The CCB Project

The Critical Care departments of the Princess Margaret Hospital, which includes the Surgical suites, Pre and Post-Operative Care Units, Intensive Care Unit, Neonatal Intensive Care Units, have continued to experience increase demand for services. With the return of specially trained Bahamian physicians and request for modern surgical interventions, it became evident that the hospital has out grown the present facilities. Additional space would result in decreased waiting times for surgical procedures and also reduce delays in admissions to hospital.

In 2009, the Public Hospital Authority focused attention on Critical Care needs and began to develop a plan for the expansion and improvement of these services. Today, the plans have evolved into an approved Critical Care Block. This new building is designed to accommodate:

- Six (6) state-of-the art Surgical Suites with technology that supports virtual learning
- Twenty (20) bed Intensive Care Unit
- A state-of-the-art Neonatal Intensive Care Unit for 48 neonates
- New Laboratory facilities
- New Central Sterile Supplies Department and
- New Medical Surgical Supplies Department

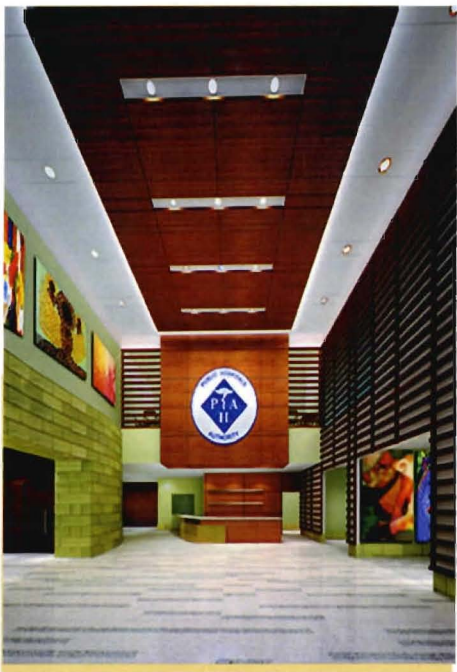

The new main entrance will allow the redirection of patients and visitors to the facility. It will include:

- Concierge services
- Wheelchair access
- Food court
- Chapel
- Healing Garden
- Gift Shop
- Security Services
- General Administration

The completion of this new wing will provide our highly skilled clinicians and the people of the Bahamas with a modern facility, offering the level of service required to meet current and future demands.

We at the Princess Margaret Hospital are proud of our legacy as the nation's premier healthcare facility and see this first phase of redevelopment of the campus as a significant chapter in our history.
