

LITTLE BO PEEP.

THIS is Little Bo Peep, who lost her sheep,
And couldn't tell where to find them ;
Till she sat herself down and went to sleep,
A great deal too tired to mind them.

While little Bo Peep was fast asleep,
She dreamed that she heard a bleating ;
But when she jumped up those naughty sheep,
Were all of them still retreating.

So little Bo Peep ran after her sheep,
But, alas ! she couldn't find them ;
Till they'd all through a thorn bush tried to leap,
And left their tails behind them.
