MONDAY'S BEST BETS

Arie Luyendyk Jr.

8 p.m. on (HBO) Movie: Happening: A Clean Energy Revolution

The apple certainly didn't fall far from the environmentally aware tree in the case of filmmaker Jamie Redford, Robert's son, who's behind the new documentary that explores current efforts to replace fossil fuels with renewable energy. Recognizing the issue is a polarizing one, Redford seeks out entrepreneurs, community activists and every day citizens who are pioneering the use of clean energy technology, often in some pretty unexpected places.

10 p.m. on 20 28 The Bachelor

It's a television tradition

now: If a new year is coming, so is a new edition of the dating competition series, and the special "Countdown to Arie" previews the 22nd round that debuts Jan. 1. "Bachelorette" alum — and auto racer — Arie Luyendyk Jr. is the man who will get to do the choosing this time, and here, he talks about the ongoing impact that having vied for Emily Maynard's heart has had on him and his love life.

10 p.m. on (AMC) Robert Kirkman's Secret History of Comics

Of course, Chris Harrison

hosts.

The six-part docu-series ends with "Image Comics: Declaration of Independents," a new episode that has obvious personal resonance for "The Walking Dead" creator Robert Kirkman.

TUESDAY'S BEST BETS

Michael Weatherly

8 p.m. on (E) (4) Greatest Holiday Commercials Countdown 2017

Seasonal ads from the past have been combined for specials before, and as with the 2016 edition of this offering, the newest edition takes "The 12 Days of Christmas" as its approach — with one commercial representing each of those days. "Entertainment Tonight's" Kevin Frazier and Keltie Knight reunited again to present the sales pitches in question — some of which are amusing, while others are heart-tugging. And some are domestic, and some are foreign.

9 p.m. on 2 3 Gwen Stefani's You Make It Feel Like Christmas

Her voice has been missing from "The Voice" lately, but music superstar and threetime Grammy Award winner Gwen Stefani remains very much in business with NBC, as proven by her headlining of this new offering that offers many favorite songs of the season ... with her distinctive twists. Guests include Blake Shelton — the title star's significant other — as well as Seth MacFarlane, Chelsea Handler, Ne-Yo and former "Dr. Ken" star Ken Jeong.

9 p.m. on 🙃 📵 Bull

A youngster (guest star Annabelle Wachtel) who wants to be emancipated from her parents seeks Bull's (Michael Weatherly) help in the new episode "Home for the Holidays." He gets more than he bargained for when he's court-ordered to be her guardian, at least for the time being.

WEDNESDAY'S BEST BETS

Noah Wyle

8 p.m. on (TNT) The Librarians

The hit fantasy series returns for Season 4 with "And the Dark Secret," a new episode that finds Baird and Flynn (Rebecca Romijn, Noah Wyle) taking a big step to tether themselves to the library forever after a Season 3 that saw the eldritch facility literally at loose ends. Elsewhere this season, fans can expect to see Baird, Ezekiel, Cassandra and Stone (John Harlan Kim, Lindy Booth, Christian Kane) facing off against Santa's brother, the Patron Saint of Thieves.

9 p.m. on 2 3 Golden Globes 75th Anniversary Special

A month before the Hollywood Foreign Press Association presents its annual honors for movies and television programs, Debra Messing and Eric McCormack — who evidently aren't bitter about not having won the award for "Will & Grace," at least not yet, despite each having gotten multiple nominations for the show — serve as hosts of this new two-hour special. Memorable moments from past ceremonies are included. as are related interviews with Nicole Kidman, Amy Adams, Jake Gyllenhaal, Kate Winslet and others.

'The Good Doctor' is good to stay for some time

By Jay Bobbin © Zap2it

Q: I didn't see "The Good Doctor" in its usual slot on a recent Monday night. Did I just miss it, or what? — Chris Pergolini, via e-mail

A: It's "what." Trust us, with the hugely impressive ratings the Freddie Highmore-starring ABC drama has earned since its September premiere, it won't be going away permanently for a long while. The network did give it a rest on a recent Monday to air its Robin Roberts-hosted profile of country-music star Luke Bryan, largely because that was a convenient slot in relation to the network's telecast of the CMA Awards two nights later. However, "The Good Doctor" is in very good shape to stay around for some time to come.

Could you tell me what happened to "Raising Hope"? I was faithfully watching it every Tuesday evening then it just went off. — Shirley Rascher, Rehoboth, Mass.

A: We suspect you mean the ION Television medical drama "Saving Hope," and not the Fox comedy series "Raising Hope," which went off the air in 2014 so you probably would have noticed that was gone long before now.

Could you tell what Chappened to Jennifer Esposito, who played Agent Quinn on "NCIS" last season? — Mary Jane Langietti, Roselle, III.

A: Much was made of the fact that the actress was returning to CBS after she and "Blue Bloods" parted company (which she was quite vocal about at the time), but upon leaving "NCIS" after one year, she said she "could not have asked for a better opportunity." In some corners, it was thought that her exit was related to a change in the series' producers, given the untimely passing of Gary Glasberg last year.

Q: I've heard that "This Is Us" will end its season in March. Is that any reason to worry that the show won't be renewed? - Kathy Blake, via e-mail

: Not at all, especially Asince it already has been. In fact, NBC gave the critically lauded, Emmy-winning drama its Season 3 pickup at the same time it was renewed for its current Season 2. The March wrapup simply indicates that will be the end of the number of episodes that were ordered for this round, though as it's turned out, the show actually will get an extra airing.

: I know the "S.W.A.T." Qtheme song was a big hit on the music charts when the original show was on. Who composed it? - Paul Bronson, Buffalo, N.Y.

A: That would be Barry De Vorzon, a Grammy-winning music veteran whose career dates back to the 1950s. Though he recorded some tunes himself in the 1960s, he's bestknown for his writing and producing talents — and also for launching the record label Valiant, for which he recruited the group The Association. De Vorzon also co-composed "Nadia's Theme" for the CBS daytime staple "The Young and the Restless," and among the movie soundtracks boasting his sound are "Xanadu" and "Bless the Beasts and Children," the latter with an Oscar-nominated title song recorded by The Carpen-

Checking in with Jane Levy

By George Dickie © Zap2it

Jane Levy will be the first to admit she knew very little about the Johnny Carson-era "Tonight Show" before she began filming her new Hulu dramedy "There's ... Johnny!"

And that's not surprising, considering the former "Suburgatory" and "Don't Breathe" actress was born only three years before Carson's 1992 farewell.

"You know, all these latenight talk shows I grew up with," the native Californian says, "I didn't know that that whole style was invented by somebody named Johnny Carson. ... Johnny was so good at being present and commanding a room and a show and getting performances out of comedians. Needless to say, it was a world I didn't know about because I'm in mv mid-20s."

Created by frequent Carson guest Paul Reiser, the half-hour series goes behind the scenes of the NBC late-night show circa 1972 to follow the coming-ofage story of Andy (Ian Nelson), an innocent Nebraskan who shows up at the show's offices seeking a job.

He strikes up an immediate rapport with Joy (Levy), an assistant talent coordinator trying to live down the fact that her father got her the job while fending off the sexual innuendos comina from the writers room.
