Charlie Crist plots his comeback as Democrat

MICHAEL J. MISHAK Associated Press

ORLANDO — Charlie Crist had barely entered the room before a throng of teachers swarmed him.

The union delegates — and stalwart Democrats - wanted autographs, pictures, hugs and even kisses from the former Republican governor.

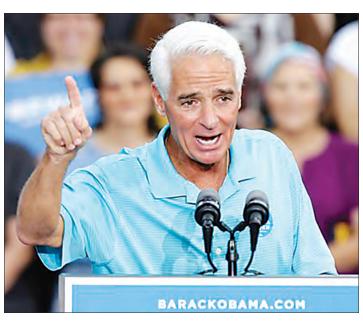

"We love you, Charlie!" a woman shouted, locking arms with Crist as someone snapped a picture.

"I love you all," he told those gathered at the Florida Education Association's annual convention this month.

Nearly three years after losing a U.S. Senate campaign to Republican Marco Rubio and leaving the governor's mansion, Crist is plotting a political comeback that seems fantastical even by Florida's stranger-than-fiction standards.

The man who once identified himself as a Ronald Reagan Republican is preparing for another gubernatorial bid, this time as a Barack Obama Democrat.

Paul Freeman drove 600 miles last year to save himself — and his employer-thousandsof dollars on his surgery.

Freeman's insurer covered his travel costs and the entire bill because a medical center in Oklahoma City could remove the loose cartilage in his knee for about 70 percent less than a hospital closer to Freeman's Texhoma, Okla., home.

At first, the community bank CEO hesitated because he thought the lower price would mean lower quality. But he knew if he didn't make the roughly 10hour roundtrip trek, SEE DEALS | A5

If Lake County Commissioner Sean Parks' plan comes to fruition, 16,000 acres in the southeast corner of the county will be unlike anything else this area has ever seen.

It would be a hub for hightech health care jobs and other industries. It would also attract people who like to bike, walk and enjoy an active, healthy lifestyle.

The area, which has multiple landowners, has been called the last big chunk of undeveloped land in the county. The area is bounded by State Road 50 (to the north), U.S. Highway 192 (to the south), U.S. Highway 27 (to the west), and the Orange County line (to the east).

Quality of life

The goals of the plan state "its primary priority is placed on providing a safe, comfortable and attractive environment for pedestrians and bicyclists with convenient access to transit."

Proposals include implementing two regional parks and a bicycle trail between Orange County and Louisa State Park. Parks also hopes to assist Dreamplex, a one of a kind facility for sports and training for the disabled, with locating to the area.

Sean Snaith, director of the University of Central Florida's Institute for Economic Competitiveness and a consultant to Littlejohn Engineering Associates — the firm awarded the project said quality of life is paramount to whether someone moves to a region.

"I think that the quality of life issues are more important to people that are looking to locate outside the core of the metro region," he said.

Target industries

There are a broad number of industries the county hopes to attract to the region, including agriculture, leisure and hospitality, human performance, sports medicine and sports training facilities and research facilities.

"The research shows that health and life sciences, warehouse and distribution, business services and finance and light manufacturing will be the target industries," said Robert Chandler, Lake's director of economic development and tourism.

Snaith said he believes the health care industry would be drawn to the area because, in part, of the nearby National Training Center and South Lake Hospital.

"Wellness Way revealed the hand that the health health care services," he said. "That demand for health services will create the hubs."

Early stages of development could be funded through a special assessment and/or state funds.

"The biggest misperception is the county is speculatively spending money on roads and infrastructure in hopes of encouraging development," Parks said.

Challenges

Because the sector plan is located on "some of the highest recharge areas to the Floridian aquifer," according to the draft proposal, there is concern about water resources.

Peggy Cox, of the Alliance to Protect Water Resources, wrote in a letter to commissioners that the plan has a "lack of specific recommendations for protection of critical water resources in the sector plan area, and the lack of specific requirements for the water supply needs of the future."

Parks and officials said they are addressing this issue.

"There are a large number of things outside the region's control that have an impact on what is happening in the region's economy," he said.

Sheahan said another challenge is making sure all aspects of the plan are balanced.

"It is always a challenge to ensure you are providing for adequate growth and economic growth for the future residents of Lake County — while at the same time balancing private property rights and ensuring future development has the ability to get adequate public infrastructure and services without being a burden on the taxpayer," he said.

Future

Officials said development will not occur overnight, but there is optimism that it will benefit the county and state as a whole as it develops over the years. "Now is the best time to do this before things become frantic and you end up with short-term planning and reacting then long-term planning and strategic thinking," Parks said.

office in 2010.

Surrounded by major throughways and in close proximity to the city of Orlando and the theme parks, it is the prime spot to bring jobs to the region, said Parks, who is leading the effort to implement the Wellness Way Sector Plan.

The land has been agricultural, primarily mainly used to produce citrus in the 1980s.

But the plan is not just focused on economic development, Parks said.

"It is diversifying our economy, and protecting and improving the quality of life," he said.

The plan is in its early stages, with a draft recently submitted to the Lake County Commission. Board members met last week to review the draft.

Funding for development could come from private or state sources, but the county is not investing its own money in the plan, county officials said.

County officials are planning a joint meeting in the future with officials from the city of Clermont.

Economists and officials believe the plan will diversify the economy and help recruit a broad sector of industries to the region, primarily healthcare to the south part of the county.

A vision

In 2011, 24 major landowners living within the boundaries of the sector plan contributed $175,000 toward funding a study.

Since then, the landowners continue to weigh in.

"Everybody has an opinion on what needs to go out there," said Jim Karr, one of the landowners. "The goal is to balance all of those wants. At the same time, whatever the plan is, it needs to be successful."

Karr, who owns property in Orange and Lake counties, said there is so much potential for growth in the sector plan area.

"You have tremendous access to roads," he said. "You are in a great spot. This doesn't need to be a bedroom community (for Orlando)."

Clermont City Manager Darren Gray said Wellness Way is an opportunity to put a comprehensive plan together in collaboration with county, city and landterial roadway supported by other collector roads in the 16,000-acre sector plan that will provide economic benefit to Lake and other surrounding counties.'

Parks said "the plan for the road has been in place for a couple of years but we realized you can't just ask for money to build a road."

While the corridor would serve as the main arterial roadway, Hancock Road and Hartle Road would serve as major collector roads, extending toward the south end of the county.

care sector has been a factor in Florida that grew throughout the recession," Snaith said, explaining it has been less impacted by the economy's slow rebound. "Health care is not something you can delay until the recession is over. With the demographics of our region and state with an older population, the demand for health services rises."

The Affordable Care Act could also factor in, he said.

"Depending on how it plays out, it could seep into the demand for Snaith agreed.

"Compared to fourand-a-half years ago, things are much more stable," he said. "I think that provides an environment more conducive to successfully rolling out the plan."

nated 1,700 of the orange squash. There also were games, bounce houses and a parade through the Leesburg Saturday Morning Market that allowed the children to show off their costumes. And of course there was plenty of candy handed out as Trick-or-Treat, thanks to about 5,600 pieces that were collected and donated by South Pointe Baptist Church.

But it was the costumes that created the most excitement. Dressed in an array of colors, there were comic book heroes and villains, movie and television characters, vampires, witches, cowboys, bumblebees, zombies, dinosaurs and skeletons.

THE VILLAGES Man charged with attacking woman, 68, in road rage

MILLARD K. IVES | Staff Writer millardives@dailycommercial.com

A 63-year-old man was arrested in a road rage incident last week after allegedly punching two people, including a 68-year-old woman, and breaking out their vehicle window, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office.

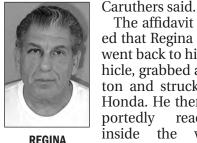

Thomas Regina of The Villages was charged with battery, burglary with battery, battery on a person 65 years or older and criminal mischief. He was released from the Sumter County jail after posting a $28,000 bond.

The incident occurred on Morse

Boulevard in The Villages, where Regina was driving a Toyota RAV4 and a 34-year-old male victim was driving a Honda SUV with his 68-yearold mother in the vehicle.

According to Lt. Bobby Caruthers, sheriff's spokesman, Regina apparently became upset after the man took too long at a stop sign. An arrest affidavit stated that Regina started honking his horn for the Honda to pull over. When he did, Regina reportedly got out of his SUV, yelling and cursing at the victims.

When the 34-year motorist got out of the Honda, Regina allegedly punched him in the head and the victim reportedly struck him back,

The affidavit stated that Regina then went back to his vehicle, grabbed a baton and struck the Honda. He then reportedly reached inside the vehicle and punched the man's 68-year-old mother before breaking out the back window.

When deputies arrived, Regina allegedly admitted he broke the vehicle window. But he denied he hit the son or mother, something witnesses said they saw, Caruthers said.

It looked more like a peach-colored brick house than the Astatula town hall and police station.

A former grocery store/ gas station/sub shop, the 1,500-square-foot building was so small that it had the town's police officers and Town Hall employees climbing over each other to get their jobs done, officials said.

Built in the mid-1950s, the building was so old that it still had a hitching post where residents could park their horses. And when the building was torn down to make room for a new building, parking lot and signs, officials found a few surprises.

"I couldn't believe some of the things that were living in there," said Mayor Judy Tice of the many insects.

But the two departments have a lot more elbow room now after moving into а ing earlier this month. With more space, they have their own cubicles.

"It so much more space now," said Astatula Police Chief Wally Hoagland, giving a tour of the building during its grand opening Saturday afternoon.

Tice said the building was a big deal for 1,790-resident, the 2.2-square-mile town that was incorporated in 1927. The town's most recent excitement came from a Dollar General that opened in front of the Town Hall about a year ago and its first fire station that was recently built.

On County Road 561, at the intersection of County Road 48, dozens of people showed up for Saturday's grand opening, including state Rep. Larry Metz, R-Yalaha and Lake County Commissioner Welton Cadwell.

Former long-time town clerk Olive Ingram led the ribbon cutting. Her family helped found the town. "It's like we're moving into the 21st century," Tice said.

The building is comprised of board and batten sidings, a rustic red roof and a trek deck after going through about a $160,000 renovation of a Daytona International Speedway office that was donated to the city.

Former Astatula town council member Douglas Koskey resigned his post earlier this year after running into opposition from some community residents who didn't want the small town to change. He helped the town to secure the building for the town hall and police department after the fire department turned it town.

"We hopped right on it," said Koskey.

Koskey and Tice said the town had saved up about $179,000 when news came of the Daytona International Speedway office.

The price for the building doesn't include the $40,000 the town paid to get it moved from Volusia County. But still the price is a far removed from the $800,000 they were looking at to construct a new building.

Tice said it would have taken the town until 2025 to save up $800,000.

State: Trapper can no longer sell monkeys to labs

The Associated Press

SILVER SPRINGS - State officials will no longer allow a trapper to snare wild monkeys from a central Florida state park and sell them to research laboratories.

A Department of Environmental Protection spokesman told the Tampa Bay Times the agency is looking for other ways to deal with the invasive species.

Trapper Scott Cheslak has captured about 700 of the rhesus macaques monkeys with state permission over the past decade.

The monkeys are a popular sight for tourists at the Silver River State Park. They have been in the area since the 1930s, though no one is certain exactly how they arrived.

Some say they got loose during the filming of a Tarzan movie. A more plausible theory is that they were placed on a small island in the Silver River as an attempt to spice up the Silver Springs' Jungle Cruise ride for tourists.

Staff report

The Lady Lake Historical Society Museum recently received a donation of a Vietnam-era Navy uniform from a local resident.

"Old salts" will easily recall it: a jumper with 13 buttons on the bell-bottom trousers," said Bill Stokes, a publicist for the museum.

According to Dr. Norma Delaney, the museum's curator, the uniform will compliment a World War I Navy uniform also on display.

This uniform also was donated by a local resident.

Because the museum is run by the historical society, a special emphasis is made to not only display items of significance to Lady Lake residents, but to display items donated by all local residents, Delaney said.

"The Lady Lake Historical Society always welcomes loaned or donated by residents of our immediate and surrounding areas," she said.

LADY LAKE

Museum gets uniform donation

The Vietnam-era uniform was donated by Mario "Ace" Acevedo, a seven-year Lady Lake resident (Village of Amelia).

It reflects his rank at the time. E-5 (Petty Officer, 2nd Class.)

Acevedo served a total of 38 years in the Navy, in the Active Reserve and as a C-17 Aircraft Liaison Officer for the Air Force at Warner Robins Air Force Base, Ga.

He retired in July 1995, as a Chief Petty Officer.

Acevedo's nephew, 32, recently was also promoted to Chief Petty Officer in a ceremony at Alexandria. He serves aboard the newly commissioned submarine, USS Minnesota SSN 783. Acevedo and his wife, Deborah, were present.

"My wife and I were truly moved when my nephew asked if he could wear my anchors (collar brass) for the ceremony," Acevedo said.

"How could any uncle deny his nephew such a request?"

The hundreds of items in the museum's collection include letters, photographs and artifacts, Delaney said.

Mustang band prepare for concert

Staff report

The Eustis Middle School Mustang Band will hold its Winter Concert on Nov. 14 at First Baptist Church in Eustis.

The 7 p.m. concert — which is free — will include the award-winning Mustang Concert Bands, Steel Drum Band and Jazz Band. To help the bands offset operating costs, the Eustis Mustang Music Association will have a basket drawing and a 50/50 cash drawing at the door.

There are approximately 130 students in the band program at the school, said Cherrice Purvee, the music association's president.

"All these children rehearse at school, practice at night. come in before school for extra music studies and interact with the high school band members through a mentor program...," she said. "High school students volunteer to come in and mentor the students in the middle school band.

"Working with peers is a positive way to learn and proves that the band programs attract some of the best role models in our schools."

In turn, the middle school band members, as part of The Mustang Caring For School

And Community Program, go into elementary schools to show the youngsters that learning music makes learning easier, Purvee said.

"The program's goal is also to reach out to local students who may need a small amount of inspiration in order for them to want to attend school each day," she said.

The Mustang Band is under the direction of Gerry Ricke. Seating for the concert starts at 6:30 p.m. and the church is located at 3551 Orange Ave.

For information, email Purvee at eustismustangmusicassociation@gmail.com.

As he travels the nation's largest swingvoting state, Crist is emphasizing the bipartisanship and consensus-building that marked his sole term as governor. Most early polls show him leading the unpopular incumbent, Republican Gov. Rick Scott, a former hospital company executive elected with tea party support in 2010.

Democratic officials, looking for a candidate to lead them back to power in Florida after 15 years, have embraced the convert.

In an era of political polarization, Democratic leaders see his pragmatic governing record as a national model for a party trying to claim the political center and solidify gains among the country's fast-growing bloc of independent voters.

A statewide victory also would give Florida Democrats an organizational edge in the 2016 presidential election.

"The shutdown and the fiasco in Washington have made that style of bring-everybody-together government much more popular," said Ed Rendell, the former Democratic governor of Pennsylvania and ex-chairman of the National Governors Association. "Charlie's going to ride a wave."

According to a Gallup poll this month, nearly half of Americans now identify themselves as independent, an all-time high. A separate survey found that a record 60 percent of Americans are so dissatisfied with the way Democrats and Republicans are governing the country that they favor the creation of a third major party.

Crist, who calls himself "the people's governor," might be able to capitalize on that disenchantment — if voters are willing to overlook his history of conflicting positions in key areas. His reputation as a moderate governor stemmed in part from his willingness to break with the GOP on major issues. He vetoed legislation that would have required ultrasounds before abortions, killed a bill that would have instituted merit pay for teachers and supported the restoration of voting rights for exfelons. Scott has since signed ultrasound and merit-pay bills and reversed Crist's voting rights effort. Crist calls "bringing a new tone to Tallahassee of bipartisanship" his proudest achievement.

"People are so fed up with the partisan rancor that we are experiencing on a national level," Crist recently told The Associated Press

. "I would compare it to children in a schoolyard, but that would be insulting to the children in the schoolyard."

The messy primary fight with Rubio in the 2010 Senate race has made him far from the perfect Democratic messenger. He spent much of that race campaigning as a pro-gun, anti-abortion, smallgovernment Republican, saying it would be hard to find anyone more conservative.

When GOP activists and donors rallied around Rubio, Crist mounted an independent bid.

After the loss, he began backing Democrats in state and federal races and campaigned for Obama in last year's election.

"I feel at home, truly," Crist said recently.

Republicans have not forgotten — or forgiven — Crist's defection.

Scott, who spent more than $70 million of his own money on his 2010 campaign, already has raised nearly $18.5 million from donors, promising a withering ad blitz against his opponent early next year. Signaling what's to come, the state party has started painting Crist as a political chameleon "unfit to govern."

Some Democrats also are suspicious and are favoring candidate Nan Rich, a former state Senate minority leader. Rich has questioned Crist's Democratic credentials but has had trouble raising mon-he'd pay about $5,000 out of pocket.

"You immediately think, 'Oh they're going to take me into a butcher shop and it's going to be real scary," Freeman, 53, says, noting that instead he had a "wonderful experience."

People shop for deals on everything from cars to clothes to computers. Why not for health care, too?

Insurers, employers and individuals are shopping around for health care as they try to tame rising health care costs. Companies are doing things like paying for workers to travel if they agree to have a surgery performed in another city where the cost is cheaper. They're also providing online tools to help people search for better deals in their home market.

And some patients are bargain-hunting on their own. Through a website called MediBid, people who pay out of pocket are soliciting doctors, hospitals and medical centers to bid to perform knee surgeries and other non-emergency procedures.

Patients who shop for care represent a tiny slice of the roughly $2.7 trillion spent annually on health care in the U.S., said Devon Herrick, an economist who studies health care for the National Center for Policy Analysis. But he and other experts expect this trend to grow, especially as more companies offer insurance plans that require employees to pay thousands of dollars before most coverage starts. These socalled high-deductible plans also will be among the cheapest options available on the public exchanges set up as part of the health care overhaul to enable millions of uninsured people to shop for coverage.

Advocates say all the shopping will help control medical spending.

"We waste an enormous amount of money in this country by overpaying for health care," says John Goodman, an economist and CEO of the National Center for Policy Analysis.

Searching for health care deals is a big change for many patients who're used to paying whatever their insurer didn't. Just figuring out an appropriate price for a procedure can be difficult for the average person.

ey for a statewide campaign.

Crist surprised many Democrats this year when he declared his support for gay marriage. In 2006, he backed a constitutional amendment banning same-sex marriage in Florida, a position he reaffirmed in 2008 and in 2010.

Crist said Obama's support for gay marriage last year prompted him to change his mind.

Democratic leaders, who have spent much of the last decade on the sidelines of a GOPdominated Legislature, are excited by the prospect of nominating Crist.

MAIDUGURI, Nigeria -Extremists from neighboring Chad, Niger and Cameroon are fighting in Nigeria's northeastern Islamic uprising, according to a man presented by Nigeria's military as a captured member of the Boko Haram terrorist network.

> His account tallies with reports from politicians and survivors of attacks, and it reinforces fears that Boko Haram, once a machetewielding gang, now poses the greatest security threat to Nigeria's unity and may be growing closer to al-Qaida affiliates in Africa.

It comes the same week Justice Minister Mohammed Adoke charged that Boko Haram is being influenced from abroad. "Nigeria is experiencing the impact of externally-induced internal security challenges, manifesting in the activities of militant insurgents and organized crime groups which has led to the violation of the human rights of many Nigerians," he said, defending the country's record at a meeting of the United Nations Human Rights Council in Geneva.

An Associated Press report last week, based on mortuary records from Maiduguri's main hospital, supported Amnesty International charges that hundreds of detainees are dying in military detention, many taken out of their cells and shot.

Leftist party finishing first in Czech election

The Associated Press

PRAGUE — Two leftwing parties appear to have finished first and third in the Czech Republic's parliamentary election but failed to win enough seats to use their alliance to form a coalition government.

The two-day election, which concluded Saturday, was called to end a political crisis triggered by the centerright government's collapse.

With the votes from 98 percent of the nation's polling stations counted, the Czech Statistics Office said the left-wing Social Democrats won 20.63 percent and the Communists received 15.04 percent.

The new centrist ANO (YES) movement, which campaigned on an anti-corruption ticket, finished second with 18.70 percent.

The rest of the votes were won by four other parties.

The election was called after Prime Minister Petr Necas' centerright coalition broke down in June amid corruption allegations.

day night demonstration demanding lower public transportation fares in Brazil's largest city.

The Sao Paulo state police department said in a statement posted Saturday on its website that the demonstration turned violent when so-called Black Bloc anarchists shattered store windows and destroyed ATM turnstiles machines, and other installations at one of the city's biggest bus terminals. The statement said about a dozen protesters attacked Col. Revnaldo Rossi, knocked him to the ground and broke his collarbone. Police have not recovered Rossi's .40-caliber pistol or his radio. Anger over the cost of poor public transportation services has helped fuel massive protests that have hit several cities since June.

Kurds capture border crossing with Iraq

BASSEM MROUE Associated Press

BEIRUT Syrian Kurdish gunmen on Saturday seized a major border crossing with Iraq from al-Qaida-linked groups following intense infighting between rebel groups that raised concerns of a spillover, activists and an Iraqi official said.

The latest violence coincided with a visit by the U.N.-Arab League envoy to Iran, a staunch ally of President Bashar Assad's government, to press efforts for international peace talks aimed at ending the civil war, now in its third year.

The Kurdish militiamen captured the Yaaroubiyeh post in northeast Syria after three days of clashes with several jihadist groups there, including Jabhat al-Nusra and the Islamic State in Iraq and the Levant.

An Iraqi intelligence official confirmed that Kurdish rebels now held the crossing point — one of two main crossings with Iraq — adding that Baghdad brought reinforcements to the area to prevent any spillover of humanitarian crisis on violence.

"They were heavy battles in which all types of weapons were used," said the Iraqi official, who spoke on condition of anonymity in line with regulations. "Iraqi forces are ready to repel any attack.'

Kurdish groups control a large swath of northern Syria, and they are suspicious of Islamic groups who have moved into predominantly Kurdish areas in the chaos of the civil war. Clashes between their fighters and jihadists in northern and northeastern areas of Syria have killed hundreds of people in the past months.

The border crossing point was under government control until March when hard-line rebels captured it. Syrian rebels, particularly the hard-line groups, are believed to draw support from insurgents in Iraq. Sunni Arabs dominate both the Syrian rebel movement and the Iraqi insurgen-CV.

The Syrian conflict, which began as a largely peaceful uprising against Assad in March 2011, has triggered a a massive scale, killing more than 100,000 people, driving nearly 7 million more from their homes and devastating the nation's cities and towns.

The U.S., the United Nations and Russia are pushing for an international peace conference to be held in Geneva next month, bringing together the warring sides. But no final date for the conference has been set and it is unclear whether the sides can reach an agreement on the agenda.

Loay al-Mikdad, a spokesman for the rebel Free Syrian Army, said Saturday he expected the conference to be postponed. Members of the FSA command met Thursday with the U.N.-Arab League Special Envoy for Syria, Lakhdar Brahimi, who traveled Saturday to Tehran.

"As a result of the discussions, we felt that there is an international direction toward postponing the conference for some time," al-Mikdad said. Arab League officials said earlier this month that the conference would be held Nov. 23-24.

press conference with Iran's Foreign Minister Mohammad Javad Zarif, said Iran's participation in such a conference is "necessary." Zarif said Iran would participate if it is invited.

Syrian rebels, meanwhile, denied government media reports that the head of the Nusra Front had been killed.

Friday's one-line state media report, which could not be independently confirmed, said Abu Mohammad al-Golani died in the coastal province of Latakia. But rebels said they had received no word of clashes in that province.

If government reports on the death of al-Golani are correct, then the capture of the Yaarobiyeh post would be the second setback for al-Nusra and its allies in recent days.

Al-Mikdad said Syrian rebels did not report any recent clash in Latakia province.

Video: Ex-soldier suicide-bombed Egypt official

Associated Press

CAIRO — An ex-Egyptian army officer carried out the suicide bombing last month that unsuccessfully targeted the country's interior minister, a video posted online Saturday al-Qaida-inspired by militants claims.

The failed car bomb assassination and increasing attacks in the country's lawless Sinai Peninsula raise fears of an escalating Islamic militant campaign of revenge over the July 3 military coup that ousted Egypt's first democratically elected president and his Muslim Brotherhood-led government. Those worries saw soldiers escort teachers to class for the first day of school Saturday in the Sinai, as well as Christians cancel a planned festival in southern city of Luxor.

Military officials reached by The Associated Press declined to comment about the video posted in the name on militant websites shows a man identified as Waleed Badr, who wears a uniform with a rank of a major. He says in the video that the Egyptian army is "bent on fighting religion" and "loves America" more than Egyptians.

The video also shows a car in streets described as being close to the home of Interior Minister Mohammed Ibrahim in Cairo. It shows the minister's motorcade and provided a description of his armored SUV. The video does not explain, however, why the Sept. 5 bombing failed to kill Ibrahim. The blast killed one person and injured 22.

Ansar Jerusalem already claimed responsibility for last week's lier, the group claimed attacks on gas pipelines to Israel, rockets attacks targeting Israel and a 2012 shootout along the Israeli-Egyptian border in which three militants and an Israeli soldier were killed.

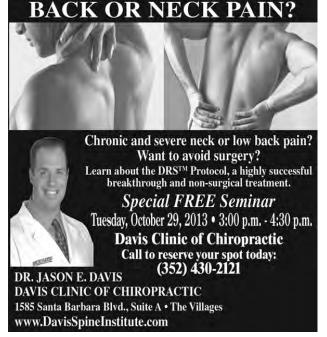

An unnamed narrator in the video says officials fired Badr, who graduated from a military academy in 1991, from the army because he used to criticize officers for not being pious.

In the video, however, Badr also criticized the Muslim Brotherhood and other Muslim groups for believing in democracy and repeated al-Qaida leader Ayman al-Zawah-

ORLANDO — Blake Bortles threw for four touchdowns and ran for another as No. 21 UCF routed winless Connecticut 62-17 on Saturday.

Bortles completed his first eight passes of the game and ended his day early in the third quarter, connecting on 20 of 24 for 286 yards.

The Knights (6-1, 3-0 American Athletic Conference) scored on their first nine possessions of the game. They remain the favorite to claim the league's BCS berth.

The Huskies (0-7, 0-3) have lost eight straight games dating to last season.

It was an important game for UCF, which upset Louisville last week and entered the polls this week with its first national ranking since 2010. That year played in that comeback win, spreading the ball around to seven receivers on Saturday.

The Knights' defense also carried over its momentum from the Louisville win, holding the Huskies to 90 yards in the first half.

TALLAHASSEE — Jameis Winston threw three touchdown passes and No. 3 Florida State scored 35 points in the first quarter on the way to a 49-17 victory against North Carolina State on Saturday in Bobby Bowden's return to Doak Campbell Stadium.

Bowden, the NCAA career leader in major college football victories, planted the spear at midfield before the game a job usually done by Florida State's Seminole mascot. The school honored the 83-yearold Bowden with a pregame ceremony that included nearly 400 former players.

Then the current Seminoles went out and put on display that Bowden's best teams would have been proud of, setting up a huge game with unbeaten Miami next week in Tallahassee.

Winston completed 16-of-26 passes for 292 yards with one interception and left the game after the opening series of the second half.

Rashad Greene topped 100 yards receiving for the third consecutive game with eight receptions for 137 yards and a touchdown for the Seminoles (7-0, 5-0).

The Wolfpack upset the Seminoles in Raleigh, N.C., last season, but this year it was no contest as Florida State put on a show for its old coach.

"It gives you that freedom that I've done it with this group before. I feel like we can do it again, and personally I feel like I can succeed there again," Lincecum said. "As a group, I feel like we have the right tools to make another push. Those are the kind of things you look for when going after an organization. When I'm already plugged into one, I don't have to look too far to see what they've done and what I've been able to do with them."

Just as the Giants had hoped, they signed Lincecum before he went on the free-agent market.

Lincecum, who pitched a nohitter on July 13 at San Diego, reached agreement on the new deal earlier in the week that keeps him with his only major league team through 2015. The contract pays $17 million for next year and $18 million in '15.

Lincecum's contract includes a full no-trade clause. In addition, he can earn an additional $250,000 each for 210 innings pitched and 220 innings.

He would earn $500,000 for another Cy Young, $250,000 for second place, $100,000 (third), $75,000 (fourth) and $50,000 (fifth).

shook a defender and raced to the end zone for an 18-yard touchdown to make it 7-0 The Wolfpack promptly went threeand-out on the next possession and Winston threw a 39-yard touchdown to Kelvin Benjamin on the first play. N.C. State went three-and-out for the consecutive second possession and Florida State took its time on the next scoring drive. The possession needed seven plays for Devonta Freeman to score an 11-yard touchdown through gaping holes. Florida State then led 21-0.

The Seminoles were overwhelming in the first 15 minutes, but the Wolfpack didn't do themselves any favors. Johnathan Alston fumbled on the second snap after the Freeman touchdown and Telvin Smith recovered. Brooks forced his second turnover of the day with a hit on Alston. Florida State went back to its quickstrike ways with a 14yard touchdown pass from Winston to Nick O'Leary on the second snap after the fumble. That put the Seminoles up 28-0 with four touchdowns scored in 4:13 of possession time. And they weren't to open the game and needed just seven plays and a little over 2 minutes to take a 7-0 lead. Storm Johnson carried three touchdown times in the 75-yard drive, capping it with a 10-yard touchdown run. The Huskies' started from the 10 on their first possession of the day and quickly got into UCF territory on a 57-yard run by McCombs. The drive moved inside UCF's 25, but stalled there and they settled for a 40-yard field goal by Chad Christen. UCF took just 2:40 to go up 14-3, this time with Bortles using a 20-yard pass to Breshad Perriman to set up his own 10yard scoring run.

Mitchell threw an interception to Terrence Brooks on the second snap of the game and the Seminoles scored four plays later. This was the beginning of a long day for the Wolfpack, who previously won the last four meetings when the Seminoles were ranked. The 35 first-quarter points tied a Florida State record for the most points in a single quarter.

Karlos Williams took a pitch to the right side, after a desperate sion illegal forward pass by Mitchell that resembled a no-look, overthe-shoulder basketball pass. Florida State needed five plays to score this time. Winston found Greene for a 42-yard score for his third touchdown pass of the day to go up 35-0.

The Seminoles set a school record for seven consecutive games scoring 40-plus points when Freeman recorded his second touchdown on a 4-yard run with 3:06 left in the second quarter.

run by Lyle McCombs that made it 21-10.

It was one of the hiccups few for the Knights all day, though.

Trailing 24-10 and facing a third-andlong inside his own 40, Boyle had a pass tipped by UCF linebacker Terrance Plummer and it was picked off by Troy Gray.

Knights receiver Rannell Hall then bulled his way over the goal line on a run from 17 yards out three plays later. UCF got the ball 1990's that had teams based in in the United Kingdom, Germany, the Netherlands, and Spain, before it folded in 2007.

Goodell said demand from NFL teams to play in London was more than it could handle, and that a game could be held in Sunday prime-time hours next year. Monday and Thursday night games in London have been ruled out, as has holding preseason games or the Pro Bowl overseas.

Goodell applauded the Jacksonville Jaguars for embracing the International Series, with the Florida-based team signed up to play four regular season "home" games at Wembley Stadium over four years. The first is on Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers.

"Jacksonville is an interesting experiment. I think fans there see that it's good for their community, that it's putting Jacksonville on a global stage," Goodell said while addressing some Jaguars fans complaints about losing one home game over these four seasons. "Whenever there is going to be change, there is going to be resistance to change."

Goodell met with a selection of NFL fans alongside 49ers great Joe Montana and former Jaguars offensive lineman Tony Boselli on Saturday.

The enthusiasm of overseas NFL fans was palpable inside the Grand Ballroom of the Landmark Hotel, with a scattering of NFL team jerseys in the audience featuring names such as Brady, Kaepernick, Bettis and even Tebow.

So while local fans are enjoying the experiment, they are not expecting a Londonbased franchise to arrive any time soon.

"It's a minority sport here, you don't see people out in the park throwing an American football around. It's all about this spectacle. I won't wear this jersey unless there's an event on," said 42-year-old Jonathan Gardner, clad in his orange Denver Broncos jersey featuring John Elway's No. 7.

While Gardner was beaming at being in a room surrounded by so many fellow football fans and the presence of Montana, he was weary that the future would feature anything beyond regular season visits.

"I don't see a franchise coming here," said Gardner, who played amateur football in his native Belfast as a teenager. "Football still has to overcome a load of prejudices here, many people think they aren't real athletes and compare them to rugby players, who are just as physical but don't need pads."

TUSCALOOSA,

The Volunteers (4-4, 1-3) dropped their seventh straight in the rivalry game, tying the most consecutive wins for either team. They couldn't build on the momentum from an upset of No. 20 South Carolina that snapped a 19-game skid against ranked teams.

Tennessee also won seven in a row from 1995-2001, but Butch Jones' program clearly has plenty of catching up to do.

Jones might have gotten a head start when he turned to freshman quarterback Josh Dobbs to open the second half in his first college action, replacing a struggling Justin Worley. No. 7 Miami 24, Wake Forest 21 MIAMI GARDENS — Talk about one-sided. Wake Forest led for nearly 49 minutes at Miami on Saturday, trailed for fewer than three minutes, and put the nation's seventhranked team squarely on the ropes.

A chance for a huge win was in the Demon Deacons' hands.

And then ... "We didn't get a lot of bang for our buck," Wake Forest coach Jim Grobe said. Duke Johnson took care of that. He ran for two fourth-quarter touchdowns, the second a 1-yard plunge with 53 seconds left, as No. 7 Miami beat Wake Forest 24-21 to stay unbeaten and cap a wild week of emotions. The NCAA mess that overshadowed Miami for 2¹/₂ years finally ended on Tuesday, and four days later, Johnson made sure Miami had cause for a second celebration.

For Wake Forest, it was just another game against a Top 10 team that went awry. The Demon Deacons have played 54 of them. They've lost 53.

"It's tough in there right now," Wake Forest quarterback Tanner Price said, referring to his team's locker room. "It's really hard when you come this close and you don't come away with the W. It was right there in our grasp. I thought when we had that touchdown to give us 21 that we had a chance. It was just disappointing.'

That touchdown he referenced came with 4:02 left, when not long after Johnson's first score gave Miami its first lead, Price connected with Dominique Gibson for what became a 44yard score. Miami linebacker Tyrone Cornelius missed a tackle on the play, allowing Gibson to take off for the end zone. Turned out, Cornelius' missed tackle was a huge break for his own team.

Instead of Wake Forest (4-4, 2-3 Atlantic Coast Conference) grinding up more clock, Miami (7-0, 3-0) got the ball back with

No. 9 Clemson 40, Maryland 27

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Tajh Boyd threw for a touchdown and ran for a score, Sammy Watkins had a schoolrecord 14 catches for 163 yards and No. 9 Clemson wore down injury-riddled Maryland 40-27 on Saturday.

Boyd went 28 for 41 for 304 yards with an interception and Roderick McDowell rushed for 161 yards and two touchdowns to help the Tigers (7-1, 5-1 ACC) rebound from last week's 51-14 defeat against Florida State.

Clemson ran 98 plays compared to 70 for Marvland (5-3. 1-3) and finished with a 551-364 advantage in total yardage. But the Tigers needed four field goals from Chandler Catanzaro to take a 19-13 lead into the fourth quarter.

After that, however, Maryland's defense finally caved. Boyd scored on a 5-yard run and McDowell ran it in from the 3 to make it 33-13 with 7:57 remaining, and a 45yard touchdown run by McDowell gave Clemson a 40-20 lead.

B4 Johnny Football vanquishes Vanderbilt 56-24

KRISTIE RIEKEN AP Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Texas — Johnny Manziel threw for 305 yards and four touchdowns in less than three quarters, and No. 14 Texas A&M bounced back with a 56-24 victory over Vanderbilt on Saturday.

Manziel showed no signs that the right shoulder he injured last week was bothering him. He threw three TDs in the first quarter to help A&M (6-2, 3-2 Southeastern Conference) build a 28-point lead. He tacked on another score before sitting down with 6 minutes left in the third quarter and the Aggies leading 42-17.

The Aggies rebounded from last week's upset loss to Auburn despite playing a messy game where they had five turnovers.

Freshman Patton Robinette had a tough time in his first start filling in for the injured Carta-Samu-Austyn els for Vanderbilt (4-4, 1-4). He threw two interceptions — one was returned for a score — and was sacked five times.

Mike Evans and Derel Walker had two touchdown receptions apiece for A&M.

Jordan Matthews had eight receptions for 92 vards to become the SEC's all-time leader in career yards receiving with 3,172. Kenny Ladler had an interception and forced two fumbles for the Commodores.

Matthews Howard squashed Vanderbilt's momentum and ended a streak of 17 straight points for the Commodores when he intercepted Robinette on the first play of the second half and returned it 32 yards for a touchdown to leave A&M up 35-17.

The Aggies missed an opportunity to pad the lead after that when Travis Labhart caught a 3-yard pass before fumbling. Ladler caused the fumble and it was recovered by Karl Butler in the end zone for a touchback.

Another fumble ended A&M's next drive. Ladler forced this one by Tra Carson and Javon Marshall recovered it.

Vanderbilt But couldn't convert after either of those miscues, and Manziel extended the lead to 42-17 with a 14-yard touchdown throw to Walker which ended the quarterback's day.

The Aggies had great field position on that drive after a dreadful punt by Robinette that traveled just 5 yards.

The Commodores replaced Robinette with Josh Grady after that.

But he didn't fare any better than Robinette, throwing an interception on his first drive. Robinette returned in the fourth quarter and finished 15 of 28 for 216 yards.

Matt Joeckel came in for Manziel on the ensuing drive and connected with Evans on a 10-yard touchdown pass to put A&M up 49-17.

Robinette had a 7-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter for Vanderbilt and Brandon Williams bulled in from 7 yards out to extend A&M's lead later in the fourth.

"Experience the Difference"

My name is Tom Marino and I am the owner of Gingerbread Insurance Agency. I am an 8 year resident of Clermont and I created Gingerbread to answer the growing need for quality professional insurance services. Today we are inundated with television commercials, radio advertisements, emails, and mail about all of the different insurance needs you have. While this is great information, it does not replace a trained professional agent. I can visit your home, place of business, or meet you at a place of your convenience to discuss your insurance options. Building a relationship with you and seeing your needs first hand will allow me to truly create an insurance plan that meets your needs. In addition, our Gingerbread Agents are committed to review your insurance with you before each renewal to ensure your needs are met. As an Independent Insurance Agency we can help compare prices and rates from several insurance carriers and find the most effective combination of coverage for the best price.

Ask yourself these three questions.

- 1. Has it been more than a year since you met with your Agent and reviewed your insurance needs?
- 2. Did you choose your insurance online?
- 3. Do you have a nagging feeling in the back of your mind that the online policy you purchased might cover too much, or worse...not enough?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, we can help you!

So, if you're looking for the most knowledgeable advice on quotes, coverage, and service, please call us now!

Serena Williams of the USA returns a shot to Jelena Jankovic of Serbia on Saturday during their semifinal tennis match at the WTA Championship in Istanbul, Turkey.

Ailing Serena rallies to make WTA final vs. Li Na

AP Sports Writer

ISTANBUL — Serena Williams, in obvious discomfort and walking slowly during changeovers, struggled past Jelena Jankovic 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 on Saturday and will play Li Na in the final of the WTA Championships.

Li advanced to her first WTA Championships final by sweeping 2011 winner Petra Kvitova 6-4, 6-2, setting up a showdown Sunday between the two oldest players in the tournament.

It's only the second time in the history of the event that two players over 30 — Williams at 32 and Li at 31 have made it to the last four. The season-ending tournament brings together the top eight players in the world.

It was not clear what was bothering Williams. She did not move well on the court and frequently held her head wrapped in a towel during changeovers. Williams tried to keep the points short and often winced.

Jankovic was unable to take advantage of whatever was bothering Williams, who is one win from her fourth WTA Championship and 11th title of the year.

Williams wasted a match point and failed to serve out the match at 5-2, and Jankovic won two straight games.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL Rarity for baseball's top teams to meet in World Series

RONALD BLUM Associated Press

ST. LOUIS — The teams with the best records in each league used to meet in the World Series every year.

Now it's a rarity.

Boston and St. Louis are the first since 1999, when the New York Yankees swept Atlanta.

"You definitely have to be hot and play good baseball, maybe for a little bit longer," Boston pitcher Jake Peavy said before his Game 3 start Saturday night.

From 1903 through 1968, the top teams had to meet in the World Series. There were no playoffs.

Then the ÅL voted in May 1968 to split into divisions the following year when the Kansas City Royals and Seattle Pilots joined to create a 12-club league. While the NL was adding the Montreal Expos and San Diego Padres, it initially refused to start a playoff.

"It would be a contradiction of baseball history and tradition to divide the league and then see a team that finished fourth or fifth in percentage playing in the World Series," NL President Warren Giles said at the time.

Two months later, the NL gave in when owners met again in Houston after the All-Star game at the Astrodome. The two division winners would meet in a league championship series, initially best-of-five and then expanded to best-of-seven starting in 1985. In the 25 years of a four-team postseason, the World Series featured the top teams in each league just nine times.

Then in September 1993, a year after Bud Selig became acting commissioner, owners voted to split each league into three divisions the following year and add another round of playoffs, a best-of-five division series. The postseason would double to eight teams.

The vote was 27-1, with Texas Rangers owner George W. Bush — the future president — the lone dissenter. "I made my arguments and went down in flames," Bush said. "History will prove me right."

After a one-year delay caused by the 7½-month players' strike, the expanded playoffs began in 1995, when teams played a 144-game schedule because of the walkout. The top teams met that October, with Atlanta defeating Cleveland in six games.

It didn't happen again until 1999. And after that until this year, the second after the playoffs expanded to 10 teams with the addition of a second wild card in each league.

"That's another manifestation of how tough it is," Selig said this week.

Selig defends his system, pointing out fewer teams make the MLB playoffs than in the other major leagues (12 of 32 in the NFL, 16 of 30 in the NBA and NHL).

Some refer to the postseason as tournament baseball. Playing well at the right time is more important that excellence and consistency over the long haul. The 2001 Seattle Mariners were the biggest casualty. They went 116-46 during the regular season for a .716 winning percentage, the best in the major leagues since the 1954 Indians went 116-46 (.721). Seattle lost the ALCS to the Yankees in five games.

"Doesn't matter if you won 85 to get in the playoffs or 185 to get in the playoffs. It's how you finish," said Aaron Sele, the loser in New York's clincher.

With the advent of the one-game, winner-take-all wild-card playoff, winning divisions has taken on more urgency. For more than a decade, the main difference between division winner and wild card was home-field advantage.

"That one-game playoff is a nightmare," Cardinals pitcher Adam Wainwright said.

Stroud, Moore take share of lead at CIMB Classic

JUSTIN BERGMAN Associated Press

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia — Chris Stroud and Ryan Moore both overcame mistakes and bogeys on the back nine Saturday to take a share of the lead after the third round of the CIMB Classic.

Stroud started the day five strokes back but surged into contention after five birdies on the front nine — including four in a row — before hitting into the water on the 12th hole and carding two bogeys for a 4-under 68.

Moore (69) opened up a three-shot lead on the back nine only to bogey four of five holes to give it right back. Both were on 12-under 204, one stroke ahead of their nearest rivals.

"There's trouble everywhere," Moore said. "It doesn't take that bad of a shot to get in a very bad spot out here, with the rough the way it is, the fairways as narrow as they are."

The tricky conditions led to huge momentum swings throughout the day at the PGA Tour event, with plenty of balls in the water and in the rough beneath the palm trees lining the course at the Kuala Lumpur Golf and Country Club. BMW Masters

SHANGHAI — American Luke Guthrie stumbled at the end of the third round and wound up tied for the lead with Spain's Rafa Cabrera-Bello in the BMW Masters.

Guthrie has led the European Tour event since his 65 in the opening round, and he had a three-shot lead at one point on the back nine at Lake Malaren. But his tee shot caught the bunker on the 16th, leading to a bogey. And he was in such an awkward spot on the 18th green that Guthrie felt his best option was to chip off the putting surface. He missed an 8-foot putt to take another bogey for an even-par 72.

LPGA Taiwan

Taipei, TAIWAN — Defending champion Suzann Pettersen struggled with three early bogeys but recovered for a 1-over 73 to maintain a fourshot lead in the LPGA Taiwan Championship.

The Norwegian dropped three shots over the first five holes but had three birdies and just one more bogey the rest of the way to finish three rounds at 6-under 210. Azahara Munoz (69), Sun Young Yoo (72) and Carlota Ciganda (72) were tied for second at Sunrise Golf and Country Club.

The second-ranked Pettersen has three LPGA Tour victories this year, winning in Portland, Ore., and France in consecutive starts last month. She also won a Ladies European Tour event this year in China.

Taiwanese star Yani Tseng, the 2011 winner, was 10 over after a 72. Winless in 41 LPGA Tour since the 2012 Kia Classic, she has tumbled from first to 25th in the world ranking in seven months.

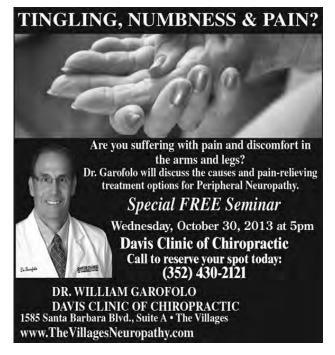

AT&T Championship

SAN ANTONIO — Kenny Perry bogeyed the final hole to drop into a fiveway tie for the lead in the Champions Tour's AT&T Championship.

The Charles Schwab Cup points leader followed his opening 65 with a 71 to match Mike Goodes, Bernhard Langer, Colin Montgomerie and Anders Forsbrand at 8 under.

Goodes had the round of the day, shooting a 63 on TPC San Antonio's AT&T Canyons Course to jump 43 spots on the leaderboard. Montgomerie had a 68, and Langer and Forsbrand shot 69.

The top 30 on the money list Sunday will advance to the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship next week at TPC Harding Park in San Francisco.

Some NFL injuries more impactful than others

BARRY WILNER AP Pro Football Writer

The rash of injuries to high-profile players overshadowed last weekend's NFL action.

To see Reggie Wayne tearfully coming to grips with a torn knee ligament that ended his season was sad for more than just Colts fans. Wayne is among the most respected players in the sport.

Knowing that Brian Cushing, the heart of the Houston defense, was gone for the second straight year with a knee injury was hard to fathom. Nobody plays harder or with more vigor.

And Sam Bradford, finally beginning to look as though he could become a franchise quarterback, having his season end with a torn ACL was gut-wrenching.

"It's the luck of the draw if you get hurt badly," says Bill Polian, who built the Bills and Colts into Super Bowl teams. "All during our time with the Colts and Bills we did extensive studies.

"You study injuries over a long period of time, you find the process is always the same: Injuries ramp up until Week 9 or Week 10 and tend to level off. Why? I don't know. It's the history of it."

It's also something teams must prepare for, and not only on the field. Yes, it's crucial to build depth, although that's becoming near impossible at some positions, notably quarterback, where the drop-off from starter to backup is often immeasurable.

Chicago Bears quarterback Jay Cutler lies on the field after being injured in a sack by Washington Redskins defensive end Chris Baker on Oct. 20 in Landover, Md.

It's also important to build in safeguards under the salary cap to account for injuries. Of course, when there is an epidemic at a specific position, even that extra spending room doesn't help much.

"You find it very difficult and rare, maybe once every four or five years, that you get a complete 53-man team," says Polian, who would set aside from $3 million to $5 million under the cap while with the Colts to account for injuries. "It's almost impossible to do on an ongoing basis.

"Eventually, the salary cap forces you to discard players. When you are in a position when you do not have that kind of (deep) roster, if you have catastrophic injuries to key players, you won't recover."

Bradford would be at the top of the impactful injuries list because he seemed to be making strides. The No. 1 overall selection in the 2010 draft will be replaced by journeyman Kellen Clemens.

Jay Cutler would be next most meaningful, and his absence comes when the Bears have Green Bay, Detroit and Baltimore ahead after their bye.

Throw in Robert Griffin III's slow recovery from his offseason knee surgery, which held back the Redskins in a weak division.

Julio Jones and Reggie Wayne will have the biggest effect on their teams of any receiver. When the Falcons pulled off their huge trade in 2011 to get Jones as their gamebreaker, they envisioned an unstoppable offense. Jones would be the deep threat who made everyone else more dangerous.

This season, even with Jones in the lineup, the Falcons were struggling.

OURVOICE City should fund Main Street fixes he phrase "Main Street" conjures images of small-town America, of homespun values, of close communities and a healthy work ethic.

But America's cultural landscape has changed in the last 60 years, relegating the idea of Main Street and that old-fashioned downtown to the outskirts of this nation's history. Main Street U.S.A. is a diminishing phenomenon in this high-tech age of electronic shopping and bigbox stores.

Small-town leaders often erect signs directing motorists and residents to their downtowns, which showcase their communities' personality and uniqueness.

The iconic Main Streets — the ones that represent simpler, easier times — are worthy of restoration, for the sake of the communities they represent and for the people who are looking for an anchor to their hometowns.

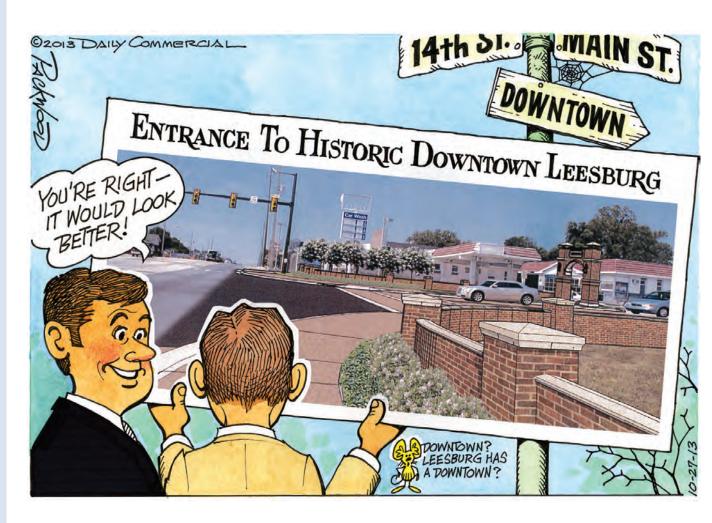

This is what some Leesburg leaders are proposing. They want to establish the Gateway Streetscape project that would point people to the city's downtown, as it runs along Main Street.

We support the idea and urge city officials to pursue the project.

Leesburg's downtown is worth visiting. But few people outside Lake County are aware of its existence.

Main Street — with its assorted downtown establishments — connects U.S. Highways 27 and 441. Motorists on those busy roads have no visible indication the city even has a downtown — other than the small, green street signs. And even those who are aware of downtown Leesburg are met with some unwelcome sights as they turn onto Main Street.

Proponents of the project think that's a shame. Although officials say the city doesn't have the $1.2 million necessary for the project, supporters say the money would be a good investment and should take priority over other, less visible, expenditures. City commissioners are expected to discuss the project at a workshop Monday. We believe this is a sound investment in the city's future and urge city officials to find project funding. Gateway Streetscape goes to the core of what Leesburg is.

LETTER of the WEEK

President Obama, Congress played the blame game

I have read several articles (both on the Internet and in the newspapers) and have watched hours of television leading up to and since the vote to end the government shutdown, (and whatever else was in the bill).

Instead of standing up and saying, "We are going to take steps and correct how we do business in Washington, D.C.," both sides, Congress and the president, continued to play the "blame game."

The problems of how our elected officials do business is not going to go away until the voice of the people is both heard and acted upon in the nation's capital. The voters sent senators and representatives there to carry out their wishes, not to vote based on their own wants and desires. I will proudly state that I am a conservative. I am proud of those in Congress who stood their ground and voted against this bill that only adds more problems down the road. If you polled the voters in their districts I'm sure you would find that these representatives and senators did exactly what their constituents wanted. Can those who voted to "kick the can down the road" say the same? I wonder.

HAVE YOUR SAY

The Daily Commercial invites you to write letters to the editor expressing your original thoughts on topics of public interest. Letters should be no longer than 350 words. They must be original, signed with the full name of the writer, and include the writer's address and telephone number for verification. We reserve the right to edit for length to make room for more letters. Letters also will be edited for grammar, clarity, taste and libel. We accept no more than two letters per month from the same writer. No open letters, form letters or copies of letters to third parties will be published. We do not publish unsigned letters. Submissions are not returned. We retain the right to archive and republish any material submitted for publication.

You can submit your letters by: Email (preferred) to: letters@dailycommercial.com By regular mail to: Voices PO. Box 490007 Leesburg, FL 34749-0007 By fax to: 325-365-1951

EDITORIALS

Editorials are the consensus opinion of the editorial board, not any individual. They are written by the editorial staff but are not signed. Local editorials are published Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

COLUMNS

Columns are the opinion of the writer whose byline and picture appears with them. They do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the newspaper, and are chosen to represent a diversity of views.

If you would like to submit a guest column on a local, state or national issue, email your submission to letters@ dailycommercial.com, or mail it to Voices, PO. Box 490007, Leesburg, FL 34749-0007.

Guest columns should be limited to 550 words in length. The writer also must submit a recent photo to be published with the column, as well as a brief biographical sketch.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

You see, the only way we, (yes, I mean all of us), are going to get our beloved nation back on track is to stand up for what we know is right and place only those in office who will do the same.

YOURVOICES

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

issary on earth support that judgment? Surely God has not directly conveyed to him that He has changed His law, because in Malachi 3:6 God says that He does not change.

When anyone refuses to remind people of flagrant violations of God's law, they are guilty of disobedience. Read the very short book of Jude, and 2 Timothy 4:1-4. So who is doing the judging? God's word.

JAMES S. FRANKLIN | Fruitland Park

Lamenting the Peabody

People come from all over the globe to visit Orlando because of its uniqueness theme parks, weather, and nearby beaches. Some of our experiences offer an edge, making it an outstanding experience. Such an attraction was the Peabody Hotel with its Ducks and Duck Master and the red carpet they walked on when making their entrance.

That all came to an end with the sale of the Peabody to a competitor who had no imagination, snapping defeat right out of the jaws of victory. Why would someone take apart such an aesthetically pleasing attraction?

The easy answer is to purchase the competition and reduce it to a more manageable level, removing it as a competitive threat. You don't have to be smarter, just better funded.

Along with these rewards will come the annual executive bonuses for a job well-done. Thank heaven 'those bonuses can be taken to the next job when this one goes south (pun intended).

The pope has it wrong

The Catholic church now has a "Pope" who refuses to condemn homosexuality. He said that his mission is not to judge, but to show mercy and love. But when someone points out what God says about any subject, it is not the individual that is judging.

God made His judgment from the beginning. In Leviticus 18: 22-30, 20-13; Deuteronomy 23:17-18; 1 Kings 14:24; and 2 Kings 23:7, God made it perfectly clear that homosexuality was an abomination to Him.

Read Genesis 19:1-14 to see what happened to the city of Sodom and why. And under the law of Jesus Christ, they are said to be "worthy of death" in Romans 1:14-32, while in 1 Corinthians 6:9-10, and 1 Timothy 1:9-10, it is said that they will not inherit the kingdom of God. That means they are going to hell.

With the judgment of God so clearly defined, should not the one who is supposedly God's em-

Feeding the hungry should be year-round concern

magine seeing these words on a billboard as you are driving yourself and the family to dinner: "Please Give ... No one should go hungry at Thanksgivng!"

I actually read those words recently. Although it may be a true and desperate plea, it has always baffled me. We see these signs during the holidays every year. It almost sounds as if any other day of the year a good nutritious meal doesn't much matter.

Chances are, if it looks like you're not going to have a Thanksgiving meal, the Old-fashioned ways would make this a safer, more secure world

A generation ago kids grew up with rubber tomahawks, rubber knives, wooden swords, bows and arrows, cap guns, cork guns, water guns and sling shots, plus army men and wind-up tanks. How did all this stuff turn into bad stuff today?

We grew up with Roy Rogers, Wild Bill Hickock, the Rifleman and many others shooting the bad guys. We would play cops and robbers and cowboys and Indians all day every day.

My parents bought me my first real gun for Christmas when I was 10 years old. My friends also had real guns and we never shot anyone.

We have a lot of crime today because bad people are robbing, raping, stabbing and shooting people and are getting away with it. If more bad people were getting shot doing bad things crime would go down.

Did you ever hear of a gun store getting robbed during working hours? Why not? Common sense!

Almost all the victims of violent cirme were unarmed and never thought it would happen to them. Do you own a gun? Where is it?

other days prior were not too promising either. Think about it for a moment. Why is so much emphasis placed on feeding families during the holidays and at the stroke of midnight on January 1, it's business as usual?

I realize that many organizations do collect items througout the year. If families that we knew were in need of food, we didn't wait for the calendar to dictate to us when they could enjoy a meal that so many of us take for granted as if we are entitled.

If my neighbor is hungry, then I too should be hunBrynda Turner-Hughes gry. If I am eating, my neighbor should have that choice as well. If it were as little as a slice of bread, we should not take a bite until we knew every single empty mouth within our range could be fed.

Maybe we would place a thought in our minds that we would not place our feet under our dining table until we knew our hungry neighbors could do the same.

If we would willingly give what we have been richly blessed with, imagine how Jesus would multiply that.

I believe we all know at least one family who needs consistent assistance in many areas due to unforseen circumstances. They are often referred to as lazy. Because we are not destitute today does not make us better, it makes us opportunists. Opportunists who are given the opportunity to make a difference in helping our brother or sister.

My window may be open and yours may be closed, but you will still feel the air because we are close; we are sharing.

I have experienced that you can never give more to anyone than Jesus will return to you and you will never miss what you have given to those who need. As much as you give, your return will be much more.

As we embark on yet another holiday season, let's choose to remember that people are in need every day, regardless of the season. They're not hard to find. They are our brothers and sisters. We must make a point to share each other's burdens.

Brynda Turner-Hughes lives in Lady Lake

It only takes about four seconds for a home invasion. If you think things are bad today, wait a few years. Things and places may be blowing up like in other countries and like what happened in Boston. Think about it. A lot of people in other countries want to come over here and kill all of us.

The government says 11 million people already sneaked into our country. Whatever happens will happen from people already here or will be from people coming across our secure borders.

I think the government creates problems then comes up with a solution, which means less liberty and less freedom and less privacy for all of us — all in the name of safety.

More government control over all of us.

Venezuela government seizes toilet paper factory

The latest news from the forefront of the Bolivarian Socialist Revolution in Venezuela is the government's seizure of a toilet paper factory.

In carrying out a "temporary occupation" of the Paper Manufacturing Company's plant, the government was staging an effort to show it is combating shortages of food.

Economists say the blame falls on the government's attempt to control prices.

Venezuela's President Nicolas Maduro has blamed the shortages, instead, on a conspiracy of his political opponents and the rich.

The Bolivarian Socialist Revolution was invented by Hugo Chavez.

As Karl Marx wrote, history repeats itself "the first time as tragedy, the second as farce."

Babette's celebrates 25 years in business

THERESA CAMPBELL Staff Writer

theresacampbell@dailycommercial.com

Babette's Furniture and Home Shoppe is the largest furniture and accessories showroom in Central Florida with a 55,000 square-foot building in Leesburg, which is a far cry from when Gary and Babette Ward started the company 25 years ago from a double-wide trailer.

"Our business model from day one has been to offer a variety of products, offer it at a fair price, and offer service in an atmosphere that is comfortable for the customer," Gary said.

The Wards and their staff of nearly 50 employees have been focused on treating customers the way that they would like to be treated.

Have you ever been in a place where you felt like you were attacked by sales people, or where nobody is paying attention to you?

The Wards have had those kind of experiences, and they believe customers deserve quality service.

"The core of our business model is selection, fair pricing, service, and concern with you as consumer, more about you than it is about us," Gary said. "When you come in here, it's not about what we want to see you, it's about listening to you tell us what you need."

Babette's is committed to having appealing, unique furnishings and accessories.

Gary's father was in furniture sales, so Gary grew up in the business and he delivered furniture as a teenager. After college, he returned to the furniture business, working for other companies.

"Then 25 years ago we decided that we would work for ourselves," he said.

Gary was the one who suggested Babette's name for the business. "It's a much prettier name" he said "One of er name," he said. "One of the things that the store has always been known for are gifts, accessories, pictures, lamps, and that all of Babettes creation over all of these years. She has brought in things with great prices that people really love."

The Wards grew the business over the years. In 2001, they built the first phase of the new business with 30,000 square feet; in 2005, they added an additional 25,000 square feet.

"Most who have ventured in here are struck by the display, the products and are amazed how big the store is. It doesn't look as big from the highway," Gary said.

Babette's carries top brands of furniture, including Flexsteel, La-Z-Boy, Lane, Bassett, Hooker, and American Drew to name a few. The store also has a wide array of artwork, rugs, bedding ensembles and accessories, and specializes in custom orders and a noncommissioned design team.

The Wards are joined by their two children, Megan, who works in the gift area, and Brian, who assists his father in the office. Brian's wife, Gina, handles marketing for the company.

"We are so grateful to our community for supporting our business for so long," Babette said. The store has been offering a 15 percent discount on furniture throughout October and 25 percent off on accessories.

"It is a pleasure to give back to the people who have helped grow this dream of ours. We couldn't have done it without them," Gary said.

Obama: Grade 'A' in politics and an 'F' in governing s we approach the end of the president's fifth year in office I thought about how I would assign him a letter grade thus far in office. Having now won the presidency twice I would think him worthy of an "A" in politics but give him a dismal "F" in governing. His political strategy, although Machiavellian, has been extremely effective. The recent government shutdown and debt ceiling crisis have been a deliberate political strategy developed by the president and Democratic-controlled Senate to create these multiple crises caused by the Senate's refusal to pass a budget. The thinking behind the no-budget decision is that it prevents the big spending Democrat senators from revealing their agenda, but more importantly it creates a self-made crisis in which the president and the Democrats know in advance that the so-called "main stream" media will immediately blame the Republicans if they try to cut spending or not increase the debt ceiling. This was first learned during the Clinton Administration and has now become the political standard method of operation for the president and his party. Those "Republican rascals" in the House who were elected to reduce the size and cost of government are painted as the bad guys/gals as we continue to borrow money at a staggering amount. We have now passed $17 trillion in debt and are heading toward $18 trillion seemingly oblivious to the ultimate consequences. As Obamacare is now officially revealed we see that most every promise that the president made was not only false but dramatically wrong. For those limited Americans who have been able to get on the Obamacare website, a good portion of them receive a major dose of sticker shock as to the increased cost they will incur. Obamacare may well be the biggest political con job ever put over on the American ference which was held after the dismal roll out of the Obamacare website the Washington Press Corps did not ask one single question of the president regarding the debacle! Amazing lack of professional journalism! The president certainly earned an "A+" in his campaign to beat Mitt Romney. He did tell us in advance that "If you don't have a record to run on, you demonize your opponent." The president and his team did exactly that and with the "main stream" media cheering him on they collectively pulled it off.

both Mitt Romney and Barack Obama, minus their names on the resumes it would be a "no brainer " as to observing the dramatic differences in work history, management experience, business acumen and success, and personal philanthropy. Admittedly, Romney's personalty often came across as bland and stilted, but from the perspective of CEO preparation he was probably one of the best prepared candidates in our nation's history. I remain mystified as to how you successfully demonize a man of Romney's character but the president's team really

Frequently you hear of investors buying nothing but gold with the intent of holding only precious minerals when the world's economy collapses. Meanwhile, though, you can't trade gold for gasoline or bread, so it is a virtually illiquid commodity to harbor, even in relatively tranquil economic times. Many investors hold about five to eight percent of commodities in their portfolios. This varies, of course, but preapocalypse, it's hard to take a brick of gold down to Home Depot on Saturday and trade it for flowers, potting soil and a garden hose.

One year thousands of folks bought beanie babies, planning to sell them when their value reached its zenith. The beanie babies craze died on the vine, though. Pokemon cards were the rage, but shockingly, they didn't hold their value. My son loves baseball cards, and talks dreamily of one day finding a Honus Wagner (didn't he write operas?) in perfect condition. But wisely, he salts money away in his qualified retirement plan, instead.

If your great-grandfather bought just one share of Coca-Cola in 1919 for $40.00 and if the dividends were reinvested, that one share would be worth around $9 million today. Adjusted for inflation, $40.00 in 1919 is worth about $540.00 today. Most Americans could scare up $540.00 by brown-bagging lunch for a few weeks and could then afford to buy about 13 shares of KO at today's share price. Sure beats storing all those beanie babies in the closet.

McKesson launches bid for Germany's Celesio

The Associated Press{

BERLIN — U.S. pharmaceutical distributor McKesson Corp. has launched an $8.3 billion takeover offer for German competitor Celesio AG.

McKesson signed an agreement with German company Haniel to acquire its 50.01 percent stake in Celesio and is making an offer to other shareholders at 23 euros a share. The offer represents a 5.8 percent premium to Celesio's closing share price.

San Francisco-based McKesson is also assuming Celesio's outstanding debt, lifting the value of the deal up to $8.3 billion. Celesio's management has welcomed the offer.

McKesson supplies medicines to half of U.S. hospitals, as well as doctors and health plans. It has more than 37,000 employees and reported revenue of $122.7 billion last year.

When Iris Ramirez Reese went looking for traditional Puerto Rican seasoning at a North Carolina supermarket, an employee "directed me to the Taco Bell box, and they were calling it the Spanish food section," she recalls.

"So I made a conscious decision that I need to help this company to bring my food here, my products here."

That was at a Food Lion supermarket in 1998, not long after Ramirez Reese — the first in her Puerto Rican family to be born on the U.S. mainland, raised in New York — and her husband moved to North Carolina.

In 1999, Ramirez Reese, who at the time owned an interpretation and translation services company, shared her concerns with local Food Lion officials. They contracted with her to help bring in authentic products, create internal procedures and take other steps to attract and retain Hispanic consumers. "We did 16 cities in 16 weeks," Ramirez Reese said. "Then they contracted me again to come in and help them train their associates."

She went to Food Lion supermarkets from North Carolina's Outer Banks up the East Coast to help stores match their demographics with its food.

Ramirez Reese now owns Fusion Multicultural Marketing & Communications, a firm that focuses on the changing cultural marketing landscape. She and others urge communities and small-business owners to pay attention to two important sumers and Hispanicowned businesses.

Latino consumers are part of the fastest growing ethnic segment, according to a 2012 report on Hispanic consumers from Nielsen, which provides information and insight on consumer activity. It projects the Hispanic segment will increase 167 percent from 2010 to 2050, compared to 42 percent for the total population.

Major pension funds ask for climate change study

KEVIN BEGOS Associated Press

PITTSBURGH — Some of the largest pension funds in the U.S. and the world are worried that major fossil fuel companies may not be as profitable in the future because of efforts to limit climate change, and they want details on how the firms will manage a long-term shift to cleaner energy sources.

In a statement, leaders of 70 funds said they're asking 45 of the world's top oil, gas, coal and electric power companies to do detailed assessments of how efforts to control climate change could impact their businesses.

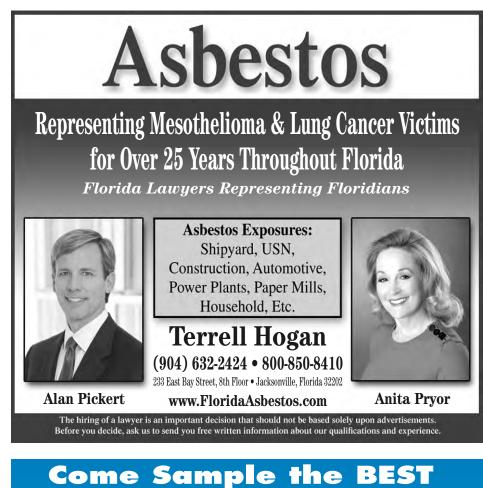

"Institutional investors must think over the long term, which means that we must take environmental risks into consideration when we make investments," New York State Comptroller Thomas Di-Napoli told The Associated Press in a statement.

The state's Common Retirement Fund manages almost $161 billion of investments.

Fossil fuels currently provide about 80 percent of all the energy used in the world.

The pension funds say that because it takes decades to recoup the huge investments required for fossil fuel exploration, there's a significant chance that future regulations will limit production or impose expensive pollution-control requirements that would reduce the fuels' profitability.

power of $1 trillion in 2010 and $1.5 trillion by 2015 require thoughtful understanding about what the market represents to a company's bottom line," the report states.

The number of Hispanic-owned businesses is also rapidly increasing, providing jobs and driving economies in communities across the nation.

From 2002 to 2007, the number of Hispanic-owned business grew from 1.57 million to more than 2.26 million with more than $350 billion in revenue, according to a report from Geoscape, which provides multicultural intelligence to companies, and the U.S. Hispanic Chamber of Commerce. The number of U.S. Hispanicowned businesses is projected to grow to more than 3.16 million this year, the report states.

To understand the purchasing habits of the Latino demographic, owners need consulting companies, said Casey Steinbacher, president and CEO of the Greater Durham Chamber of Commerce.

"There are consumer spending habits by the Hispanic community in every aspect of daily consumption," Steinbacher said. "You iust have to know and understand the cultural differences, and the product differences, and the buyingpurchasing difference that they bring to the marketplace so that you take the best advantage of that."

Ramirez Reese advises owners to seek training to understand the norms and nuances of the Latino culture and avoid misconceptions. Owners should ensure their materials are professionally produced and culturally and linguistically inclusive, she said.

Owners should also set up an internal structure, such as a bilingual salesperson, to respond to demand. "You have one time to capture or lose that market," she said.

Roberto Cardoso, 48, opened Havana Grill in Cary in June 2007. Cardoso was born in Cuba, but moved to Miami with his parents when he was 10. After nearly 30 years of owning or working for restaurants in Miami, Cardoso moved his family to North Carolina in 2005.

He's built a healthy business over the years, he said.

"We keep our culture. We keep our stuff, but everything is pretty much in English, or my menu is in Spanish and English," Cardoso said. "I am not saying you have to change your roots or change your tradition, but you need to adjust and everybody has got to feel welcome."

Ramirez Reese and her husband, David Reese, moved to Durham in 1997, when she started interpreting for two health care facilities.

In 1999, she founded La Conexion Latina, a company providing interpretation, translation and graphic design services. During her business's first year, Ramirez Reese started consulting for Food Lion.

In 2000, Ramirez Reese opened Fusion Multicultural Marketing & Communications, a Durham firm that works with about 20 companies in a dozen states.

And she is proud when she walks into Food Lion and finds an expanded Latino section.

"I love being able to walk into the store and know that I am going to find cilantro, I am going to find all those things that were staples in my household for many generations," she said.

percentage play in hearts, missing three to the king, was to lead the jack from dummy and finesse. This would offer a much better chance of avoid-the ace in the hope of catching the singleton king. But before committing himself to this line of play, South decided to collect a bit more information about the opposing hands. So at trick four,

An Anti-Percentage Play

Dad who runs to dinner date causes a stink for daughter

DEAR ABBY: I meet my dad for dinner once a week, which we both enjoy and have done for years. Dad stays very healthy and enjoys running and biking, which I completely support and admire him for.

The problem is, he has started running to our meals. He sweats a lot when he runs, so he arrives at the restaurant literally dripping. He then grabs a handful of napkins to wipe off, and lifts his shirt to wipe his face and neck with it. Abby, he's so sweaty that he has dripped on the counter when he signed the receipt.

I find this unbelievably rude, not just to me but to the restaurant. This wouldn't even be appropriate in a fastfood joint — but this ISN'T one. It's a nice restaurant where people are trying to enjoy their meal. I feel if he wants to run to our dinners, he should arrange to get there early enough so he can dry off in a bathroom and change his shirt. He insists it's no big deal and that sweating is "normal."

What should I do? This is really getting to me. - DISGUSTED IN SE-ATTLE

DEAR DISGUSTED: While I, too, admire your father's dedication to physical fitness, I can understand why his behavior would bother you. It is gross. If you haven't already expressed to him how inconsiderate this is, please do.

Because your father likes to run to the restaurant, consider stashing a supply of towels and shirts in the trunk of your car for him to change into in the men's room out of view of other patrons. (And don't forget the deodorant.) If he refuses to cooperate, then please — for everyone's sake — pick him up and transport him to the restaurant. Just reading your letter is enough to make the famished lose their appetite. DEAR ABBY: I was 33 and newly divorced when I was finally able to experience living by myself. I kind of loved it. My boyfriend, "Alex," and I have lived together for almost four years and I almost never get time to be by myself.

Alex gets alone time because I'll sometimes have dinner with girlfriends, volunteer, go to the theater, etc. But he almost never leaves. He's somewhat social, but he always invites people over; he never goes to them. I have told Alex many times that I need him to give me some time alone in the house, but nothing comes of it.

He left for a couple of days to visit a relative two years ago (it was partly my idea) and it was great! I loved my solitude, and it was also nice to welcome Alex back home afterward. It was the first time I'd had a break! I don't want to wait another two years to get my house to myself for a while, but how?

- CRAVES "ME" TIME IN PORTLAND, ORE.

DEAR CRAVES "ME" TIME: In order to accomplish it, you are going to have to become more proactive. Many people need solitude to decompress; you are not the only one.

TELL Alex you need time alone in the house and that he will need to make other plans for a specific day. If that's hard for him, call some of the friends he has been inviting over – after all this time, you probably know most of them — and ask them to invite him over a couple of times a month. They may be able to help you pry him out of the house. If they are unsuccessful, it looks like Alex will have to visit his relatives on a more regular basis.

Bridge is largely a game of percentages, but it is first and foremost a game of reasoning. Whenever possible, a player should try to improve on the cold mathematical percentages by putting to use any extraneous information he might gain as the play progresses. If he does this regularly, he will occasionally discover that the so-called percentage play is destined to lose, and that his only real chance is to adopt an anti-percentage play. Marlboro maker Altria 3Q profit more than doubles

AP Tobacco Writer

RICHMOND, Va. — Altria Group's third-quarter profit more than doubled as the Marlboro maker paid out less in legal settlements and freed itself from charges related to paying off debt early last year.

Higher prices and volumes for both cigarettes and smokeless tobacco bolstered its underlying results, which topped Wall Street expectations.

The owner of the nation's biggest cigarette maker, Philip Morris USA, posted earnings Thursday of $1.39 billion, or 70 cents per share. That's up from $657 million, or 32 cents a share, in the year-ago period, which included a $874 million charge for a loss on early extinguishment of debt.

Excluding one-time items, earnings were 65 cents per share, beating analyst estimates by a penny. That excludes a $145 million benefit from credits for disputed payments under the 1998 Master Settlement Agreement in which some cigarette makers are paying states for smoking-related health care costs.

Revenue for the Richmond, Va., company, excluding excise taxes, increased 6.6 percent to $4.8 billion. Analysts expected $4.53 bil-

Its shares fell 13 cents to $36.25 in early morning trading Thursday.

Volumes increased more than one percent to 34.1 billion cigarettes compared with a year ago. Adjusting for trade inventory changes, cigarette volumes fell 3 percent during the quarter, compared with a total industry decline of 3.5 percent.

Marlboro volumes grew 1.5 percent, while volume for its other premium brands fell by more than 7 percent, and volumes for discount cigarette brands like L&M increased 5 percent.

points to 50.7 percent. Marlboro's share of the U.S. market was flat at 43.7 percent.

The Marlboro brand has been under pressure from competitors and lowerpriced cigarette brands amide economic uncertainty and high unemployment.

That's on top of the tax hikes, smoking bans and a social stigma that have made the cigarette business tougher.

The Marlboro brand sold for an average of $5.86 per pack during the third quarter, compared with an average of $4.36 per pack for the cheapest brand.

The company has introduced several new products with the Marlboro brand, often with lower promotional pricing, to try to keep the brand growing and to lure smokers away from its competitors.

Altria and others are focusing on cigarette alternatives — such as electronic cigarettes, cigars, snuff and chewing tobacco — for future sales growth because the decline in cigarette smoking is expected to continue.

After launching its first electronic cigarette under the MarkTen brand in Indiana in August, Altria said Thursday that its NuMark subsidiary plans to expand into Arizona in December.

Boston Scientific to cut up to 1,500 jobs

The Associated Press

NATICK, Mass. — Boston Scientific Corp. plans to shed as many as 1,500 jobs worldwide, or 6 percent of its workforce, in an effort to cut costs.

The company also said that its CFO is leaving. Boston Scientific is promoting its corporate controller to replace him.

The Natick, Mass.-based medical device maker had already announced up to 1,000 job cuts in January in response to limited growth prospects in certain markets and taxes related to the health care overhaul. That's on top of a 2011 costcutting plan that included the elimination of 1,200 to 1,400 jobs. The company has about 24,000 employees.

In the newest plan, it said it will eliminate 1,100 to 1,500 jobs over the next two years through attrition and layoffs. It hopes to trim annual operating expenses by up to $200 million and invest some of the savings in initiatives that will bolster its growth.

The company's shares fell 38 cents, or 3.1 percent, to $11.91 in morning trading. The stock has been trading around five-year highs.

The company said sales of implantable defibrillators and pacemakers improved slightly compared to last year. Boston Scientific and its competitors have suffered through a broader, multiyear slump in use of the heart-shocking devices following a series of recalls that affected all of the major manufacturers.

Boston Scientific on Thursday reported a third-quarter loss of $5 million, or break-even per share, compared with a loss of $664 million, or 48 cents per share, in last year's quarter. If one-time items are excluded the company said it earned 17 cents per share. Its revenue was unchanged at $1.74 billion.

FEATURE STORY 'The War of the Worlds' rages anew on 'American Experience'

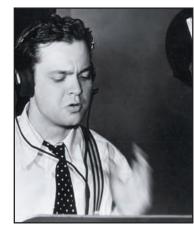

By Jay Bobbin © Zap2it

Oct. 30, 1938, started as a fairly typical Halloween Eve ... but it ended with many people convinced Martians were attacking.

The reason was one of the most famous hours in the history of broadcasting: "The War of the Worlds," Orson Welles' "Mercury Theatre on the Air" CBS radio adaptation of the H.G. Wells science-fiction novel. The 75th anniversary of the program, and its effect on untold numbers of terrified listeners, is marked by a new episode of PBS' "American Experience" Tuesday, Oct. 29 (check local listings).

Oliver Platt ("The Big C") narrates the account, which merges audio clips and comments from "witnesses" (actually actors voicing people's reactions from the time) with relevant interviews. Welles' daughter Chris Welles Feder and filmmaker Peter Bogdanovich - who became a close friend of Welles - are among those recalling how latecomers thought the radio play was an actual newscast, prompting widespread fear before a disclaimer (purposely delayed by Welles) reaffirmed it was all fake.

"I think it's such a fascinating topic, historically and sociologically, why that program caused a national panic," Feder says in an interview for this article. "Even if I wasn't personally involved with it, I would be interested in watching this.

"A lot of people did what, in those days, was called 'dialtwiddling.' They would start with one show, then go over to another, so a lot of people simply didn't hear the opening (of 'The War of the Worlds') that made it clear this was a fictional radio drama, as it always was on 'Mercury Theatre on the Air.' If people had heard that, I'm sure it would have avoided a lot of the panic."

SUNDAY'S BEST BETS

Rachel Boston

7 p.m. on 😰 😰 America's Funniest Home Videos

A Chihuahua dressed as a Chia Pet is one of several hilarious Halloween-themed videos in this new episode, which also features footage of a ticklish man laughing through a pedicure, a musical montage of funny cats, and a round of "People Getting Pinched by Crabs Versus Kids Stuck in Toilets." Tom Bergeron hosts.

9 p.m. on 🗗 🗊 The Good Wife

Alicia and Cary (Julianna Margulies, Matt Czuchry) have been keeping their plans to leave Lockhart/Gardner on the down-low, but the secret is out, and a fierce battle for clients breaks out in the new episode "Hitting the Fan." Christine Baranski, Josh Charles and Archie Panjabi also star.

10:01 p.m. on 20 23 Betrayal

Sara and Jack's (Hannah Ware, Stuart Townsend) affair has her feeling more self-confident and him making more of an effort at home. A friend of T.J.'s (Henry Thomas) turns up a critical piece of evidence in Uncle Lou's murder investigation. With his corruption and bribery case crumbling, Drew (Chris Johnson) puts pressure on Brandy (Helena Mattsson) in an effort to trap Karsten (James Cromwell) in the new episode "... Nice Photos."

10:01 p.m. on (LIFE) Witches of East End

Joanna (Julia Ormond) and her immortal attorney, Harrison (Anthony Lemke) prepare for her trial. Ingrid (Rachel Boston) rethinks her relationship with Adam (Jason Winston George). While collecting ingredients for a spell, Wendy (Madchen Amick) seduces an entomologist (Freddie Prinze Jr.) in the new episode "A Few Good Talismen." Jenna Dewan-Tatum also stars.

SATURDAY

7:30 a.m. on (FAM) Movie: Where the Wild Things Are Director and co-screenwriter Spike Jonze brings he classic Maurice Sendak story to life in a very engaging way, as a youngster (Max Records) escapes from household punishment as king of a fantasyland he creates in his own mind. It's largely inhabited by Wild Things, monsters who obey his rule. Catherine Keener and Mark Ruffalo also are in the human cast. Characters' voices are supplied by (among others) James Gandolfini and Forest Whitaker.

SUNDAY 1 p.m. on (FAM)

Movie: Monster House

Almost every town has a house that children — and often adults — avoid like the plague. In this 2006 CGI film, the fear of a scarylooking home is explored. Here, three teenagers realize that their neighbor's abode is alive — and hungry. Voices include Mitchel Musso, Spencer Locke, Sam Lerner, Steve Buscemi, Maggie Gyllenhall and Catherine O'Hara.

8:30 p.m. on (DISN) Austin & Ally

Ally (Laura Marano), who's missed most of Austin's (Ross Lynch) tour to focus on her own career, decides to go to Portland and catch Austin's show. Afterward, she's torn between joining the last leg of the tour with her friends and continuing to work on her own music. Raini Rodriguez and Calum Worthy also star in the season premiere, "Road Trips & Reunions."

FAMILY VIEWING

9 p.m. on (FAM)

Movie: Hocus Pocus Amok, amok, amok! Bette Midler, Sarah Jessica Parker and Kathy Najimy star as a trio of 17th-century witches who are accidentally summoned to the present in this ghoulish 1993 comedy. Re-entering the land of the living on Halloween night in Salem, Mass., the threesome gets right to work meting out punishment for their hanging long ago. Omri Katz, Vinessa Shaw and Thora Birch also star.

WEDNESDAY

1 p.m. on (NICK) Dora the Explorer

Dora and Boots are enjoying Halloween when they meet a monster in "Boo!" Of course, the monster is of the small, cute variety who must get home before curfew. Our fearless explorer and her monkey buddy offer their help to get their new friend home on time.

8 p.m. on 3 5 24 Nature

"Wolverine: Chasing the Phantom" sounds like the title of a new "X-Men" movie, but this episode is actually about the animal that gave the Wolverine character his name. Wolverines are the largest member of the weasel family and have a reputation for being bloodthirsty, powerful killers. There's more to them than that, as you'll see here. Cameras follow several scientists studying wolverines, including one who is raising two orphaned animals.

THURSDAY

7 a.m. on (DISN)

Dog With a Blog Tyler (Blake Michael) wants Stan to be his wingman on a dogwalking date with a pretty new neighbor, but Stan doesn't care for the girl's dog. Chloe (Francesca Capaldi) invites Bennett (Regan Burns) to speak at her school, but Ellen (Beth Littleford) must step in at the last minute in "WingStan."

2 p.m. on (DISN)

Movie: Girl vs. Monster Olivia Holt ("Kickin' It") stars in this 2012 comedy as a teen with some serious vocals and some pretty cool monster-fighting techniques. She plays 15-year-old Skylar, who learns she's a fifth-generation monster hunter. When she tries to sneak out of the house, she accidentally unleashes a monster that is determined to change the fate of her family forever. Now she and her friends must channel their inner strength and conquer more than just this monster.

FRIDAY

6 p.m. on (FAM) Movie: Charlie and the Chocolate Factory Marry director Tim Burton to a children's fantasy, and you're sure to get a darker take on the Roald Dahl story first filmed as "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory." In this eye-filling version, frequent Burton collaborator Johnny Depp replaces Gene Wilder as the candy man who gives five lucky youngsters the chance to tour his workplace. The kids include earnest Charlie (Freddie Highmore) and several selfish youngsters who get what's coming to them.

10 p.m. on (TCM)

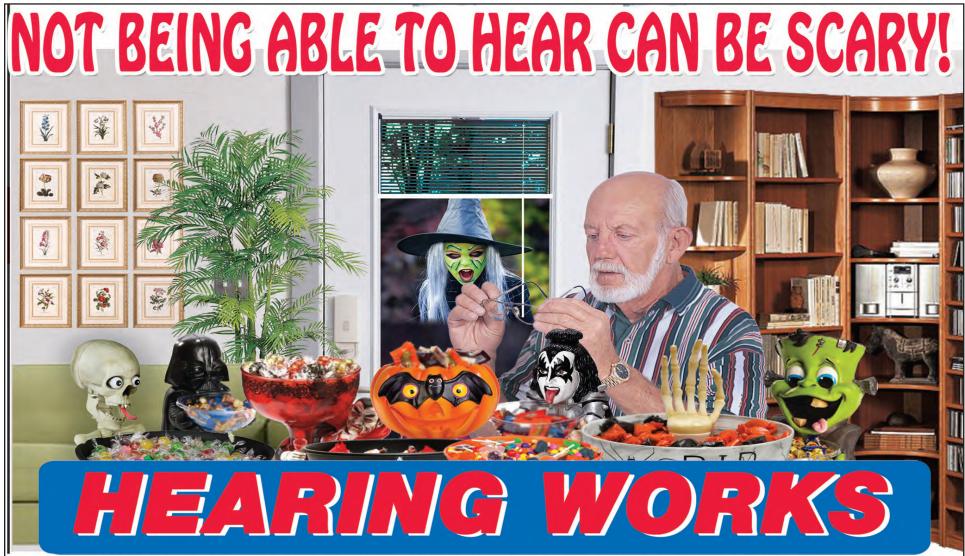

Movie: His Girl Friday

Cary Grant stars in this hysterical farce as Walter Burns, the editor of a Chicago newspaper. His ace reporter and ex-wife, Hildy Johnson (Rosalind Russell), has just informed him of her plans to leave the paper and the working world to marry an insurance salesman (Ralph Bellamy). Burns is not about to let that happen without a fight and persuades Hildy to write one last big story.

SATURDAY

8 p.m. on (TCM) Movie: How Green Was My Valley

Five Academy Awards, including best picture, went to John Ford's vivid, heartfelt 1941 adaptation of Richard Llewellyn's novel about a Welsh mining family. Director Ford also won an Oscar, as did Donald Crisp for best supporting actor. The splendid cast also includes Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara and Roddy McDowall.

8 p.m. on 🛛 🕄 The Voice

The next phase of competition, the knockout rounds, begins in this new episode. Adam, Blake, Cee Lo and Christina pit two of their team members against each other, but this time the singers don't learn who their competition is until the last minute. The winners of each showdown will advance to the live rounds. Carson Daly hosts "The Knockouts, Part 1."

10 p.m. on 🗗 🗊 Hostages

Don't you just hate it when unexpected company drops by while you're being held hostage? In this new episode, the Sanders family gets a surprise visit from Ellen's (Toni Collette) sister, Lauren (Nina Arianda, "Midnight in Paris"), who plans to stay awhile. Duncan (Dylan McDermott) demands that Ellen get her to leave without arousing any suspicions in "Sister's Keeper."

THESDAY PRIME TIME OCT 20

Jared Padalecki

8 p.m. on 🚯 🖽 The Originals

Recent events that jeopardized his unborn baby's safety have Klaus (Joseph Morgan) grilling Sophie (Danielle Pineda) for answers. Sophie reveals a secret from her past to Klaus and Rebekah (Claire Holt). Marcel (Charles Michael Davis) asks Klaus to accompany him to the bayou after some grisly remains turn up in the new episode "Sinners and Saints."

8 p.m. on (FAM) Ravenswood

In the aftermath of the Ravenswood Homecoming Parade, Remy (Britne Oldford) begins drawing parallels between recent events and painful chapters in the town's past. Caleb (Tyler Blackburn) encounters someone he never expected to see. Luke (Brett Dier) tries to get Olivia (Merritt Patterson) to face the truth about their parents in the new episode "Death and the Maiden."

8 p.m. on (TNT) NBA Basketball

The curtain goes up on the 2013-14 NBA season tonight in Miami, where LeBron James and the Heat begin defense of their 2012-13 championship in the season opener against Carlos Boozer and the Chicago Bulls. The late game of the TNT doubleheader is a battle of Tinseltown as Kobe Bryant and the Los Angeles Lakers host Chris Paul and the crosstown rival Clippers.

9 p.m. on 🚯 4 Supernatural

In the Men of Letters house, Sam and Dean (Jared Padalecki, Jensen Ackles) discover an ancient computer that they think might help them track the angels. They ask Charlie (Felicia Day) for help powering it up, but first they have to move it. This dislodges a hexbag that unleashes a magical web, where the brothers discover Dorothy of Oz (Tiio Horn) trapped with the Wicked Witch (Maya Massar), in the new episode "Slumber Party."

WEDNESDAY'S BEST BETS

Jessica Lange

9 p.m. on
1 10 Criminal Minds

A series of apparent ritualistic murders in Utah has Rossi (Joe Mantegna) and the team suspecting a killer who's fascinated with the Salem Witch Trials. Back east, Garcia (Kirsten Vangsness) prepares to host a Day of the Dead celebration in the new episode "In the Blood." Thomas Gibson, Shemar Moore, Matthew Gray Gubler and A.J. Cook also star.

9 p.m. on 18 44 The Tomorrow People

Killian McCrane (Jason Dohring), Ultra's most wanted, surfaces after years in hiding. John (Luke Mitchell) agrees to help Stephen (Robbie Amell) track him down but changes his mind when he learns what Killian's agenda is. Stephen's mom (Sarah Clarke) starts to get suspicious about her son's whereabouts in the new episode "Kill or Be Killed." Peyton List also stars.

10 p.m. on 🛛 🕄 Ironside

A rooftop chase leads Ironside's (Blair Underwood) team to a gruesome discovery: a garbage bag containing severed body parts. That's just the beginning, as more victims turn up across the city. The team uncovers a connection to a notorious motorcycle gang and a femme fatale in the new episode "Hell on Wheels." Spencer Grammer, Neal Bledsoe and Pablo Schreiber also star.

10 p.m. on (FX) American Horror Story: Coven

Fiona's (Jessica Lange) recent decisions threaten a long-standing truce between the Salem witches and voodoo priestess Marie Laveau (Angela Bassett). The academy gets a surprise visit from the Council of Witchcraft, which has some unsettling allegations, in the new episode "Fearful Pranks Ensue." Sarah Paulson also stars.

CELEBRITY PIPELINE

Currently 'Crazy' co-star may get 'Mad' again

Q: Since James Wolk is now on "The Crazy Ones," does that mean he won't be in the next season of "Mad Men?" — Julie Marks, Milwaukee

A: The actor made such an impression in Season 6 of "Mad Men" as ever-chipper ad agency man Bob Benson, it's a good bet AMC and series mentor Matthew Weiner would like to have him back. It probably will end up depending on shooting schedules, and it may be a help that the seventh and final season of "Mad Men" will be split into two halves ... with the first being shown next year and the last in 2015.

Q: Now that "Breaking Bad" is over, what are Bryan Cranston's plans? — Gary Stewart, Youngstown, Ohio

A: He already was immersed in them when the much-praised AMC show ended its run last month. He was portraying former President Lyndon B. Johnson (which he'll also do on Broadway soon) in "The Kentucky Cycle" author Robert Schenkkan's play "All the Way" at the American Repertory Theater in Cambridge, Mass., and Cranston flew to Los Angeles — after a matinee performance that day — for a "Breaking Bad" event on the night of the series' finale.

That was a lot of back and forth for him, since he'd also been back in L.A. the previous weekend for the Emmy Awards, at which "Breaking Bad" took the honor for outstanding drama series. Cranston didn't win an award himself that night, but he could console himself with the three Emmys he already had for his portrayal of Walter White.

Movie work will be big on Cranston's agenda going forward, but it also was during his "Breaking Bad" run with such releases as "Contagion," "Larry Crowne," the remake of "Total Recall" and the Oscarwinning "Argo." He'll be among the voices in "Kung Fu Panda 3," and he's completed "Cold Comes the Night" (already released overseas) and next year's update of "Godzilla."

Q: It was interesting to see Tracy Pollan on her husband Michael J. Fox's new show. What else has she been doing lately? — Jim Rollins, Palm Coast, Fla.

A: While her acting work hasn't been frequent in recent years — she and Fox also have been raising their four children — it's had visibility and impact when she's done it.

She played Beth Holloway, mother of the missing Natalee Holloway, in Lifetime movies in 2009 and 2011, and she had a multipleepisode arc on "Medium" in 2009. She also fared well with guest roles on a couple of the shows in the "Law & Order" franchise, "Law & Order: Special Victims Unit" and "Law & Order: Criminal Intent."

CELEBRITY SCOOP

Checking in with Spencer Grammer

By Jay Bobbin © Zap2it

Spencer Grammer was first among equals on "Greek," but she's content to be a supporting player for television's new "Ironside."

The daughter of "Frasier" and "Boss" star Kelsey Grammer now portrays New York police detective comrade Holly to Blair Underwood's paralyzed Robert Ironside in NBC's Wednesday update of the classic mystery series. It's a role she says she's comfortable filling, in all ways.

To get in an "Ironside" mindset, the personable Grammer watched the opening credits of the 1967-75 show that starred Raymond Burr, "and I loved it. It was that James Bond-ish '60s thing with cartoon cutouts, and it was awesome. Even though our show is a modern reimagining, you're obviously influenced by those classic cop shows that had a certain feel."

The original Ironside had two female allies, first Eve (played by Barbara Anderson), then Fran (Elizabeth Baur). "They fused them as one" to generate Holly, Grammer explains, "and how lucky am I? You're lucky to get a good female role, especially one of this caliber and one that's this strong.

"This is what I wanted to be doing," Grammer adds, "and I'm just very grateful and happy to be here. I'm proud to be part of a project that I think has really great potential ... and that has a group of people who really focus on what it means to be a good actor. We want to tell good stories and entertain a large group of people, and I just hope the world sees that."

Not only does Grammer's fan base from the former ABC Family sorority drama "Greek" remain, she says it's still building: "It's just started airing in Thailand," Grammer notes. "I don't know where those residual checks go, but I learned so much from that show. I came into this one with a much greater understanding of the responsibilities you have."

Birth date: Oct. 9, 1983 Birthplace and current residence: Los Angeles

Marital status: Married; has a son

Other television credits include: "Greek," "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation," "CSI: NY," "Robot Chicken" (voice only), "As the World Turns," "Six Degrees," "The Bedford Diaries," "Law & Order: Special Victims Unit," "Third Watch," "Jonny Zero," Clubhouse," "Cheers" (in a guest appearance as "Little Girl")

Movie credits include: "Beautiful Ohio," "Descent," "Missing William," "In Lieu of Flowers" (forthcoming), "2 Br/1Ba" (forthcoming), "Beyond Paradise" (forthcoming)

FRIDAY'S BEST BETS

Jonathan Rhys Meyers

8 p.m. on 🚯 🖽 The Carrie Diaries

Carrie and Walt (AnnaSophia Robb, Brendan Dooling) realize their new roommate has made herself too comfortable and will have to go. At a concert and birthday bash, Walt finally tells Bennet (Jake Robertson) how he feels, but things go wrong before Bennet can respond. Mouse (Ellen Wong) meets Samantha (Lindsey Gort), who immediately starts giving her sex advice in the new episode "Express Yourself." Austin Butler also stars.

9 p.m. on 🛛 🕄 Grimm

Nick (David Giuntoli) is manic when Monroe, Hank, Rosalee and Juliette (Silas Weir Mitchell, Russell Hornsby, Bree Turner, Bitsie Tulloch) track him down and try to reverse what's been done to him. Renard (Sasha Roiz) tries to clean up the zombies' mess locally and globally. Adalind (Claire Coffee) encounters more disturbing developments in her quest to regain her powers. Shohreh Aghdashloo guest stars in the new episode "PTZD."

9 p.m. on 🚯 🖽 America's Next Top Model

The guys get competitive during a workout challenge in this new episode. The photo shoot has the models hanging upside down with bats, but one model has trouble taking a good picture. The field is narrowed down to three at the end of "The Guy Who Becomes a Bat."

10 p.m. on 🛛 🕄 Dracula

While investigating her connections to the Order of the Dragon, Grayson (Jonathan Rhys Meyers), alias Dracula, takes Lady Jayne (Victoria Smurfit) as a lover. Mina (Jessica De Gouw) rises to a challenge at medical school with Grayson's help. Jonathan Harker (Oliver Jackson-Cohen) makes a deal with Grayson that has an unexpected outcome in the new episode "A Whiff of Sulfur." Thomas Kretschmann also stars.

COVER STORY

TV offers annual 'Boo!'-tique of Halloween tricks and treats

By Jay Bobbin © Zap2it

If the last week of October arrived without a healthy dose of Halloween-oriented programming ... well, it couldn't be the last week of October.

As people of all ages get ready to celebrate, with or without costumes, various television networks will be doing the same. Here's a sampling of some of the offerings intended to be treats more than tricks.

"The Good Witch's Destiny" (Sunday, Oct. 27, Hallmark Channel): Repeating from its premiere the previous week, the sixth of Catherine Bell's fantasy movies makes the birthday of her supposed-sorceress character Cassie quite memorable.

"Paranormal Activity" (Sunday, FX): Which forces are causing a young couple (Katie Featherston, Micah Sloat) great alarm in their home? They use video equipment to find out in this cost-effective 2007 horror hit.

"Hocus Pocus" (Sunday, ABC Family): The first of the last five of the channel's "13 Nights of Halloween" includes this seasonal movie favorite, the 1993 comedyfantasy starring Bette Midler, Sarah Jessica Parker and Kathy Najimy as sibling witches who are up to no good.

"The Walking Dead" (Sunday, AMC): If you think it's random that this series starts new episodes again as Halloween nears, think again. Andrew Lincoln stars as Season 4 continues.

"Secrets of the Tower of London" (Sunday, PBS; check local listings): A setting for some famous horror tales, the tower gets an examination in this new special, encompassing its use as a site for executions.

"Witches of East End" (Sunday, Lifetime): This relative-newcomer series certainly is Halloween-appropriate; Julia Ormond, Madchen Amick, Rachel Boston and Jenna Dewan-Tatum are among the stars.

"Halloween Wars" (Sunday, Food Network): As the third season of the limited-run show concludes, the two remaining teams compete to create edible "Nightmares."

"Curious George: A Holiday Boo Fest" (Monday, Oct. 28, PBS; check local listings): The animated character appeals, as usual, to younger viewers by going the "Sleepy Hollow" route in pursuing a ghost known as No Noggin.

Andrew Lincoln stars in "The Walking Dead" Sunday on AMC.

"Friday the 13th Part 3" (Monday, AMC): The fearsome Jason is back in full force this Halloween, as this 1982 entry launches a marathon of the hockey-masked villain's exploits.

TV Week

"Scare Tactics" (Monday, Syfy): A cemetery isn't necessarily the calmest place to be at Halloween, as proved in the course of a marathon of new episodes of the Tracy Morgan-hosted, "Candid Camera"-like series.

"Tim Burton's The Nightmare Before Christmas" (Monday, ABC Family): Stark animation makes the Burton-produced saga of Jack Skellington (voiced by Danny Elfman, also the film's composer) all the more memorable.

"The Blair Witch Project" (Tuesday, Oct. 29, IFC): Countless parodies were launched by the style of this ultra-low-budget 1999 thriller, tracing the fates of several film students through the lens of their video camera.

"Ravenswood" (Tuesday, ABC Family): The new, supernaturally inclined "Pretty Little Liars" spinoff gets an extra airing of its premiere episode, followed by the debut of its second story.

"Trophy Wife" (Tuesday, ABC): There's little question Malin Akerman and company will get into the spirit of the season, since a new episode is subtitled ... "Halloween."

"War of the Worlds: American Experience" (Tuesday, PBS; check local listings): On the eve of its 75th anniversary, Orson Welles' legendary radio broadcast that threw much of America into a panic is recalled by interviewees including Welles' daughter Chris Welles Feder and filmmaker and close Welles friend Peter Bogdanovich.

"American Horror Story: Coven" (Wednesday, FX): It's also no coincidence this franchise has started its season shortly before Halloween. Jessica Lange, Kathy Bates and Angela Bassett are among the stars of a new, witch-school-themed episode.

SATURDAY'S BEST BETS

Megan Boone

8 p.m. on 🛛 🕄 2013 Breeders' Cup

The biggest two days in Thoroughbred racing come to a climax tonight at Southern California's Santa Anita Park with the Classic race in the 2013 Breeders' Cup. The race, which has a $5 million purse, is run at 1 1/4 miles and often produces the Horse of the Year. This year, that could from a field that includes Fort Larned, Orb, Mucho Macho Man and Alpha.

8 p.m. on (FOOD) Cupcake Wars

There she is This year, the Miss America Pageant returned to its roots in Atlantic City, N.J., after seven years in Las Vegas. Four bakers compete for the opportunity to have their cupcakes served as part of the festivities. Miss America 2013, Mallory Hagan, helps pick the winner, who also receives $10,000, in the new episode "Miss America."

9 p.m. on 🛛 🕄 The Blacklist

A witness against a dangerous drug lord — against whom Liz (Megan Boone) had testified - goes missing, and Red (James Spader) thinks the culprit is the Stewmaker, a man who is responsible for hundreds of abductions. Red and Ressler (Diego Klattenhoff) work together for the first time. Ryan Eggold and Harry Lennix also star in "The Stewmaker."

11 p.m. on 🗗 🕰 Austin City Limits

Rodney Crowell has been playing and singing with Emmylou Harris since 1975, but they didn't release an official collaboration until 2013. They perform songs from that album, "Old Yellow Moon," in this new episode, which also features a guest appearance by Shawn Colvin. In addition to the title track, the set list includes "Pancho and Lefty," "Luxury Liner," "Red Dirt Girl' and more.
