WALK—Bow Walk, Sept. 15. A mile of some intensity passed over here this evening between five and six o'clock. When it began it was accompanied by rain, but shortly after a slight drizzle fell. Fortunately the whole disturbance did not last very long. Many branches of trees were broken off and the branches failed to resist the blow. Hence a few of them have snapped bed and are either lying at full length or leaning against other trees.

Needless to say that the hearts of every one began to fail but as the wind did not last for long there was no great cause for alarm. Henceholders and others took the precaution of halting their doors and windows while they stood at the threshold watching the elements. At the time of writing, 8.16 p.m., everything seems to be over and things have returned their natural state.

No danger of any consequence is reported greater.

GEN. E. H. GROWDER
Famous Provost Marshal in "The Girl Who Stayed at Home."

The faces of the world's celebrities are fast becoming familiar to the average newspaper reader and the play-goer. Many of them, however, are shy about this publicity attached to being in high position and many refuse to allow the weekly the privilege of showing them at their real work.

With the production of "The Girl Who Stayed at Home," which will be shown at the Amador Theatre today, Mr. Griffith shows us some of our own celebrities in surroundings not familiar either to the newspaper reader or to the play-goer. For instance, Provost Marshal General E. H. Growder, whose name is known at least to everyone who was in the drathouse, will be seen in this picture at his own desk in his own office in Wash-

Mob Scenes Abound in Triangle's Photoplay, "The Railroader."

"The Railroader," the latest Triangle release, an unusual pictureization of the novel "Gable" Gable, "Railroader," features many thrilling episodes in the realistic portrayal of a boy's hidden political campaign.

Every attempt of Stanish, the reform candidate, to obtain a hearing is thwarted by Conover, the boss, who controls the entire political machine of the State.

Crowds of people who have gathered to hear Stanish are panic-stricken when the hall is thrown into darkness. The gang boss controls the lighting facilities.

The reformer, on his speaking tour, finding that all available space has been secured for in advance by his scheming opponent, is forced to resort to an outdoor meeting. But his followers have no sooner collected to hear him than they are subjected to mob violence by Conover's henchmen and are quickly dispersed.

RECEPTION FOR ASSOCIATION OF THE NEW PASTOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Owen to Be Guests of Cristobal Union Church Friday Night

While the good stewardship Madawaska doubtless carried a good cargo of general merchandise, two items were of special interest to Cristobal Union Church people, namely, Dr. Harry Owen and his wife. Another delighted Cristobalite is Captain Terrell, who, in the absence of a regular pastor, has been substituting for the local organization, in addition to carrying on an unusually heavy line of his own work, The Salvation Army. A reception is being planned for the new pastor and his wife, on next Friday evening, at the Cristobal church. A special program is being arranged, friends from the various Zone churches being invited, and with our tropical climate, there will be a warm reception for these newcomers, next Friday evening.

Blue-prints and specifications occupy much of the time of the church officials, and before long concrete evidences of their interest in religious work for their community will begin to appear in the modest and a modern structure will take the place of the old building, adapted to the educational, social, and religious work of the church. The appreciation of the public for the general utility of this group of workers, for the community, is shown in the hearty and general endorsement and support given their program. We wish for Dr. Owen and his wife a happy and

REGULAR QUARTERLY MEETING WILL BE HELD AT BALBOA SATURDAY NIGHT

On next Saturday night, at the Balboa Heights Baptist church, there will be held the regular quarterly meeting of the Isthmian Sunday School Association. Rev. C. P. Walker of the Baptist church and Rev. E. M. Oliver, of the Pedro Miguel Union church, have been outlining a most helpful program and it is hoped that the various Sunday Schools will send representative delegations from their towns. It is unfortunate that each school can not have present from twenty to twenty-five members.

The Panama Canal grants free passes to three from each organization, at these quarterly meetings, a courtesy which is highly appreciated. We must not forget that in the States, folks who attend conventions do not have free passes, although sometimes for large conventions a reduced mileage is allowed by the railroads. To the credit of the workers, too, let it be said that the conventions are always well attended, despite the cost. Things worth having cost something. A baseball fan does not haggle over the price, if he wants to see a good game. A Sunday School could well afford to send a good sized group of its workers, assisting in the financial part of it from its treasury. These conventions need some new faces, new talent, and with constructive programs they become invaluable to organized workers. Let us make haste, you can make up the loss of the piano by Miss Marie Ruth Becker.

VII. Wienawsky—Lament, played on the violin by Miss Elena Malo. VIII. Song-Suite—Szuszka O. No. 4, played on the piano by Miss Angelia Puerto.

IX. Mendelssohn—Thesis, meditation on the Cello by Mr. W. Myers.

X. Chopin-Liszt—Sonnet of the Petrarch, played on the piano by Miss Adriana Orillac.

XI. N. Gary—Reading, Christian Hymnody.

A Good Investment. Good health is like a fortress in time of war. If enemies seem always at the gates and a breach once effected in the wall, how easily those enemies gain their ends. At the head of almost every attacking party come the cold or cough, which once admitted to the system brings other and more serious troubles in its wake. Your protection is Birkie Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and its price, 25c, is a good investment.

PERSONAL GENERAL

Miss Marjorie of Ancon returned Sunday after a month's vacation at Taboga.

Mrs. John Ancon, who has been in A Hospital for ten days, returned her home yesterday.

Mrs. Frances Ransome of Balboa assisted at services at the Ancon U.S. Evening, giving violin numbers. Ransome is most obliging about her talent to clubhouse, tea and public gatherings, which always finds a most hearty ovation. Last night was her first appearance for some time, she is sailing Tuesday for a visit in the States.

SE INSTALA LA ASAMBLEA NACIONAL DEL PERU

EL DISCURSO DE
RENAUDEL EN
LA C. FRANCESA

M. POINCARE
CONGRATULA
AL R. ALFONSO

Paris, Septiembre 28.—Hayas Renaudel, Diputado socialista, en su discurso en la Cámara el lunes de hoy, dijo que era inconcebible que la guerra por los franceses se continuase por medio de la guerra económica. Estimó que la situación debe evitarse la vida nacional y crear la concordia interna enemiga. Es imposible que la sociedad de las naciones pueda fundarse y funcionar sobre un terreno económico si se dejan fuera de ella 200 millones de alemanes, austriacos y rusos. Si la solidaridad internacional no se manifiesta sobre el terreno económico, lo que sobrevendrá será el hambre. El orador reprobó al Gobierno de no tener una política económica bien definida. Reprochó especialmente a los negociadores de la paz por haber quedado a Alemania sus colonias, privandola así de sus medios de expansión y de su actividad económica, incluyendo de nuevo a ellas. Despues de estas palabras Renaudel pidió que se dirigiera a los socialistas alemanes que estaban allí mismo a los responsables de la guerra, para que trabajaran en los otros socialistas en el triunfo del tratado. El orador terminó llamando a la unión a todos los proletarios.
