Garbage workshop

No changes to trash pickup, contract

By PHIL ATTINGER
STAFF WRITER

PHIL ATTINGER/STAFF

County commissioners question both county employees and officials from Waste Connections at Thursday night's workshop on recycling, garbage collection and the bear-resistant garbage collection program. County commissioners are, from left, Ron Handley, Jim Brooks, Greg Harris, Don Elwell and Jack Richie.

SEBRING — County commissioners talked trash Thursday night, literally, but had no big solutions from their discussions with Waste Connections officials and residents.

Commissioner Don Elwell made one major suggestion for change, that Waste Connections officials and staff adopt a more customer-centered model, which he believes would alleviate many complaints.

While other commissioners said they hadn't heard many complaints at all in the last two or three months, Elwell — who keeps an active social media presence — said he'd gotten 10 complaints in just the past week.

"I will start off with the positive," Elwell said. "A year ago, we were not a happy place."

He then said he wasn't sure if he was in the "same place" as other commissioners, given the number of complaints he'd received from text messages, social media, phone calls and even during a radio call-in show.

He said of 110 people who answered an online survey for him, 63 said they liked the service and 30 said they'd only had one or two problems.

The remainder, Elwell said, had varied problems.

Trucks being a day behind, for example, causes problems only if residents don't know about the delay, roll garbage back to the house and don't leave it by the curb.

Better communication, he said, would help that.

One customer had a note on an un-emptied can that it was too full. Elwell asked why the truck operator, who got out to affix the note, couldn't empty the can first, then leave a note for the next time.

He said he understood that Waste Connections needs more drivers and is working to cover routes without delays. He also acknowledged that people want twice weekly garbage pickup along with the weekly curbside recycling, but County Engineer Clinton Howerton Jr. said that could increase the per house

The sun rises on the Autumnal Equinox behind Stonehenge on Salisbury Plain, England, in this image from onetravel.com. The fabled stone calendar has been marking the arrival of the spring and fall equinoxes along with summer and winter solstices for ages. It does not adjust for daylight saving time.

Fall equinox, daylight saving and resetting your 'Stonehenge'

By PHIL ATTINGER
STAFF WRITER

SEBRING — If you didn't notice, fall started on Sept. 22 with the fall equinox.

For those who did notice, fall weather started this past week, but the end of Daylight Saving Time — another mark of autumn in the United States — won't occur until tomorrow, Nov. 4, just in time for midterm elections.

Make sure you get a double-shot espresso before heading to the polls Tuesday.

While the autumnal equinox is the celestial start of fall, the end of Daylight Saving is a switch from summer to winter time. They aren't closely related, but one does affect the other.

People take note of the time change, because we have to adjust our schedules. Not so much the equinox, but we used to celebrate it — a lot.

What is the equinox? Earth's rotation, tilt and orbit cause the sun to rise and set on the horizon at slightly different points each day of the year.

Because the Earth tilts at a fixed angle as it orbits the sun — the Moon's orbit helps hold that angle steady — the northern and southern hemispheres take turns being tilted toward and away from the sun, which causes summer and winter.

The fall equinox, the start of being tilted away into winter, marks when day and night are nearly equal in length across the planet.

In ancient times, when we reached that certain point again, we'd hold a party.

History.com states the Greeks regarded the equinox as the day when the goddess Persephone returned to the darkness of the underworld, to reunite with her husband, Hades.

A mock-up photo for nationaltrust.org.uk depicts workers in what appears to be an attempt to adjust the Avebury Stones for Daylight Saving Time. It was taken for use in an April Fool's joke article published about the world's largest prehistoric monument, a World Heritage site set in the heart of Wiltshire, which functions as a sundial. Workers do not actually reset the stones each year, and urge visitors not to attempt to do so.

Chinese and Vietnamese cultures, History.com states, celebrate Harvest Moon/Mid-Autumn Festival with lanterns in the streets, family feasts — including "mooncakes" — and Moon watching.

In Great Britain, the megalithic structure Stonehenge still marks solar events on Salisbury Plain, both spring and fall equinoxes and solstices marking the middle of summer and winter.

There, people have given thanks at fall harvest festivals since pagan times. They did not, and still don't, attempt to reset Stonehenge for Daylight Saving Time.

What is Daylight Saving Time, and why do we have it?

Stories vary, even on whose idea it was.

Webexhibits.org credits Benjamin Franklin's with the idea after his time as an American delegate in Paris in 1784. History.com states Franklin wanted to maximize use of daylight, but he really only proposed a change in sleep schedules.

Both websites state London builder William Willett in 1907 advocated the idea of turning clocks forward 20 minutes on the four Sundays in April and turning them back the same amount on Sundays in September.

A bill drafted in 1909 was introduced in Parliament several times, but met ridicule and opposition.

Celebrate downtown at the Sebring Art, Wine and Jazz Festival

By MELISSA MAIN
Staff Writer

SEBRING — The Sebring Art, Wine and Jazz Festival begins today at the Sebring Circle and extends down the spoke streets. It features over 100 local artists and musicians in a tradition that began over 50 years ago.

Formerly called the Highlands Fine Arts and Crafts Festival, the event has been rebranded, but it still overflows with talent and delicious dining from local restaurants and mobile food trucks.

In the past, the event was a one-day extravaganza to kick off the holiday shopping season. This year the festivities continue on both Saturday, Nov. 3 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 4 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Shoppers can purchase holiday crafts or fine artwork, such as photography, paintings and handcrafted jewelry.

"We are very excited about the Sebring Art, Wine and Jazz Festival," Jamie Gallo, festival coordinator, said. "This year we are celebrating 52 years and we are enhancing the event by adding an extra day and introducing a Wine Garden, where you can purchase tasting tickets to sample wine, food and receive a souvenir wine glass for the first 100 people."

The Wine Garden will give attendees an opportunity to sample fine wines, and the first 100 people will receive a souvenir glass from the Highlands News-Sun. This special ticketed event, which costs $20, will be held at the historic Circle Theatre from 1-4 p.m today, Nov. 3. Participants can enjoy hors d' oeuvre and music provided by the Island View Restaurant & Pub and a chance to sample fine wine by purchasing a ticket at www.eventbrite.com.

On Sunday, the festival will feature a Gospel Brunch from 9-11 a.m. with free entertainment and food available for purchase. Participants are encouraged to bring a lawn chair or blanket to sit down and relax while listening to gospel music.

Student, or emerging, artists will be competing at the festival for an opportunity to win two scholarships, which are valued up to $1,000 per person. Adult artists will also be judged and will compete for cash prizes.

The festival is a family-friendly event with an interactive Children's Street. In addition to children's activities and fine arts, the festival with include the Chamber of Commerce Street, which is lined with non-art organizations and businesses from Highlands County.

"We look forward to seeing everyone come down and enjoy fabulous art, music and wine!" Gallo said.

County may drop price on bear-proof cans

Considers $25 fee with trade-out, $75 for extra can

By PHIL ATTINGER
Staff Writer

SEBRING — Highlands County has more than 237 bear-resistant garbage cans in storage at the Road And Bridge Department.

To date, Road and Bridge Director Kyle Green has received eight to 10 applications for cans, maximum.

Commissioners didn't like that during Thursday night's workshop. Thinking price might be a factor, Commissioner Don Elwell suggested the county drop its price, subsidized by a Bearwise program grant, from $75 to $25 per can, provided residents are willing to trade in their standard, non-locking blue garbage bin.

County Administrator Randy Vosburg said the County Commission could vote on that at a regular meeting, then he could submit that as a contract amendment to the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, which awarded the grant.

Giving background on the project, Green said FWC awarded the county the equivalent of $57,770 in Bearwise funding to help minimize human and bear conflicts.

The biggest problem was bears getting into garbage, particularly in the Mini Ranch Road area of Sebring. A pilot program to test out bear-resistant locking cans in that area was very successful.

Commissioner Ron Handley, with family living in the area, praised its effectiveness.

FWC has agreed to reimburse Highlands County up to $48,000 to purchase 214 bear-proof cans made by Rehrig Pacific, the same company that supplied the county's blue 95-gallon trash bins.

As it turns out, FWC also sent 37 more bear-resistant trash carts from a previous grant, worth $9,770.

The 251 cans all went to Road and Bridge, where Green has been taking applications from residents to buy them for $75 each — $80.63 after taxes.

The resident has to live in an area that has problems with or potential for human and bear conflicts to be approved for a cart, Green said. Also, residents must pay for the cart in full within a month, then it will get delivered.

The money will go back into the program to buy more carts until all the money is used up, Green said.

Cost to administer the program is $7,500 and the county's total share of cost is $25,349, making the total state and local costs $83,119.

Green said the actual cost of the cans is $265 each. The grant doesn't cover the total cost, but just subsidizes it.

Commission Vice Chair Jim Brooks asked if the taxes had to be included. Assistant County Administrator Tasha Morgan said anything the county sells to residents has to have sales taxes collected on it.

Commission Chair Greg Harris asked, given an $81 price, who would buy them.

"If you're in a neighborhood where there's bears, you'll pay $75 for it," Handley said.

Still, Elwell said that's a lot of money for most local households, and given the low number of applicants, wanted to see if the county could move them to residents faster.

With a swap out, the old cart would go back to Waste Connections, the county contracted waste hauler, said County Engineer Clinton Howerton Jr. Like the original carts, not only would it stay with the house, the resident would be responsible to pay $75 for another one if it's damaged or stolen.

There is a five-year warranty for manufacturer defect, however, Green said.

Residents can order a second bear-proof can, if available, for $75, Howerton said.

Also like the other cans, it will hold 95 gallons of volume. It's slightly heavier — 45 pounds when empty — but unlike the standard can, it has to close and lock to work properly.

If it's overfilled and won't close, it won't keep out bears, Green said.

annual cost to $180-$290.

Elwell also said people could reduce their garbage or buy a second $75 can, but he suggested it may be a customer service issue.

In his youth, working at Radio Shack, Elwell said the policy was the customer was always right. However, residents have told them they must prove their garbage was missed.

"I implore you to install a culture of customer service," Elwell said. "We're paying $173 (per household per year). Within reason, we're right."

His comments drew ire later in the evening from Commissioner Ron Handley.

"I'm having fits that you're bashing the guys for working on doing their jobs," Handley said.

Commission Vice Chair Jim Brooks also said he's found that when people complain to him via phone or email about garbage left behind by the trucks, he finds a very different situation when he goes out to that street to see for himself.

"It's not always the way they told me," Brooks said.

Commissioner Jack Richie said the calls he's learned about have then been handled in a professional and speedy manner.

"I don't get any calls anymore," Commission Chair Greg Harris said. "It's a fine-oiled machine now."

Harris suggested that a lot of problems last year came from the county pushing new garbage carts and curbside recycling before the cans to be used with automated trucks had all arrived in the county, let alone at every home.

Besides that, Harris said, the county gave Waste Connections the wrong routes, and had to shut down the landfill many times in the last 18 months for lightning.

Howerton suggested the county could revise its safe distance for lightning, allowing the landfill to keep operating during closer strikes. He noted most of the 93 shutdowns this year were an hour or less. Notices are also going out to residents about delayed routes, he said.

In their report, Howerton and Engineering Projects Manager Bob Diefendorf, who oversees the landfill, said most carts are being used properly — not overfilled — and staff is working with new software to track complaints.

They also said Waste Connections has replaced or repaired faulty equipment, bought 14 side-loading automated trucks two years ago and has an average fleet age of 4.3 years.

The hauler has its Recycling Transfer Facility in operation, although it's not complete, and needs to finish building its Operations Facility, Diefendorf said.

Currently there are:

Seven solid waste routes each day with automated side-loading trucks.

Five recycling routes with automated side-loading trucks.

Three standard rear-loading truck routes for bulk or yard waste.

Two front loading truck routes for commercial Dumpsters.

Four roll-off trucks for commercial roll-off Dumpsters.

The cost at start, per house per month, was $9.347 and has since raised to $9.784 with the consumer price index. Bulk waste can still be picked up if vegetative waste is properly bundled, is less than 6 feet long and weighs less than 50 pounds per bundle and takes up less than two cubic yards total.

Residents can call to arrange for pickup of anything in excess of those dimensions, for $17 per pickup.

They can still get up to six tires collected for free from their home. Any more than that will need to be taken to the landfill or a tire buy-back event, under certain regulations.

5 THINGS That Will Make You SMARTER

1. Conventional plastic is made from fossil fuels. The vast majority of scientists agree that the primary driver of global climate change is the burning of fossil fuels.

2. Since the 1950s, when plastic production started to take off, more than 9 billion tons of plastic have been generated, distributed and discarded.

3. Of that waste, only 9 percent has been recycled, 12 percent incinerated and 79 percent of what is essentially indestructible man-made material is either in landfill or polluting the environment, according to Climate News Network.

4. Oceans have become a dumping ground for plastic wares. An estimated 8 million tons of plastics leaches into the oceans each year.

5. Governments and businesses are waking up to the planet's plastic scourge. These entities have introduced or have already enforced bans on items such as plastic drinking straws, stirrers, grocery bags, bottles, plastic-lined coffee cups, etc.

Country Clovers 4-H Club weeds botanical garden

Special to the Highlands News-Sun

AVON PARK — The Country Clovers 4-H Club, an agricultural focused organization, gave a helping hand last Saturday to the Historical Society of Avon Park. The job was weeding two new botanical gardens in front of the Silver Palm railroad car next to the Avon Pak Museum.

Elaine Levey, director of the Museum, said it seems the club members enjoyed the work. "These young people wore gloves and seemed to know just what to do. They had done it before," she said.

Levey said the group of youngsters take care of other gardens too: a butterfly garden and a garden at Avon Elementary School.

When all of the work was done, club members were invited to board the dining car for banana splits prepared by Nancy Fisk, botanical garden chairman.

"The goal of 4-H is to develop citizenship, leadership, responsibility and life skills to our youth through learning programs and positive youth development. We focus on helping the community wherever we can and the kids come up with ideas of their own. The club is open to ages from 5-18 and we meet the first Thursday of the month." said Jackie Harris, club leader.

The club can be seen at the Royal Care Nursing home helping residents who want to play Bingo but can't see too well, and they also wrap Christmas gifts.

On Nov. 17, club members will be helping at the Bert J. Harris Jr. Agriculture Center during the upcoming Plant Festival and Sale. They will be working with David Austen, horticulture agent, and the Master Gardeners.

The Country Clovers are: Aliana Bermudez, Sage Silver, Case Silver, Owen Harris, Emma Welch, Jessica Bermudez, Ian Harris, Cody Remick and Bryson Remick.

Jacksonville man accused of battery, kidnapping of a local pregnant woman

By MELISSA MAIN
Staff Writer

SEBRING — Four days after being released from Duval County on charges of aggravated battery and kidnapping of his former girlfriend, Jozed Paul was arrested by the Highlands County Sheriff's Office for reportedly kidnapping and battering her again, along with other charges.

HCSO arrested Paul, 29, of Jacksonville, on Tuesday. Paul was charged with possessing a bullet-proof vest during certain offenses, assault with intent to commit a felony, aggravated battery of a pregnant victim, kidnapping, burglary or conveyance of a structure while armed and obstructing justice.

On Oct. 24, Paul was arrested in Duval County, Florida, and charged with domestic battery on a pregnant woman and false imprisonment, with the victim being his ex-girlfriend, the report states. Two days later, Paul bonded out of Duval County Jail and was ordered to have no contact with the victim.

Paul was arrested again on Oct. 30 on similar charges for an incident that reportedly occurred on Oct. 28.

The victim gave the following detailed account of the events that started in her Highlands County home on Oct. 28. She told deputies that Paul entered her home through an unlocked front door and walked into the bedroom where she and their eight-month-old twins were located.

PAUL

While holding a handgun in each hand, Paul told her not to scream or he would kill her and one of the boys, the documents state. The victim noted that Paul was wearing a bullet-proof vest when he was confronting her.

The victim complied to Paul's demands, which were made at gunpoint, and gathered their children before exiting the house. Once outside, she was forced into a black Hyundai Sonata. The victim spotted an axe, a hatchet and a rifle inside the vehicle.

Paul drove his ex-girlfriend and their twins to Walmart, where he purchased food, diapers and baby clothes. The victim told deputies that she believed Paul was going to try and take her and their twins to another location, and he might try to kill them if she didn't comply.

When the victim was at Walmart, she saw a Walmart employee that she knew, and she tried to get the employee to take one of her children. While the employee was holding the baby, "Paul told the victim if she did not get the child and leave the store with him, he was going to 'blow her brains out' and shoot one of the babies," documents state.

The victim, who is pregnant with Paul's child, grabbed her son and slowly left the store with Paul. Paul reportedly began pushing her and hitting the back of her heels with the shopping cart. In addition, he allegedly kept putting his hands into his pockets where one of his guns was concealed.

According to the victim, Paul made her get back into the car. He drove them to the park located behind the Sebring YMCA and talked to her about fixing their relationship and getting back together. She went along with this, fearing for her life and the lives of her two babies, she said.

The victim told deputies that Paul forced her to make a statement that she did not want to press charges on an active case in Duval County, and he recorded the statement on his cell phone.

After she made the statement, Paul allegedly told her that since she wanted to get back together he didn't need the guns anymore. Then he unloaded his guns and drove them back to her home.

Paul tried to convince her to go back to Jacksonville, she said. However, she refused. As he was beginning to leave, he reportedly told her that if she was going to call the cops, then let him know so that he could tell his friends goodbye.

Garden Festival has a lot to offer

Special to Highlands News-Sun

Local musicians will be entertaining at the inaugural Master Gardener Garden Festival & Plant Sale. The Garden Festival is an expansion of the Highlands County Master Gardeners' annual fall plant sale. The event, a fundraiser for community education initiatives, is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17 at the Bert J. Harris Jr. Agricultural Center, Sebring.

The festivities will start with the "Star Spangle Banner" at 9 a.m. being sung by local musician Shannon Reed. Avon Park harpist Darlene Walton, wife of Master Gardener Paul Walton, will play three sets inside the main auditorium. Her hour-long sets will start at 9:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Lake Placid vocalist and guitarist Jamie Tremps will be performing inside as well. Her sets are scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m., 12:30 p.m. and again at 2:30 p.m. Outside on the grounds of the Agricultural Civic Center, Okeechobee-based country music entertainer Junior Velez — otherwise known as Belle Glade Boy, will be singing and playing guitar in sets scheduled for 10 a.m., noon, and 2 p.m. He is a regular at several Highlands County eateries.

Master Gardener volunteers have been busy all year growing a variety of interesting plants that should make great additions to anyone's garden and landscape. Included in the mix of ornamental and edible plants are Central Florida adapted raspberries, blackberries, figs, blueberries, dragon fruit, and tomatoes. Special tomato varieties hybridized by the University of Florida for flavor will be for sale as well as heirloom tomatoes such as Everglade, Mortgage Lifter, and Pruden's Purple. Numbers are limited, so come early.

In addition to plants and live entertainment, the Garden Festival this year will feature informative Master Gardeners booths on topics such as orchids, succulents, worm farming, Florida-Friendly landscaping and more.

Vendors with a variety of goods like art, jewelry, soaps, homemade preserves, food and a number of other items will also be at this year's festival.

Four classes will be offered in conference room 2 on the backside of the Agricultural Center during the festival. Starting with an informative class on Vermicomposting (composting with earthworms) at 11 p.m., Orchid Care class with Orchid Society President Ed Fabik starts at 1 pm., Protecting your Florida Landscape from Freezes will be at 2 p.m. with frost cloth on hand for purchase, and finally at 3 p.m. is a class on Growing Succulents. This class is $20 for participants and is a hands-on workshop on how to create a succulent dish garden. Participants will pot and take home their own dish garden.

Inside the auditorium will be a "Kids Zone" put on by Highlands County 4H with activities for children. Toby's Clowns will be offering animal balloons and face painting.

The IFAS Bookstore from the University of Florida will be on hand with lots of books, clothing, and garden-related books. They also offer publications that include a wide range of topics on a wide range of Florida gardening topics.

Money raised at the festival will support University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences Extension Service, Highlands County's horticultural education programs.

Parking and admission to the Garden Festival and Plant Sale is free, but come early before the plants are gone and to get a close spot.

Brantley charged with hunting misdemeanor

By MELISSA MAIN
Staff Writer

LAKE PLACID — William "Bill" Brantley II has been charged with hunting at night with the use of a light, a misdemeanor, but he was not arrested. A lieutenant from the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) stopped Brantley's vehicle on Sept. 2, 2018.

The Highlands News-Sun does not normally report on misdemeanors, except for public figures. In addition, the newspaper usually reports on primarily felonies from the local law enforcement agencies, but not the FWC.

According to the report from the FWC, Brantley displayed a light across a farm field where deer frequent. The lieutenant reported,

BRANTLEY

"I noticed the light sweep the area several times toward the tree line on the south side of Lake Istokpoga before the truck traveled in front of a tree line that has been planted as a wind break."

The FWC official approached Brantley's vehicle and noticed a juvenile in the vehicle, his son. Brantley told the officer that he was frogging with his son.

In a separate statement to the Highlands News-Sun, Brantley told a staff writer that he had been frog hunting the night before with a local law enforcement officer, and his son wanted to go out that night to catch a few more frogs. According to Brantley, the light was shone to spot frogs.

The official report from the FWC stated that Brantley had firearms and ammunition in the vehicle, including two pistols and 12-gauge shells in a Ziploc bag. The lieutenant reported that Brantley had "a rifle shoved under the back seat of the truck." The document states, the rifle was "easily accessible by both the driver and the passenger of the truck."

Brantley told the lieutenant that he didn't know it was still in the truck; they had recently returned from their hunting lease, documents state. "The rifle and the ammunition were seized as evidence and taken to Highlands County Sheriff's Department to be placed into evidence," the report states.

GriefShare: From mourning to joy

By JoMARIE GRINKIKEWICZ
Special to the Highlands News-Sun

All are welcome to the GriefShare grief support group at St. Catherine Catholic Church in the Parish Hall Room 12 from 2-3:30 p.m. The next gathering will be on Nov. 4, 2018.

What is Grief Share?

GriefShare takes us from mourning to the joy that Christ desires for each of us. The GriefShare program contains 13 sessions, a workbook for use at home, a 30-40 minute video, materials, and discussion time. We have found GriefShare to be a warm, caring, comforting environment where those grieving find peace, comfort, healing, direction and purpose in their lives through the power of Our Lord Jesus Christ and the members of the group. You are most welcome to come to one or all of the sessions & bring a friend or family member age 18 and over. We hope you will consider joining us if your loss was recent or many years ago we would like to be of service to you.

Past participants have grown in their faith and love for the Lord through this group. The sharing in small groups has helped those who are grieving to know they are not alone and that others share this difficult journey with them.

On Nov. 18 we will be having a special Surviving the Holidays Seminar. Wondering how you will survive the weeks surrounding Thanksgiving and Christmas? Are you dreading these holidays, knowing that everything has changed and that happy memories from past years can't be recreated?

Our Surviving the Holidays seminar is especially for people who are grieving a loved one's death. You'll learn:

• How to deal with the many emotions you'll face during the holidays

• What to do about traditions and other coming changes

• Helpful tips for surviving social events

• How to discover hope for your future

For those experiencing a loss, October through December can be excruciatingly painful months. Death, separation, divorce, illness, family trauma, job loss or moving to a new location result in great losses that make the holidays difficult.

Therefore, here are a few practical tips.

• Prepare — The ambush of emotions can attack at any time; prepare beforehand.

• Accept the difficulty of this time of year and your loss. Remind yourself that it's a season and it will pass.

• Socialize — Don't hibernate. Insecure feelings may tempt you to isolate but force yourself to go out even if it's only for a short time.

• Lower your expectations — Movies and songs paint an unrealistic picture of the holidays.

• Don't anesthetize the pain with drugs or alcohol — Numbing emotional distress with chemicals creates more depression.

• Trimming — If old ornaments or trimmings cause too much pain, don't hang them this year. Put them aside for another time.

• Get up and move — Take care of your physical well-being. Healthy foods will give you strength; fattening and sugar-filled foods can worsen your depression. Exercise produces natural stress reducers.

• Shop online if going to the mall is too stressful.

• Coping strategy — Have the phone number of your counselor, pastor, church, close friend or hotline already taped to your phone. Make the commitment to call someone if negative thoughts get fierce.

• Light — Get some sunshine. Winter can take its toll on your emotions by the loss of sun you experience.

• Invite a new (same-sex) friend to see a movie, have dinner or help decorate the house.

• Set boundaries — Precisely explain to your family and friends what you are capable of doing this year, and what you aren't. Don't let others guilt you into taking on more than you can handle.

• Reach others by discovering people who might be alone during the holidays.

You do not have to be Catholic nor a member of St. Catherine Church to attend the GriefShare sessions. If you miss a few sessions, you can still join us anytime as the sessions are unique each time. May God bless you daily with His peace and love.

RECYCLE

because that same language is in the contract with the county.

County commissioners had no answer, other than the fact that they can't contract to provide services in city limits. Tuck said Waste Connections' contract doesn't specify that.

It could become a sticking point between the county, cities and the hauler as city leaders and residents seek to have recycling re-established in their borders.

Jim Wheatley, director of regulatory affairs for the company, has repeatedly said there's no profit in selling recycled materials right now, and he said he can't sign a contract with cities like the 10-year agreement he penned for the county two years ago.

Phil Williams, Lake Placid town administrator, said when the county had roll-off recycling Dumpsters, people would come from out of town to drop off recycling.

Commissioner Ron Handley suggested Williams talk with Avon Park City Manager June Fisher and Sebring City Administrator Scott Noethlich about negotiating a contract together for that service.

Handley also said the county could sell or lease roll-off Dumpsters to the town.

"That would work for us," Williams said.

One problem is transportation. Other than the Recycling Transfer Facility run by Waste Connections at the Highlands County Landfill, the nearest recycling facility is in Lakeland, said County Engineering Projects Engineer Clinton Howerton Jr.

Wheatley repeated previous statements that the return from recyclables right now isn't profitable, but Commissioner Don Elwell challenged that, asking if it pays something.

Wheatley said that it does, just not enough to cover costs.

"So you're willing to entertain that?" Elwell asked, and Wheatley nodded.

Commissioners then talked about glass, which is used at the Highlands County Landfill for ground cover, said Manager Bob Diefendorf.

Livio Magni, chief operating officer for E-Stone USA, said his company at Sebring Regional Airport Industrial Park buys clear glass and crushes it on site.

Magni said he's had has an easier time buying glass from China than from as near as Sarasota.

A new resident, Kaitlin Goode, suggested the burden falls on residents not to produce as much garbage, but also on state legislators — if they want to mandate recycling goals — to require companies to use more recycled goods.

SUN

ANOTHER VIEW

Falling back into darkness

As you see reminders to set your clocks back one hour before bedtime tonight, you may find yourself asking:

"Wasn't there a new law ...?"

Well, yes. And, no.

The Sunshine Protection Act introduced by state Sen. Greg Steube, R-Sarasota, called for year-round Daylight Saving Time. It slid through the Florida House and Senate last spring and won the governor's signature.

But it came with a caveat: Congress had to sign off, too. And Congress hasn't.

According to a report Thursday in the Tampa Bay Times, Sen. Marco Rubio introduced legislation to make the Sunshine State an all-year Daylight Saving paradise, but two bills he wrote went exactly nowhere.

Too bad. We like the idea of having extra daylight at the end of the work/school day — the possibility of getting home from work before dark every night. Retailers, bars and restaurants liked having the extra daylight hour in the evening.

And no one – no one – likes the time shift ahead in the springtime and back in the fall. It messes with circadian rhythm. Everybody's out of sync for days or weeks. Who needs it?

Well, for one, all those school children who have to walk to the bus before sunup or, worse, walk to school during rush hour.

PTOs objected, according to the Tampa Bay Times. TV broadcasters too. In winter, Florida would have been out of step with Eastern Standard states. One hour ahead, which meant the 11 p.m. news would begin at midnight. Etc.

And then the airlines weren't happy about it. Banks either.

Thus the measure languishes in a dark corner of the Capitol.

There is hope, though.

One of Rubio's bills would put the entire country on a permanent Daylight Saving Time schedule, which makes a lot more sense than Florida sticking out an hour ahead of everyone else on the East Coast. And Steube said he'd carry the Daylight Saving fight to Washington if he wins his race for Congress next week, which is probable.

So remains a ray of hope as we struggle to adjust our personal clocks.

What will happen is anyone's guess?

LAURA'S LOOK
Laura Ware

If you're reading this column when it comes out on Saturday, you have today and Tuesday to vote. I hope that action is in your plans.

I am not going to tell you how to vote. I don't endorse candidates, figuring you can make up your own mind. I do request, beg even, that you use your brain and do some research before you actually cast your vote. But please, if you haven't already done so, vote.

Unlike some people, I'm not going to tell you this is the most important election of our lives. You listen to some people long enough every election is the most important one. This current one is still important – we're voting for a new governor here in Florida and control of the House and Senate are up for grabs – but really, there's no need to alarm people.

And I'm hearing a lot of alarming talk on both sides. Listen to the national politicians speak long enough and you'll swear Armageddon is coming if their opponent wins. Never mind the end of the world as we know it was predicted at the conclusion of the 2016 election and we're still here. The United States is more resilient than we give it credit for. Chances are excellent we're going to survive no matter who wins this upcoming election.

Let me backtrack a moment and talk to my fellow Floridians. We have 12 (yes, 12) amendments up for consideration for the Florida Constitution. Let me quickly explain to non-Floridians that it is extremely easy to get an amendment to our constitution on the ballot. Because of that, we have the status of pregnant pigs enshrined in our state constitution (I am not kidding).

Again, do your homework. Study the pros and cons to each of these. Some of them are written in legalese, so you're going to have to find an interpreter. But seriously, don't just flip a coin to determine your vote.

So, in a few days the election will finally take place. We will probably have a good idea of how things are shaking out by Wednesday, which coincidently is when I start thinking about this column. So don't be surprised if I wind up talking about the aftermath.

But let me finish up this column by asking you a simple question – how will you act after Tuesday?

If you say, "It depends on how things turn out," that has some merit. I suspect there will be some very happy people on Wednesday, and others who will be unhappy. So I'm not necessarily asking you how you might feel. But I am curious about how you intend to act.

Me? My current plan, no matter what happens, is to act as normal as is possible (some will tell you I don't act very normal. There is some truth to this). But I don't plan to change how I treat people who disagree with me. I will treat them as I always strive to treat them – kindly and with respect. Because that's how I want to be treated.

I've heard some say they will be civil if their side wins, but not so much if they don't. This isn't smart. We should strive to do good to others no matter what the outcome of this election. Half the problem in this country is people thinking they don't need to use manners when dealing with people who disagree with them. It's not a crime to reach out to the other side even if they won. Really.

Think about how you will vote (unless you already voted. Then yay you). Use your brain when you cast that ballot. But don't turn it off afterwards. I have a feeling no matter how it all turns out we're going to need all the civility we can get out hands on. Be part of the solution, not part of the problem.

Help fight hunger around the world

GUEST COLUMN
Jack Payne

Thank you for helping to feed the world.

Your tax dollars help fund research, teaching, and outreach that can stave off starvation, prevent stunting in children, and reduce the turmoil that hunger unleashes.

Some of those tax dollars support the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (UF/IFAS). That's the agriculture and natural resources arm of your land-grant university, a designation with its roots in a Civil War-era mandate to instruct the masses in how to feed themselves.

Your support for public science has made Florida a global leader in feeding the planet, both through its preeminent public research university and through the remarkable productivity of the state's farmers. That partnership plays out at the UF/IFAS Citrus Research and Education Center in Lake Alfred, the Range Cattle Research and Education Center in Ona, and Extension offices in Sebring, Bartow, and 65 other locations.

With that support, UF/IFAS has built a formidable team of experts that the world looks to for solutions. That team attracts investments from other agencies in Florida-produced science that multiply the value of your tax dollars.

A case in point is the UF/IFAS team that leads the global Feed the Future Innovation Lab for Livestock Systems. With a $49 million grant from the United States Agency for International Development, IFAS and other UF researchers are helping family farmers in eight developing nations make a go of small-scale cattle ranching.

With improved practices, ranchers raising a handful of animals can boost their family's income and provide a valuable source of protein and other essential nutrients for their children during critical brain-development years. A brain drain of unrealized potential is a waste that no nation can afford.

The project has been successful enough that the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation added another $8.7 million to expand the work.

There are obvious payoffs to those eight nations. There are also payoffs to a ninth – the United States. What UF/IFAS scientists learn in Africa could inform their work in Florida, especially on matters such as how to prevent heat stress, tropical diseases or forage options for droughts.

We believe, too, that what starts as humanitarian work can lead to a stronger economy — that aid leads to trade. Aid recipient countries aspire, of course, to self-sufficiency. We saw that in South Korea, a recipient of huge amounts of foreign aid in the wake of war. It is now the world's second largest importer of Florida orange juice.

Feeding the world starts right here on campus. A recent survey revealed that one in five students from low-income families experienced enough hunger that it distracted them from their studies.

The College of Agricultural and Life Sciences (CALS), UF Student Affairs, and UF Student Government responded by establishing the Alan and Cathy Hitchcock Pantry. It spawned a campus culture of food drives and given momentum to student and faculty commitment to our Field and Fork Student Gardens to supply the pantry. The pantry and gardens have been valuable teaching tools for students learning to grow, process, transport, and market food.

Future food leaders need that kind of experience if they are going to put a dent in the tragic scope of global food waste. The United Nations estimates that about one third of all food produced never makes it into a stomach, while an estimated 815 million people face starvation or undernourishment.

Feeding Florida can also mean a shift of focus from calories to nutrition. UF/IFAS brings nutrition science to thousands of families each year in an effort to combat the obesity epidemic. In addition to the incalculable value of improving an individual's life, it saves the public tax dollars on subsidizing health care and providing other services to the malnourished.

So, again, I thank you for contributing to this. Please reflect on how you can participate more actively in the challenge of feeding the world. A few suggestions:

- Donate to the Alan and Cathy Hitchcock Pantry or to the food charity of your choice.
- Donate to IFAS's international livestock work aimed at improving the health and incomes of the poor.
- Support an international non-profit involved in improving agriculture in developing nations.
- Support public science.
- Start a school garden, or volunteer in one if your neighborhood school already has a plot.
- Contribute to scholarships for agricultural sciences students.

At UF/IFAS, we have framed much of our operation as one of the world's leading agricultural universities around fighting world hunger.

You don't have to feed the world on your own. You can do a great deal of good by supporting the people who are working on it full-time.

— Rob Bullock, Jennifer Bidlack, Eric Bidlack and Josh Sims — was a part of the Florida State Firefighters Association (FSFA) disaster response team, which is made up of civilians and first responders.

Bullock, state director for FSFA and coordinator of the disaster response team, said, "Forty-five people from FSFA have responded to the Hurricane Michael disaster." Disaster response team members include civilians, firefighters, EMTs, paramedics and police officers from all across the state. Some of those included unaffected areas of the Panhandle, the Southwest Florida area and the Highlands County area.

U-Haul provided trucks to carry plywood and building supplies, Bullock said. Home Depot loaded the U-Hauls with chainsaws, plywood and other supplies that hurricane victims would need. After unloading the trucks, the empty vehicles were taken to U-Haul locations in the Panhandle, because their trucks had been destroyed by the hurricane.

Every morning the Highlands County area team and three other teams met together to plan and discuss their relief efforts. Each team took a sector of the Panhandle and headed off to supply aid and assess needs. Bullock's team provided aid to Mexico Beach, Panama City, Cape San Blas and small fire departments like Kinard and Stone Mill Creek. His team was staged in Blountstown.

Although the power companies were working around the clock to restore electricity, Mexico Beach and many areas of the Panhandle had no running water and no power. In addition, the majority of the Panhandle was under a curfew.

"I went five days without a shower," Bullock said. His team focused on serving the firefighters and fire stations in the hard-hit areas and had to forgo luxuries like running water.

Organizations were setting up distribution centers at fire departments, Bullock said. They used the departments as hubs to distribute food, water and supplies.

"There are lots of fires following a hurricane," Bullock said. "As power comes on, we start to see structure fires if the breaker was not turned off first." Bullock and his team carried fire equipment and fire trucks to use as needed. In addition, some homes that were extensively damaged will not be able to have the power restored, or it could prove to be a fire hazard.

Bullock and his team met with fire stations and asked them about their needs. They boarded up bays at damaged stations to prevent looting and submitted reports on their cell phones using an app called Survey Point.

The app, which was built by the State Fire Marshall's Office, allowed Bullock to report the types of damage each fire station received. In addition, the app also allowed Bullock to interview the firefighters and send reports detailing the type and amount of damage to each firefighter's home. Bullock was also able to add notes and attach images of the damage.

The State Fire Marshall and Emergency Operation Center (EOC) received the information, which is automatically generated into reports. This allows the first responders to receive aid and recover so that they can serve their community.

"If I was in an area where they didn't have WiFi service, I could save the information as a draft," Bullock said. "Then when I got to an area that had service, I could open up the app and it would automatically send it.

"Pictures of the damage don't do it justice," he said. "Many of the guys who were deployed for Hurricane Michael and Hurricane Andrew said that Hurricane Michael had a significant amount more damage than Hurricane Andrew, especially the Mexico Beach area.

"Mexico Beach is probably the worst devastation I've seen out of all the deployments I've been to," Bullock said. "I felt horrible that these people were experiencing what they were. Some of them lost homes that had been in their families for over 100 years.

"Michael grew rapidly," Bullock said. "People didn't have a fair chance to leave. People on the beach didn't have much notice. It wasn't considered anything other than a Category 1 storm until just a short time before it hit. The rapid intensification caused people to be surprised."

While Bullock and his team were serving the Mexico Beach area, they heard the story of a family who had stayed on Mexico Beach during the hurricane. "While the family was in the house, the storm waters moved the house approximately 500 feet away, all the way across the street, and slammed it into a condo," he said. "Everyone survived. The family got to the highest point in the house.

"There were several houses that were relocated," Bullock said. "One house was picked up and dropped on another house.

"These people had not seen a hurricane of this magnitude before," he said. "I was able to say, 'I've been through this before. Life will get back to normal.'"

Despite the magnitude of the disaster, Bullock believes that the first responders in the Panhandle have worked tirelessly to help others. "The first responders that live there were so tired, and they had just lost everything and were still trying to protect their communities.

"In Mexico Beach, the fire department evacuated ahead of the storm and returned immediately after the storm. None of them left Mexico Beach until all their residents were accounted for. They made sure all 250 Mexico Beach residents who were unaccounted for were located and accounted for. Some had died.

"They worked for days before they had portable showers and toilets," he said. "They are unsung heroes who take their jobs seriously. They are the heart and soul in the community."

"There's a consensus among the state task force and the disaster response team that the response [to the hurricane] was there," he said. "The state conducted a really good response to it."

Bullock encourages people who are interested to join the disaster response team. "Send your credentials to FSFAdrt@gmail.com," he said.

Germany actually had Daylight Saving Time first, in April 1916, the year after Willett died. Britain followed suit in May 1916.

The United States instituted a time change in 1918, as a wartime measure.

The problem is that "summer time" made for discrepancies and confusion between institutions, companies and local governments that either used it or didn't use it.

It helped urban entities the most — retail outlets and recreational businesses — but didn't help farmers, History.com states. They and their livestock always woke and worked by the sun, but now shipping schedules had changed on them.

Agrarian interests led a movement to repeal it, and the United States did so in 1919.

A lot of local governments and companies still shifted their clocks, however, History.com states, well into the 1960s, and none of them did the same amount or on the same day.

The 1966 Uniform Time Act standardized Daylight Saving Time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October, giving states the option of remaining on standard time year-round. Some still do.

The advantage of the time change is tied to the equinox in that the further north or south you go, the more dramatic the difference in daylight from summer to winter. The less latitude, the less your change in daylight.

Webexhibits.com states that studies done by the U.S. Department of Transportation in 1975 showed Daylight Saving Time trims national electricity usage for lighting and appliances by about one percent each day.

The study said demand for electricity for lighting is directly related to when people get up and go to sleep. By moving the clock ahead one hour, electricity consumption decreases.

In places like southern Florida, a subtropical zone close to the equator, the time change doesn't really amount to much less or more sunlight each day.

Florida legislators voted in July to make the Daylight Saving Time permanent for Florida. On Sept. 25, the Orlando Sentinel reported that despite two bills filed by Sen. Marco Rubio, R-Miami, in Congress, the matter remains undiscussed in the U.S. Senate Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee.

If the bill were to get approved, Florida would stand alone among Atlantic Coast states, an hour ahead of the rest of the Eastern Time Zone and four hours ahead of the Pacific Standard Time, with entertainment and sports events all taking place at later times.

Floridians could still fly over to Stonehenge to greet the sun for the equinox or the solstice.

Just, don't try to reset the stones.

Blue Streaks excel, Red Devils strong at meet

AVON PARK – It was a beautiful, cool morning at Avon Park High School on Thursday as the Class 2A-District 6 swim meet started to heat up. There were six teams in the competition.

Sebring had an outstanding meet with the Blue Streak girls placing second with a score of 509 points, while the boys finished first with 577 for a combined team score of 1,086 placing them in first.

Hardee claimed second and Avon Park was third as a team. The Red Devil girls were fourth with 247 and the boys came in second with 436 for a combined 683.

"Everything went well," said Sebring Coach Pat Caton. "Many swimmers showed progress and several had personal records for the season. They have definitely improved their strokes and their finishes. The teams came together at just the right time."

Avon Park claimed first in the boys 200-yard medley relay with the foursome of Josh Farless, Nathan Ahrens, Kevin Myers and Robert Dean clocking a 1:52.12. The Sebring team of James Branca, Hans Giller, Devin Brubaker and Jacob Sutermeister placed second with a 1:53.19

Sebring claimed second in the girls 200-yard medley relay with the quartet of Hannah Berry, Gigi Sutherland, Lyndsay Rigdon and Zoey Filppola clocking a 2:13.29. Avon Park was third with the squad of Bailey Spurlock, Kaitlyn Williams, Daisy Landress and Amariah Novoa coming in at 2:46.65.

"We were ready for today," said Avon Park Coach Tracy Lee. "All the teams have worked extremely hard this season with hours and hours of practice. We knew it was going to be a close and challenging meet. The athletes did not let us down, very close races from the initial event to the final relay. Almost all of our athletes now have new personal best times as many of them dropped time today in the meet."

Sebring standout Sutherland claimed first in the 200-yard individual medley with 2:37.89 and in the 100-yard breaststroke with a 1:17.73.

Avon Park's Josh Farless claimed first in the 100-yard butterfly with 56.83 and in the 100-yard backstroke with 59.90.

Sebring dominated in girls diving with Rilian Smith finishing first with 359.05 points and Emma Rowe claiming second with 340.10.

Lake Wales claimed first and second place in boys diving. Avon Park's Losa brothers showed what they can do. Cole Losa was third with 386.55 and Finn Losa had 363.20 which was enough for fourth.

The swimmers and divers who advanced to regionals will practice and get ready for the next step in hopes of qualifying for the state meet.

"We are taking the weekend off and will be back to practice Monday afternoon," said Coach Lee. "It will be a short week as we are planning to head to Orlando for an evening of team

Gators look to rebound against Tigers

Florida hosts Missouri in conference home game

By MARK LONG
Associated Press

GAINESVILLE — The low point for Florida last season came 1,000 miles from home in Columbia, Missouri.

The Gators had just parted ways with Jim McElwain, promoted defensive coordinator Randy Shannon to interim head coach, switched starting quarterbacks, made several more changes and went on the road believing they would end a three-game losing streak in the Southeastern Conference.

The Tigers had other thoughts, moving the ball at will, amassing 455 yards and thumping Florida 45-16 for their first league victory in five games.

"Those guys really beat up on us pretty bad," receiver Josh Hammond recalled. "We had a lot of other things going on. Guys were just not focused mentally throughout the week last year for preparation for Missouri. ...

"The one thing about SEC ball is you play those guys every year, and I think a lot of guys remember that loss and remember the feeling."

No. 13 Florida (6-2, 4-2 SEC, No. 11 CFP) is counting on a much better performance against Missouri (4-4, 0-4) in the Swamp today.

Florida's Josh Hammond, left, is tackled during last year's loss to Missouri. The Gators are looking for payback in today's game against the Tigers.

Coming off a 36-17 loss to Georgia that eliminated the Gators from SEC East contention, they turned their attention toward their final four regular-season games and reaching double-digit wins for just the third time in the last nine years.

"We want to finish out the season strong," defensive tackle Khairi Clark said. "We just lost this big game, messed up a lot for us. But at the same time, we can't dwell on it. We've just got to move on and try to win the rest of these games."

Missouri would like to get its first league win.

The Tigers lost a heartbreaker at home last week to Kentucky, rallying from an 11-point deficit in the fourth quarter before losing on a touchdown pass on the final play — an untimed down that followed a questionable pass-interference penalty.

"Our kids have responded great," coach Barry Odom said.

Both teams hope to get more from their quarterbacks.

Drew Lock picked apart Florida's secondary in 2017, throwing for three touchdowns, but the projected first-round draft pick hasn't fared nearly as well against SEC defenses this season. Lock has completed 50 percent of his passes for 732 yards, with one touchdown and five interceptions, in losses to Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama and Kentucky.

Florida's Feleipe Franks has been more efficient, although he has six turnovers in the last four games.

Franks has thrown an interception in four straight games and lost fumbles in the last two.

"There's just one or two plays I'd like to have back, especially like the turnovers, just silly mistakes like that that they're not like me," Franks said. "That's just something I need to fix."

Some other things to know about when Missouri plays at Florida on Saturday:

The Tigers looked like one of the best defenses in the league last week, especially against the run. Led by three experienced linebackers, including sophomore captain Cale Garrett, they held Kentucky to 91 yards on the ground and 2.6 yards a carry. Florida is at its best when it's able to run the ball with Jordan Scarlett and Lamical Perine. The Gators scored a combined 46 points in the three games (Kentucky, Mississippi State, Georgia) in which they failed to gain 200 yards on the ground.

the 2018 season, which has allowed IMSA competitors the chance to sample and learn the MICHELIN® tires at various circuits. IMSA will focus on the three Challenge series classes at the Encore, a special non-points race.

The MICHELIN Pilot Challenge and IMSA Prototype Challenge series will provide the core content of cars. The MICHELIN Pilot Challenge features a two-class structure with Grand Sport (GS) and TCR classes. The GS class runs to GT4 technical regulations. Prototype Challenge uses LMP3 cars exclusively beginning next season.

"The Michelin IMSA SportsCar Encore is really the kickoff for Michelin as the Official Tire of IMSA," said Chris Baker, director of motorsport, Michelin North America. "We look forward to welcoming and working with our new Challenge class teams and drivers at the Encore event."

Among the 20 cars entered, the field is split with 12 LMP3, 5 GT4 and 3 TCR cars. This includes entries from Ford, Audi, Porsche and Volkswagen in the GT4 and TCR classes. There are three chassis constructors entered in the LMP3 class, Ligier, Norma and Adess.

Zacharie Robichon and Jon Brownson both won IMSA-sanctioned championships this year and are among those entered in the LMP3 class. Ten 2018 IMSA-sanctioned race winners have already entered. Included among them are Katherine Legge and Kyle Marcelli, who both won races in IMSA's WeatherTech SportsCar Championship GT Daytona (GTD) class this season. The full entry list is available here.

The four-hour race starts at 12 p.m. ET on Sunday, Nov. 11 and will be streamed live on IMSA.tv with commentary from the IMSA Radio team led by John Hindhaugh and Jeremy Shaw.

The official weekend schedule includes three practice sessions on Saturday, Nov. 10 as well as a 45-minute Global MX-5 Cup Challenge race on both Saturday and Sunday.

Tickets will be sold at the gate of Sebring International Raceway each day, and military veterans will be admitted free on Sunday (Veteran's Day) with proper ID. Following Saturday's on-track action, there will be a concert at 7 p.m. featuring one of country music's top artists, Love and Theft, along with the Dairy Daughters.

Encore to Focus on IMSA Challenge Series Classes in 2018

The Michelin IMSA SportsCar Encore was originally unveiled on the 2017 Motul Petit Le Mans weekend, with plans to include LMP3, GT3, GT4 and TCR race cars.

One of the primary goals of this end-of-year, non-points event is to offer competitors an exciting, free-standing opportunity to experience IMSA and Sebring.

Since the initial announcement more than a year ago, IMSA has continued to listen to its WeatherTech Championship GTD stakeholders – which field GT3 race cars – and have taken into account their concerns regarding increasing costs.

From this engagement and partnership, some 2019 GTD class regulation changes have been developed, including the reduction of one race from the WeatherTech Championship GTD schedule, the elimination of all sanctioned testing except the Roar Before the Rolex 24 At Daytona – which has been reduced from three to two days for GTD competitors – and the introduction of the IMSA WeatherTech Sprint Cup, a new, seven-race competition for GTD class competitors within most WeatherTech Championship sprint events two-hour, 40-minutes in length or shorter.

Based on stakeholder feedback, and with the full support of the GTD manufacturers and team partners, GT3 race cars will not participate in the 2018 Michelin IMSA SportsCar Encore.

PAUSE & CONSIDER

Let the supper simmer

November is a time for planning dinners … especially Thanksgiving … while looking ahead to Christmas festivities. Between planning, shopping, preparing ahead of time, baking, etc., creating an appealing, nourishing meal is pretty time consuming.

Even when readying a meal for just the two of us, I take a few moments to think through what needs to be done first so that everything will be served hot and fresh.

For example, if I get a chicken dish ready first and later decide to make a salad, I'll throw my preparation off and my chicken will be overcooked or cold. For me, making a salad is more like 'building' one and takes time. So, I must plan wisely.

But, by getting salad prep done first, the bright, leafy greens, and red, juicy tomatoes along with other yummy ingredients can wait their turn to be dressed.

If pasta is involved, timing is essential so that we don't make 'glue' by overcooking, undercooking, sitting too long or getting cold. Such lack of preparation will not tempt the palate. Good planning insures a good presentation that begs the invitation to dig in.

However, there are times when even the best planning is interrupted and we need to be flexible. Put food back in the refrigerator, set the pot to a low simmer, reduce the oven temperature … whatever it takes so that the meal isn't salted with tension.

This reminds me of the story of when Jesus and his disciples had come to Bethany, the home of Lazarus, Mary and Martha. After walking miles to get there, they reclined around the low table ready to enjoy a wonderfully planned and prepared meal. These were hungry men and Mary and Martha were known for their hospitality.

However, on this particular visit, Mary slipped away from the kitchen … her heart and mind hungering for Jesus' words. Meanwhile, Martha continued with her duties. But, after a while, she wiped her brow, slung her dish towel aside and asked Jesus why he didn't convince Mary to return to the kitchen to help her.

Jesus' gentle reply must have surprised Martha. In Luke 10: 41, NLT we read, "My dear Martha, you are worried and upset over all these details! There is only one thing worth being concerned about. Mary has discovered it, and it will not be taken away from her."

He knew the hard work Martha had put into the meal. But Jesus was looking after the preparation of her heart.

Youth pastor overcomes tragedy with God's help

By MELISSA MAIN
Staff Writer

SEBRING — When Zach Evans was 10 years old, his grandfather, his only father figure and an ordained pastor, committed suicide. Evans' faith was tested, and it took years for him to respond to God's call for healing, but once Evans welcomed God's help, he was able to cast aside his anger and embrace a life filled with meaning and joy.

"My mom was divorced, so my grandfather was the father figure in my life," Evans said. "He was a pastor, and he died of suicide. I didn't understand at 10 how someone who lived for God could have done that.

"God could have stopped it, and I was angry at God throughout elementary and middle school," he said. "I gave my life to Christ when I was a junior in high school."

MELISSA MAIN/STAFF

Zach Evans serves as interim youth pastor at Sebring Christian Church. He believes that people should live every day like it is full of value.

Evans was working in the cooler at Piggly Wiggly, a grocery store, when an audible thought went through his head. "You can't do this without me," the Holy Spirit told him.

"I broke down and cried," Evans said. Although he had gone to church, Bible study and Vacation Bible School, he had never buried the burden and hate inside of him, which was caused by his grandfather's death.

Evans gave his life to God that day at the Piggly Wiggly. "God met me at my worst moment, my worst time. God doesn't have to meet you in a church service," Evans said.

After Evans committed his life to God, he began the healing process. He believes that God sent someone to comfort him. A woman told him, "God has the power over life and death." This confirmed what Evans knew; God could have

Scruton provides a helping hand to people in need

By MELISSA MAIN
Staff Writer

SEBRING — Paul Scruton devotes his life to helping people in crisis; he serves as a volunteer chaplain at Samaritan's Touch Care Center (STCC) in Sebring, and he gives away free bicycles to help people travel to work.

Scruton volunteers one to three days each week, because he wants to help people improve their physical and emotional health. Almost every day he volunteers, he hears these words from patients, "If it wasn't for Samaritan's Touch, I wouldn't be alive today." Many of the people who receive medical services are employed, but they are unable to afford health insurance.

"Every day we save lives both medically and spiritually at Samaritan's Touch," Scruton said. "Several years ago, we had a young man come to Samaritan's Touch. He was found to have a malignant tumor on his brain.

"Samaritan's Touch made arrangements with Moffitt Cancer Center to treat this young man. Several weeks later he showed up with his family at STCC to volunteer to do all the yard work to repay us for saving his life."

Scruton has volunteered at Samaritan's Touch since it opened 11 years ago this May. When he was attending Union Congregational Church in Avon Park, the pastor said, "There is a new ministry starting in town, and they need volunteers."

"I liked their mission and what they were doing," Scruton said. "They provide medical and spiritual care for the poor in Highlands County — people who don't even have Medicaid — so I started volunteering."

Scruton listens to those who are hurting and often drives people without transportation to the center for medical treatment. "A person will come in the waiting room, and I can tell that the person is hurting," Scruton said. "I will sit down and visit with them."

To get the conversation started, Scruton asks, "How did you find out about STCC? Have we been able to help you?"

"They start talking after that," he said. Once he finds out what their problems are, he can address them. "Several of our patients have qualified for disability, but they didn't have the resources or knowledge to go about getting this help.

"I supply them with that," he said. "They don't have computers at home. They don't have access to the information superhighway and they don't know where to start.

A client from Volunteers of America receives a bike from Paul Scruton. The client had gotten a job at Winn Dixie, but she didn't have transportation. Thanks to Scruton, she will be able to bike to work.

"If it's a family, we try to identify if they need food or not," Scruton said. "If they need food, then we supply that through the many contacts we have in the community."

Sometimes people are desperate for someone to listen to them. For example, Scruton talked to a distraught woman in his office for over an hour one day. He provided a listening ear and demonstrated compassion for her problems. A week later, the woman sent him a card, calling Scruton her angel.

Scruton also desires to help people be able to obtain and maintain employment. Often clients at Samaritan's Touch want to work, but they have no transportation. Scruton solves that problem by giving them a free bike.

Dan Andrews, owner of Legacy Bicycles, and Bob Morrill, Scruton's neighbor, help Scruton with repairs and parts for the bicycles that he provides to people in need. Scruton also receives assistance from his friends and neighbors at Highlands Ridge where he lives. "The people at Highlands Ridge support me with everything from bikes to soap to toothbrushes to money." In addition to serving at Samaritan's Touch and providing free bikes, Scruton also gives toiletry items to homeless people and TriCounty Human Services.

Scruton's bike ministry started about seven years ago, and he has given away 230 bikes to people in Highlands County. He gives them to people who need them as their primary means of transportation to get to work or a store.

The bike ministry began when a man came into Scruton's office, and he had a smile on his face from ear to ear. "Leonard, what are you so happy about this morning?" Scruton asked. (Only a first name is given to protect confidentiality.)

"Mr. Paul, I've got a job, and I can move out of the mission," Leonard said.

"Where are you working?" Scruton asked. "How are you getting back and forth to work?"

"I have a bike, but it's not in good shape," Leonard said. "It took me two hours to get to STCC this morning."

Scruton went outside and looked at the bike. "It was terrible — all rusted out," he said.

"I'm going to get you a bike,"

A future without fear

It was a daily ritual for little Mary to walk to and from her school. One day, although the weather was questionable, she set out on her normal trek to the elementary school. Throughout the morning, the clouds began to form. As the afternoon progressed, the winds whipped up, along with thunder and lightning. Mary's mother was concerned that her daughter would be frightened as she walked home from school. In fact, the weather was so intense that the mother feared the storm might harm her child.

As lightning was cutting across the sky, followed by loud claps of thunder, Mary's mother quickly got into her car and drove along the route that her daughter would take home from school. She found Mary in the process of walking home, but at each flash of lightning, the child would stop, look up, and smile. More lightning flashed; more thunder rolled. And, each time, the girl stopped, looked at the streak of light, and smiled.

Finally, the mother called little Mary over to the car and asked, "What are you looking at, and why are you smiling?" The child answered, "God keeps taking pictures of me."

Many people fear the future, because they are unsure about what awaits them. However, just like the little girl who was not afraid of the storm, one does not have to fear what lies ahead. Actually, to the Christian, the future is greatly anticipated. It holds opportunities to obey Jesus Christ more, and it holds eternal life for all those who do. Concerning Jesus, Hebrews 5:9 reads, "And having been made perfect, He became to all those who obey Him the source of eternal salvation."

Paul wrote to some Christians in Philippians 1:21-24, "For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain. But if I am to live on in the flesh, this will mean fruitful labor for me; and I do not know which to choose. But I am hard-pressed from both directions having the desire to depart and be with Christ, for that is very much better; yet to remain on in the flesh is more necessary for your sake." Paul loved serving Jesus, and he did so at every occasion, but he looked forward to the time when he would be with his Savior in Heaven forever. He knew that Christ was with him while he was a part of this world, yet Paul desired even more the closeness of being with Christ in the world to come.

We each are given the opportunity to follow Christ in this life. By doing so, we look forward to being blessed now

Scruton told Leonard.

That afternoon Scruton confirmed Leonard's employment and went to the people who lived in his neighborhood. He told them, "I need a bike for a deserving person."

Soon Scruton had six bicycles, and he gave the best one to Leonard. His bicycle ministry was born.

One day a gentleman came into his office and said, "I have a tough time getting a job with no transportation." Scruton checked his story to make sure that he had a real need. Then he asked the man, "Where can I deliver your bicycle?"

"Do you know the bench across from the old pharmacy on the Circle?" the gentleman answered. "I'm homeless, and that's where I am most of the day. "

"The next day I delivered a real nice bike to the gentleman, and he rode off happy and proud," Scruton said.

Six months later the man came back into Scruton's office at Samaritan's Touch and said, "Mr. Paul, I have good news and bad news."

"Tell me the bad news first," Scruton said. "I can no longer be a patient, because I now have a job and I'm making money. The good news is that I move into my own apartment next weekend. If it wouldn't have been for STCC and the bicycle, none of this would have been possible."

HELP

stopped the suicide.

The next comment was healing. "Someone doesn't die and go to hell over their last sin, their last mistake." Those words helped him to release his hate and his burden. That release didn't happen all at one time, but slowly God began to change him.

Evans noticed the upbeat personality of his mom, and her positivity influenced him. He noticed her commitment to God and her church, despite her father's tragic death.

"I would not be the person I am today without the way she raised me in the church," he said.

Eventually, his love for the church came to mirror that of his mom and grandfather. He left Alabama and began studying church ministry and psychology at Warner University. In addition, he started serving as the interim youth pastor at Sebring Christian Church.

Sebring Christian Church is a predominantly white church that is becoming more diversified. "When I first came to Sebring Christian Church, I wanted to try and build on diversity," he said. "I came from an all black church, and I don't like that. I don't like an all white church either.

"The body of Christ is built on all different races," he said. "The Bible says, 'There is no Jew or Greek, no male or female.' In heaven, there will be no black, no white, no Mexican."

Evans said, "On Earth, it is the training ground for heaven. If we can't get along with our white sister or black black brother, God won't allow us to enter heaven with a heart of hate.

"God created us to accept each other and get along with each other," he said. Evans believes that some of his joy is because he can accept people of all races.

"If I choose not to accept a white or Hispanic person, it would ruin my day," he said. "We can't get away from each other, even if we live in different places. We still see each other at the grocery store and at football games. It's truly easier to love than to hate."

Evans attempts to appeal to a variety of cultures in the youth group by playing Christian rap, gospel, country and Christian rock. He also pushes youth to invite everyone, of all races, to church. "I want them to invite their friends and people they don't usually talk to," Evans said.

"Jesus Christ is all we have," he said. "We are called to make disciples and that does not exclude any race or any color."

Evans believes that loving all races and enjoying the life God has given us is important. "Life is extremely short," he said. "Having a pessimistic viewpoint will only make it shorter. We should live every day like life is full of value. Then you will have a positive attitude."

When Evans is having a difficult day, he begins to instantly pray. "We should pray without ceasing," he said. "Be in community with God all day. You don't have to close your eyes or kneel. He counts every tear."

One of Evans' favorite verses for facing trials is Philippians 4:6, which states, "Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God."

God transformed the anxious, confused thoughts of a 10-year-old who was mourning his grandfather's suicide into the positive, joyful thoughts of a 19-year-old interim youth pastor. Evans believes, that with God's help, difficult situations can be overcome and joy can flow from a heart that was once full of sorrow.

and in the hereafter. That means the obedient child of God can look forward to Heaven with confidence. 1 John 4:17 reads, "By this, love is perfected with us, so that we may have confidence in the day of judgment; because as He is, so also are we in this world." Fear or confidence? What does the future hold in store for you?

NOTICE OF MEETING 26

NOTICE OF LANDOWNERS MEETING AND WORKSHOP ON ASSESSMENT METHODOLOGY SPRING LAKE IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT

The Spring Lake Improvement District will conduct the Annual Landowners Meeting on Wednesday, November 14th at the District Office, 115 Spring Lake Boulevard, Sebring, Florida 33876. A Public Workshop on the Assessment Methodology Study will precede the landowners meeting and begin at 10:00 a.m. The workshop will be presented by Mr. Steve McDonald, GAI Consultants. The landowners meeting will follow the workshop, and the regularly scheduled Board meeting will immediately follow the landowners meeting.

An election shall be held for electing ONE Supervisor to a Board of five Supervisors for a term expiring on the regular meeting date in November 2021 in accordance with the Florida Statutes, Chapter 90-434. The Landowners may vote in person or by proxy, in writing. Proxies are available at the District Office. At said meeting each landowner shall be entitled to cast one vote per acre of land owned and located within the District. Fractions of an acre shall be treated as one acre, entitling the landowners to one vote with respect thereto. The person receiving the highest number of votes for the office of supervisor shall be declared elected. In addition to the voting, any other business relating to the Spring Lake Improvement District as may properly come before the meeting will be heard.

EACH PERSON WHO DECIDES TO APPEAL ANY DECISION MADE BY THE BOARD WITH RESPECT TO ANY MATTER CONSIDERED AT MEETINGS IS ADVISED THAT PERSON MAY NEED TO ENSURE THAT A VERBATIM RECORD OF THE PROCEEDINGS IS MADE, INCLUDING THE TESTIMONY AND EVIDENCE UPON WHICH SUCH APPEAL IS TO BE BASED.

US restores Iran sanctions

By MATTHEW LEE
AP Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON — The Trump administration on Friday restored U.S. sanctions on Iran that had been lifted under the 2015 nuclear deal, but carved out exemptions for eight countries that can still import oil from the Islamic Republic without penalty.

The sanctions take effect Monday and cover Iran's shipping, financial and energy sectors. They are the second batch the administration has reimposed since Trump withdrew from the landmark accord in May.

The 2015 deal, one of former President Barack Obama's biggest diplomatic achievements, gave Iran billions of dollars in sanctions relief in exchange for curbs on its nuclear program, which many believed it was using to develop atomic weapons. Trump repeatedly denounced the agreement as the "worst ever" negotiated by the United States and said it gave Iran too much in return for too little.

AP PHOTO

But proponents as well as the other parties to the deal — Britain, China, France, Germany, Russia and the European Union — have vehemently defended it. The Europeans have mounted a drive to save the agreement without the U.S., fearing that the new sanctions will drive Iran to pull out and resume all of its nuclear work.

Friday's announcement comes just days before congressional midterm elections in the U.S., allowing Trump to highlight his decision to withdraw from the deal — a move that was popular among Republicans.

Shortly after the announcement, Trump tweeted what looks like a movie poster image of himself that takes creative inspiration from the TV series "Game of Thrones" with the tagline: "Sanctions are Coming, November 5."

Secretary of State Mike Pompeo said the sanctions are "aimed at fundamentally altering the behavior of the Islamic Republic of Iran." He has issued a list of 12 demands that Iran must meet to get the sanctions lifted that include an end to its support for terrorism and military engagement in Syria and a halt to nuclear and ballistic missile development.

Storm system tears up the south

By JAY REEVES
Associated Press

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Forecasters said most of the East Coast was at risk for severe weather Friday, with winds as strong as 60 mph, isolated tornadoes and heavy rain possible as the Gulf Coast recovered from storms blamed for two deaths.

Waves of weather moving in from the Gulf of Mexico at daybreak brought rain and lightning to parts of the Florida Panhandle struck last month by Hurricane Michael, and the threat was supposed to spread to the north and east through the day.

"I think people are not wanting to see more wind and rain," said Mayor Margo Anderson of hurricane-tossed Lynn Haven, Florida. "It puts everyone on edge. It's frightening."

The Storm Prediction Center said there was a marginal risk for severe thunderstorms along a line running from Florida's west coast to southern New Hampshire in New England. About 64 million people in cities including Washington, Philadelphia and New York live in the path.

At least two deaths along the Gulf Coast were blamed on storms that hit Wednesday night and Thursday. At least 12 tornadoes had been confirmed in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, with the damage surveys expected to continue Friday.

Panama City spokeswoman Caitlin Lawrence said the storm system moving east through the Florida Panhandle on Thursday was

The sound of chainsaws grind through a neighborhood in Natchez, Mississippi, as cleanup begins following a tornado that hit early Thursday. At least 11 tornadoes have been confirmed by National Weather Service surveyors so far in Louisiana and Mississippi as part of a storm system that moved across the region Wednesday night and Thursday.

A large tree fell on the vehicles parked in the driveway of a Natchez, Mississippi, residence on Martin Luther King Jr. Street, Thursday, during the storms that passed through the area Thursday morning.

Troop deployment creates tense atmosphere on US border

By NOMAAN MERCHANT
Associated Press

BROWNSVILLE, Texas — As the first active-duty military troops sent to the U.S. border with Mexico installed coils of razor wire on a bridge and a riverbank Friday, a sense of unease spread across Texas' Rio Grande Valley.

President Donald Trump's portrayal of a border under siege by drug smugglers and other criminals is at odds with what residents in towns along the 1,954-mile divide with Mexico see in their daily routines, with U.S. border towns consistently ranking among the safest in the country.

Some Valley residents question the need for a large military presence and fear it will tarnish the area's image. And some are afraid of violence if and when the caravan of Central American migrants that the troops have been sent to confront reaches the U.S. border.

Feds say heroin, fentanyl remain biggest drug threat to US

By MICHAEL BALSAMO
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Drug overdose deaths hit the highest level ever recorded in the United States last year, with an estimated 200 people dying per day, according to a report by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration. Most of that was the result of a record number of opioid-related deaths.

Preliminary figures show more than 72,000 people died in 2017 from drug overdoses across the country. About a week ago, U.S. Health and Human Services Secretary Alex Azar said overdose deaths, while still slowly rising, were beginning to level off, citing figures from late last year and early this year.

The DEA's National Drug Threat Assessment, which was released Friday, shows that heroin, fentanyl and other opioids continue to be the highest drug threat in the nation. But federal officials are concerned that methamphetamine and cocaine are being seen at much higher levels in areas that haven't historically been hotspots for those drugs. The DEA is also worried that people are exploiting marijuana legalization to traffic cannabis into the illicit market or to states that don't have medicinal or recreational-use marijuana laws, according to the report.

The preliminary data also showed 49,060 people died from opioid-related overdose deaths, a rise from the reported 42,249 opioid overdose deaths in 2016.

President Donald Trump has declared the U.S. opioid crisis as a "public health emergency" and just last week pledged to put an "extremely big dent" in the scourge of drug addiction.

Fatal heroin overdoses rose nationwide between 2015 and 2016, with a nearly 25 percent increase in the Northeast and more than 22 percent in the South. Most of the heroin sold in the U.S. is being trafficked from Mexico, and U.S. Customs and Border Protection officers seize the most amount of heroin along the Mexico border, near San Diego, California, the report said.

Fentanyl and other related opioids, which tend to be cheaper and much more potent than heroin, remain one of the biggest concerns for federal drug agents.

The DEA has said China is a main source of fentanyl and other synthetic opioids that have been flooding the U.S. market. China has pushed back against the characterization, and U.S. officials have stressed they work closely with their Chinese counterparts as they try to stem the flow of drugs.

Legislation that Trump signed last week will add treatment options and force the U.S. Postal Service to screen overseas packages for fentanyl.

Azar said in a speech last week that toward the end of 2017 and through the beginning of this year the number of drug overdose deaths "has begun to plateau." However, he was not indicating that deaths were going down, but that they appear to be rising at a slower rate than previously seen.

Last month, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention released preliminary figures that appear to show a slowdown in overdose deaths from December to March. In that period, the figures show that the pace of the increase over the previous 12 months has slowed from 10 percent to 3 percent, according to the preliminary CDC figures.

Even if a slowdown is underway, no one is questioning the fact that the nation is dealing with the deadliest drug overdose epidemic in its history. While prescription opioid and heroin deaths appear to be leveling off, deaths involving fentanyl, cocaine and methamphetamines are on the rise, according to CDC data.

The DEA's report also noted that methamphetamine is making its way into communities where the drug normally wasn't heavily used, the report said. Chronic use of meth, a highly addictive stimulant, can cause paranoia, visual and auditory hallucinations and delusions, studies have shown.

Florida again the epicenter of nation's polarizing politics

By GARY FINEOUT
Associated Press

TALLAHASSEE — Florida is emerging as an epicenter of the nation's polarizing politics in the final days of the 2018 campaign.

In the closely contested campaign for governor, President Donald Trump and GOP nominee Ron DeSantis have used what has been called racially coded language to slam Democrat Andrew Gillum. The battles for the governor's mansion and a key U.S. Senate seat are playing out in communities still recovering from a killer hurricane and one of the nation's deadliest school shootings.

Virtually every hot-button cultural issue tearing at the nation — including guns, race and the environment — is unfolding in a deeply personal way here.

That's a sharp change in a state where elections notoriously come down to the wire. Politicians in both parties traditionally focus on winning over moderate voters, especially those living along Interstate 4 in the shadow of Disney World, to eke out a win. Not so in the Trump era as each side scrambles to mobilize its strongest supporters.

"This election is truly a choice between results and resistance," Trump told a crowd during a rally in southwest Florida. "This is really an election between greatness and gridlock."

Trump's visit is just one of two stops planned this week to bolster DeSantis and Gov. Rick Scott's U.S. Senate campaign.

The Democrats are out in force in the Sunshine State, as well. Former President Barack Obama will visit Democratic-vote-rich South Florida, and Vermont Sen. Bernie Sanders visited college campuses mid-week, urging students to vote for Democratic nominee Gillum, the Tallahassee mayor who could become the state's first black governor.

During his stop at the University of Central Florida, Sanders railed at Trump and contended he was coming to the state because he is worried that DeSantis will lose the governor's race. DeSantis, a former congressman, won the GOP primary over a much-better-funded opponent largely based on Trump's backing.

"I say to Donald Trump: This country has struggled with discrimination of all kinds for too many years," Sanders said. "We say to Trump today, 'We are not going backwards into more discrimination. We are going forward to celebrate our diversity."

The ramped-up campaign rhetoric in the closing days shows signs of bringing a surge of voters with it.

This election is on pace to significantly surpass the turnout of Florida's past five midterm elections, stretching back two decades. By Friday, nearly 4.1 million people had either voted by mail or at an early voting location.

Election Day will wrap up a bitter campaign season that witnessed the battle between DeSantis and Gillum veer into racial politics and heated exchanges over a long-simmering FBI investigation involving Gillum's home city.

The Senate race between Scott and incumbent Democrat Bill Nelson has taken a back seat to the governor's race, but it too has centered largely on name-calling and insults lobbed in tens of millions of dollars' worth of negative television ads. Scott has painted Nelson as an ineffective career politician, while Nelson has labeled Scott untrustworthy because of questions about how the multimillionaire governor has handled his finances while in office.

Low levels of red tide have spread to Pensacola Beach

PENSACOLA (AP) — Low concentrations of red tide have been detected in the westernmost reaches of the Florida Panhandle.

The Pensacola News Journal reported that samples collected off the Pensacola Beach Fishing Pier found "very low" levels of red tide, indicating the bloom that appeared off Panama City in September is spreading west.

A Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission report says the samples were taken just below the water's surface. Medium concentration levels were found about 13 miles off shore on Saturday.

Robert Turpin, the marine resources director for Escambia County, tells the newspaper the bloom should be thought of as "patchy" and wind patterns over the next few days could blow the patches in different directions.

The bloom can kill marine life and cause respiratory distress in humans.

Woman stopped, talked man off ledge of Tampa bridge

CLEARWATER (AP) — A Florida woman says she relied on her gut instincts when she saw a man at the edge of the bridge over Tampa Bay and pulled over to help.

Nicola Oyola tells Fox 13 that something told her to stop as she made her way across the Howard-Franklin Bridge on Thursday afternoon. She talked the 23-year-old man off the edge, telling him that everything would be OK.

She says the man was shaking when she first started talking to him. She says she told him she "just wanted to give him a hug" and he got off the ledge.

Oyola says she asked his permission to call police and the responding officer prayed with him before taking him somewhere he could get help.

Local officials approve funding for Pulse museum

ORLANDO (AP) — Up to $10 million in local hotel tax revenue can be used to help build a museum to the 49 victims of a massacre at a gay nightclub in Florida.

Orange County commissioners on Tuesday approved payments over three years to a foundation dedicated to building a museum commemorating the 2016 massacre at the Pulse nightclub in Orlando. The money will be used to buy land and create designs for the museum.

Orange County Mayor Teresa Jacobs says the museum will be "sacred space" that teaches visitors about the dangers of intolerance and discrimination. Officials with the onePulse Foundation say they will start developing a design for the museum and memorial in the coming months.

Sheriff: Man killed himself after shooting at 2 deputies

LAKELAND (AP) — Investigators in central Florida say a man shot at two sheriff's deputies who came to his house after receiving a call about a possible domestic dispute.

An hours-long standoff ended Thursday night when deputies finally entered the home in Lakeland and found the man dead of a self-inflicted gunshot wound. Neither deputy was injured in the shooting.

Polk County Sheriff's spokesman Brian Bruchey said in an email that deputies initially went to the home to attempt to make contact with a woman and her teenage son. They were found safe at another location early Friday.

Bruchey says the deputies were standing at the door of the home, trying to get the man inside to come outside. He told them he didn't want to go back to jail and started firing.

Worker injured by toppling bucket truck in Florida

HOMESTEAD (AP) — Officials say a construction worker was injured in Florida when a bucket truck fell over.

The Miami Herald reports that the articulated boom truck toppled Thursday morning in Homestead.

Miami-Dade Fire rescue says the worker was airlifted to a nearby hospital. His condition wasn't immediately reported.

Officials say a small gas leak caused by the 50-foot lift crashing was easily contained and cleaned up.

Toddler found floating in Florida lake dies

ODESSA (AP) — A 2-year-old boy found floating in a Florida lake has died.

The Tampa Bay Times reports Hillsborough County Sheriff's deputies say 23-year-old Haley Lauren Eaton found her son, Tristan Valenzuela, floating in an Odessa lake Sunday. Eaton told authorities Tristan and another child were playing in a friend's unfenced yard when he disappeared that afternoon.

He was taken to a hospital and pronounced dead the next day. The county Medical Examiner's Office says he died from a lack of oxygen to his brain.

The Department of Children and Families says Eaton and Tristan's father, 26-year-old Daryan Carlos Valenzuela, were under investigation at the time over concerns of domestic violence between the two. Valenzuela was jailed last month on domestic violence charges. He posted bail Monday.

Turkey: Highest level of Saudi gov't ordered writer's slaying

By SUZAN FRASER
Associated Press

ANKARA, Turkey — The order to kill Saudi journalist Jamal Khashoggi came from the highest level of the Saudi government, Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan said Friday, adding that the international community had the responsibility to "reveal the puppet masters" behind the slaying.

In an op-ed in The Washington Post, Erdogan said he did not believe that Saudi King Salman had ordered the killing of Khashoggi at the Saudi Consulate on Oct. 2. He said Turkey's close ties to Saudi Arabia did not mean that Turkey could turn a blind eye to the killing of the journalist.

"We know that the order to kill Khashoggi came from the highest levels of the Saudi government," Erdogan said.

Erdogan wrote: "As responsible members of the international community, we must reveal the identities of the puppet masters behind Khashoggi's killing and discover those in whom Saudi officials — still trying to cover up the murder — have placed their trust."

Istanbul's chief prosecutor announced Wednesday that Khashoggi, who lived in exile in the United States, was strangled immediately after he entered the consulate as part of a premeditated killing and that his body was dismembered before being removed.

Turkey's President Recep Tayyip Erdogan, right, listens to Technology Minister Mustafa Varank at a defence technology development meeting, in Ankara, Turkey, Wednesday.

Turkey is seeking the extradition of 18 suspects who were detained in Saudi Arabia so they can be put on trial in Turkey. They include 15 members of an alleged Saudi "hit squad" that Turkey says was sent to Istanbul to kill The Washington Post columnist who had written critically of Saudi Arabia's Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman.

Some of those implicated in the killing are members of the crown prince's entourage.

In the opinion piece, Erdogan did not mention the prince. But few in Turkey and elsewhere believe that the crime could have been carried out without the knowledge of the kingdom's powerful heir apparent.

Meanwhile, a Turkish official said he believes Khashoggi's body was dissolved in acid or other chemicals after it was mutilated.

Yasin Aktay, a ruling party adviser to Erdogan, told The Associated Press on Friday that "there can be no other formula" to explain why Khashoggi's remains have not been found a month after he was killed.

Aktay, who was friend of Khashoggi's, said he believes that the body was cut into pieces so that it could be dissolved in chemicals. He said: "all the findings point to his body parts being melted." But the official did not offer any proof for his comments.

Khashoggi had entered the Saudi Consulate in Istanbul to collect a document he needed to marry his Turkish fiancee.

New details highlight Lion Air jet's problems before crash

By NINIEK KARMINI and STEPHEN WRIGHT
Associated Press

JAKARTA, Indonesia — New details about the crashed Lion Air jet's previous flight cast more doubt on the Indonesian airline's claim to have fixed technical problems, as hundreds of personnel searched the sea for a fifth day Friday for victims and the plane's fuselage.

The brand new Boeing 737 MAX 8 plane plunged into the Java Sea early Monday, just minutes after taking off from the Indonesian capital, Jakarta, killing all 189 people on board.

Herson, head of the Bali-Nusa Tenggara Airport Authority, said the pilot on the plane's previous flight on Sunday from Bali requested to return to the airport not long after takeoff but then reported the problem had been resolved. Several passengers have described the problem as a terrifying loss of altitude.

Lion Air, a budget carrier that is the biggest domestic airline in Indonesia, has said the unspecified problem was fixed after Sunday's flight, but the fatal flight's pilots also made a "return to base" request not long after takeoff.

"Shortly after requesting RTB, the pilot then contacted the control tower again to inform that the plane had run normally and would not return" to Bali's Ngurah Rai airport on Sunday, Herson, who uses a single name, told The Associated Press. "The captain said the problem was resolved and he decided to continue the trip to Jakarta."

Data from flight-tracking websites show both flights had highly erratic speed and altitude after takeoff, though confirmation is required from data recorded by the aircraft's "black box" flight recorders.

Indonesia's Tempo news website published a minute-by-minute summary of what it said were the conversations between air traffic control and the pilots of Monday's fatal flight, who reported a "flight control problem" and were unsure of their altitude. Asked about the accuracy of the report, National Transportation Safety Committee deputy head Haryo Satmiko said it had "similarities" with the information received "legally" by investigators.

US, Turkey lift sanctions imposed in case of detained pastor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Turkey and the U.S. on Friday lifted sanctions on senior government officials that had been imposed during the diplomatic standoff over the arrest of American pastor Andrew Brunson, officially ending a case that had strained relations between the two NATO members.

The Treasury Department said it was lifting the sanctions on Turkish Minister of Justice Abdulhamit Gul and Minister of Interior Suleyman Soylu, while Turkey removed its retaliatory measures against Attorney General Jeff Sessions and Homeland Security Secretary Kirstjen Nielsen.

The moves follow the release last month of Brunson, who spent two years in prison and faced the possibility of a life sentence on terrorism charges that he called "ridiculous."

Pakistan's 'father of Taliban' cleric killed in knife attack

ISLAMABAD (AP) — Prominent Pakistani cleric Maulana Samiul Haq, also known as the "father of the Taliban," was killed in a knife attack at his home in the garrison city of Rawalpindi on Friday, his family and police said.

Haq's son, Hamidul Haq, said his father was alone in his bedroom when he was attacked by an assailant, who escaped undetected.

"My father has been martyred. He was alone at his home. His guard had gone out minutes before the attack and upon his return he saw my father in critical condition," he told reporters.

Police say Haq, 81, was taken to a nearby hospital, where he died.

PM: Poland likely to stay out of global migration pact

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland is very likely to stay out of a United Nations pact promoting an international approach to safe and orderly migration, the country's prime minister said Friday.

Mateusz Morawiecki said during a meeting with German Chancellor Angela Merkel in Warsaw that national sovereignty and border protection were the issues behind Poland's opposition to the migration compact.

Merkel expressed her support for the U.N. pact, which is the subject of an adoption meeting set for Dec. 11-12 in Marrakech, Morocco. Germany worked intensively on the text and it ensures the sovereignty of individual nations, she said.

Congregations attacked at synagogue to hold joint service

By MARYCLAIRE DALE
Associated Press

PITTSBURGH — The three congregations attacked at a Pittsburgh synagogue will gather for a joint service Saturday, while a prayer vigil is planned outside their desecrated worship space to mark the time the massacre began one week earlier.

Meanwhile, Friday brought the end of a wrenching series of funerals as the oldest victim, 97-year-old Rose Mallinger, was laid to rest.

"We will reopen, but it will not be for quite a while," Rabbi Jeffrey Myers said Friday morning, as he prepared for the last funeral service. Myers himself survived the attack that began just as Shabbat services got underway. In the end, 11 people were gunned down in the deadliest attack on Jews in U.S. history.

Mallinger's daughter attended her mother's funeral, accompanied by a nurse, Rabbi Aaron Bisno said. The 61-year-old daughter had been hospitalized since the massacre Saturday at the Tree of Life synagogue. Bisno didn't know if she returned to the hospital after the funeral.

The suspect, Robert Bowers, pleaded not guilty Thursday to federal charges that could result in a death sentence. Bowers, 46, was arraigned on a 44-count indictment charging him with murder, hate crimes, obstructing the practice of religion and other crimes.

Anat Halevy Hochberg, of Brooklyn, New York, visits a makeshift memorial outside the Tree of Life synagogue where 11 people were killed on Oct. 27.

It was his second brief appearance in a federal courtroom since authorities say he opened fire at the synagogue in Pittsburgh's Squirrel Hill neighborhood.

"Yes!" Bowers said in a loud voice when asked if he understood the charges.

Authorities say Bowers raged against Jews during and after the massacre. He remains jailed without bail.

University of Pittsburgh Medical Center said Friday that the two most seriously injured victims have been moved out of the intensive care unit. Hospital officials said a 70-year-old man was upgraded from critical to stable condition, while a 40-year-old police officer remains in stable condition.

The officer was previously identified as Timothy Matson, who suffered multiple gunshot wounds. The wounded congregant is Daniel Leger, a nurse and hospital chaplain.

The city's Jewish community began burying its dead Tuesday as thousands of mourners attended services for a beloved family doctor and two brothers. The funerals have continued each day since.

Mallinger, whose funeral was Friday, had attended Tree of Life for more than 60 years.

It was the "center of her very active life," her family said in a statement distributed by University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. "Her involvement with the synagogue went beyond the Jewish religion. ... It was her place to be social, to be active and to meet family and friends."

Stocks end a strong week with losses as Apple shares skid

By MARLEY JAY
AP Markets Writer

NEW YORK — U.S. stocks slipped Friday as Apple absorbed its worst loss in more than four years. Thanks to gains over the previous three days, the S&P 500 index finished with its biggest weekly increase since March.

Apple, the world's largest technology company, forecast weak revenue in the current quarter and startled investors by saying it will stop disclosing quarterly iPhone sales. That pulled technology stocks lower. Other high-growth stocks held up well after the U.S. and China said they had made some progress in trade talks, and Asian indexes surged on reports that China's government plans to cut taxes.

The Department of Labor said employers added 250,000 jobs in October, with no sign that hiring was going to slow down. The proportion of Americans with jobs is at its highest level since January 2009, and hourly wages also grew by the most since then. Along with high consumer confidence, those are all good signs for economic growth and consumer spending in the months to come.

The S&P 500 index slid 17.31 points, or 0.6 percent, to 2,723.06. The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 109.91 points, or 0.4 percent, to 25,270.83.

The Nasdaq composite, which has a high concentration of technology companies, lost 77.06 points, or 1 percent, to 7,356.99.

Alec Baldwin charged with assault in alleged parking dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — Alec Baldwin was arrested Friday and charged with assault and harassment after allegedly striking a man in the face during a dispute over a parking spot outside his New York City home, authorities said.

Police said the actor claimed he had a family member holding the spot for him as he attempted to park his black Cadillac Escalade around 1:30 p.m. when a man driving a black Saab station wagon pulled up and took it.

Police said the men were arguing and pushed each other before Baldwin, 60, got more aggressive. The driver of the station wagon told police Baldwin hit him with his hand, but wasn't sure if it was a punch or a slap.

The driver, 49, was taken to a hospital with jaw pain and redness in the neck area, police said.

Baldwin was released from a nearby precinct in Manhattan's Greenwich Village neighborhood about two hours after the incident. He was ordered to appear in court Nov. 26.

Harvard bias suit now in judge's hands

BOSTON (AP) — A trial alleging racial bias in Harvard University's admissions system has presented two starkly different images of the elite Ivy League school.

One side depicts a Harvard that plays racial favorites, lowering the admission bar for certain races and raising it for others, to the detriment of Asian-Americans. The other side paints a Harvard that gives a slight edge to some minorities in the pursuit of diversity, but only those who would likely be admitted anyway.

Now it's up to a judge to decide which is closer to the truth. Both sides clashed Friday in the closing arguments of a trial that has been four years in the making and sits at the center of a reignited debate over affirmative action. Its outcome carries weighty implications for other colleges that also consider race when selecting students.

The group behind the suit, Students for Fair Admissions, says Harvard's gatekeepers hold Asian-American applicants to a higher standard and discriminate against them using a subjective "personal rating" that measures traits such as courage and likability.

Using six years of school admissions data, the group found that Harvard officials consistently gave Asian-Americans the lowest scores in the personal rating, while scoring black and Hispanic students the highest. Asians fared well in other categories including academics, yet they were admitted at the lowest rate.

Wahlberg lending support to repairs on vandalized memorial

BOSTON (AP) — Actor and Boston native Mark Wahlberg is among those offering his support to efforts to repair a vandalized Vietnam War memorial.

The damage to the memorial in Boston's Dorchester neighborhood and the landscaping around it was discovered last week.

State police said bricks had been thrown at the memorial stone, an American flag was cut and a Massachusetts flag was ripped taken a flagpole and left with trash on it. A POW-MIA flag was apparently stolen.

Wahlberg tweeted his support for a GoFundMe page that's been set up to help pay for repairs to the Dorchester Vietnam Memorial, which includes the names of local residents who died in the conflict.

STOCKS LISTING CHANGE - REQUESTS WELCOME!
Mutual funds listings will run on Saturdays.

The Sun Newspaper is tweaking the way stocks are listed in the daily paper. We will continue to run a wide range of stocks, but we're trying to eliminate stocks our readers don't want. If you do not see your stock in the paper, please let us know and we will put it in the listings. Email the name of the company and the symbol to nlane@sun-herald.com, or call 941-206-1138. You can leave the stock name and symbol on voice mail. If you reach voice mail, please leave your contact information so your call can be returned.

The real story on taking daily aspirin to prevent stroke

Drs. Oz and Roizen

At first we were a little concerned about our aspirin recommendations, after a study on aspirin and heart disease prevention was published online in The Lancet. News headlines declared the findings showed that taking a daily low-dose aspirin wasn't much help in protecting you from heart disease. One example: "Study: Daily Aspirin Won't Prevent First Heart Attack."

But after reading the actual study — not the news reports — we discovered that the headlines should have declared: "Study Finds Aspirin Won't Prevent First Heart Attack Unless Taken as Directed."

So, here's how we think you should talk to your doc about taking or continuing to take low-dose aspirin in order to prevent a first heart attack or stroke.

There is a preponderance of data that shows people — especially guys over 40 who don't do extreme sports and women over 50 — who take a low-dose aspirin or more a day have a 10 to 40 percent decrease in the risk of nine cancers, including cancer of the breast, colon, esophagus, rectum and more, and a 10 to 35 percent reduction in recurrent heart attacks or strokes.

The study in question: The ARRIVE (Aspirin to Reduce Risk of Initial Vascular Events) study that's being touted as an aspirin-debunker only required folks in the aspirin-taking group to do so 60 percent of the time. The researchers admit, some folks in the control group who were supposed to NOT take aspirin did so.

Overall, of around 12,550 folks who were randomly assigned to either the aspirin-takers or no-aspirin-takers group, only 7,800 actually did what they were supposed to do! (Men were 55 and older and had two risk factors for coronary heart disease, such as elevated LDL cholesterol or hypertension; women were 60 and older and had three risk factors.)

But that's not the whole story.

Among folks in the ARRIVE study who stuck with the prescribed dose of 100 mg aspirin daily, there was a 47 percent reduction in initial or first heart attacks! The aspirin had significant benefits. Clearly, being a tad compulsive about taking your meds, in this case aspirin, is a very, very good thing.

Yet more proof: ARRIVE's findings came out on the same day the ASCEND study confirmed that taking daily aspirin prevents primary vascular events in folks with diabetes, although it also increased bleeding risks. For the 30.3 million Americans living with diabetes — and we say the other 69.7 million with prediabetes — it may be possible to modify the risk of heart disease if they take 100 mg of aspirin every day.

So what's the real story? We continue to recommend taking an 81-mg aspirin twice a day with half a glass of warm water before and after, as long as you do not do extreme sports or some other activity, such as taking recreational drugs and some prescription meds or have medical conditions, such as uncontrolled liver or kidney disease, that decrease the benefits of the aspirin or increase its risks.

Beware stop and start! It's risky to start taking aspirin regularly and then forget more than one dose. If you do that, you'll trigger a rebound increase in clotting. (A rebound also happens in cholesterol levels if you miss more than two doses of a statin and in blood pressure if you skip your antihypertensive meds.) And that rebound increases your risk of heart attack and stroke.

So if you're a guy 40+ or a woman 50+ without added risks, and your doc agrees, start and stick with a daily aspirin regimen.

Teacher weighs reaching out to a former student

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Twelve years ago, I taught a boy I'll call Brandon in my first-grade class. I knew Brandon had a tough home life and did my best to provide him a safe place in my classroom. I stayed in contact with his aunt over the years on social media.

As he grew older, he began to associate with a bad crowd. He got in more and more trouble at school and eventually dropped out. A few months later, he was sent to prison for a violent crime.

His aunt has asked me to send Brandon a letter. I agreed.

Well, my husband is very opposed to the idea of me contacting Brandon. We have two young children with special needs, and I'm now a stay-at-home mom. My husband thinks I'm already dealing with too much stress, and he doesn't like the idea of a man who has been convicted of violence being in contact with me.

I feel like I am abandoning Brandon, but I also see my husband's point. Abby, please help me decide. — Conflicted In Illinois

DEAR CONFLICTED: I think you should write Brandon ONE letter of encouragement. In it, tell him how highly you thought of him when he was in your class.

Point out that although he is physically incarcerated, his mind doesn't have to be, and suggest he direct his efforts toward improving his life once he is released. Furthering his education now would be a way to accomplish it, and if there's an opportunity for him to earn a degree while he's inside, he should take it. Also, if there are any books you or his aunt think he might find helpful or inspiring, recommend them.

Close your letter by explaining to Brandon that you have no time for correspondence now because you are caring for two special-needs children, but you did want to reach out this once and you will keep him in your prayers.

Rights for support animals

Hints from Heloise

Dear Readers: Do you have an EMOTIONAL SUPPORT ANIMAL? If you are a renter, does your landlord waive the pet deposit and monthly pet rent? He should.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (www.HUD.gov) says an emotional support animal is NOT defined as a pet, but rather as "a reasonable accommodation for a disability," and therefore is not subject to a pet deposit or monthly pet rent.

However, per HUD, you are responsible for cleaning up after the animal, and to repair or pay for any damage the animal may cause.

Your doctor or therapist can assist in getting your dog, cat, ferret, rabbit or other animal declared an emotional support animal. — Heloise

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Most people say more than they need to. The classy way is to think about what you need to say, and then say a little bit less than that. You'll be pleased by the effectiveness of today's exchanges.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You're more self-sufficient than most. Even so, it would be ludicrous to claim that people's attitudes toward you don't matter. It all matters. You thrive with certain kinds of attention, and you suffer with other kinds.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Everyone who lives has injuries of one sort or another. And everyone who lives has access to the great healer of those injuries — time. Wanting the healing process to be faster won't make it so. Patience looks good on you.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You don't have to wait for a special occasion to tell someone how much they mean to you. Those moments have too many built-in expectations, making it hard to hit the right note. It's much easier to give when no one is expecting.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). With so many options, your main challenge will be to understand your own needs better and then focus on what's going to make a difference to you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). There's good stress and there's bad stress. No matter how pressured you may be today, consider resting for five minutes of every waking hour to stave off the bad kind of stress.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). It is very difficult to discover your own blind spots. Trust that they're there. When someone points out where you've made a mistake, this is a gift. You'll be grateful for the enlightenment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). When you said you'd love someone forever, you weren't lying. The love will take on many different forms though, because love is immaterial. Love is a flow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Part of what makes you such a wonderful conversationalist is that you're curious about how other people live. Today, it also might lead you to learn more than you wanted to know.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Setbacks are normal, just don't give them too much attention. Have faith in the inherent qualities and powers of good. Truth over time equals change for the better.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). It doesn't matter that actions speak louder than words if the two are saying the same thing. In your case, they will be, and the effect is a sort of stereophonic brilliance.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). A life without risk is a life without happiness. Though happiness isn't always a risky proposition, sooner or later an element of danger will stand between you and your wishes.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 3). You'll run your life like a smart business owner runs a company, spending the most time serving top customers. It's an approach that pays rich dividends on levels including personal, professional, financial and spiritual. Also notable will be an increased sense of control over your moods and the lift you give others. Virgo and Cancer adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 20, 3, 33, 37 and 41.

Pipe bomb suspect agrees to NY transfer, no bail

By CURT ANDERSON
AP Legal Affairs Writer

MIAMI — The suspect accused of sending pipe bombs to prominent critics of President Trump agreed Friday to be transferred to New York to face charges, while the FBI said an additional package was found addressed to Democratic billionaire donor Tom Steyer.

Attorneys for Cesar Sayoc said Friday in Miami federal court that it's better if his lawyers in New York can take the case as soon as possible. They could still seek a bail hearing there, but prosecutors say he should remain jailed, given the magnitude of the charges and the strong evidence against him.

"We wanted to make sure that all of his constitutional rights were preserved," said attorney James Benjamin after the hearing. "We feel we've done all we can."

Sayoc has been accused of sending 15 improvised explosive devices to numerous Democrats, Trump critics and media outlets.

The FBI said Friday an additional package similar to the earlier ones was recovered at a postal facility near San Francisco. The package discovered late Thursday was the second addressed to Steyer, who has done TV ads calling for Trump's impeachment. None of the packages have exploded and no one was injured.

The timing of Sayoc's transfer is uncertain. It can happen quickly or take weeks, and is not usually announced ahead of time by the U.S. Marshals Service, Benjamin said. Even defense lawyers are not informed.

"Your guess is as good as mine," he said. "The government wants to get him up there as soon as they can."

Sayoc was arrested a week ago outside a South Florida auto parts store in a white van in which he had been living, a vehicle covered with stickers of Trump and showing images of some of the president's opponents with red crosshairs over their faces.

Sayoc faces nearly 50 years in prison if convicted on five federal charges that were filed in New York because some of the devices were recovered there.

Sayoc's lawyers decided not to seek release on bail after prosecutors released a letter outlining more evidence against him, including DNA linking him to 10 of the explosive devices and fingerprints on two of them.

Other evidence includes online searches Sayoc did on his laptop and cellphone for addresses and photos of some of his intended targets, which included former President Barack Obama, former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, former Vice President Joe Biden, California Sen. Kamala Harris and New Jersey Sen. Cory Booker. Packages were also mailed to CNN in New York and Atlanta.

In this courtroom sketch, Cesar Sayoc, second from right, appears in federal court on Monday in Miami.

The laptop also has a file with the address in Sunrise, Florida, of the office of U.S. Rep. Debbie Wasserman Schultz, former chairwoman of the Democratic National Committee. That office was used as the return address on the packages containing the pipe bombs, according to the FBI. The computer file was labeled "Debbie W.docx".

Benjamin, however, said the prosecution letter does not prove anything yet. He noted that it refers to "possible" DNA matches to Sayoc.

"The word flimsy actually still applies," Benjamin told reporters. "We can't do anything but speculate now. And it's too early."

SANCTIONS

Pompeo said eight nations will receive temporary waivers allowing them to continue to import Iranian petroleum products as they move to end such imports entirely. He said those countries, which other officials said would include U.S. allies such as Turkey, Italy, India, Japan and South Korea, had made efforts to eliminate their imports but could not complete the task by Monday.

The waivers will be valid for six months, during which time the importing country can buy Iranian oil but must deposit Iran's revenue in an escrow account. Iran can spend the money but only on a narrow range of humanitarian items.

Pompeo defended the oil waivers and noted that since May, when the U.S. began to press countries to stop buying Iranian oil, Iran's exports had dropped by more than 1 million barrels per day.

He said the Iranian economy is already reeling from the earlier sanctions, with the currency losing half its value since April and the prices of fruit, poultry, eggs and milk skyrocketing.

Some Iran hawks in Congress and elsewhere said Friday's move should have gone even further. They were hoping for Iran to be disconnected from the main international financial messaging network known as SWIFT.

With limited exceptions, the reimposed U.S. sanctions will hit Iran as well as countries that do not stop importing Iranian oil and foreign firms that do business with blacklisted Iranian entities, including its central bank, a number of private financial institutions, and state-run port and shipping firms, as well as hundreds of individual Iranian officials.

"Our ultimate aim is to compel Iran to permanently abandon its well-documented outlaw activities and behave as a normal country," Pompeo told reporters in a conference call with Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin.

Mnuchin said 700 more Iranian companies and people would be added to the sanctions rolls. Those, he said, would include more than 300 that had not been included under previous sanctions.

STORM

the second significant rainfall the area has had since Michael hit on Oct. 10.

"We did have one really rainy and windy day last week," she said.

Officials are concerned about heavy rain and any structures that have already been damaged, as well as loose tree limbs being toppled by strong wind or rain, Lawrence said. Hundreds of homes protected only by flimsy tarps were particularly vulnerable.

The Storm Prediction Center reported downed trees and utility lines from eastern Texas to northwest Alabama. The Southeastern storms left nearly 110,000 homes and businesses without electricity at the height, and both weather-related deaths occurred in wrecks.

In Texas, the Waller County Sheriff's Office posted on Facebook that Deputy Loren Vasquez, 23, had been on solo patrol for only three nights when her patrol car ran into water on a road and flipped late Wednesday while answering a rescue call.

Other deputies tried to free her from the overturned vehicle but couldn't.

"Words will never express what our office is going thru and we can only ask for your prayers," Sheriff R. Glenn Smith said in a statement posted on the site.

In Mississippi, the Department of Public Safety said Alcorn State University student Jayla A. Gray, 19, of Jackson died early Thursday when the car in which she was a passenger struck a tree that had fallen across a highway near the town of Port Gibson, which is about 60 miles southwest of the capital of Jackson.

The driver and another passenger escaped injury, the agency said in a statement. Public Safety spokesman Kervin Stewart said the three were returning to campus after a Halloween party and early-morning meal; Gray was wearing a seatbelt at the time of the wreck.

This fallen oak tree heavily damaged the home of Jennifer Lyles in Natchez, Mississippi, after a tornado hit early Thursday.

Damage was heavy in nearby Natchez, where some people spent most of the day trying to cut up trees that fell on houses. Among the seven tornadoes confirmed in Mississippi were two in Adams County, which includes Natchez, and one in Claiborne County, which includes Port Gibson.

In Louisiana, a pair of twisters with top winds of 115 mph hit Washington Parish, north of New Orleans. Near Bogalusa, a mobile home rolled over, injuring two occupants.

Two weaker tornadoes were also confirmed in and around Lake Charles, including one that damaged a vacant shopping center near McNeese State University.

In northwest Alabama, surveyors said a weak tornado with top winds of 65 mph caused tree damage near the Franklin County crossroads of Pogo.

BORDER

While the southern tip of Texas is the busiest corridor for illegal crossings, border agents make many arrests far from public view, on uninhabited banks of the Rio Grande and on nearby dirt paths and roads lined by thick brush.

"I feel safer here than when I go up to bigger cities," lifelong Rio Grande Valley resident Emmanuel Torres said Friday while working at a coffee shop in Brownsville, the region's largest city, with about 200,000 people.

Torres, 19, said the area feels "a lot like family," and he worries the military presence will fuel outsiders' perceptions of a dysfunctional border.

"People that don't live here are just going to create a bigger negative image," Torres said.

When Trump pledged this week to send up to 15,000 troops to the border in response to the slow-moving caravan of migrants, he unnerved the economically struggling region of 1 million people that stretches over flat, sun-drenched citrus groves and farms of cotton, sugar cane and vegetables.

The Pentagon said more than 3,500 troops have been deployed to staging bases along the border, including about 1,000 Marines in California. Still, there were only about 100 troops at the border on Friday, working at and near a bridge leading to McAllen, Texas, the Rio Grande Valley's second-biggest city, with about 140,000 people.

More than a dozen military members in fatigues were at the northern bank of the river, below the bridge, laying concertina wire. Other soldiers erected wire barriers on the bridge's pedestrian paths.

AP PHOTO

Pedestrians pass members of the U.S. military working to place razor wire along the U.S.-Mexico border on the McAllen-Hidalgo International Bridge, Friday, in McAllen, Texas.

The largest caravan traveling through Mexico is still weeks away from the U.S. border, and migrants have given no indication where they might cross. The Rio Grande Valley is the shortest route from Central America but also one of the most dangerous.

The troops are being sent in what has been described as a support role, helping border agents. But Trump said he told the military that if troops face rock-throwing migrants, they should react as though the rocks were rifles.

"It's all preparation in anticipation of the caravan," said Manuel Padilla Jr., the Border Patrol's Rio Grande Valley sector chief. "We're hoping that these people do not show up at the border. They're not going to be allowed in."

Python presents slithery situation at Texas Goodwill store

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A Goodwill worker collecting clothes and other items at a Texas sorting center was surprised to find an albino python clinging to the side of a bin.

The python was huddled in a pile of clothes when the worker discovered it Thursday at the center in Fort Worth.

Manager James Murphy says it's not clear if the snake slithered away from its owner and was accidentally dropped off or if its donation was intentional.

The python had a serpentine journey: It arrived at one of nearly 40 Goodwill donation drop-offs in the area before being transported to the Fort Worth sorting center.

Goodwill staffers will care for the python until the owner claims it or a permanent home is found.

Tarpons fall on Senior Night, preparing for playoffs

By JUSTIN RAFFONE
Sun Correspondent

The Charlotte Tarpons (8-2, 5-0) had the odds stacked against them going into the last regular season game against the Palmetto Tigers (7-3, 3-2) on Friday night. The Tarpons had already clinched the number one overall seed in their 6A playoff division. They were riddled with injuries before the game and were trying to leave the game as healthy as possible, and the Tigers were fighting for their 7A playoff lives, needing a win and help to claim the last spot. The Tigers walked away with a 40-16 victory on a rainy, penalty-filled night of football in Punta Gorda.

"We're a band-aid football team right now," said Tarpon Coach Binky Waldrop. "We got to figure out where we need to put people that gives us the best chance to win next week."

Senior quarterback Alex Muse didn't play for the Tarpons on Friday night, but according to Waldrop, he will be playing "full go" for Charlotte in the first round of the playoffs.

The Tigers were coming off a disappointing loss to Venice last week after leading at halftime, and looked poised and focused to not let their guard down against the Tarpons Friday. Palmetto led 31-16 at halftime after Charlotte sophomore quarterback John Busha ran in a 3-yard touchdown with :22 left. Those Port Charlotte High School gave Southeast every chance to win the game, but in the final minutes, the defense made two stops to stall a comeback.

With their 21-18 win over the Seminoles, the Pirate seniors go out victorious in their final game.

With just over eight minutes to play down nine on 4th-and-6 at the Pirates 18-yard line, Southeast quarterback Maleek Huggins dropped back and under threw a ball to the end zone, which landed into the diving hands of safety Dylan Lockhart.

ENGLEWOOD — All season, the Lemon Bay High School football team had problems putting teams away when it had the lead, thus the reason it had only one win going into the Battle for the Golden Hammer against North Port.

This time, however, was different. It took the lead, ground down the clock and finished the deal.

Tarpons fan wish is granted

By BEN BAUGH

Jack and Grace Solgot's initial experience with Charlotte Tarpon football was a winning one.

The native Michiganders first began attending Charlotte Tarpon games in 1981, following a school bus transporting the football team all the way to Naples.

The Tarpons defeated Naples on that eventful sojourn, and the Solgots made Charlotte football part of their weekly routine, a 37-year love affair that continues to this day.

Jack, 91, has been a tireless advocate for Tarpon football. He attended each home game this year, but something was missing — his beloved Grace, 88, wasn't by his side. In previous years, the Solgots had been a fixture at not only Tarpon home games, but traveling to their away games. The fall 2018 campaign was different. Grace's absence from the grandstand resonated with the Tarpon faithful. Her lack of presence was unmistakably discernible. She provided an influence that was palpable, as the inseparable Solgots' devotion to the Tarpons have touched a community with their unwavering support. Grace now resides at Life Care Center of Punta Gorda.

"It keeps you young," said Jack, about attending the Tarpons football games. "They play together as a team and have some good coaches."

Jack has attended all of the Tarpons' home games in 2018, but missed the rivalry contest last Friday against Port Charlotte because of the changes in Grace's health . The Solgots' youngest daughter, Susie, attended high school with Tarpons head football coach Binky Waldrop.

The changes in Grace's health, and limited mobility, as she's now in a wheelchair, markedly reduced the possibility of her attending a game However, it's Grace's inordinate love for the Tarpons that served as the inspiration for a wish, one of gravitas, that would become a reality.

Lightning signs Gourde to six-year contract extension

By DIANA NEARHOS
Tampa Bay Times

TAMPA—A couple of weeks ago, Yanni Gourde said you can never really be secure in the NHL, but the Lightning forward just got a little more security. Gourde signed a six-year extension worth $5.166 a year on Thursday.

"I'm very excited," he said Friday. "It gives me a lot of stability for once in my career. It's pretty amazing."

Gourde spent four years playing in the minor leagues, including parts of two seasons in the ECHL. He hasn't had a contract longer than two years before now.

"It's amazing," he said. "It's great be able to do that for my family. My wife has followed me around for all these professional years. It's nice to be finally somewhere we know we really like and somewhere that's perfect for us."

The 26-year-old center got his first sustained taste of the NHL with 20 games two years ago, and then played every game last season. Gourde was the Lightning's fourth-leading scorer last year with 64 points.

He's tied for second through the first 12 games this year, averaging a point a game. Gourde figures that strong start helped get a deal figured out more quickly than he had expected to. Gourde is currently in the final season of his two-year contract, but he was trying not to think about it

"I wanted to make a good impression," he said. "I was just saying let's see where it leads me, and whenever they call, we'll be there to answer the phone."

Gourde was one of 10 Lightning players for whom contracts are up this year (five restricted and five unrestricted), including five of the eight defensemen currently on the roster. Tampa Bay is projected to have $12 million of cap space next year, before Gourde's new contract. That doesn't leave a lot of space to work with.

■ GOLF ROUNDUP

Peter Uihlein shoots 66 to take 2-shot lead in Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Peter Uihlein birdied five of the last seven holes for a 5-under 66 and a two-stroke lead Friday in the Shriners Hospitals For Children Open.

Uihlein got to 13-under 129 at TPC Summerlin, a day after opening with a 63. Robert Streb and Whee Kim were tied for second, and Bryson DeChambeau, Abraham Ancer and Harold Varner were another stroke back.

"I think we still have 36 holes," Uihlein said. "There is a lot of golf left. I've heard it could be windy tomorrow, so that could be challenging."

Jordan Spieth had two late birdies in a 68 to get to 8 under in his season debut. Playing for the first time since the Ryder Cup, he making his first career start in a domestic fall event

Uihlein was even par for the round through 11 holes, making a bogey on the par-4 second and a birdie on the par-4 fourth. On the back nine, he birdied Nos. 12-14, 16 and 18.

"I just like it," Uihlein said about the course. "There are a lot of holes that set up well for me. A lot of just good sightlines with some good bunker placements. My distance control with my irons has been very good this week, so I've been able to have a kind of more stress-free two days."

The son of Acushnet/Titleist chairman and CEO Wally Uihlein, the 29-year-old former Oklahoma State player is winless on the PGA Tour. He won the 2010 U.S. Amateur, took the European Tour's 2013 Madeira Islands Open and the Web.com Tour's 2017 Nationwide Children's Hospital Championship.

Kim shot 65, DeChambeau, Streb and Ancer 66, and Varner 67.

Cameron Champ had a 65 in the group with Spieth to also get to 8 under. Champ won the Sanderson Farms last week in Mississippi for his first tour title.

Rickie Fowler was 7 under after a 67.

"There were a few spots where I was able to take advantage and be aggressive, but you do have to, I guess, play smart at times," Fowler said. "There are a few holes if you get out of position they can jump up and get you pretty quickly."

Defending champ Rose leads by 2 in Turkey

ANTALYA, Turkey (AP) — Defending champion Justin Rose has a two-shot lead halfway through the Turkish Airlines Open after consecutive 6-under-par 65s on Friday.

Another Englishman, Tom Lewis, posted the low score so far of 63 to share second with Danny Willett (65) and 2016 champion Thorbjorn Olesen (67).

A shot behind them at 9 under overall were Adrian Otaegui, who was still bogey free after a 65, Sam Horsfield of England (67), Li Haotong of China (67), and Alexander Levy of France (66).

Rose was nine shots off the pace at this stage a year ago and prevailed, so despite his commanding position this time he doesn't feel safe, yet, at Regnum Carya Golf Resort.

"I've shot two 65s, you can always have somebody from the chasing pack do the same thing," Rose said.

"For me it's about keeping moving forward. Even par is not really going to get it done."

During the day, there was a seven-way tie for the lead.

So Yeon Ryu shoots 65 for 1-shot lead in Toto Japan Classic

SHIGA, Japan (AP) — So Yeon Ryu shot a 7-under 65 to take a one-shot lead after the first round of the Toto Japan Classic.

Nasa Hataoka of Japan and South Koreans Jiyai Shin and In-Kyung Kim were a stroke back after rounds of 66 on Friday. Ten other players were within three shots of the lead in the 54-hole tournament at the Seta Golf Club.

Ryu had five birdies on the last eight holes to underline her quick start.

"For a three-round tournament, you're better to make sure you have a really, really good starting day," Ryu said. "I opened with a really good round, so I'm really happy that hopefully I can have this decent round (for) two more days."

Ryu credited a perfect golfing day, the crowds in Japan, and her putting for her round.

"My short game was really great today. I putted really well," she said. "I was struggling with my putting the last two weeks in Taiwan and Shanghai, but I'm so glad my putting worked well."

■ PREP FOOTBALL: DeSoto County 41, Lakewood Ranch 6

DeSoto's second season starts Sunday

By STEVE KNAPP
Sun Correspondent

"For you seniors your last season of football starts Sunday. Congratulations on getting into the playoffs. But it doesn't mean a thing if we don't come out and get ready to whip whoever they put out in front of us. Whether we go to Hardee or go to Tampa it doesn't matter. Wherever we go to play, we're going to play a football game," said DeSoto County coach Bumper Hay.

This speech came to a spirited football team who finished the season with a 7-3 record, after only winning three games last year.

The Bulldogs scored 6 touchdowns by six different players in their 41-6 romp over the Lakewood Ranch Mustangs.

The Bulldogs scored 2 touchdowns in both the first and second quarters to take a 28-3 lead into the half. A touchdown and missed extra point in the third quarter brought the score up to 34 -3 and a final score in the 4th quarter gave the final score 41-6 for the Bulldogs.

After Lakewood Ranch scored first on a 42-yard field goal, the Bulldogs scored 34 unanswered points.

Jay Pelham scored first with a 27-yard run to put the Bulldogs on top 7- 3. On the final play of the quarter, Trayvis Smith went virtually untouched 23 yards to give the Bulldogs a 14-3 lead after the first quarter.

Tony Blanding had his first start at quarterback and scored on a 14-yard run in the second quarter to put the Bulldogs up 21-3. A 23-yard scoring strike from Blanding to Keimar Richardson, put the final points in the first half on the board, and gave the Bulldogs a 28-3 lead at the break.

Nate Maybelle intercepted a pass on the goal line for the Bulldogs, and ran it out 30 yards to stop a rare Mustang scoring attempt.

On the first play his cousin William Maybell raced 70 yards for a touchdown. A missed extra point made the score 34- 3 entering the final quarter of play.

Lakewood Ranch kicked a field goal with 8 minutes to go, and Blanding found the regular starting quarterback Arnold Mele for a 37-yard touchdown pass, to wrap up the scoring for the night.

"It wasn't a perfect game but it was a complete game," said Hay.

The Bulldogs only punted twice and had no turnovers, while Nate Mabell and Ethan Redden had interceptions for the Bulldogs.

Blue Streaks rout Merritt Island

By MARK PINSON and RUTH ANNE LAWSON
Staff Writers

Merritt Island — Sebring defeated Merritt Island 42-3 in the final game of the regular season on Friday night.

DJ Williams scored three touchdowns and Roger Yarde returned a kickoff 82 yards for a touchdown and returned an interception 55 yards for a touchdown.

The Blue Streaks find out Sunday if they qualified for the Class 6A state playoffs.

Trickeration helps Green Dragons top Red Devils

LAKE PLACID — The Lake Placid Green Dragons broke out the bag of tricks early as they held on to beat the Avon Park Red Devils 24-19 in the final regular season game of the season.

On their first play from offense, the Green Dragons ran a hook and ladder pass to perfection as Shamar Mitchell threw the ball to Erskin Tolliver on a ten yard hitch, who then tossed it to Katwan Ward. Ward ran down the left sideline to complete the 32 yard touchdown play that gave Lake Placid an early 8-0 lead.

A few minutes later, Lake Placid added two points on a safety when a bad snap by Avon Park on a punt attempt went into the end zone as the Green Dragons Cade Simmons made the tackle for the safety as Lake Placid took a 10-0 lead.

Lake Placid's lead swelled to 17-0 after Ward scored on a 6 yard run midway through the second quarter.

Avon Park got on the board before the half on a 16 yard pass from Xavier Holdman to Javarius Smith to make the score 17-6 at the half.

Avon Park further cut Lake Placid's lead in the fourth quarter, 17-13, on a two yard run by Jalen Turner.

The Green Dragons responded on the next drive to put their lead back at 11, 24-13, on a 15-yard run by Javarie White.

Avon Park scored once more with less than a minute left in the game as Earl Collins caught a 17 yard touchdown pass to make the final score 24-19.

TARPONS

were the last points the Tigers would give up, stymying the Tarpons offense in the second half.

"Everything was stacked against us tonight," said Waldrop. "We knew that all week, but our kids played hard."

With just under two minutes in the first half, teams exchanged long kickoff returns. Jino Washington returned a 92-yard kickoff for a touchdown to put the Tarpons on the board at 24-8. That was immediately followed by a 99-yard kickoff return for a touchdown from Palmetto's LaJohntay Wester.

Waldrop mentioned the disappointment on special teams as one of the main takeaways from Friday's game, calling it "absolutely atrocious" for two weeks in a row.

Palmetto scored 40 plus points for the seventh time this season on Friday night and the 16 scored by Charlotte was their second lowest of the season. The Tarpons scored 13 against the Tigers district foe Venice earlier in the season.

HAMMERS

Golden Hammer for the fourth straight year in a 20-9 victory at Veterans Stadium in the season finale for both teams on Senior Night.

Trevor Hedges had one of his best throwing games with 131 yards through the air, 119 of them to DeVante Roberson, who caught a touchdown pass and ran for another to cap off the long drive.

Defensively, Lemon Bay (2-8) held the Bobcats to three field goals, four first downs and 125 yards of total offense, handing them their fourth straight loss to end the season.

After such a difficult season where the Manta Rays saw several late leads disintegrate, Lemon Bay coach Don Southwell said he was proud of his seniors for their effort.

"We held them to three field goals and they started on our end every time. I'm elated for our seniors. We had hard times this year when we felt like we had games won and we didn't," Southwell said. "To go out with a win means a lot to me."

Lemon Bay took its opening possession and cashed in as the Manta Rays executed the flea-flicker to perfection, with Trevor Hedges finding DeVante Roberson open for an easy touchdown and a 6-0 lead.

"That was a nice way to get confidence early. I love these games because you can turn them loose. You can't run them in the off-season," Southwell said.

Gunnar Kolberg (4) pitches the ball back to quarterback Trevor Hedges on a flee flicker in which Hedges finds DeVante Roberson for a long first quarter touchdown.

Keegan Marinola was again a big part of the offense as he struck paydirt in the second quarter to extend Lemon Bay's lead.

Meanwhile, North Port (3-7) had two opportunities inside the red zone, but twice had to settle for John Victor Oliveira field goals at the end of the first and second quarters to make it 12-6 at the half.

The Bobcats cut the lead to three with another field goal to start the second half, but Lemon Bay went on a 20-play, 80-yard drive that nearly ran out the third quarter clock, with Roberson getting the last six yards.

"We talked about the defense getting a stop. They got that field goal but we were going to hold that ball. We got a lot of third-down conversions on that drive that was clutch."

Jalien Whye rushed for 49 yards to lead North Port, while Steffan Johnson had 77 yards passing.

North Port coach Brian Hatler lamented the opportunities that came up short.

"We had to score in sixes and not threes and we gave up big plays on defense. When those things happen together you usually come up on the short end," Hatler said. "I'm really proud of my kids. They played hard and battled and no matter what it said on the scoreboard I appreciate the hard work we put in."

Port Charlotte's Ja'nyrein Washington (22) breaks the tackle by Southeast's Zion Bellamy-Bay for a 44 yard touchdown run during Friday night's game at Port Charlotte High School.

PIRATE

drive on a 27-yard touchdown reception from receiver Dylan Zervos in the back of the end zone with 1:46 on the clock to cut the game to three, those two stops thwarted the comeback.

The Pirates jumped out to an early 21-6 lead thanks to two touchdown runs from junior Ja'nyrein Washington and a quarterback sneak from sophomore Logan Rogers.

The defense held strong with the exception of two deep throws, but special teams allowed Southeast to remain in the game.

Both of senior Derek McCormick's field goal attempts and two of his punts were blocked. One blocked punt was returned for a touchdown by Southeast's Galen Washington to make it 21-12 midway through the third.

In typical Port Charlotte fashion, the Pirates leaned on their running game, racking up 202 yards on the ground. Washington led the way with 125 yards and two scores on 20 carries.

It wasn't pretty — far from it actually — but it gave the Pirate seniors one last memory as they met up at midfield following their final game.

Most have spent three to four years donning the red and black and next time they enter Pirate's Cove, they'll have to buy a ticket.

"I'm feeling great, but real emotional," Marcum said. "It's my last time being in The Cove as a player. It was awesome to go out with a 'W'. We have one of the best fan bases in southwest Florida. Rain, shine, on the road they're out here. The game's wouldn't be the same without them and that's the No. 1 thing I'm gonna miss."

WISH

Arrangements were made through Tidewell Wishes Fund, and Friday night her wish came to fruition. The Tidewell Wishes Fund was created by a donor to Tidewell, to provide opportunities for people, so they may have one last wish granted.

"'What if we could help get you there.' and Jack said, 'I can't do it myself,'" said Patty Vallone, Tidewell Hospice social worker, who was impressed with the extended family who welcomed Grace back to Friday night's game. "We worked with Ally Rides (Wheelchair) Transportation (Service). We worked with our own home health agency, who hired an aide who's here with her (Grace)."

Grace was overwhelmed by the response, and grateful for the opportunity to see old friends.

"It's like being in a foreign country," said Grace, as she was enjoying some of the tasty fare under the cover of the Tarpons concession stand. "It's unbelievable."

Grace was presented with a Charlotte Tarpons blanket by Coach Waldrop, and a lovely bouquet of flowers.

"It's great seeing everybody," she said. "It meant the world to me (when she was recognized with the gifts)."

NEW YORK — Washington outfielder Bryce Harper and Boston closer Craig Kimbrel were among just seven free agents who received $17.9 million qualifying offers from their former clubs Friday, when Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher Clayton Kershaw agreed to a $93 million, three-year contract rather than test the market.

Left-handers Patrick Corbin (Arizona) Dallas Keuchel (Houston) and Hyun-Jin Ryu (Los Angeles Dodgers) also received offers as did outfielder A.J. Pollock (Diamondbacks) and catcher Yasmani Grandal (Dodgers).

Players have until Nov. 12 to accept. If a team makes a qualifying offer to a player who signs a major league contract with another club before the June amateur draft, his former club would receive a draft pick as compensation at the end of the first round.

Just five of 73 players given qualifying offers have accepted since the process began in 2012.

The Chicago Cubs exercised their $20 million option on left-hander Cole Hamels, who went 4-3 with a 2.36 ERA in 12 starts after he was acquired from Texas on July 27. The Cubs traded left-hander Drew Smyly to the Rangers, clearing from the payroll his $7 million salary. That is $1 million more than the Rangers would have owed the Cubs if Hamels' option had been declined, which would have triggered a $6 million buyout and allowed him to go free.

Kershaw terminated a $215 million, seven-year contract that had $65 million remaining at $32 million next year and $33 million in 2020. The new deal calls for a $23 million signing bonus, payable in equal installments on June 30 in each of the next three years, and annual salaries of $23,333,333. He can earn $4 million annually in performance bonuses, in four $1 million increments for 24, 26, 28 and 30 starts, which could raise the deal's value to $105 million over three years.

He also can gain award bonuses of $1.5 million for winning the NL Cy Young Award or $500,000 for finishing second or third in the voting.

"There's been a lot of people saying that I'm in decline or not going to be as good as I once was," said Kershaw, whose Dodgers lost in the World Series for the second straight year. "I'm looking forward to proving a lot of people wrong with that."

Kershaw, who turns 31 in March, has spent all 11 of his big league seasons with the Dodgers.

"It was more valuable to me to just stay here," he said. "A chance to win every single year, it doesn't come around like this in LA very often."

A free agent can be made a qualifying offer only if he has been with the same team continuously since opening day and has never received a qualifying offer before. Because of those rules, Manny Machado and Josh Donaldson were among the players who were ineligible to receive offers. The amount is the average of the top 125 major league contracts this year by average annual value.

Harper and Machado are the top players available on the market, though Machado's value may have been damaged by a poor postseason in which he hit .227, showed a remarkable lack of hustle and was fined $10,000 for stepping on a first baseman's foot.

Others among the 160 available free agents include right-handers Nathan Eovaldi and Charlie Morton, left-handers J.A. Happ and CC Sabathia, relievers Zach Britton, Andrew Miller, David Robertson and Jeurys Familia, outfielder Michael Brantley, third baseman Mike Moustakas, infielder Daniel Murphy, designated hitter Nelson Cruz and utilityman Marwin Gonzalez.

Kershaw was among four players who became free agents and immediately re-signed this week, joined by St. Louis right-hander Adam Wainwright, Yankees outfielder Brett Gardner and Dodgers outfielder David Freese.

Cleveland is interested in re-signing Brantley but did not want to commit $17.9 million for one year.

"We could not have any more respect for any individual than we have for Michael," general manager Chris Antonetti said. "He's the guy that epitomizes, as I've shared before, all of the things we look for in a player. He's exceedingly productive on the field. He defines professionalism in the clubhouse, and he's an extraordinary teammate. The interest and desire is there. What we will have to work through is can we make the pieces fit?"

Kershaw gets $93M deal, leaving Harper, Machado atop free agent market

■ NBA: ROUNDUP

Paul, Anthony help Rockets top Nets 119-111, end 4-game skid

By BRIAN MAHONEY
AP Basketball Writer

NEW YORK — Chris Paul had 32 points, 11 assists and seven rebounds, Carmelo Anthony added a season-high 28 points and the Houston Rockets snapped a four-game losing streak with a 119-111 victory over the Brooklyn Nets on Friday night.

Clint Capela finished with 22 points and 13 rebounds, and Eric Gordon contributed 21 points for the Rockets, who had stumbled to a 1-5 start a season after winning 65 games and falling a game short of the NBA Finals.

They snapped out of their slump thanks to one of the best games as a Rocket for Paul, who had season bests in points and assists in the final game before his workload should ease Saturday with the expected return of James Harden. The league MVP missed his third straight game with a strained left hamstring and coach Mike D'Antoni said he would probably return for the second half of a back-to-back in Chicago.

Anthony bounced back from a 2-for-12, eight-point performance against Portland by coming off the bench to hit six 3-pointers.

Caris LeVert scored 29 points for the Nets, who got off to a sizzling start before the Rockets turned around the game.

One of the NBA's most potent offenses had been held below 90 points in two of the previous three games after doing so only three times all last season. The offense was back Friday, but the defense took a while to get going.

Brooklyn made 14 of its first 18 shots, including 13 of 14 inside the 3-point arc while simply driving by defenders. The Nets finished 15 of 21 in the opening quarter, taking a 32-25 lead. Paul kept the Rockets close with 13 points in the second, including a deep 3-pointer that cut it to 61-56 at halftime

The Rockets then surged ahead with an 11-0 run in the third, with Anthony making two 3-pointers, a jumper and blocking a shot as Houston went ahead 76-69. Anthony hit two more 3s in the fourth.

Tip-ins

Rockets: Houston avoided matching its longest skid of last season. The Rockets dropped five in a row from Dec. 20-29. ... Paul's highest-scoring game with the Rockets is 37 points last Jan. 10 against Portland.

Nets: Coach Kenny Atkinson said there was no decision yet if rookies Rodions Kurucs and Dzanan Musa would play for Long Island on Saturday in its season opener. Both players worked out with the G League affiliate this week. ... The Nets scored 26 of their 32 first-quarter points in the paint, marking their most points in the paint in a quarter since having 26 in the first on Dec. 7, 2016, against Denver.

Harden's hopes

Harden has worked out without discomfort and D'Antoni said he likely would have returned Friday if the Rockets had been off following the game.

But because they were playing on two straight nights and he wouldn't use Harden on both of them after returning from injury, D'Antoni is opting to wait the extra day and bring Harden back Saturday at Chicago.

The league MVP was hurt near the end of a loss to Utah on Oct. 24 and Houston had been routed in both games since.

Duke forwards headline college basketball's freshman class

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Sports Writer

The unusual aspect of this year's freshman class is that three of the very top guys signed with the same team and play similar positions.

Duke forwards RJ Barrett, Cam Reddish and Zion Williamson were rated among the nation's top five prospects in their class according to composite rankings of recruiting sites compiled by 247Sports .

"All three can play together, but they're kind of all the same position — they're primarily small forwards," said Jerry Meyer, the director of scouting for 247Sports. "That's one reason people were surprised Zion ended up at Duke. The narrative being built around why he wouldn't go to Duke is they already had two elite small forwards."

The early returns suggest they'll make it work just fine. The trio is part of a loaded Duke freshman class that also includes guard Tre Jones, ranked 15th in the 247Sports Composite.

Williamson, Barrett and Reddish averaged a combined 70 points, 16 rebounds and 11.5 assists in the fourth-ranked Blue Devils' two preseason exhibition victories. Meyer is interested in seeing if Duke experiments with any lineups featuring four freshmen in which the 6-foot-7 Williamson defends the opposing team's center.

"It would be kind of like the Golden State Warriors thing where you go small and play without a center sometimes, very similar to what Golden State does with Draymond Green," Meyer said.

Here's a rundown of some freshmen who should make a major impact this season. For the purposes of this list, we decided to limit ourselves to just one of the Duke newcomers.

Bol bol, oregon

Position: Center. Height: 7-2.

Bol, the son of former NBA center Manute Bol, was ranked fourth in the 247Sports Composite. He's from Olathe, Kansas, but played high school basketball at Findlay Prep in Henderson, Nevada. Bol averaged 20.4 points, 8.2 rebounds and 2.4 blocks his senior year at Findlay Prep.

"He can score from all three levels, and for someone that size, he really represents a lot of problems. He's got a soft touch. We've got to move him around a little bit because physically he's not real strong. You just can't put him in the block and let him bang around," Oregon coach Dana Altman said. "But he does move in there very well. He catches the ball well. I've been really pleased with his instincts and his ability to pass the ball."

Rj barrett, dukE

Position: Forward. Height: 6-7.

Barrett was the lone freshman included in the Associated Press preseason All-America team . He's the nation's No. 1 overall prospect in his class according to the 247Sports Composite. He also was the Gatorade national high school player of the year. Barrett was born in Toronto and helped Canada win a gold medal at the FIBA U19 Men's Basketball World Cup this year, but he played high school basketball at Montverde (Florida) Academy. Barrett has averaged 27.5 points, 6 rebounds and 3 assists in two exhibition games.

"He has a great feel for the game," Meyer said. "He can finish a play, can start a play, can make the assist pass, can make the hockey assist pass, get you rebounds. The key for him is outside shooting, and evidently that's improving."

Charles bassey, western kentucky

Position: Center. Height: 6-11.

Bassey was the No. 7 prospect in the 247Sports Composite and the only college-bound player in the top 18 who chose a non-Power Five school. He averaged 19.4 points, 12.8 rebounds, 3.4 blocks, 2.9 assists and 1.7 steals last season at Aspire Academy in Louisville, Kentucky. Bassey had 12 points, 11 rebounds and three blocks in a preseason exhibition victory over Campbellsville.

"He can be a dominant inside scorer and rebounder at any level," Meyer said.

Darius garland, vanderbilt

Position: Guard. Height: 6-2.

Garland and teammate Simi Shittu are the first two McDonald's All-Americans ever to sign with Vanderbilt. Shittu was ranked 11th and Garland 14th in the 247Sports Composite, but Garland could make the bigger impact as a point guard who should have the ball in his hands often. Garland helped Brentwood (Tennessee) Academy win four straight state titles. He averaged 27.6 points his senior year.

"He's quick, can handle the ball. He can do everything you want a guard to do. He can get to the rim. He can be a distributor. He's an outstanding shooter, has a pull-up game. He can defend," Meyer said. "I think the question for him as a college freshman will be strength and physicality."

■ COLLEGE FOOTBALL: Miami Hurricanes

Reeling Miami, Duke collide in ACC Coastal matchup

By TIM REYNOLDS
AP Sports Writer

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. — There was so much promise for Duke and Miami.

Duke was 4-0 and found its way into the AP Top 25. Miami started the season ranked No. 8, won five of its first six games and looked again to be the team to beat in the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division.

And then things went bad — in a hurry.

The good times seem long ago for the Blue Devils (5-3, 1-3) and the Hurricanes (5-3, 2-2). Duke has dropped three of its last four games, and Miami has lost two straight to put its hopes of successfully defending the Coastal crown in serious jeopardy.

"Both teams need a win," Miami coach Mark Richt said.

The Hurricanes are taking plenty of heat from their fan base these days, but if they need some positivity they need to look no further than to Duke coach David Cutcliffe.

He said Miami is "probably a football team without a weakness," and lauded the Hurricanes' defense as potentially the best in the country.

"They're as talented as anybody's seen anywhere," Cutcliffe said. "So what we have to do is minimize any errors, which is obvious, and we also have to play at an extremely high level."

The root of Miami's problems right now is its offense, and the struggles there are renewing calls from some fans on social media about Richt's playcalling.

Those concerns about the offense had Richt playing defense.

"I respond to it in that there's nothing wrong with the plays being called, quite frankly," Richt said. "What's wrong is we haven't executed well enough. If anybody got in the room with us and saw what we were doing and how we're doing it and why we're doing it, if they knew football, they'd know we have to do a better job executing of what we call, quite frankly."

Duke's defense forced a total of nine turnovers in its five wins — and zero in the three losses.

"It has to become important to everybody in the organization to create turnovers and take care of the football," Cutcliffe said.

Here's some of what to know going into Saturday night:

Breaking point

Miami has held the lead for 6.6 percent of the time in its last three games — all of that coming in the final 11:52 of the massive comeback against Florida State — and hasn't scored first in any of its last seven games against ACC opponents going back to last season. Out of the 28 quarters in those seven games, Miami has held the end-of-period lead only eight times.

Comparing scores

Comparing scores is a silly method of deciding whether one team should beat another, especially in the Coastal Division. Duke exemplifies why that method is futile. The Blue Devils beat Georgia Tech by 14 and lost to Virginia Tech by 17. So naturally, Georgia Tech beat Virginia Tech by 21 points. The only shared opponent Miami and Duke have so far this season is Virginia; the Hurricanes lost to the Cavaliers by three, the Blue Devils lost by 14.

■ COLLEGE FOOTBALL: Florida Gators

No. 13 Florida looks to avenge stunner at Mizzou in '17

By MARK LONG
AP Sports Writer

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — The low point for Florida last season came 1,000 miles from home in Columbia, Missouri.

The Gators had just parted ways with Jim McElwain, promoted defensive coordinator Randy Shannon to interim head coach, switched starting quarterbacks, made several more changes and went on the road believing they would end a three-game losing streak in the Southeastern Conference.

The Tigers had other thoughts, moving the ball at will, amassing 455 yards and thumping Florida 45-16 for their first league victory in five games.

"Those guys really beat up on us pretty bad," receiver Josh Hammond recalled. "We had a lot of other things going on. Guys were just not focused mentally throughout the week last year for preparation for Missouri. ...

"The one thing about SEC ball is you play those guys every year, and I think a lot of guys remember that loss and remember the feeling."

No. 13 Florida (6-2, 4-2 SEC, No. 11 CFP) is counting on a much better performance against Missouri (4-4, 0-4) in the Swamp on Saturday.

Coming off a 36-17 loss to Georgia that eliminated the Gators from SEC East contention, they turned their attention toward their final four regular-season games and reaching double-digit wins for just the third time in the last nine years.

"We want to finish out the season strong," defensive tackle Khairi Clark said. "We just lost this big game, messed up a lot for us. But at the same time, we can't dwell on it. We've just got to move on and try to win the rest of these games."

Missouri would like to get its first league win.

The Tigers lost a heartbreaker at home last week to Kentucky, rallying from an 11-point deficit in the fourth quarter before losing on a touchdown pass on the final play — an untimed down that followed a questionable pass-interference penalty.

"Our kids have responded great," coach Barry Odom said.

Both teams hope to get more from their quarterbacks.

Drew Lock picked apart Florida's secondary in 2017, throwing for three touchdowns, but the projected first-round draft pick hasn't fared nearly as well against SEC defenses this season. Lock has completed 50 percent of his passes for 732 yards, with one touchdown and five interceptions, in losses to Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama and Kentucky.

Florida's Feleipe Franks has been more efficient, although he has six turnovers in the last four games.

Franks has thrown an interception in four straight games and lost fumbles in the last two.

"There's just one or two plays I'd like to have back, especially like the turnovers, just silly mistakes like that that they're not like me," Franks said. "That's just something I need to fix."

Some other things to know about when Missouri plays at Florida on Saturday:

Key matchup

The Tigers looked like one of the best defenses in the league last week, especially against the run. Led by three experienced linebackers, including sophomore captain Cale Garrett, they held Kentucky to 91 yards on the ground and 2.6 yards a carry. Florida is at its best when it's able to run the ball with Jordan Scarlett and Lamical Perine. The Gators scored a combined 46 points in the three games (Kentucky, Mississippi State, Georgia) in which they failed to gain 200 yards on the ground.

Seeking sacks

Florida has just two sacks in its last two games, a concern for a team that notched six against Mississippi State and five against LSU. Getting to Lock is part of the game plan, but Mizzou ranks second in the SEC and 19th nationally in sacks allowed (1.25/game). The Tigers have five returning offensive line starters who could pose problems for Florida pass-rushers Jachai Polite and Jabari Zuniga. Polite and Zuniga have combined for 17 ½ tackles for loss, including 11 ½ sacks this season.

■ COLLEGE FOOTBALL: Michigan Wolverines

No. 5 Michigan seeking revenge at home versus No. 14 Penn St

By LARRY LAGE
AP Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Two down, two to go.

No. 5 Michigan is on a revenge tour, according to defensive end Chase Winovich . The Wolverines have beaten two of the four Big Ten teams they lost to last season, leaving No. 14 Penn State and No. 8 Ohio State on their list.

"We're halfway there," Winovich said. "It's more than just beating certain teams. It's an attitude. It's a grittiness. We're done playing around."

Michigan (7-0, 5-0 Big Ten, No. 5 CFP) gets its shot at the Nittany Lions (6-2, 3-2 Big Ten, No. 14 CFP) on Saturday at home and will have to wait until Nov. 24 for its last tour stop against the Buckeyes.

Penn State beat the Wolverines 42-13 last year and tried to score even more points in the final seconds, a fact that has bothered Michigan for more than a year.

Defensive coordinator Don Brown insisted he has thought about that game every day since the humiliating setback. The points and yards (502) given up in that game were the most allowed in Brown's two-plus years at Michigan. And just in case Brown's defensive players were not still stung by the rout, he showed them how the end of the game unfolded, with Miles Sanders taking a handoff from the Wolverines 6 in the closing seconds and getting stopped for a loss.

"Wanted them to be reminded of that feeling," Brown said. "I think the point was made."

Here are some other things to watch at the Big House:

Good to go

Penn State quarterback Trace McSorley is expected to start after missing part of last week's 30-24 win over No. 18 Iowa.

"Obviously, everybody knows he got dinged up in the game, so I'm not keeping that a secret," coach James Franklin said. "Well, literally by 7 a.m., he's done more than most people do all day to give him the best chance to be healthy, to practice at a very, very high level, and then also to make sure that he can go and be present and dominate in the classroom."

McSorley has 28 career wins, one short of the school record for a quarterback shared by Todd Blackledge and Tony Sacca.

"They have one of the best playmakers, besides (Michigan QB) Shea Patterson, in college football with Trace," Winovich said. "The dude knows how to win."

Gary watch

Michigan might get defensive end Rashan Gary back in the lineup. He has missed three games with a shoulder injury.

"I think he's very, very close," Brown said.

Gary's teammates have bristled at speculation he will not return to play in college and instead choose to focus on getting prepared for the NFL draft as former Ohio State defensive end Nick Bosa decided to do last month.

"He's trying to get in the game," said Kwity Paye, who has started in Gary's place. "I feel for him on that."

Not so special

Penn State has made numerous miscues lately on special teams. The Nittany Lions allowed two safeties on punts last week, giving up four points with a blocked kick and a poor snap. They also failed to recover an onside kick against Indiana and gave up a first down on a fake punt against Michigan State. First-year kicker Jake Pinegar has made all five of his field goal attempts over the last two games, but he has missed two of four field goals on the road.

■ COLLEGE FOOTBALL: Alabama Crimson Tide

No. 1 Alabama expects toughest test yet at No. 4 LSU

By BRETT MARTEL
AP Sports Writer

BATON ROUGE, La. — As quarterback sensation Tua Tagovailoa tries to envision what awaits him and top-ranked Alabama at LSU's Tiger Stadium, he could use recent history as a guide.

Even during this decade of dominance, the Crimson Tide hasn't so much thrived as survived at deafening Death Valley, where a crowd exceeding 102,000 is expected for the historical rivals' 83rd meeting on Saturday night.

T.J. Yeldon's last-minute touchdown on a screen lifted Alabama to a dramatic, comeback win in 2012. LSU appeared to have the 2014 game in Tiger Stadium locked up, but a personal foul pushed the Tigers back as they neared a game-sealing score. They wound up missing a field goal, and Alabama responded with a tying kick to set up its overtime triumph . In 2016, it took a 21-yard scramble by Jalen Hurts to break a scoreless tie in the fourth quarter.

Odds makers apparently expect the Tide to have it easier this time, listing Alabama (8-0, 5-0 SEC, No. CFP) as a two-touchdown favorite at No. 4 LSU (7-1, 4-1 SEC, No. 3 CFP).

Tagovailoa has been that good , passing for 2,066 yards and 25 touchdowns without an interception despite taking fewer than 60 percent of Alabama's offensive snaps.

"He's quick with the ball. He's quick with the release. He's smart," LSU coach Ed Orgeron said. "He can throw the ball deep. He can run the football. This is a very dangerous football player. I believe he's the best player in the country."

LSU quarterback Joe Burrow, a graduate transfer from Ohio State, hasn't been nearly as prolific, but he has largely produced as needed while drawing praise for his poise, toughness, decision-making and leadership. Although Burrow's passing stats — 1,544 yards and six TDs — rank near the bottom of the SEC, he has demonstrated he can fire or finesse throws into tight windows, throw deep and run.

"Joe has played very, very well," Alabama coach Nick Saban said. "People try to stop the run, and they make a lot of explosive plays on people — probably have as good a balance as anybody we've played this year."

Alabama has won every game by 22 or more points. Sometimes much more — with Tagovailoa resting on the sidelines during anticlimactic fourth quarters.

If there is any knock on Alabama, it's that the Tide hasn't been tested. No. 22 Texas A&M is the only currently ranked team Alabama has beaten. Three weeks ago, Georgia entered Death Valley unbeaten and ranked second — and lost by 20 .

"You come into Tiger Stadium, it's loud, you're going to be under some stress," said Orgeron, who'd be a hero in his native state if he presides over the end of Alabama's seven-game winning streak in the series. "Play our defense, you're going to be under some stress."

Saban said his players "realize the challenge that they have against a very good LSU team, who had some very impressive wins this year.

"It will be interesting to see how they respond playing a very good team on the road."

Some other things to now about the Top 25 Alabama-LSU showdown:

WHITE'S PLIGHT

Saban said LSU's Devin White is "as good a linebacker as there is anywhere."

But during the first half, LSU must endure the absence of their Butkus Award candidate, who was flagged for targeting in the fourth quarter of the Tigers' last game when he leveled Mississippi State quarterback Nick Fitzgerald. Some analysts questioned the call and LSU protested the partial-game suspension , but to no avail. White ranks third in the SEC in tackles with 76, including seven tackles for loss, a sack and a forced fumble. He also has six quarterback hurries and two fumble recoveries.

"That is a big loss for them," Tagovailoa said.

Decision to stick with Cam Newton has paid off for Panthers under new coordinator

By RICK STROUD
Tampa Bay Times

TAMPA — The Carolina Panthers stuck with quarterback Cam Newton, and that loyalty has been rewarded with four playoff appearances in five years.

This season, Newton has a new offensive coordinator and nobody is pulling at Superman's cape after a 5-2 start.

"I know this. When Cam was going to be our guy from the beginning, we stuck with him through thick and thin," Panthers coach Ron Rivera said. "Even when he struggled, we stuck with him, and I think a big part of it, too, we were fortunate. We had a lot of good things happen for us at the right time."

Newton, 29, has been the No. 1 overall pick and offensive rookie of the year, a Super Bowl quarterback and the 2015 NFL MVP. He's also experienced more losing seasons (four) than winning ones (three). But good things are happening again for Newton and the Panthers offense under Norv Turner, who took over the play-calling from fired Mike Shula.

Good things are happening again for Newton and the Panthers offense under Norv Turner, who took over the play-calling from fired Mike Shula.

Turner, the former head coach of the Redskins, Raiders and Chargers, has had his most success as a play-caller, winning two Super Bowls with the Dallas Cowboys.

At 66, Turner has been able to adapt his offense to the run-pass versatility of Newton and is getting the Panthers playmakers open to make a lot of yards after the catch.

"I think the biggest thing as far as the impact he's had on our quarterback, I think he's really helped him in terms of his growth, understanding the game even more so than he has been," Rivera said.

"I think one of the things Coach would do is the way he approaches using personnel. The way he makes his personnel shifts, motions. I think also play-calling, I mean, just a variety of things. Mixing things up constantly so people don't really get a beat on what we're trying to do or how we're trying to execute our offense."

Newton's go-to guy is Christian McCaffrey, who leads the team in rushing (92 carries, 423 yards) and receiving (44 catches). Newton is the Panthers' second leading rusher with 62 carries for 309 yards and four touchdowns, which gives defenses fits.

"I like how confident he's playing," Bucs defensive coordinator Mark Duffner said of McCaffrey. "The guy's skills are multiple in his ability to run. He's a shifty runner. He's got excellent hands. Again, he's 98 percent of their offense."

Newton is having a better start than he did at this point in 2015, when he led the Panthers to a 15-1 record, a Super Bowl appearance and took home the Most Valuable Player award.

"The thing that jumps out the most to me is the speed they've added at other places like (D.J. Moore and Jarius Wright)," Bucs coach Dirk Koetter said. "(Curtis) Samuel is back. They're throwing short passes, but what they do after they catch it . … What might have been a 2-3 yard run after the catch is now a 10 or 15-yard run at times."

The Panthers own the league's second-best rushing offense, and Newton has been spectacular throwing the football. He has a 66.4 percent completion percentage with 13 touchdowns and four interceptions

In the red zone, Newton is unstoppable because of his ability to run the spread option.

"The thing that make them different than anybody else is it's not just their run game or their pass game, it's their quarterback run game," Koetter said. "And they're running a lot of things where he's a threat to run it.

"I just watched their red-zone tape this morning and RPOs (run-pass option), hitting the glance route, they've scored three or four touchdowns on that, so your defense is seeing run with a pulling guard and back coming across, and they've got (Devin) Funchess running a glance in the back of the end zone. That's tough. That's tough on a defense.

"And you've got the pullers, McCaffrey or one of the backs coming across and then Cam is pulling it and you've got a quarterback run off of that. Then they've got the bootleg where all the action is going one way and Cam is running the other way and Cam Newton is part quarterback, part running back. Super quarterback and part running back."

Once again, he's Super Cam.

Cheerleader takes knee during anthem; 49ers silent

By JON BECKER
The Mercury News

SANTA CLARA, Calif. — The 49ers decided to stay mum Friday, a day after a cheerleader took a knee during the national anthem, a la Colin Kaepernick.

That's in part because the unidentified cheerleader is not technically a 49ers employee. Performers for the "Gold Rush" squad work for E2K, a Mountain View event and entertainment company.

E2K did not immediately respond to the Bay Area News Group's request to comment.

The only comment on the matter came from 49ers coach Kyle Shanahan who said in reply to a question: "I don't know about the cheerleader who took a knee, and I don't have a thought about that."

It's at least the second time a member of the Gold Rush took a knee during the anthem. Last Christmas Eve, two 49ers cheerleaders did so in protest before the team's game in Santa Clara against Jacksonville.

On Thursday night, one cheerleader alone planted her right knee on the turf during the playing of the Star Spangled Banner before the 49ers beat the Raiders, 34-3, at Levi's Stadium.

While the other Gold Rush performers stood, the cheerleader tucked her gold pom-poms behind her back until the conclusion of the national anthem. A handful of photos from the scene made the rounds on Twitter, including one from Henny Herold, who told the Huffington Post that he didn't notice much of a stir.

"No one else that I know of noticed or reacted," Herold told the Post. "She stayed with her teammates for the rest of the game, and they appeared to support her."

Viewers around the country did not witness her protest since Fox, like most networks airing NFL games, decided not to televise the anthem live this season. The move was made to try to defuse the controversial protesting during the anthem.

The 49ers deferred commenting on the matter, noting that they've addressed the anthem policy repeatedly since Kaepernick first launched his protest in August 2016. Team CEO Jed York has repeatedly supported the rights of Kaepernick, former defensive back Eric Reid and other players to express themselves politically.

York also donated $1 million to causes Kaepernick holds dear.

"I think everything starts from conversation," York said last October. "And the more you can have conversation, the more you can actually see where other people are coming from, I think the more enlightened you can be.

"And for me, I am not the most left-wing person in the world. I realize people are trying to sort of paint me as that. … That's not my background politically and how I grew up, but I think a lot of these things are common-sense issues, and when you actually sit down and talk to people and you know where people are coming from, it's hard to not be sympathetic and empathetic."

The 49ers now halt concession sales during the playing of the national anthem because, York said, "I don't think we should profit during the national anthem if we're going to ask people to be respectful."

Kaepernick has not played in the NFL since becoming a free agent in March 2017 and filed a lawsuit accusing the league of colluding to keep him off the field because of the player protests he instigated. The quarterback said he declined to stand for the national anthem in protest of police brutality and other racial injustices.

Breeders' Cup-Things To Know

By GARY B. GRAVES
AP Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The Breeders' Cup is back in familiar surroundings at Churchill Downs, with an additional stakes race bumping the two-day program to 14 and prize money up to a record $30 million.

As always, the marquee race is Saturday's $6 million Cup Classic that could help determine which thoroughbred ends up as Horse of the Year. Not to mention, establishing the top horse in several age divisions along with the top jockey and trainer.

One notable absence from the Classic is Triple Crown winner Justify, whom trainer Bob Baffert retired in July because of an ankle ailment. That leaves the Classic without horse racing's biggest name, but also a bunch of horses poised to make their presence known — and bettors happy.

Accelerate aims to make it six wins in seven starts this year as the 5-2 favorite in the 1 1/4-mile headliner.

"He's had a really beautiful year," trainer John Sadler said this week. "He's a really healthy, strong guy. As a 5-year-old, he's come out of those Classic races in good shape physically and continued right on."

The season-ending championships should also provide a glimpse of what to expect when racing returns to the historic track for next May's 145th Kentucky Derby.

Friday's first day set aside for 2-year-olds could help establish the contenders. Things will begin with the inaugural Juvenile Turf Sprint, a $1 million event to be run over 5 1/2 furlongs. The feature is the $2 million Juvenile, where 5-2 favorite Complexity will race 1/16 mile in search of a 3-0 start.

Churchill Downs is hosting the season-ending world championships for a record-tying ninth time and first since 2011. Santa Anita has also hosted nine times, most recently in 2016.

Some other things to watch in the 35th Breeders' Cup World Championships:

Well rested

Bob Baffert's decision to not run Justify in the Classic is offset by two horses coming off six-month breaks. West Coast's runner-up finish to Accelerate in the Awesome Again Stakes was among three seconds this year. McKinzie's Pennsylvania Derby victory came after he was disqualified to second in the Grade 2 San Felipe in March. The 3-year-old also won the Grade 3 Sham at Santa Anita.

Star-studded distaff

This race for fillies and mares features the two most recent Kentucky Oaks winners in Monomoy Girl and Abel Tasman. Trained by Louisville native Brad Cox, Monomoy Girl has won five of six as a 3-year-old and might have been unbeaten if not for a disqualification to second after winning the Grade 1 Cotillion in September. Second in last year's Distaff at Del Mar, Abel Tasman has eight wins and four seconds in 15 career starts and was last year's Eclipse Award winner as top 3-year-old filly.

Tough on turf

British filly Enable will make her American debut in the $4 million Breeders' Cup Turf as the even-money favorite behind Lanfranco Dettori. The 4-year-old has won both starts this year, including her second consecutive win in the Arc de Triomphe in France by a neck. She has nine wins and a third in 10 starts and more than $8.5 million in career earnings.

AP PHOTO

Joel Rosario rides Game Winner to victory in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile horse race at Churchill Downs, Friday, Nov. 2, 2018, in Louisville, Ky.

Strength in numbers

Irish-based trainer Aiden O'Brien has 15 entrants among eight races this weekend, including 2017 Juvenile Turf winner Mendelssohn, who's entered in the Classic. The Breeders' Cup Mile will have four O'Brien horses, while Friday's Juvenile Turf Sprint has three. The Juvenile Turf has 4-1 favorite Anthony Van Dyck, who will break from the No. 14 post.

Schedule change

The $1 million Cup Dirt Mile and $2 million Cup Distaff have moved from Friday to Saturday and expanded the card to nine races. The Distaff is now part of the final four races building up toward the Classic.

Dolphins CB Tankersley out for season with torn ACL

DAVIE, Fla. (AP) — Miami Dolphins backup cornerback Cordrea Tankersley has a torn ACL, the ninth player on the team to sustain a season-ending injury.

"We can't afford any more," coach Adam Gase said Friday. He said the same thing Monday.

The Dolphins also disclosed that quarterback Ryan Tannehill's injury to his throwing shoulder is a capsule injury. He'll miss his fourth game in a row Sunday against the New York Jets.

The loss of Tankersley could be magnified because starting cornerback Xavien Howard (ankle) is questionable for the game. Defensive end Charles Harris (calf) was ruled out, and receiver Kenny Stills (groin), and tight end A.J. Derby (foot) are questionable.

Tankersley had an important role on special teams. He was hurt in practice Thursday with no contact involved.

"He was just running with a guy and took a weird step," Gase said.

Gase said the Dolphins won't try to add a replacement at cornerback until after the Jets game.

■ PREP FOOTBALL: Venice 44, Manatee 13

Venice wraps up regular season in dominating fashion

By VINNIE PORTELL
Sports Editor

For as slow as the Venice football team started its game against Manatee on Friday night, you sure couldn't tell just by looking at the final score.

Though the Indians and Hurricanes traded punts for much of the first two quarters, Venice (9-1) woke up in the second half to enact a running clock in a 44-13 blowout win at Powell-Davis Stadium.

"We're like boxers, I think, on offense," Venice coach John Peacock said. "We just have to feel a team out for a little bit. We see what front they're giving us and what they're trying to do to us. As soon as we figure that out, we try to make our adjustments. Once we make those adjustments, we're able to have a little more success."

With Venice wrapping up the district championship last week at Palmetto, the Indians already had their spot in the playoffs.

But with Friday night's win, Venice secures itself the top overall seed in 7A Region-3 for the playoffs, and has earned a likely rematch with the Palmetto Tigers at Powell-Davis Stadium on Friday, Nov. 9.

A big part of Venice taking control against Manatee was its defense, which shut out the Hurricanes in the first half and bailed out the offense on multiple occasions.

Twice in the opening quarter, the Venice defense stopped a Manatee drive at 4th and 1 around the Hurricanes' own 45-yard line, causing costly punts for the opposition. Another drive was stopped cold in the second quarter, when linebacker Denique Mayfield tipped a Keyon Fordham pass in the air long enough for safety Noah Carr to come down with the interception.

"They played great," Peacock said of his defense. "Even when we weren't playing so good on offense in the first half, they did a great job keeping us in the game. We put them in some bad situation and coach Shannon, coach Bartlett, coach Weidlein and coach Hyer do a great job getting these guys ready each and every week."

Though the offense struggled to sustain drives in the opening quarters, running back Brandon Gregory kick-started the scoring with a 13-yard burst through the Hurricanes defense in the closing minutes of the first quarter.

Then, in the second quarter, Gregory gave the Indians a little room to breathe.

The senior broke off a 46-yard run near midfield to take the ball down to the Manatee 1-yard line before giving Venice a two-score lead one play later.

Gregory, who sat much of the fourth quarter, finished the game with 183 rushing yards and three scores.

Once Gregory put some points on the board, the rest of the offense found its rhythm as well. Senior quarterback Hayden Wolff connected on 13-of-23 passes for 207 yards and a touchdown, spreading the ball around to seven receivers on the night.

Leading 14-0 at the half, the Indians did most of their damage in the third quarter.

Following an 11-yard touchdown run by backup quarterback Nico DallaCosta, Gregory scored on a 32-yard run in which he broke several Hurricanes tackles, Wolff lofted a 20-yard touchdown pass to Michael Trapani on a wheel route and Trapani finally wrapped up the quarter with a five-yard run for a score.

By the time the fourth quarter rolled around, Venice had built an insurmountable 44-7 lead and had forced a running clock. Though Manatee would score once more on a 63-yard touchdown pass from Anthony Squitieri to Fordham with 10 minutes left to play, it was far too late for a Manatee comeback.

"I think we're getting better and I think that we're ready for the playoffs," Peacock said. "I don't know who we play yet, but we're ready."

Can U.S. economy stay hot?

The U.S. economy is running hot. Growth clocked in at an annual pace of 3.5 percent in July-September, atop a 4.2 percent April-June expansion. Together the two periods mark the fastest consecutive quarters of growth since 2014. Credit consumers: Their spending accounted for 77 percent of third-quarter growth. Their confidence is the highest in 18 years.

But economists see yellow lights ahead. Growth has fed off tax cuts signed last December. But the deficit-financed stimulus likely will start to burn out next year. Meantime, the Federal Reserve has hiked interest rates three times this year and is expected raise them again in December. Gradually, higher rates should weigh on the economy. Indeed, President Donald Trump is already complaining about them.

Trump's trade policies — import taxes on U.S. trading partners that have drawn retaliation on American exports — also are causing some businesses to delay investments. The trade hostilities and higher borrowing costs contributed to a tumbling stock market in October and to sluggish 0.8 percent third-quarter growth in business investment, reversing strong growth the first half of 2018.

IBM aims for cloud dominance

IBM's nascent cloud computing business remained a modest bright spot for the company during the more than five years it suffered from falling revenue.

Now CEO Ginni Rometty is counting on IBM's $34 billion acquisition of open-source software provider Red Hat to reset the cloud landscape and advance IBM as a major player.

IBM launched its first commercial cloud offering in 2007. Rometty made clear its growth was a priority when she took the helm in 2012. But it's been overshadowed by faster-growing cloud providers Amazon, Microsoft and Google.

Still, it's been steadily growing into a larger segment of IBM's business.

IBM's $7 billion in cloud revenue in 2014 accounted for less than 8 percent of the company's total revenue. Last year, its $17 billion in cloud revenue accounted for about 21 percent of IBM's total revenue.

Rometty says that's just the beginning, since most businesses haven't yet migrated their workloads into the cloud – leaving a huge market still to tap.

1 – Name of stock.

2 – Market: N = NYSE, A - NYSE American, Q = NASDAQ.

3 – Ticker Symbol company trades under.

4 – Dividend: A distribution of the company's earnings to shareholders, usually consisting of stock dividends, interest on bonds, or short-term capital gains on the sale of securities usually paid quarterly in the form of cash or stock.

5 – Div. Yield: The dividend divided by the stock price. It helps gauge how well the stock is paying, compared to other investments such as CDs, bonds or savings accounts.

6 – Price to earnings ratio: The price of a stock divided by its earnings per share. PEs are used to gauge the relative worth of a company' stock. When compared to other companies in the same industry, the companies with the lowest PEs are generally earning higher profits.

7 – Range of closing prices in last year.

8 – Trading for the day, with sales in thousands (10 = 10,000 shares), and closing price.

9 – Weekly sales volume, High, low, and change from previous week's close.

10 – Percent change for the year.

▲▼ Arrows, indicate new highs or lows during the week.
Underline: indicates weekly volume surge equal to or more than 5%.
Bold stocks , designates which stocks have gone up or down 10% for the week.

FOOTNOTE: Rate-The annual interest rate the Treasury bond provides to investors. Date-The month and year the bond will expire. Bid-The price investors will pay for the bond. Ask-The price at which investors will sell. A bond price is expressed as a percentage of its original purchase cost of $1,000. The whole numbers and the decimals-which represent 32nds of a point-must be converted to dollars and cents; for example, 103.18 equals $1,035.63. Chg-The change between the preceding day's final bid price and the final bid price from the day before. Yld-The annual percentage return to the investor, based on the bond's current price, if the bond is held until it matures. K-Taxes on interest will not be withheld from non-U.S. citizens. n-Treasury note. p-Treasury note; taxes on interest will not be withheld from non-U.S. citizens.

Spin-Off Keeps Supernatural Bloodlines Going

BY DAN RICE

Diehard fans of "The Vampire Diaries" and "The Originals" still lamenting the passing of those supernatural dramas can perk up their pointy ears: a new generation of otherworldly yet relatable characters are on the rise at the Salvatore School for the Young and Gifted on the new spin-off "Legacies," airing Thursday at 9 p.m. on The CW.

"'Legacies' is born out of my continued love for what I'm now calling the TVD Universe," says creator Julie Plec, "the world of Mystic Falls and vampires, witches, werewolves and now many other things that fall in between and outside of that.

"At the end of 'The Vampire Diaries,' Alaric Saltzman (Matthew Davis) decided to start a boarding school for his young twin daughters (Kaylee Bryant, Jenny Boyd), who were born from a very dark and psychopathicladen witch coven. And when he started seeing signs in his 3yearolds that they might not be able to control the power they had inside of them, he decided that they needed a home and they needed a place for people like them. And about four years into 'The Originals,' the daughter of Klaus Mikaelson – the nastiest, oldest and fiercest vampire in the world – needed herself a place where she could go and learn to control her powers, learn what she was capable of, and who she really was. And that's Hope Mikaelson (Danielle Rose Russell). And this show is basically about that school and the kids that live inside those walls."

Other students at the school include high-energy vampire MG (Quincy Fouse), newly-triggered werewolf Rafael Waithe (Peyton Alex Smith) and the mysterious Landon Kirby (Aria Shahghasemi). Davis notes that, being human, Alaric will be faced with some challenges in overseeing his supernatural charges. "That's been one of the key pieces I've been working on with my coach, which is how vulnerable he really is there and how he has alliances within the school and how he has to protect those, and he has to maintain this authority, because he really is vulnerable there as the headmaster."

"Pretty much Alaric's entire journey of the first season is these kids' kind of coming into their own and demanding their own autonomy," Plec adds, "starting to ask those questions, like, 'Wait a second, why are we listening to him?' You know, Alaric, over the years, has been a vampire hunter, an original vampire, dead, reborn, history teacher, mentor, guardian and father, and so this seemed like the right job for him."

"Yeah, I'm the man," Davis quips. "When I read the first episode, I was so excited, because you have this whole new cast of characters and all these young kids and it's super fresh and super angsty and super new millennial wave. When I showed up to do 'The Vampire Diaries,' I was 31 and the cast was 20 to 24. Now we're doing 'Legacies,' and I'm 40 and they're still 20 and 24. So, I have this unique view onto the millennial wave. 'Vampire Diaries' was, like, Millennial 1 generation. This is Millennial 2."

"I think the show is very youthful and it's very fun," Russell agrees. "And even in 'The Vampire Diaries,' Stefan and Damon were, what, a century old? And 'The Originals' was a show that was extremely mature and was all about these 1,000yearold vampires. And so 'Legacies,' I think, for the first time in this entire universe, really takes on this, like, new innocence in a way and this new naive kind of perspective from these kids. And even getting to play Hope, like she was a 15yearold girl in 'The Originals.' But I played her as this very kind of messy and emotional and, you know, baddecisionmaking girl that she is, because she's not experienced in any of this. And so, I think that that's what gives 'Legacies' this new kind of supernatural edge that 'The Vampire Diaries' and 'The Originals' never explored."

Plec reveals that there will be much fraternizing between the Salvatore students and those of Mystic Falls High. "You know, our heroes of 'Vampire Diaries' were the Mystic Falls High kids. Now, the Mystic Falls High kids are the townies who are the Salvatore school rivals. And our kids at the school have to suck it up, because the single most important rule is, like, don't fraternize with the locals and don't let anybody in on the secret of who you are or what you can do. And so, in the second episode, we had to do this annual, like, show up and play flag football for charity against the local school. And they have to lose every year. They have one job, and it is to lose spectacularly. But this first time, this bully and this mean girl are just poking and poking and poking, and so our kids really have to control themselves. And, you know, that, of course, goes terribly wrong."

According to Plec, viewers who aren't familiar with "The Vampire Diaries" or "The Originals" should have no trouble following "Legacies." "We are very deliberately setting out for it to be the easiest thing in the world in that most of what we're drawing off of in terms of the past is in the form of Easter eggs and nostalgia placements. You know, we'd like to do the Miss Mystic Falls Pageant. We'd like to have a shoutout to Founders Day. We'd like to have little character names sprinkled across our town square. But for the most part, the mythology is a new mythology. A lot of the supernatural beings that we'll be opening our doors to are things that you never would have seen on 'The Vampire Diaries.' You don't need to know anything other than kind of just have a love for teen soap and/or like creatures of the night, you know, and then you're pretty golden."

After Alaric Saltzman (Matthew Davis) starts a boarding school for his young twin daughters, the student body comes to include Hope Mikaelson (Danielle Rose Russell) on "Legacies," airing Thursday at 9 p.m. on The CW.

CELEBRITY EXTRA

BY DANA JACKSON

Q: Is it true that Joe Giudice is going to be deported to Italy once he's released from prison? I knew it was a possibility, but I'll be shocked if it actually happens. — S.S.

A: What you heard is true. A judge recently ruled that the husband of "Real Housewives of New Jersey" star Teresa Giudice will have to return to Italy since he was never a U.S. citizen. He's currently finishing up a 41-month sentence in federal prison.

The judge had some harsh words for "Juicy Joe": "Based upon the law, I find you deportable and ineligible for any kind of relief. Mr. Giudice, no matter how this turns out, I wish you the best. I decided this case as a matter of law."

Giudice has a chance to file an appeal by Nov. 9, but if he does have to start a new life in Europe, perhaps Bravo's TV cameras will capture some visits from Teresa and his four daughters.

Q: What is up with the Dick Wolf series ("Chicago Med," "Chicago Fire," "Law and Order: SVU," etc.) and their terrible loud music? When did music become more important than the spoken word? I've always enjoyed these shows, but I can't hear a word the actors are saying. The producers could learn a lot from the old guys, like Cecil B. DeMille, where the music stopped when the actors started speaking. — A.E.B., Venice, Florida

A: I agree. I think these shows are trying to attract younger viewers, but they've gone overboard in the editing room. I used to enjoy the occasional montage set to music over an action-packed scene in a feature film or TV drama, but not while the actors are speaking their lines. Now, directors are littering too many scenes with loud music during the dialogue, making it difficult for viewers to hear what's being said. If I were a writer for a Dick Wolf series, I'd be a little perturbed.

In the meantime, try turning on the Closed Captioning feature via your remote control so you can at least read the dialogue you're not able to hear. You can also write abc.go.com/feedback and select "ABC Programming Feedback" in the dropdown menu to submit a complaint. Good luck!

Q: Is it true that they are remaking the movie "Pet Sematary" that was based on a Stephen King novel? I wasn't a fan of the reincarnation of "It" last year. I hope they do a better job with this one. — G.W.

A: Yes, "Pet Sematary" for a new generation will be in theaters next spring. In the meantime, you can view the creepy trailer online. It's hard to believe it will be 30 years since the original film ran in theaters. The new version stars two-time Oscar-nominee John Lithgow ("Dexter") in the role previously played by Fred Gwynne.

SUNDAY HIGHLIGHTS

America's Funniest Home Videos

7 p.m. on ABC

Video clips include a forklift operator who crashes into a boat and a girl who seeks shelter as seagulls swarm her on the beach; clips of small animals that scare people are featured. PG (HD)

Mickey's 90th Spectacular

8 p.m. on ABC

The 90th anniversary of iconic cartoon character Mickey Mouse is celebrated, which includes musical performances, moving tributes and exclusive short films, along with a star-studded cast of guests from the music, film and TV industries.

The Secret Life of Pets

8 p.m. on FX

When a terrier and an unruly mutt are almost taken to the pound after being attacked by cats during their walk, they are rescued by a rabbit who tries to convince the canine companions to join his gang of abandoned pets on a mission against humans. PG (HD)

Bob's Burgers

8:30 p.m. on FOX

The children discover the dangers of revenge when they become entangled in a sibling rivalry between two pilots after trying to get back at their guidance counselor; Linda and Bob get ready with Teddy to attend a paper airplane contest. 14 (HD)

The Walking Dead

9 p.m. on AMC

Rick does everything in his power to ensure the future he and Carl imagined as he struggles to maintain order and protect the communities. (HD)

Ultimate Thanksgiving Challenge

9 p.m. on FOOD

Five of the best chefs take one classic Thanksgiving side and reinvent it in the first round, then in the final round, they are asked to make an entire Turkey dinner in just one hour and incorporate an ingredient from the first Thanksgiving into it. (HD)

Rel

9:30 p.m. on FOX

One of Dad's old friends and former bandmates is sent to Rel's hospital as a patient, but when Rel learns that their friendship ended unpleasantly, he, Nat and Brittany look into the reason why Dad's band, "The Dragons," disbanded in the first place. 14 (HD)

Madam Secretary

10 p.m. on CBS

Henry is placed in the middle of an international incident when he helps an ex-girlfriend with her religious freedom conference located in Thailand; Elizabeth attempts to help Jason as he faces the pressures of getting ready for college. PG (HD)

Our Cartoon President

10:30 p.m. on SHOW

Fearing a Democratic blue wave and the threat of impeachment, the President teams up with his son Don Jr. and others, including Mike Pence and more, to help Republicans win the midterm elections and save America from the grips of democracy. 14 (HD)

Contending with Real Issues

Television programming, of course, is filled with all sorts of formulaic entertainment, but it also serves as a window into very real drama around the globe, while spotlighting those dedicated individuals working to make a difference.

Several of the unsung heroes who tirelessly pursue answers to humanity's problems will get their just recognition on the "2019 Breakthrough Prize Ceremony," airing live Sunday at 10 p.m. on National Geographic. Hosted by actor, producer and philanthropist Pierce Brosnan, the annual ceremony will award a total of $22 million for breakthroughs in treatment for the leading genetic cause of infant death, super-resolution imaging, discovery of a new kind of electronic material and other major scientific achievements. Known as the "Oscars of Science," each Breakthrough Prize is for $3 million. One worthy recipient will be Zhijian "James" Chen of the UT Southwestern Medical Center, honored for his revelation of a mechanism by which cells detect foreign DNA and trigger immune response, with implications for cancer and autoimmune diseases.

The Democratic Republic of the Congo is a mineral-rich Central African country that, over the last two decades, has seen more than five million conflict-related deaths, multiple regime changes and the wholesale impoverishment of its people. Yet though this ongoing strife is the world's bloodiest since WWII, little is known in the West about the players or stakes involved. Debuting on Starz Monday at 9 p.m., "This Is Congo" provides an immersive and unfiltered look into Africa's longest continuing conflict and the Mai-Mai rebels and others who are struggling to survive within it. By following four compelling characters – a whistleblower, a patriotic military commander, a mineral dealer and a displaced tailor – the film offers viewers a truly Congolese perspective on the problems that plague this lushly beautiful nation. In November 2016, after 15 years in power, President Joseph Kabila cancelled elections extending his rule beyond term limits, and the cycle of war is likely to start again.

For his revelation of a mechanism by which cells detect foreign DNA and trigger immune response, Zhijian "James" Chen of the UT Southwestern Medical Center is a recipient in the "2019 Breakthrough Prize Ceremony," airing live Sunday at 10 p.m. on National Geographic.

Monday at 10 p.m. on PBS' "Independent Lens," "Dawnland" reveals the untold story of the removal of indigenous children in the U.S. through the government-endorsed first Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) in the nation, tasked with investigating the devastating impact of Maine's child welfare practices on Native American communities. For most of the 20th century, government agents systematically forced Native American children from their homes and placed them with white families. As recently as the 1970s, one in four Native children nationwide were living in non-Native foster care, adoptive homes or boarding schools. Many children experienced shattering emotional and physical harm by adults who mistreated them and tried to erase their cultural identity. Now, for the first time, they are being asked to share their stories. From 2013 to 2015, Native and non-Native commissioners travelled across Maine, gathering testimony about the agonizing impacts of the state's child welfare practices on families in Maliseet, Micmac, Passamaquoddy and Penobscot tribal communities, which together comprise the Wabanaki people. The TRC discovered that state power continues to be used to break up families, threatening the very existence of the Wabanaki people.

Debuting on HBO Thursday at 8 p.m., "We Are Not Done Yet" follows 10 U.S. veterans and active-duty service members from varied backgrounds who come together at the USO Warrior and Family Center in Bethesda, Maryland, for a workshop led by poet Seema Reza and Community Building Art Works. Striving to combat their traumatic military pasts via the written word, they share fears, vulnerabilities and victories, using their writing as a tool for bonding, empowerment and healing, and engaging in a live performance of a collaborative poem at Washington, D.C.'s Lansburgh Theater under the direction of actor Jeffrey Wright.

MOMENTS IN TIME

On Nov. 8, 1847, Bram Stoker, author of the horror novel "Dracula," is born in Ireland. The concept of vampires didn't originate with Stoker. John William Polidori's 1819 short story "The Vampyre" is credited with kick-starting the vampire genre.

On Nov. 6, 1860, Abraham Lincoln is elected the 16th president of the United States over a deeply divided Democratic Party, becoming the first Republican to win the presidency. Lincoln received only 40 percent of the popular vote but handily defeated the three other candidates.
