BIRDS BLOWN FROM ATLANTA.

A BAKING SCROUSE OF THE GREAT CATASTROPHIC ERECTION.

Yesterday morning a building, or rather a group of buildings, was destroyed in the Funeral City of Atlanta. It was not the first time that such a calamity has befallen the city, and it is not the last time that it will befall. The city is a large one, and it is therefore not surprising that it should have a large number of buildings.

The buildings destroyed yesterday were the Atlanta Hotel, the City Hotel, and the County Jail. They were all burned to the ground, and the fire was so intense that it was impossible to save anything.

The Atlanta Hotel was the largest and most important of the buildings destroyed. It was the home of many of the people of the city, and it was the scene of much business. The hotel was well known for its fine dining room, and it was a favorite place of resort for the people of the city.

The City Hotel was also a large and important building. It was the home of many of the people of the city, and it was a favorite place of resort for the people of the city. The hotel was well known for its fine dining room, and it was a favorite place of resort for the people of the city.
