2 die in US 90 crashes

Head-on accidents took the lives of two men on US 90 over the weekend, the first on Saturday just west of Glen St. Mary and the second early the next morning in the Nassau Strip between Macclenny and Baldwin.

In both cases, the fatalities were driving vehicles that crossed the center line.

Casey A. Prevatt, 27, of Glen died early on November 22 at Shands Jacksonville less than 24 hours after the 2001 Cadillac he was driving east near Nursery Blvd. collided with a westbound 2006 Honda.

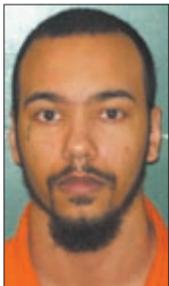

The driver of the second vehicle, Shawn C. Behr, 30, of Macclenny, was flown from the scene to Shands Gainesville with a serious leg injury. He was trapped inside the Honda for a half hour following the accident at 8:43 am.

Sex with teenagers lands two men in prison for five years

Two Macclenny men were sentenced the past two weeks to five-year prison terms after entering pleas to having sex with underage girls.

Greg McKellum, 22, got credit for 574 days he's been in county jail since his arrest in April, 2008 for accosting the teens, one of whom was 12 years old at the time. He pleaded no contest on November 16 to aggravated battery and aggravated assault with intent to commit a felony, downgraded from his original charge of lewd and lascivious battery.

Greg McKellum

Mr. McKellum, according to the court record, committed the acts on April 18 and 19 at a south Macclenny residence.

Once out of prison, he will be on drug offender probation five years. Judge James Nilon also banned the defendant from contact with children under 18 years of age and with either of the victims.

This week in circuit court, Antonio Robins received a similar prison term for lewd assault on a 14-year-old female in August, 2008 and eight other drug charges.

Antonio Robins

Mr. Robins, 19, was initially charged with raping the girl at knife point in the rear seat of a vehicle parked in west Macclenny. As in the case of Mr. McKellum, there was evidence that the victims consented to the sex acts, which mitigates the charges somewhat though the activity is still a serious felony.

Mr. Robins was out on bond when he committed the drug offenses, mostly sale of crack cocaine to undercover buyers near Keller Intermediate School earlier this year.

His plea this week included one count of possessing cocaine, six counts of possession with intent to sell and a single charge of sale of counterfeit narcotics.

In another case involving a defendant who had sex with a minor, Sanita Mobley of Sanderson will serve a year in county jail and 10 years on sex offender probation after pleading no contest November 16 to reduced charges of lewd and lascivious battery and child neglect.

Ms. Mobley, 30, was arrested earlier this year for lewd acts with a 15-year-old male member of a family with whom she had been living in August. Judge Nilon ordered the defendant into psychiatric treatment for a minimum of two years and forbade her to have contact with children under 18. She can see her own children only with permission of dependency court.

Six other counts of lewd and lascivious battery were dropped as part of the plea agreement.

Judge Nilon sentenced two other defendants to state prison on November 16:

• Carol Finkle, 43, got three years followed by a five-year drug offender probation after pleading no contest to trafficking in hydrocodone in the Macclenny area. The judge also imposed a $50,000 fine mandated in cases where the quantity of drugs warrants it.

Academy of business gives 987 food items

The Samaritan food bank received a typical delivery of nonperishable foodstuffs the morning of November 24, but in a very unusual way.

About 30 students from the high school's Career Academy of Business Administration pushed a handful of decorated grocery carts from the school grounds more than a quarter-mile east on US 90 to the food bank in what might be described as a Thanksgiving food drive parade.

Within minutes the students had feverishly unloaded almost 1000 items into the small building with barely enough room for one cart at a time.

resembled a giant turkey on wheels and included a sign in front that read, "Feed me!"

"Wait a second, let me put on its beak," the cart's creator Jena Sands said before attaching the mouthpiece and smiling for the camera.

Bekie Wilds was one of 19 seniors helping the Class of 2010 wrest from the juniors the title for most food donated. She said that besides the competitive nature of the Thanksgiving food drive, the best part was decorating and presenting the carts with her classmates.

"The junior class did a skit and song when they presented theirs," she said. "It was really fun." While the seniors will be treated to a pizza party for donating the winning total of 538 items, the real prize is something else.

"They really like the bragging rights more than the pizza party," said the academy's technology instructor Tammy Gibbs. She's one of three teachers in the 100-student academy of 9th through 12th graders.

In all, the academy collected, bought or borrowed 987 food donations, topping the 700 canned goods from last year. The food bank also received a $120 cash donation from Baker Guns and Gold Pawn and a $25 gift card donation from Food Lion.

"We encouraged students to bring in things that families can make meals from," Ms. Gibbs said, adding they often used their own money to bargain shop for groceries.

The donations included typical dessert ingredients like pumpkin filling and brownie mix, but also things like baby food and dog food.

"Dog's are a part of the family, too," said the 10-year veteran teacher.

Thanks to the students' quest for victory and Baker Salvage's discounted soup, the drive resulted in 240 cans Campbell's Chicken Noodle O's for the food bank. The staple seemed to replace last year's run on Ramen noodles, which were barred this year.

"Stuff there [at Baker Salvage] is really cheap," Ms. Gibbs said. "They try to beat each other there when they re-stock."

The academy's food drive lasted 23 days and ran in conjunction with district-wide drives this month. Some donated items to the food bank and others donated directly to families in need.

Keller Intermediate collected 1011 items. Ms. Herman's 5th grade class led the way with 132 items, while Ms. Navarra's students were the top donators among 4th graders with 129 items.

Keller will also be collecting items for soldier care packages November 30 through December 7. For more information, contact Amy Stalvey at 259-4325.

During its two week drive, Macclenny Elementary collected about 1300 food donations with Ms. Crawley's first graders, Ms. Wignall's 2nd graders, Ms. Woods' 3rd graders and Ms. Hawkins' ESE students collecting the most items.

Westside Elementary amassed 1190 donations, which were used in part to fill 17 bags of groceries for 17 different families. The remaining food was given to the food bank.

Two dead in crashes

Investigating Trooper J. Smatt said Mr. Behr was wearing a seat belt; Mr. Prevatt, who had both head and internal injuries, was not. He was taken first to Fraser Hospital because helicopters were grounded by fog.

The impact demolished both vehicles and left the fatality's Cadillac facing east in that lane of travel. Mr. Behr's Honda flipped onto its right side and came to rest in the westbound ditch.

Trooper Smatt said both vehicles struck on the left front. According to his report, blood tests on Mr. Prevatt will determine if alcohol played a role in the accident.

He was the 13th person to die on Baker County roads this year.

• Andrew J. Prater, 24, of Jacksonville died at the scene just after 3:00 the following morning when his eastbound 1999 Dodge slammed into a tractor trailer heading in the opposite direction about two miles west of Baldwin.

The 1996 Kenworth tractor-trailer was driven by Roel Jimenez, 29, of Edinburg, Texas, who was treated at Fraser Hospital for undisclosed injuries.

Lt. Bill Leeper, spokesman for the Florida Highway Patrol's troop headquarters in Jacksonville, said early this week an investigation continues into why Mr. Prater's vehicle drifted over the center line.

Both accidents happened on two-lane stretches of US 90.

Memories of holiday crafting

THE BACK PORCH

Kelley Lannigan

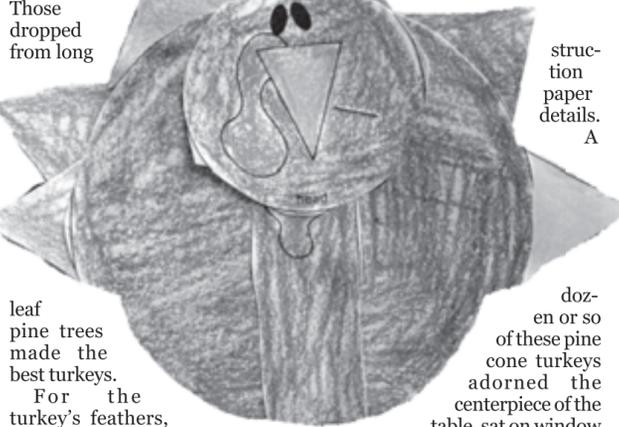

Thanksgiving was always my favorite holiday when I was growing up. I loved the family meal and all the preparation that went into it.

In elementary school we made lots of crafts with a Thanksgiving theme. I still see a few of those same crafts made by school kids today. Few things are closer to a parent's heart than holiday decorations lovingly crafted by careful, determined little fingers and displayed proudly on the kitchen refrigerator door.

I remember large rolls of white butcher paper in our classroom and how the teacher tore off sheets for each child. With a large black crayon, we made tracings of our hands with the fingers spread apart.

On the thumb, we drew an eye, a beak, and waddles. The palm area became the turkey's body and the remaining four fingers were feathers. After adding on a pair of stick legs, the turkey was ready for coloring or painting. Notes were sent home to parents instructing them to help their children find a large pine cone with open scales. Those dropped from long leaf pine trees made the best turkeys.

For the turkey's feathers, construction paper strips in different colors were cut. These paper feathers were stuck between the scales at the fat end of the cone to create a fan.

All the colors made the turkey look more like the NBC television peacock from the 1970s, but it never seemed to matter.

Next came the heads, which usually called for something a bit sturdy like cardboard. The heads were colored with crayons and had glued-on construction paper details. A dozen or so of these pine cone turkeys adorned the centerpiece of the table, sat on window sills and accented cornucopia fruit arrangements.

The annual day of giving thanks would have not been the same without this pleasant ritual.

Of course, I eventually became an adult and the turkey making ceased. One day, after many years, I realized I missed the paper and pine cone turkeys. I wanted to see them at the table again. By then, I had three young nieces. The day before Thanksgiving, I invited them over for an afternoon turkey-making bash.

It went fabulously. First we went on a pine cone hunting expedition. That fulfilled, out came the craft supplies. Soon the table was littered with fragments of paper, scissors, markers, glue, cardboard, some yarn and roly polly eyes. I think I had more fun than the kids.

I was delighted to see so many turkey drawings created by students at Westside Elementary when I took part in their annual Thanksgiving Feast on November 23. The drawings lined the corridors between classrooms, each as unique as the child who produced it. I've included one of those drawings with this column.

Christmas is just around the corner and they say the average person gains seven pounds at that time. Now, there's some food for thought, so to speak. So, Happy Thanksgiving and don't eat too much.

Giving thanks for both pithy, serious

MY SIDE OF THE MATTER

ROBERT GERARD

Thanksgiving is upon us and I'm amazed the year has zipped by at such a pace. It seems like only yesterday I was putting together my last Thanksgiving column.

When it comes to Thanksgiving columns I'm always a little torn. Should I write a column that is essentially serious and heartfelt or should I go with humor? My wife always nudges me toward the heartfelt, while I tend to lean toward the humor end of the spectrum.

This time around I'll try to juggle both those sentiments in one column. We'll see how successful that is.

I am thankful that:

✓ I am a Wildcat football fan. The Cats have produced a lot of drama and excitement on Friday nights this fall, and I'm just thrilled that we have another weekend on the gridiron.

✓ I am thankful I don't own a "slanket," those things with sleeves also known as a "snuggies." I look goofy enough without wrapping myself in one of those things. I have to ask myself who would actually want one? Do they come with a little press-on tattoo that says, "Dork?" If they don't, they should.

✓ I am thankful I am not in politics. No matter if you are a Republican or Democrat, the idea of public service has sadly come to be a negative one. I don't want the cold eye of public scrutiny staring at me. It reminds me of that big red eye from the Lord of the Rings staring out from above. Time was that public service was praiseworthy. Not anymore; politicians are subject to too much ridicule.

✓ I am thankful Richard Heene is not my dad. As much as I loath Jon and Kate, that Heene guy is one serious whack job. He is the father who concocted the "balloon boy" hoax in hopes that he'd get a reality television show.

✓ I'm thankful every year at least one turkey doesn't make it on the holiday table. The President makes a big deal of pardoning a turkey on the lawn of the White House each year. Little known fact: during the Bush administration, hours after the turkey was pardoned, Vice President Dick Cheney had the CIA whisk it off to some secret prison where it was ruthlessly interrogated to discover what it had done to win the pardon.

"Who did you bribe?"

"Gobble."

"What do you mean by that? Is that some kind of Middle Eastern language? Are you a foreign turkey? Talk or we'll waterboard you again."

When questioned about it by Congress, Cheney quipped, "You just can't be too careful. Did you know the turkey was almost the national bird?"

✓ Speaking of turkeys, I am thankful for Thanksgiving dinner. My wife does it up right; she can cook a turkey and all the fixings. Of course, I always wonder as I sit stupefied at the Thanksgiving table why it is we don't have this stuff any other time during the year?

✓ I am thankful for the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. I don't like parades particularly but I love this one. To see Bart Simpson swooping over the gray skies of New York City just makes my day. "Cowabunga, dude."

✓ I am thankful for the Pilgrims. Nah, not for anything that they did or for Plymouth Rock or buckled shoes. I'm thankful that they just were Pilgrims. If it weren't for the Pilgrims, millions of elementary school kids wouldn't have Thanksgiving pageants or get to color turkeys purple and pink. I remember being in a Thanksgiving pageant at Central Elementary School in Lake City. I was a Pilgrim — and one of the best darned 8-year-old Pilgrims you ever saw, too. I bet people are still talking about the way I raised my hand in salute and said, "How, Quanto?" So many layers of meaning there.

✓ I am thankful I live where I do.

✓ I am thankful for the troops who are on the sharp end so that we can sit at home and celebrate.

✓ I am really thankful for the people who share my life — my family and friends. They make life worth living.

Bring the cheer, not rudeness - please

advertising@bakercountypress.com

I love watching my oldest child perform for school functions and I enjoy shopping on Black Friday. Both pastimes have one thing in common - crowds. I consider myself to be very easy going, not easily riled. But there are some things that do tend to push my buttons.

Things like rude people.

I attended a play at the high school auditorium put on by the second grade classes from Westside. I didn't get to see the whole thing since I had to return to work, but what I saw and heard was great. The sound system went on the fritz but the kids pulled through and did their best.

What annoyed me to no end was the audience. I had to stand in the doorway to catch a glimpse of my child because the auditorium was packed. It's a great testament to the people of Baker County coming out to support their kids, but the amount of complaining and talking was horrible. It's almost as bad as going to a BCHS graduation ceremony.

The adults were talking worse than the kids and didn't seem to understand that need to be extra quiet since the microphones weren't working. You'd think these folks would understand something as basic as that.

Then the rude comments from bystanders topped off the evening. Did people not expect the room to be packed considering the number of children performing and the family members wanting to watch? If all you can do is gripe about the lack of seating, horrible sound system and having to show up, then I suggest you stay at home. No one wants to listen to you talk to yourself while trying to hear the kids' lines and songs.

Black Friday shopping crowds can be just as annoying. It is expected if you're going shopping at "o dark-thirty" on the Friday after Thanksgiving, there are going to be crowds of people competing for the same items.

What kills me are the people who act surprised at how many people are there, skip lines, and pick fights to save $75 on a TV. It can be amusing to watch families who have a plan, walk in the door and then split like a well-oiled machine. I imagine they spend hours after dinner on Thanksgiving planning their attack. My philosophy is simple: if I find something I knew would be on sale and can get it — great. If not, I probably didn't need it anyway.

I avoid places like Walmart on Black Friday, at least until after 10:00 am. I have a plan that has worked well for me over the last five years, and no, I'm not sharing it. I never go in search of the door buster deals. I would rather pay the extra than get caught up in a fiasco like that.

I do go to see what other great deals I can find. Truth be told, I don't do much Christmas shopping for others. It's more about things I might need around the house or some new clothes at a great price. If I find a Christmas gift, I consider myself lucky that for once I might get some shopping done before Christmas Eve. That's a whole other column.

The point is, people need to lighten up — it's the holidays. What happened to good cheer? Also, if you can't do or say something nice, stay home. Nobody else wants to listen to you mutter or be ugly. If you don't want to be there, nobody else wants you there either. If you want to get that door buster item, then get up early enough to be at the front of the line. Don't show up five minutes before the store opens and attempt to cut off 150 people by jumping line. It's not only rude, but dangerous.

Have a great Thanksgiving and maybe I'll see you Friday!

Mining denial could cost big bucks

The DuPont appeal denied November 16 by county commissioners may lead to litigation against Baker County, and with tight budgets for the foreseeable future, avoiding legal bills should've weighed heavier on the board's decision.

I'm no attorney, but after reading DuPont's appeal, the industrial behemoth, I believe, has a pretty good case should it choose to proceed in court.

DuPont was appealing the Land Planning Agency's stipulation that it reverse its current mining plan and dig next year near the interstate, instead of farther south and adjacent to the existing operation southeast of CR 228 South.

On Point In Print

Joel Addington

While meant to spur growth and jobs sooner rather than later, the condition has at best only one wobbly leg to stand on.

That defense is simply that development around the interstate is in the best interest of Baker County.

My problem is that sure, jobs and development are good for the tax base and the local economy; but is getting those things six years from now instead of 10 years from now really worth the cost of litigation?

Maybe, if such development was certain to occur. But it's not. There's a never-ending list of things that could happen to alter, or even completely derail, development of the land in question — LaBuena Farms' roughly 1000 acres south of I-10.

Take the massive Cedar Creek project for instance. Two years ago it was being framed as the development that would change everything in Baker County — the population, the businesses, the infrastructure; you name it.

Today, Cedar Creek is on life support, and most of its 3000 acres are in foreclosure. Not one road, sidewalk or home has been built.

Even if the court does side with the county commission and DuPont begins mining adjacent to the interstate in the Spring, DuPont's site manager David Podmeyer said the tract would take four years to mine, plus another two years for reclamation work that follows.

He believes that LaBuena Farms and Jackson-Shaw, the industrial park developer planning a project north of I-10 with a contract to purchase the LaBuena property once its unencumbered, are in a race with others to bring new growth, and the jobs and homes that come with it, to undeveloped areas in the region.

Fortunately for the county, nobody likes paying attorneys fees, not even the deep pockets at DuPont. Mr. Podmeyer said the company is still determining which route to take — through the courts or around them.

But if push comes to shove, the county might be wiser to roll over and play dead.

Cedar Creek lands now in foreclosure Auction set for Dec. 3

JOEL ADDINGTON
 NEWS EDITOR
 reporter@bakercountypress.com

The former owner of roughly 2200 acres on which much of the Cedar Creek development was planned is seeking foreclosure after a number of missed payments by Adrian Development and its investor, Oracle Partners.

Davis & Davis of Macclenny filed its foreclosure notice November 4 naming Adrian Development, Metro Bank of Dade County and the Jacksonville planning firm Prosser Hallock as defendants.

The land is set for auction December 3 at the county courthouse, more than four years after it was purchased.

"The wheels came off the wagon about September 2008," said Ricky Davis of Davis & Davis, declining to comment on how much was still owed on the property.

Adrian Development also owes about $143,000 in unpaid property taxes on its holdings in Baker County, even after the tax collector's office received a payment from Metro Bank late last month.

Adrian's financial troubles began to surface in 2007, when the Coral Gables, Fla. developer fell behind on payments to creditors. That led Oracle into litigation with Adrian regarding the terms of the parties' profit-sharing agreement. Oracle had given Adrian $25 million in January 2007 in return for a share of the developers' profits.

The litigation resulted in Oracle taking over management of the Cedar Creek project, and the New York investment firm hired an Atlanta-based real estate consultant, Minerva USA, to act as its agent.

Mr. Davis said his last contact with either company was two months ago.

"I really don't know what's going to happen," he said. "We were trying to work with them, but we thought they were being a little unreasonable."

While ownership of the property may change hands yet again, the development order granted by the Baker County Commission for Cedar Creek remains valid.

It permits 6000 residential units and a golf course, plus commercial, retail and office space in return for about $65 million in mitigation payments for new roads, schools, public safety and health care facilities over the project's 15-year build out.

Adrian defaulted on that agreement by failing to make more than $500,000 in initial payments to the county in mid-February.

Minerva's Development Director Stacy Patton did not return calls or e-mails requesting comment on the fate of the Cedar Creek project.

CITY OF MACCLENNY

Man with drug past hired

JOEL ADDINGTON
 NEWS EDITOR
 reporter@bakercountypress.com

While most employers steer clear of hiring workers with criminal histories, Macclenny City Manager Gerald Dopson is willing to make exceptions.

"I believe in my heart if somebody's turned their life around, then we can give them an opportunity," he said. "They can use it to go forward in their lives."

The city hired this month someone with a criminal history that included disorderly intoxication and drug possession. He began November 16 filling in as a back-up on the city garbage truck and helping with landscaping duties like watering.

Though Mr. Dopson has hired employees with checkered pasts before, he approached the city commission about doing so again during the board's November 10 meeting. He told commission members about federally-funded fidelity bonds available for hiring at-risk employees.

The board had no objection. "We all make mistakes," said Mayor Gary Dopson. "If you're convinced they've overcome their problems, I'm okay."

Commissioner Vernon Bennett agreed saying, "Have at it. I trust your judgement."

The at-risk employee is bonded for the first six months on the job at $5000.

The Federal Bonding Program from the US Department of Labor provides the bonds through Travelers Casualty and Surety Company of America at no charge to the employer or employee.

Bonded amounts can reach as high as $500,000 under certain circumstances and insure against losses from theft, fraud or other dishonest actions of employees. Any at-risk employees are eligible for bonding services under the program, including those with poor credit, lack of work history or dishonorable military discharges.

The program is administered locally by Worksource and has been operating since 1966.

"Part of our job is to place people that are harder to place," said Worksource spokeswoman Candace Moody. "It's really hard for people with a record to find work or employers willing to give them a second chance."

Mr. Dopson admits offering someone a second chance doesn't always pay off, but it has in the past.

"I had one [employee] that was an alcoholic around here for 20 years," he said. "I told him if he stayed clean for a year — and I would know — that I'd give him the opportunity. It was kind of an incentive. And a year later, just looking at him I could tell he got turned around. He's been one of my best employees."

But why take a chance on someone with a criminal history when there's so many people these days looking for work?

"I'm against drugs and crime as strong as anybody else, but if somebody deserves an opportunity and has endeavored to turn their life around, we should give them a chance," said Mr. Dopson, adding that a lack of past problems isn't any guarantee someone will be a good employee.

Tabitha Mathews, the owner of Amuse Cafe in downtown Macclenny, voiced her support as well during the November 10 meeting.

"Everybody needs a chance," she said. "If not, what kind of society will we have?"

Flooding closes centers

The Community Action Agency [CAA] offices as well as those of the Community Behavioral Services Center on Lowder Street were flooded November 17, reportedly due to plumbing problems in a rest room. CAA temporarily moved operations into St. James Episcopal Church. Damage was confined mostly to the flooring and CAA Director Alterial Baker said she expected returning to the Lowder Street location within a few days. They remained at the church on November 24.

Beats half-brother outside apartment

A Macclenny man is charged with felony battery for severely beating his half-brother in a fight behind their apartment complex late on November 19.

Deputy Larry Clark said he had to fire twice with his taser gun before subduing Jason Smith, 26, after the suspect attempted to run from him while being handcuffed following the 11:30 incident on East Ohio in the north city.

The officer said he came onto the scene to witness Mr. Smith kicking and punching Marvin Wasdin, 20, in the head, injuries serious enough to warrant admission to Shands Jacksonville. Mr. Wasdin has since been released.

Deputy Clark said that after Mr. Smith dragged his half-brother to his feet he released him and the victim fell backwards onto his back.

Mr. Wasdin immediately began snoring, a sign the deputy noted sometimes indicates serious injury.

Mr. Smith was booked at county jail for domestic battery causing great bodily harm and resisting him without violence.

In other recent cases involving personal attacks:

- Randal Miller, 43, was arrested for aggravated assault with a knife following an altercation with another man in front of his apartment on Taber Blvd. in Glen St. Mary.

In what appears to be an incident fueled by "road rage," Mr. Miller allegedly pulled the knife and threatened Corey Combs, 22, also of Glen, the afternoon of November 17.

Both parties told varying stories to Deputy Tony Norman on the series of events that started when Mr. Combs attempted to pass Mr. Miller while both were northbound on Taber moments before.

- Police arrested Christopher Bellflower, 36, of Macclenny the evening of November 22 outside the Walmart Supercenter on SR 228 for an attack on store employee William Vaughan, 23, also of Macclenny.

Deputy Koty Crews said he stopped the suspect after noting his vehicle matched the descrip-

Two Walmart employees backed up Mr. Vaughan's version of events as he alleged he was approached by the suspect and struck numerous times with a closed fist before Mr. Bellflower returned to his pickup, then re-exited and struck the victim several more times.

Deputy Crews was told the attack was over alleged threats telephoned to Mr. Bellflower.

- Michael Washington, 18, of Macclenny reported to police he was beaten by three men who stopped a pickup truck near where he was walking at US 90 and 6th St. early on November 20.

The victim told Deputy Brad Dougherty the men used a racial epithet before knocking him to the ground where he was kicked and repeatedly struck.

Mr. Washington is black and said his assailants were white. He was able to describe one of them as 25 years old with short dark hair, a moustache and goatee.

The incident took place at 3:50 am, and Deputy Dougherty said the victim had a bloody shirt and multiple abrasions.

- A criminal complaint for domestic violence was filed November 19 against Billiejo Irish, 46, for an alleged attack on live-in girlfriend Sherry Harnage, 24, at their residence off Lila Harvey Rd. near Sanderson.

Ms. Harnage told Deputy Shawn Bishara the boyfriend threw a purse that struck her in the face during an argument the evening of November 19. She said she retaliated by striking Mr. Irish with a chalk board and lamp.

The officer notified the Department of Children and Families because the couple's 2-year-old son witnessed the incident.

- Meggy Castleberry, 22, was arrested for accosting Ashley Perry, 30, outside Ronie's Foods in Glen St. Mary the morning of November 21.

Deputy Earl Lord made the arrest after witnessing the attack from nearby where he was directing traffic following a fatal car accident just west of there.

Hits his brother's office

Two persons were arrested last week on multiple charges including the evening burglary of a Macclenny business on South 6th St. owned by the brother of one of the suspects.

Tony Gray, 34, of Glen St. Mary and Heather McAlister, 24, of Raiford were stopped in a Chevrolet Cavalier the night of November 17 not long after police were called to Doug Klotz Appraisal to investigate a burglary during which $100 in a bank bag was taken.

Mr. Klotz told Deputy Matt Riegel he suspected Mr. Gray's involvement because of an earlier argument, and indicated the suspect may be riding around in the area with girlfriend Ms. McAlister in her Cavalier.

The officer and Investigator Michael Hauge spotted the vehicle with the suspects inside later that evening, and a subsequent search turned up a hammer and jacket they believe were used to smash the glass on the front office door to gain entry.

The officers also found a plastic bag containing 35 doses of a muscle relaxer for which Ms. McAlister did not have a prescription. She also had cash on her person that she originally said she obtained from her mother but police later linked to the burglary.

The girlfriend was interviewed twice and said she drove Mr. Gray to the scene but did not enter the appraisal office, and the next day during a second session changed her story on the money she had in her possession.

Charges against the pair include burglary, possession of burglary tools, felony drug possession, criminal mischief and petty theft.

In other reports, Phil Crews of eXtreme Outdoors on US 90 in Macclenny reported a handgun valued at $482 was apparently taken from the store during the afternoon or evening of November 13.

Mr. Crews told Deputy Earl Lord he showed the firearm to a customer about 4:00 and placed it back in a case. Another employee noted it was gone about three hours later.

- Someone broke out an office window at the First Baptist Church of Macclenny overnight November 20 and police found evidence it had been pried. Nothing was reported taken.

Teens named in burglary complaint

Criminal complaints for burglary and grand theft were filed November 18 against two males, ages 12 and 13, for stealing nearly $1500 worth of property from a residence on North 1st St. in Macclenny.

The boys, who were named by victim Margaret McDonald because they had been to the residence to visit her son, admitted to Deputy Larry Clark in separate interviews they took the property after entering the residence through a side door. The report indicates multiple entries.

The suspects denied taking a game system and game valued at $270, but admitted they stole two skateboards, collector cards, a wallet and $5 cash, an iPod and other electronic game items.

In other recent reports:

- A cabin on Ocean Pond in the west county was entered sometime between mid-May and November 19 when owner Michael Ritman of Louisville, KY reported the theft of $700 in property.

Deputy Patrick McGauley said a door on the north side of the structure was pried open and sections of the interior ransacked. Missing items included a television, stereo and liquor.

- Robert Lauramore of Sanderson said his gun cabinet was looted between November 15-19 of a shotgun, pellet gun with a crossbow attachment and three wedding rings. The cabinet was in his residence off CR 127.

Mr. Lauramore told Deputy Jeff Dawson a key to the cabinet was taken from his vehicle.

- Amy Calvert reported two cell phones, a pressure cooker and designer bag missing from her residence on E. McIver St. in Macclenny when she returned to it on November 21. Ms. Calvert, who told Deputy Johnny Hodges she had been in the Duval County jail six months, suspects an ex-boyfriend.

She valued the property at $1100.

- Owner Rebecca Torgerson named ex-daughter-in-law Maria Torgerson of Jacksonville as the person who entered her residence off Calvary Lane near Glen St. Mary on October 30 and took toys and children's clothing valued at $530.

The owner told Deputy Brandon Kiser that Karin Shipes was at the residence that day and saw the suspect inside taking the items. The incident was reported November 19 by the elder Ms. Torgerson, who lives in Las Vegas.

- Stanford Harvey told police on November 16 a CB radio and two nets were removed from a boat parked in the rear of his residence on South 6th St. in Macclenny.

The property was valued at $240.

Paving projects ongoing near Glen

JOEL ADDINGTON
NEWS EDITOR
reporter@bakercountypress.com

After almost two years of discussion, the dirt roads in the Hills of Glen north of Glen St. Mary were overlaid with fresh asphalt last week, with finishing touches being completed this week.

The roughly 1.5-mile paving project included the neighborhood's main looping road, Confederate Drive, and the dead-end street in the center, Confederate Lane — both north of Park Street east of CR 125.

Like many living there, 14-year resident Darlene Lewis is pleased with the results.

"I'm tickled to death," she said. "Maybe it will cut down on the kids on four-wheelers."

The hassle of dirty vehicles and washed-out roads may be over, but the upgrades also mean an easier haul for school bus drivers.

When her children were still in school, Ms. Lewis had to drop them at the entrance to the subdivision on Park Street to catch the bus.

"If I'm going that far I might as well take them all the way to school," she said. "It was really bad. There were times when you'd have half your tire depth in a gully across the road."

Also excited about the road upgrade was Mary Howell, who appreciates the reduction in wear-and-tear on her family's vehicles from the rough terrain.

"Hopefully it will save the county some money in the long run. They won't be working out here as much," said the 23-year resident. "It will be better for the residents overall."

Mike Anderson moved to the neighborhood in 2002 and said he was, "ecstatic over now having a paved road after more than seven years of dust bowl conditions during dry spells and muddy, pot-hole-filled obstacle courses during and several days after heavy rains hit."

He rides a motorcycle, and was also happy that the new road will likely increase the value of his property.

"I know the county commission has faced some tough budgetary decisions these past couple of years, and I'm grateful that they kept the Hills of Glen road improvement project in the budget," said Mr. Anderson.

The smooth surface, however, could also bring with it faster traffic, which concerns Ms. Lewis, an avid walker.

"Some people are very courteous and some will just about run you over," she said.

Monitoring by law enforcement and residents might help, but regardless, Ms. Howell said it's worth the trouble to live on a paved road.

"Speeding will definitely be a problem, but we can stay on top of it and call if we need any help," she said.

APAC-Southeast Inc. is the paving contractor for the roughly $221,000 project, which was funded through local gas taxes.

The company also won a $1.04 million paving job to resurface nine miles of CR 229 south of the interstate in September. That work is expected for completion in February.

Next on the county's list of paving projects are Lowder Street, Mud Lake Road and Woodlawn Road. All three are currently under design and will be funded through close to $4 million in state transportation grants.

The section of Odys Yarbrough Road immediately east of CR 125 is now open after completion of resurfacing and realignment of road's curve. Construction nearby on the future entrance to St. Mary's Shoals Park is ongoing.

The Florida Department of Transportation [FDOT] is also working on plans for repaving of US 90 from Sanderson east to the county line. Bids on the $7 million project will be opened in April with construction set for the summer of 2010, said FDOT spokeswoman Gina Busscher of the District 2 office in Lake City.

Already underway by FDOT is the paving of 2.3 miles of CR

125 north of US 90 in Glen. That work began October 19 with the installation of 60 or so drainage pipes and culverts.

The 70-day project has resulted in daytime lane closures starting about 8:30 in the morning on weekdays, said Ms. Busscher.

The $583,450 effort is one of 50 projects in northeast Florida funded via federal stimulus money.

Girlfriend arrested after earlier warning by deputy

A number of persons were jailed the past week for disorderly intoxication, including Beverly Johns, 50, of Glen St. Mary, who had been warned by police to cease arguing with her boyfriend the night of November 20.

The boyfriend, Charles Wright, told Deputy Matt Hilliard he returned to the residence off Wright's Lane about 11:00 to find that Ms. Johns had ransacked it. The officer's report notes the girlfriend screamed and cursed at him when he tried to calm her and entice her to leave because Mr. Wright feared she would harm him.

Other arrests:

- A similar charge was made against Michael McNeill, 21, of Macclenny after Deputy Daniel Nichols found him in the middle of the roadway near US 90 and E. Boulevard about 11:30 the night of November 19.

The officer said he awakened occupants of two residences on E. Ohio St. when attempting to take Mr. McNeill home. He lived at neither address.

- Michael Bailey, 37, was arrested the evening of November 22 at his address off Clarence Dobbs Rd. near Sanderson after he refused to return a pickup belonging to nephew Cleveland Mann. He then resisted Deputy Kevin Jenkins and Mr. Mann before his arrest for disorderly conduct.

- Deputy Hilliard arrested Rex Sanders, 46, of Macclenny following a disturbance on North 6th St. about 10:30 the same evening.

The officer said Mr. Sanders was being unruly and ordering others off a porch and into the residence, and at one point advanced toward him in a threatening manner.

- Christopher Graves, 38, of Sanderson was jailed for driving on a license with seven prior suspensions following an argument with his wife at the Macedonia Grocery where she was employed.

Deputy Earl Lord said he responded to a disturbance call about 9:30 the night of November 20, and took evasive action near the store when Mr. Graves exited and his vehicle headed toward the officer's patrol car.

The girlfriend, Rebecca Graves, 28, was distraught when interviewed and accused her estranged husband of slashing four tires on her vehicle.

Deputy Lord also learned following the arrest that Mr. Graves telephoned other threats to his wife from a jail phone.

Pills, drugs found on walker

The sheriff's department arrested James Flick, 19, of Macclenny just after midnight on November 22 for felony possession of drugs and disorderly intoxication after he was found walking on the pavement of Barber Rd. in the south city.

Deputy Matt Hilliard said he responded to a disturbance call and located Mr. Flick, who he had twice warned the previous evening for arguing with his girlfriend in public. The suspect smelled strongly of alcohol, and during a security search, Deputy Hilliard said he found one pill of Percocet and one of Xanax for which Mr. Flick did not have a prescription.

He also found a straw with cocaine residue in it, which warranted a felony possession count other than the one for having controlled drugs.

In another drugs case, two Baker County High School students were arrested November 20 for having unauthorized prescription medication.

School officials received a tip that a male student, age 16, had narcotics on his person. When searched by campus deputy Thomas Dyal, the youth produced five pills, two of which he said he obtained from a female student, age 15.

The second student was then brought in for questioning and produced six more pills from an aspirin bottle. She also denied the other student's allegation that she had supplied him with pills.

The male student then made reference to a note passed between the two of them earlier that morning, and the girl then admitted to giving him pills.

This is the second time this month a BCHS student has been taken from campus for felony drug possession.

Pilgrims, Indians sit down Thanksgiving tradition at Westside

KELLEY LANNIGAN

features@bakercountypress.com

Lots of hungry Indians and pilgrims at Westside Elementary feasted on a November 23 pre-holiday meal as part of their study of the origin of Thanksgiving.

The student Thanksgiving feast is an annual event observed by most of the classes at Westside.

Students in Jeana Duval's second grade class, many dressed in period costumes, waited patiently at their desks set with plates, cups and napkins featuring a harvest theme.

Parent helpers, who donate and prepare the food for the meal, set up serving dishes of ham, sweet potatoes, macaroni and cheese, green beans and rolls on a nearby table.

"We're waiting on the mashed potatoes to get here," Ms. Duval announced to the class. "In the meantime, let's go ahead and say our blessing."

Everyone bowed their heads and the air swelled with the murmured recitation of "God is great, God is good, let us thank him for our food ..."

As if on cue, the piping hot mashed potatoes arrived and the feasting began. Even as the students dug into their meal, they eyed the desserts waiting on another table — seven layer bars and chocolate-dipped marshmallow cookie "pilgrim hats."

Ms. Duval, dressed in a rust-colored buckskin dress with fringe and beaded moccasins, moved around the room between the rows of tables, making sure everyone had what they needed. Two dads, Matthew Wilford and Tom Fink, doled out second helpings of mashed potatoes to the hungry kids.

"The students made the place mats on their desks," said Ms. Duval. "They studied what the first Thanksgiving meal might have featured and compared it to what we are eating today. Obviously, the pilgrims and Indians didn't have Sprite to drink."

"Or ice cream," said one little boy with black, white and red stripes across his cheeks. He held up his place mat, made of brown construction paper and woven with colored paper strips to resemble a basket weave.

Attached to the place mat was a list of foods the early settlers of America might have feasted on: wild turkey, duck, goose, fish, venison, lobster, pumpkins and squash, corn bread, dried berries and nuts.

In the days preceding the feast, the students learned about the methods the Indians would have taught the pilgrims so they could successfully grow corn.

"They produced a sequencing chart for that lesson," said Ms. Duval. "One of the things they learned was that Indians buried small fish in the ground with the corn kernels for fertilizer."

The charts were shaped like an ear of corn which the children decorated with crayons. Down the center of the ear, they attached, step by step, the directions for planting, tending, harvesting and grinding corn.

The students also wrote their own Thanksgiving stories and decorated them with a turkey drawing.

Part of Hannah Wilford's story expressed her thanks for the holiday and for the original people who started it:

On Thanksgiving we eat turkey and ham for a feast. We have a feast with all our family and we are thankful for the beautiful pilgrims and Indians ...

"The children get really excited about their Thanksgiving feast here at school," said Ms. Duval, "and they love to dress up. It's special to me too."

She touches the lovely beaded necklace with Indian patterns around her neck.

"I got this at Cherokee, NC, when I was six years old. I like having such a meaningful occasion to wear it," she said.

Vehicle vandalized with sugar

A complaint for criminal mischief was filed November 21 against a Glen St. Mary man for allegedly pouring sugar into the gas tank of a Macclenny woman's vehicle.

Heather Bennett said her 1993 Saturn ceased operating that morning at a north city intersection, and she noted evidence of sugar near the gas tank. She initially suspected a female neighbor on North Boulevard with whom she had earlier argued, but Deputy Robert Simpkins questioned the suspect and she denied involvement.

Later that day, another witness came forward and named George Griffis, 23, as the person who used a plastic bottle fashioned into a funnel to pour sugar in the tank.

Witness Floyd Proctor, who also lives in the neighborhood, told Deputy Simpkins that Mr. Griffis was angry at Ms. Bennett and her boyfriend Adam Christmas, who he suspects stole his wallet.

In other reports: • Robert Collins told police November 20 his 1998 Suzuki motorcycle was apparently stolen by someone impersonating a repossession agent.

Mr. Collins told Deputy Matt Riegel he is going through a bankruptcy and thus was not suspicious when a red tow truck arrived November 16 at his residence off Faye Rd. in Macclenny to pick up the vehicle. The depu-ty's report notes the sheriff's department received no notification that day of a repossession taking place.

• Clarence Ruise reported his 2006 Yamaha four-wheeler was taken overnight November 21 from beside his residence on Faith Temple Church Rd. near Sanderson.

• Meggy Castleberry of Macclenny reported November 19 a wallet with $15 cash, identification and a debit card was taken from her unlocked 2000 Ford while it was parked on US 90 west in the city. The theft took place on November 16.

County limits parade vehicles

JOEL ADDINGTON

NEWS EDITOR

reporter@bakercountypress.com

The Lighted Christmas Parade through downtown Macclenny this year will have fewer flashing lights and sirens, thanks to a decision by county officials recently to limit the number of public vehicles in the line-up.

County Manager Joe Cone said only one fire engine and one rescue ambulance will take part in the annual celebration, a decision backed by the Baker County Commission during its meeting November 16.

During challenging fiscal times for both the state and local governments, the move will help combat any perception of wasteful government spending, no matter how small the expenditure may be.

"Every little bit helps," said Mr. Cone.

While the county has taken such steps, the City of Macclenny has not.

"It's good to have the perception of being budget-minded, but in this case with the merchants in downtown, they really look forward to it," City Manager Gerald Dopson said of the annual event. "The parade's one of their biggest attractions."

The city's fire department is the lead organizer of the parade, renting out booth space to raise money for the department's holiday toy drive.

Though he hasn't discussed the matter with the city council,

Mr. Dopson wondered how much could be saved by limiting city vehicles for the mile-long parade run.

"It might be something like 10 gallons of diesel fuel," he said, adding that firefighters and other city employees volunteer their time during the event.

Legal Notices

STATE OF FLORIDA
DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION
NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE PERMIT

The Department of Environmental Protection gives notice of its intent to issue a permit to E I DuPont De Nemours & Company, David J Podmeyer, Post Office Box 753, Starke, Florida 32091 to revise the existing permit for the Dupont North Maxville Mine. This revision changes the location of two previously permitted discharge points, D-003 and D-004, from the western portion of the property to the eastern portion of the property.

The intent to issue and application file are available for public inspection during normal business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except legal holidays, at the Department's Northeast District Office, 7825 Baymeadows Way, Suite 8200, Jacksonville, Florida 32256-7577, at phone number (904) 733-3300.

The Department will issue the permit with the attached conditions unless a timely petition for an administrative hearing is filed under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes, within fourteen days of receipt of notice. The procedures for petitioning for a hearing are set forth below.

A person whose substantial interests are affected by the Department's proposed permitting decision may petition for an administrative proceeding (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. The petition must contain the information set forth below and must be filed (received by the Clerk) in the Office of General Counsel of the Department at 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000.

Under Rule 62-110.106(4), Florida Administrative Code, a person may request an extension of the time for filing a petition for an administrative hearing. The request must be filed (received by the Clerk) in the Office of General Counsel before the end of the time period for filing a petition for an administrative hearing.

Petitions filed by any persons other than those entitled to written notice under Section 120.60(3), Florida Statutes, must be filed within fourteen days of publication of the notice or within fourteen days of receipt of the written notice, whichever occurs first. Section 120.60(3), Florida Statutes, however, also allows that any person who has asked the Department for notice of agency action may file a petition within fourteen days of receipt of such notice, regardless of the date of publication.

The petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition to the applicant at the address indicated above at the time of filing. The failure of any person to file a petition or request for an extension of time within fourteen days of receipt of notice shall constitute a waiver of that person's right to request an administrative determination (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. Any subsequent intervention (in a proceeding initiated by another party) will be at the discretion of the presiding officer upon the filing of a motion in compliance with Rule 28-106.205, Florida Administrative Code.

A petition that disputes the material facts on which the Department's action is based must contain the following information, as indicated in Rule 28-106.201, Florida Administrative Code:

- (a) The name and address of each agency affected and each agency's file or identification number, if known;
(b) The name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner; the name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding; and an explanation of how the petitioner's substantial interests will be affected by the determination;
(c) A statement of when and how the petitioner received notice of the Department's decision;
(d) A statement of all disputed issues of material fact. If there are none, the petition must so indicate;
(e) A concise statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the Department's proposed action;
(f) A statement of the specific rules or statutes the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the Department's proposed action; and
(g) A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action petitioner wishes the Department to take with respect to the Department's proposed action.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the Department's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this notice. Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the Department have the right to petition to become a party to the proceeding. In accordance with the requirements set forth above.

In addition to requesting an administrative hearing, any petitioner may elect to pursue mediation. The election may be accomplished by filing with the Department a mediation agreement with all parties to the proceeding (i.e., the applicant, the Department, and any person who has filed a timely and sufficient petition for a hearing). The agreement must contain all the information required by Rule 28-106.404, Florida Administrative Code. The agreement must be received by the Clerk in the Office of General Counsel of the Department at 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000, within ten days after the deadline for filing a petition, as set forth above. Choosing mediation will not adversely affect the right to a hearing if mediation does not result in a settlement.

As provided in Section 120.573, Florida Statutes, the timely agreement of all parties to mediate will toll the time limitations imposed by Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes, for holding an administrative hearing and issuing a final order. Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, the mediation must be concluded within sixty days of the execution of the agreement. If mediation results in settlement of the administrative dispute, the Department must enter a final order incorporating the agreement of the parties. Persons seeking to protect their substantial interests that would be affected by such a modified final decision must file their petitions within fourteen days of receipt of this notice, or they shall be deemed to have waived their right to a proceeding under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. If mediation terminates without settlement of the dispute, the Department shall notify all parties in writing that the administrative hearing processes under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes, remain available for disposition of the dispute, and the notice will specify the deadlines that then will apply for challenging the agency action and electing remedies under those two statutes.

Veterans tribute at NEFSH

A dozen veterans of wars in Afghanistan, Korea, Vietnam and Europe were honored during a post-Veterans Day ceremony at Northeast Florida State Hospital on a chilly morning November 12. The tribute included songs by the NEFSH choir and Break-Aways like "God Bless America" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," plus a speech from retired Army Colonel James L. Crawford of Bradford County at right. The proceedings closed with a 21-gun salute from the Baker County Sheriff's Office and was followed by a parade around the hospital grounds. Pictured above from left are Korean War veterans James A. Milton and Robert C. Snelling, Pearl Harbor survivor Richard M. Takamine, Ruby Steward, who accepted a posthumous award for her late husband and Korean War veteran Robert Stewart; and Korean War veterans William G. Kirkland and Richard H. Davis. William T. Crews Jr. and Robert Stewart Jr. received posthumous awards for service in Vietnam and Korea, respectively.

Mr. Burnett

Eagle Scout rank

John Edward Burnett, then living in Reno, NV, attained the rank of Eagle Scout earlier this year.

Mr. Burnett is the son of John and Kathy Burnett of Kingsville, Texas and the great-nephew of Scott Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Walker, all of Glen St. Mary.

He is also the great-great nephew of Lucille Colburn, Minnie Crews and Lorene Starling, all of Baker County.

Entries sought for Olympiad

The second annual Science Olympiad regional competition will be held at Lake City Community College on February 27, and entries from Baker County high school and middle school students are sought.

The olympiads are intended to improve science education through competition with entries from disciplines ranging from anatomy to chemistry and earth science. Entries are accepted from other specialty areas including forensics to solve crimes, bridge building and launching projectiles.

Schools must register by December 31. For information on how to do so, contact Erin Scarcelli at 386-754-4379.

Nativity night

Northeast Florida State Hospital is presenting its annual Night of Nativity Thursday, December 3, 2009 at 6:00 pm in the John J Crews Activity Center on the hospital campus.

The event will feature special Christmas music by The Merrie Melodies from Westside Elementary, the NEFSH Choir, The Martin Sisters and others. NEFSH invites the community to come enjoy this presentation celebrating Christmas.

Call Gene Burned or Lynda Rushing 259-6211 ext. 1158 for more details.

Free child IDs

The Dawkins Masonic Lodge in Macclenny is sponsoring a free child ID program on Saturday, December 5 from 9:00 am-5:00 pm.

Parents or guardians are asked to bring their children to the lodge for a photograph, voice recording and a short video that the parents then keep as a permanent record in the event their child goes missing. The information will be contained on a CD.

Refer questions to either Stan Harvey at 864-0001 or Tom Adams at 614-2383. The lodge is located on US 90 next to Burkin Chevrolet.

Women to meet

The Baker Women's Political Network will hold a meeting December 1 at the Chamber of Commerce at 6:30 pm. All interested women are invited to attend.

'Magnolia' chosen to represent Florida

The Baker County Community Theatre production of Steel Magnolias will represent Florida next March at the Southeastern Theatre Conference after capturing the state title in Lakeland the weekend of November 14-15.

The cast will compete against the winners from West Virginia, Virginia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, North and South Carolina and Georgia at the competition in Lexington, Kentucky.

The original production of the play ran at BCHS last month and was trimmed in length to compete at the Florida Theatre Conference at the Lakeland Center. Close to 2000 theatre students, teachers and professionals were in attendance at the festival and Steel Magnolias got a terrific response from the audience and critics.

The cast of Kelley Norman, Nancy Mason, Sara Beth Gerard, Niki Knight, Kelly Register and Leah Wheeler and the tech crew of Denny Wells, Tucker Washburn, Curly Wheeler and Mark Mason had to adapt to the frenetic pace of competition.

Competitors start with a bare stage and have only 10 minutes to completely erect the set on stage. The tech crew had practiced it like the actors practiced the play and was able to assemble the entire beauty shop in just 4½ minutes. The audience burst into applause at how quickly they were able to do their work.

The production was cut to 60 minutes and the audience went from laughter to tears and back again and cheered and yelled "Bravo!" at the end of end of the show.

The group will truck the set to Lexington and perform in early March. They will have an encore performance of Steel Magnolias in late February as a fund raiser for the trip.

Legal Notices

STATE OF FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE PERMIT

The Department of Environmental Protection gives notice of its intent to issue a permit (File No. 0169603-017) to David J. Podmeyer, Plant Manager, E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, Inc., Post Office Box 753, Starke, FL 32091, for the expansion of an existing surface water management system. The modification is to provide for the continuation of on-going heavy mineral mining activities into a new parcel, the Cummer property, at the North Maxville Mine.

The project, as modified, will be constructed within a 4,903.16-acre property area. A surface water management system for approximately 2,927.22 acres (total disturbed area) will be contained within the overall property boundaries. The project will dredge or fill a total of 421.13 acres of wetlands and other surface waters. This includes approximately 209.93 acres of wetlands and surface waters previously approved under Permit No. 0169603-013. A total of 36 wetland areas and other surface waters will be impacted resulting in 377.64 acres being excavated and 43.49 acres being filled. Additionally, ten ditches totaling 4.24 acres will be impacted resulting in 3.29 acres excavated and 0.95 of an acre filled. This includes 1.06 acres of ditches previously permitted under Permit No. 0169603-013.

Wetland mitigation will occur at 29 locations and will create or restore 1.00 acre of bay swamp, 1.00 acre of gum swamp, 62.38 acres of cypress swamp, 14.76 acres of pond pine wetland, 137.67 acres of wetland forested mixed, 2.20 acres of wetland shrub, 170.71 acres of other wetland forested mixed, 31.41 acres of freshwater marsh, and 4.20 acres of wet prairie for a total of 425.53 acres of wetlands. In addition, three areas totaling approximately 119.24 acres will be placed in a conservation easement. Approximately 30.08 acres within the conservation areas will be enhanced. Impervious surfaces totaling approximately 0.5 of an acre will be created in uplands for the concentrate stacker pad.

Reclamation will occur concurrently with mining such that approximately 180 acres will be within the system, thereby limiting the volume from a 25-year, 24-hour storm that has to be contained and treated before release. The system will be capable of containing 140 acre-feet of water at any one time. The footprint of the system will be made up of 1) pre-mining, 2) the active mining, and 3) the reclamation and humate storage pond areas. The surface water management system is not dependent on the system in the contiguous Maxville Mine to provide the required storage capacity.

A portion of County Road 228 was relocated and the road surface water management system was permitted with the St. Johns River Water Management District under Permit No. 40-003-108455-1. The permit for the North Maxville Expansion does not modify the requirements of Permit Nos. 0169603-010 and 0169603-011, which remain as separate active permits. The permit for the North Maxville Mine modification does supersede and replace Permit No. 0169603-013. The completion of construction including reclamation will be in the year 2026.

The project is located south of Interstate 10 and west of US 301. Relocated County Road 228 lies on the west side of the project. It is west of the town of Maxville and southeast of Macclenny and is located in Sections 35 and 36, Section 2 South, Range 22 East; and Sections 1.2, 11, 12, 13, 14, 23, 24, 25, and 26, Township 3 South, Range 22 East in Baker County.

RIGHTS OF AFFECTED PARTIES

Under this intent to issue, the permit is hereby granted subject to the applicant's compliance with any requirement in this intent to publish notice of this intent in a newspaper of general circulation and to provide proof of such publication in accordance with section 50.051 of the Florida Statutes. This action is final and effective on the date filed with the Clerk of the Department unless a sufficient petition for an administrative hearing is timely filed under sections 120.569 and 120.57 of the Florida Statutes as provided below. If a sufficient petition for an administrative hearing is timely filed, this intent to issue automatically becomes only proposed agency action on the application, subject to the result of the administrative review process. Therefore, on the filing of a timely and sufficient petition, this action will not be final and effective until further order of the Department. When proof of publication is provided, if required by this intent, and if a sufficient petition is not timely filed, the permit will be issued as a ministerial action. Because an administrative hearing may result in the reversal or substantial modification of this action, the applicant is advised not to commence construction or other activities until the deadlines noted below, for filing a petition for an administrative hearing or request for an extension of time, have expired and until the permit has been executed and delivered. Mediation is not available.

A person whose substantial interests are affected by the Department's action may petition for an administrative proceeding (hearing) under sections 120.569 and 120.57 of the Florida Statutes. The petition must contain the information set forth below and must be filed (received by the clerk) in the Office of General Counsel of the Department at 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000.

Under rule 62-110.106(4) of the Florida Administrative Code, a person whose substantial interests are affected by the Department's action may also request an extension of time to file a petition for an administrative hearing. The Department may, for good cause shown, grant the request for an extension of time. Requests for extension of time must be filed with the Office of General Counsel of the Department at 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000, before the applicable deadline. A timely request for extension of time shall toll the running of the time period for filing a petition until the request is acted upon. If a request is filed late, the Department may still grant it upon a motion by the requesting party showing that the failure to file a request for an extension of time before the deadline was the result of excusable neglect.

If a timely and sufficient petition for an administrative hearing is filed, other persons whose substantial interests will be affected by the outcome of the administrative process have the right to petition to intervene in the proceeding. Intervention will be permitted only at the discretion of the presiding officer upon the filing of a motion in compliance with rule 62-110.205 of the Florida Administrative Code.

In accordance with rule 62-110.106(3), petitions for an administrative hearing by the applicant must be filed within 21 days of receipt of this written notice. Petitions filed by any persons other than the applicant, and other than those entitled to written notice under subsection 120.60(3) of the Florida Statutes must be filed within 21 days of publication of the notice or within 21 days of receipt of the written notice, whichever occurs first. Under subsection 120.60(3) of the Florida Statutes, however, any person who has asked the Department for notice of agency action may file a petition within 21 days of receipt of such notice, regardless of the date of publication.

The petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition to the applicant at the address indicated above at the time of filing. The failure of any person to file a petition for an administrative hearing within the appropriate time period shall constitute a waiver of that person's right to request an administrative determination (hearing) under sections 120.569 and 120.57 of the Florida Statutes.

A petition that disputes the material facts on which the Department's action is based must contain the following information:

- The name and address of each agency affected and each agency's file or identification number, if known;
- The name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner; the name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding; and an explanation of how the petitioner's substantial interests are or will be affected by the agency determination;
- A statement of when and how the petitioner received notice of the agency decision;
- A statement of all disputed issues of material fact. If there are none, the petition must so indicate;
- A concise statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including the specific facts that the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action;
- A statement of the specific rules or statutes that the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action; and
- A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action that the petitioner wishes the agency to take with respect to the agency's proposed action.

A petition that does not dispute the material facts on which the Department's action is based shall state that no such facts are in dispute and otherwise shall contain the same information as set forth above, as required by rule 28-106.301. Under paragraphs 120.569(2)(c) and (d) of the Florida Statutes, a petition for administrative hearing must be dismissed by the agency if the petition does not substantially comply with the above requirements or is untimely filed.

The Department has determined that the proposed activity, because of its size, potential effect on the environment or the public, controversial nature, or location, is likely to have a heightened public concern or likelihood of request for administrative proceedings. Therefore, pursuant to subsection 373.413(4), F.S., and rules 62-110.106(5), (7), (9), and (11) and 62-343.090(2)(k), F.A.C., you (the applicant) are required to publish at your own expense the enclosed Notice of Intent to Issue. The notice is required to be published one time, within 30 days of the date of entry of this intent, in the legal advertisements section of a newspaper of general circulation meeting the requirements of sections 50.011 and 50.031, F.S., in the county where the activity is to take place. Within seven days of publication, the applicant must provide proof of publication in the form prescribed by section 50.051, F.S., to:

Department of Environmental Protection
Bureau of Mine Reclamation
2051 East Dirac Drive
Tallahassee, Florida 32310-3760

Failure to publish the notice and provide proof of publication within the allotted time shall result in denial of the permit.

This intent to issue constitutes an order of the Department. Subject to the provisions of paragraph 120.68(7)(a) of the Florida Statutes, which may require a remand for an administrative hearing, the applicant has the right to seek judicial review of the order under section 120.68 of the Florida Statutes, by the filing of a notice of appeal under rule 9.110 of the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure with the Clerk of the Department in the Office of General Counsel, 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000, and by filing a copy of the notice of appeal accompanied by the applicable filing fees with the appropriate district court of appeal. The notice of appeal must be filed within 30 days from the date when the order is filed with the Clerk of the Department. The applicant, or any party within the meaning of paragraph 373.114(1)(a) or section 373.4275 of the Florida Statutes, may also seek appellate review of the order before the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission under subsection 373.114(1) or section 373.4275 of the Florida Statutes. Requests for review before the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission must be filed with the Secretary of the Commission and served on the Department within 20 days from the date when the order is filed with the Clerk of the Department.

John Stephens, 72, retired trucker

John Charles Stephens 72, of Macclenny died November 18, 2009. He was born in Pine Summit, Pennsylvania to Henry Hakes Stephens and Claire Robinson Stephens on September 9, 1937. John worked as a truck driver before retirement and was a member of the Teamsters Union 512 of Jacksonville and Teamsters 991 of Mobile, Alabama for 32 years.

John Stephens

Mr. Stephens was a resident of Baker County since 1992 after moving from Loxley, Alabama and attended First Baptist Church of Macclenny. He loved to travel and visit with friends and family.

Survivors include loving wife of better than 50 years, Linda A. Stephens of Macclenny; children Timothy Ray (Joyce) Stephens of Milledgeville, Georgia, Jack David (Suzanne) Stephens of Ludowici, GA, John Henry (Pam) Stephens of McHenry, Mississippi; step-mother Annie Stephens of Tampa; three brothers and four grandchildren.

The funeral service was held November 21 at 4:00 pm at V. Todd Ferreira Funeral Services with Alan Knight officiating. Another service and interment will follow at a later date in McHenry.

Memorial later for Ruby Truiett

Ruby Willie Truiett, 80, of Macclenny died Saturday, November 21, 2009 at her residence following an extended illness. She was a native of Elba, Alabama and resided in Atlanta, Michigan before moving to Macclenny two years ago. She was a homemaker and attended Glen Friendship Tabernacle Church.

Survivors include sister Glenda Wallace of Taylor; nephews David (Rebecca) Leonard of Macclenny and Dennis Fields of Bay St. Louis, MS; niece Wynell Casset of Lake City.

A private memorial service will be held at a later date. Guerry Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

In Loving Memory of Jeffery Burnsed Sr.

It has been over 16 years since that tragic day when you left us. Our children Susan and Jeffery Jr. (Bubba) are now grown up and have children of their own. Jeff, you would be so proud of our grandchildren. It is so unfair that you had to miss out on all of this. Hayley is so prim and proper and just beautiful, Bayley has your baby blue eyes and she will talk you into anything, Tyler is quite the young man; he has your passion for hunting and a generous heart, Nadia is just a fireball with Burnsed written all over her. I just wanted to say that we all miss you very much and wish you were here to enjoy these things.

MISS YOU,
DENISE, SUSAN AND BUBBA

In Loving Memory of Maranda Merrett

5/14/1986 - 11/26/2008

Maranda, we really miss you and I know we always will. Ever since you've been gone time seems to stand still. You weren't just my little niece; you were really a best friend. And whenever I needed you, you were always there to jump in. When myself, your daddy and Miss Ann were sent away you stepped up to the plate. You did what you had to do and you didn't once hesitate. You were the anchor to our ship that held us all together. You did it with your love and dedication no one could have done it better. You left us little Jada and she reminds me so much of you. Just being able to see her helps all of us make it through. Maranda, we miss you even more with each passing day. I always mention your sweet name each and every time I pray.

I LOVE AND MISS YOU MEME, YOUR UNCLE, "BUBBA DWAYNE"

In Loving Memory of "MeMe" Maranda Marlene Merrett

5/14/1986 - 11/26/2008

We love and miss you so much! Sometimes following you, it feels like way too much. But we know that God had it all planned. So we ask you, dear Lord, to hold all of our hands as we go through life each and everyday. We look forward to seeing you at Heaven's stairway. Not a day goes by that you are not thought about. You will always be in our hearts and memories.

LOVE YOU FOREVER AND ALWAYS, DADDY, MAMA, SISTERS, JADA AND FAMILY

In Loving Memory of Maranda Marlene Merrett

5/14/1986 - 11/26/2008

Why did she have to go so young? I just don't know why. Things happen half the time without reason, without rhyme. Lovely, sweet young woman, daughter, niece and mother. Makes no sense to me, I just have to believe. She flew up to Heaven on the wings of angels. By the clouds and stars and passed where no one sees. And she walks with Jesus and her loved ones waiting, and I know she's smiling saying, "Don't worry 'bout me." Loved ones she left behind just trying to survive and understand the why, feeling so lost inside. Anger shot straight at God, then asking for His love. Empty with disbelief, just hoping that maybe she flew up to Heaven on the wings of angels. By the clouds and stars and passed where no one sees. And she walks with Jesus and her loved ones waiting and I know she's smiling saying, "Don't worry 'bout me." It's hard to say goodbye. Her picture in my mind will always be of times I'll cherish and I won't cry 'cause she flew up to Heaven on the wings of angels. By the clouds and stars and passed where no one sees. And she walks with Jesus and her loved ones waiting and I know she's smiling saying, "Don't worry 'bout me." Meme, your spirit will forever live in our hearts!

WE LOVE AND MISS YOU, BUBBA DWAYNE, MISS ANN, JENN, BAILEY, KEKE, DYLAN AND KALE

5th Sunday

St. John Baptist Church on 5 Churches Road in Sanderson is having a 5th Sunday celebration service November 29 beginning at 11:30 am. Everyone is welcome. Dinner will follow the morning service.

In Loving Memory of Maranda M. Merrett

5/14/1986 - 11/26/2008

Momma, Your death leaves a heartache only Jesus Christ can heal, but your love leaves a memory that no one can steal. We love and miss you with all of our hearts.

I LOVE YOU MOMMY, JADA AND DADDY

In Loving Memory of our Mama and Nana Flora Cecil Mobley

1/19/1939 - 11/23/2008

You can shed tears that she is gone or you can smile because she has lived. You can close your eyes and pray that she will come back or you can open your eyes and see all that she has left. Your heart can be empty because you can't see her or you can be full of the love that you shared. You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday. You can remember her and only that she is gone or you can cherish her memory and let it live on. You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back or you can do what she would want: smile, open your eyes, love and go on. How we cannot believe that it has already been one year since God called you home.

LOVE,
BRYAN AND DEBBIE, CINDY AND MIKE, GRANDCHILDREN WESLEY AND TINA

Candle lighting to recall 'lost children'

A candle lighting service for families who have lost children will be held on Sunday, December 13 at Heritage Park in Macclenny. It will be held in conjunction with similar observances worldwide.

This is the first time for what local organizers hope will become an annual event before the holiday period, the time of year most difficult for bereaved families who can now join together to remember all children who have died, regardless of age of cause of death.

Persons in Baker County and surrounding areas can include their lost children in a slide show that evening. Please include their full name, date of birth and death, and a photo. The information should be mailed c/o The Petey and Seab Benevolent Relief Fund, Inc., 5647 Cherry Tree Ave., Macclenny, FL 32063 or e-mailed via psbrf@yahoo.com. The deadline is November 30.

The service begins at 6:30 pm with a reading of poems and music.

For more details, contact Cheryl Johns at 904-338-5435.

Wildcats advance in playoff run

BOB GERARD
SPORTS

Slugfest. Smash mouth football.

Whatever sports cliché you use, that's what we got last Friday night when the Wildcats beat Madison County 26-17 in the first round of the state playoffs.

It was a heavyweight bout, a 15-round affair after which both fighters could barely stand and the fans left breathless and thankful they got to witness a great football game.

This was a meeting of evenly matched teams that didn't like each other from the start. Both were anxious to prove that they were the better team. It was FSU-Miami from the nineties, complete with a wide left.

When the final horn sounded, the Wildcats and everyone involved breathed a sigh of relief that the game was over. Now it was time to lick wounds and get ready for the next titanic battle in Tallahassee on Friday at Gene Cox Stadium on US 90 downtown against the Godby Cougars, the team that beat Madison for the district title.

Last week was not an easy game on the field or in the stands. Madison came off the bus with an intention of intimidating the Cats before kickoff. They heckled the Wildcats during warm-ups and it continued as they took their "Wildcat Walk" at the beginning of the game, and players and coaches alike had to be restrained from mixing it up before the game even kicked off.

"Madison wins a lot of football games before it even starts," commented Coach Bobby Johns, who told his players after the dust up that he, "hoped they can cash the check they just wrote."

The Wildcats are a hard team to intimidate. It was clear from the early going the Wildcat defensive front was not going to allow feature back Marterrius McDaniel to run all over them. Daniel and company only managed 70 yards rushing in the first half and 40 of that came on one play.

Madison had decided to close down the middle against the Wildcats and put the weight of the game on the shoulders of senior quarterback Darvin Ruise. If the Wildcats were to beat them, Ruise would have to find a way to do it.

Madison had watched a lot of film of the Cats' defense and had obviously decided the way to defeat them was through the air. Kelvin Singletary, the versatile Cowboy quarterback, picked apart the Cat secondary the way Malik Jackson had done for Ribault. But the coaches missed one important point about that game — the Wildcats won it. Johns felt that the switch to the passing game was a chink in the armor of the Cowboys.

"You are who you are and we run the football, control the clock and play great defense," said Johns. "They had abandoned what they do."

Despite having a big game receiver in Will Turner, the Cowboys couldn't hold the Wildcats out of the offensive backfield and Cody Wheeler sacked Singletary to force a 41-yard field goal. Madison held an early 3-0 lead, but it somehow felt like a moral victory in the stands.

It was followed by Ruise hitting Tymachee Givens at midfield on a pass play and finishing the drive with an 18-yard touchdown run for a 7-3 lead.

This was not a game where either team would lay down and die after a little adversity. Singletary hit Turner on a big screen pass to extend the drive and then found McDaniel over midfield. McDaniel got his only big run of the night on a 34-yard scamper to the 10, and two plays later Singletary found the running back in the corner of the end zone to regain the lead 10-7.

Harold Moore gave BCHS good field position on the kickoff and Ruise cracked a 38-yard run all the way to the 36 of Madison two plays later. Though Madison had clogged the center of the line, it didn't have an answer for Ruise and the veer.

The Cats drove the ball deep into Madison territory, and Moore converted on a 7-yard run to pay dirt. The Wildcats led 14-10 at the halftime break.

It was clear to both teams and to the fans this was going to be a battle to the finish and that whoever made the fewest mistakes and had the biggest heart was going to win. It was no surprise that Madison came out battling to start the second half and drove the ball down field with a combination of McDaniel runs and Singletary strikes to Turner.

Their drive stalled on the 18-yard line of BCHS and instead of going for a field goal on fourth down, they put the ball into Singletary's hands for a first down attempt.

Singletary did a good job of avoiding Wildcat pressure much of the night, but down in the red zone when it counted the most, Dakimby Hogan caught the quarterback and took him to the ground.

For the majority of the third quarter it was both defenses holding the offenses at bay. But so often it is the special teams that decide a game and this one was no exception. At the end of the quarter, the Cowboy punter shanked one and that gave the Cats great field position at the Madison 43-yard line.

The Cowboys simply could not stop Ruise. The quarterback finished the game with 156 yards on 19 carries. On this drive, he broke tacklers and ran the ball down to the 4-yard line, and two plays later ran it in from a yard out. The point after was blocked to put BCHS up 20-10.

As the fourth quarter dawned, the Cowboys started to shoot themselves in the foot. They drove into Wildcat territory only to have an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty push them back to snuff the drive.

The Wildcats were not immune to miscues and when Ruise fumbled on the next series it looked as if Madison might have the break it needed.

The momentum shifted yet again and Singletary found Turner on a pair of pass plays to give the Cowboys the ball at the Wildcats' 2-yard line. McDaniel ran it in and BCHS held a slim 20-17 lead. The Cowboys had already demonstrated that they had a field goal kicker capable of booting 40-plus yards and the Cats' blocked PAT was looming large.

After four quarters of a heavyweight bout, when the key moment happens it can take fans and players alike by surprise. In this game it was a simple snap from the center.

Deep in their own territory, the Madison punter bobbled the snap. With the Cats bearing down on him, he shifted to the left and tried a moving, rugby-style kick. But he tossed the ball just a little too high and whiffed it. The ball went rolling and the Cats tackled the punter as he scrambled for it on the Madison 12-yard line.

The cowbells that rattled ceaselessly from the Madison side of the stands went quiet. The game had taken the turn that both sides had anticipated would happen to one side or the other.

Ruise tossed the ball to Moore, who scampered in for the score. The Wildcats tried for the 2-point conversion but didn't make it. Nonetheless, they were up 26-17 and Madison needed a pair scores to win.

To their credit the Cowboys didn't give up. State powerhouses like Madison never give up. They drove into Wildcat territory and it took a huge hit from Ruise and Milton Baker on a fourth down try to stop the drive.

They had one more chance late in the half but their field goal attempt was wide left.

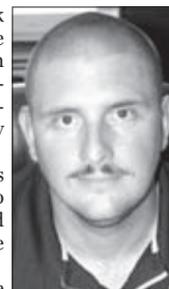

It was a huge win for the Wildcats. Coach Johns ranked it as one of the top two wins in Wildcat history and the biggest playoff win. Only the first win over Bradford tops it in Wildcat lore.

In the Locker Room

with Coach Bobby Johns

We are not satisfied.

I can assure you that although Friday night's win against Madison County may rank as the single biggest win in the history of Baker County football, this team is not going to be satisfied with one playoff win.

Coach Bobby Johns

We are determined to continue this climb towards the elite level of football in Florida and this week's game against a super Tallahassee Godby team will be one more step for us to climb.

When the season began, I knew we could have a great football team but there were times this year I thought maybe I was wrong. Well, with 2:36 seconds remaining in the Suwannee game, we became that football team and we have never looked back.

Regardless of the outcome of this Friday's game, we have transformed this team into the one I believed we could be all along. It has been evident all year that many people did not have a lot of faith in us, and I can understand that after the way we played at times.

I know that every member of our "Wildcat Family" always believed we were special. Now, we have to ride the momentum even further and find a way to be emotionally prepared for a huge test Friday night. We just beat a Madison team that played in the state championship game in 2007 and now we face a Godby team that played in the state championship in 2008.

If we win, we would likely play a Cocoa team that won the state title in 2008. Please join us Friday night at Cox Stadium in Tallahassee as we try to continue this dream. Kickoff is at 7:30 and we hope to see everyone there.

Lady Cats go 4-0 in week one

JOE DARASKEVICH | SPORTS

The Lady Wildcats basketball team went undefeated in the month of November by beating Hilliard, Fernandina Beach and Union County at home and then traveling to Bradford County on November 23 to win an overtime thriller 72-63 against their long-time rival from the south.

"We were trailing by seven with less than a minute to play," head coach Franklin Griffis said. "We were able to tie it up with a free throw in regulation and then it took an entire team effort to win in overtime."

The girls held Bradford to four points in the overtime period thanks to suffocating team defense as well as a stellar individual effort by junior Kiana Parker on the defensive end.

"We spent a lot of time in the beginning of the season focusing on defense," Coach Griffis said. "We've been playing man-to-man and it's worked through the first four games."

Coach Griffis stresses the importance of defense, but knows his team has to score points in order to win games.

"We still have to work defensively to get ourselves in better positions on the court," Coach Griffis said. "But I'm thrilled with the way Chelsey Ruise has emerged offensively in the last two games."

Ruise led BCHS with 21 points against Bradford and although she struggled to get the ball through the hoop to start the season, she had five three pointers in the last two games as well as the game-tying free throw to send the Bradford game to overtime.

"It's nice to start 4-0," Coach Griffis said. "But we've still got a lot of work to do."

The Lady Wildcats feature three senior leaders and two seasoned juniors. Senior Meagan Osteen and junior Kiana Parker are both averaging more than 10 rebounds a game, making for plenty of second-chance points on the offensive end of the court.

The other two seniors are both guards and can handle the point. Destiny de la Pena leads the team with 17.2 points per game and Brittany Burns' team-leading, nine assists on the season compliment de la Pena and Ruise's scoring ability.

"The two juniors, Kiara Battles and Kiana Parker, are playing big around the basket with rebounds and put-backs," Coach Griffis said. "The rest of the team is made up of sophomores who have been able to step up and contribute."

After hanging on to win the first game of the year 62-58 over Hilliard at home, the girls coasted to a 49-34 win over Fernandina Beach on November 17. Then on November 19, the girls won 57-46 over Union County in a game that was closer than the final score suggests.

The team doesn't have another game until December 1 when they take on Columbia at 7:30 p.m. on their home court. The JV team will get things started against Columbia at 6 p.m.

"We are looking forward to a great year, with our eyes on the prize of a District Championship," Coach Griffis said. "The games have been very exciting to watch and hopefully more fans will come out and enjoy some great basketball."
