Island artists featured at annual art show

Article and photos by Sheila Gideon
Managing Editor

Island artists of all ages showed off their most impressive works at the annual Fall Arts Show at the Religious Education Building Oct. 25. Tables were full of pottery masterpieces, canvas paintings, fish prints, wooden signs and more.

The event was organized by Hobby Shop Coordinator, Denise Dorn, who also provided a table full of goodies that included cookies, cakes and coffee.

The event is held each year as an opportunity for island residents to see what can be created in the Hobby Shop. "Even on this small island, there is so much to do," Dorn commented. She views the Hobby Shop as a way to express yourself. Dorn, herself, prefers to create with clay. She loves to make pottery slabs and come up with new ideas that will inspire the other Hobby Shop users. She recently designed a set of Halloween-themed cups that became a popular item for Hobby Shop patrons. Dorn's intention as coordinator is to "inspire people and show them it's not hard [to do]," she said.

While some artists showed off their Hobby Shop creations, some also displayed art they created at their homes. Rose Wrobel featured a canvas painting of a duck, along with very unique Dia de los Muertos dolls. Kathy Skinner exhibited her handmade wooden signs with catchy island sayings.

For some artists, the Hobby Shop is a family affair. The Baldy and Weiland families had several pieces of art featured from various members. Marcus Weiland was most proud of his bright red Arkansas Razorbacks pottery slab, but also boasted of the pieces made by his children and wife.

Kwajalein Schools Art Teacher,

Evelyn Smith displays her wall planter along with other clay pieces at the art show Oct. 25.

Jane Woundy, said the Art Show was "so refreshing and healthy to see." While she often only sees the art work done by island children, she said it was nice for her to see their parents' work and where some of their artistic talents may come from. She also got the opportunity to see different types of art that she doesn't normally cover in her classes, such as batiks.

There are several special events scheduled for the Hobby Shop in the upcoming months. Check the Hourglass and Roller for information about an ornament painting class and the annual open house holiday party in December.

FC Swollen claim title of men's soccer champions for third time in five years

By Sheila Gideon
Managing Editor

The men's soccer league was smaller than usual this year, with only four teams competing; this included three adult teams and the Kwajalein Jr./Sr. High School Spartans varsity team. Each team squared off three times during the regular season before moving on to playoffs.

FC Swollen has developed a pattern of claiming the title of men's soccer champions on an every other year basis. In the last five years, FC Swollen won the championship game in 2009, 2011 and again this year, defeating team Juice in the championship game on Oct. 23.

There was a league rule change this year that dictated regular season games would no longer go into overtime play; this resulted in numerous tied games throughout the season, which is something rarely seen in Kwaj soccer.

Team Locals tied Juice twice before finally squeaking out a win the third time around. They met a fourth time in the playoffs. Juice must have received one heck of a pep talk from Sgt. Maj. Roderick Prioleau, who could easily be considered the biggest soccer enthusiast on island, coming out to cheer for all teams throughout the season. Juice rallied and executed exceptional play, crushing the Locals in a 5-2 upset.

League leaders FC Swollen competed against the fourth-place seeded Spartans for their playoff game. Spartans faced a unique Kwaj challenge: their coach, Kenny Leines, played on their opposing team. Spartans put up a good fight, led by top offensive players Keith Brady, Austin Wiley and the Wase brothers, JJ and Jared. In the end, coach Leines and his teammates showed no mercy and headed to the championship game with a 5-1 victory over the Spartans.

The championship game secured a large crowd of spectators, who remained eerily quiet throughout the first 10 minutes of the game. FC Swollen quickly changed that with two exciting goals in the first half. Forward Alex Coleman nailed a header into the back of the net off a bounce pass across the box. Only five minutes later, FC Swollen was awarded a direct kick outside the box after a foul by Juice. Coleman fed the ball to Leines, who got some serious air and scored a header goal of his own. FC Swollen's offense was led by Coleman, Leines and Rob Ewbank this season.

Juice bounced back after shouts of, "Let's dial it up, baby," from Prioleau on the sidelines. Jay Monnot did just that; he ran up from a defensive position, blew past two FC Swollen defenders to score Juice's first point of the game. Unfortunately, later in that same half, Monnot also accidentally scored a defensive goal, putting the score at 3-1 at halftime.

The second half started with a rain shower and the wet ball and grass seemed to slow play. Big kicks from both team's defense had the ball ping-ponging back and forth and play was sluggish with lots of off-side's calls. The exciting part of the second half was the defensive play by both teams. Each had several close calls due to slips in the mud, but they were able to keep the ball out of the net. Juice got some momentum back after a penalty kick was awarded due to an illegal slide tackle in the box. Juice's top scorer of the season, James Young, planted the ball in the corner of the net, out of reach of FC Swollen's goalie Nate Jones despite an energetic dive attempt to save it. The intensity of the game increased in the last 10 minutes of play. Players had no problem sacrificing their bodies to make a play. The excitement continued when Leines intercepted a goal kick and got off a quick shot. The game ended 4-2, and FC Swollen claimed the coveted coconut trophy for the men's league yet again.

Spartans defeat Go Green Gos, take home 2013 Coconut Trophy

Associate Editor

The Spartans defeated the Go Green Gos 3-2 Tuesday night, winning the 2013 Coed/Women's soccer championship and the right to take home this year's coconut trophy.

The first half started off under overcast skies in the Spartans' favor, with a mess of blue jerseys plying pressure deep in the green team's backfield. But several sloppy strikes from the Spartan offense and a number of other missed opportunities gave the Go Green Gos the time to gain their composure and settle themselves on the leader board.

The green team's Krystal Peterson broke the ice in the 17th minute, connecting with the ball 25 yards out and sending it sailing over goalie Dori DeBrum's head. Green team's Kaylee West was able to kick in a goal eight minutes later, putting the Go Green Gos ahead by two before the end of the half.

The second half began with a series of give-and-gos between the Spartans offense, giving the blue strikers a couple chances at the green goal. But an attempt that went wide right in the 33rd minute and a great save by Go Green Gos' Geraldine Turituri four minutes later upset both the Spartans players and their throng of fans chanting in support on the north bleachers.

It wasn't until the 42nd minute that the momentum began shifting against the women in the green jerseys. Lightyn Cossey connected with a goal, sending it out of reach of Turituri. A minute later, West was given a yellow card after knocking a Spartan player to the ground; it was the first foul called by the referees in 43 minutes of play.

Though the blue team's penalty kick failed, Annie Hepler finally kicked one in the net shortly after in the 49th minute, tying the score and sending the Spartan fans into a riot. Three minutes later, Cossey took advantage of a deflected strike that bounced away from Turituri and kicked it into the net, scoring her second goal and putting the Spartans ahead 3-2.

Several aggressive rushes by Peterson, West and Jane Erikson penetrated deep into the Spartan backfield soon after, forcing the ladies in blue to put up their best defense. But Green was never able to gain the last goal they needed to put the match into overtime. A final attempt by Peterson in the 59th minute was gobbled up by DeBrum, and shortly after the referees announced the end of the match.

The Spartans win Tuesday night gave the team its second consecutive championship title and earned the ladies their first undefeated season in at least five years. Though a few opposing squads managed to end matches in a tie along the way, not a single team was able to defeat the Spartans in 2013.

One explanation for the increased number of tied matches this year was the rule change that banned overtime minutes in regular season games, a measure meant to cut down on long, drawn-out games. Another peculiarity this season was the slim roster that each team had to deal with; because not as many signed up to play, teams consisted of nine players on the field instead of the traditional 10.

The overall playoff season played host to a few noteworthy upsets. One memorable moment was Coed I's defeat at the hands of Coed II—a squad that had not won a single game all season until then. The Go Green Gos' semi-final win over K.A.T., in which a penalty kick was awarded to Green in the last 15 seconds of double overtime, ended with considerable controversy.

Spartans I are crowned the women's soccer champs for the second year in a row.

Kwajalein was overrun last weekend by an array of superheroes, Draculas, princesses, giant rabbits and even a human-sized ice cream sandwich or two. An annual tradition, the island's residents donned some of the best Halloween costumes and threw some of the most entertaining parties this side of the Hawaiian islands. From the Country Club's Creepy Carn-evil to the Youth Center's Costume Carnival and the Halloween Bash at the Vet's Hall, there was something for everyone.

Here are a few highlights.

Domestic violence awareness month

By Ray Drefus
U.S. Army Resilience Trainer

Domestic Violence Awareness Month is an opportunity to inform service members, Department of Army civilians, contractors and all family members about domestic violence. Domestic violence is the willful intimidation, physical assault, battery, sexual assault or other abusive behavior perpetrated by an intimate partner against another. It is an epidemic affecting individuals in every community, regardless of age, economic status, race, religion, nationality or educational background. Violence against women is often accompanied by emotionally abusive and controlling behavior, and thus is part of a systematic pattern of dominance and control. Domestic violence results in physical injury, psychological trauma and sometimes death. The consequences of domestic violence can cross generations and truly last a lifetime.

Did you know?:

- One in every four women will experience domestic violence in her lifetime.
- An estimated 1.3 million women are victims of physical assault by an intimate partner each year.
- Historically, victims have most often been targeted by someone they knew.
- Victims who are 20-24 years of age are at the greatest risk of nonfatal intimate partner violence.
- Most cases of domestic violence are never reported to the police.

What can you do if you are a victim of domestic violence? Report it to the Provost Marshall Office, Kwajalein Police Department, Employee Assistance Program director, chaplain or your health care provider.

For more information, call the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-7233.

KWAJALEIN SCHOOL Advisory Council meeting is at 7 p.m., Nov. 20, in the Elementary School Coconut Room. The public is invited to attend.

ALL BLOCKED CACs will now be handled by the Central Patrol Station. This will allow us to better service the community as the officers will be available for unlocks 24/7. The CAC Office will be issuing cards by appointment only. You can find a link to the CAC Scheduler under Security and Access Control on the USAG-KA intranet.

UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE, the Pharmacy window will be open from 12:45-4:30 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday. Prescriptions can be dropped off in the pharmacy door or call 53406 and leave a message. For any urgent matters, speak with your doctor or nurse.

INTERESTED IN A new start? Talk with Pastor Kevin if you are interested in being baptized or having your child baptized. A baptism service will be held at 6 p.m., Nov. 18, at Emon Beach. All are invited. Call the chapel at 53505 with questions.

BEE STINGS have become our number one injury, with a total of 16 injuries reported so far during 2013. Be aware of stinging insects at areas of low activity and under benches, trees and overhangs. Be aware if you are allergic to stings. They are attracted to fruits, sweets, foods, beverages and garbage cans. Report locations of bee stings and wasp nest sightings for treatment at 53550.

IT IS HIGHLY recommended to use flashlights during the period between dusk and dawn. The use of lights is required south of 9th Street.

SMALL BOAT MARINA is now operating winter hours. Hours will be: 12:45-6 p.m., Friday; 7:30 a.m.-6 p.m., Saturday, Sunday, Monday and holidays.

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES is now accepting equipment rental reservations for 2014. If you have a party planned, a club event or some other special celebration, come by CA to make your reservation. Payment is required prior to reservations being confirmed. There are limited tents, tables, chairs and grills available, so plan and reserve early! Note: If there is a small craft advisory or winds above 20 knots, tent rentals are subject to cancellation.

E-TALK: Defacing of historic structures is prohibited by USAKA/RTS Regulation 200-4 and, if caught, can lead to the perpetrator receiving administrative disciplinary action.

SAFELY SPEAKING: 5S is a workplace organization method. The last S is to sustain. Simply put, it is to continue to repeat the first four S's.

Divers carve pumpkins in lagoon

Hourglass Reports

Kwajalein Scuba Club President John Pennington organized and hosted the 2013 Underwater Pumpkin Carving contest on Monday. Event staff included diving instructors Jeremy Owens and Keith Huston, who monitored the safety aspects of the event. Junior divers John Tippetts and Chelsea Engelhard also supported the event, helping with tanks.

Over two dozen people came out to participate. Non-diving family members came out to help carry gear, take photos, snorkel above the carvers and just to enjoy the day together. Twelve pumpkin carvers entered the water to shape their gourds into works of art. For many divers, this was their first experience carving a pumpkin underwater.

Divers and families were treated to a BBQ lunch while the judges poured over the carved pumpkin entries.

Each of the junior scuba divers ages 10-15 were honored for their participation.

Bronwyn and Ian Galbraith, Elise Hebert and Tippetts were awarded a KSC T-shirt or towel. Part of KSC's mission is to promote diving, and young divers participating in events with their family sure lends to that goal.

The awards didn't stop there. The Hebert family were big winners again this year with their entry of 'Noni the Wicked Witch of the Water' which took judges' favorite and earned two $50 gift certificates. First-time participant Joseph Dye and his four-time pumpkin carving veteran father Mark won the au natural category, which scored them a $25 gift certificate and KSC hooded sweatshirt.

Carvers Lacy Baldy, Mike and Tracy McConnell, Dr. Paulette Galbraith, Dr. Gilbert Ghearing and a few others also walked away with gift certificates for their contest entries.

Be sure to look for the upcoming KSC 2013 Underwater Turkey Hunt organized by KSC Safety and Training Officer Doug Hepler.
