HOPE QUEEN LONA WILL HEAD LIST FOR LEGION

mined She Shall Reign.

In glancing over the list of beautiful names which have been asigned to the lovely girls who have been chosen and entered in the contest for a queen to reign during the "Loyal Legion Carnival" of 1922, we find: Viola Boswell, "The Golden Queen"; Anna Williams, "Balboa's own Queen"; Carolyn Cranberry, "The Princess Royal"; Mary Hearne, "The Sunshine Queen," and nearing the head of the list is the name of Miss Lona Bathbone, one of the Canal Zone girls which has given joy in every down, every army camp, every Y. M. C. A. and clubhouse on the Canal Zone, and nearly every ship in the Atlantic and Pacific fleets, and we can safely say in nearly every biblio building where entertainments are held. She has responded ably to every call for charity entertainment, and been as liberal with her smiles and accomplishments as the sun with its rays, always lending brightness and joy to the small world wherein she lives. Some of her friends christened her "Lona the Queen of Joy," most fitting name for so lovely and joyful a young girl.

Always Big Favorite

We would tell you all about her tossing brown curls, and sunny smile, her happy disposition and cordial winsome manner; but you know all about them, for Lona has carried them with her since a child of three years, during which time

Provisional Council Suspends Sittings Honduras Will Become Sovereign State.

WASHINGTON, February 2.—By the Associated Press.—Plans for the formation of the Central American Federation collapsed, according to State Department advice, from Tegucigalpa. United States Minister Morales, advised the State Department that the provisional Federal Council sitting in Tegucigalpa has suspended activities. The decree under which the Council assumed control of the federal district of Tegucigalpa was declared void. Minister Morales reported that Honduras was preparing to resume its sovereignty as an independent state. Guatemala had previously withdrawn and it is believed that Salvador will soon take steps to regain her independent sovereignty. The proposed Federation was scheduled to come into existence on February 4.

DEAD SILENCE AS BELIEVED OBEAH CABINET RESIGNS CONNECTED WITH DOCTORS DEATH

Anonymous Letter And My-

Slowly But Surely Becoming Unfastened By Panama Ex-tive Sleuths.

That the net is slowly but surely being drawn about those responsible for the untimely death of Doctor Lord is true.

The so-called mystic rite of obeah can not withstand the strong light of the law and justice and the culprits must suffer the penalty of their crime. Who practices their evil trade of deception by beguiling the innocent will be punished along with the actual perpetrators.

Certain agencies agree that the anonymous letter sent to Inspector Lamb was typed by a man not so ignorant of office affairs as he wishes others to believe. Neither is he so ignorant as to make the statement "He could be burned at the stake and be made a martyr" with out conscious effort.

It is very evident that he is well informed about some of the elements of the case, but there are some angles that he has overlooked.

PANAMA ENJOYS RARE GOOD FORTUNE

RELATIVE TO DISASTROUS CONDITIONS PREVAILING ELSEWHERE IS MESSAGE OF NEW YORK BANKER TO ROTARIANS

Leslie Graft, Treasurer of Isaac Brandon and Brothers and the Panama Banking Company, the guest of the Panama Rotary Club at its mid-day meeting in the International Hotel, made a most eloquent speech with a fine tone of optimism, analyzing the economic effects of the reduction of forces on the Canal Zone and touching upon the rare good fortune Panama enjoys relative to the disastrous conditions prevailing elsewhere. In his optimism he referred, among other things, to the fact that the exchange rates in Panama are fixed, which is only true in the United States outside of New England.

His remarks were simple and keenly characteristic of a modern business expert, and so completely in harmony with Rotary aims and ideals as to meet with enthusiastic commendation and applause from all sides.

Conditions in Interior
Otto Lunde, Manager for J. E. McEwan, Jr., another guest, followed with a similar analysis of economic conditions in the interior touching upon the benefits of the road building program in putting money into circulation in the interior and the greater ultimate benefits of increased production and purchasing power.

John McEwan, proprietor of the International Hotel, was another guest of the Rotary Club.

The committee on the submission publicity committee, was instructed to select five of the most valuable contributions for publication and assign for prizes at the next meeting.

Harry Nichols gave a report of his experiments and demonstrations with alcohol and made a demonstration with a car which he had parked in front of the hotel. John J. Murphy, of the Panama Agency Company, was initiated by Hollis Robinson, United States Marshall for the Canal Zone, who presided, and favorable action was taken on an application from Dr. W. W. Westcott of the Western Brothers V. Company.

The Secretary was instructed to petition the Panama Road Committee to take action to limit the weight of trucks on the new Sabana road to not more than five tons.

Yesterday's audience was the greatest in the history of the Rotary Club in Panama, 30 members being present. They were:

John McEwan, Harry Nichols, Morris Edgington, Judge Charles Kerr, Dr. Harrold, Arno, Carlos M. Arno, Mr. Gardner, Mr. Garita, J. J. Murphy, Jose Maria Chico, R. T. Lombard, John G. Gill, N. Robinson, A. Gutherford, R. K. Vibert, J. S. Dales, F. H. Morris, Eric Richemont, Stanley Brandon, W. D. Eastman, J. S. Petersen, Albert Lunde, T. Gabriel Duque, Elmer P. Haw, Major E. A. Boeck, Luis F. Alfaro, Pepe Padron, E. Aragon, V. J. Lunde, J. D. Levy, J. de Leon and Enrique Ruiz, Vermeire.

All were loud in their praise of the wonderful luncheon served by Mrs. Host, John McEwan.

SPAIN WILL TRUST IN ENGLAND AGAIN

MADRID, February 2.—By the Associated Press.—The Tangier question will be taken up at Geneva in the presence of Spain's representative, without whom England would never allow the subject to be discussed, says the Epoca in an editorial today. It adds that Spain's trust is in her friendship with England, who is always disposed to support her in a just cause.

MADRID, February 2.—By the Associated Press.—Commenting on reports of a divergence of views in the Cabinet, regarding Morocco, Premier Romanones was disinclined to believe that the Ministers disagreed. Since the government was formed solely to deal with the Moroccan problem, and enjoys greater public confidence than any other combination before this, Premier Romanones expressed regret in the possibility of a crisis, declaring he could not conceive of a government which could occupy the place of the present Cabinet, and adds that if it falls the only thing left for the present Minister is retirement from politics.

CARDINALS BEGIN SELECTION OF NEW POPE

TOKIO, Feb. 2.—By The Associated Press.—Field Marshal Yamagata, one of the few remaining Japanese elder statesmen, died at 1:10 this afternoon at his home in Okawa.

Field Marshal Prince Arisoma Yamagata was one of the three survivors of the "Tennō" or Elder Statesmen of Japan, who played a distinguished part in the restoration of the Japanese royal house. The two remaining members are Marquis Matsukata and Marquis Kounji.

As a member of that body, Prince Yamagata was one of the personal advisers of the throne and he wielded special power because it was he who built up and became a supreme head of the Japanese navy as it is known today. He was frequently called the Japanese Nelson.

President Belisario Porras yesterday received a reply from the Secretary of State of the United States to his communication regarding the establishment of a ferry service across the Panama Canal at Miraflores Lake, wherein it is stated that the ferry is to be constructed, and the Republic of Panama can initiate steps for its establishment at an early date.

The note reads as follows:

"I beg to refer to your note of December 16, 1921, in which you inquire the War Department in carrying out the project for the construction of a ferry across Miraflores Lake with road connections to each ferry landing.

Your note, as I have informed you, was transmitted to the War Department with a request for comments regarding the suggested plan.

extraordinary emergency. This occurred not only in Tacna and Arica but in Chile proper as well.

Mr. Espinoza recited that the then Chilean Governor of Tacna and Arica, Maximo Lira, once demanded that the ten million dollars referred to be deposited before a vote could be taken. "This was contrary to all premises of the treaty, the question of deposit is not even suggested, yet in order to obtain a vote the Estanco de Sal, Salt Company of Peru, actually deposited this enormous sum, but the vote was not taken." Peru has always been amenable and cheerfully made concessions which were amply required.

Tacna Half Peruvian

"Consider," he continued, "the condition of Tacna, one half of which has always been Peruvian and is not even mentioned in the treaty, yet within the last three months Chile has taken all. Their agents have been actively soliciting votes, those who refused to accede were of course deported. Tarapaca, naturally, was lost entirely."

"Peru now considers the Treaty of Ancón absolutely null and void, her claims lie in the balance of justice in the hands of a neutral power in which we have implicit confidence. I refer to the United States."

"What the outcome will be, of course no one can foresee, some talk of partition, perhaps so, if that be not so we shall accept with good grace, for after all, with us it is a matter of patriotic pride and not a question of national aggrandizement. Deputies from Tacna and Arica sit in the Chamber to this day."

When asked his opinion as to the exclusion of Bolivia from the conference to be held at Washington during February Mr. Espinoza said, "President Harding is evidently correct, Bolivia is not involved in any sense. Antofagasta and Cobija, the two ports over controlled by that country are located in what has always been Chilean territory."

... they enjoyed a sort of autocratic government, they were really in the state of free cities and could not be called national in character.

In closing his remarks, he emphatically stated that he had a high regard for the Chilean people considered as individuals. "My personal relations with Mr. Rio, the Chilean Consul General here are intimate in the extreme. I consider him among my best friends and further, my sister is married to a native of that country and now resides there."

Mrs. Lord Remains Here

Mrs. Lord, who had intended a return to her home in Washington, D. C., as soon as her financial and other affairs connected with Dr. Lord's demise were settled, has decided to remain until her husband's assailants are brought to bay.

Dr. Lord who came here but little over a year ago, it was learned, had found no questionable connections and enjoyed a lucrative practice from the start.

Dr. Anderson of the Muller Building, to whom he came for counsel states that Dr. Lord had any enemies save those under suspicion he, Dr. Anderson, did not know of them, he said, "I was his staunch friend in life and I propose to remain so now that he is dead. I intend to do everything in my power to avenge his death through the law."

The public may be assured that the Star and Herald will publish all the details of this horrid crime as soon as the authorities feel that their investigations will not be tampered thereby.

CHIEF GUIZADO.

We have just one popular local organization of Fire Preventers been invited to the International convention of Fire Preventers to be held in San Francisco during the month of August this year.

This reorganization of the chief's ability as a man is well merited there is no doubt about his efficiency as such nor as to his painstaking management of the Office of Fire Prevention which is equally merited.

He is an ardent follower of the cause of the Fire Preventers and that that is what counts. Few men anywhere have more sterling qualities, both moral and mental, and integrated with a knowledge of men and a complete knowledge of himself.

Few men in those who have had lengthy service in his chosen profession. He has been an active member for the past thirty years and became an official in 1900 and died in 1912 succeeding the lamented don J. Gabriel Duque who was the father of the department as now organized.

Chief Guizado is entitled to wear five decorations, they are: The Bravery Medal, The Veterans Medal, The Merchants Medal, The County Convalescent Fund, and the same from Lima.

Bon Voyage, our hearts go with you.

SELF-HELP.

The American President's contribution to the nations sunk in financial and economic adversity to make an effort to help themselves by the application of heroic remedies, is in the right spirit, as it is opportune.

There is a growing and rather helpless tendency in Europe to regard America as the coming economic ruler of the world. America, true, has it in her power to responsible assistance in the restoration of the Old World's faltering structure, but it is unreasonable to suppose that she will make a general intervention while insolvent or nearly insolvent countries trill away their remaining resources on speculative themselves in a vicious circle against the imaginary warlike designs of their neighbors, or make no serious attempt to balance their national accounts, or place on the credit side wholly fictitious reservation sums which they are no more likely to receive than they are able of paying their own huge debt as long as they proceed upon the false and fatal presumption that your house is in order," says President Harding in effect, "and we will help you." That is a fair offer.
Its realization depends very largely on the complete fulfillment of the purposes for which the conference in Washington was convened

To the Editor:

In your issue of this date I see on the sporting page a statement to the fact that Angel and Eugenio, boxing promoters, have made an announcement that they have a contract with the management of this theatre to hold boxing bouts here.

I wish to take this opportunity to deny this statement most emphatically as this playhouse is dedicated to the motion picture art. However I will say that the Cecilia Theatre did and does extend the concourse of this house to the Carnival Committee through the induced of Señor Alfredo Aleman, Chairman of the Carnival Junta, as per my request to hold a benefit boxing program for the benefit of the Junta on Saturday evening
Feb. 11.

Thanking you for correcting this erroneous impression as typed in your valued publication.

W. CORBETT.

Praises Up Panama

"Panama is the most attractive place we've visited," Mr.

Alexander remarked. "It is the cleanest and healthiest looking city we've been in our tour too.

The climate is fine—nobody could ask for it pleasanter.

"We're just beginning to work up the Caribbean cruising," he added. "Our next sailing is booked up and we may have a third cruise. Next year we may have two or three steamers in this service."

Asked as to why the Canadian Pacific cruise had been so successful while the tours of other companies had fallen off, Mr. Alexander attributed it in part to the excellent reputation of the service of the company and the friendly relations it enjoys with many postals throughout Canada and in part to its aggressive advertising.

Want To Cooperate

After the vaccinations the men of the village met to learn of the real object of the expedition, and they very willingly agreed to cooperate. The next morning a house to house census was made, before noon the first specimens had begun to arrive at the temporary laboratory. Examination of the specimens were made for intestinal parasites. The following day the remainder of the specimens were brought in. Such a response would be difficult to duplicate anywhere except in San Blas. After all of the specimens had been examined, the men were again assembled and the fact that medicines were at hand to treat all who had intestinal parasites was explained. They at once stated that they wanted the treatment, and simply requested that the men take the medicine first and the women and children at the same time. At the appointed hour the men presented themselves for treatment. The following day the women and children took the medicine. Only the young and the very old were omitted. The treatments given numbered over two hundred, and the parasites, mainly ascaris, exploded so numerous that they regard of the investigating party as "life savers." So enthusiastic were the Indians about the effect of the treatment, that they requested that man be left there to treat them once every three months.

In the islands known as Nargana there was the same hearty response but because of a rapidly diminishing supply of drugs, only those who had leishmania received treatment. In about fourteen days this small party had vaccinated 1,000, had examined 630 for intestinal parasites, and had treated 250. The results of the examination were most interesting in view of the fact that elsewhere in Panama the infection rate with hookworm disease averages nearly 90 per cent. The infection rate for hookworm on the island had to be denied that the crowd give way. The chief was the first one to speak. The supply of rice he allotted to that island was some long before the entusiasm of the Indians had waned. Before leaving this island delegation from two other island came to inquire about it. At Nargana the Indian responded with equal enthusiasm and at this place the following letter was received:

"My dear Mrs. So and So:

I want you to come my place in Tigue now today people see your boat and all the people waiting for you. I heard you come to put medicine in his hand on people that eat some eggs before went your come at there place to give you some eggs for free you see now. There people say now Nargana people what some thing good eat to give to you for free you see Tigue people and find some plantain you see now you must come to my place to Tigue. Why you not like to come to my place first time I send three letters to doctor I tell him please send me doctor to put medicine in his hand he would not send me you see are right I will send me you some few time to you now the people waiting for you tomorrow morning you see you must come you see and the women wanted you come too and the chief says about own child alright will close to you can say good bye.

God be with you always.

THOMAS PLUMER."

Inasmuch as such an appeal could not well be refused, a stop was made at Tigue. Due to the letter of the appeal, the people of Tigue place were waiting with eggs, plantain and a chicken to pay for the benefit of vaccination. Unfortunately the allotment of vaccine for Tigue was not sufficient for all who wished, and the only difficulty experienced was in getting off the island without awakening everyone. On the return trip to Panama, it was learned the Indians who had not been vaccinated had insulted each other using terms as "mother," from the ones of those who had previously been vaccinated.

The engine of the "Dale" had refused to go farther and the journey was continued as far as Plaza de la Constitucion with many names. From Plaza de la Constitucion to Tigue is made in a canoe with a sail, after nine hours. The following morning, the whole village of Tigue assembled for vacination, with the local chief and police assisting.

It is reasonably certain that all of the hookworm infections found on the island were gained on the mainland or in the villages other than Indian. The great difference in infection rates is due entirely to the sanitary habits of the Indian who deposit all waste directly into sea, where hookworm eggs have opportunity to develop.

MANY VESSELS IN DISTRESS

NORFOLK, Feb. 2. By Budde.

From all portions of the storm swept Atlantic coast have come calls from vessels in distress as a result of a week of storms. The messages reported some ships out of fuel, barges broken away from tugs and similar mishaps. One of the ships in trouble was the naval fleet ship "Aethusa" which had run aground away from the tow line vessel and was reported adrift with six ships standing by to assist.

CRISTOBAL, February 2. — Forty tourists from the United States via Havana, Cuba, arrived here Friday morning aboard the United Fruit Company's English liner Tolon.

Leaving Cristobal at 8:30 o'clock in the morning the tourists will view the Gatun locks, spillway, dam and control house, and afterwards take the Panama Canal steam Yacht Gold Star.

Trip On Gold Star

From Gatun they will go through the Gatun cut on the Gold Star, as far as the Pedro Miguel Locks, where they will take a special train and are scheduled to arrive in Panama City at 1 p.m.

Tomorrow afternoon the Tolon is scheduled to sail at 1 o'clock from Cristobal.

The next party of tourists is due

Friday on the United Fruit liner Calamar. There are from 50 to 75 tourists on this steamer who will also remain here overnight, sailing February 11 at 8:30 a.m.

UNITED FRUIT SAILINGS

CRISTOBAL, February 2. — The De Lepeze Players the latest Vaudeville success on the Isthmus presented their twelve acts of high class vaudeville at the Gatun Service Club last night before a large audience as that theatre ever accommodated. The combination of comedy and art was repeated with even greater success than the opening night.

Throughout the Alcock Novak and comedies reigned supreme. They won general applause in their comedy talk entitled "The Highest Bidder."

The work of Miller the clown was in a class by itself and earned a large amount of fun. Tony Odense, Wizard of the Black Art, turned the house with his clever tricks. He kept the audience guessing during his entire act.

The violin recital by Mrs. Baillie was the outstanding feature of the evening her encores were many.

Elin Bush scored a big hit in the Highland Fling.

For straight work in the line of tumbling and juggling Jimmie Frank will find few rivals on the Isthmus. His troupe could easily pass for professionals.

Mrs. Beretta Bush and George Cook in the Spanish Bolero did exceptional work. The Egyptian dance by the juvenile artists Miss O'Driscoll and Ruth Short, Elin and Helen Bush, and Begum Golgrove was the hit of the performance. The scene of the dance is a harem and the graceful little dances in their elaborate Oriental costumes are the best there is on the Isthmus.

Saxophone Makes Hit.

The Saxophone Quartette by James Colgrave, Pedro and Perla Arredondo, and Grover Brown was very good and more melodious quartette could not be heard. The fifth A. E. band furnished the music as well as the saxophonists.

Graceful little Helen Bush in her Alice Caprice danced herself into the hearts of the gatunians. Phyllis Roseau, the Isthmian Harry Lauder was better than ever in his Scotch act and quickly won the house by his quaint impersonations.

The final act was a review featuring the entire act. Dorothy Short was the leader of the chorus assisted by Elin Bush, Helen Bush, Ruth Short, and Begum Golgrove. This act is an excellent one and deserves much praise wherever shown. The music furnished by the fifth band orchestra was well received.

The costumes worn by the juvenile players were designed by Mrs. Paul E. Bush, who is also chaperone of the little stars.

TERMINITY PAIR IN ESCAPE ATTEMPT

BALTIMORE, February 2.—By the Associated Press. — Thirteen prisoners who were awaiting trial in the State prison under orders of the governor under suspicion of being connected with the campaign of terrorism in this province, tunneled the walls of the jail, the tunnel being discovered when it was about to be utilized for escape. All the prisoners were transferred to Terrebonne.

Here and There

A little more busyness in that outfit. Put some more stars in that ship. Hand me that Moon!

The scene is a carnival workshop where before itself has found a rival. Stars, moons, trees, animals are turned out by the score. Hammer and saw, the form of tables and the hiss of steam mingle in confused sounds. Caulks are holding with paper marke which is used in the manufacture of amulets, vases, trees, columns, and the like.

The floats for carnival parades are built from every conceivable material, from oatmeal cartons which form the base of all the costumed ornaments, to silver plates. It is the imagination of the artists that makes or mars the success of the floats. We know that handsome prizes are given for the best float that the sea son as been the custom in the past, and that there will be many competitors. With the carnival only a few weeks off there are busy days in carnival circles.

We might guess what some floats are going to be like, but we would be lost if we started to guess about something the other day and a little girl said, "My mama says I mustn't say guess." I must say, however, that her mother was a wise woman, for it is always a good idea to let a girl have a part in the planning of a float.

Many of the new dresses by the patterns she looks at are not prettiness," replied the young one. There is the greatest amount of interest to be elicited and the enthusiasm is rapidly spreading for already the carnival has begun on May Heights and down to Elizabeth Heights, the lively young daughter of Col. and Mrs. Nutt. Besides the sight of having the first carnival party of the year, Elizabeth was very excited, as when she used to go to some Party given Monday afternoon on May Heights, the social scene being at its height except for the rainy day.

Elizabeth and Elizabeth's guests were requested to come to the Elizabeth Heights making one of the best of it in a costume of

So many have remarked that they would prefer the Pattersons' parties at the Radio Station to any others of the Isthmus. More than ever would they have said so could they have been present at Mrs. Patterson's very enjoyable bridge luncheon on Wednesday morning. With its exquisite wafer cake and delectable breeze, the soft and drawing room of the Pattersons' quarters were ideal for a morning at bridge. There were four tables of players and Mrs. F. Anna P. and Mrs. Antonio Arms came in to the delectable luncheon served.

Mrs. Speed, Mrs. Sturges, Mrs. Seymour and Mrs. Bodman were the winners of the effectively set-up hanging baskets filled with hyacinth blossoms. Those who played for them, besides the winners, were Madames Becker, Kuntz, Ruan, Ryden, Malshay, Wildrick, Martin, Armstrong, Hicks, Hunter, Swarts and Miss Thompson.

One of the pretty and enjoyable dinners of the week was that given at the Savitri by the Honorable Constance Graham. His guests on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seymour, Mrs. Swarts, and Mr. Rodgers. The table was prettily decorated with many pink roses.

The many friends of Katherine Martin the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Martin, with regret to learn that she is ill at Ancon Hospital with malarial fever.

ANCON AND BALBOA

Prof. Albert Neckleton will appear at the Ancon Clubhouse Saturday evening with his special acts which have been such a success at the Cecilia theatre, he will show at Balboa Wednesday, October Thursday in connection with his moving pictures.

Mrs. Mary Sterns of Brunswick, whom who has been spending her half months with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Stevenson of Ancon, is among the passengers sailing on the H. B. Gays today. Mrs. Sterns is quite little more busyness in that outfit. Put some more stars in that ship. Hand me that Moon!

The scene is a carnival workshop where before itself has found a rival. Stars, moons, trees, animals are turned out by the score. Hammer and saw, the form of tables and the hiss of steam mingle in confused sounds. Caulks are holding with paper marke which is used in the manufacture of amulets, vases, trees, columns, and the like.

THE FOX STAR.

OUTRAGE "OLD POT."

One modern hero of motion picture fame has made old Israel Putnam, the Revolutionary hero, look much like an amateur when it comes to feats of daring horsemanship, despite the fact that bold Putt's brave dash down the front of a cliff to escape the British makes him dear to the heart of every schoolboy.

Without disparaging General Putnam, Tom Mix, the William Fox star, has put into a few short hours more daring rides than that old Revolutionary hero ever dreamed of.

In "Rough Riding Romance," to be shown at the Cecilia, Panama's foremost photoplay theatre today for the one afternoon, starting at 2:30 and the one evening performance starting at 8:30 o'clock, Mix rides up six flights of fire escape and then later four times up and down the double staircase of a palace, besides a hazardous race on his trained horse Tony alongside a flying express train that is a history maker in picture stunts. He boards the train on a fly, by tossing his lasso over a car ventilator, then leaving the saddle and climbing the rope with the ease of a boy tuckling an apple tree.

The stunts Mix does in "Rough Riding Romance" are real, be it remembered. He doesn't fake them. He doesn't believe in faking, despite the danger he faces constantly; and he never employs a double to assume a risk to him. Thus he has won the reputation of being "the man who never fakes."

The program's additional features for each performance include "Clever Cubs," The Hall Room Boys, Percie and Ferdie, Comedy in two reels of fun, and the popular Cecilia concert orchestra, offering a specially arranged concert of the latest popular selections, for the evening performance only.

RYAN-FOX.

True to his word the archeo went out to Port Clayton to look over Fox in his daily workout. Fox has been working with MacMahon mostly, but takes on Roche and a few other good boys to vary his work. As far as condition goes, Fox is in the position to the farthest corner whilst pink. His chest was hardly heaving after boxing five stiff rounds. Fox looked faster than ever and security in a speedier fighting machine than will pass off with clock like precision.

Ansel and Duque are to be congratulated on the splendid card offered the public Sunday which will probably be run off before a capacity crowd.

WRESTLING.

The way of preparation for the wrestling bout between Zhyzko and King I have been endeavoring to find out just what this Greco-Roman style is, since that is one of many subjects on which I am profoundly ignorant. The better informed reader is now at liberty to inquire why Sam Hill anyone so poorly qualified is allowed to write about sports. We will consider the question asked and unanswered. That is something else I don't know. But for the benefit of poor souls like myself, I will tell what little I have found out.

One eminent authority, an Englishman, who takes a jaundiced view of the matter, has this to say:

"The style most affected by the professional wrestlers of Europe at the present day is the Greco-Roman, which arose about 1880, and is a product of the French wrestling schools. It is a very restricted style, no tripping is allowed nor any hold below the hips, the result being that the bouts, which are contested almost entirely prone on the mat, are usually tediously long.

Then again Fox's backers figure he will have Ryan missing repeatedly. He is undoubtedly and that Fox will win on points that Foreign Minister Yen has refused to accept the premiership. If Ryan is in the same condition as when he fought Terry, then Ryan should be returned a winner.

Fox took everything Ryan could put into a punch at the Bullring when they fought a ten round draw and claims he was not fazed any.

As already stated, the writer of this column is no Englishman, partial to the Lancashire or cock-a-hoop-on style. Failing that, he can see merit in the Cumberland or the Cornish school, but innovations nixed and popular as similar ones from across the Channel leave him cold.

Another authority, no less eminent, says:

"Greco-Roman wrestling of to-day must not be confused with the ancient Greek method of wrestling, for it is neither a variation of the ancient Greek or Roman, nor even a compound of the two. The Greco-Roman style was adopted in France about the middle of the 19th century and is now the only recognized mode in that country. It was introduced into England in 1880 and 1881. In America it has become popular. The style proper does not begin until both men are on the ground. Tripping, the essence of the English game, is banned in the Greco-Roman."

That is the extent of the present knowledge. I expect to know more after Rivers and King have given their demonstration, the date of which has not yet been definitely fixed. Readers desiring further information are advised to seek it in the same quarter.

ATLANTIC NEDIE WATER SPORTS NOTES.

An extraordinary attraction in the person of Miss Ethelde Bleibtreu, Olympic swimming champion as well as holder of the world's women swimming championship, has been secured for the Washington's Birthday aquatic meet, when this speediest of all women swimmers will give an exhibition, and probably enter into a contest with men swimmers, at the Hotel Washington pool on that afternoon. The Water Sports Club will share a part of the expense of entertaining this young lady, whose visit is being arranged by the Bureau of Commerce and Play grounds through the efforts of Mr. Homer Baker. Mr. Baker is confident that Miss Bleibtreu, whose time for the 100 yards, straightaway, made at Honolulu, April 30, 1920, is 1 minute 5 and 1/3 seconds, will enter a contest with any male swimmer on the Isthmus. This however, can only be determined after consulting the wishes of Miss Bleibtreu.

Doctor Cook invites attention of parents to the following important announcement in connection with children and other swimmers who desire to swim in the Washington's Birthday meet. Only three contestants in each event can swim from the Atlantic side. These competitors must be the very best that the Atlantic side can produce. All who care to enter must report to Mr. Joseph Mitchell, the Club's official swimming instructor. After sufficient instruction, impartial and open to all, Mr. Mitchell will designate a day previous to date on which entries must close, February 15, when preliminary trial heats will be held, and the place winners of these preliminaries will have the honor of swimming for the Atlantic Side. This is the only fair and practical way to determine who are qualified to compete in the big meet, and as all have an equal chance to enter the preliminaries no complaint can be entertained from parents who fail to instruct their children to report to Mr. Mitchell. His hours at the Washington swimming pool are from 3:30 to 5:30, except Friday afternoons and Sundays, where any who report may receive the benefit of the instruction which this recognized swimming expert will gladly give.

The attractive posters advertising the Washington's Birthday meet are the work of Mr. H. A. Miller, a local artist and letterer and proud father of Carl Miller, a youngster whose breast is sure to be adorned with a medal February 22.

Photographs of the swimmers will be taken at the Hotel Washington and Sunday morning after the water baseball game.

The work on the program under the direction of Miss J. Estelle Banks and Miss Grace Eastell is progressing nicely and will be perhaps the most enjoyable attraction.

RACING NEWS

There will be no races next Sunday, but will be a disappointment to some of the insatiate followers of the pastime; but most of the frequenters of the track are equally interested in the ring. To those the Ryan-Fox fight for the welter weight title without feeling that they are missing an important race.

The rules governing the bathing beauty contest will be ready for present arrangement will be well known to the public within a few days. It is to come, as it permits them to take in the Ryan-Fox fight for the welter weight title without feeling that they are missing an important race.

California coast, which attract the most. On the following Sunday, February 18th, there will be another good program at Juan Franco, although the details have not yet been arranged.

It is probable that Gingers will meet Gloria in the more exciting approximately 15 pounds. Mr. Edwards' new ambitions to see Rosa beaten and is planning to bring over a new horse from Japan capable of turning the trick. The names of Gingers and Gloria Swell have been mentioned in this connection.

It is also said that a match race for $100 has been arranged between Shortcake and One-Eleven with Bob as a possible third entry.

Lawson of Peoria still thinks that he can beat Shortcake in spite of his failure to show at the last meet.

The penalty imposed on Peoria for fouling is a step in the right direction. This boy is one of the best jockeys on the track, but he has so far ridden as though he had the right of way at all times and under any circumstances. He has not paid the only offender in this respect. The fine imposed on him only serves as a general warning.

FAMOUS MAGICIAN TO APPEAR AT THE CANAL ZONE CLUBHOUSE

As a special added feature in connection with the regular playhouse attractions, the management of the Bureau of Commerce has secured the services of the world renowned magician, Nestor S. G., who will give a vaudeville performance at Ancon Clubhouse Saturday, February 18th, Panama Clubhouse Wednesday February 8th, and Cristobal Clubhouse Thursday February 10th. Mr. Nestor S. G. has played in every country where theaters exist, and is called the "King of Modern Magic." He will entertain the patrons of these popular Zone Playhouses, with a program of mystery as given by him at the metropolitan theaters throughout Paris and the capitals of Europe, Australia, America, Africa, India, and New Zealand. He has appeared in many of the leading cities of the United States and has met with great success. New York City acclaimed him "the King of Legend." Mr. Nestor S. G. has more recently appeared in Boston City, where he gave an excellent program of magic at the theater. Undoubtedly many in the Canal Zone and Panama will avail themselves of this opportunity to enjoy an unexpected entertainment.
