

when he got to the land, and went to see the king. The king was glad to see Jack, and told him, he must stay and dine with him.