Frontage roads in Pasco County?

By Kathy Steele
ksteele@lakerlutznews.com

A citizen's task force looking for traffic remedies for congested intersections of State Road 54 and State Road 56 has put together a mix of options, including a bypass consisting of parallel frontage roads.

The recommendations are focused primarily on two intersections on State Road 54 at Little Road, and at U.S. 41.

However, the 17-member volunteer task force also looked more broadly at major intersections along the entire corridor from U.S. 19 on the west to Bruce B. Downs Boulevard on the east.

The parallel frontage roads are part of a proposal put forth by Jacksonville engineer Greg Parsons. It was a privately presented option at a task force meeting, and not part of the task force's initial list of 11 highway and transit alternatives and a no-build option.

Task force members whittled down the list at a meeting on Nov. 30 in Land O' Lakes. During the year, the task force had three public meetings, and a workshop.

The Pasco County Metropolitan Planning Organization will meet Jan. 11 to consider the recommendations.

"The MPO will have to look at these and give the final say," said Ali Atefi, transportation engineer with the MPO.

Once the MPO's board determines a course of action, additional study on a road design will move forward in 2018. The focus will be only on the U.S. 41 and State Road 54 intersection.

The Florida Department of Transportation has money for additional study on that intersection, but no funding is available for the Little Road intersection, Atefi said.

Other task force recommendations included:

- Elevated express lanes at major intersections, with express lanes at-grade elsewhere, and bus service in the express lanes.

- No-build

At the U.S. 41 intersection, the task force also recommended an elevated lane combined with dedicated lanes for bus or rail and a continuous flow intersection.

The continuous flow intersection relies on turn lanes to keep traffic flowing.

2017 had it all: A sinkhole, Hurricane Irma, wildfires and floods

But, it also was a year of significant growth, notable achievements and touching moments, too.

By B.C. Manion
bcmansion@lakerlutznews.com

It's not often that Land O' Lakes makes the international news, but it did just that in July when a massive sinkhole swallowed two homes in Lake Padgett Estates.

Then, just a few months later in September, the world's attention turned to Florida as a potential category 5 Hurricane Irma appeared heading straight toward Tampa Bay.

The year also was marked by severe flooding and wildfires in Pasco County.

It also was a year for the changing of the guard, as Dan Biles was named Pasco County's administrator to replace Michele Baker, who retired.

Scores of headlines during 2017 involved stories about the area's congested roadways — and projects that are planned, underway or being discussed to improve traffic flow.

Major road projects that have begun or are planned include improvements to Interstate 75 and state roads 54 and 52. A four-lane extension of State Road 56, between Wesley Chapel and Zephyrhills, is also under construction.

Another improvement, known as the diverging diamond, is planned to improve traffic flow at I-75 and State Road 56.

And, discussions continue over the best ways to reduce congestion at U.S. 41 and State Road 54, an intersection that handles roughly 100,000 vehicles per day.

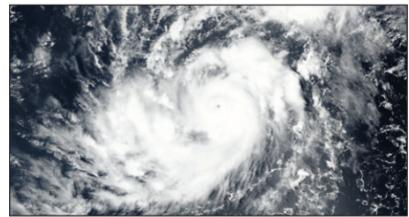

The county also appears to be making progress in its quest to secure a permit for the extension of Ridge Road, a project it has been seeking for nearly two decades. While the project can't come soon enough for supporters, its detractors remain steadfast in their opposition.

INCREASING TRAFFIC IS A SYMPTOM OF PASCO'S ROBUST GROWTH

Housing developments, retail projects, restaurants, businesses and medical facilities are sprouting up on land previously occupied by citrus groves, farms and cattle ranches.

Zephyrhills now has a permanent venue for community events, such as the Z' Hills BBQ & Blues Fest, a popular event, which features blues bands and tasty barbecue.

With its sustained wind speeds of 185 mph, Hurricane Irma was deemed to be one of the strongest hurricanes to hit the Atlantic.

This is an aerial view of a giant sinkhole that developed in Lake Padgett Estates, swallowing two homes and causing several others to be condemned.

Andre Pamplona, general manager for Royal Lanes, said the closing of a bowling alley has an impact on the community. Royal Lanes, which opened in the 1970s turned off the lights for the final time in May.

New schools continue to pop up, or expand, too.

In August, Pasco County Schools opened Bexley Elementary, in the Bexley subdivision off State Road 54 in Land O' Lakes and Cypress Creek Middle High School, off Old Pasco Road, in Wesley Chapel. In the coming year, it plans to begin construction of Cypress Creek Middle School.

Also, on the same campus, the school district and Pasco-Hernando State College plan to operate a new performing arts center. That center will be built by the college with $15.5 million in state funds, but both the school district and the college will use it as a teaching facility.

Meanwhile, the school district continues massive renovation projects at Land O' Lakes High School and at Woodland Elementary School in Zephyrhills.

More public school projects are expected, as funding for school construction gets a boost from increased school impacts fees adopted by the Pasco County Commission that will begin being phased in on Jan. 1.

On the private school front, North Tampa Christian Academy is expected to begin operations in Wesley Chapel in the fall of 2018.

Design work to start on $15.5 million PHSC performing arts center

By B.C. Manion
bcmansion@lakerlutznews.com

Design work is expected to get underway soon on a Pasco-Hernando State College performing arts center that is planned for the Cypress Creek Middle High School campus, off Old Pasco Road.

The $15.5 million project will be built by the state college, but both the college and Pasco County Schools plan to use the facility for educational programming.

Additionally, Pasco County Schools is planning to begin construction on Pasco County Middle School, which is scheduled to open in August of 2020.

"We're designing the middle school, with the performing arts in mind," said Ray Gadd, deputy superintendent of Pasco County Schools.

"We're going to have some dance rooms at the middle school. We'll have a black box theater at the middle school. We'll have a chorus room. We'll have an orchestra room," he said.

"Sometimes the college might be in our middle school at night, using the black box theater, and we might be in the new performing arts center, using the stage," Gadd said.

Harvard Jolly — the architect for the middle school project — also has been selected to do the performing arts center, said Tony Rivas, PHSC's associate vice president

Pasco reviewing lawsuit proposal linked to opioid epidemic

By Kathy Steele
ksteele@lakerlutznews.com

More than 15 years ago, a landmark settlement against tobacco companies netted billions of dollars for plaintiffs who sued over smoking-related illnesses.

The nation's opioid epidemic may be headed in that same direction.

And, the Pasco County Commission is mulling a proposal to join a growing number of governments that are seeking to recoup public dollars spent battling opioid addictions.

At a Dec. 5 workshop in New Port Richey, Pensacola-based attorney Jeff Gaddy laid out a case for why Pasco should join the legal fray.

County commissioners made no commitment, but accepted a proposal for review.

"We'll make a decision down the road,"

Monday hours at Land O' Lakes library a hit

By Kathy Steele
ksteel@lakerlutznews.com

Residents are counting the ways that make Monday visits to the Land O' Lakes Branch Library special.

They are using computers and taking wood shop lessons; reducing stress with tai chi and yoga; learning techniques for light painting photography; clicking needles in knitting classes; and just using the extra time to browse the bookshelves for a favorite read.

Gail Fowler is just one of the library patrons who is enjoying the restored Monday hours of 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

She's a fan of the library's Internet access. She said she and her family use library computers for "just about everything," including emails and searching the Web.

Before the hours were recently restored, library hours had fallen victim to the 2008 economic crash, and the ensuing shrinking budgets in the county.

Now, over the next three years as budgets allow, the goal is to restore library hours countywide to the 2008 standard of 40 hours a week per library.

It has taken a decade to begin reversing previous cuts.

The fiscal year 2018 budget, which began on Oct. 1, restored Monday hours for the Land O' Lakes library and the Regency Park Branch Library in New Port Richey.

As word spreads, "we're starting to increase the number of people that are coming," said Kathleen Rothstein, Land O' Lakes branch manager. "It's great to offer additional night hours and a day."

The library also is open on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

On a recent Monday, teenagers did homework or got tutoring in the three study rooms at the library.

A teen photography class on how to do painting with light launched on Monday, and quickly filled up.

"We're hoping to turn it into a club, where they can acquire some fun skills," said Danielle Cram, teen services librarian.

Artist Anjana Thapa Paudel volunteers to teach painting and drawing skills to children.

About a half-dozen students worked on a Monday night on a Christmas-based theme sketch.

KATHY STEELE

Ash Paudel, 13, works on a Christmas-themed sketch at a painting class for children taught by his mother, Anjana Thapa Paudel. About a half-dozen children came to the class, held on a Monday evening at Land O' Lakes Branch Library.

Thapa Paudel also teaches knitting at the library's Foundry.

"We made Santa pants this month," she said.

Volunteer Tom Cassidy helped library patron, Gene McDaniel, make a bowl, on a Monday morning in the library's maker-space, in the Foundry room.

It can get tricky to get the finer points right, Cassidy said. Sometimes, bowls end up with holes in the bottom and become funnels, he added.

McDaniel is a "snow bird" from Ohio, but when he's in Pasco County, he likes to hang out at the Land O' Lakes library and make things.

The library's Monday hours means that he can do that more often.

"Now, I just come here and have fun," McDaniel said.

His wife comes sometimes, too. McDaniel said she'd probably like to make a fancy French rolling pin.

Ray Penn worked on a couple of wood toys he planned to give as Christmas presents.

"I did this in high school," said the retired truck driver. "It works out. I come here and kill three or four days."

For information on dates and times for scheduled library events at Land O' Lakes and other branch libraries, visit PascoCountyLibraries.org.

Woman's club honors Pat Wagner

The GFWC Lutz-Land O' Lakes Woman's Club has chosen Pat Wagner as its Clubwoman of the Year. Wagner, a retired educator, has worked on behalf of the club's Education Committee and now serves as its chair. Knowing firsthand of school budget constraints, Wagner has reached out to our communities' neediest schools to see how the woman's club can best assist teachers and students with donated classroom supplies, backpacks, student school supplies and clothing. Also, with Wagner's leadership, the club provided and delivered a bountiful Christmas to more than 13 area student families in need. Pat Wagner, right, accepts a commemorative plaque from Karin D' Amico, club president, who was re-elected to serve a second consecutive term in office.

Community gardening coming to Dade City

By B.C. Manion
bcmanion@lakerlutznews.com

Two new community gardens will be coming soon to Dade City.

The University of Florida/Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences Pasco County Extension Office will be establishing community gardens with the help of the City of Dade City, the Pasco County Commission and private donors.

Members of the community will be able to grow their own produce in free garden plots, according to Whitney C. Elmore, Pasco County Extension director and urban horticulture agent.

The gardens will be located at Watson Park, which is at North and Main avenues, between 17th and 19th streets, and on the land surrounding the Stallings Building, at 15029 14th St.

The Dade City Watson Park Community Garden is being made possible with support from Dade City Mayor Camille Hernandez, the Dade City Commission and UF/IFAS, Elmore said. This is a new land use agreement model piloted between the University of Florida and a municipality, she added.

The Stallings Building Urban Farm has been made possible through the recently passed Pasco County Urban Agriculture Ordinance, the cooperation of Pasco County Commission and the guidance of Assistant County Administrator Cathy Pearson, Elmore added.

Many private citizens and companies also donated items and equipment to make these new ventures possible, according to Eden Santiago-Gomez, community gardens program assistant at the extension office.

The Dade City Watson Park Community Garden will host more than 30 community plots of varying sizes, including wheelchair-accessible and senior-accessible raised beds. All plots and beds will be available to lease free of charge on a first-come, first-served basis to the surrounding community.

Educator plots also will be available, so students on school field trips can engage and interact with all things gardening.

Lessons will be taught, on site, by the UF/IFAS Pasco County Extension faculty and staff on topics such as gardening 101, good bugs/bad bugs, gardening for nutrition, composting, rain water harvesting, fertilizers, eating on a budget, and making your own healthy snacks, Elmore added.

Garden tours also will be available to the public in the future by Pasco Master Gardeners and Horticulture staff.

A planting party will be held to commemorate the first community garden in Dade City. The party will be on Jan. 12, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., at the Dade City Watson Park Community Garden. The public is invited to share the afternoon with Dade City officials, local leaders and members of the community.

The Stallings Building Urban Farm will feature more than 50 8-foot-by-8-foot community plots and six raised wheelchair-accessible beds, all available for the community to lease, free of charge on a first-come, first-served basis. The rest of the area will be farmed by the UF/IFAS Pasco County Extension Office's Community Gardens Program. All food grown in that area of the Urban Farm will be donated to local food pantries initially. At some point, the hope is to offer a monthly farm stand or possibly Community Supported Agriculture to benefit the local community, Santiago-Gomez said.

Numerous gardening techniques will be utilized at this site (from traditional row cropping to permaculture design techniques) as educational demonstrations for county residents during various classes, to be offered in the near future.

Both gardens are located in the low-income communities of Dade City, and are aimed at helping local community members learn to grow their own food.

This will give local community members access to fresh fruits and vegetables, in what is currently a food desert. Additionally, money saved on grocery bills, by growing much of the produce needed for a family, can be redirected to other areas of everyday life, Elmore said.

Citizens can sign up now for a free garden plot at either of these locations and start gardening. Please contact Eden Santiago-Gomez at esantiagomez@pascocountyfl.net or (352) 518-0156 to reserve your free plot.

Asturia Wins Awards at Builder's Masquerade Ball

Asturia, a Hines Community located in Odessa, recently won Best Logo for a Developer and Best Online Digital Ad for a Developer at the Tampa Bay Builders Association's annual Sales and Marketing Awards of Excellence competition.

The sold-out masquerade ball was held at the beautifully restored Floridan Palace Hotel in downtown Tampa. Tables were elaborately decorated with candelabras, feathers and flowers, and guests wore festive masquerade masks. A strolling musician played a glowing violin as she walked around the grand ballroom.

Carla Luigs, marketing specialist for Asturia, accepts an award from Claudette Kelsey at the recent Awards of Excellence competition of the Sales and Marketing Council of the Tampa Bay Builders Association.

Ashton Wood's new model, the Suwanee, features a spacious gourmet kitchen.

ASTURIA'S BUILDERS

Ashton Woods, David Weekley Homes and ICI Homes are Asturia's exclusive builders. All have model homes open daily.

Ashton Woods' newest model home is the Suwanee — a new floor plan for the builder — that offers a fabulous kitchen/great room concept. The one-story home features a two-car garage at the rear of the home and boasts four bedrooms, three baths and a spacious front porch. Total square footage is 2,200 square feet. Pricing begins at $274,990.

Ashton Woods has also recently completed its Lincoln showcase home, which is move-in ready. This 2,368-square-foot home is two stories and features a spacious family room that flows seamlessly into the kitchen, and its large center island and upgraded granite countertops.

ICI Homes is the community's newest builder, and is opening its fully decorated Serena model in late January, with a grand opening weekend of Jan. 27-28. Refreshments will be provided, and a $500 gift card raffle will be held for those attending.

The Serena is a four-bedroom, three-bath home with 2,217 square feet. It features a large gathering room, spacious gourmet kitchen and an owner's suite with a master bath that leads into a large, double entry, walk-in closet. The Serena has a two-car garage and begins at $329,900.

Cornerstone brings you safe, crystal clear water for your family

Plus, refined water that prevents scaling and doubles the life of appliances

Many people take for granted the water in their home — both working water used for taking showers and washing clothes, and drinking water for making coffee and ice cubes.

It's not until their showerheads become corroded with mineral build up, or their ice cubes look cloudy, do many families consider a water treatment and purification system for their home.

Unfortunately, by the time they do, the damage often has already been done to home appliances, faucets and grout which have become pitted, scratched, stained and may even require replacement.

The good news is that all of these symptoms of poor water quality can be resolved with a quality home water system that pays for itself in just a few years. Refined water also extends the life of a hot water heater because less sediment is deposited in the tank.

Like many of her customers, Dana Spears, owner of Cornerstone Air Conditioning, Plumbing & Electrical in Land O' Lakes, also waited too long before installing a water treatment and purification system in her home.

A wife and mother of five children, Dana and her husband, James, built a new home four years ago.

"We didn't think to put in a water system them, and that was a huge mistake because today my beautiful, expensive kitchen and bathroom faucets are pitted and scratched, my grout is cracking and there is so much corrosion in my dishwasher that we need to replace it," said Dana.

Cornerstone's Plumbing Department has always offered water treatment, but Dana found a real need to expand this area for her customers.

"Not only did my family home need a water system, but many of our customers were also inquiring about what system was best for their home," said Dana.

Dana and her team researched dozens of manufacturers and systems, and selected Westinghouse because of its effectiveness, efficiency and 10-year guarantee.

"Westinghouse also offered Cornerstone exclusivity, which means we are the only plumbing company in the area that can sell their exceptional water systems," said Dana.

The Westinghouse Progressive Revolution Series works 24 hours a day delivering clean, soft working water to the entire house. Its refined water makes clothes and linens softer and brighter, and kitchen and bathroom faucets and showerheads become free of water spots, soap scum and scaling that restricts water flow.

For drinking water, the Westinghouse system delivers fresh, purified water on demand from a special faucet installed at the kitchen sink. Its technology removes nearly all of the contaminants in city water, and leaves nothing but pure, clean, fresh tasting water.

"If you're buying bottled water, you can stop. And if you're relying on faucet or refrigerator filters, this gives your family a much higher level of purity," said Dana. "Essentially, you get unlimited bottled water — just think how much money you will save because you will no longer need to buy bottled water!"

As sediment builds up, it doesn't take long for water coming from a faucet that is not treated first by a purification system to taste like minerals and even look a bit cloudy. Many families spend $20 or more on bottled water for their family a week, Dana explains.

Cornerstone also installs water treatment and purification systems for homes on well water. Well water is tested for iron, bacteria and other elements, and the system custom designed to meet the specific needs of a family's well.

The Westinghouse system can be installed same day or next in most homes with city water, especially in newer homes that are pre-plumbed for a water treatment system. Homes

Why Refined Water?

Pure, clean, fresh tasting water. The purification process removes nearly all of the contaminants in your city or well water and gives you a limitless supply of higher quality drinking water.

Save money: Pure, crystal clear water from your faucet means you can stop buying bottled water for your home.

No hard water spots and soap residue: Glassware comes straight from the dishwasher, crystal clear. The same goes for stemware and flatware.

Soft skin after shaving and bathing: Rinses away all soap and cleaning products completely, leaving you with soft manageable skin and hair. Razorblades last longer and you can shave you closer.

Water becomes a powerful solvent - all by itself. Refined water will lift stains and clean surfaces, plus eliminate tough stains brought on by your old harsh water. Refined water also reduces the time it takes to clean your home, and also the need for harsh and sometimes toxic cleaners.

on a well may take up to two weeks for the testing and installation to be completed

Cornerstone's licensed plumbers are trained by Westinghouse and are certified to install its systems. Every installation is different, and all are integrated with the home's water system. All work is guaranteed and under warranty for a full year.

Cornerstone was founded in 2006 as an air conditioning service company. In 2012, it expanded into plumbing services, and two years later added electrical services. Its phones are answered 24/7, and technicians are available around the clock, including weekends and holidays.

A More Organized Home for the New Year

Interior upgrades can make a big impact to the style and comfort of your home. They should also last a long time — even for a busy household with lots of foot traffic.

After the hectic holidays, it's no surprise that many people commit to becoming better organized in the new year.

There are plenty of reasons why people obsess over organization and resolve to master it. Organization makes household items easier to find, and rooms suddenly seem bigger and more welcoming. And, when you walk past a tidy linen closet, which was once an avalanche waiting to spill forward, you feel a great sense of accomplishment.

Whether you're after new storage solutions, or just looking to cut clutter, successful organization begins with a thoughtful approach.

THINK SMALL

While it's fun to dream about a large-scale organization reset, smaller sustainable actions are key to lasting change. Take it one room, or even one drawer at a time, to keep momentum positive and to avoid feeling overwhelmed.

This also allows you to focus, leading to more creative solutions for taking advantage of under-utilized areas. For example, you may find using over-the-door organizers a great way to free up space in home offices and craft rooms.

SAY "NO" TO CLUTTER

Everyone has items they keep around that aren't particularly meaningful or serve a purpose. Being able to objectively identify these items makes everything easier.

Paring down possessions doesn't have to be painful. That cardinal-shaped cookie jar that you've always been on the fence about? It would make an incredibly thoughtful "just because" gift for an ornithology-obsessed aunt. Often, less can literally be more: Consignment shops and eBay make it easy to turn four or five pieces of furniture you "kind of like" into one piece you absolutely love.

STORE DÉCORWISELY

Everyone loves holiday decorating. Taking down decorations afterward... not so much. It's difficult to preserve items in a haphazard collection of cardboard boxes, plastic bags and mismatched bins, all crammed into the corner of a garage. Stepping up storage containers can make a big difference. For a wide selection of storage solutions specifically designed for holiday décor, check out ImprovementsCatalog.com, which offers everything from ornament and gift wrap organizers, to wreath and garland storage bags, and more.

MAKE A PLAN

Create a schedule so nothing is overlooked. Knowing which project is next gives you time to prepare and purchase any storage items you might need. When scheduling, designate specific rooms and spaces for certain seasons. For example, the first warm days of spring are perfect for cleaning out the shed or garage.

Successful resolutions are essentially new habits that become part of a lifestyle. Deliberately choosing to incorporate small acts of organization on a daily basis will pay off tremendously throughout the year.

Celebrate the Holiday Season With Sparkling Wine

With New Year celebrations almost here, it's a good time look for sparkling wines that go hand-in-hand with this special time of year.

One Cava producer offering top-quality sparkling wines is Poema. Its wines are made from sustainably farmed grapes, and are available at affordable prices. The Poema Cava Brut is a fine choice for cocktail hour, and retails at just $12.99. Its fresh citrus and granny smith apple aromas are a good match with light tapas, oysters and seafood.

Zephyrhills Mayor Gene Whitfield presented the R.B. Stewart Middle School football team with a proclamation on Dec. 15, in recognition of the team's winning 41 consecutive football games and seven conference titles.

The Bulldogs were joined by other student athletes, cheerleaders, band members, school and district staff, for the presentation. USA Football shows that only five high schools in the country have more consecutive wins, and one has the same number of wins as Stewart Middle School.

GULF TRACE HOLIDAY CHEER

Santa Claus and Gulf Trace Elementary School volunteers shared holiday cheer and gifts with students Dec. 22.

Along with members of a women's golf league, Santa and volunteer Shirley Bates delivered gifts to each Head Start prekindergarten class.

FRONTIER CHALLENGE WINNERS

Frontier Communications honored the winners of the "Florida State Frontier Challenge" business case study competition during the school's homecoming halftime show.

Senior David Walsh and junior Matthew Young received medals and prize money for placing first in the competition.

The annual competition provides students the chance to solve real-world challenges facing the telecommunications industry. This year, students were asked to help Frontier create new and original ways to engage millennial customers.

The process included written plans presented by students and in-person interviews in front of a panel of nine judges.

After presentations, teams had a chance to sit down with Frontier executives and discuss their ideas.

The association records ancestral information and keeps production records and genomic data on individual animals to develop industry-leading selection tools for its members.

The programs and services of the association help members to advance the beef cattle business by selecting the best animals for their herds and marketing quality genetics for the beef cattle industry and quality beef for consumers.

Also, for major intersections along the entire corridor, the task force recommended elevated express lanes, with at-grade express lanes elsewhere, as well as dedicated bus or rail lanes and continuous flow.

These recommendations are intended to provide a permanent fix for traffic jams. But, in the interim, the state transportation department is preparing a temporary fix for U.S. 41 and State Road 54.

The intersection is one of the busiest in Pasco County, with about 100,000 vehicles passing through daily.

More than $752,000 is budgeted in 2018 for design work on a project to lengthen some turn lanes at the intersection for a better traffic flow. Construction is expected in 2019.

The state transportation department also has budgeted about $32 million to purchase right-of-way for whichever alternative project is selected for the major re-do of the intersection.

The task force could be asked to meet again in 2018 for additional discussions.

for facilities management and administrative services.

Creative Contractors has been selected as the construction management firm, Gadd said.

Both Creative Contractors and Harvard Jolly have experience with performing arts center projects, Rivas said.

The architect will be holding design charrettes with the users in January and February, to discuss design considerations.

The design must take into account the users' needs, budget and state regulations for educational facilities, Gadd and Rivas said.

It also must consider how spaces interact with each other, Rivas said.

"You want to get certain things close to certain things, and you want to not necessarily be in proximity for other things because of noise levels or distractions. Those things come into play," Rivas explained.

The arts center will be a teaching facility, but there's also a desire to have a facility that can be used as a public venue, too, Gadd said.

Initially, the goal was to secure about $60 million in funding for a performing arts facility that would have accommodated about 3,500 seats, Gadd said. Actual funding came in at $15.5 million, which means the center will be much smaller.

Gadd said he hopes the new center will have a stage large enough to accommodate an orchestra. "If you have a stage that can hold an orchestra, then it can hold anything," he said.

Construction is not likely to begin for about a year.

The college is in charge of construction, but the school district is providing about 5.5 acres for the site.

Lots of details regarding cost-sharing for operations and shared use of facilities still need to be worked out, Gadd added.

Betsy Kuhn, assistant superintendent for support services, said the school district plans to offer curriculum such as digital design courses, lighting, production, cinematography and traditional arts programs for students who are interested in the performing arts.

Rivas noted that that it's very early in the process, but as things progress, information about the project will be shared in a number of venues to keep lines of communication open. For instance, the construction manager will have a website that will have progress photos and different milestone events.

"We have to be attuned to the fact that we are in the community. We're going to keep that awareness and sensitivity, and always try to be a good neighbor," Rivas said.

Creative Contractors has extensive experience in building performing arts centers — both professional and educational, said Joshua Bomstein, president of the Clearwater-based company.

"We're finishing the Tampa Theatre renovation right now. We did the complete renovation of the Capitol Theatre in downtown Clearwater. We've done all of the work at Ruth Eckerd Hall in Clearwater," he said.

His company also did the Clearwater High School performing arts building, the performing arts building at Manatee High School, and the performing arts auditorium at Generations Christian Church in Trinity.

Bomstein is excited about the new project.

"This is going to be phenomenal facility. I predict and promise that," he said.

said Pasco County Commission Chairman Mike Wells. "We know it's an epidemic."

If approved, legal action would be taken on a contingency basis, with Pasco paying no upfront costs and only paying attorneys in the event of a settlement.

Pasco County Sheriff Chris Nocco, who attended the workshop, favors the lawsuit.

"This is a pill epidemic that didn't have to happen," he said.

Every deputy now carries a supply of Narcan, the brand name for naloxone. The medication can be used to reverse the effects of an opioid overdose.

Nocco said 40 people "have been brought back" by deputies and first responders administering Narcan.

Gaddy's firm is among seven law firms litigating the issue in states including West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky.

The group has about 120 clients in more than 10 states, and to date has filed more than 80 lawsuits. Some lawsuits could eventually be consolidated into a single lawsuit.

"We are without a doubt the national leader in this litigation," Gaddy said.

The lawsuits are filed against drug distributors and manufacturers. They allege false claims about the safety of opioids and a massive pill distribution that created a "public nuisance," he said. "They should be held accountable for it."

Distributors are required by law to report suspicious orders to the federal Drug Enforcement Administration. But, Gaddy said those rules have been violated.

He cited reports from West Virginia that 780 million pills were distributed over six years in a state with about 1.8 million people.

"It was off the chart by any stretch of the imagination," Gaddy said.

There are about 800 drug distributors, but Gaddy said three major distributors typically have been named as defendants in lawsuits. They are Cardinal Health, McKesson Corp., and Amerisource-Bergen.

The goal is to force plaintiffs to establish abatement funds that would pay for the drug damages to communities through education programs in schools, costs to law enforcement, and funds to support drug prevention and addiction recovery programs.

Gaddy said, "There is no county in the nation with enough beds to handle the flood of victims of their pills."

And, a charter school also has announced its intentions to open in Wesley Chapel in 2019, but has not identified its location yet.

The year also signaled changes on the spiritual scene across the region, too.

Van Dyke Church in Lutz changed its name to Bay Hope and expanded the scope of its mission. North Pointe Church settled into its first permanent home in Lutz, and the Episcopal Church announced its intentions to branch into Wesley Chapel.

The region also added to its list of amenities during the past year.

In Wesley Chapel, the 150,000-square-foot Florida Hospital Center Ice opened in January, with its Olympic-size rink, three National Hockey League-size rinks and one junior rink. Several rinks can easily be converted to accommodate basketball, soccer, lacrosse, volleyball and events such as corporate meetings, and parties.

In Land O' Lakes, the Heritage Park Stage opened, off of U.S. 41. The project, which was years in the making, has already become a popular gathering spot for community events.

Starkey Park District Park also opened in Land O' Lakes, off State Road 54.

Meanwhile, across the county, Zephyrhills added a permanent venue for community events, such as Pigz in Z'Hills, a popular barbecue and blues event.

A TIME OF MILESTONES AND TRANSITIONS

While new construction made the news, 2017 was also a year of big milestones, including R.B. Cox Elementary School's 90th birthday, in Dade City, and the Dade City Garden Club's 70th anniversary.

But, it was also the year that Royal Lanes, a community fixture in Lutz since the 1970s for bowling leagues and birthday parties, turned out the lights for the final time in May.

On a more personal level, the region mourned the loss of some of its biggest champions, including Eddie Herrmann of San Antonio, Roy T. Hardy of Dade City and Ray Mason of Land O' Lakes. All three men were known for their deep commitment to civic causes.

Others — who captured headlines for their excellence — included Margaret Polk, the Odyssey of the Mind team from Wesley Chapel Elementary School, and Courtney Urban, a volunteer for Gulfside Hospice who received a national award for her volunteer work.

Polk, a school nurse at Pasco High School, was named the Florida Association of School Nurses' 2017

School Nurse of the Year.

Wesley Chapel Elementary School's "Catch Us If You Can" team, finished first in the Odyssey of the Mind World Finals held in May at Michigan State University. Members of the team were Jake Piller, Sam Cappelluti, Isabell Barrios, Mina Melaika, Rowan Heyman, Jason Sherman and Justin Acosta. Teachers Veronica Acosta and Janet Heyman coached the team.

And, Urban, who initially began volunteering at Gulfside's Thrift Shoppe in Lutz so she could hang out with her grandmother, went on to serve the organization in a variety of roles.

And then, there were the people who simply extended themselves to help others.

There was Elaine Pittman, a Lutz gardener in her 80s, who nurtures plant cuttings to create plants, which she sells to raise money for Christian Social Services, an organization that provides food for people who are hungry.

And, there was Whitney C. Elmore, who oversees Pasco County Extension.

Elmore reached out to help Frogmore Fresh Farm, outside of Dade City, after Hurricane Irma uprooted and toppled about 100,000 blueberry bushes. Elmore got the ball rolling, but hundreds of volunteers responded — stepping forward to help the farm.

Two Boy Scouts also made a difference in the communities where they live.

Michael Valenti of Lutz and Gabe Vega of Land O' Lakes each spearheaded Eagle Scout projects.

Valenti spruced up the Lutz Memorial Park in Lutz, and Vega created a Rosary Garden at Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Church in Land O' Lakes.

And, then, there was a trio of Wesley Chapel Girl Scouts in Troop 1263 who gave new life to Karina's Garden, behind the administrative offices of Sunrise of Pasco County, in their quest to earn a Girl Scout Silver Award.

The girls — Paige and Kaitlin Trabouley and Alyssa Duran — added flowers, plants, butterflies and statuary to create a place of repose and refreshment in the garden which honors the late Karina Abdul, a former shelter director.

The garden now provides a place to take a break and enjoy nature, according to Vicki Wiggins, director of development for Sunrise, which is a domestic and sexual violence prevention and services organization.

The garden had been choked with weeds and had fallen into disrepair.

The girls and the volunteers they enlisted changed all that.

"It's beautiful. I'm so happy they did this. They brought it back to life," Wiggins told The Laker/Lutz News, when the project was completed.

Recalling some top 2017 sports moments

By Kevin Weiss

kweiss@lakerlutznews.com

Coaches were celebrated, state titles acquired and local athletes turned in outstanding performances.

The past year brought countless moments and lasting memories in sports, from Lutz and Land O' Lakes, across to Wesley Chapel and Zephyrhills.

Here's a look back at some of the top sports happenings from 2017:

FLORIDA HOSPITAL CENTER ICE OPENS

Hockey and ice-skating enthusiasts rejoiced when the largest ice sports facility in the Southeastern United States finally opened its doors in Wesley Chapel.

The 150,500-square-foot Florida Hospital Center Ice, unveiled in January, took about 2 ½ years to complete.

The main attraction of the $22.5 million complex, of course, is its four full-size rinks (one Olympic, three National Hockey League) and one kid-size rink.

Previously, many Pasco and northern Hillsborough residents would trek to Brandon's Ice Sports Forum to get their hockey and skating fix. Others may have used the Clearwater Ice Arena or the Tampa Bay Skating Academy in Oldsmar.

Besides serving local hockey players, skaters and curlers, the facility already has scored on Pasco's sports tourism initiative by hosting a number of camps, collegiate competitions and other tournaments — drawing an estimated 1.5 million visitors in its first year.

It has also become the training home of the U.S. women's national hockey team, as members prepare for the 2018 Olympics in PyeongChang, South Korea.

LAND O' LAKES HIGH WINS STATE SOFTBALL TITLE

It had been nearly 25 years since a Pasco County school won a state softball title — until May 20.

On that day, Land O' Lakes seized the Class 6A state softball championship, unseating powerhouse Plantation American Heritage 3-1, at Historic Dodgertown in Vero Beach.

The achievement marked the first fast-pitch title for Land O'Lakes and the first for a Pasco County program since Ridgewood High won in 1992.

What made the victory even sweeter for the Gators was downing the same team that eliminated them in the 2016 state semifinals.

They did it in comeback fashion, too. Trailing 1-0 in the bottom of the sixth inning, Land O' Lakes unearthed timely hits and capitalized on opposition mistakes to build the lead for good — against an American Heritage program that was making its fourth-straight championship game appearance and had previously won seven state titles.

The Gators ended the year with a 29-3 record.

And, the accolades didn't stop there. In July, Gators coaches were named the 2017 National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) High School Coaching Staff of the Year, beating out staffs from other top-tier programs in California, New Jersey, Illinois and Kansas. The recognition went to Gators fourth-year head coach Mitch Wilkins and assistants Edwin Rodriguez, Janet Sciales and Vinny Guarracino.

PARALYMPIC ATHLETES EXCEL AT NATIONALS

It was another banner year for Paralympic Sport Tampa Bay.

The team in July won its second straight Small Team Division at the National Junior Disability Championships in Middleton, Wisconsin.

Three athletes — Eric Lowry, 17, of Land O' Lakes; Danielle Kanas, 12, of Lutz; and 16-year-old Logan Krepop of Parrish — earned a combined thirty-three medals and set nine national records. In total, they collected 18 gold, 11 silver and four bronze medals.

Kanas — a single-arm amputee, missing her left arm below the elbow — herself collected 15 gold medals and set six national records this year.

That included a javelin throw of 19.66 meters, shattering the previous record for her age group by six meters.

After the season, Kanas earned Paralympic Sport Tampa Bay's "Spirit of Excellence" award. The club's highest honor, it recognizes courage, strength, determina-

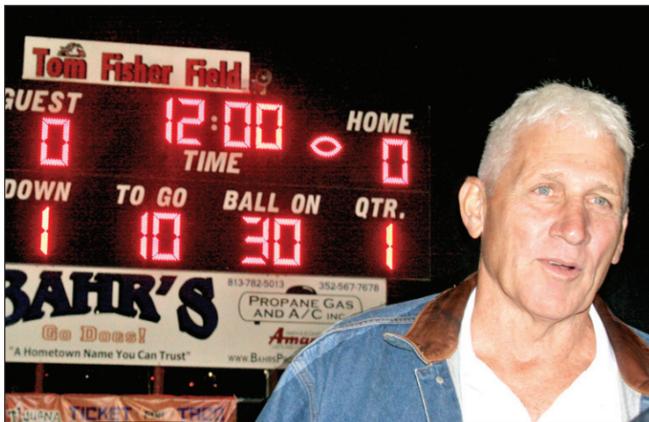

Academy at the Lakes football overcame three straight losing seasons to win its first eight-man state title on Dec. 9. They finished the season 11-1, after going a combined 9-20 the past three years.

Paralympic Sport Tampa Bay this July won its second straight Small Team Division at the National Junior Disability Championships in Middleton, Wisconsin. Lutz resident Danielle Kanas, a single-arm amputee, earned 15 gold medals and set six national records this year.

Florida Hospital Center Ice has been a hit since it opened in January. The five-rink facility is on pace to draw 1.5 million visitors in its first year.

During the school's Oct. 27 homecoming, Zephyrhills High's Bulldog Stadium was officially renamed Tom Fisher Field after its longtime coach of 21 years. Fisher retired in 2008 as the program's winningest coach, with 124 career victories.

tion and demonstration of a positive attitude as a role model.

Beyond athletics, Kanas is a "straight-A" student at Martinez Middle School, and member of the National Junior Honor Society, a Girl Scout, and patient ambassador at Shriners' Hospital for Children-Tampa. She's also a talented guitar player.

The others likewise have overcome various hardships to shine in athletics.

Lowry has spina bifida and competes from a wheelchair. It didn't stop him from benching 190 pounds, earning a gold medal and setting an Adaptive Sports Junior national record.

And Krepop, who has cerebral palsy, earned a gold medal in the 400-meter run. His time of 1:33.14 set a new Adaptive Sports record for his age group.

ZEPHYRHILLS HIGH HONORS WINNINGEST FOOTBALL COACH

It was the perfect time for Zephyrhills High School to honor its winningest football coach.

The Bulldogs earned a district championship, won a playoff game, and finished the season with 10 wins.

That was all last done in 2002 — under former longtime coach Tom Fisher.

This year, the school's Bulldog Stadium was formally renamed Tom Fisher Field at its Oct. 27 homecoming.

The dedication ceremony was attended by Fisher, and drew dozens of former players and coaches, as well as many of his family members and friends.

Fisher — regarded as a hard-nosed, no nonsense type who voraciously studied game films — retired in 2008 after 21 years as head coach.

In his tenure, Fisher won 124 games (most in program history) and led Bulldogs teams to eight playoff berths, four conference championships and three district titles; he also was a four-time conference coach of the year.

Moreover, the Zephyrhills football program had gone 47 years without a state playoff appearance until Fisher's arrival, making it in his first season in 1989.

Another example of Fisher's extensive impact: The Bulldogs' past two head coaches, Nick Carroll and Reggie Roberts, both played for him over 20 years ago.

The most successful player under Fisher was defensive lineman Ryan Pickett, who played 14 years in the NFL, mostly for the St. Louis Rams and Green Bay Packers. Pickett, a 1998 Zephyrhills graduate, started as a freshman at Ohio State, left after his junior season to play professionally and was selected in the first round of the NFL Draft.

Though its been nearly a decade since the 65-year-old Fisher last roamed the sidelines, he still can be found in the stands at many Bulldogs home games.

ACADEMY AT THE LAKES WINS STATE FOOTBALL TITLE

Following three straight losing football seasons, Academy at the Lakes football experienced a remarkable turnaround in 2017 — capped by its first eight-man state title on Dec. 9 with a 30-9 win over Jacksonville Old Plank Academy.

The Wildcats, under fourth-year head coach Shawn Brown, finished the season 11-1, with a 7-0 district mark.

Many of their wins came in dominating fashion, with an average scoring margin of nearly 34 points.

It was quite the contrast from past years. The team went 2-8 in 2016, after finishing 4-7 and 3-5 the prior two seasons.

This year's success harkens back to its summer offseason program, which included weightlifting sessions three days a week, participating in Division I college camps, and competing in various seven-on-seven tournaments — sometimes facing 11-man schools from Classes 7A and 8A.

The Wildcats' solid talent base didn't hurt its gridiron performances, either.

Senior tailback/linebacker Daniel Gonzalez was the most productive two-way player in the eight-man ranks — rushing for 1,125 yards and 24 touchdowns on offense, and tallying 138 tackles and 7.5 sacks on defense.

Several others made significant impacts as well, including freshmen Jalen Brown and Jordan Oladokun, juniors Jamaal Johnson and Dylan Price, and senior Isaiah Smith, among others.

The football program's last state title came in 2006, when Academy at the Lakes played in the six-man ranks.

SOME OTHER NOTABLE HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2017:

- Wesley Chapel High varsity softball has first winning season in program history
- Cypress Creek High varsity football wins its inaugural game against Gulf High
- Wesley Chapel hoops product Erik Thomas appears in NCAA Tournament
- Academy at the Lakes athlete Alexis Kilfoyl makes 2017 USA Softball Junior Women's National Training Team
- Land O'Lakes' Jabari Ramsey becomes the first boys swimmer from Pasco County to win three-straight state titles in the same event (100 breaststroke).
- Carrollwood Day School volleyball wins the Class 4A state title, to earn the school's first state championship in any sport.
- Steinbrenner baseball alum Kevin Merrell is selected by the Oakland Athletics in the first round of the Major League Baseball Draft.

Award-winning teachers create 'safe' places to learn

By B.C. Manion
bcmanion@lakerlutznews.com

Drop by Hannah Trapani's mathematics classroom and chances are the teacher will be helping her students figure out a complicated mathematics problem by literally drawing it out.

Trapani has been known to have students cut dyed spaghetti into specific lengths and glue the pieces to a graph, to help drive home a lesson.

"If they can start visualizing what they're doing, I think that helps a lot," Trapani said.

And, she's always on the lookout for new ways to deliver instruction.

"I'm constantly on Pinterest. I'm constantly on any website I can find — to try to make it easier for the kids to understand things," the Land O' Lakes High School teacher said.

She encourages students in her Advanced Placement Statistics and Algebra II Honors classes to risk failure because, by overcoming a fear of not knowing, they gain deeper understanding.

Meanwhile, Terry Stanley, a science teacher at the same school, also realizes that to truly learn, students must be willing to initially miss the mark.

One recent day, there was a steady hum of activity, as Stanley moved about the classroom. She helped some who were peering into microscopes, checked in with others about their observations and answered questions as they came up.

When they completed their task, she instructed her students to compare their work against published results. She directed them to offer reasons for why their results were similar or different.

As Stanley engages her Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate students, she isn't seeking only to prepare them to perform well on tests. She has a higher aim: She wants them to develop critical thinking skills that will serve them throughout life.

While their subject matter is different, Trapani and Stanley have much in common.

For one thing, they are each recipients of a Barrett Family Foundation Excellence in Science/Mathematics Teacher Award, which recognize outstanding teachers of mathematics and science.

The award is provided by a nonprofit charity, based in Clearwater. It honors teachers who share their energy and enthusiasm for science or mathematics through creative and innovative methods. It carries a $10,000 prize for each recipient.

While they share many professional characteristics, they came into teaching on different paths.

Stanley said she knew from an early age that she enjoyed teaching others.

"I remember in first grade, I would do my work as effectively and as efficiently as I pos-

Three sections of seniors taking an International Baccalaureate Biology course taught by Terry Stanley made skeletons during their muscle unit. The students took information they'd heard in the classroom, as well as information they'd read, and translated that into a three-dimensional model.

B.C. MANION

Hannah Trapani, who teaches Algebra II Honors and Advanced Placement Statistics, advises her students to use visual aids when solving mathematical problems. "When in doubt, draw it. It's going to help you," she tells students.

Terry Stanley recaps a lesson and her expectations at the end of a class period during a recent class at Land O' Lakes High School. She has been honored for being an outstanding science teacher.

sibly could, so that I could be awarded to go help the next-door kindergarten teacher," Stanley said.

Trapani, on the other hand, initially was interested in becoming a physical therapist. When she got one B, though, she dropped that idea. She knew the acceptance criteria was stringent, and didn't think she'd be selected over others who had achieved straight A's.

So, Trapani turned to something else that felt like a natural fit.

"I grew up teaching my younger brothers and sisters," explained Trapani, who comes from a family of six children.

"In high school, the teacher would teach and I would sit next to a couple of people, and they would say: 'Explain that to me again.' I would help people," Trapani added. "I knew I was always good at explaining things to other people."

"I think it (becoming a teacher) was always meant to be. I don't think it was one defining moment. It was more like giving in to your fate," Trapani said.

REMOVING BARRIERS TO LEARNING

While both educators now teach in Land O' Lakes High School's International Baccalaureate program, their experience also includes teaching students of wide-ranging ability levels.

Trapani said she thinks she is a better teacher because she personally struggled as a learner and because she has taught struggling students.

"I know what it's like to work really hard, and to finally be able to understand," Trapani said.

Plus, she said, students at every ability level can find themselves struggling at times.

"You get these kids that are gifted and because they are so smart, they have never struggled. And then they get to your class, and Algebra II is really the first time they see really new math."

"Those kids who have never had to study, who have never struggled, never hit that wall (before)," she said.

Trapani helps students by teaching them how to study for her classes.

She also makes it abundantly clear that she's available to help students who need it.

She makes an effort at getting to know her students.

"When I go around and I check homework, I make eye contact with every person," she said.

"I try to really connect with the kids; I think that makes a huge difference. I think if they feel you are there for them, then they'll be there for you," Trapani said.

"I try to help them understand that their self-worth is not wrapped up in whether or not they're perfect at this problem, and whether or not they have an A. In the end, are they going to be a good person? Are they going to weather the storm?"

"The fact that they failed my test, I'm not heartbroken about it," Trapani said. And, she said a student who fails a test shouldn't be heartbroken, either. Instead, her attitude is: "Let's find a way to overcome this."

Learning the course content is important, Stanley said, but when students leave her classroom she wants them "to know how to think, how to observe, how to ask questions."

Stanley believes teachers must find ways to reach their students.

Teachers need to understand their audience, each individual, and then tailor-make their lessons to bring their students to the place they need to be, Stanley said.

"If they're not interested, I try to find commonality with them. I try to find an entry point, if you will, for conversations outside of the content area."

"They understand that they have to perform in the class, but it's a journey, and we're going on this journey together."

"How are we going to get you to that point where you need to be?"

"I'm here to help you. I'm your coach. I'm here to help you get where you need to be," said Stanley, who teaches Advanced Placement Biology and IB Biology.

Some students are stymied by a lack of confidence, she said. Some just want to regurgitate what they've read in a book.

Stanley recalled that a student once told her: "I know everything I need to know about biology."

She told the student she was happy for him, but to let her know if that perspective changed.

A few weeks later he came back to her and said: "I realize that what I know Miss Stanley is what I read in a book, and superficial. I can't think through these problems that you're putting on this test."

It's moments like those — when an obstacle to learning has been removed or overcome — that are especially gratifying, both teachers said.

Both Stanley and Trapani were pleased by the recognition they received from the Barrett Family Foundation award, and enjoyed celebrating their success with their families.

And, they have another thing in common, too.

"I absolutely love what I do," Trapani said.

Stanley added: "I always was drawn to teaching. I just always had a passion for explaining things, observing, questioning."

Kudos for Hannah Trapani and Terry Stanley

Hannah Trapani

"Mrs. Trapani told her students that she would always be available after school ... Mrs. Trapani's devotion of her time to offer one-on-one help to me and other students who would stay after school was crucial to my success."

— Land O' Lakes High student Ashley Kupferman

"Hannah gives freely of her time to students who struggle. She will help them during her lunch hour, before and/or after school. If a student is having difficulty with a standard, she will approach them and offer extra help and guide them to websites that provide assistance as well."

— Land O' Lakes High mathematics teacher Amy Smith

"Hannah directs every ounce of energy towards helping all students learn. She accomplishes this by looking at each student as an individual with unlimited capabilities."

— Land O' Lakes High Principal Ric Mellin

Terry Stanley

"... the abundance of laboratory experiments, which far exceeds my previous classroom experience, causes students to genuinely comprehend and understand the importance of the work they are doing. Ms. Stanley's class looks to confront head-on that quintessential high-schooler question of 'Who cares?' and silence it with a simple answer: 'Me.'"

— Land O' Lakes High student Camellia Moors

"To teach is to light a fire in the mind. If our role as educators is to guide students to explore the unknown, then Terry Stanley has accomplished this thousands of times over."

— Land O' Lakes Assistant Principal Jeff Morgenstein

"Although it has been several years since I have walked the halls of Land O' Lakes High School, I can safely say that my experience in Ms. Terry Stanley's classroom changed my life in ways I am still realizing to this very day. Each day in her classroom was a chance to learn new and exciting things about the world around me. Going to class wasn't just a boring lecture, it was interactive research, it was working together, and it was putting what we learned to the test."

— Land O' Lakes High School graduate Blake Lash, now a research scientist

Adopt A Friend FOR LIFE

Meet and greet Hai Hai

Hai Hai is a white and black hound mix that was found as a stray and joined the shelter at beginning of December. He is an energetic blur. The person that found him reported that Hai Hai did well with the other dogs in their household and with their young child, but it would be careful with cats and small pocket-pet animals. Hai Hai is sure to make you smile.

Yzma is outgoing

Yzma is a senior gal that came to the shelter in November. She initially needed some medical help, but seems to have brightened up considerably. Yzma likes to explore the adoption showroom. She would love to join you in your home and keep watch of the birds through the window.

If you would like to adopt Hai Hai or Yzma, be sure to visit Pasco County Animal Services at 19640 Dogpatch Lane in Land O' Lakes. The adoption center is open Tuesday through Saturday, noon to 6:30 p.m. All adoption fees include spay/neuter, microchip and vaccines. For more information, email adoptionpartners@pascocountyfl.net.

Monthly, Cindy's Pets feeds about 400 pets, including dogs, cats and birds; delivers about 1,850 pounds of pet food to Pasco County seniors; and, purchases $2,000 of food to feed the seniors' pets.

This annual fundraiser helps provide meals to senior's pets for an entire year.

The event will include strawberries and strawberry shortcake, a dog walk with fun obstacles for pets, a dog show, vendors, food, raffle and a kids' zone.

Sponsorship opportunities are available.

For information, visit CindysPets.org, or email CPStrawberryFestival@gmail.com.

SHARE YOUR PET NEWS

If you have pet news about adoptions, walks or other events for pet owners and their pets, you can let us know by sending us an email. We just need the basics: who, what, when, where and why.

The information should be submitted two weeks prior to the desired publication date. We also need a contact name and number, in case we have questions.

COURTESY OF PASCO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

A team of SMARTstart entrepreneurs were award winners at the 'Hacking the Human Element' competition.

SMARTstart business wins award

The team of Tracy Ingram, a SMARTstart business entrepreneur, won an award of $15,000 for a prototype of wearable technology that monitors an individual's vital life signs, according to a news release from the Pasco County Economic Development Council.

The funds will be used in 2018 to advance the technology.

The team, which included David Hirschberg, Natalie

Concors, Asia Hall, Alex Thurman, Brian Meredith, Steve McCalmont, Yves St. Laurent, and Terry Shaw, participated in the "Hacking the Human Element" competition, held Dec. 1 to Dec. 3.

Hosts of the event were SOFWERX and MD5.

SOFWERX is an Ybor-based organization that develops technology for the United States military. MD5 is a U.S. Department of Defense public/private partnership that works with national research universities in developing civil and military technologies for national security.

"Success stories like this are why we offer the programs we do," Bill Cronin said in a written statement.

"We want to help provide space for entrepreneurs to create ideas and grow, just like Tracy and his team," said Cronin, who is president and chief executive officer for the Pasco EDC.

For information, visit PascoEDC.com.

SLK Law began in 1925. It has more than 260 lawyers, 50 paralegals and 500 employees in its five offices, located in Ohio, North Carolina, and in Tampa and Sarasota.

The council's board is responsible for governing the organization and guiding its economic strategy. It works in partnership with Pasco County in promoting economic growth in the county.

CENTRAL PASCO GENERAL MEETING

The Central Pasco Chamber of Commerce will have its general membership meeting Jan. 9, at its new location, the Hilton Garden Inn Tampa Suncoast Parkway, at 2155 Northpointe Parkway in Lutz.

Guest speaker will be Steven Roberto, director of development for The Diversity Initiative (TDD).

Members and guests are welcome.

The cost for members is $20 if you RSVP by Jan. 4, and $25 at the door for members and non-members.

For information, call the chamber at (813) 909-2722, or email office@centralpascochamber.com.

ANYTIME FITNESS FOOD DRIVE

Employees of Anytime Fitness of Dade City had a food drive for several weeks at 14570 Seventh St., in Dade City, to collect donations for Love One Another.

The outreach ministry is supported by its partners First Baptist Church of Dade City, St. Rita Catholic Church, The Dade City Youth Council, Dade City Christian Church, Calvary Assembly and Dade City/Metropolitan Ministries/Restored Hope/Men of Integrity.

Anytime Fitness employees delivered the donations to the Pasco County Community Services Nutrition Center, where a hot meal, toiletries, dog and cat food (from Dog-Mania & Cats, Dade City Animal Clinic and Farmers Feed), and clothing are provided each Sunday. Anytime Fitness owner Barry Jackson also made a matching donation.

Other churches, including St. Mary's Episcopal and First United Methodist Church of Dade City, as well as schools and community organizations also are supporting these efforts.

For information on Love One Another, contact Lucy Avila at (352) 424-4972.
