Man run over by USPS truck

Flown to Lakeland with serious injuries while FHP investigates

By PHIL ATTINGER

AVON PARK — A local man got run over Wednesday afternoon by a U.S. Postal Service delivery truck. Highlands County Emergency Medical Services transported Juan Arocho Soto, 59, to an awaiting helicopter that airlifted him to Lakeland Regional Medical Center, according to the Highlands County Sheriff's Office. Meanwhile, Florida Highway Patrol has the incident under investigation.

Sheriff's Office Public Information Officer Scott Dressel confirmed Soto's identity and that he was en route to Lakeland. Family had already been notified. Few details are known at this point. The driver of USPS Mail Truck 9203426 appeared uninjured. Authorities have not identified the driver as of press time. The incident took place at approximately 1:55 p.m. Wednesday on Self Avenue in Avon Park, less than 10 yards north of the intersection with Kersey Street.

Deputies on scene confirmed, from the appearance of the scene, that the USPS Mail Truck was northbound at the time. Soto was in the middle of the street, based on materials left behind by EMS personnel. Deputies confirmed Soto was "run over," not merely "hit." Debris left on the road included Soto's wristwatch, eyeglasses and a handful of scattered change. As of 2:30 p.m., FHP had a SEBRING — Project 2247, a project honoring Deputy Sheriff William J. Gentry Jr., encourages citizens of Highlands County to volunteer 2,247 hours in his memory. Gentry's badge number was 2247.

The goal of the project is to earn these volunteer hours by May 7, 2019, the one year anniversary of his death.

As of Feb. 26, Project 2247 has reached 81 percent of the goal with a total of 1,810 volunteer hours contributed to the project. Only 437 hours are needed to reach 100 percent of the goal.

Project 2247 has a Facebook page where the project coordinators document the progress toward the goal. People post pictures of their volunteer work and the number of hours they have donated.

Recently, people have been posting pictures of themselves volunteering at the county fair with AgVenture. On Feb. 23 a group of children posted pictures showing how they were helping feed the homeless at the New Testament Mission.

"I love the idea of pushing volunteerism through this Leadership Project 2247," Kelly Dressel, executive director of The Children's Museum of the Highlands, said. "This is what community is all about, helping your neighbors."

SEBRING — Where there's smoke, there's fire. However, not all fire is bad fire, although there is always an element of danger. That's why the professionals at the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service will be burning acreage on purpose to keep future fires from flaring.

In a press release, the Lake Wales Ridge National Wildlife Refuge will be performing prescribed burns over the course of the next several weeks to several hundred acres of the Refuge's land near Flaming Villas Unit, which is located between Airport Road and State Road 98. Additional acreage will be burned along Arbuckle Creek near Carter Creek Unit.

According to the Refuge Manager Oliver van den Ende, the burns will take place between March and June of this year. The weather could affect when the prescribed burns

AP stepping up code enforcement efforts

By MARC VALERO

AVON PARK — From minor infractions such as peeling paint and overgrown lawns to major eyesores like dilapidated cars, the City of Avon Park aims to improve its code enforcement efforts.

At Monday's City Council meeting, Councilman Stanley Spurlock said the city is a year behind in addressing code violations and he believes a second special magistrate should be brought in to hear the cases that have yet to be resolved.

The city needs something with "some teeth in it" to make violators pay their fines so the city brings in revenue that would support another magistrate and offset the cost to the taxpayers, he said, and "Maybe once and for all we will show the people we mean business in complying."

City Manager

David Flowers said the city's special magistrate is working one day a month and recently did 20 cases in one day, but he will soon be working two days a month.

The goal is to get more of these cases, that have been out there for a year, brought forward, he said.

"In the new budget year, I want to ask for another code enforcement officer — code compliance officer — I think that is the more gentle way to say it these days," Flowers said.

"I do believe with violations that I see daily in the city, without even looking for them, I just think we need more help out there to get more done."

Flowers said Code Enforcement Coordinator Greg Warner, who started last week, will do a good job in coordinating the department with more citations being issued, but with that there will be more magistrate duties unless the people actually comply.

When a replacement is found for payroll clerk Marnita English, English will transfer to the new position of code enforcement supervisor, Flowers said.

Mayor Garrett Anderson said they should check with the city's current special magistrate to see if he could do more days or see what can be done to get caught up.

"It has been a little lackluster in the past years and we are turning over a new leaf now," he said.

Deputy Mayor Jim Barnard said to check how many days the special magistrate could commit to because it would be nice to have the same person doing the same cases in the same community. If he could do three days a month on average the city would get caught up, he said.

Council approved by a 3-1 vote to advertise for an additional special magistrate if the current special magistrate could not work additional days for the city. Councilwoman Brenda Gray voted "no" and Councilwoman Maria Sutherland was absent.

Did you see this boy in 1999?

Scan used to create boy's face in cold case

By PHIL ATTINGER
STAFF WRITER

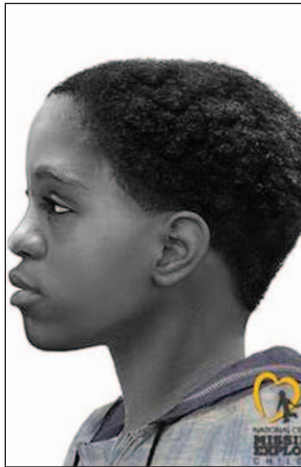

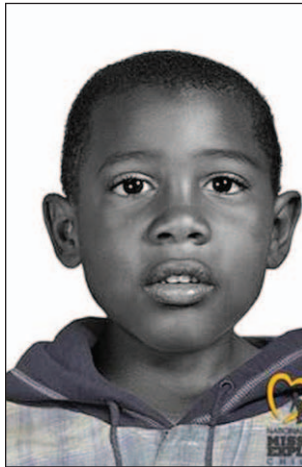

SEBRING — Twenty years ago, on Feb. 26, 1999, authorities found a boy's body in a small church cemetery in Dekalb County, Georgia.

He has remained unidentified all that time. Now officials at the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children hope new technology will give him back his name.

Investigators determined that the young boy was of African American descent, between 4 and 8 years old and likely died about 3-6 months prior to being found.

He was estimated to stand between 3 feet, 10 inches and 4 feet, 2 inches and weigh approximately 45-60 pounds.

He was found wearing an extra-large blue plaid and navy hooded sweatshirt, size 3 red

Vet Jam Aqua Fest/Music Fest this weekend in AP

By MARC VALERO
STAFF WRITER

AVON PARK — Vet Jam Aqua Fest and Music Fest will be making a splash and rockin' downtown Avon Park this Friday and Saturday, respectively.

Vet Jam Aqua Fest will be 1-7 p.m. Friday at Donaldson Park on Main Street. The event is free and open to the public and will feature Caribbean music and steel drums, a sunset drum circle, waterfest on Lake Verona, food and carnival games.

From 1-5 p.m. at various times on Lake Verona, Winter Haven Water Sports (formerly Flyboard Central Florida) will be back with their flyboard demonstration and Alligators Unlimited Airboat Nature Tours will present an airboat exhibition.

The Cypress Gardens Water Ski Team will perform at 5 p.m.

Vet Jam Music Fest is from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday on Main Street, Avon Park. It is free and open to the public with live music, vendors, food trucks, car show, The Big Red Bus, special exhibits and special drawings.

The bands include: California Toe Jam from 10 a.m. to noon; Raisin' Cain from 12-2 p.m.; Radio Recoil from 2-4 p.m. and Free Agent from 4-6 p.m.

The Highlands County Sheriff's Office SWAT vehicle and K9 units will be there for those young and old who want to see these important parts of the department that are there to serve and protect.

Also, the Vet Jam Music Fest Freedom Run for bikers is Saturday with sign up beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the festival and the kickstands up at 10:30 a.m. The Freedom Run ends at the Vet Jam after party at The Royal Order of the Moose, 1318 W. Bell St., Avon Park.

The non-profit Battle of the Bands Inc., which helps area military veterans, presents the Vet Jam events.

Battle of the Bands President Anna Marie Feeny said Thursday, "This is our fifth year with the Music Fest and second year with Aqua Fest and our hope is to bring the community together in such a positive way that everyone benefits especially our veterans."

That Will Make You

SMARTER

1. The skink is a very diverse type of lizard species with a huge number of sub species. There are more than 1,200 of them and that classifies them as the second largest group of lizards in the world.

2. They have a long body, very small legs, a head that is slightly off the ground and pointed upwards, and a very long and tapered tail.

3. Skinks can range in length from just a couple of centimeters to several feet. It depends on the location where they live and also the sub species.

4. They are found in the mountains, in the desert, and even in the grasslands. They can be hard to find though as they tend to blend in very well in the trees and when they burrow you won't be able to find them at all.

5. The skink tends to spend a great deal of time in the trees. There are also sub species that burrow for protection rather than spending their time in the trees.

Sexual predator back in jail

By KIM LEATHERMAN
STAFF WRITER

AVON PARK — Juan Carlos Feliciano, 46, 3016 Lowell Road in Avon Park, was arrested Monday by Highlands County sheriff's deputies. He is being charged with violating his conditions of probation by using a smartphone to access the internet. His street name is Flaqueno.

Feliciano was originally adjudicated guilty of committing sexual battery of a child under 12 for his gratification in Orange County in 2003. He was sentenced to 18 years in jail and 10 years of probation. Highlands County Sheriff's Public Information Officer Scott Dressel was unsure on why Feliciano was out of jail.

The Orange County Court labeled Feliciano as a sexual predator in 2017.

According to a redacted arrest report, deputies assisted Feliciano's probation officer by accompanying the officer to Feliciano's home on several occasions. Feliciano agreed to have visits to his residence as a condition of parole. Deputies were with the parole officer on July 27, 2018; Oct. 1, 2018; and Jan. 24.

Authorities report that Feliciano was not happy with the no-internet rule and felt it was unlawful and argued with a deputy that it was not a condition of his parole. The deputy told him that there is usually a standard condition that offenders get from their parole officers and no internet access may have been one.

Feliciano stated that he knew he had to let the officers search his home and he has to do whatever the parole officer gives him. He told the deputy that he had already agreed to comply with the no-internet policy until he could ask the judge about it.

On Feb. 22, a deputy and the parole officer arrived at Feliciano's house to check in with him and verify his address, the report said. A non-custodial interview was done by the deputy while the parole officer searched the house.

The parole officer found a Galaxy J7 smartphone under a blanket in Feliciano's bedroom. The parole officer asked him if he was accessing the internet with the phone. His response is redacted in the arrest report.

"Feliciano became very nervous while giving this information and looked at me as if he wanted to confirm that it was valid," the deputy wrote. The deputy told Feliciano that he could not help him out with the no-internet condition of his parole as he was not in court and did not know the judge's ruling on it. The parole officer did tell him to stay away from the internet, however.

Because of the phone's ability to access the internet and Feliciano's behavior, the deputy felt he had reasonable suspicion to check the phone for pornography.

The phone was registered to Feliciano by phone number, address and email. On the phone were images of naked male and female genitalia. He did make a statement to deputies that was redacted on the report.

Feliciano is in the Highlands County Jail being held without bond.

ANOTHER VIEW

FBI taking to long for report

After Sept. 11, 2001, it took about 34 months to establish an investigative commission and publicly release a final report on the worst terrorist attacks in American history.

The Pulse nightclub in Orlando was attacked by a single gunman 32 months ago, and the public still hasn't seen the FBI's final report.

Instead, it's been a drip, drip, drip of vaguely worded statements by other agencies, the latest coming last week from the office of Orange-Osceola State Attorney Aramis Ayala.

The highlight was a conclusion that none of the 49 victims had been shot by police. The basis for that conclusion included a Florida Department of Law Enforcement use-of-force investigation, which reviewed video and audio evidence, along with police and witness statements.

What's still missing, however, is the FBI's full report on the massacre, including detailed ballistics findings important in determining who shot whom. This delay despite the passage of time, despite the death of the gunman, and despite the acquittal of the gunman's wife on a charge of assisting her husband.

So why the secrecy? Why — more than 2½ years after the massacre of club-goers — can't the public see what the FBI has found? A spokesperson for the agency said the case hasn't been formally closed, citing "administrative items that need to be finalized." Oh.

Other investigations haven't proceeded so slowly.

As the Sentinel reported last week, an FBI investigation into the motives behind a mass shooting at a Las Vegas concert was released in January, 16 months after the killings.

Canned statements from the region's representatives in Washington don't give us much confidence they're holding the agency's feet to the fire.

"I am in the process of receiving full briefings by the FBI and FDLE," wrote U.S. Rep. Val Demings, whose district includes the Pulse nightclub. "The public deserves to know as much as the law allows. Through full transparency we become better and safer."

"I am satisfied with their investigation but believe it's time for them to release the forensics report," Rep. Darren Soto said in written answers to the Sentinel's questions. "It appears their investigation has concluded and this report is critical for public policy analysis."

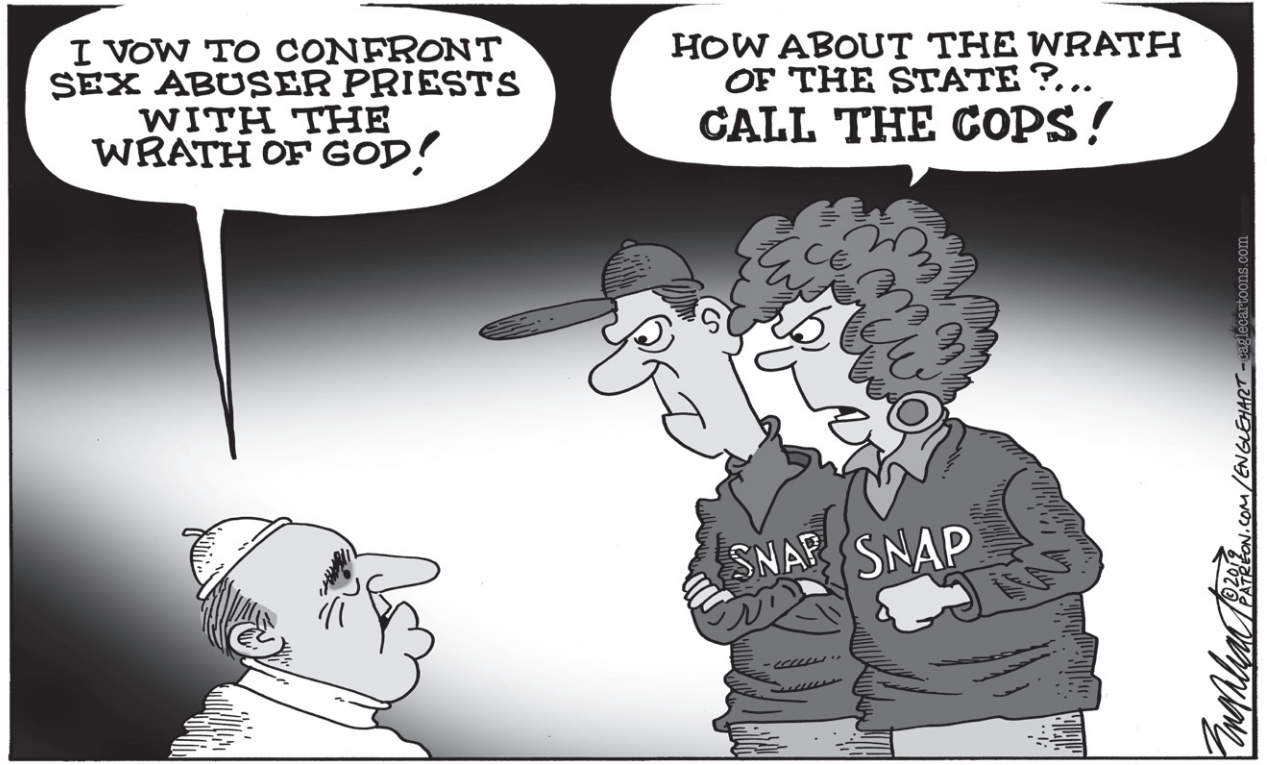

U.S. Rep. Stephanie Murphy's treacherous response gave us even less hope that she's fighting for the release of the FBI's findings.

The FBI's slow walk is emblematic of the vague and dissatisfying outcomes following the Pulse massacre.

Speaking of policy changes at the Orlando Police Department following the shootings, former Orlando Police Chief John Mina — now the Orange County sheriff — hazily answered, "We're always adjusting training based on incidents that happen and best practices that are done around the country."

Not very reassuring, considering the absence of details about what the department has learned or what it could do better in the future.

An editorial from the Orlando Sentinel.

HARRIS & CO

Dorothy Harris

Recently we had one of those ah-ha moments and asked ourselves, "Why don't we do this more often?" We had rediscovered a local attraction and laughed ourselves silly while marveling over local talent. It was the perfect post Valentine's Day night out and we promised each other to try and do this more often.

Mr. Harris had seen the ad for "Disenchanted" at Highlands Little Theatre and logistically minded, saw the opportunity to quickly solve a Lover's Day dilemma. "Hey, how about we go see a play? This looks like fun." Glancing over the ad, I Googled a description and agreed. "Looks like our kind of romance story," I chortled.

Tickets were easily bought online, a big plus as box office hours just never work for our schedules. A couple of clicks and $30 later, the date was done. The night was pretty darn hilarious. The storyline included Disney princesses, but was not a show for the young ones. The snarky humor had us laughing out loud.

That show ended last week, but the website has a list of all upcoming offerings to ensure those craving a break from the usual weekend routine will have something interesting to do.

There are so many local treasures right here at home. Sometimes they just slip our minds. Highlands Hammock State Park is another gem that often gets overlooked when people are tossing about what to do. Let me throw out a wild orange and tell you about a sweet addition just in case you missed it.

The Friends of Highlands Hammock are collaborating with Maxwell Groves in Avon Park to offer wild orange ice cream once again at the Hammock Inn.

If that's not worth a trip to the park, then I say you've never tried this dreamy, creamy treat. I'm still loosely doing the math, but I'm nearly sure if we bicycle to the park and back that the calorie count will be negligible. At least that's what I'm going with.

The park is also hosting nature walks on a handful of Saturday mornings and has a big geocaching event coming up. While that's definitely not my thing, spring migration is ongoing and this bird nerd is ready for a day in the woods.

The weather is feeling marvelous and sparked another memory as we entered the Highlands Little Theatre the other evening. When our daughter was younger, we'd pack a light dinner and picnic at one of the local public boat ramps. Something about sitting near the lake watching the sunset while quietly chatting has a way of evaporating stress with each wave lap.

Or we'd grab a cup of coffee and sit on a bench to just enjoy the evening. Simple, cheap, easy and readily available with nearly no travel required.

Another fun outdoor activity is the county off-road bicycle paths in the back of Sun N Lakes. Those challenging single-track, wooded trails aren't for road cycles, but there are also miles of paved roads devoid of traffic with long grades perfect for an easy, comfortable bicycle ride.

Highlands County offers a lot of outdoor recreational opportunities and a bunch of intriguing museums and galleries. Take time to reacquire yourself with all that our area has to offer and you just might be surprised.

"Flops" performance was anything but a flop

My husband and I, along with our out-of-state house guests, all had the pleasure of attending the musical performance of "Tops From Flops" presented Sunday at Temple Israel in Sebring. The three Divas — Riselle Bain, Marci Vitkus and Cherie Prince — had powerfully beautiful voices and were accompanied by a very talented pianist.

A history of the plays from which the songs originated added to the enjoyment of the show as did the facial expressions of the singers who were obviously used to performing.

A well deserved standing ovation said "Bravo" to all.

Marijuana vote not a good choice

Recently appearing in this newspaper, articles on how wonderful is medical marijuana, much superior to opium for cannabis does not cause a dependency, no harmful effects, a really wonderful drug. Then comes on email legal marijuana for everyone's use. How wonderful, is stated. Well friends, it is all lies. It is a gold mine for a few at your expense. Read this: "After an exhaustive review, the National Academy of Medicine found in 2017 that cannabis use is likely to increase the risk of developing schizophrenia and other psychoses; higher the use, the great the risk."

We voters have been duped. Who said only an educated public can prevent the destruction of these United States? The left is successful in dumbing down the electorate. Highly paid commentators, T.V. analysis all use eighth-grade grammar and pronunciation. Besides using copious amounts of eh's. Candidates appear who know nothing about economics and voters flock to them. They sound free. Not knowing that nothing is free. The bill has to be paid by someone.

In an article from Hillsdale's Imprimis, Alex Berenson, a Yale grad journalist, writes

— 65 percent of Americans had a drink in the last year. But the number of Americans who use cannabis heavily is soaring. In 2006, about 3 million Americans reported using cannabis at least 300 times a year, the standard for daily use. By 2017, that number had nearly tripled to eight to nine million. Soon we'll reach 12 million. Teenagers who smoke marijuana regularly are about three times as likely to develop schizophrenia, the most devastating psychotic disorder. Violence is its psychotic basis.

Voters, we have been shamed, brutally mangled, duped and supremely had. What will you do about it? Yes, I know nothing. Just who is high? Today's voter just cannot grasp truth and this assures us the loss of liberty.

U.S. Postal Service officials speak with the driver, seated, of USPS Mail Truck 9203426 on Wednesday afternoon, after a collision with a pedestrian. Initial reports from law enforcement on the scene were that the truck ran over the man, later identified as 59-year-old Juan Arocho Soto.

trooper on scene. USPS had officials on scene also conducting their own internal investigation.

Neither investigation is complete at this time.

The USPS Long Life Vehicle (LLV) was carrying several boxes of packages and mail pieces at the time.

USPS mail trucks are American-designed and produced light transport trucks. Models in use today were built between 1987-1994, making the youngest of them 25 years or older.

Eyeglasses, a wristwatch and a small handful of coins sit on the pavement Wednesday afternoon where the owner, 59-year-old Juan Arocho Soto, got hit by a mail truck on Self Avenue in Avon Park. The items were left behind after Highlands County Emergency Medical Services transported him to be airlifted to Lakeland Regional Medical Center.

will occur, as winds and other factors could make conditions less than desirable.

Fighting fire with fire has been a long tradition and is cost effective. The fire gets rid of a potential fire's "fuel" in the underbrush.

"Prescribed fire is very cost effective, reduces invasive woody vegetation, and helps to preserve rare and endemic plant and animal communities," van den Ende said. "In the event of a wildfire, heavy fuel loads make firefighting risky and much more difficult to protect community infrastructure such as water supplies and utilities, as well as nearby homes and businesses."

Highlands County Public Safety Director Marc Bashoor said spring is the ideal time to practice controlled burns because it is the start of the area's wet season.

"Starting in May, we have less thunderstorms and we are starting to get wetter," Bashoor said. "It helps with keeping the fire from spreading and fire containment."

Bashoor said there are several reasons to do a prescribed burn.

"In an agriculture setting like sugar cane, the owners burn the dead foliage and that makes harvesting easier. We use it as managed growth," he said. "Sometimes, where there is land that is not being developed, it can become very overgrown. It becomes a fire hazard."

"The Florida Forest Service will cut wide swaths of land and burn it with someone watching it," Bashoor said. "Once the overgrowth is gone, it can keep a small fire from becoming a huge one."

Bashoor said there have been two wildfires that he knows of in Highlands County since December. He reminds residents that any burn can get out of control quickly. Anyone who sets a fire and it spreads, could be responsible for the cost of the fire suppression.

Bashoor said 911 should be called if

Swim meet part of Heartland Senior Games

By NEIL SIMPSON

SPECIAL TO HIGHLANDS NEWS-SUN

The Highlands County Family YMCA was the site of Monday's Heartland Senior Games swim meet. Swimmers of all abilities took part, competing against the clock in up to six individual events in back stroke breast stroke, butterfly, freestyle and individual medley (IM).

Tom Stadler puts in an hour of laps at the Tanglewood pool most days, working on his strength and fitness, not concerned about speed. Geraldine Fabb does some of her swimming in the pool at the Bluffs of Sebring

Wrestlers advance to regionals

Avon Park, Lake Placid, Sebring grapplers strong at districts

By RUTH ANNE LAWSON
STAFF WRITER

The wrestlers from Avon Park, Lake Placid and Sebring competed in their respective district meets on Saturday.

The Sebring Blue Streaks competed in the Class 2A-District 10 meet and finished fourth with a team score of 67 points.

The Avon Park Red Devils and Lake Placid Placid Green Dragons competed in the Class 1A-District 9 meet in Lakeland. Avon Park was fourth with a score of 105 and Lake Placid finished sixth with 45.

The top four wrestlers from each weight class automatically advanced to regionals.

Sebring had six competitors place in the top four of their weight classes. Blue Streak Will Siver claimed first place at 160 pounds with a 17-4 victory in the title match. Sebring's Efrain Acosta placed second at 152. Acosta fell to Lucas Willis of Charlotte in the first-place match. Curtis Harris moves on at 132, Andru Boyd advances at 145, Jordan Barrett moves on at 170 and Philip Lieder advances at 195.

Avon Park had seven athletes place in the top three of their weight class. Elvis Rodriguez claimed first at 113 pounds by a fall at 1:45 against Gage Gately of Tenoroc. Javier Arango placed first at 285 by an 11-8 decision. David Rodriguez

Pagenaud's Acura ties run deep

Will drive for Penske Racing in 12 Hours of Sebring

By MARK PINSON
STAFF WRITER

DAYTONA BEACH — He may be a full-time IndyCar driver now, but there's no driver with more experience in various Acura prototype sports cars than Simon Pagenaud.

It's a fact that wasn't lost on him in testing last week at Sebring International Raceway as he and his Acura Team Penske teammates prepared for the Mobil 1 Twelve Hours of Sebring Presented by Advance Auto Parts.

"I've been fortunate," Pagenaud said. "I've seen every iteration of the Acura prototype since 2008. It's been a phenomenal time with them. I've got a great relationship with everybody and it really helps going forward on all the tuning."

IMSA PHOTO

Simon Pagenaud will be part of the drivers for Penske Racing in the 12 Hours of Sebring on March 16.

When Team Penske landed Acura's new IMSA WeatherTech SportsCar Championship Daytona Prototype international (DPi) program beginning with the 2018 season, Pagenaud was an obvious choice to join the team's lineup for endurance races, and he was tabbed to share the No. 6 Acura ARX-05 DPi machine with Juan Pablo Montoya and Dane Cameron.

It's a role he loves playing. "For me as a third driver, it's just jumping in and trying to get as many laps as possible and get up to speed and help my teammates be comfortable in the car," said Pagenaud.

Heading into the Mobil 1 Twelve Hours of Sebring on March 16, Pagenaud and the No. 6 team will be looking to build on a sixth-place class result in last month's Rolex 24 At Daytona. Hence the reason they were working so hard last week at Sebring. "We had the Daytona race and obviously a lot of miles under our belts," Pagenaud said. "It was interesting to know what we needed to do going forward for the season. The team is challenging for the championship this year.

"Here in Sebring, it's a very challenging race track. It's going to be a very challenging race. Acura has been very strong, but as a team and a manufacturer, we're trying to understand what could break, to fix all the reliability issues we could see, but also make the car handle the best way we can with the Acura engine and the chassis from the Team Penske car." We have a few weeks to wait and see what he, and his teammates, will do at the 67th running of the Sebring 12 Hours, but it is probably a good bet that No. 6 will be somewhere toward the front at the end of the race.

WRESTLE

The wrestlers will advance to the Class 1A and 2A regional meets on Friday and Saturday. If any of the local wrestlers make it out of regionals, they would head to the state finals at the Silver Spurs Arena in Kissimmee on March 7-9.

Games swim meets. For some, swimming is the only Heartland Senior Games event they enter. Several other swimmers have taken full advantage of the $30 multi-event registration fee. Judy Granger from Sun 'n Lake, a veteran of the Games, golfed and did the 5K and 10K cycling time trials. Tanglewood's Kathi Flyte ran the 5K. Earl Bosley, Murray Hale and Harold Smith all took in the cycling and track events. Mary Kloster competed in both the doubles and mixed doubles pickleball tournaments while Geraldine Fabb showed her varied interests by cycling and playing bridge. Audrey Smith enjoyed success on the track at Avon Park High School as well as in the pool at the YMCA. Don Crone was busy this month cycling, competing in the euchre tournament and playing in doubles pickleball. Tom Stadler rode the 5K time trial, was the tournament director for the Senior Games doubles and mixed doubles pickleball tournaments and played in both. Tim Hudy and Joe Oblon competed head-to-head in the 60-64 age group in the pool, on the track and at table tennis. As well, Hudy golfed and competed in horseshoes while Oblon played in both pickleball events. Outstanding performances were the rule, not the exception on Monday. However, two swimmers deserve special mention. Sebring's Walter Herbruck, competing in the 90 and over age group, earned the respect of his fellow competitors by turning in good times in all three of his races. John Brown, swimming in the 80 to 84 bracket won 5 gold medals. His times in the 100 breast (2:12.25), 200 breast (4:50.41) and 200 freestyle (4:04.03) were the fastest recorded by any swimmer of any age. In the 50 breast (56.78) and 100 free (1:48.06), he turned in the second fastest times of the day against all competitors. Leading the pack with six gold medals each: Judy Granger (65-69 age group) — 50, 100, 200 and 500 freestyle plus 50 and 100 back stroke. Geraldine Fabb (70-74) — 50 free, breast, back and butterfly plus 100 back and IM. Ted Riley (65-69) — 50, 100 and 200 back, 50 breast and 100 free and IM. Others who took home 6 medals: Tim Hudy

7 time-saving dinner shortcuts

Regardless of how you feel about cooking, nobody wants to be a slave to the kitchen. We are all so busy these days that we need as many shortcuts as we can possibly find for getting a good home-cooked meal on the table with the minimum amount of stress!

It's no good to find yourself at the end of a crazy day standing in front of the fridge praying for inspiration to hit as you try to figure out what to feed the hungry people in your house. (That's the danger zone where you're likely to pick up the phone and call for pizza, don't do it!)

Here are a few shortcuts to help you get your evening meal under control!

Crock and roll. Dust off the crockpot and put it to work. This ultimate shortcut appliance can save you a ton of time on dinner prep. Assemble your crock ingredients in the crock liner the night before and refrigerate the works overnight. Then, all you need to do in the morning is plunk it in and plug it in.

Marinate meat before freezing. How many times have you gone to make a recipe and realized that you have to marinate the meat for several hours first? When you're freezing your chicken, beef or pork, freeze it along with a marinade. That way, it will get good and tasty while it thaws, and you've saved a step. Oh, and that thaw? The new way to thaw is in a sink full of hot water — yup, it's safe.

Cook more than you need. If you are cooking a meal for two, you might as well cook for four. Cooking for four? Why not cook for eight? That way, you have a double dinner.

Parchment paper. If you don't already use parchment paper to line your pans before you bake or roast something in the oven, you're working too hard on clean up. This oven-safe paper will cut your scrubbing in half. Boom!

Chop the veggies beforehand. Wash and cut that broccoli and cauliflower after you get it home. Same goes for making pepper strips, slicing mushrooms and peeling Brussels sprouts. Do that work all at once (or even better, put the kids to work!). Place all those veggies in zipper bags and you have grab and go veggies that you can either snack on raw or quickly steam for a side dish. Keep carrot sticks and celery sticks in a bowl of water in the fridge (keeps them fresh!), and let the kids help themselves when they need a snack.

Jersey Mike's Subs comes to Sebring

By JERRY MEISENHEIMER
CORRESPONDENT

SEBRING — High energy is the best way to describe the latest eatery in Sebring. It's called Jersey Mike's Subs. From the second you walk inside, you can't help but to notice the enthusiasm of the owner, the staff, and the customers. It's all so exciting! And the food is even greater.

Jersey Mike's Subs recently opened its doors. You'll find it in front of the Sebring Lowe's Store. It doesn't matter that it's a little tricky to get to by going through the Lowe's parking lot. The line of customers inside and sometimes outside is already proof that this place is different from others that serve 'subs'.

That energy starts with the owner, Krissy Culbreth, and her husband, Bert. They brought with them their customer service-oriented work ethic from their other location in Okeechobee. Although Jersey Mike's was started in 1956 and has over 2,000 locations in the U.S., Canada, and Australia, it's a new name in Sebring. But it only took a few days in business, for people to realize what a treat it is to see their submarine sandwich being built from scratch right in front of them.

How to make your favorite foods healthier

By Metro Creative

After the whirlwind of the holiday season, the season of resolutions takes over. Many people to resolve to live healthier, and they may not have to give up their favorite foods to do so.

Research from the National Institutes of Health suggests American adults between the ages of 18 and 49 gain an average of one to two pounds every year. Grazing and overeating tends to increase when the weather cools down. A 2005 study published in the New England Journal of Medicine found that, in the fall, people tend to consume more calories, total fat and saturated fat. In the spring, people seem to prefer more carbohydrates. In addition, less powerful sunshine in winter coupled with people bundling up translates into less vitamin D being absorbed by the body. Some researchers believe there is a link between vitamin D deficiency and weight gain as well.

To ensure that certain foods do not sabotage healthy eating plans, people

Prepare delicious meals with frozen foods

By Metro Creative

Freezers are often unsung heroes of kitchens. Too often foods enter a freezer only to be forgotten before being exhumed from blocks of ice and discarded months later. But putting the freezer to better use can improve the way people eat and add to the flavor of the foods they enjoy.

Some people may turn up their noses at frozen foods, feeling that they lack the freshness of unfrozen foods. But that's not necessarily true. According to the food science department at the University of Florida, technology behind frozen food processing enables fast freezing times and prevents the formation of large ice crystals that can damage cells in fruits and vegetables. Food processors pick produce at the peak of ripeness and then the foods are quickly frozen, rendering them in a state of suspended animation. That means the food will not ripen further or rot like fresh food might if it's not consumed immediately.

Fresh produce that is shipped is often picked ahead of time to account for long shipping times and time spent in the produce section of grocery stores. Enzymes break down sugars and other compounds, destroying color, texture and nutrients.

Another advantage to frozen foods is the cost. Many items can be purchased for reasonable prices, often lower than fresh varieties, like frozen vegetables at around a dollar per bag/box. And because the frozen foods will remain fresh until they are used, shoppers don't risk waste from throwing out perishables unnecessarily.

When using frozen foods in recipes, follow package directions on whether to thaw or cook directly from the freezer. Also, when saving extras or leftovers, be sure to properly seal them in an airtight container to preserve freshness. Look for special freezer-safe bags and containers.

It's also possible for home cooks to create their own frozen food inventory from gardens and potted herbs, and by breaking down "club-sized" meat and poultry packs into portioned servings to use throughout the week. These items may have a slightly shorter freezer shelf life than professionally frozen foods because home cooks cannot achieve a flash-freeze like commercial manufacturers. When storing meat, the United States Dietary Association recommends that you store different types of meats in the freezer for no longer than these durations:

- Ground meat: 3 to 4 months
 - Pork chops: 4 to 6 months
 - Fish: 6 months
 - Beef, veal, and lamb steaks: 6 to 12 months
 - Poultry: 9 months
- Frozen foods can be healthy and convenient. Don't let their packaged nature fool you; frozen foods are healthy and delicious.

Classic Veal Parmesan Sandwiches

Prep time: 10 minutes

Cook time: 10 minutes

Serves: 6

- 6 veal cutlets (3 ounces each)
- salt, to taste
- ground black pepper, to taste
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 egg wash
- 1 cup breadcrumbs
- 1 cup vegetable oil
- 12 tablespoons tomato sauce
- 3 tablespoons Parmesan cheese, grated
- 6 slices provolone cheese
- 6 slices mozzarella cheese
- 6 sub rolls

Heat oven to 350 F.

Pound each veal cutlet between sheets of parchment or plastic wrap until 1/4-inch thick. Blot veal dry. Season each cutlet with salt and pepper, to taste. Dredge veal in flour; shake off excess. Dip in egg wash and dredge in breadcrumbs.

In large skillet over medium heat, heat about 1/8-inch oil to about 350 F. Working in batches, add breaded veal to hot oil and pan fry first side until golden brown and crisp, about 2 minutes. Turn once and pan fry second side until it reaches internal temperature of 160 F, about 1-2 minutes.

Drain on paper towels or wire rack set over baking sheet.

Add 2 tablespoons tomato sauce to each veal cutlet and sprinkle 1/2 tablespoon Parmesan cheese on top. Add one slice provolone and mozzarella cheese to each cutlet.

Place veal parmesan in oven 2-3 minutes, or until the cheese begins to melt and veal is hot.

Add veal to sub rolls and serve.

Veal, Spinach and Tomato Arepas

Prep time: 15 minutes

Cook time: 20 minutes

Serves: 4

- 1/2 pound veal cutlets
- 1 teaspoon cumin
- 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 1/2 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 green onions (1 ounce each), sliced
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 can (10 ounces) diced tomatoes and green chilies
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups packed baby spinach (about 2 1/2 ounces)
- 4 arepas (5 inches in diameter)

- 1/4 cup crumbled queso blanco cheese (1 ounce)

Pound veal cutlets into 1/4-1/8-inch thickness; cut into 1-inch strips. Place in bowl and toss with cumin and chili powder.

In 12-inch, nonstick skillet over medium heat, heat olive oil. Cook veal strips 1-2 minutes. Remove veal to plate; keep warm. In same skillet over medium heat, cook green onions and garlic 2-3 minutes. Add tomatoes and salt; over high heat, heat to boil. Reduce heat to low; simmer 5 minutes until slightly reduced.

Stir in spinach. Cook 3-4 minutes, or until spinach wilts and is tender. Return veal to skillet; heat through.

To serve, heat skillet or griddle over medium heat. Toast arepas on each side until lightly browned and heated through, turning once.

Cut each arepa in half horizontally. Top bottom half of each arepa with veal mixture. Sprinkle each with cheese; replace arepa tops.

Veal Za'atar Flatbreads

Prep time: 15 minutes

Cook time: 25 minutes

Serves: 4

- 1/4 cup za'atar seasoning
- 3 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil, divided
- 1 package (10 ounces) flatbreads
- 1 onion (4 ounces), finely chopped
- 1/2 pound ground veal
- 1/4 cup crumbled feta cheese
- 1 tomato (6 ounces), cored and chopped
- chopped parsley, for garnish

Heat oven to 425 F. In small bowl, combine za'atar seasoning and 2 tablespoons olive oil.

Spread about 1 tablespoon za'atar mixture on each flatbread. Arrange flatbreads on large baking sheet; set aside.

In 10-inch skillet over medium heat, heat remaining olive oil. Cook onion 4-5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add veal and cook 4-5 minutes until no longer pink, stirring to break up meat.

Remove skillet from heat; stir in feta cheese. Spoon 1/4 veal mixture onto each flatbread. Sprinkle each flatbread with tomato. Bake 8-10 minutes, or until hot. Sprinkle each flatbread with parsley.

Mediterranean Grilled Salad

Prep time: 20 minutes

Cook time: 10 minutes

Serves: 4

- 1 large orange (12 ounces)
- 1/2 cup Italian salad dressing
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1 veal cutlet (12 ounces), pounded to 1/4-1/8-inch thick
- 1 bulb fennel (7 ounces), trimmed, halved and cored
- 1/2 small red onion (1 1/2 ounces), thinly sliced
- 1 1/2 cups cooked farro
- 2 cups packed baby arugula (about 3 ounces)
- 1 head radichio (4 ounces), cored and torn (about 2 cups packed)
- 1/2 cup toasted hazelnuts, chopped
- 1 ounce Parmesan cheese

Grate 1/2 tablespoon zest from orange; reserve orange. Stir zest into salad dressing.

Use knife to remove skin and pith from orange. Use knife to cut between fruit and membrane to release each orange section. Squeeze membrane to extract 1/4 cup juice; reserve juice and orange sections.

In bowl, whisk reserved orange juice, mustard and salad dressing. Remove 1/4 cup dressing to re-sealable food storage bag. Add veal cutlets to dressing in bag. Re-seal bag and turn several times until veal is coated with dressing; set aside.

Prepare grill or heat grill pan over medium-high heat on stovetop. Remove veal cutlets from dressing; discard dressing. Grill veal cutlets 5-6 minutes, turning once. Remove cutlets from heat. Place on cutting board and cut into bite-size pieces.

Thinly slice fennel halves and place in bowl. Add red onion, farro, arugula and radichio; toss. Add veal, orange sections, reserved salad dressing and hazelnuts.

Draw blade of vegetable peeler across surface of cheese to make thin ribbons. Toss to coat with dressing. Divide salad among four bowls.

NOTICE OF INTENT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD OF HIGHLANDS COUNTY, FLORIDA TO CONSIDER THE DEVELOPMENT OF AMENDMENTS TO THE HIGHLANDS COUNTY SCHOOLS 2018-2019 STUDENT PROGRESSION PLAN AND NOTICE OF POTENTIAL PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE is hereby given that THE SCHOOL BOARD OF HIGHLANDS COUNTY is developing amendments to the HIGHLANDS COUNTY SCHOOLS 2018-2019 STUDENT PROGRESSION PLAN (hereinafter referred to as "Plan"). The School Board will discuss/approve future plans to amend the Plan at a regular meeting of the Board on April 9, 2019, at 5:30 p.m. in the Board Meeting Room, George Douglas Administration Building, 426 School Street, Sebring, Florida 33870. If requested by an affected person in writing within 21 days of the date of this notice, a development workshop will be noticed in a local newspaper. The request must be submitted to Dr. Brenda Longshore, Superintendent, at 426 School Street, Sebring, Florida 33870. The purpose and effect of the proposed amendments is to modify the Plan to update in accordance with annual review and implementation of statutory and district changes and other corrective measures as deemed necessary. The following areas of the Plan will be amended: Introduction: Added statutory language pursuant to Section 1008.25, Florida Statutes; added new subparagraph c. stating the requirement to include in the Plan the process parents may request that a student participation in whole-grade or mid-year promotion, or subject-matter acceleration resulting in a student attending a different school, pursuant to Section 1002.3105(4)(b)2., Florida Statutes; ELEMENTARY SCHOOL - 1. School Improvement and Accountability: Added statutory language pursuant to Section 1008.22, Florida Statute, with subsection 5, "Student achievement data" and the requirement to keep minutes and records to set forth clearly all actions and proceedings of district and school meetings; 2. Compulsory School Attendance (F.S. 1003.21): Added language pursuant to Section 1000.21, Florida Statutes, defining a "parent"; (a). Habitual Truant: Added statutory language 1003.26, 1003.27, regarding intervention services, efforts, resolutions and criminal prosecution of the parent for referred cases of non-enrollment to the appropriate child study team; 3. Home Education Program: Added additional language regarding requirements of parents to register a home school student to comply with state compulsory attendance laws and clarify that home education is not a public school district program; added: "participation in Bright Future Scholarship Programs"; and added registration requirements for participation of home school students in interscholastic extracurricular activities; 4. Virtual School Programs: revised to change reference to Section 1002.56, Florida Statute; 5. Entrance to Public School: revised School Board Policy number to SBHC 5112; 6. Schedule of Immunization Requirements: Parent Request for Reassignment to School Outside Attendance Zone: revised to add "Hope Scholarship" to options for parents in the Student Assignment, Enrollment and Choice Plan, in accordance with Section 1002.31, Florida Statute; 7. HAART Placement: change in the policy number, now Board Policy 2215.01; 8. Levels of Performance for Student Progression: Comprehensive Program for Student Progression: revised to remove last sentence "the final decision regarding the student's satisfactory performance level will be made by the principal"; 9. Remedial and Supplemental Instruction: revised to delete old Chapter 2.3 reference; 10. Requirements for Promotion to Grade 4: revised to updated Section 1008.25(6B), Florida Statutes; added additional language from Section 1008.25, Florida Statutes, regarding the mandatory retention requirements for good cause exemptions to remain consistent; 11. Successful Progression for Retained Third Grade Students: revised adding language from Section 1008.25, Florida Statutes, discussing the intensive interventions in specific reading deficiency to prepare student for promotion to next grade and what each school district shall provide to implement such promotions. SECONDARY TRANSITIONAL INFORMATION GRADES 6-12 - 1. Transfer of Credit for New Students: revised to add Section 1003.433, Florida Statutes. MIDDLE SCHOOL - 1. Program/Course Options: Accelerated Programs: revised policy to SBHC Policy 2215.01 and revised to match current statutory language, regarding participation in the school level science fair. HIGH SCHOOL - 1. Vocational Dual Enrollment: Other Programs/Course Options, deleted, as it was removed from statute; Career and Technical Education is addressed in other areas; 2. Internship, Externship, Community Service, Volunteer and Co-Operative Program - removed language and reference in regards to Sections 1003.43 and 1003.428, as it was removed from statute; 3. Florida Partnership for Minority and Underrepresented Student Achievement (1007.35) - Added statutory language regarding ACT and PreACT assessment data; 4. Grading: Credits - Added Section 1003.436, Florida Statutes, to clarify location of statutory language; 5. State Uniform Transfer of High School Credits Florida DOE Rule 6A-109941 (F.S. 1003.428(7)) - Algebra - revised to added revision of Florida Administrative Code, stating that ninth graders entering in 18/19 can not use the PERT to satisfy graduation requirements; 6. High School Grade Classification - revised to include language updated in Section 1002.4282, Florida Statute, stating that completion of an apprenticeship or a pre-apprenticeship program that earns credit may be used to satisfy the fine or performing arts requirement. SBE must identify and approve programs which can be used for substitutions; 7. Levels of Performance for Student Progression- removed reference of Section 1008.5(6)(a); 8. District Satisfactory Performance Levels - removed from all areas reference to "The final decision regarding a student's satisfactory performance level will be made by the principal"; 9. State Assessments and Impact on Graduation - revised to update statutory language and state published tables for passing scores; 10. Additional Information on Graduation Requirements - Physical Education - update statute language and reference and State published tables; 11. Online Course Credits- updated to reflect statutory language with the addition of the following: "If a course is taught using an e-book in a traditional classroom, it will not meet the online course graduation requirement. Section 1003.4282(4), Florida Statute, provides for two exceptions for the online requirement. The first is for students with disabilities whose IEP indicates that an online or blended learning course is inappropriate. The second exception is for students who transfer into a Florida Public high school who have one year or less left in high school"; 12. Appendix A - updated to reflect State published graduation charts. The specific legal authority includes Sections 120.54, 1001.41, 1001.42, Florida Statutes and the statutory provisions cited in the current version of the Plan. The School District believes that the proposed amendments to the 2018-2019 Student Progression Plan will have no effect on small business. The School District believes that the proposed changes will not result in substantial increase in costs or prices paid by consumers, individual industries or state or local government agencies, and will not result in significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation or international trade and/or alternative approaches to the regulatory objective either do not exist and/or are precluded by law. The cost to the School District of promulgating the proposed changes is estimated to be $200. The estimated annual cost of implementing and enforcing the proposed changes is $0. The text of the proposed changes can be obtained at the Superintendent's office (Attn. Marlene Welborn) George Douglas Administration Building, 426 School Street, Sebring, Florida 33870, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. NOTICE OF INTENDED AGENCY ACTION BY THE SOUTHWEST FLORIDA WATER MANAGEMENT DISTRICT

Notice is hereby provided that the Southwest Florida Water Management District determined that an Environmental Resource Permit would not be required for the project submitted by Katherine Burke form the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (620 North Meridian Street, Tallahassee, FL 32301) under File No. 771690. The proposed project is for the construction of roadway improvements to a firebreak in the Lake Whales Ridge Wildlife and Environmental Area. Project is located in Highlands County, Section 03, Township 34S, Range 29E. The District's proposed agency action shall become final unless a timely petition for an administrative hearing is filed. A request or petition for administrative hearing must comply with the requirements set forth in Chapter 28-106, F.A.C.A. A petition for administrative hearing is deemed filed upon receipt of the complete petition by the District Agency Clerk at the District's Tampa Service Office during normal business hours, which are 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding District holidays. Filings with the District Agency Clerk may be sent by mail or hand-delivery to 7601 US Hwy 301, Tampa, FL 33637-6759, or fax to (813) 367-9776.

METRO CREATIVE

Game watching means delicious snacks like soft pretzels.

Serve up homemade soft pretzels for the big games

By Metro Creative

Game watch parties for all sports have become increasingly popular in recent years. As home theater systems have evolved, watching the big games at home has, for many fans, become just as enjoyable as attending the game.

No game watch party is complete without food, and homemade foods can take such gatherings to the next level. This season, impress guests and fellow fans with this recipe for Soft Rye Pretzels courtesy of John Holl's "The American Craft Beer Cookbook" (Storey).

Soft Rye Pretzels Makes 12 pretzels
1 1/2 cups warm water
15 grams sugar
20 grams active dry yeast

420 grams bread flour
115 grams rye flour
85 grams barley flour
20 grams kosher salt
65 grams unsalted butter, melted

Vegetable oil, for oiling bowl
12 cups plus 1 tablespoon water
2/3 cup baking soda
1 egg yolk
Sea salt

1. Combine the water, sugar and yeast in a small bowl. Mix gently and let rest until the yeast begins to foam.

2. Combine the bread flour, rye flour, barley flour, and salt in the bowl of a stand mixer fitted with a dough hook. When the yeast mixture is foamy, slowly add it and the butter to the flour mixture with the mixer on slow speed, and mix until just combined, about 20 seconds. Turn off the mixer and let the dough rest for 20 minutes.

3. Mix the dough on slow speed for 1 minute, and then increase the speed to medium and mix for 2 minutes longer, or until the dough forms a ball and pulls cleanly away from the sides of the bowl.

4. Remove the dough from the bowl and knead it on a lightly floured work surface for 2 minutes. Put the dough into an oiled bowl, cover with a moist towel, and let rise in a warm place until doubled in size, 60 to 90 minutes.

5. Preheat the oven to 450 F. Portion the dough into 12 equal pieces. Roll each piece into a 20-inch-long rope of even diameter. Fold the rope into the pretzel knot shape and press the dough together firmly where it intersects at the twist and the ends.

6. Bring 12 cups water the baking soda to a boil in a large pot. Working in batches of 3 or 4, depending on the size of your pot, slowly lower each pretzel into the boiling water and cook for 30 to 45 seconds, pushing and resubmerging the pretzels with a slotted spoon as needed. Transfer the pretzels to a wire rack to dry.

7. When all the pretzels are boiled, arrange them on large baking sheets lined with parchment paper and bake for 6 minutes.

8. Meanwhile, whisk the 1 tablespoon water and the egg yolk together in a small ball. Remove the pretzels from the oven and brush with the egg wash. Sprinkle with salt and bake for 8 to 10 minutes longer, or until dark brown. Serve warm.

The pretzels will keep for about a day unwrapped, but not overnight. Wrapping in plastic will melt the salt and distort the crust.

JERRY MEISENHEIMER/CORRESPONDENT

Jersey Mike's Subs are new to Sebring but the story goes back to 1956.

The opening of Jersey Mike's Subs in Sebring has already added 23 jobs to the local economy. Krissy Culbreth said she hand picks her employees and pays them very good wages. That's why they're so friendly and happy. The goal is to know each customer by name.

Here's what makes Jersey Mike's Subs so good. Culbreth explains that they are 'not fast food — they're fast casual.' First, the staff comes in three hours before opening to slice the lettuce, tomatoes, and onions for the day. They also cook all the roast beef for their famous Philly cheese subs. The tuna and chicken salads are prepared onsite too, and don't come in a bag.

All the meat for the sandwiches is sliced in front of the customer, per order. There's no sodium in the turkey, plus none of their meats have antibiotics or hormones in them. None contain bi-products either.

Jersey Mike's Subs is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday, they close at 8 p.m. In addition to individual subs and take-out orders, catering is available. Enjoy your sandwich at a table inside or out on the umbrella-covered area out front. The phone number is 863-593-7404.

can employ some easy modifications and make healthier versions of the foods they like to eat.

Choose crunchy foods. Those who are prone to snacking can reach for noisy foods. These include crunchy items like apples, carrots and pretzels. Scientists say that when people listen to what they are chewing — called the "crunch effect" — they eat less of that item.

Tone down the cream. Delicious dishes like fettuccine alfredo typically are made with lots of butter and cream. Replace cream sauces with a healthier base made of low-fat milk thickened with flour. Increase the flavor with favorite spices.

Fry with care. Use healthy oils like olive or coconut sparingly. Many foods that are traditionally fried also can be lightly coated with cooking spray and baked for a crunchy texture.

Choose sodium-free seasonings. The USDA recommends limiting sodium to less than 1 teaspoon of salt per day. Try options like fresh herbs or lemon juice to add some sodium-free flavor.

Increase fiber content. Fiber helps one feel fuller longer and can also be helpful for digestion and heart health. Choose the "brown" varieties of rice, pasta and breads.

Replace meat with leaner forms of protein. Lean chicken, turkey and pork can replace red meats in many recipes. Some traditional meat dishes, such as burgers, also can be modified using vegetables or seafood. Lean meats dry out quickly, so keep foods moist by watching cooking times.

Stock up on yogurt. Greek and other varieties of yogurt can replace sour cream and mayonnaise in many dishes.

Resolving to eat healthier can be easy by making some simple swaps when preparing your favorite foods.

Walmart is getting rid of greeters, worrying the disabled

Workers who fill those jobs say they're being unfairly targeted

As Walmart moves to phase out its familiar blue-vested "greeters" at some 1,000 stores nationwide, disabled workers who fill many of those jobs say they're being ill-treated by a chain that styles itself as community-minded and inclusive.

Walmart told greeters around the country last week that their positions would be eliminated on April 26 in favor of an expanded, more physically demanding "customer host" role. To qualify, they will need to be able to lift 25-pound packages, climb ladders and stand for long periods.

That came as a heavy blow to greeters with cerebral palsy, spina bifida and other physical disabilities. For them, a job at Walmart has provided needed income, served as a source of pride and offered a connection to the community.

Now Walmart, America's largest private employer, is facing a backlash as customers rally around some of the chain's most highly visible employees.

Walmart says it is striving to place greeters in other jobs at the company, but workers with disabilities are worried.

Donny Fagnano, 56, who has worked at Walmart for more than 21 years, said he cried when a manager at the store in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, called him into the office last week and told him his job was going away.

"I like working," he said. "It's better than sitting at home."

Fagnano, who has spina bifida, said he was offered a severance package. He hopes to stay on at Walmart and clean bathrooms instead.

Border wall prototypes are demolished

The government on Wednesday began demolishing eight prototypes of Donald Trump's prized border wall that instantly became powerful symbols of his presidency when they were built nine months after he took office.

Administration says walls that cost $300,000 to $500,000 each have served their purpose

SAN DIEGO — The government is demolishing eight prototypes of Donald Trump's prized border wall that instantly became powerful symbols of his presidency when they were built nine months after he took office.

The Trump administration says elements of the prototypes have been melded into current border fence designs and they have served their purpose.

The four concrete and four steel panels, spaced closely together steps from an existing barrier separating San Diego and Tijuana, Mexico, were one of Trump's top priorities, and he visited the location a year ago to see the installations firsthand.

For Trump's allies, the towering models were a show of his commitment to border security and fulfilling a core campaign promise. For detractors, they were monuments to wasted taxpayer dollars and a misguided display of aggression toward Mexico and immigrants seeking a new home in the United States.

Less than two hours after crews began Wednesday, seven of the barriers were destroyed. A large hydraulic jackhammer attached to an excavator pounded the walls repeatedly as slabs fell into small clouds of dust. An owl flew out of a steel tube on top of one model just as the jackhammer started to knock it down. A panel made of steel poles was also dismantled.

Public access to the prototypes was blocked from the San Diego side, turning an impoverished Tijuana neighborhood into a popular spot for journalists, demonstrators and curious observers. Artists displayed light shows on the walls with messages such as "Refugees Welcome Here" next to an image

Arrests in Florida human trafficking investigation reach 60

By JULIUS WHIGHAM
THE PALM BEACH POST

STUART, Fla. — The number of men facing solicitation charges in Martin County as part of a human trafficking and prostitution crackdown reached 60 on Wednesday.

Martin County authorities said six more men had been arrested as part of the ongoing investigation that targeted at four day spas, two in Hobe Sound and two in Stuart. Authorities say 11 men turned themselves in Tuesday.

In announcing the first results of the multicounty, multiagency probe last week, Martin County Sheriff William Snyder said 100 men in all will face charges of soliciting prostitution as the result of monthslong investigation that involved multiple agencies.

In Palm Beach County, 25 men have been charged with similar offenses. The best known of them are Robert Kraft, the owner of the NFL's New England Patriots, and John Havens, the former chief operating officer for Citigroup. They were caught on video paying women for sex acts at Orchids of Asia Day Spa in Jupiter.

Jupiter police revealed their charges Friday.

A spokesman for Kraft, a part-time Palm Beach resident and a close friend of President Donald Trump, categorically denied "that Mr. Kraft engaged in any illegal activity." He was caught on video visiting the spa Jan. 19 and 20. The NFL has said it is "seeking a full understanding of the facts" before considering any disciplinary action.

Authorities allege women working in the day spas came to the United States from China for what they thought were legitimate jobs but were forced instead to perform sex acts on clients. They also say the women were largely confined to the spas, eating and sleeping there and often having to surrender their passports.

Those allegations have led authorities to say the spas engaged in human trafficking, defined as the soliciting, recruiting or harboring of another person to exploit him or her for labor, domestic servitude or sexual exploitation. Some have called it a form of modern-day slavery.

House approves bill to expand gun-sale background checks

By MATTHEW DALY
ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — The Democratic-controlled House on Wednesday approved a measure requiring federal background checks for all firearms sales and transfers, the first major gun control legislation considered by Congress in nearly 25 years.

Democrats called the 240-190 vote a major step to end the gun lobby's grip on Washington and begin to address an epidemic of gun violence that kills thousands of Americans every year, including 17 people shot and killed at a Florida high school last year.

The bill is the first of two the House is voting on this week as Democrats move to tighten gun laws following eight years of Republican control. The other bill would extend the review period for background checks from three to 10 days.

Both bills face dim prospects in the Republican-controlled Senate and veto threats from President Donald Trump, who said they would impose unreasonable requirements on gun owners.

Just eight Republicans joined 232

Democrats to support the bill, while only two Democrats voted against it.

The White House said in a veto message that the background-checks bill could block someone from borrowing a firearm for self-defense or allowing a neighbor to take care of a gun while traveling.

Democrats called those arguments misleading and said gun owners have a responsibility to ensure firearms are properly handled. The bill includes exceptions allowing temporary transfers to prevent imminent harm or for use at a target range.

The long-delayed bill would merely close loopholes to ensure that background checks are extended to private and online sales that often go undetected, Democrats said.

While Republicans mostly opposed the bill, the GOP scored a procedural victory when the House accepted a Republican amendment requiring that gun sellers notify Immigration and Customs Enforcement when an illegal immigrant tries to buy a gun. Twenty-six Democrats joined with Republicans to support the amendment, offered by Rep. Doug Collins, R-Ga.

Rep. Matt Gaetz under investigation by Florida Bar over Cohen tweet

By CHRIS CIOFFI
CQ-ROLL CALL

WASHINGTON — The Florida Bar has opened an investigation into a tweet sent by Florida Republican Rep. Matt Gaetz Tuesday that appeared to try to intimidate former President Donald Trump lawyer and fixer Michael Cohen the day before he was to testify against his old boss.

The Florida Bar confirmed to Roll Call Wednesday afternoon that it has begun investigating Gaetz's tweet. It would not release any additional information, citing confidentiality rules.

"Any time the words or actions of a Florida lawyer result in complaints, The Florida Bar will fully investigate those complaints through its established grievance process to determine if Bar rules have been violated," said Florida Bar spokeswoman Francine Walker.

Gaetz tweeted Tuesday: "Hey @MichaelCohen212 — Do your wife & father-in-law know about your girlfriends? Maybe tonight would be a good time for that chat. I wonder if she'll remain faithful when you're in prison. She's about to learn a lot ..."

He later deleted it and apologized following an admonishment by Speaker Nancy Pelosi.

MIAMI HERALD

MIAMI — Ida Shafir and Nick Bogomolsky were scheduled to board a Tuesday morning Delta Air Lines flight at Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport to New York when staffers told them they had to check their luggage because the plane was full.

The pair refused, the Broward Sheriff's Office said. Instead, they caused a disturbance and injured BSO deputies, according to their arrest reports.

Shafir, 67, was charged with battery on a law enforcement officer, resisting arrest with violence and trespassing. Bogomolsky, 61, was charged with robbery, resisting arrest with violence, trespassing after warning and obstructing police.

According to the reports, Shafir and Bogomolsky, who live in Brooklyn, were passengers on the 7:25 a.m. Delta Flight 891 to John F. Kennedy International Airport.

At 7:17 a.m., two Delta staffers were "in the process of boarding the airplane" when they told passengers they would have to check carry-on luggage at the gate because it was a full flight, a deputy wrote in the report.

"Ida got upset, and refused to check their luggage causing a delay in boarding the plane," a deputy wrote. "Ida was causing a commotion at the gate."

The pair was escorted to the jet bridge, BSO said, where the manager was called. The manager then told them if they didn't check their bags, they would not be allowed on the plane, according to the report.

Part of the problem, a deputy said in the report: Bogomolsky had three bags, more than allowed.

The manager told them they would not be allowed to board and needed to leave. They refused, BSO said.

Delta staffers then called BSO for help. The first deputy to arrive tried to "de-escalate the situation," but the pair continued to refuse to leave, according to the report. A second deputy arrived and "explained to Ida that she needed to leave or she was going to be placed under arrest," a deputy wrote in the report.

Shafir told the deputy to arrest her, BSO said. But when the officer tried to handcuff her, "Ida got out of control and resisted arrest by tensing, bracing and pulling her hands away from him," the deputy said.

Both of them fell to the ground, according to the report. Shafir then bit the deputy's left arm, causing it to bleed, BSO said.

Meanwhile, BSO said Bogomolsky pushed the other deputy out of the way and attempted to grab the firearm from the deputy on the ground. After a scuffle with Bogomolsky that ended with the other deputy on the ground as well, both were taken into custody.

Both deputies were taken to a hospital to be treated — one for the bite and the other for an injured knee.

Red tide was among 5 worst in Florida's history

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Experts say the red tide that plagued Florida's coastline for 15 months is one of the five worst toxic algae events in the state's recorded history.

State lawmakers from southwest Florida met with scientists on Tuesday at Mote Marine Laboratory in Sarasota.

The Herald-Tribune reports Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission Executive Director Eric Sutton told the lawmakers the red tide that began in November 2017 and appeared to clear this month was the fifth-longest in duration.

The longest was a 30-month red tide that began in 1994 and ended in 1997.

Sutton said more money was needed for research into ways to limit the impacts of red tide.

Some local lawmakers also are seeking new regulations to limit the flow of nutrients that feed algae blooms.

Small dog killed, owner injured in pit bull attack

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Authorities say two pit bull mixes attacked a Florida woman who was walking her own dogs, injuring the woman and killing one of her pets.

The Gainesville Sun reports that the attack happened Tuesday in a Gainesville neighborhood.

Police say the 59-year-old woman was walking her two small dogs when the other two dogs approached and tried to attack the smaller animals. The woman picked up her dogs to walk away, but the larger dogs jumped up and attacked her pets as she was holding them.

One of the small dogs died in the attack. The woman was hospitalized with bite wounds, a possibly broken arm and a partly severed ear.

Animal control officers took the attacking dogs and cited their owner. Officials say the dogs will be quarantined for 10 days and then euthanized.

Panhandle fishermen reel in great white shark

NAVARRE, Fla. (AP) — Fishermen in Florida's Panhandle made a rare catch: a 21-foot-long (3-meter-long) great white shark.

Thomas Thielman told reporters his fishing team took over an hour to reel in the 650-pound (295-kilogram) shark at the Navarre Beach Fishing Pier on Tuesday afternoon.

It's the first time a great white shark has been caught off the pier near Pensacola.

Thielman and his group tagged and released the animal back into the Gulf of Mexico.

In a video posted by the Pensacola News-Journal, men can be seen wading into shallow water to hold the fishing line and measure the shark from its nose to the tip of its tail.

Thielman said it's not unusual to see great whites in gulf waters, but it's rare to catch one.

Man pleads guilty to selling fentanyl in fatal overdose

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — A Florida man has pleaded guilty to selling fentanyl that caused a fatal overdose.

Court records show that 53-year-old Gregory Apicella pleaded guilty in Fort Myers federal court Tuesday to distributing fentanyl and to causing an overdose death. He faces a possible life sentence.

Prosecutors say Apicella sold fentanyl, an opioid pain medication, in January 2018 to a 21-year-old man who later died from an overdose. The Lee County Sheriff's Office conducted a controlled purchase of methamphetamine and fentanyl from Apicella the next day. Detectives say they recovered about nine grams of fentanyl from the home while executing a search warrant.

Police: Man brought fake pipe bomb into Miami restaurant

MIAMI (AP) — Authorities say a Miami man brought what appeared to be a pipe bomb into a fast food restaurant.

Miami-Dade Police Detective Argemis Colome said in a statement Wednesday that bomb technicians determined the device held no explosive material.

According to an arrest report, 47-year-old Luis Felipe Jaspe Jr. brought a metal pipe wrapped with black tape, a red cap and battery wires into the restaurant Tuesday.

A witness told investigators Jaspe also had a metal box with electrical wires attached to it.

Ex-Florida elections chief will be working on local voting

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — Florida's former top elections official, who resigned after pictures of him in blackface surfaced, will be working on elections at a local level.

The Orlando Sentinel reports Mike Ertel has been hired as a consultant to help the Seminole County supervisor of elections prepare for November votes in three central Florida cities.

Ertel was Florida's secretary of state for less than three weeks. He resigned Jan. 24 when photos of him in 2005 dressed in blackface as a Hurricane Katrina victim were made public.

Ertel was Seminole County's elections chief from 2005 through Jan. 8. He told the Sentinel he wouldn't run for public office again.

Teen falls through gym roof onto wrestling mat during match

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A teenager fell through a skylight at a Florida high school gym and crashed onto a wrestling mat, shocking spectators as wrestlers were competing.

News outlets report the 19-year-old was taken to a hospital with serious injuries after he fell about 40 feet (12 meters) through the ceiling window Friday evening. Alachua County Sheriff's Lt. Brett Rhodenizer says the teen was among a group of at least eight people who went to the roof during the match at Buchholz High in Gainesville.

County schools spokeswoman Jackie Johnson says several people were arrested on trespassing charges, including some students.

Rhodenizer says they were on the roof to retrieve a cellphone that someone had thrown near the skylight. Deputies didn't identify the man who fell.

Pakistan says 2 Indian warplanes downed, pilot captured

By ROSHAN MUGHAL
and AIJAZ HUSSAIN
ASSOCIATED PRESS

MUZAFARABAD, Pakistan — Pakistan's military said Wednesday it shot down two Indian warplanes in the disputed region of Kashmir and captured a pilot, answering an airstrike a day earlier by Indian fighter jets inside Pakistan and raising tensions between the nuclear-armed rivals to a level unseen in two decades.

Within hours Pakistan's Prime Minister Imran Khan went on television urging peace talks with Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi, saying both countries needed to step back from the brink and warning that "miscalculations" could drag their two countries into a war that neither side would benefit from. "Let's sit together to talk to find a solution," Khan said.

There was no reply from Modi, but India acknowledged one of its air force planes was "lost" in skirmishes with Pakistan and that its pilot was "missing in action." Pakistan's military later circulated a video of a man with a mustache who identified himself as the Indian pilot, sipping tea and responding to questions, mostly by saying, "You know I can't answer that." He appeared in good health as he was questioned about his hometown, his aircraft and his mission.

The downing of the Indian aircraft came on a chaotic day that also saw mortar shells fired by Indian troops from across the frontier dividing the two sectors of Kashmir kill six civilians and wound several others. A helicopter crash in the region also killed six Indian air force officials and a civilian on the ground.

Pakistan responded by shutting down its civilian airspace.

The Indian warplanes went down Wednesday morning in Kashmir, a mountainous region claimed by both India and Pakistan since almost immediately after their creation in 1947. One of the downed planes crashed in Pakistan's part of Kashmir while the other went down in an Indian-controlled section of the Himalayan region, Pakistan's army spokesman Maj. Gen. Asif Ghafoor said.

Workers dig to free dozens in Indonesia mine rubble

BOLAANG MONGONDOW, Indonesia (AP) — A grueling search and rescue effort has saved 19 people from the debris of a collapsed illegal gold mine in Indonesia's North Sulawesi province but officials said Wednesday that several dozen remain trapped.

The national disaster agency said four people are confirmed dead and an estimated 37 are still buried beneath soil and rocks in an area that is difficult to access because of its remoteness and steep terrain.

"The land contour is worrying with an 80 degree slope, so it's pretty steep, and we don't want any unwanted things to happen," said local police chief Gani Fernando Siahaan. "We will continue the rescue process until night as long as weather permits."

Emergency personnel used their bare hands and farm tools to search for the victims. Video showed rescuers struggling to bring out a body bag in nearly vertical terrain.

Makeshift wooden structures in the mine in Bolaang Mongondow district collapsed on Tuesday evening due to shifting soil and the large number of mining holes, burying people in the mine pit.

Rescuers evacuate a survivor from inside of a collapsed gold mine in Bolaang Mongondow, North Sulawesi, Indonesia.

"Unstable soil conditions make us extra careful lifting rocks because it can lead to new landslides," local disaster official Abdul Muin Papatungan said. Rescuers heard voices crying for help from beneath the debris, he said.

The disaster agency said at least 140 people from different agencies are involved in the rescue effort. It said there is an urgent need for body bags.

After 2 collisions and 17 deaths at sea, Congress pushing Navy on reforms

By Hugh Lessig

DAILY PRESS (NEWPORT NEWS, VA.)

Problems identified after a pair of at-sea accidents killed 17 sailors in 2017 still persist across the Navy, and those at the top must do more to address them, key lawmakers said Tuesday.

Rep. Rob Wittman, R-Va., said the challenges go beyond specific causes and “will take years of leadership focus and sustained funding to correct.”

He also chided the service for classifying information “to hide the true depth of readiness challenges that plague the Navy today.”

“It is most apparent to me that if the appropriate reforms are not implemented, these problems — and these deaths — will continue,” he told two top Navy leaders.

The hearing marked the first time the new Congress has explored the tough questions raised after the accidents related to lack of maintenance, training and manning levels.

It comes on the heels of investigations by Navy Times and Pro Publica that shed more light on the accident involving the destroyer USS Fitzgerald, which hit home in Virginia and Hampton Roads.

The Fitzgerald struck a commercial ship off the waters of Japan in June 2017, killing seven U.S. sailors. Among the dead were Chief Petty Officer Gary L. Rehm Jr., an Ohio native who lived in Hampton, and Dakota Rigsby, a 19-year-old sailor from Fluvanna County, Va.

In August, the destroyer USS John S. McCain collided with an oil tanker in coastal waters off Singapore, killing 10 sailors.

The accidents sparked two large-scale Navy reviews. The Government Accountability Office also weighed in with an audit. Among the findings: some sailors were working 100-hour weeks and hadn't developed skills in basic seamanship and navigation, essential to operating in busy waters.

Lack of maintenance was also flagged, as ships stationed overseas were on a constant cycle of deployment.

The service has begun to reform crew policies, training standards and maintenance, but Rep. Elaine Luria, D-Va., questioned the leaders' sense of urgency.

“Say you had a plane crash,” she said. “You had 17 people die in this plane crash, and you did an investigation and found out that the pilot didn't know how to fly his plane. And then we did another report and we found out that most of our pilots didn't know how to fly planes. Do you feel that we're really putting that same sense of urgency into the corrective actions in our surface force?”

Adm. John C. Aquilino, who leads the Pacific Fleet, said while the aircraft may not directly compare to ships, her “point is absolutely valid.”

Rep. John Garamendi, D-Calif., who chairs the readiness panel, ticked off a list of concerns. He worried that the Navy remains more focused on shipbuilding than manning and maintenance, and it lacks transparency about the combined effect of low morale, technical problems and a “brutal operational tempo.”

The Navy Times uncovered a report that contained information not previously made public, including mistrust among officers, malfunctioning radars and sailors who didn't know how to operate them.

Also testifying Tuesday was Adm. Christopher W. Grady, commander of Norfolk, Va.-based Fleet Forces Command.

Grady said fleet commanders are approaching the myriad of challenges “with the strongest sense of urgency.”

One challenge revolves around the lack of sailors. Grady said the Navy currently has 6,200 at-sea positions that are unfilled, although those positions have been funded and the Navy “will be flowing them into the fleet over time.”

Grady and Acquilino said they have held back ships from deploying rather than risk sending out crews.

“We do not ask a ship nor direct a ship to go on mission if they are not certified to do the job,” Grady said, adding that “there have been several occasions where I have said, ‘That ship's not ready. We'll need more time.’”

Aquilino said he has “terminated two deployments for units that were not assessed to have the appropriate level of training to deploy and execute their missions.”

President Donald Trump meets North Korean leader Kim Jong Un, Wednesday, in Hanoi, as interpreters look on.

Interpreters are the only others privy to their conversation

By DEB RIECHMANN and FOSTER KLUG

ASSOCIATED PRESS

HANOI, Vietnam —

Only four other ears on the planet heard what President Donald Trump and North Korean leader Kim Jong Un said to each other Wednesday during a one-on-one chat that began their second nuclear summit.

The two leaders' interpreters were the only others privy to their conversation, raising concerns about why Trump would risk meeting Kim, who has threatened the U.S. with nuclear strikes and has a dismal human rights record, without staff to take notes.

Absent a detailed historical record and corroborating witnesses, the leaders could potentially leave a meeting and misrepresent what transpired, prompting a kind of he said-he said showdown of words.

More one-on-one talks between Trump and Kim are scheduled for Thursday, when the two leaders dig into the meat of their nuclear talks.

Trump has had private confabs with world leaders before that have raised red flags.

Early in his presidency, he met Russian President Vladimir Putin in Germany with only a Kremlin interpreter present. Last year, after Trump spent more than two hours talking with Putin in Helsinki, Finland, Democrats tried to subpoena Trump's translator to testify in Congress about what was said.

Republicans blocked it. The White House has never provided information on what Putin and Trump talked about. Even Trump's director of national intelligence, Dan Coats, said he didn't know.

“It is utterly amazing, utterly amazing, that no one knows what was said,” Senate Democratic leader

Chuck Schumer said at the time.

Trump's translator in Wednesday's private chat was Yun-hyang Lee, the U.S. State Department's division chief for interpreting services, who also translated for the president at his first meeting with Kim last year in Singapore. The White House identified Kim's translator as Sin Hye Yong.

Some experts on past U.S.-North Korean diplomatic efforts worry the private sit-downs give Kim an opportunity to win concessions from Trump that working-level officials would have advised him not to offer.

Last year, at the Singapore summit, Trump caught U.S. ally South Korea off guard by announcing the suspension of major U.S. military exercises with the South. Trump critics said he squandered critical U.S. leverage before the North took any concrete steps toward denuclearization.

It was widely presumed that Trump made the decision during his private talks with Kim — his description of the war games as “very provocative” seemed to be in line with North Korea's view of the drills as rehearsals for invasions. Both Washington and Seoul have insisted for years that the exercises were routine and defensive in nature.

Former President Barack Obama was known to occasionally hold impromptu chats with leaders on the sidelines of major global summits with only their interpreters at their sides.

At former President Ronald Reagan's first meeting with then-Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev in Geneva, Switzerland, in November 1985, the two men met alone with only trusted interpreters. Only 15 minutes had been allotted for the discussion, but it went on for an hour.

Political operative arrested in North Carolina scandal

Man working on behalf of GOP candidate accused of directing workers to collect and mail in other people's absentee ballots

By EMERY P. DALESIO and JONATHAN DREW

ASSOCIATED PRESS

RALEIGH, N.C. — The political operative at the center of an election fraud scandal that has engulfed a North Carolina congressional race was arrested Wednesday on charges of illegal ballot handling and conspiracy. Four people working for him were also charged.

Leslie McCrae Dowless Jr., 63, was accused of directing workers to collect and mail in other people's absentee ballots during the 2018 Republican congressional primary and the 2016 general election. It is against the law in North Carolina for anyone other than the voter or a close relative to handle a mail-in ballot, a measure aimed at guarding against manipulation.

Prosecutors are still investigating evidence of ballot tampering by Dowless and others working on behalf of GOP candidate Mark Harris during last fall's congressional election in the mostly rural 9th District, which includes part of Charlotte and extends eastward across several counties.

The indictment represents the first charges in a scandal that has cast doubt on election integrity and will leave a congressional seat unfilled for months.

“These indictments should serve as a stern warning to anyone trying to defraud elections in North Carolina,” state elections director Kim Westbrook Strach said.

Dowless was arrested less than a week after the state elections board decided that his work for Harris, starting with the primary, tainted the Republican's apparent victory in November.

The board ordered a new election but hasn't set a date.

Harris is not running in the do-over election; his Democratic opponent from November, Dan McCready, is.

Harris has not been charged and has denied knowledge of any illegal practices by those involved in his campaign. But he, too, could come under scrutiny. During last week's board hearing, he admitted writing personal checks to Dowless in 2017, a potential violation if the payments weren't reported.

2 arrested in buffet brawl over crab legs

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Alabama police say a dispute over crab legs at a dinner buffet ended in a brawl that left two people facing misdemeanor charges.

Huntsville police officer Gerald Johnson says he was eating at the Meteor Buffet restaurant when a fight broke out.

Johnson tells WHNT-TV that diners were using service tongs like fencing swords and plates were shattering, and a woman was beating a man. Johnson says diners had been waiting in line for crab legs for more than 10 minutes, and they lost their tempers once the food came out.

The station reports Chequita Jenkins is charged with assaulting John Chapman, who suffered a cut on his head. Chapman is charged with disorderly conduct.

Nearly 86 tons of Boston Market frozen meals have been recalled because they could contain fragments of glass or hard plastic.

The fast-food chain's boneless pork rib patties can be found in Boston Market Home Style Meals which are labeled as Boneless Pork Rib Shaped Patty with BBQ Sauce & Mashed Potatoes.

The USDA was notified on Friday following “consumer complaints of glass or hard plastic extraneous material in the rib shaped patty.” While thankfully, the USDA says, no one seems to have been hurt as a result of consumption thus far, though they warn, “Anyone concerned about an injury or illness should contact a healthcare provider.”

Man charged with cheating investors in cryptocurrency scam

BOSTON (AP) — The founder of a purported cryptocurrency company has been charged with cheating investors out of millions of dollars by selling fake virtual money he falsely claimed was backed by gold.

Federal prosecutors in Massachusetts say My Big Coin Pay Inc. founder Randall Crater of East Hampton, New York was arrested Wednesday and charged with wire fraud and money laundering.

Prosecutors say Crater and his associates fooled investors into believing that “My Big Coins” or “Coins” could be exchanged for government-backed paper currency when they actually had little to no actual value.

Songwriters group sues bars over unlicensed music

BALTIMORE (AP) — Songwriters and music publishers are suing bars around the country, saying they infringed on musical copyrights.

The Baltimore Sun reports the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers sued Baltimore sports bar Carlos O' Charlies on Monday in federal court. ASCAP represents more than 690,000 songwriters, composers and music publishers and licenses establishments to play the 11.5 million songs in its repertoire.

ASCAP also is suing a dozen establishments in Chicago, New Orleans, San Francisco, Florida, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Texas. Spokesman Jackson Wagener says they spent up to five years reaching out, and is suing the businesses that refused to obtain licenses.

Fox hit with $179 million judgment on 'Bones' case

(Los Angeles Times) — In a ruling that could have widespread repercussions in the TV industry, Fox has been hit with a $178.7 million judgment in its profit participation dispute with the team behind the hit series “Bones.”

The ruling, which was decided in arbitration, excoriated senior Fox executives and criticized the studio and network for its conduct.

The award is among the largest of its kind and is the latest case to spotlight disputes over the accounting practices of major studios and whether they shortchange talent. The biggest award came in 2011 when a jury ordered Disney to pay $319 million in a profit participation case over “Who Wants to Be a Millionaire.”

Arbitrator Peter Lichtman wrote in his decision that Fox engaged in “reprehensible conduct” and that top executives including 21st Century Fox President Peter Rice, Fox TV CEO Dana Walden and Fox TV Chairman Gary Newman gave unconvincing testimony.

21st Century Fox said Wednesday it was seeking to void the punitive damages of $128.5 million, arguing that the arbitrator exceeded his powers. But the studio said it wasn't contesting the actual damages of $50.2 million.

The dispute pitted the show's stars and producers against Fox, which aired the series from 2005 to 2017.

At the heart of the dispute was whether Fox engaged in so-called “self-dealing” — hiding profits from the show to avoid compensating key talent and producers.

AMC's “The Walking Dead” is currently inching toward a trial over its profit dispute with creator Frank Darabont.

Worries that China trade talks are stalling weigh on stocks

(AP) — Major U.S. stock indexes closed mostly lower Wednesday after wavering for much of the day between small gains and losses.

The downbeat finish extended the market's mild losses from a day earlier. Even so, the benchmark S&P 500 index is on track to end the month with a gain of more than 3 percent, extending the market's rebound over the last two months after a steep slide late last year.

“The market has quickly recovered back to the three prior tops that it had within the downturn,” said Tom Martin, senior portfolio manager with Globalt Investments.

Health care, communications and technology companies took the heaviest losses Wednesday, while financial, industrial and energy stocks notched gains.

The market had veered lower early in the day after comments from a key U.S. trade negotiator stoked doubt over how much progress was being made on resolving the trade war between the U.S. and China.

The news overshadowed a mix of corporate earnings reports. Weight Watchers plunged to its lowest point in nearly two years after issuing a dismal forecast. Best Buy surged on surprisingly good holiday sales.

All told, the S&P 500 index dropped 1.52 points, or 0.1 percent, to 2,792.38. The Dow Jones Industrial Average gave up 72.82 points, or 0.3 percent, to 25,985.16. The Nasdaq composite gained 5.21 points, or 0.1 percent, to 7,554.51.

Placebo effect may explain success of some supplements

DEAR DR. ROACH: Are there any recognized benefits from taking either saw palmetto or glucosamine/chondroitin, both of which I have been taking — and paying for — for years. — P.F.

ANSWER: Saw palmetto has been used widely to treat prostate symptoms in men, but the data supporting its use are conflicting. A 2012 review of 32 randomized trials found no benefit in saw palmetto over placebo in urinary symptom scores, prostate size or urinary flow rates.

Glucosamine sulfate and chondroitin often are used together for the treatment of osteoarthritis. The data also are conflicting in the case of osteoarthritis. Some studies show greater improvement in symptoms for those taking glucosamine sulfate and chondroitin than in those taking a placebo, while others show equivalent results for both groups. However, in a large trial, 60 percent of participants experienced at least a 20 percent pain reduction whether they took placebo, glucosamine, chondroitin or both, which just shows how powerful the placebo effect can be.

Since the adverse reactions to glucosamine sulfate and chondroitin are negligible, it is certainly reasonable to give it a try. If it helps reduce pain, it doesn't really matter whether it's a "real" effect or placebo.

The important thing is that it helps. Saw palmetto has rates of adverse reactions that are similar to placebo, so if it seems to help, and most importantly, if the improvement is worth the cost, you can continue.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am a 69-year-old man in reasonably good health. I don't take antibiotics very often, but when I do I am restricted to a small variety of drugs because of penicillin and sulfa intolerances.

As a child I was given penicillin and suffered convulsions and hives. Currently, anything with a penicillin or sulfa derivative gives me the hives. Any alternative suggestions? — M.P.

ANSWER: The first answer is not to use antibiotics at all if you can help it. Often physicians prescribe antibiotics unnecessarily because we feel pressured by patients. I must admit that's not a good excuse.

We shouldn't prescribe them unless there is a clear indication for their use. "Bronchitis," most ear infections and most sinus infections are not good reasons to prescribe antibiotics.

However, if tell your doctor that you want to avoid antibiotics, it's a lot less likely you will be prescribed them.

As for alternatives, there are many other classes of antibiotics. Cephalosporins, although related to penicillins, can usually be used in people with a history of hives to penicillin, but not in people with a very severe reaction, like anaphylaxis. Erythromycin-like drugs are an option.

Tetracyclines are useful and often forgotten about. Ciprofloxacin and drugs like it have increasingly recognized problems but can be used when there are no other good options.

There are a few others that are seldom used and then only for particular indications. The less you take antibiotics, the more likely it is they will work when you do need them, and the less likely you will have a side effect.

Father weaponizes his son in breakup with mother

DEAR ABBY: My daughter has two boys who treat her like crap. They swear, call her a b——, whore, liar and the f-word. They break things in her house and have no respect for anyone.

The problem started after she broke up with their biological father and married her new boyfriend. The father brainwashes the boys to do these things to make life a living hell with her new husband.

What I cannot understand is why my daughter goes out of her way to please these two ungrateful kids and still cannot see how they are destroying her present household. What can she do to solve the problem? — Angry In The West

DEAR ANGRY: The first thing your daughter will have to do to solve her problem is acknowledge that there is one, and SHE may be part of it. Then, she will have to quit trying to ingratiate herself with the boys and act more like a parent than a doormat, which means she will have to institute consequences when her sons misbehave and treat her disrespectfully. Unless she is prepared to do that, nothing will change.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a physician with a heavy call schedule. For years I have struggled with how to RSVP to invitations to cocktail parties and/or dinner. Many times I can go and would like to attend, but I can't be sure my husband will be able to be there. Many times I decline for us both because I worry that it might be awkward for the host/hostess if I accept for myself, but say I'm "not sure" for my husband. How would you handle this? — Really Wants To Go In Kansas

DEAR REALLY: If I wanted to attend the gathering, I would call my hosts and explain that I would love to come but couldn't guarantee my husband would be able to because of his practice. Then I would add that he might drop by later. Gracious hosts will welcome you.

Cleaning the tub and mat

Dear Heloise: My wife wanted to wash some SMELLY DOORMATS in our washer with a steel tub that, over the years, had become dingy.

She washed the mats and put vinegar in the washer to soak. To our surprise, the inside of the washing machine is shiny, thanks to vinegar. — Bud M., via email

The acid in the vinegar and the scrubbing action of the doormats worked together to "polish" and clean the tub of your washer!

The bidding:

NORTH	EAST	SOUTH	WEST
1♠	Pass	2♥	Pass
2♠	Pass	3NT	All pass

Opening lead: Three of ♦

Plenty of points for game, but with no good fit, three no trump is often a struggle. Should the clubs behave, a successful finesse in either major will provide nine tricks.

The opening diamond lead went to the 10, jack and king. Intending to take the spade finesse, South led his spade toward dummy, but he went up with the ace when West discarded a club. A heart to the queen lost to the king, and West continued with the ace and another diamond. South won with his queen as East pitched a spade. Declarer cashed his ace of hearts, and when East followed with the jack, after playing the 10 on the first heart, it looked like East started with 6-2-2-3 distribution. South cashed the king and queen of clubs, and then led a low club to dummy's ace. This was the position:

NORTH		EAST
♠ Q 10 9 8		♠ K J 6 5
♥ Void		♥ Void
♦ Void		♦ Void
♣ Void		♣ Void
WEST		SOUTH
♠ Void		♠ Void
♥ 9 6 4		♥ 7 5 2
♦ 4		♦ Void
♣ Void		♣ 4

South had cut himself off from the long club, but the spade suit would produce two more winners to get his total up to nine. Well done!

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21-April 19). To need attention isn't a weakness. Though when you admit this need, even to yourself, it may feel like weakness if you've been conditioned to think so. Recognize this for the brainwashing it is.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You're afraid you may lack the self-discipline to move forward on a path that clearly goes to your desired destination. But go forward anyway. Even if it doesn't work this time, you'll get a better feel for exactly what's needed.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). The desire to be controlled and the desire to be controlling are two sides of the same fear. It's distrust in one's own abilities and in the workings of life. Bravery is the salt that melts this cold fear. Take courage.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). There are things you want so much you're willing to go to great lengths to make them happen. Why apologize? You're not hurting anyone. And you certainly shouldn't be sorry for not conforming. Nonconformity is your duty.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Your creative projects often get put on hold because they don't fit other people's idea of "work." You can't expect everyone to understand what you understand. Defend your own interests. If not you, who?

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). These days, quality help is considered a luxury because so many people do not understand the nuances of excellent service. Those who teach others how to treat them will live in luxury without paying big bucks for it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). This is a rare phenomenon and definitely shouldn't be attempted on most days, but believe it or not, there's going to be a way to please everyone today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Are you being assertive enough? If they're responding at all, then the answer's yes. If they're not, your approach may be too timid. If they are responding but not the way you want them to, more research is in order.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). It's said that what you seek is seeking you. If that's true, then what you need is a meeting point, and an open line of communication to establish and agree on it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Greatness doesn't happen overnight — almost nothing does. "Overnight" is just a term people use when they're working so hard on something that they hardly notice the passage of time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). While you don't want to put undue pressure on yourself, some amount of pressure is warranted — a reminder, at the very least. A lack of urgency can lead to laziness.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Minor wins are wins. Small steps are steps. Pennies add up, and so do incremental successes. You're going to accomplish big things by starting small and building consistently and gradually.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Feb. 28). Stay aware of what keeps you wondering. Curiosity is your main compass. It will lead you to where you can blossom your secret talents and formulate the new wishes that will help you fulfill your destiny. Also, if ever there were a year to keep a diary, this is it. Writing will embolden you, give you clarity and open worlds. Aries and Scorpio adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 40, 21, 5 and 16.

Cohen threatened Trump's schools not to share grades, scores

‘... directed me to threaten his high school, his colleges and the College Board to never release his grades or SAT scores’

By COLLIN BINKLEY
AP EDUCATION WRITER

Leading up to the 2016 presidential election, Donald Trump directed his personal attorney at the time to threaten legal action against the colleges and high school he attended if they publicly released his grades or standardized test scores, the attorney, Michael Cohen, told Congress on Wednesday.

Cohen revealed details about the threats among a list of other actions he took on behalf of Trump in testimony before the House Oversight Committee. Cohen and Trump parted ways last year after Cohen implicated

Trump in federal campaign finance violations. “When I say conman, I’m talking about a man who declares himself brilliant but directed me to threaten his high school, his colleges and the College Board to never release his grades or SAT scores,” he said.

In support of his testimony, Cohen provided a May 2015 letter he penned to the president of Fordham University, the New York school Trump attended for two years in the 1960s before transferring to the University of Pennsylvania.

The letter warns that media outlets had requested Trump’s records but were denied by his legal team. Cohen reminded the school that Trump’s student records were protected by federal law, and he threatened to hold the school liable “to the fullest extent of the law” if the university released them.

Cohen emphasized that violating Trump’s confidentiality could result in “both criminal and civil liability and damages including, among other things, substantial fines, penalties and even the potential loss of government aid and other funding. This criminality will lead to jail time.”

Trump’s grades and test scores have never been made public, and they are protected under federal student privacy laws.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Feb. 28, the 59th day of 2019. There are 306 days left in the year.

Today in history

On Feb. 28, 1942, the heavy cruiser USS Houston and the Australian light cruiser HMAS Perth were attacked by Japanese forces during the World War II Battle of Sunda Strait; both were sunk shortly after midnight on March 1 with a total loss of more than 1,000 men.

On this date

In 1844, a 12-inch gun aboard the USS Princeton exploded as the ship was sailing on the Potomac River, killing Secretary of State Abel P. Upshur, Navy Secretary Thomas W. Gilmer and several others.

In 1849, the California gold rush began in earnest as regular steamship service started bringing gold-seekers to San Francisco.

In 1911, President William Howard Taft nominated William H. Lewis to be the first black Assistant Attorney General of the United States.

In 1953, scientists James D. Watson and Francis H.C. Crick announced they had discovered the double-helix structure of DNA.

In 1993, a gun battle erupted at a religious compound near Waco, Texas, when Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agents tried to arrest Branch Davidian leader David Koresh on weapons charges; four agents and six Davidians were killed as a 51-day standoff began.

In 1996, Britain's Princess Diana agreed to divorce Prince Charles. (Their 15-year marriage officially ended in August 1996; Diana died in a car crash in Paris a year after that.)

In 2013, Benedict XVI became the first pope in 600 years to resign, ending an eight-year pontificate. (Benedict was succeeded the following month by Pope Francis.) Bradley Manning, the Army private arrested in the biggest leak of classified information in U.S. history, pleaded guilty at Fort Meade, Maryland, to 10 charges involving illegal possession or distribution of classified material. (Manning, who later adopted the female identity Chelsea Manning, was sentenced to up to 35 years in prison after being convicted of additional charges in a court-martial, but had her sentence commuted in 2017 by President Barack Obama.)

Ten years ago: Paul Harvey, the news commentator and talk-radio pioneer whose staccato style made him one of the nation's most familiar voices, died in Phoenix at age 90.

Man who bought $540 of Girl Scouts cookies is arrested

He bought more than 120 boxes to help scouts escape the cold; now arrested on drug charges

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — A South Carolina man who bought more than 120 boxes of Girl Scouts cookies to help the scouts escape the cold has been arrested on drug charges.

News outlets report the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency says 46-year-old Detric Lee McGowan was arrested Tuesday on charges including conspiracy to distribute fenentanyl and cocaine. The agency says McGowan is the same man who appeared in a photo that garnered thousands of views and shares online.

Mother Kayla Dillard had shared the photo on Facebook, saying the man paid $540 in cash for all the girls’ cookies so they could escape the cold outside a store near Greenville, South Carolina. She said she didn’t get the man’s name.

An indictment issued last week says McGowan, also known as “Fat,” is one of several suspects in an ongoing drug investigation. It says he and 10 other people conspired to import drugs from Mexico in late 2018. The U.S. Attorney’s Office says authorities are still searching for one of the suspects.

The vice president of recruitment and marketing for Girl Scouts of South Carolina-Mountains to Midlands, Karen Kelly, says the organization will cooperate with authorities. She says in a Tuesday statement that the organization had no reason to believe McGowan was “anything other than one of our valuable customers.”

Floods isolate 2 California towns; storm dumps snow in West

GUERNEVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Two communities in Northern California’s wine country were accessible only by boat Wednesday after a rain-swollen river overflowed its banks following a relentless downpour across an already waterlogged region.

The small city of Guerneville north of San Francisco “is officially an island,” with the overflowing Russian River forecast to hit its highest level in about 25 years, the Sonoma County Sheriff’s Office said in a statement.

“Nobody is coming or going from the Guerneville area at this time,” said sheriff’s Sgt. Spencer Crum. The nearby town of Monte Rio was also isolated by floodwaters and all roads leading to it were swamped.

The still rising Russian River was engorged by days of rain from western U.S. storms that have also dumped heavy snow in the Sierra Nevada, throughout the Pacific Northwest and into Montana, where Gov. Steve Bullock signed an emergency order to help keep up the supply of heating fuel amid frigid temperatures.

Snow from the storms closed roads and schools and toppled trucks and trees from Oregon to Montana and an avalanche in the Sierra prompted Amtrak to suspend rail service between Sacramento and Reno, Nevada.

The Russian River topped 42 feet Wednesday afternoon, when television helicopter footage showed homes underwater and cars submerged. It could crest at more than 46 feet (14 meters) by Wednesday night, officials said. About 4,000 residents in two dozen river communities were ordered to evacuate Tuesday evening but officials estimate only about half heeded the orders, Crum said.

Tequesta; Thomas Davis, 72, of Port St. Lucie; Sandipkumar Patel, 47, of Jensen Beach; Anthony Purificato, 48, of Port St. Lucie; John Santamaria, 50, of Port St. Lucie; Gail Walker Schamack, 72, of Stuart; and Mark Updike, 52, of Palm City.

Deputies also identified one of the defendants as Brian Elliott Garner, who surrendered Tuesday at the Martin County Jail. An arrest affidavit gives neither an age nor a community of residence for Garner.

Soliciting a prostitute is a misdemeanor under Florida law. While jail time is possible, sentencing often takes the form of education more than punishment, with the Johns required to take an AIDS awareness class, sometimes taught by women or the officers who arrested them. First-time offenders “are very unlikely to get any significant jail time,” Aronberg said Monday.

its stores. Then, in 2016, Walmart began replacing greeters with hosts, adding responsibilities that include helping with returns, checking receipts to deter shoplifters and keeping the front of the store clean. Walmart and other chains have been redefining roles at stores as they compete with Amazon.

The effect of the greeter phase-out on disabled and elderly employees — who have traditionally gravitated toward the role as one they were well-suited to doing — largely escaped public notice until last week, when Walmart launched a second round of cuts.

As word spread, outraged customers began calling Walmart to complain. Tens of thousands of people signed petitions. Facebook groups sprang up with names like “Team Adam” and “Save Lesley.” A second-grade class in California wrote letters to Walmart’s CEO on behalf of Adam Catlin, a disabled greeter in Pennsylvania whose mother had written an impassioned Facebook post about his plight. Walmart said it has offered another job to Catlin.

In Vancouver, Washington, John Combs, 42, who has cerebral palsy, was devastated and then angered by his impending job loss. It had taken his family five years to find him a job he could do, and he loved the work, coming up with nicknames for all his co-workers.

“What am I going to do, just sit here on my butt all day in this house? That’s all I’m going to do?” Combs asked his sister and guardian, Rachel Wasser. “I do my job. I didn’t do anything wrong.”

With the U.S. unemployment rate for disabled people more than twice that for workers without disabilities, Walmart has long been seen as a destination for people like Combs. Advocacy groups worry the company is backsliding.

“It’s the messaging that concerns me,” said Gabrielle Sedor, chief operations officer at ANCOR, a trade group representing service providers. “Given that Walmart is such an international leader in the retail space, I’m concerned this decision might suggest to some people that the bottom line of the company is more important to the company than inclusive communities. We don’t think those two are mutually exclusive.”

The greeter issue has already prompted at least three complaints to the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, as well as a federal lawsuit in Utah alleging discrimination under the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Walmart did not disclose how many disabled greeters could lose their jobs. The company said that after it made the change at more than 1,000 stores in 2016, 80 to 85 percent of all affected greeters found other roles at Walmart.

The nearly $3 billion that Congress has provided for barriers during the first half of Trump’s term requires that money be spent on designs that were in place before May 2017, effectively prohibiting the prototypes from being used and denying Trump bragging rights to say he built his wall. It’s unclear if the restriction would apply to the billions of dollars that Trump wants to spend by declaring a national emergency on the nation’s southern border.

The eight prototypes, which cost $300,000 to $500,000 each to build, vary by slopes, thickness and curves. Bidding guidelines called from them to withstand at least an hour of punishment from a sledgehammer, pickaxe, torch, chisel or battery-operated tools and to prevent use of climbing aids such as grappling hooks.

The guidelines also required they be “aesthetically pleasing” from the U.S. side.

To date, no one arrested either in Palm Beach or Martin counties as part of the investigation faces a charge of human trafficking, although Palm Beach County State Attorney Dave Aronberg indicated at a news conference on Monday that those charges could come at some point.

On Wednesday Martin County authorities announced the arrests of William Bohen, 68, of Stuart; Dennis Dileonardo, 28, of Stuart; Thomas Goins, 39, of Port St. Lucie; Adam Jackson, 34, of Fort Pierce; Robert Kimble, 71, of Tequesta; and Scott Warner, 57, of Port St. Lucie.

The Martin County Sheriff’s Office said those arrested Tuesday were Daniel Byrne, 74, of Stuart; Vincent Cashin, 75, of Stuart; Kevin Connor, 60, of

of the Statue of Liberty.

People climbed piles of trash against a short border fence that has since been replaced to get a clear view from Mexico. Some asylum-seekers hoisted their children over the fence in front of construction crews to turn themselves in to agents.

Their removal makes way to extend a second layer of barrier with steel bollards, similar to slats, topped by a metal plate rising 30 feet from the ground, the same design being used elsewhere on the border. The new barrier vaguely resembles some of the steel prototypes but looks nothing like the solid concrete panels, which were widely panned because border agents can’t see what’s happening on the other side.

Charlotte finishes 22-8 with a district title

Jacob HOAG SPORTS WRITER

Whatever they charge for these rivalry matchups, they should triple it.

The fourth and final round of the Battle for the Peace between Port Charlotte and Charlotte high schools lived up to every bit of the hype.

With a packed crowd filling the bleachers and a small crowd outside peeking through the glass doors after the gym reached capacity, it was a wild environment. No surprise there.

I attended each game and it seemed like with each time these two teams met, the games got tighter and the intensity was elevated.

The first game saw Port Charlotte pull away for a 10-point win. The second was closer until the final minutes and then Charlotte got the upset for the district title in Round 3 on two free throws from Makai Reaves.

Tuesday's matchup beat em' all.

After Port Charlotte looked like they sealed it with two free throws to give the Pirates a 46-41 lead with under a minute to play, Reaves came up clutch again.

He pulled up from well beyond the 3-point line and drilled a cold-blooded shot to cut it to two.

A missed free throw set up a 3-point attempt with 1.1 seconds on the clock. The inbounds pass was fumbled around, but sophomore Tre Carroll sent up a prayer that bounced off the backboard.

Within seconds the Pirates burst into celebration and the Tarpons buried their heads in their jerseys as their season ended.

It's the element of the season I don't care for much. Most seasons won't end in a state title, but that doesn't ease the pain for the players and coaches. These losses hurt probably more than a guy sitting behind a

Defensive linemen dominate this year's combine class

By ARNIE STAPLETON
AP PRO FOOTBALL WRITER

INDIANAPOLIS — This year's class of quarterback prospects isn't as sexy as last year's group led by Baker Mayfield and Sam Darnold. Nor does it feature the tantalizing talents of next year's headliners: Tua Tagovailoa, Justin Herbert and Jake Fromm.

There are a few passers who merit first-round consideration, but what teams will see an abundance of at the NFL scouting combine this week are the players who will make their living chasing, corralling and clobbering quarterbacks.

"To me, it's all about big guys," NFL Network analyst Daniel Jeremiah said. "Premier talent and depth at the defensive line position, inside, outside, it's outstanding. And it carries deep into the draft."

It's not only the rush, but the push.

Defensive ends led by Ohio State's Nick Bosa and Clemson's Clelin Ferrell are prized pass rushers, but nowadays players such as Clemson D-tackles Christian Wilkins and Dexter Lawrence are just as highly valued for their interior pressure.

"I think we're getting to the point in this league where we've become such a pass-first league that you take those guys wherever you can get them," said Mike Mayock, who parlayed a 14-year run as the NFL Network's draft guru into the Oakland Raiders' general manager's job.

Mayock said he's spoken to just about every top quarterback in the NFL since 2004 and he's asked them all the same question: What bothers you the most?

"And almost every top-flight quarterback says, 'immediate pressure up the middle,'" Mayock said.

"It disturbs sight lines, forces you to readjust your feet. So, I think we're at the point now where people are throwing the ball so much that you've got to find a way to affect it regardless."

Broncos new coach Vic Fangio concurred, saying it's no longer enough to have two great pass rushers such as Denver's duo of Von Miller and Bradley Chubb.

"You want four guys that the quarterback can feel caving in on him," Fangio said. "And that's critical in the pass rush. And that's an area that we need to improve in."

There's plenty of those players in Indianapolis

SPRING TRAINING: Rays 5, Red Sox 4

By VINNIE PORTELL

Though the wind was blowing out toward the outfield on Wednesday at Charlotte Sports Park, Tampa Bay Rays first base prospect Nate Lowe needed no help launching his solo home run over the right field fence.

Lowe's blast, which came in the bottom of the third inning in Tampa's 5-4 win over the Boston Red Sox, not only cleared the fence but traveled past the outfield boardwalk and over another wall behind it. When it stopped rolling, Rays PR officials determined it had been hit 567 feet.

"I practice doing that a lot in BP," Lowe said. "That's kind of the intent going up there, so it's nice to have it happen in a game. But it's just a spring training game. Good swing, get rewarded a little bit."

"But better stuff tomorrow, and for the next couple of days."

For a 23-year-old prospect trying to make a good impression in the spring, the blast couldn't have come at a much better time.

NBA

Warriors welcome Parkland students in Miami

By TIM REYNOLDS
AP BASKETBALL WRITER

MIAMI — Stephen Curry would ordinarily be getting off his feet as fast as possible after a morning shootaround practice, saving his legs for the looming game that night.

Wednesday, however, wasn't ordinary.

Golden State coach Steve Kerr invited some students — including ones from Marjory Stoneman Douglas High, the school in Parkland where 17 students and staff were killed in a massacre on Feb. 14, 2018 — into the Warriors' game-morning practice in Miami.

And long after the session was over, Curry was throwing alley-oop lobbs and engaging in 3-point contests with kids who couldn't believe they were hanging out with stars from the two-time defending NBA champions.

"You hate that you have these opportunities because of what happened at our school," said Jeff Foster, a teacher and former coach at Stoneman Douglas.

"But at the same time, it's nice to have these contacts and meet people and coach Kerr has been at a few of the events with our kids ... you're always glad to sit around and talk to him, whether it's about basketball or politics. And we just spent time doing both."

While Kerr was chatting with teachers, some of the boys and girls got onto the court with the Warriors. Andre Iguodala, Shaun Livingston, Kevin Durant and Curry were among those who stuck around after shootaround for about an extra half-hour, posing for photos and talking about basketball.

"It's special having them here," Curry said as he watched the kids playing on the same court where the Warriors would visit the Miami Heat on Wednesday night.

"They've done so much in the wake of the shooting, speaking out, using their platform that they have, the entire student body. They come to just have fun, enjoy themselves. I know that means a lot."

Matt Fisher won't forget it anytime soon.

Fisher is among the captains of Marjory Stoneman Douglas' boys team, which lost its district championship game in quadruple-overtime and then fell in the first round of the state tournament. He plans to play college basketball at Division III's Washington University in St. Louis next season, but if that doesn't work out at least he can say he caught a lob from Curry for a dunk.

"This is just a surreal opportunity that I really appreciate," said Fisher, who talked Curry into having a 3-point contest against him. It was briefly tied at 1-1 before Curry prevailed.

Kerr invited the students into the practice, and makes no secret about his desire for gun reform.

Kerr was 18 when his father Malcolm, then president of American University of Beirut, was murdered

. He's followed the students at Marjory Stoneman Douglas and their "March For Our Lives" organization's efforts closely.

"The fortunate thing is the young people leading this drive are going to be much more impactful than old people like me," Kerr said.

"It's true. Older people have been trying to do something but they haven't made the impact. But the next generation, the country belongs to them. So I'm really proud of what they're doing."

Tampa Bay players: Records? What records?

By DIANA NEARHOS
TAMPA BAY TIMES

The Lightning is knocking down records like bowling pins, but players and coaches say they aren't paying attention.

It's not a matter of overlooking the impact of the season to focus on winning each game. Rather, it's about eyeing the larger prize they want at the end of the postseason. Team captain Steven Stamkos said the team could care less about the regular season records.

"It seems like every win we've had here lately is the quickest to this or quickest to that, but it doesn't really get discussed in this room," Steven Stamkos said. "We just come into games wanting to win."

Some of the Tampa Bay players know what a great season feels like. Several Lightning players also played on the 2015 Tampa Bay team that reached the Stanley Cup finals. Five current players starred for the New York Rangers when they reached the Stanley Cup finals in 2014, and three played for New York when it won the Presidents Trophy in 2015.

But they believe there's something different about this team. But the details overpower the larger significance.

"You don't see it coming when you're involved in it," coach Jon Cooper said, "until people bring up the historical background of what's happened."

Then he hears his team thrown around in conversation with the 1977 and '78 Canadiens. Montreal had a dynasty in the '70s, particularly its four straight Cup wins from '76 to '79. The 1977 team had 132 points, the most in NHL history and the next year Montreal had 129.

The Lightning are on track for 130, which would be third in NHL history (1995-96 Detroit had 131 points.)

"When you step back and think about that, it is ... it's kinda cool," Cooper said.

Of course, Cooper started and ended the thought with how many tough teams the Lightning still has to play, and how he saw first hand how even a team lower in the standings (like the 2017 Lightning) can play spoiler.

Wie returns to Singapore to defend title

SINGAPORE (AP) — The LPGA Tour completes its four-week swing through Australia and Asia with a healthy Michelle Wie aiming to defend her HSBC Women's World Championship title at Sentosa Golf Club's Tanjong course.

Wie underwent surgery on her right hand earlier this month because of lingering issues from a car accident two years ago.

She played in last week's LPGA Thailand tournament, where she finished tied for 23rd behind winner Amy Yang.

"I feel extremely lucky to even be here this year, so I'm just soaking it all in and having a lot of fun," Wie told a pre-tournament news conference.

"Just the feeling that I felt after last year ... I just felt so relieved. I knew that I had overcome a lot of stuff within the last couple of years."

Wie fractured her hand and sustained extensive neck issues in the car accident.

The 29-year-old American is taking precautions to work toward her 2019 goals — playing injury-free, making the Solheim Cup team for a sixth time and attempting to win another major to add to her 2014 U.S. Open triumph.

"I guess as an old person now, a veteran out on tour, physio and recovery is key for me," said Wie, who started on the LPGA Tour in 2009.

"My life kind of revolves around it. I travel with my private physio and we have treatment every day, whether it's getting needles in, whether it's icing; I have my devices that I carry around with me."

Wie will be playing for the 10th time in the Singapore tournament and she's joined by world No. 1 Ariya Jutanugarn, along with the top 15 players in the Women's World Golf Rankings, including No. 4 Inbee Park making her season debut.

Jutanugarn will tee off Thursday in the last group of the no-cut, 63-player field with No. 3 Sung Hyun Park and No. 7 Minjee Lee.

Nelly Korda, who won the Women's Australian Open two weeks ago, leads the 2019 Race to the CME Globe with 780 points, followed by other 2019 winners Eun-Hee Ji (Diamond Resorts Tournament of Champions) with 610 points and Yang with 576.

Honda Classic short on top players

By TIM REYNOLDS
AP SPORTS WRITER

PALM BEACH GARDENS — Dustin Johnson, Rory McIlroy and Tiger Woods are among the golfers who live in the vicinity of PGA National and may very well be home this weekend. They just won't be playing at the Honda Classic.

The condensing of the PGA Tour schedule is forcing players to make some tough decisions, and the Honda Classic didn't exactly benefit from a lot of those choices. Only three of the top 20 players in the world ranking are in the field for the event beginning Thursday — No. 3 and defending champion Justin Thomas, No. 4 Brooks Koepka and No. 9 Rickie Fowler.

Next up: No. 21 Webb Simpson and No. 23 Gary Woodland.

"There are a lot of guys who live down here," said Woodland, who is one of the South Florida-based players who gets to sleep in his own bed this week. "But with tournaments moving around, there are a lot of tournaments right now that are really good in a row. I skipped Riviera, which is one of my favorite golf courses, but you have to find the time."

Last year at this time,

Brooks Koepka, ranked fourth in the world, is one of three golfers from the top 20 who will be playing in the Honda Classic this weekend, a result of a condensed PGA Tour schedule.

the run of tournaments saw players deciding among Riviera one week, then the Honda Classic, then a World Golf Championship in Mexico, then Tampa, then Bay Hill, then another WGC for Match Play.

This year, it goes Riviera, Mexico, Honda, Bay Hill, The Players Championship, Tampa and then the WGC-Match Play.

That is a lot of really good options, all coming with a lot of players probably mindful of making sure they are fresh for the Masters as well.

"Nobody's playing five in a row," Honda Classic executive director Ken Kennerly said.

This isn't an issue exclusive to the Honda Classic. Phil Mickelson skipped playing at Torrey Pines, his home course, this year for the first time in 29 seasons — and has hinted that he could sit out The Players Championship as well.

Johnson hasn't played the Honda Classic since posting rounds of 77 and 75 and missing the cut by eight shots in 2015, so his absence this week can't be considered surprising.

Woods carded an 8-under 62 to vault up the leaderboard, and the then-22-year-old McIlroy wound up winning by two shots to become No. 1 in the world for the first time.

Woods is likely to play four times in a five-tournament stretch. He is coming off starts in Los Angeles and Mexico and plans to compete at Bay Hill next week and The Players the following week. To play five consecutive weeks is a big ask for anyone, particularly someone like Woods, a 43-year-old who has dealt with injuries for years.

"There are still some great players playing," said Daniel Berger, who — like Johnson, Woods and McIlroy — lives a short drive from PGA National. "But you want guys like Dustin, guys like Tiger, Rory. But it's just a give-and-take. Players can only play so many weeks in a row, and there's a bunch of great tournaments around it. The Honda is a great tournament as well, but it's never going to work out for everyone."

The schedule was changed for the 2018-19 season in part so the FedEx Cup playoffs could wrap up in August at the Tour Championship before college football and the NFL get rolling.

Pirates capture County Championship outright

By JOHN VITTAS
SUN CORRESPONDENT

PUNTA GORDA — For the first time in his seven years, Jarret Debus' Port Charlotte Pirates are outright county champs.

It was sweet revenge for the Pirates (46 points) Wednesday, who out-lifted Charlotte (34) and Lemon Bay (30) by healthy margins to claim the county crown. Twice in the last three years, Debus' team finished in a first place tie. Last year, they had to share the title with Charlotte.

"After the tie last year, we took it personal and we wanted to make sure that we won it this year," Debus said. "The kids did a good job and I'm real proud of them. They're extremely dedicated lifters. The reason they win in these meets is because of their work ethic in the weight room."

All three coaches praised the level of competition that the county meet possesses. The Pirates, Manta Rays and Tarpons typically compete for district and state championships while also putting an emphasis on the county meet.

"This is the pinnacle," said Debus. "In my opinion, we have the three strongest schools in our county. We have one of the stronger counties in the state. It's always an extremely competitive meet that we want to work our tails off for."

Debus stacked the season schedule so that his team would be at the top of their game just in time for Wednesday's meet.

"We worked very, very little duals with other schools," he said. "We would train and then go lift against them. It didn't mean much, but we had to get our meet total in. We went four weeks of training uninterrupted and doing little duals – meet and greets we call them."

Port Charlotte claimed the title in four of the 10 weight classes. Jakoby Morgan (119), Tim Murphy (129), Christian Clark (219) and Brandon Leacock (HW) all won their respective groups, setting personal bests in the process. Debus praised the unselfishness of Leacock and J'anyrein Washington, both of whom lifted in more challenging weight classes in order for the team to field a fuller lineup and earn more points.

"That's the fullest we've ever been," Debus said of his team's lineup. "That win was based off those kids' dedication and sacrifice of going a weight class up to create room for kids underneath."

The Tarpons finished in second after sharing the title with the Pirates last year.

"It's so competitive here in Charlotte County," Charlotte head coach Ray Hixson said. "You really have to lift as a team. If you don't, it can hurt you. We had some great performances today overall, but we didn't lift as well as a team, so that hurt us."

Jayden Grant lifted the more weight (600 pounds) in the two events than anyone else Wednesday, benching a meet-best 325 pounds. Thomas Dufour (183) and Jayden Opalach (139) each won the title at their classification.

Lemon Bay's stars performed at their usual level, claiming three individual titles while the team finished third. Wyatt Soucy took home the title in the 238-pound division while Cody Sarver set a personal record in the bench press to take home the 169-pound win. Jordan Andrie, who has overcome two shoulder surgeries in the past two years, showed resiliency to win the 154-pound championship.

"Wyatt is just naturally strong," Lemon Bay head coach Don Southwell said. "He's a 600-pound squatter. He's strong in his mind too. He's a competitor. For Cody, it's a lifestyle. He lives it, that's what he does. He's a weight lifter."

All three county rivals will now re-group as they hit the stretch run of the season, gearing up for the start of districts on March 14.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL: Charlotte 10, Lemon Bay 1

Tarpons walk out of Lemon Bay with a victory

Charlotte draws nine bases on balls, strong pitching performance from Koch

By CHUCK BALLARO
SUN CORRESPONDENT

ENGLEWOOD — Cam Koch struck out eight in four innings and Kevin Conway had two hits and two runs as the Charlotte High School baseball team cruised to a victory over Lemon Bay in a non-district matchup.

The Tarpons took advantage of nine walks, two hit batsmen and three errors to go with their 10 hits on their way to a 10-1 rout.

"Cam pitched really well tonight. He pounded the zone and did what we wanted him to do for four innings," Charlotte coach Lavell Cudjo said.

"We have some situational hitting to work on, but for the most part it was a good win."

Charlotte started strong against Lemon Bay starter Jason LePage. Cade Reich walked and Conway hit one off the pitcher for an infield single before Bryce Hayse singled home a run for a 1-0 Tarpon lead.

After Aaron Martin walked, Kyle Machado grounded to short, but the possible double play bounced off the first baseman's glove to score Conway and Machado to make it 3-0.

A Lemon Bay comedy of errors led to Charlotte's next run in the third.

Conway's pop up landed in no man's land in shallow right for a single, and Hayse scorched one to left that Colin Gamber played into another single.

After Martin was hit by a pitch, Machado hit into a double play to score Conway to make it 4-0.

Jonah Bourque's RBI single and Jake Bubb's RBI double in the fourth made it 6-0 off Jeff Adams, while a Cade Reich RBI single, a wild pitch made it 9-0. A Reich sac fly in the seventh finished Koch cruised through the four innings, allowing two hits.

Bubb finished things off, but not before the Manta Rays (0-2) scored their first run of the season on a Chris Diemer RBI single in the seventh.

Jonah Bourque had two hits, two runs and an RBI. Hayes was 2-4 with an RBI and run.

a guy sitting behind a keyboard can imagine. But they have very little to be disappointed about.

They were district champs and the only team so far to knock off rival Port Charlotte.

"We had a very good season," Charlotte coach Tom Massolio said. "All year long I thought we competed against some of the better teams in the area. We did a nice job all year, we just didn't come out on top (Tuesday)."

The Tarps (22-8) kept everyone on their feet and were one of the most exciting groups to watch in southwest Florida — off-the-backboard dunks and deep 3s were regularities.

Charlotte was an offensive juggernaut with a bevy of senior weapons in Kenny Scribner, who missed Tuesday's matchup with an infection, Makai Reaves and Ahmad Johnson.

They will ride off into the Punta Gorda sunset with the district trophy in hand, leaving behind a host of young talent they've helped shape and a program they've helped thrive.

"They've been very special to the program," Massolio said. "All those guys as sophomores were on varsity and took their lumps. You can't praise them enough for what they've gone through in their years here at Charlotte High School."

Williams' bucket lifts No. 7 Tennessee over Ole Miss 73-71

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Grant Williams scored 21 points, including the go-ahead basket with four seconds left, to lift No. 7 Tennessee over Mississippi 73-71 on Wednesday night.

Tennessee (25-3, 13-2 Southeastern Conference) bounced back from a tough loss to LSU on Saturday with a hard-fought victory over the Rebels. The Volunteers remain in a three-way tie atop the SEC with LSU and Kentucky.

The Volunteers trailed 39-34 at halftime, but used a 14-0 run early in the second half to jump back ahead. Ole Miss wouldn't go away, pushing in front 58-57 on Terence Davis' 3-pointer with 10 minutes left.

From that point forward, it was a back-and-forth struggle. Ole Miss guard Breein Tyree missed the front end of a one-and-one with 18 seconds remaining, Tennessee grabbed the rebound and Williams hit a driving layup in the lane to make it 72-71.

NO. 2 VIRGINIA 81, GA. TECH 51

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Ty Jerome scored 19 points, De'Andre Hunter had 18 and No. 2 Virginia took command with a 25-4 first-half run and beat reeling Georgia Tech 81-51 on Wednesday night.

The Cavaliers (25-2, 13-2 Atlantic Coast

Mississippi guard Breein Tyree (4) drives against Tennessee's Lamonte' Turner (1) during the first half of an NCAA college basketball game, Wednesday.

Conference) trailed 11-7 before a 3-pointer by Braxton Key sparked the eight-minute surge. Hunter had nine points, Kyle Guy six and Jerome five in the burst. Virginia's lead was 41-22 at halftime and 51-24 after a 10-2 run to start the second half as the Cavaliers won their fifth in a row in the series. Guy added 11 points and three others had eight.

Jose Alvarado scored 12 and James Banks III had 11 for the Yellow Jackets (12-17, 4-12), who lost for the ninth time in their last 10 games. Georgia Tech also got a full dose of Virginia's all-around efficiency as the Cavaliers shot 55.6 percent (30 of 54), made nine 3-pointers and limited the Yellow Jackets to just five 3-pointers (in 17 attempts) and 37.5 percent shooting overall (21 of 56).

NO. 8 HOUSTON 99, EAST CAROLINA 65

GREENVILLE, N.C. — Corey Davis Jr. matched his career high with 26 points to help eighth-ranked Houston beat East Carolina 99-65 on Wednesday night in a game that included multiple technical fouls against the Pirates and three ejections after halftime.

Fabian White Jr. added 16 points for the Cougars (27-1, 14-1 American Athletic Conference), who shot 60 percent. They made 13 of 28 3-pointers, which followed a 16-for-24 effort during last month's 44-point rout in the first meeting.

Seth LeDay had 17 points for the Pirates (10-17, 3-12), who trailed 45-31 by the break and never recovered.

PENN STATE 78, NO. 17 MARYLAND 61

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — Penn State is trying to avoid a last-place finish in the Big Ten, but the Nittany Lions aren't playing like a team that looks like it belongs there right now.

Lamar Stevens scored 16 of his 24 points in the second half, and Penn State had an easy time with No. 17 Maryland in a 78-61 win on Wednesday night.

Myles Dread had 17 points and Myreon Jones added 10 for the Nittany Lions (12-16, 5-12 Big Ten), who led for all but 51 seconds to win their third in a row and fourth of five.

UCF 75, USF 63

TAMPA — Tacko Fall posted 18 points as Central Florida defeated South Florida 75-63 on Wednesday night.

BJ Taylor had 15 points for Central Florida (21-6, 11-4 American Athletic Conference). Aubrey Dawkins added 14 points and seven rebounds. Dayon Griffin had 12 points for the visitors.

Justin Brown had 15 points for the Bulls (18-10, 7-8). Antun Maricevic added 10 points. David Collins had 10 points.

Lightning win 10th straight, top Rangers 4-3 in OT

By SIMMI BUTTAR
AP SPORTS WRITER

NEW YORK — Victor Hedman scored at 3:25 of overtime and the Tampa Bay Lightning extended their winning streak to a franchise-record 10 games with a 4-3 victory over the New York Rangers on Wednesday night.

Tyler Johnson, J.T. Miller and Dan Girardi also scored for Tampa Bay, which has an NHL-leading 102 points. Nikita Kucherov added three assists to give him a league-leading 74. Andrei Vasilevskiy had 33 saves.

Jimmy Vesey had a goal and assist for the Rangers. Mika Zibanejad and Boo Nieves also scored. Alexander Georgiev had 26 saves, including stopping Hedman on a breakaway earlier in overtime.

Trailing 2-0 after the first period, the Rangers started their rally in the opening minute of the second when Vesey slid a pass across to Zibanejad, who scored on the backhand and tied a career high with his 27th goal of the season.

The Lightning answered when Steven Stamkos skated down the right faceoff circle and sent to a cross-ice pass to Girardi, who scored at 2:53. It was the fourth goal of the season for Girardi, who spent the first 11 seasons of his career with New York before joining Tampa Bay in 2017-18.

Just 30 seconds later, Vesey skated toward the net and fought off Hedman and scored his 16th of the season.

The Rangers tied the game when Nieves took a pass from Ryan Strome behind the net and scored his fourth of the season at 14:14. Vasilevskiy got a piece of Nieves' shot, but it trickled over the goal line to make it 3-3.

Tampa Bay dominated the first period. Johnson opened the scoring when he snapped a shot that beat Georgiev stick-side for his 22nd of the season at 7:52.

Later in the period, Kucherov took a shot from the right faceoff circle that deflected off the stick of Rangers defenseman Marc Staal to Miller in front of the goal. Miller sent a backhand into the net for his 12th of the season at 14:57 on the power play.

Vasilevskiy kept the Rangers scoreless through 20 minutes when he stopped Chris Kreider on a breakaway with three minutes to go in the period.

CALGARY 2, NEW JERSEY 1

NEWARK, N.J. — Johnny Gaudreau set up two second-period goals and the Western Conference-leading Calgary Flames extending their season-high winning streak to seven games with a 2-1 victory over the New Jersey Devils on Wednesday night.

Elias Lindholm and Mark Giordano scored for the Flames, who have points in eight straight games. David Rittich made 19 saves in improving to 22-5-5.

The game was delayed about 10 minutes early in the third period after Devils defenseman Mirco Mueller crashed into the end boards on a rush and had to be taken on the ice on a stretcher. He moved his legs and gave a thumbs-up to fans.

TORONTO 6, EDMONTON 2

TORONTO — Andreas Johnson scored twice during Toronto's four-goal outburst in a seven-minute stretch to open the second period and the Maple Leafs cruised past the Edmonton Oilers 6-2 on Wednesday night.

Mitch Marner added a goal and two assists, while John Tavares, William Nylander and Patrick Marleau all had a goal and an assist for Toronto.

Frederik Andersen made 34 saves for the Maple Leafs, who now turn their attention to Thursday night when they visit the Islanders in Tavares' return to New York.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — James Harden scored 30 points, Clint Capela had 23 points and a career-high 17 rebounds, and the Houston Rockets beat the Charlotte Hornets 118-113 on Wednesday night for their third straight win.

In his first game since ending his streak of 30-point games at 32, Harden struggled from the field, missing his first eight shots from 3-point range — even having one blocked by Nic Batum, who gave the MVP candidate fits all night with his defense.

Harden finished 10 of 29 from the field and 1 of 11 from 3-point range, but he made two clutch free throws with 14.6 seconds left to put the game away.

He had plenty of support.

Capela was solid throughout, and Chris Paul heated up in the fourth quarter and finished with 17 points and 10 assists for the Rockets (36-25).

Kemba Walker had 35 points for the Hornets, 27 in the first half. He was 3 of 12 from the floor after halftime.

The Rockets trailed by four entering the fourth quarter but opened with an 18-4 run behind six points from Paul, including four on fall-away mid-range jumpers.

The Hornets battled back behind Walker and Jeremy Lamb, who had 18 points and 14 rebounds, and had a chance to tie with 17 seconds left. Walker missed a leaning 3-pointer from the right wing and the Hornets fouled Harden, who made two free throws to make it a five-point game.

Walker missed another 3 with seven seconds left, and the Rockets escaped with the win.

Eric Gordon got the start for the Rockets over Kenneth Faried. Coach Mike D'Antoni said the move keeps Paul from covering the opposition's point guard for the entire game, which could help preserve his health down the stretch.

Gordon had six points.

The loss leaves the Hornets a half-game ahead of the Magic in the battle for the eighth playoff spot in the Eastern Conference.

■ SPRING TRAINING: Roundup

Buxton eager to break loose after lost season

By The Associated Press

Byron Buxton is eager to lose all reminders of a lost season.

The 25-year-old Minnesota center fielder began spring training with five straight hits, including two home runs and 10 RBIs, before going hitless in three tries Wednesday for the Twins in a rain-shortened 4-2 win over the Philadelphia Phillies.

"We haven't played very many games out here and he's already shown everyone who's watching he can do a lot of things," first-year Twins manager Rocco Baldelli said. "He is as impactful as any player in the game."

Buxton hit just .156 with four RBIs over 28 games last year in an injury-plagued season. He dealt with migraines, a broken toe, hand and wrist issues.

Buxton batted .300 with 11 home runs, 35 RBIs and 13 stolen bases in 57 games after the All-Star break in 2017, and won a Gold Glove.

"He can do things on both sides of the ball and on the bases," Baldelli said.

Owners, players headed to early labor negotiations

By RONALD BLUM

AP BASEBALL WRITER

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball players and management appear headed to early labor negotiations that could lead to significant economic changes in the collective bargaining agreement and possibly a new deal past the current expiration of December 2021.

Management backed off its desire for a pitch clock this year in a proposal to the players' association on Tuesday, putting off most on-field changes to 2020 at the earliest. The union quickly made a counteroffer Wednesday, and the biggest alterations still being discussed for this year are a single trade deadline, most likely on July 31, and lowering the number of mound visits without a pitching change from six to five.

While players have proposed major initiatives that impact economics, such as expanding the designated hitter to the National League and adding provisions that make rebuilding rosters with young players less attractive, management has been focused on on-field issues thus far. Management told the union it would be willing to discuss larger economic issues as part of talks that could lead to a longer labor contract.

Details were disclosed to The Associated Press by people familiar with the negotiations who spoke on condition of anonymity because talks were ongoing. Many aspects of management's latest proposal were first reported by ESPN.

Among the items put off until 2020 at the earliest are several where an agreement could be reached soon:

— a three-batter minimum for pitchers.

— increasing active rosters from 25 to 26, including a maximum of 13 pitchers, and dropping them from 40 to 28, including a maximum 14 pitchers, from Sept. 1 through the end of the regular season.

— increasing the minimum regular injured list and option recall period for pitchers from 10 days to 15.

— a new rule that position players could pitch only from the ninth inning on, or from the sixth inning on when their team trails by seven runs or more.

The sides remain in discussion over starting extra innings of the All-Star Game and of spring training games with a runner on second base and ending spring training games after 10 innings. They also are discussing experimenting with shorter between-inning breaks combined with televising the start of innings on split-screens alongside commercials.

A single trade deadline would replace the current rules, which have a July 31 deadline for trades without waivers and an Aug. 31 deadline to acquire players who would be eligible for that team's postseason rosters.

While unilaterally making the decision to experiment with a 20-second pitch clock during spring training this year, management has offered not to pursue a pitch clock in the regular season through 2021. Management has the right to implement a clock in games that count, but baseball Commissioner Rob Manfred has said he is reluctant to take that step without players' agreement.

Baseball has had 12 collective bargaining agreements starting with the first in 1968 and has never held mid-agreement talks that led to an extension or new deal. The only mid-agreement extension was reached in the settlement of the 1981 midseason streak, in which management gave players credit for major league service during the 50-day walkout in exchange for extending the deal by one year through December 1984.

RAYS

base in Tampa Bay isn't nearly as crowded as it was before. The Rays could platoon some split of Ji-Man Choi (typically a DH), Yandy Diaz (primarily a third baseman) or Brandon Lowe (a versatile 2B/OF player).

Given some time, it's not a stretch to see Nate Lowe stepping in to fill the role.

"It almost looks effortless when he swings," Rays manager Kevin Cash said.

"It's kind of like a golf swing, a little bit. But he generates it, that's for sure.

"When he comes in and gives you a high five it's like a tree log hitting your hand."

But Lowe wasn't the only Ray to hit the ball well against the Red Sox on Wednesday.

Outfielder Tommy Pham roped a single in a 1-for-3 effort with two hard-hit outs and infielder Daniel Robertson went 2-for-2 with a double, home run and three runs batted in.

The two extra-base hits were a welcomed sign for the 24-year-old Robertson, whose 2018 season ended with surgery to his left thumb in August.

"I still want to prove to people what I can do and have that little bit of edge," he said.

Not many regulars made it to the mound on Wednesday for Tampa, as Ryne Stanek was the first member of the 2018 staff to take the hill when he was brought in to pitch the sixth inning.

Stanek had a sharp outing, striking out two and allowing no baserunners over his inning of work. After Stanek, right-hander Jake Faria was called upon to throw two innings.

Though Faria did allow a solo home run to Tony Renda that just barely cleared the center-field wall, Cash was otherwise pleased with the performance as Faria finished with three strikeouts and two hits allowed over his two innings.

"Another good outing for Jake," Cash said. "I know he gave up a home run. I think there was a little bit of wind that might have helped that, but it was good to see him getting back to his comfort and showing what he showed so much of in 2017."

Power Surge

The Rays entered Wednesday's game against the Red Sox tied with the Detroit Tigers for the most home runs in the Grapefruit League with seven.

With Lowe and Robertson adding two more homers against Boston, Tampa now has nine through six games.

Avisail Garcia debuts

Signed late in the offseason, Rays right fielder Avisail Garcia made his spring debut on Wednesday, going 0-for-2 with a walk.

He batted fourth and was replaced by prospect Jesus Sanchez in the bottom of the sixth after reaching base on a walk.

Garcia is being eased back into action after hamstring and knee injuries cut his 2018 season short with the White Sox.

Tonight's game

Tampa Bay Rays (2-4) vs. the Minnesota Twins (4-2) at Charlotte Sports Park, 6:35 p.m.

Reigning AL Cy Young winner Blake Snell is scheduled to make his spring debut tonight against the Twins, with pitchers Ryan Yarbrough, Colin Poche, Casey Sadler and Oliver Drake also listed as probable pitchers for the game.

for interviews, physicals and testing this week.

Despite the down year for QBs, there's still plenty of intrigue at the position thanks to Kyler Murray, who followed Mayfield from the state of Texas to Oklahoma, won the Heisman Trophy like Mayfield did, and is now following the Cleveland Browns' starting QB to the NFL after spurning the Oakland Athletics.

"He's a guy that, once again, people are going say is small and too short, but the kid knows how to win," Mayfield said. "When it comes down to it, that's the most important thing."

After committing to football over baseball, the biggest questions surrounding Murray this week aren't about ability — "Kyler can make every single throw," Jeremiah insisted — but his height and weight.

So his weigh-in Thursday will garner as much interest as anything else this week.

Is he really under 5-foot-10? Has he really bulked up to 206?

Murray, Dwayne Haskins, Drew Lock, Daniel Jones and Ryan Finley all project as a solution to somebody's quarterback quandary despite the relative weakness of this year's QB class.

As usual, New England Patriots coach Bill Belichick isn't among the coaches and general managers who will meet with the media on the heels of his latest Super Bowl victory.

BROWN'S TOWN:

Where will Antonio Brown play next season? Don't count out Pittsburgh. Steelers general manager Kevin Colbert said he'd prefer to keep one of the league's top playmakers in Pittsburgh. If he does trade Brown, he'd rather deal him out of the AFC North.

"If a team comes through with the best compensation, we have to balance that out: OK, we're going to play him twice a year, but we're going to get the best compensation," Colbert said.

RAIDERS PLANS

Don't expect the Raiders to use one of their three first-round picks on a quarterback after Mayock's high praise of Derek Carr on Wednesday.

"I think it's really difficult to improve over a franchise quarterback like the one we have in our building right now," Mayock said.

ELWAY'S QB

For the first time in four years, Broncos GM John Elway attends the combine knowing who his quarterback will be. He has a trade in place with Baltimore for Joe Flacco.

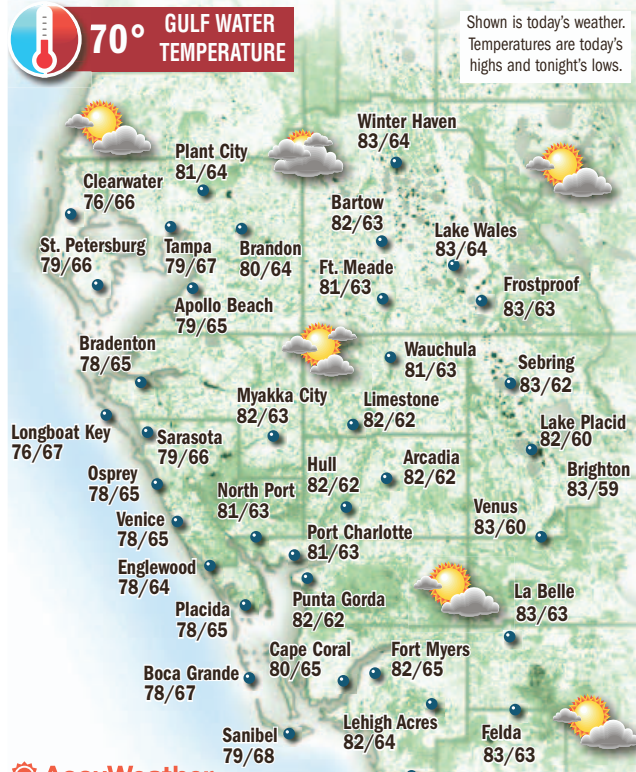

Just like last year, when the Chiefs had a deal pending that would send Alex Smith to Washington, the Broncos and Ravens are barred by NFL rules from discussing the matter, making for an awkward situation.

Seaaira Yiengst

PITCHER, PORT CHARLOTTE

Two games each had good milestones for Port Charlotte's Seaaira Yiengst, who kicked off her senior year with a bang. In a preseason win to start the week, Yiengst recorded her first career home run. She then followed that up in the season opener against DeSoto with a 2 for 3 performance with a triple and three RBIs in a 13-1 win. She also pitched five innings allowing only two hits and no earned runs with 11 strikeouts. "She did really well in our preseason game, so we gave her the ball," Port Charlotte coach Ryann Baker said. "I've talked about Seaaira's mound presence since she was a freshman. She's always been that way, she gets up there and finds her rhythm and finds her groove and we leave her alone."

Donovan Cataldi

WRESTLER, CHARLOTTE

Donovan Cataldi was one of eight Charlotte wrestlers to claim a district title last week, earning him Athlete of the Week honors. In the 120-pound weight class, defending state champ Cataldi is 42-4 on the year and defeated Palmetto's Colby Smith by pin in a minute. To get to the finals, he pinned Venice's Erik Beck in 2:47. He will wrestle for a region title on Friday. "I just had to go into districts, do my thing, get back to practice and work hard for the next week for regionals," Cataldi said.

 - 7 — Sales in thousands (10 = 10,000 shares), and closing price.
 - 8 — Last trading price of the day.
 - 9 — Percent change for the year.
- ▲▼ Arrows, indicate new highs or lows.
Underline: indicates top 100 stocks by volume rank.
Bold stocks, designates which stocks have gone up or down 5%.
