

was more than a year when they got to that far off land.

The man who took the cat, had, as was said, the name of Jack. He left the ship