Apopka High School's most successful football coach ever has resigned his position here to take a high school coaching job in Alabama.

week to become the head football coach at Enterprise (Ala.) High School. He will begin his duties at Enterprise High in early January. His final day at Apopka High will be December 21.

Darlington, 53, was one of two finalists for the Enterprise job. The other was Mark Rose, head coach at North Jackson (Ala.)

City Council tables request for increase in development's density

By Teresa Sargeant Apopka Chief Staff

The Apopka City Council voted unanimously to table a decision in increasing the density of a subdivision until after the developer meets with Rock Springs Ridge residents, who requested further details on the project.

On Wednesday, December 5, the City Council was set to vote on transmitting to the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity an amendment request increasing the proposed development's density from one dwelling unit per acre to two units per acre. That vote was postponed until the February 6, 2019,

The proposed development is a subdivision originally of 35 single-family homes on a 35-acre tract, located north of West Ponkan Road and west of Mount Stirling Avenue. The amendment would increase the 35 houses to 70 houses.

Rock Springs Ridge Phase 2 project, a single-family subdivision, abuts the subject property to the north and the east.

Among the concerns residents addressed at the council meeting is that the project plan is considering Pittman Road and Mount Stirling Avenue as access points.

After senior city planner David Moon gave the city council an overview of the project, Commissioner Kyle Becker asked him why the city is "entertaining the thought" there should be an access point between the existing Rock Springs Ridge development and the new neighborhood.

Conjoined twins separated, come home to Apopka

Parents Andre and Angi Pitre of Apopka hold formerly conjoined twins Remi (I) and Jesi.

Twin sisters Jesi and Remi of Apopka came wailing into the world on May 15 as conjoined twins locked at the abdomen, the outline of the girls' wiggling bodies looking to their parents like the shape of a beautiful heart. Two months later, University of Florida Health surgeons separated the babies.

What followed for parents Andre and Angi Pitre of Apopka, were exhausting months as they watched their babies slowly recover. A hospital stay for the girls that began at birth became a marathon. Remi would leave the hos-

On Monday, December 3, the moment arrived for Jesi. The baby girl was discharged after 203 days in UF Health Shands Children's Hospital. The sisters will be spending their first Christmas together.

"The best Christmas presents ever," said

Jesi and Remi, born at the hospital with a shared liver and a connected intestine, were successfully separated July 23 by UF Health surgeons supported by a large multidisciplinary team in a surgery as complex as it is rare. Like all conjoined twins, the girls faced staggering odds. Indeed, up to 60 percent of conjoined twins are stillborn.

These girls, however, are fighters.

"It's pretty amazing to watch them blossoming into little active 6-month-old babies that do normal 6-month-old baby stuff even though they've been confined to four walls the majority of their life," said Angi. "And today is exciting because little Jesi gets to break through those walls and go home."

While overjoyed at being home with both their babies, leaving the UF Health Shands neonatal intensive care unit and its dedicated staff was nonetheless bittersweet for the cou-

"We have built a family here over the last six months," Angi said. "And it's going to be hard to leave some of them because our babies are here because of them."

Our position

Darlington - leaving but will never be forgotten

The news became official this week as Apopka High School football coach Rick Darlington resigned to become head coach at Enterprise High School in Alabama.

He'll move to Alabama with three state championships to his credit and 167 victories in 17 seasons as Apopka's football coach.

While some people might criticize his leaving Apopka, it's hard to imagine a man being able to provide a better financial situation for his family and turn that down when all the other non-financial aspects of the job are attractive as well.

And while Darlington's time in Apopka was highlighted by those Friday night lights when the Blue Darters outperformed their opponents about 80 percent of the time, his legacy will live even longer in the lives of the young men he touched.

The reaction on social media was fairly predictable in that most Apopka people are sad to see him go, but wish him nothing but the best. A few who actually know little to nothing about the program were critical but the most telling was the reaction from former players. To a man, they highly praised their former coach and the influence he had on them as men. The discipline that Darlington has in the football program translates into real life, as well and the joy and disappointment that naturally comes from athletic competition.

We are also sorry to see Darlington leave, but we know that he couldn't turn down the opportunity to make a significant amount more money and continue to do the job he loves – coaching young men in high school football.

May the Lord bless Rick Darlington, his incredibly supportive wife, Shelly, and their seven children.

Israeli scientist is going after Alzheimer's disease

DECEMBER 7 - One of the major concerns of people older than 50 years of age is Alzheimer's disease, which is presently affecting some 47 million people worldwide and remains an irreversible brain disorder.

The December issue of the Levitt Letter contains an article by Abagail Klein Leichman that offers some hope of prevention in the near future, covering a positive approach by an Israeli brain researcher in developing a vaccine against this devastating disease.

Leichman reports, "Most vaccines work by mounting an immune response toward a weakened pathogen to boost the immune system's ability to fight the real pathogen. Prof. Eitan Okun's vaccine primes the body to attack amyloid beta protein accumulations in the brain, one of the signature signs of Alzheimer's disease.

"He is preparing to design human trials on people at known risk of developing the disease in their 50s or younger: those genetically inclined toward Alzheimer's and people with Down syndrome.

"These critical trials will determine whether the vaccine actually works in humans," Okun said, who also is investigating why people with Down syndrome are more apt to develop Alzheimer's. In experiments at his Paul E. Feder Alzheimer's Research Lab at Bar-Ilan University in Ramat Gan, Israel, Okun used mice engineered to mimic Down syndrome.

"In addition to his potentially ground-breaking vaccine, Okun is investigating new ways to diagnose Alzheimer's earlier and more accurately using advanced MRI technologies to detect initial signs of amyloid protein clumps in the brain.

"My researchers and I have been seeking to construct a protein that could enter the bloodstream, make it through the bloodbrain barrier, bind to the amyloids, and, then, be visible in an MRI scan," he said. "I am always looking for new angles to attack Alzheimer's. I have never been more optimistic that prevention of the disease will be achieved.

"There is currently no cure for neurodegenerative diseases like Alzheimer's and Parkinson's, and medical science can only identify such conditions behaviorally - through the symptoms that indicate that brain tissue has already been destroyed," he explained.

"Our challenge is to find the clues in molecular biology and biochemistry of the brain that would indicate there is a problem, and would also give us possible targets for early drug intervention."

"I am convinced that a vaccination approach is the way to go with neurodegenerative diseases," said Okun.

"His father was diagnosed with dementia in his 60s. By the time the changes in his motor and cognitive function became apparent, the brain tissues were already lost. It is my hope that, by gaining a fuller understanding of what happens to our brains as we age, we will be able to help more people live a fuller, more cognitively healthy life."

Okun, 39, earned his master's and doctorate degrees at Bar-Ilan and did a post-doctoral fellowship at High. He will replace David Faulkner, who resigned after posting a 38-38 record over seven seasons.

The Enterprise City School Board voted 3-1 on Thursday, December 6, to approve Darlington's hiring.

(A story about the search for Darlington's replacement begins on page 1C.)

Couldn't turn it down

Darlington said it was an opportunity he couldn't turn down, and just like the first time he came to Apopka, the team he is taking over struggled through a 2-8 record in the season before he became coach. In fact, Enterprise has had two straight 2-8 seasons.

"It's hard to find a reason not to (take the Enterprise job) besides the people (in Apopka)," Darlington said. "I love my life here. I like what I do on Saturday, where I eat breakfast, where I watch games. I like mowing fields on Sunday. I love the people

"The biggest thing for me is it's a new challenge. After being here for 17 years (total), the last 13, it kind of reinvigorates me to go and try to build something special somewhere else.

"I'd rather leave here when things are good rather than bad. I'm not being pushed out or I'm not leaving because I'm mad. I wasn't looking for a job. There's no bad here. I can't say anything bad. It's a great place."

Although Darlington would not discuss his salary at Enterprise, sources said his salary would be at least $110,000 which is what the former Enterprise coach was paid.

Darlington will also have use of a vehicle to drive while he is Enterprise coach.

'Re-energize me'

"I can't think of a single bad thing about Apopka. I'm not leaving here for any reason at all. It's like the last time I left I didn't leave because I didn't like it. I liked it here then and I love it here now. It seems like God put this thing in my lap to re-energize me and my family."

After three seasons in Valdosta, Darlington resigned and was rehired as Apopka High's football coach.

Enterprise is similar to Valdosta, he said, except in one very important manner.

"From what it appears, it's Valdosta facilities-wise without the Valdosta interference," Darlington said, adding that the Valdosta experience was rife with political influences inside the football

He will not have to teach any classes. He'll strictly be the head football coach who is in charge of the football program at Enterprise High School and the local middle school. At Apopka High, Darlington taught physical education classes.

Enterprise, which is located about 30 miles west of Dothan in southern Alabama, has outstanding football facilities at the high school, Darlington said.

"It's a college, facilitywise, and there is an indoor (practice) facility already in the plans, approved by the school board," Darlington

The fieldhouse is as wide as the football field and sits just beyond one end zone, he said. The facilities are still being improved. "They are putting in 200 metal lockers in the locker room this week. That's how big the locker room is," Darlington said.

"It's a whole different level of commitment to football, but, again, I'm not unhappy with this (Apopka)

Twins: Separation of babies was complicated

president for health affairs at UF and president of UF Health, thanked the family for entrusting their babies' care to UF Health.

'We're so happy for the family to see the twins headed home, healthy and thriving, for what promises to be a very happy Christmas," Nelson said. "The commitment of Jesi and Remi's health care team makes us all proud, from the tireless nurses in the neonatal intensive care unit to the physicians who constantly monitored the twins to countless other staff. A complicated case like this one is always a team effort."

Indeed, the care of the twins involved a broad spectrum of specialties and departments. Those included anesthesiology, cardiology, gastroenterology, neonatology, and plastic surgery. Others involved, besides nursing, included respiratory therapists, operating room technicians, among other staff.

Since 2016, UF Health has cared for four sets of conjoined twins. Those include a successful separation that was especially complex because the twins were connected at the heart.

"Few hospitals across the United States are as equipped, capable, and experienced to successfully perform these delicate surgeries," said Ed Jimenez, CEO of UF Health Shands. "That is a tribute to our academic health center and its talented faculty, staff and rich tradition of scientific investigation, all of which helps provide hope where it is often slimmest."

He said he was overjoyed to see the twins going home with mom and dad.

"It's a testament to the resilience of these two beautiful girls, the perseverance and love of their family and the dedicated, talented pool of health care providers who worked around the clock to help ensure the twins have a bright, healthy future," Jimenez said. "A case like this one reaffirms why we all work in medicine."

Saleem Islam, M.D., M.P.H., chief of the division of pediatric surgery at the UF College of Medicine, who led the team that separated the babies' organs, said Jesi and Remi's case was, like any set of conjoined twins, a challenging one requiring a vast team coordinating care.

"The rule is that you are going to be surprised and there will be things that you simply cannot predict," he said. "When we're dealing with conjoined twins, unfortunately, there is no standard way of managing them. Each set of twins comes with its own unique issues and requirements."

It all started for the Pitres in the eighth week of Angi's pregnancy when she had a sonogram in Orlando. The couple already have a 14-year-old daughter and a 9-year-old son. Andre looked at the device's display. "Am I looking at two heartbeats?" Andre asked the tech doing the exam. He was.

Twins. Their family was going to undergo a major expansion.

But the tech seemed concerned about something. Soon, their physician gave them shocking news. The twins appeared to be conjoined.

"It was overwhelming," Andre said. The Pitres later connected with UF Health after one of their doctors showed them a story about conjoined twins successfully separated in Gainesville in June 2016 — the twins joined at the heart.

After multiple scans and tests, Islam and his team confirmed that a separation was viable, which is often not the case with conjoined twins. Sometimes, shared organs cannot be separated, as when two babies share one heart. That is why only 5 to 25 percent of conjoined twins survive.

The first step toward separation was, weeks before, surgically installing skin expanders along the babies' sides, from the armpit to the hip, one on the left of the connected twins, the other on the right. Balloons under the skin are filled with saline to slowly expand, the stretched skin later used to cover the babies' open abdomen after surgery.

Preparation for the separation surgery involved an enormous amount of planning by Islam and others, includ-

I See It

Faithful

In the midst of kind words and accolades for President George H.W. Bush, who died last weekend, someone introduced a discordantsour-note ... political, of all things, of all times.

That sour note came from Charles Hurt of The Washington Times in which he called the "Hosannas and applause for our recently departed former president, nothing short of miraculous" in this Advent season. He cited James Baker's "The most kind and considerate person I've ever known," NYT's, "uncommon grace" and the Washington Post's "a good man". His point was that all the good things being said about him was that it's all more about media hatred for Donald Trump than about their love for George H.W. Bush. He talked about how he was ridiculed and scorned by the press as out-of-touch, doddering, a buffoon...

I've usually enjoyed

Charles' writing and onair opinions, but I'm very disappointed that he felt it was appropriate to go negative... to make this about something other than who the president was as a man and, all he had accomplished. And he did accomplish a lot, starting on his 18th birthday, when he enlisted in the Navy, becoming the youngest fighter pilot in World War II. On one of his 58 bombing missions south of Japan, he was shot down into the sea, but was rescued by a submarine. He came home with a Distinguished Flying Cross.

He went on to marry Barbara (Pierce), start a family and embarked upon his political career by winning two terms in Congress, but losing two Senate races. He served Presidents Ford and Nixon as U.N. Ambassador, head of the GOP, envoy to China and director of the CIA. He served 8-years as Ronald Reavice-president. gan's then became our 41st president of the United States.

It would never have entered my mind to look at this man's life through Charles Hurt's lens. Not because it isn't true that the media does hate Donald Trump, because we all know they do... but because that has nothing to do with how others - real people - saw him, or how he did his many "jobs", or treated others, because those outside the media said those same things that were written by the media... that he was "kind", and "considerate", displayed "uncommon grace" and last, but not least, was definitely a "giant of a man". Not by cultural, Hollywoodtype standards, but in the only ways that really matter: In the way he served the country he loved. In the way he honored and adored his wife of 73 years... in the way he invested himself in and raised the children he loved... In his faithfulness to all he did and his faithfulness to all those who loved him so much and whom he loved dearly... in his faithfulness to Jesus in a world where

So, Charles Hurt ... it may be true that the media hates Trump, but that's got nothing to do with or changes the fact that President Bush was a good man and our country was the better for having had him with us and serving us.

Jesus is often mocked.

Bush: President Bush the son fittingly spoke about his love for his father

The eulogy touched people all across the nation as President Bush the son fittingly spoke about his love for President Bush the father and what the 41st president meant to the people of this great country.

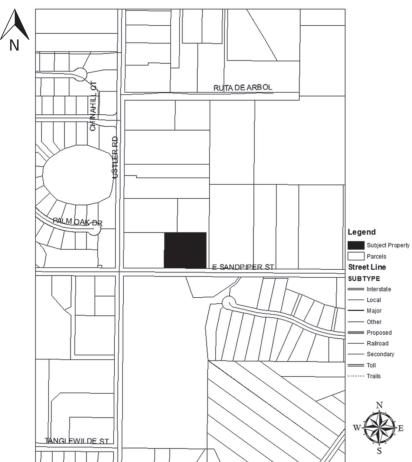

We did notice that President George H. W. Bush's death truly brought out kinder and gentler remarks on national electronic media as well as on social media from those of all political persuasions. Even those who disagreed with the late President Bush politically respected him and his way of doing things. Of course, there are always detractors, but they are generally just looking to be contrarian because that's the way their live their lives – always looking at the negative side of life.

We thank President George H. W. Bush for a life lived in service to this country and its people from his time in the U.S. military to his years as a diplomat to his four years as president.

He was a good and honorable

Health in the United States. Another feature in the Levitt Letter covered new research on cyber security by the American Associates Ben-Gurion University of the Negev. The website is AABGU.org.

"It's been long known that you should never insert an unknown USB into your computer because it could be loaded with malware. However, new research at BGU of the Negev exposes 29 types of the USB attacks, and they extend to your smartphone.

"It shows that you should never use a USB charger you find lying around, or plug into a public USB port. Both could be compromised by attackers, according to BGY researcher Ran Yahalom.

"Yahalom is the co-author of an article published in the journal Computers and Security with Dr. Nir Nissim, head of the Malware Lab at Cyber @BGU, and Prof. Yuval Elovoci, who heads Cyber @ BGU.

"If you use a charger in a coffee shop, an airport, or a train station any charger that is not your own, you don't know what that piece of hardware really does," he stresses. "It may not be a charger, but a microcontroller hidden inside a charger casing. It could be something else. You don't know. Once inserted into your phone, anything could happen.

"The general rule of thumb is this: treat technology as something you don't naturally trust. You trust your flash drive; you trust your keyboard, but you trust it because you aware of where it's been and who has access.

"Treat technology like a syringe. You wouldn't inject yourself with a syringe you found in the parking lot, because you're aware you could be infected. You have no knowledge of what could happen, but are afraid because it could be dangerous. This is exactly how you should treat unfamiliar USB ports and chargers.

And some Jewish humor - A Hanukkah Wish:

Proverbs 23:19.

When Solomon asked his little boy what he wanted for Hanukkah, the boy replied "a baby sister." As it turned out, Solomon's wife was pregnant and delivered on the first day of Hanukkah and brought home a brand new baby sister for her son.

The next year, when Solomon asked his little boy what he wanted for Hanukkah, the boy said, "If it wouldn't make Mommy too uncomfortable, I'd like a pony."

The newly reorganized Board of County Commissioners had its first meeting on the afternoon of December

Moore serves local communities in different role

Moore succeeds Rod Love, an Apopka businessman whom former Governor Rick Scott appointed last April to fill the rest of Bryan Nelson's term. In turn, Nelson was elected the Apopka mayor in the March 13 general election and transitioned to his new position April 24.

Moore, a real estate agent, professional flautist, and the author of the local children's history book "Ahapopka," is the mother of two children and two grandchil-

"This election, for me, is about earning the trust of the citizens," Moore said. "I had to prove that I have the experience, vision, and talent to become their leader. Victory was achieved by God's grace and the work of many special people."

Moore said achieving anything in life comes from "purposeful energy," a concept she first learned from her grandmother Hazel Krinke

According to Moore, constituents have expressed to her the following most important issues: traffic, an inadequate transportation network, pedestrian safety, protecting a strong economy, and ensuring high-paying jobs, as well as septic regulations in conjunction with protecting local lakes, springs, and wa-

Demings makes history once more

Defeating Pete Clarke and Rob Panepinto in the August 28 election, Demings blazed the historical trail when he was elected the first African-American Orange County mayor.

However, that wasn't the only time Demings made history. He was also the first black sheriff when elected to this job in 2008, Orlando's first African-American police chief, and the first black director of public safety in Orange County.

He is married to Congresswoman Val Demings. They have three children and five grandchildren.

The 16 months of campaigning and preparation for the December 4 ceremony was not possible without what Demings called a "lifetime" of experiences including lessons from teachers and mentors, as well as support from family, friends, campaign volunteers, associates, and donors.

"I am standing here today on many of your shoulders and those of my ancestors, many of whom were enslaved in this country," Demings said. "There have been many times in which the very foundation of our nation has been shaken and weakened, bers to be crimefighters who but I'm reminded that we're indeed one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

As mayor, Demings said

he would focus on the affordable housing crisis, finding a long-term solution for the regional transportation issue, economic development, and enhancing public safety.

On Monday, December 3, he announced four key staff appointments to his new administration: Byron W. Brooks as county administrator, Roseann Harrington as chief of staff, Carol Burkett as deputy chief of staff, and Jeff Williamson - who stepped down as Orange County Sheriff's Office spokesman after 12 years - as communications manager.

There's a new sheriff in

Only a few hours before the new officials transitioned into office, the Orange County Sheriff's Office hosted the Passage of Leadership from Demings to new Sheriff John W. Mina, also at the convention center.

Mina, previously the Orlando police chief, beat Darryl B. Sheppard and Jose "Joe" Lopez in the November 6 general election to be elected the 29th sheriff of Orange County.

Mina has spent more than 27 years with the Orlando Police Department, including four years as the Orlando police chief. An Army veteran, he served as a member of the 82nd Airborne Division as a military police officer. Mina is married to his wife Tracie and they have two Mina said he expects sheriff's department memwill make it uncomfortable for criminals to prey on people in this community" and "to interact with residents, especially our young people."

He also wants more trust developed between the deputies and the community through regular social interaction like cookouts, sports playing, and town hall meet-

"It's sometimes tough for law enforcement out there," he said. "Out there are some who don't trust us, and we need to work on that trust. That starts with my expectation of a fair and impartial policing, especially in some of our high-crime areas. What I've always said and what I know to be true is that it's hard to hate up close. That's why it's incumbent upon all of us to engage with our community like never before."

ing Jessica Ching, M.D., who placed the skin expanders and whose team would lead the reconstruction and closure of the twins' abdomen. Ching is an assistant professor in the UF College of Medicine's division of plastic and reconstructive surgery in the department of surgery.

"It's amazing how many people have to come together to do it," Ching said. "One of the biggest tasks is keeping everybody, including the family, on the same page."

Finally, the big day arrived in July. The surgery would last up to five hours. Two anesthesia machines, one of each baby, stood ready, each with its tubing labeled to avoid confusion. Label colors, of course, were UF's orange and blue.

The first part of the surgery involved separating the intestines, which were joined in a manner that created a common channel.

But the biggest challenge for Islam came later when he tackled the liver separation. In such a procedure, the liver separation is done in an area with the fewest number of crossing blood vessels. With Remi and Jesi, Islam found no clear plane of separation. So, using an intraoperative ultrasound, he moved with painstaking precision to avoid undue bleeding.

With the liver separated, Islam said, "Now, we had two babies."

The surgical team called the parents to let them know. "To hear those two words that you have two babies, it was amazing," said Angi. She hugged Andre and cried.

The surgeons then had to work on the very large abdominal wall defects and close the babies before the parents could see them in recovery.

The girls' recovery proved challenging as they battled a wound infection, feeding issues and, for Jesi, serious respiratory difficulties, which lengthened her hospital stay. But Islam said such challenges aren't unusual in these complicated cases. "We were happy that the babies were actually fairly stable and we were able to manage them and control their recovery extremely well," he said.

The Pitres had watched over two babies with one connected body for two months. As the babies recovered, all that, of course, had changed.

"I had gotten used to going to see my babies and standing at one bedside and being able to comfort both of them and see both of them and love both of them," Angi said. "And now they're in two separate beds. It was hard to decide which bed to stand next to. I was constantly going back and forth from bed to bed probably for the first hour, just to stare at them."

Both she and her husband marveled at being able to see their faces in full. For so many weeks, the girls had been on their sides, face to face. "Here they are laying on their backs," Angi said. "We can see their full faces, their beautiful full faces for the first time. And they're just so pretty."

Andre credited the couple's faith in helping them through the months of anguish and uncertainty.

"Christmas is always supposed to be about a very special baby," he said. "And we're fortunate enough to have had that special baby look after these special babies and give them as a gift to us."

The girls, the couple said, will always have two birth-days. More precisely, July 23, the day of their separation, will be their "rebirthday," said Andre.

The care team is happy to see the girls finally end this chapter of their medical journey. The babies will return frequently to UF Health for aftercare over the next few years.

"We're very thankful when we take something so complicated - we have no idea what the outcome is potentially going to be - and watching them go home healthy," Islam said. "It's incredibly satisfying and pleasurable to have that happen, both from the standpoint of the teams that have been taking care of the babies, as well as for the parents who are going home with two healthy and fairly vocal babies. It most certainly requires a team effort to have a successful outcome"

"We're all so pleased to have been involved in Jesi and Remi's care," said Ching.

Angi said there is more yet to come for her remarkable girls.

"In the end, their story isn't over," Angi said.
"They're blossoming. They're growing. They're thriving.
They're going to blow this world away with their little special personalities."

Coach: He won 3 state titles at AHS

ka, Darlington was head coach at Eustis High where he was 21-12 and suffered his only losing season as a head coach, 4-6 in 1998, the year before he was hired at Apopka High.

In his 23 years as a head coach at Apopka, Eustis, and Valdosta, Darlington owns a 214-73 record, a 74.6 winning percentage.

Known for his groundoriented offenses, Darlington has become a nationally known speaker at football clinics throughout the nation, speaking several times each year at conferences attended by hundreds of high school and college coaches from around the nation.

While serving as Apopka's offensive coordinator in addition to being head coach, Darlington has led a prolific offense that set statewide records, including the most points in the 10-game regular season (529) and most points in all games, including playoffs, (752). Those records came in 2013 when the Blue Darters were Class 8A runner-up.

That same season, the Blue Darters set a single-game school record for most points scored in one game in an 80-26 victory over Weki-

In 2016, Apopka defeated Edgewater, 78-0, which is the largest margin of victory in school history.

This past season, the Apopka offense set a single-game school record for rushing yardage with 615 yards in a 33-28 victory over St. Johns Bartram Trail.

In his 214 games as Apopka High football coach, Darlington's Blue Darters scored in double figures in all but 15 games. His teams were shut out only three times in 17 seasons.

Darlington's teams put up at least 30 points in 143 of his 214 games as Apopka's head coach, including 19 in a row over the 2012 and 2013 seasons. Apopka also scored 60 or more 11 times in Darlington's 17 seasons.

Great support

"I've invested 17 years of my life here," Darlington said. "My kids have all gone to school here, graduated here. I've definitely worked as hard at it now as I worked at it when I first came in '99.

We've had great coaches, had great players. We've had great support from the community, especially from the faculty and the administration."

Darlington and his wife, Shelly, have seven children. Ty and Zack have both graduated from college, while Molly and Gracie are in college now. All four of those are Apopka High School graduates.

Jackson is a junior at Apopka High. Darlington said Jackson is "excited about" going to Enterprise. That was one of the coach's concerns, but "he was a lot more receptive than I thought he would be."

Wyatt and Lilly are not yet in high school.

One of Apopka High's positives, Darlington said, was support from the administration and other faculty members.

"The faculty has always been behind us," Darlington said.

He cited the names of the five principals he's worked for while he's been Apopka's football coach, John Edwards, Bill Floyd, Doug Guthrie, Matt Arnold, and now, Lyle Heinz.

"Every single principal has supported me and made it the perfect job," Darlington said. "They've let me set it up exactly how I want it. To get five principals in a row who have been on point like that is amazing. I've had great administrative support."

One or two of his current Apopka assistants may join him on the Enterprise staff, Darlington said.

Most successful coach

Apopka High athletic director Russell Wambles and AHS Principal Lyle Heinz have been Darlington's bosses at Apopka High. Both of them had high praise for the football coach.

"He is, in my mind, unquestionably the most successful high school football coach in Central Florida history. I know there are some who have won more games, but there's nobody who can match the ultimate success,"

"At the end of the day, there's nothing but a positive spin on all of it. What he's been able to accomplish here has been phenomenal. There was a lot of good football played here before he got here and there will be a lot of good football played here when he leaves and when I leave and whenever everybody else leaves, but he was the guy who was able to come in and wrap it up in a nice little bow to make the final outcome be really what you wanted it to be both on the field and off the field."

Although this is Heinz's first year as principal at Apopka High, he was an assistant principal for two years a few years ago.

"Obviously, football's a big part of Apopka High School and coach Darlington's been a big part of that for a long time," Heinz said. "Working with him this year, it's the same thing. His integrity, working with young men and all those things that we would expect out of a football coach, and he sets that standard pretty high.

"It's tough because I've talked to Rick about the opportunity he's been offered. I'm disappointed for me, but happy for him at the same time. Bittersweet might be a better term than disappointed. We were fortunate enough to have him here for the past 13 years. He's leaving us a pretty good situation. We're looking forward to building on that situation and moving forward."

Lakeland ties

Darlington said he was first contacted about the job by Greg Faught, superintendent of Enterprise City Schools. As it turns out, Faught is from Lakeland, where Darlington grew up, although the two did not know each other.

Faught sought out Darlington and made the decision to pursue Darlington, who has since met and spoken with the Enterprise High principal and athletic director.

"Everyone's on the same page. It's all mapped out who's doing what and what their roles are in the school," Darlington said.

Darlington said that the people in Enterprise who hired him understand that he's not going to have a high-flying offense that throws the ball 50 times a game. He loves the running game.

"That's what they want.
They want old-fashioned.
They want tough, discipline, class. They want what we want to do. That's not what everyone wants nowdays."

I think I first learned about purposeful energy from my grandmother, Hazel Foss. She was one strong German lady, and in fact, lived to be 95 years old. A picture from a Minneapolis newspaper hangs on the wall of my skinnylegged grandmother in her antiquated, but certainly stylish in her day, bathing suit. She was recognized for being the first girl ever to finish a 15-mile cold water Minnesota lake swimming race.

While I'm sad she isn't here today, my mother, her daughter, is. As I thought about what I

We were happy to host her and our tours could not have been better. We visited a number of classrooms in each school and were able to see engaged learning and students who were excited to be there.

I was so impressed with our teachers and the innovative and exciting lessons they were doing. We saw an engaging AP art history lesson in Mr. Houvouras' class that had kids waving hands in the air and moving around the classroom and loved Mrs. Restrepo's happy kindergarten Spanish class (that's right, I said kindergarten Spanish).

We saw Mrs. Fooks'

6th grade health science classroom complete with a real hospital bed and we even got a quick preview of the Blue Darter Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Shafer, as they rehearsed for Epcot's Candlelight Processional later that night.

They sounded superb! Of course, every classroom was a fun place to be and we often joked that we wanted to stay all day.

I was very impressed with Sullivan's engagement during the visits. She asked numerous, thoughtful questions and interacted with many students. She was genuinely interested in the day-to-day operations, as well as the bigger issues facing our schools, like state and local testing requirements.

She asked every principal what ways they felt the state gets in the way of them doing their job each day. That poignant question I think demonstrates her sincere desire to mold our education system to benefit our local schools. Her desire to learn as much as she could while she was in our schools was evident.

My exciting week continued when I learned the good news that Wekiva High School's very own Zaquan Kemp was recognized by Sonny's BBQ as the winner of the Random Acts of BBQ. Zaquan is a senior at Wekiva High School and works at Panera Bread in Apopka.

His numerous acts of kindness include working with his school's ESE students, working with the Safe Ambassador's club and making survival kits for local policemen and firefighters.

Most importantly, Zaquan shows acts of kindness on a daily basis and he proclaims his love for God and his mom as his number one priority. I was happy to congratulate this wonderful young man this week and thank him for making our world a better place.

Finally, I want to mention that the Apopka Fire Department and the Firefighters Association are teaming up with Loaves & Fishes this holiday season to coordinate a city-wide toy drive.

In their post, they said they are seeking your assistance in making this Christmas a memorable one for those in our community in need of some holiday cheer. Unwrapped gifts for children of all ages can be dropped off at any of our six fire stations from now until December

Let's come together and show the community that we care!

City: Council approves Apopka's first-ever in-house city attorney

According to Moon, the plans are finalized but the access site is being evaluated, saying that Pittman Road and Mount Stirling are options as access points.

Hank Dunn, a Mount Stirling Avenue resident, told the City Council that he and other Rock Springs Ridge homeowners - some of who were at the meeting - share concerns about the new single-family housing subdivision.

Dunn said city staff and developers may have been planning the subdivision project for weeks or even months. In contrast, he and the other homeowners heard about the project the week before the public

"Part of this is that the city and nouncing the public hearing. the developers know what's going on; we at Rock Springs Ridge don't know what's going on," Dunn said. "We heard a little bit about it today. We just want more citizen participation. We're really inviting a dialogue with the developer and prospective builders and maybe even (property owners Carrol and Patricia) Hamrick of what you are doing.'

He clarified that the residents aren't against the project, but just want more time learning about it.

According to Jason Searl of GrayRobinson law firm, the development team has been "in full compliance" with the city when advertising the public hearing process that included mailing notices to residents and posting signs on site an-

Searl said that "we're not in a position" to table the council's vote on the transmittal until February.

"We're not the property owner," he said. "We're currently under contract. We've invested significant funds both with our seller, but also in the services of planning and in moving forward with the project. so the concept of tabling until February is, from our position, a deal killer. That's not something we want to do. We want to talk about taking this through the proper steps."

Searl said the density request increase is in accordance with the comprehensive plan's requirement of keeping the maximum dwelling per units at two, "which is exactly what we're requesting here - no more than that." In-house city attorney

The City Council also gave the OK for the first-ever in-house city attorney when it approved Mayor Bryan Nelson's choice for city attorney. Joseph Byrd of Monroe, Mich., is expected to begin his duties at the city in early January, according to Edward Bass, city administrator.

According to Byrd's resume, he is a private practice attorney in Michigan and his major client is the Churches of God in Michigan, which number about 100 churches.

Prior to that, Byrd was the county attorney for Bradley County, Tennessee, which is northeast of Chattanooga, Tenn. Byrd has been an attorney since 2004.

He received his law degree from the University of Toledo (Ohio).

Byrd will replace the law firm of Shepard, Smith, Kohlmyer &

Hand of Maitland. Board member replacement appointed

The council approved Mayor Nelson's appointment of William Gusler to the Planning Commission for a three-year term ending December 5, 2021. Gusler is replacing Jose Molina, who has resigned.

The commission is established as a citizen board to review and recommend to the City Council, approval or denial of development plans, amendments to the zoning map, amendments to the Land Development Code, proposed subdivision plats, proposed site plans, and future land use map amendments.

Magic and Habitat team up to dedicate home to Apopka mom

By Teresa Sargeant Apopka Chief Staff

The Orlando Magic basketball team and Habitat for Humanity Greater Orlando and Osceola County teamed up in dedicating a new Apopka home to a mother and her two small sons.

On Monday, December 3, Shawntia Benton and her sons Daimonee, 4, and infant Nicholas were given the keys to her home on West Ella J. Gilmore Street in Apopka. The family also received gifts such as food from Second Harvest Food Bank and a framed, autographed Orlando Magic jersey bearing the Benton Benton said she first applied to join the Habitat homeownership program in 2016 but didn't get approved. She reapplied and got accepted. The process went by quickly, with Benton toiling at the Habitat ReStore every Saturday, doing eight hours while pregnant with Nicholas.

"After I had my baby, two weeks later I was out here building my house," Benton said at the ceremony. "They were like, 'What are you doing out here?' I was like, 'I have to get my hours done. I'm on maternity leave. I have a goal. I stayed at it. I'm going to do this for five months.' It took months, exactly five months, and I'm done."

Asking for Wisdom

hen Solomon was invited by God to ask for whatever he wanted, he asked not for wealth, or long life, or even good health, but for wisdom, the discerning heart to know right from wrong (1 Kings 3). While those other things (wealth and health) are good in their own way, or conditionally good, wisdom is unconditionally good. Wealth and health are only good if they are associated with a person of goodwill, but if the person in question is evil, their wealth only aids them in their evil designs. But wisdom, by its very nature, causes one to be good. The wise man is the man who is concerned, doing the right and good actions befitting him. It would indeed be contradiction to say that someone was very wise but also prone to frequent moral failings. This doesn't mean that the wise person never does wrong. No one except God is perfectly wise or perfectly good. The wise person is always striving to do the right thing, both in the big and small decisions of life. It is noteworthy that in Solomon, conclusion to Ecclesiastes, a book highlighting the vanity and emptiness of wealth and most human endeavors, including the search for knowledge, says that our ultimate purpose is to fear God and keep commandments. Christopher Simon

Embrace spiritual Christmas traditions by sharing the Gospel

The holiday season is a special and spiritual time of year. It can sometimes be easy to get lost in the more commercial aspects of the holiday season, and there's certainly nothing wrong with shopping for gifts that will show your loved ones how much you love and appreciate them.

For those who want to focus back on the spiritual side of this special time of year, the following suggestions can help in those efforts.

Share the story of Christmas

The Gospels of Mark and Luke offer differing accounts of the birth of Jesus Christ. Both indicate that Jesus was born to Mary, who was engaged to Joseph, a carpenter. Mary became pregnant through immaculate conception, as she was a virgin when visited by an angel who informed her that she was to carry God's son. At the time of Christ's birth, all Jewish people had to be counted by Roman soldiers for tax purposes. That required people to return to their places of birth.

As a result, Mary and Joseph set out on an arduous journey to Bethlehem. Upon arriving in Bethlehem, inns had no vacancies, but Mary and Joseph were given shelter in a stable where Jesus was ultimately born.

Attend Mass

Churches traditionally hold religious services on Christmas Eve and Christmas. These services are joyful expressions of faith, music and community spirit. But Christmas mass is not the only time to head to church. During Advent, the fourweek period preceding Christmas, Catholics prepare and repent. Advent calendars help count down the days until Christmas.

endeavors and the spirit of giving that's synonymous with the season. Do good deeds for others, embrace peace and love and share special time with others.

Sing carols

Spread the holiday spirit through song. Get together with a group of friends or neighbors and go door-to-door, or hold a caroling performance at a centralized location. Select religious hymns, but also include some secular favorites.

The holiday season is a great time of year to reconnect with one's faith and spirituality.

Exercise caution with potential holiday hazards to pets

The holiday season is full of joy. But in the midst of decorating and socializing, pet owners may overlook the needs of their pets. Hectic schedules and homes full of unusual décor can throw pets off-kilter.

No pet owner wants their pet to feel uncomfortable or suffer any injuries, so it's important that owners exercise caution with the following items come the holiday season.

· Bones: Is turkey on the menu for the family feast? If so, resist the urge to toss some bones and scraps to dogs or cats. Small bones or bone chips can become lodged in the digestive tracts of pets and cause serious injury. If you want to provide your pet with a holiday treat, choose a safer, store-bought bone.

· Aromatic oils: The holidays are not the same without the familiar scent of mint, cinnamon or pine. people resort to scented candles or aromatherapy oils to create the perfect holiday ambiance. But some synthetic aromas or even natural extracts can be toxic to cats and dogs. Stick to nontoxic items and keep them well out of the pet's reach.

· Chocolate and other sweets: An abundance of treats seems to be par for the course during the holiday season. Dogs should avoid all chocolate, but dark chocolate poses a particularly serious threat. Chocolate can cause agitation, elevated heart rate, diarrhea, vomiting, seizures, and even death. In addition, candy or cookies sweetened with the artificial sweetener xylitol can cause a dangerous drop in blood pressure for dogs.

· Pine needles and trees: When ingested, pine needles can puncture the intestines of pets. In search of an easy drink, dogs and cats may be drawn to the fresh water reservoir of live trees, increasing the likelihood that they knock over a Christmas tree, injuring themselves and causing damage around the house. Trees should be properly secured, and fallen needles carded.

· Tinsel and decorations: Skip the tinsel if you have a cat. Felines are likely to mistake tinsel for a

Eating tinsel can cause severe damage to a cat's intestinal tract, as it may get caught in the stomach while the rest of it continues to pass through the intestines. Tinsel also may wrap around the tongue, increasing the cat's risk of choking. Ornaments also are tempting playthings. Cats may pounce on glass ornaments, breaking them and suffering injury. Keep pets in mind when selecting tree ornaments, and opt for unbreakable ornaments when possible.

· Electrical cords: The American Animal Hospital Association says holiday lights mean more electrical cords for kittens and puppies to chew. Secure all cords and keep them out of reach of pets.

· Candles: The subtle flicker of a lit candle can add ambiance to a space.

should be promptly dis- But all it takes is the swish of a tail or the pat of a paw to knock over a candle and spark a fire. Never leave lit candles unattended. If you have boisterous pets, opt for LED simulated candles

> · Alcohol: Spirits are sometimes a part of celebrations, but alcoholic bev erages should be kept out of reach of pets. Alcohol suppresses the immune system, and it can result in significant health issues for pets who consume it.

The holiday season is a time for celebration. Ensure that these festivities are as safe for pets as they are enjoyable.

endowment was delivered to Mary Anne Hodel, director of the Orange County Library System, by Kendrick B. Melrose, president and chair of the Kendrick B. Melrose Family Foundation, in October.

"We were quite pleasantly surprised and delighted to receive the very generous gift from the Melrose Family Foundation to the Melrose Center Endowment," Hodel said upon receiving news of the endowment. years of age. While in foster care, Benton was assigned to two case managers with whom she is still in contact and considers her "dads."

Benton is employed as a collection specialist at a doctor's office in Oviedo, but hopes to go back to school to become a pharmacy technician.

Through the Magic Volunteer Program (MVP), Magic employees and Jewett Orthopaedic Clinic staff teamed up for the Habitat Orlando and Osceola home build for the Benton family back in September.

Jewett Orthopaedic Clinic serves as team physicians for not only the Orlando Magic, but also the Orlando Solar Bears, University of Central Florida athletics, Rollins College, and the Orlando Ballet.

Active in the Habitat Orlando and Osceola program, the Orlando Magic has sponsored 10 homes. Each home has been Florida Green Building Coalition Certified and Water Star rated.

"We come together, we do it as a community partner, but at the end of the day, our goal is to be world champion on and off the court, to live legendary moments every step of the way," said Linda Landman Gonzalez, vice president social responsibility for the Orlando Magic. "There's nothing more legendary like being a homeowner. It is the basis of a family and the core piece of being part of your community."

Currently sharing a one-bedroom subsidized apartment, the Benton family has a pressing need for more space to store their personal belongings, especially the items required to care for a new baby, according to a press release.

The small living space has no designated dining area, making it difficult for the family to share meals together.

There was also the concern for safety. Benton has to travel to a park outside the neighborhood to make sure her sons can play safely.

Though Benton works hard to keep her apartment clean, she couldn't fight off the insect infestations and couldn't get assistance from her landlord for this situation, according to the press release.

Six months pregnant with Nicholas when she was approved for a Habitat home, Benton gave birth to her second son on July 22.

OCPS Superintendent Barbara Jenkins receives award

Superintendent Barbara Jenkins of Orange County Public Schools is 2018's "Outstanding Superintendent Communicator," an honor handed out by the Sunshine State School Public Relations Association (SUNSPRA).

The superintendent accepted the award in Tampa Thursday, November 29 during a crowded session of the 73rd annual Joint Conference of the Florida School Boards Association.

Jenkins is only the sixth superintendent to receive this honor. She and her district serve more than 211,000 students with more than 24,000 employees in and around the Orlando area. She received the award because she intentionally places the spotlight of importance on smart communications.

Two years ago, Jenkins saw a need and made dramatic moves by creating a communications office led by a chief communications officer. This decision elevated the value of communications in her district and brought together all departments that play a role in the district's storytelling and relationship-building

Jenkins restructured several departments into one, added a social media manager and media relations director, replaced and updated the district's 200plus school websites, and then launched a new mobile app that synchronized with those new websites. She also charged her public relations team to develop a "PR and Marketing Guide" for school leaders.

After implementing these decisions, her school district's Facebook likes spiked 75 percent, Twitter followers grew by 80 percent, pitched media stories increased 34 percent, and positive stories covered by media jumped 22 percent.

Jenkins took over Orange County Public Schools in 2012 but serves far beyond her district boundaries: she's on the National Board of Education Sciences, the Council of Great City Schools, a member of Chiefs for Changes and the Florida Council of 100. She's also past president of the Florida Association of District School Superinten-

A judging committee with decades of public relations experience scored this year's entries. Judges included Joe Landon (retired from 40-plus years in the communications industry), Leanne Zinser, supervisor of Communications and Community Engagement for Collier County Public Schools, and Doris Bacon-Elsea, former Public Relations and Human Resources director for Volusia County Public Schools.

Park Avenue Animal Hospital is not just for dogs and cats

Park Avenue Animal Hospital has been providing the gentle bedside manner that owners expect, with the cutting edge medicine pets deserve in the Apopka community since August of 2008.

While dogs and cats ular choice for most pet beloved pet. owners, the doctors at Park Avenue Animal Hospital have a special place in their hearts for all animals, furry, feathery, or scaly.

With over 30 years of combined quality veterinary experience, the doctors have gone well beyond standard veterinary education and practice to further their knowledge of animal care to include reptiles, rabbits, ferrets, birds, guinea pigs, and other exotic small animals.

Fully equipped with diagnostic and surgical tools to meet just about any situation, Park Avenue Animal Hospital is able to provide reasonably priced medical and surgical care without sacrificing quality, in a setting designed to take the stress out of visiting and behavioral advice are just some of the services provided by the doctors and staff in a beautiful office that is as comfortable as your a dog or a cat, you know own home.

Veterinary schools expose potential animal doctors to just about every species of animal in the world (except humans!). With such a vast collection of animals to study though, most vet schools lack the capability to include extensive study of exotics in the core curricu-

There are exotic study courses that can be taken as electives, and vet students can gain lots of real-world experience through internships and study programs. It all starts with a vested personal interest though, and many veterinarians choose to stick with common species such as dogs, cats, and horses as their primary study.

If you've ever owned that if your furry friend needs medical care, you can take him to your local vet's office. But what happens when your iguana, parrot or rabbit gets injured? What about when your chinchilla or ferret doesn't feel well?

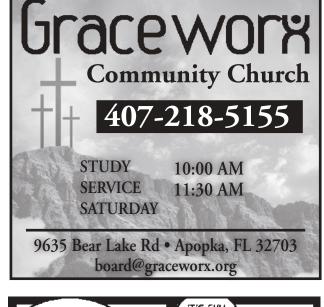

In the past, owners of exotic pets had to search far and wide to find a veterinarian who was willing to see an exotic patient. Most veterinary offices simply aren't equipped or staffed to take on these animals and will refer you to a specialist, which can get very pricey.

With Park Avenue Animal Hospital's convenient location at 847 N. Park Avenue (Rock Springs Road) in Apopka, affordable help for all your pets is now right in your own community!

Whether dog or cat, ferret or chinchilla, gecko or bearded dragon, parakeet or macaw (even the occasional hawk or owl!), at Park Avenue Animal Hospital, the goal remains unchanged: To provide affordable healthcare for pets without sacrificing quality medicine, and to provide consistent, reliable information for pet owners to help them make the best decisions for their pets' health.

Be prepared for unexpected company and social engagements

are filling snacks to have on hand and are easy to serve to unexpected guests.

The latter part of the year is full of social engagements with family and friends. Pew Research Center says 92 percent of all Americans plan to celebrate Christmas as a holiday, with 69 percent using it as an opportunity to spend time with family and friends.

While many social occasions surrounding Christmas are anticipated for months in advance, unexpected pop-ins are also the norm this time of year. Rather than being caught off guard, individuals can take steps to prepare for unexpected guests.

· Have food available. Even if guests pop in for a little while, it's nice to be able to offer them something to eat. Keep cheese and crackers, fresh fruit, pretzels, and other snacks on hand. Make-ahead, crowd-friendly foods can be prepared and frozen. Casseroles, pasta dishes and stews are hearty and can serve in a pinch when unexpected visitors arrive. Simply take out to defrost and heat up. Keep cookies in air-tight tins and purchase a premade frozen pie to serve, if necessary. In a pinch, you can always order out, but over time the cost of having food delivered can add up.

· Keep the bar stocked. Toasting to a happy holiday season is the norm during this time of year. Toasting requires hosts have some spirits on hand. Stock the bar with a few staples, such as red and white wine, vodka, rum, whiskey, and mixers. Also, you may just want to create a signature or seasonal cocktail that can be served when guests arrive, such as a spiced punch or a holiday eggnog.

· Cue the playlist. Put together a playlist of favorite holiday music that will provide the ideal ambiance should guests ring your doorbell. Thanks to services like Spotify, Amazon Music and Pandora, holiday music that fills a home with the sweet sounds of the season is now always accessible.

· Keep things neat. Set aside a closet or space that can serve as a catchall where errant items can quickly be stored should guests arrive. Gather loose toys, books or stray papers in a basket and then stash the basket in the closet until guests depart. Routinely empty the dishwasher so dirty dishes left in the sink can be quickly loaded before guests arrive.

· Create an aromatic atmosphere. Scented candles that evoke the aromas of the season can refresh stale indoor air. Butter cookie-, apple pie- and cinnamon-scented candles can make it seem like you just finished some holiday baking.

Guests tend to drop by on a moment's notice come the holidays. Preparing for the unexpected can make such visits more enjoyable.

Have a wonderful time traveling stress-free this season

Roadways, railways and skies tend to get busy come the holiday season, when millions of people across the globe travel to visit family and friends.

Wherever travelers are headed, be it across the country or across the world, they should realize that many other people are traveling as well. That can lead to traffic, long lines and other side effects associated with large crowds. But before travelers let the idea of challenging travel conditions deter them, they can consider certain ways to make the process of getting from point A to point B a bit more manageable.

Another way to avoid delays is to pack minimally. Ship gifts and even travel essentials ahead to your destination, and only bring carry-on bags aboard the plane. This helps travelers sail through security checks and avoid the crowds at the luggage carousels.

Try these great recipes for wonderful and flavorful potatoes

some great potato recipes for you this week. Isn't it amazing how that vegetable, so bland all by itself, is so receptive to whatever treatment you wish to give it to taste just wonderful? I must say... potato is probably my favorite food. According to Wikipedia, although the potato originated in southern Peru and northwest Bolivia, more than 99 percent of our current varieties are direct descendents of a subspecies once grown in the lowlands of southcentral Chile. On the list of nutrition facts. their potassium content supplies 25 percent of our daily requirement. They also supply 70 percent of vitamin A, and 30 percent of vitamin D. The humble potato seems to be a "wonder" food.

Frances McHale's Italian Roasted Potatoes looks good enough for company or for simply pampering your own family. We found her recipe in (where else?) Preserving the Big Potato, put out by the Apopka Historical Society.

Linda Laurendeau's Potatoes or Vegetable Medley looks wonderful. Her recipe is also shared in Apopka Historical Society's Preserving the Big Potato.

One of our readers shared her Potato Salad recipe. It has been in Kapers in the past but is good enough for a repeat performance. Here again is Nancy Thomas' potato salad recipe for your enjoyment.

From our friends in Plains, Georgia, Pot Pourri, we have Mary Wise's Potato Rolls, which calls for two servings of instant dried potato and two packages of dry yeast. It looks as if it will make a good-sized bunch of rolls.

From The New York Times NEW Natural Foods Cookbook, by Jean Hewitt, we have Currant and Rice Pudding. And, I confess, I was tempted to substitute chopped cranberries or raisins for the currants (in my own kitchen, of course). Then I got the bright idea, "Maybe I should look up currants!" I did. True currants, or black currants, are tart, not sweet. And, being berries, not grapes, they grow on bushes. In 1911, their commercial cultivation in the U.S. was outlawed as it was believed they were spreading disease that negatively affected the timber industry. Then Greece began exporting Zante currants, which are small dried grapes. So, if I use Zante currants, which are sweet, I will probably enlarge the measurement to at least 1/2 cup. True currants, being tart, would be a different taste altogether. I would need to experiment a little first before I play too

Check out the Walnut-Vegetable Bread from The New York Times NEW Natural Foods Cookbook, by Jean Hewitt. It looks healthful. And... delicious!

Recipe from Apopka Historical Society's Preserving the Big Potato -A Collection of Potato Recipes

8 potatoes 7 garlic cloves 2 cups Parmesan cheese 1/2 cup vegetable oil Salt and pepper to taste

Slice potatoes as if for French fries but a little thicker. Put in a 10" x 2" round or oblong pan (preferably non-stick). Add oil, garlic, cheese, salt and pepper. Sprinkle a little cheese, pepper, salt, oil and 1 clove garlic (sliced or chopped) over top. Bake covered for 2 hours at 375 degrees or until potatoes are done. Uncover and brown potatoes, about 10 to 15 minutes.

LINDA LAURENDEAU'S POTATOES OR VEGETABLE MEDLEY

Recipe from Apopka Historical Society's Preserving the Big Potato -A Collection of Potato Recipes

5 to 6 medium potatoes, skins on, washed and pierced for microwave 2 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil 1 teaspoon seasoning (Everglades is my favorite, but there are many wonderful blends - experiment!)

Microwave the potatoes for 4 to 5 minutes. You want them not quite fork tender. Put olive oil and seasoning into a 1-gallon sealable storage bag and mix. Cut potatoes in chunks and add to the bag. Seal and toss to coat the potatoes. Fry in hot pan or on a griddle, tossing from time to time, until golden and edges are crispy.

VARIATION: When potatoes have crisp edges, add raw, sliced: green peppers, onions, yellow squash, and zucchini coated in a bag with same amount of oil and seasoning. Cook together for a few minutes and serve hot as a vegetable medley.

NANCY THOMAS' POTATO SALAD Recipe from Reader of The Apopka Chief and The Planter newspapers

Five pounds potatoes boiled in skins till tender

Five or six eggs hard-boiled Celery, about two ribs

Multicolored sweet peppers, six small Sweet onion, 1/4 large (not too much) Dill pickle, large

Salt and pepper Mayonnaise, 1/2 cup (more if needed) Dill weed

Dry mustard Celery seed Paprika

Cook, drain and cool potatoes. Cook, drain and cool eggs by putting ice on drained eggs. Peel the skins from warm potatoes and set aside. When potatoes are cool enough to handle, chop into pieces no larger than 1/2 inch or so. Salt and pepper the potatoes in big bowl and mix with spatula. Setting aside at least two whole eggs to slice for garnish, peel the cooled eggs, chop, salt and pepper to taste. Dice celery. Setting aside a couple of the peppers to slice for garnish, slice and dice five or six small multi-colored sweet peppers. Slice and dice 1/4 large onion. Fold together in big bowl the potatoes, eggs, celery, peppers, onion, and pickle.

Mix dressing in separate bowl: 1/2 cup, maybe a little more, of the mayonnaise and two tablespoons or so of dill pickle juice. Add to this soupy mixture, 1/4 teaspoon each of following: dill weed, dry mustard, celery seed. Add salt and pepper to taste if more is needed.

Pour the dressing into the potato salad. Fold together. Don't make mashed potatoes out of the mixture!

Place the garnishes on top of the salad: Pepper rings and chopped eggs. Sprinkle beautiful red paprika on top. Cover with plastic wrap and store in refrigerator for enough time to allow the flavors to meld together. Serve.

Blue Darters trounce Evans in first district game of basketball season

By John Peery Apopka Chief Staff

After Evans went on a 9-0 run to pull ahead 18-16 midway through the second period, the Apopka Blue Darters boys basketball team went on its own 9-0 run to end the first half en route to a dominating 53-32 victory over the Trojans on Tuesday, December 4, in the first District 9A-3 contest for both teams.

With the victory, the Blue Darters moved to 3-1 overall and 1-0 in both Metro Conference and district action.

"I thought we finished the first half really well. It was 18-all and we were really solid the last couple of minutes of the half, so we go in up seven (25-18)," said Apopka coach Scott Williams.

The host Blue Darters quickly expanded their 25-18 halftime lead and built the lead to 11 early in the third. After the Trojans scored to trim Apopka's lead to 35-26 with 2:31 left in the third period, the Blue Darters' half-court trapping defense resulted in turnover after turnover and bucket after bucket as the Trojans didn't score for a sevenminute period over the late third and early fourth periods

During that time,

Apopka outscored the Trojans 11-0 and built its lead to 20 at 46-26.

In the second half, the Blue Darters doubled up the Trojans, 28-14, allowing Evans just five field

"Sometimes, certain defenses work certain nights, and I thought, tonight, the half-court trap was really disruptive. They just never got comfortable against it and that will happen some times," Williams said. "We did a nice job making them pay in transition and getting some easy buckets

"Part of why we're trying to trap more is to get in the open floor more and help our offense some as we continue to mature."

On a night when Apopka's top three scorers – Zach Anderson, Nate Louis, and John Latimer III – combined for just 17 points, senior guard Jacob Hall led the Blue Darters with 12 points, his highest offensive output of the young season.

"Without a doubt, tonight was all about Jacob Hall," Williams said. "Jacob was outstanding from start to finish at both ends of the floor. He shot it well and defended well, and I'm just so happy and proud for him."

Coach Williams said that Hall, combined with solid play from fellow guard Rudy Gatling, is giving the Blue Darters some much needed depth on both ends of the court.

"I think it will continue to give us extra weapons," Williams said.

The search has already begun for Rick Darlington's replacement as football coach at Apopka High Darlington, who was coach of the Blue Darters for 17 years and won three state titles at Apopka High, resigned this week to become head coach at Enterprise (Ala.) High School.

Apopka High athletic director Russell Wambles posted the vacancy on the Florida High School Athletic Association website on Wednesday, December 5, after Darlington officially gave his notice that he was resigning as the football coach at Apopka High.

Wambles and AHS Principal Lyle Heinz said they have no deadline in mind for naming the new coach, but would ideally like to have him start at Apopka High in early January at the start of the second semester. However, they are not tied to that timeframe, they said.

Wekiva girls basketball team handles West Orange

By Neal Fisher Apopka Chief Staff

The Wekiva Mustangs defeat of the West Orange Warriors by a score of 62-47 last Tuesday, December 4 is not redemption for being knocked out of the FH-SAA postseason tournament last season.

"As said during preseason practices, we will deal with last season's ending when the time arrives," Wekiva coach Tommie Butts said. "That time is the district championship tournament. Regular season contests do not carry the same weight, even with both teams being ranked further intensifying the atmosphere.

"A huge step towards creating the position from which redemption can be gained was taken by winning though.

ond half of the District 9A-3 championship tournament final while holding a 20-point lead, a 23-3 record and ranked inside the state's top-three throughout the 2017-18 season, returning to at least the state finalfour seemed to be the potential turning into fruition.

However, injuries caught up to the compliment of guards lacking depth. The Mustangs eventually lost the contest as well as failed to claim the district championship because injuries created an inability to handle constant and consistent pressure.

Playing at home makes capturing the district championship tangibly valuable. The loss sent Wekiva on the road to another perennial state championship contender in the form of Colonial, where the season ended

"While waiting for the opportunity of redemption, we have to take care of business during the regular season," Butts said. "Winning tonight was the first of a series of businesses regardless of who the opponent is. Gaining the number one seed for the district championship tournament is at the top of the list of business to take care of.

"There are five more district contests, but we have achieved as much as possible right now and don't have to overcome a stumble right now. A blue-print of how to defeat the Warriors was also established. Then losing like we did can build on themselves. Bad losses tend to exponentially become more and more likely. Confidence by cutting off the possibility as soon as possible can't be understated in general. However, this season's district championship tournament is being held at West Orange. Possessing proof of winning at West Orange is possible is invaluable."

Wekiva never trailed. The victory was propelled by two stretches in which seven consecutive points were scored though.

With 1:28 left in the first quarter, the Mustangs extended the lead to 17-11. The lead reached the largest at 28-13 with about five and half minutes left in the second quarter.

Energy and the Wekiva Mustangs have walked side by side so far this season.

"Play of the winning sort isn't consistent," Mustangs coach Gersino Lubin said. "We have played well and not as well as capable of over the course of periods so far this season. Determining why doesn't start with looking at the execution though. If a certain amount and level of energy isn't present to begin with, execution is impossible. Strong execution grows out of playing with energy. "When energy is

"When energy is strong and above a certain level, we have outscored opponents with force. When the opponent outscores us with force, energy is well below a certain level. The tendency has been in effect since the tip-off of the Preseason Classic."

The season progressed with two contests against the Colonial Grenadiers and University Cougars.

Successive points on two stretches of three consecutive possessions was the difference during the contest played on Friday, November 30 and against the Cougars. The score was either tied or changed hands 11 times until midway through the third quarter.

With both teams amassing 29 points, the first half came to an end.

"Whether or not the lesson about lacking energy was learned remains to be seen," Lubin said. "There wasn't a repeat for at least this contest though. Unlike the first contest, we understood not only the necessity of playing with energy, but matching the level produced by home openers. The expenditure of extra energy and effort in order to make up a large deficit didn't occur. And teams are in a much better situation to play their games when ahead."

Terrance McClain drained a trey from the left wing to break the tie for good and began the first run which was made up of seven consecutive points. Then eight more followed, beginning with Latavius Poole tipping in a missed field goal attempt.

The percentage for field goals during the runs was 60 as six of 10 attempts were converted. Five turnovers were turned into 10 points as well.

After three quarters, Wekiva led 55-38.

"Activeness was very strong with Latavius and contagious for the rest of the team," Lubin said. "The floor was run very well by Latavius. Without any specific sets or plays called for him, Latavius earned a double-double. Latavius' indiviudal statistics were within the context of what special achievements this team is capable of."

Twenty-one points were recorded by McClain as the high-

Tifft joins Front Row Motorsports for 2019 Cup Series season

NASCAR team owner Bob Jenkins, who has been fielding cars in the Monster Energy Cup Series for 14 years, likely had lofty goals for his team when he chose the name Front Row Motors-

After fielding 898 entries over the years, he has two wins — one by David Ragan at Talladega in 2013, and another by Chris Buescher at Pocono in 2016, along with six top-five finishes, 16 top-10s and one pole, at Daytona in 2014 with David Gilliland.

Those numbers may not seem impressive at first glance, but Jenkins has steadily grown his team and remained a part of a sport that has seen others like him come in and leave without finding great success.

On Tuesday, Jenkins announced that he will field a third team for rookie Matt Tifft, who made the Xfinity Series playoffs this year while driving for Richard Childress Racing. Tifft will drive a No. 36 Ford and join veteran drivers Ragan and Michael McDowell, who are returning to Front Row to drive the No. 34 and 38 Fords, respectively.

"Today is a huge moment in my career, announcing my move to the Cup series," said Tifft, a 22-year-old driver who overcame surgery to remove a brain tumor two years ago. "This has been a dream of mine since I was a kid, and I can't believe it's finally Ragan, a veteran with six years of seniority at Front Row, said the addition of a third car for Tifft is another step in the team's efforts to improve.

"Bob Jenkins has always grown his race team strategically, and I'm proud to be a part of that growth," Ragan said in a team release. "It's exciting that we're now ready to take the next step with a third car. ..

"We've made a lot of gains this season with our enhanced program with Ford Performance and our alliance with Roush Fenway Racing, and I think we can make even greater strides next year."

McDowell, who is returning for his second season at Front Row, said he too sees better days ahead.

"This season has been a big steppingstone for me in my career." he said. "We haven't gotten the results we've wanted every week, but we've made huge advances as a team. I've really benefited from having a teammate this year and feel like I've made valuable contributions in return. I'm looking forward to building on that next year and welcoming another teammate in Matt Tifft." Jenkins, a Dandridge, Tennessee, native whose day job is over-become a three-driver outfit. "We've made it clear in recent years that it was our intent to continue to invest in NASCAR and expand to a three-car team," he said. "Not only are we here to stay, we're here to grow.

seeing 260 Taco Bell restaurants, said he's proud to see his team

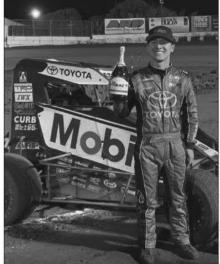

"We already have two proven veterans in our lineup, and now we'll get to add an impressive young talent and championship contender who will inject some new energy into the group. With the introduction of the Ford Mustang into the Cup Series, 2019 is shaping up to be an exciting season for us."

Logan Seavey garners attention after successful 2018 season on the track

Logan Seavey, a young driver being backed by Toyota, has won his second national Midget series championship.

"Not too long ago, I didn't have a Midget ride, and here we are with the best team in the world in Keith Kunz Motorsports, winning the USAC championship," Seavey said in a release from the manufacturer.

Seavey, who had an impressive top-10 run in this year's Dirt Derby, the Camping World Truck Series race on the dirt at Eldora Speedway, won three USAC Midget races this season and ended the year 137 points ahead of his closest challenger, Brady Bacon.

Logan Seavey

The 21-year-old from Sutter, California, also won an ARCA race on the dirt at Du Quion, Illinois, and finished third in the circuit's other dirt race, at Springfield, Illinois.

"Logan is a very talented racer who has quickly become a driver to watch in American motorsports," Laura Pierce, motorsports general manager for Toyota Motor North America, said in the news release. "Not only has he captured his second championship, but he also made his Truck Series and ARCA debut this year, contending for wins in both series. Everyone at Toyota is looking forward to seeing what's next for Logan in the 2019 season."

Jimmie Johnson takes a spin in a Formula One car during 'ride swap'

Jimmie Johnson, at 43 years old, has just concluded the least-successful season of his 17 years of full-time racing on NASCAR's Monster Energy Cup Series circuit. He had just two top-five finishes, 11 top-10s, no poles and just 40 laps led.

He could be excused for ending the year with a lack of enthusiasm for the sport, but if his experiences of the past week are any indication, there's still some fuel in the tank for the seven-time Cup champion and winner of 83 races.

In the first week of his 2018 offseason, he flew to Bahrain and participated in a ride swap with retiring Formula One driver Fernando Alonso.

From every indication, including his own Twitter posts, Johnson was like a kid on Christmas morning. He was pretty fast, too. He ran a total of 28 laps in Alonso's car and was within two-tenths of a second per lap of the time Alonso turned prior to Johnson taking the wheel.

"It's a huge honor to have this opportunity," Johnson said in a story posted by Hendrick Motorsports. "It was literally the experience of a lifetime."

Johnson said the Formula One cars, which are technically superior to the Cup cars, took some getting used to.

Two-time Formula One champion Fernando Alonso, wearing cap, chats with seven-time Cup champion Jimmie Johnson during a ride swap between the two in Bahrain.

Fernando Alonso, Jimmie Johnson and teams from Hendrick Motrosports and McLaren Racing pose for a picture during the teams' car swap in Bahrain.

The braking is just insane," he said. "I mean, you hit the brakes and you literally lose your vision at max G-force, it's so high. And at the end of the braking zone your vision comes back and your eyes focus and you can see the corner."

He said that on his first run, the aerodynamic forces were lifting his helmet off his head.

"I was staring at the microphone, my helmet was up so high," he said. "I'm like, 'I don't want to stop, but I think I Alonso told reporters he was impressed with Johnson's ability to adapt to the car.

"I think he was really gaining time every run he was going out," he said.

Alan Gustafson, normally the crew chief for Johnson's teammate Chase Elliott, made the trip to tend to the No. 48 Chevy. He said Alonso, who smoked the tires of the No. 48 Chevy on many a turn, showed him why he's been so successful on the elite Formula One circuit.

"I've been fortunate enough to work around some really talented guys, and certainly he's one of them," Gustafson said. "It always is impressive to see how effortless those guys can make it look and how effortlessly the speed comes."

In his 16 years of competing in the Camping World Truck Series, Rick Crawford of Mobile, Alabama, became one of the circuit's top drivers. He ran in 336 races, winning five of them. He won six poles and posted 75 top-five and 160 top-10 finishes from 1997 to 2012.

But Crawford likely will be remembered most for his postracing downward spiral, a turn of events that has shocked even his closest racing friends.

Last week, a federal judge in Orlando, Florida, sentenced Crawford, 60, to 10 years and 10 months in prison for attempting to entice a minor-age girl to engage in an illegal sexual activity.

The Associated Press reported that Crawford was convicted in August after being arrested earlier in the year in Lake Mary, Florida.

Crawford was communicating about sex with a federal agent posing as the father of a fictitious 12-year-old girl.

Crawford reportedly said he would not have gone through with sex had the girl actually been underage.

Chase Briscoe secures Xfinity Series ride for 2019 at Stewart-Haas Racing

Former dirt racer Chase Briscoe has landed a full-time Xfinity Series ride in the No. 98 Ford fielded by Stewart-Haas Racing with Fred Biagi.

Briscoe got his first career Xfinity Series victory while driving the No. 98 back in October on the Roval at Charlotte Motor Speedway. That win came in his 14th start in the series. Briscoe also won this year's Camping World Truck Series race on the dirt at Eldora Speedway driving a Ford fielded by ThorSport

"I got a taste of what Stewart-Haas Racing is capable of in the five races I ran with the team this year," Briscoe said in a team release. "Winning at Charlotte was one of the greatest moments of my career."

Team co-owner Tony Stewart said he has high hopes for Briscoe.

"I've been paying attention to Chase since he raced Sprint cars and I saw how well he transitioned to stock cars," Stewart said. "It was obviously great to see him in our Ford Mustangs a few times this year, and Chase didn't disappoint.

"His win at Charlotte showed us a lot. He was patiently aggressive and he did a really good job of managing his tires. He's learned a lot in a very short period of time, and we're really looking forward to seeing what he can do when he's in the same car, working with the same crew, week in and week out."

In addition to his early success on dirt tracks, where, at age 13, he became the youngest winner of a 410-cubic-inch-engine Sprint car race, Briscoe won the 2016 ARCA Racing Series championship with a six-win season.

Leavine Family Racing names crew chief for the 95 team

Leavine Family Racing confirmed last week that veteran crew chief Mike Wheeler will join its No. 95 team and work with the team's new driver, Matt DiBenedetto.

The team also will switch to Toyota and share an alliance with Joe Gibbs Racing, where Wheeler spent the past three seasons working with Denny Hamlin on the No. 11 Toyota.

"We're thrilled to have Mike (Wheeler) joining our organization because he's had a successful career so far in the crew chief role," LFR General Manager Jeremy Lange said in a news release. "With our transition over to Toyota this coming season, Mike brings with him a wealth of knowledge in regard to how to build competitive Toyota Camrys, and we're looking forward to his leadership within LFR."

Weather has been playin' havoc with local fishin'

Hello Folks,

Well, we have cooler weather again and the wind has been kinda nasty. With the up-and-down temperatures and the wind blowin' like crazy, lots of folks haven't been fishin'.

I'm sure some folks are gettin' on the water and catchin' some fish but it has been a little slow lately in

Kyle at Bitters Bait and Tackle reports that he has a few fishermen catchin' some specks in Lake Monroe by driftin' open water with minners. I'm gettin' some reports that they are catchin' a few specks in Lake Woodruff on minners and jigs tipped with minners. You need to fish around the clumps of hydrilla, and the openings in the hydrilla to catch some specks.

The bass fishin' has been kinda' slow as well. Again, the wind and the weather have kept lots of folks from goin' fishin'.

A group of guys from work have been catchin' some bass in Lake Fairview. Most of their bass are bein' caught on plastic worms and slow-sinkin' Senko-type baits.

The bass fishin' on the Butler Chain remains the same. Folks are catchin' some bass along the shoreline cover first thing in the mornin'. You need to use a noisy top-water bait and then switch to plastic worms and slow-sinkin' Senko-type baits.

There have been a lot of schoolers throughout the chain so keep a lipless crank-bait tied on to one of your rods at all times. Once the sun gets up, try fishin' the submerged hydrilla and pepper grass patches throughout the chain. Some of guides on the chain are draggin' shiners over those same areas and catchin' some nice bass. Of course, that all depends on the weather and the wind.

The Harris Chain has been off just a little for bass fishin'. Again, the weather and the wind have kept a lot of fishermen off the water. The good news is if you do go fishin', there are a lot of areas of the chain where you can fish and stay out of the wind. So, if you have that adventurous spirit and you want to go fishin', just be safe on the water.

The bass fishin' on the Kissimmee Chain has been a little slow as of late. Once the weather gets settled in, the bass fishin' should pick back up. You can still catch some bass on shiners along the shoreline cover and around the pads and over the submerged hydrilla beds. You just need to keep movin' around until you locate some bass that want to

The best lures have been plastic worms and speed worms. You can also catch a few specks in open water on jigs tipped with a minner.

Well, that's it for this week. I wish I could tell ya the fishin' is great but it ain't. It's kinda slow right

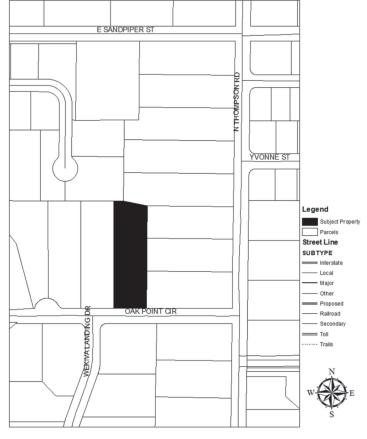

Tip of the week: Go

Save a few and good

There are some great memories Darlington leaves with us

While we're heavy into winter sports in our local high schools these days, with the announcement this week that Rick Darlington was leaving as Apopka High School's football coach to take a job in Alabama, it seems entirely appropriate to reflect on his time at Apopka High.

To say that he elevated the program is perhaps the understatement of the year.

Both on and off the field, the Apopka High football program is respected not only throughout the state, but the nation. Those who know about good high school football programs know about Apopka High because of Darlington and the success the Blue Darters have had throughout his career here.

Yes, that career here. It started in 1999 and when the Blue Darters started out 5-0, I thought we might have a keeper of a coach. The train went off its track just a little bit as the Darters lost the next four, including a double-overtime one-point heartbreaker.

But that was the last time that the Blue Darters weren't in the playoffs. If you're counting, that's 19 years in a row that Apopka has participated in the postseason. And the Blue Darters haven't been just participants, they've dominated at times.

Darlington had a 32-13 record in the playoffs as Apopka's coach, with 15 of those victories coming in three seasons as the Blue Darters claimed three state championships while he was coach.

When the Darters won the first one in 2001, I really had no idea what to look for in a state championship team, but that team had it — talent, chemistry, and an ability to overcome any adversity.

You could say the same thing about the 2012 and 2014 state title teams, as well. Those teams had their own issues, on and off the field, to deal with and both of them overcame them in time to hoist the trophy.

The 2001 team was

handling most teams fairly easily, but the light didn't really turn on for that team until the ninth game of the regular season when the Blue Darters waxed Dr. Phillips, 35-0. No, that wasn't as good a team as we think of DP these days, but it wasn't a bad team.

In the playoffs, the Blue Darters really cranked it up, starting with a 57-16 win over district winner Boone in the first round. Apopka led 57-0 at half and obviously put on the brakes in the second half.

The third round was a rematch with Edgewater, a team that had beaten the Blue Darters 21-14 during the regular season in a game that wasn't as close as the score would indicate. In the playoff game between the rivals, Apopka whipped Edgewater in every way possible, winning 48-10.

Apopka would go on to thump Deerfield Beach in a state semifinal before handling Miami Northwestern 34-16 in a game that would end in a fog at Florida State's Doak Campbell Stadium.

That was a special night for Apopka football fans and one that many of us will remember for as long as we have breath. You can only have one first state title and it was a good one

In 2012, the season started out 1-2 before the light turned on and the Blue Darters whipped all comers, including getting a 38-19 victory over Dr. Phillips in the state semifinal, the team that had opened Apopka's season with a 35-17 defeat.

The state championship game against Weston Cypress Bay was a thriller to end all thrillers. Apopka won 53-50 in a game that literally went down to the wire. It wasn't decided until Rakeem Smith dove to intercept a Cypress Bay pass in the end zone in the final seconds of the game.

That interception thrilled the thousands of Apopka football fans who filled up one side of what is now Camping World Stadium. It was one of the most exciting games I've ever seen.

In 2014, the Blue Darters really struggled during the regular season, limping to a 6-4 record. Apopka lost three games in October, but then righted the ship really during the first playoff game at Oviedo. Two fourth-quarter touchdowns gave the team new life and after that, it was as if a new team had gotten off the bus each Friday night.

During the regular season, West Orange had beaten Apopka 45-31. The Warriors were talented and took apart the Apopka defense. In the playoff rematch, it was all Apopka as the Blue Darters dominated in all phases, whipping West Orange 42-0.

Then there was the absolute barn burner at Jacksonville First Coast when Apopka won 64-48 on a very chilly night the day after Thanksgiving. That game saw even more offense than the 53-50 win over Cypress Bay.

Apopka's state semifinal 45-14 win over Bradenton Manatee exorcised many demons from the Apopka High football program as Manatee had defeated Apopka three straight times in the playoffs in the early to mid 1990s.

In the state title game, Miami Columbus made it close, but Apopka was in control pretty much the entire game, winning 30-23.

Of course, there were 14 seasons under Darlington when the Blue Darters didn't win the state title, but that doesn't mean there wasn't success. In 2013, Apopka set state scoring records, but the offense met its match in the state title game against Homestead South Dade.

I'll never forget Darlington's reaction when he was handed the state runner-up trophy. It lasted no more than five seconds in his hand as he quickly gave it to then-athletic director Fred Priest.

There are many other games that come to mind when thinking about Darlington's time as Apopka's football coach, but there are also the off-the-field moments.

He always required the players to be gentlemen off the field and behave in the classroom and in life. Some of the players had precious little guidance at home or elsewhere, but they got it from Darlington and his coaching staff.

From an academic and behavioral standpoint at school, all it took was a quick phone call or email from a teacher to quell any disrespect or other issues in class.

On the field, it's apparent that the Blue Darters are required to play hard and with intensity but also to be sportsmen who stay within the rules.

No, players aren't perfect and neither is Darlington or you or I, but you knew that there would be no taunting from Apopka players and that they would shake hands and congratulate the other team no matter the outcome of the game. Unfortunately, the opposite is true too many times these days.

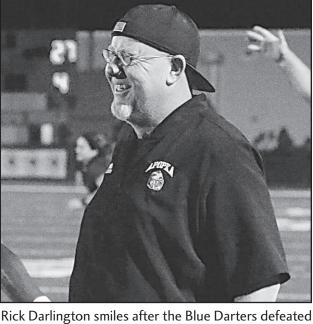

Enterprise High School in Alabama is getting a great coach and man to lead their football program.

For Darlington, he's getting quite a hefty increase in salary and will be financially rewarded for his hard work and passion in ways that just aren't possible here in Orange County.

Things are different in Alabama and he's getting a great opportunity to become more financially stable, which is something we all look for.

I wish Rick Darlington nothing but the best. I consider him a friend, which is somewhat unusual in this line of work, but when I see things done the right way on and off the field, I am attracted to that.

He'll do well in Alabama. Apopka's loss is Enterprise's gain.

Rick Darlington smiles after the Blue Darters defeated rival West Orange, 27-21, this season.

Next guy?

For those of us who pay close attention to the Apopka High football program, the obvious choice to replace Rick Darlington is James Delgado.

While many casual fans wouldn't recognize his name or face, Delgado not only played on that 2001 Apopka team as a starting offensive lineman, but he was the offensive line coach for the Blue Darters for several years, including during its most successful run from 2012-2014.

He left Apopka High after the 2016 season to become the head football coach at Riverdale High School near Fort Myers. The Raiders had great success this season with a 10-0 regular season before falling in a first-round playoff game.

In addition to being an incredible football coach, Delgado is one gem of a young man. He's a no-brainer for the Apopka football job, but, unfortunately for Apopka, it doesn't look like he's coming back this time.

Although he wouldn't elaborate when I spoke to him this week, Delgado's situation in southwest Florida likely won't allow him to apply for or accept the Apopka coaching job. I'm not sure if it's professional or personal because he wouldn't go into detail, but I know it must be something very important or otherwise he would be heading back our way to take over the program.

With Delgado not in the picture, there are a few other names that pop in my mind, but we'll see how the application process goes. I'm pretty sure that Apopka High athletic director Russell Wambles already has a clogged email box with coaches sending resumes in hopes of being names to replace Darlington.

Of course, that begs the concern of coaches not wanting to follow the legend. At all levels and in all sports, we've seen good coaches struggle to meet expectations when they took over from a coach who had achieved great

However, I think there are enough outstanding coaches out there who would love to try to their hand at continuing the vast success the Blue Darters have had under Darlington.

Hopefully, the process will be fairly smooth and won't take too long to complete. If the new coach is already an employee of Orange County Public Schools, the new coach might start at the beginning of the second semester in early January. If the coach comes from outside the county, it would likely be later in January before he would start.

However long it takes, the right man can continue the success and even add to it.

Blue Darters win two games in early-season tourney

By John Peery

Apopka Chief Staff

The Apopka Blue Darters boys basketball team finished in fifth place in the eight-team 42nd annual Tip-Off Classic hosted by Winter Park High School.

After a 47-45 loss to Seminole High in the final seconds of the tournament's opening game (reported in last week's edition), the Blue Darters defeated Boone and Lake Highland Prep to take fifth place in the early-season event sponsored by the Rotary Club of Orange County East.

Apopka 34, Boone 27

In typical fashion, the Boone Braves slowed the pace of game, but the Blue Darters overcame Boone's tactics in a Tip-Off Classic consolation bracket contest held Thursday, November 29, at Winter Park High School.

The Braves hit a trio of three-pointers in the first period to take a 10-4 lead over the Blue Darters, but Apopka held Boone to just two points in the second period and Nate Louis scored all seven of Apopka's second-quarter points to pull the Darters to within 12-11 at halftime.

The two teams then went on a veritable scoring feast in the third quarter and Apopka took its first lead about 30 seconds into the third on Louis' field goal.

Following a bucket by Apopka's Keeving Etienne and a three-pointer by Boone that tied the game at 15-15 about 90 seconds into the third, the Blue Darters took the lead for good on Etienne's field goal as the Blue Darters easily broke Boone's full-court press.

Apopka built its lead to 24-19 late in the third, but the Braves got back to within 24-23 early in the fourth before a five-point streak by the Blue Darters, all from the foul line, built the led to 29-23.

With both teams marching to the free-throw line throughout the final period, each team had just one field goal from the floor. Apopka's was a dunk by Etienne with about a minute to go that gave Apopka a 32-25 lead.

"The Boone game was so important for us because nothing easy was happening for us offensively, but we just refused to allow them to sit and run their stuff," Apopka coach Scott Williams said. "We just kept trapping them in the half-court and trapping them and trapping them and trapping them, just to basically say, 'We want to make you uncomfortable.' We did it just enough and got just enough stuff.

"You know what, that was a sign of maturity from our club to be able to find a way on a night where it was really a grinding early-season, no-rhythm, no-flow kind of game."

Louis was the only player to break into double figures as he had 14 points for the Blue Darters. Zach Anderson added 9, while Etienne had 6. Rudy Gatling added 3 and Quantary Roberson had 2.

Neither team shot the ball well as Apopka was just 10-of-26 for 38 percent from the field, while Boone was 9-of-38 for 24 percent.

Apopka had 14 turn-overs, but the Braves totaled 16.

Apopka 60, Lake Highland Prep 46

The Blue Darters never trailed and built the lead to 17 points in the second period before coasting to the victory in the fifth-place game of the Tip-Off Classic on Saturday, December 1.

After a Lake Highland field goal pulled the Highlanders to within 9-8 late in the first period, the Blue Darters went on a 13-0 run to take control of the game. Apopka led 31-16 at half.

Apopka shut the door on any chance of a Lake Highland comeback by outscoring the Highlanders 19-7 in the first seven minutes of the third quarter to take a 50-23 lead.

Apopka dominated in every phase of the game, but especially inside where the Blue Darters outrebounded the Highlanders, 39-21. Anderson led the way for Apopka with 13 boards. He also had five of Apopka's 15 offensive rebounds.

Sharing the ball was not a problem for the Blue Darters as they had 14 assists on 21 field goals. Apopka also had 10 steals.

'What happened against Lake Highland Prep is we figured out who we are again," coach Williams said. "We mauled them on the glass. We were just fantastic on the glass. We were aggressive. We set the tone from start to finish and created turnovers and we hurt them in transition. Then, we were able to get Rudy (Gatling) going and knocked down some shots. That was so big."

Four Blue Darters made it into double figures as Anderson led the way with 18 points. Gatling had 13 with 12 points on four 3-pointers. Etienne added 12 points while Louis had

Other Apopka scorers were: Jacob Hall (4 points), Manne Brennan (2), and Earl Lombardi (1).

The Blue Darters played without starting point guard John Latimer III who had injured his hand in a fall during the game against Boone. Latimer returned to the lineup in Apopka's game this week against Evans High.

Apopka High basketball will host Metro vs. Florida Challenge

lowed. Sedayjah Payne's 10-foot jump shot from the left side of the paint ended the streak.

On eight occasions after Payne converted the attempt, West Orange scored consecutive points. Consecutive possessions without Mustang points never reached three though.

"Man to man pressure was the gameplan and created the tangible damage allowing us to win," Butts said. "The passion to win growing from the intensity with which we played was the intangible. From start to finish, lacking that intensity needed to maintain the passion never existed. There wasn't any doubt as to the lesson of a lead can be given up had been learned. Reminders about last season by the coaches were constant. However, I think the players' intensity would have been the same without reminders."

Scores were 22-13, 36-24 and 45-31 at the end of each quarter.

"Opportunities to create turnovers and force West Orange into low percentage shots were looked for first and foremost," Butts said. "The execution of moving the ball on both sides of the court stuck out positively as a whole. Converting each and every opportunity to extend the lead was focused on."

Only eight turnovers were committed by the Mustangs.

Field goal percentage was 48 percent as 18 of 37 attempts were converted. Thirteen of 22 two-point attempts were converted. The high percentage was fostered by 14 attempts taken in transition, including nine off turnovers.

Wekiva grabbed 30 rebounds as well

Brierra Williams and Payne combined to tally 25 points. The efforts of Emmy James netted seven assists.

"When the players are contributing equally in all aspects the execution is the best," Butts said.

scorer. Poole contributed 21 points and 10 rebounds.

Colonial 70 Wekiva 69

In particular, being the opponent for home openers only intensifies the already important role

An uncontested lay-up put the Grenadiers ahead on the first possession of the contest played Wednesday, November 28. The lead only grew and double digits were reached when the second quarter began. Then adding another six points increased the lead to 43-27 at halftime. Midway through the third quarter, the lead reached 19 points.

"We didn't come close to matching the energy Colonial possessed," Lubin said. "Trying to win without matching a higher energy level is hard during a regular season contest. However, that energy level is as high as possible when opening the home schedule. Life was much more difficult than needed to be by lacking the energy for the first two and half quarters

"Understanding the importance of playing with any energy was gained and we came alive when the threshold of coming back was reached though."

And with ferociousness the Mustangs cut into the lead. Six times the lead exchanged hands after being erased with about three minutes left.

Eventually and with 40 second left, possession of the ball was gained by Wekiva while holding a one-point lead. Then Michael James was called for traveling as the Grenadiers set up a double team.

The winning points were scored on a drive and the subsequent lay-up. Colonial's ability to execute a lead pass from the sideline set up the high-percentage and successful field goal attempt resulting in the lead changing hands for the last time.

Offensive charging was called on Issac Laster with four seconds left and controversy ensued. Defensive blocking was the Mustangs coaching staff's take on the contact. Wekiva was unable to commit a foul and the clock expired.

"Coming from behind was obviously positive," Lubin said. "A resiliency and toughness was displayed. However, displaying that resiliency and toughness because the deficit is 19 points shouldn't be in the first place. We were able to come within one possession and point of winning after playing an entire first half with as little energy as possible. So if there was just a little bit more energy during the first half, we win and probably by multiple possessions. Scoring on a couple more possessions is the difference.

"And as bad as the percentage for field goals was because energy was lacking, we could still have won at the free throw line."

Only fourteen of 21 attempts were converted by the Mustangs.
Terrance McClain was high scorer with 32 points.

dominate the Trojans, especially on the glass.

"Our size bothered them a bit tonight. It's always good to play well at home in your district games and get off to a good start in the district," Williams said.

Despite the 21-point victory by the Blue Darters, the Trojans are not to be taken lightly, Williams said. "They're a really dangerous club and I think they run good stuff. Their pressure is very capable of hurting us and, tonight, we had some turnovers but we were in control. It never felt like we were panicked or discombobulated. I was really proud of our guys for that," Williams said.

What's next

The Blue Darters, who defeated Lake Highland Prep 60-44

in the fifth-place game in the Tip-Off Classic late last week at Winter Park High School, will get another contest against Lake Highland Prep, one that was originally scheduled.

Apopka will host the Highlanders today, Friday, December 7, at 7:30 p.m.

"Lake Highland's really good. It will be a great challenge to have to play them again," Williams said. "I think it will be a great test for us to have to come back and do it again on Friday."

The Jones Tigers will visit Apopka High on Tuesday, December 11, for a Metro Conference tilt, the final home game of 2018 for the Blue Darters. The game is scheduled for a 7:30 p.m. tipoff.

Looking ahead, the Darters will play at Masters Academy (December 14), Ocoee (December 18), and Wekiva (December 20). Apopka's final game of 2018 will be December 22 against Bishop Moore in the Execute to Impact Shootout at Atlantic High School in Port Orange.

The Blue Darters will open 2019 with a January 4 game at Central Florida Christian Academy.

The first home game of 2019 will be a huge District 9A-3 tilt against the rival West Orange Warriors.

New: Apopka High officials expect many coaches to seek the position

They both think they will have high-quality candidates ap-

"We'll hire the best possible person for this job," Heinz said. "We don't think we have to go out there and sell the job. We don't think we're going to have to start calling people, saying, 'Hey, we need you to apply.' We think Apopka football sells itself.

"This program is established. It's known. It's successful, and Apopka High School has a great reputation as a school. I think we're going to get quality, quality candidates for this position and it's just a matter of the athletic director and myself sitting down and finding that best candidate."

Wambles was also AHS athletic director 13 years ago when Darlington returned to Apopka High after being football coach at Valdosta (Ga.) High for three Wambles said he and Heinz are searching for someone who is best for the program on and off the field.

"It's no different than in 2005 when I sat down with (then-AHS Principal) Bill Floyd and we were looking for the right person," Wambles said.

"There are going to be good candidates, but somewhere along the way, the best fit will be there and it will be the person who we feel strongly will give our kids the best opportunity to succeed both on the field and off the field.

Having someone who can bring that together is the most important thing in my opinion.

"We like to win. We sure as heck prefer it over the alternative, but at the end of the day, our No. 1 goal is to have somebody in place who gives these kids a chance to graduate and go on and do whatever it is in life, whether it's in college football or just being a good husband and father, or whatever it is. I believe, as a person who has been an athlete my entire life, there are very few people who have an impact on that than coaches.

"That's a key thing for us, is to find that coach who is the perfect football coach. They don't exist but our goal is to find the best possible fit available."

James Delgado, who played for Darlington and won a state title as an Apopka player in 2001 and as an assistant coach in 2012 and 2014, has been head coach at Riverdale High School near Fort Myers for the past two seasons.

Although he is a popular choice among Apopka High football fans as Darlington's replacement, it's not likely he'll be returning at this time.

Via a phone call this week, Delgado said a situation will likely make it so that he will not apply for the position. Delgado would not expand on that situation, but admitted that he was torn about returning to be the head coach at his alma mater.

Both Wambles and Heinz said Delgado would be a great replacement, but that they respected whatever decision Delgado makes.

The bottom line, Heinz said, is that the new coach must not only be great at coaching the X's and O's of football, but also at leading the players off the field.

"That goes along with the tradition of Apopka," Heinz said.

"When we go on the road or when we win big games, we line up and shake hands. We go over to our band (after the game). We do things without taunting the other players, without doing those things that show any sort of disrespect to the game, the opponent, the crowd, anything. I also think this is a draw to these quality coaches to see that this is an established program with integrity."
