Stephens remembered as tough but tender leader

BY MARK J. CRAWFORD
Telegraph Editor

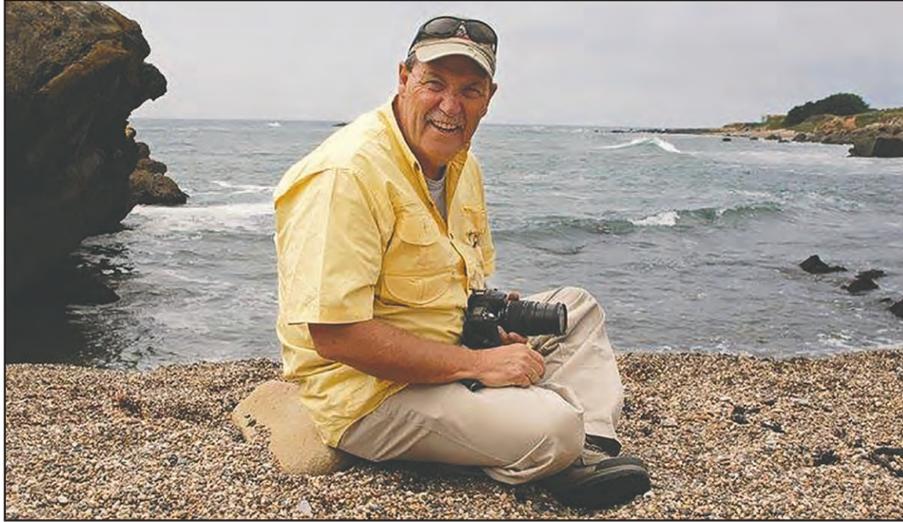

Family, friends and colleagues of Rick Stephens said goodbye this week after the longtime educator lost his battle with cancer. He was 63.

In addition to serving the school system, he also served his country in the U.S. Navy, and was married for 33 years to his wife, Debra. They lived in Starke with their three children, Macy, Dane and Abby, and their children's families, which included one grandchild.

Stephens' 35 years with the school district began at Bradford High School in 1978. Actually, he spent next 15 years there, teaching math through 1990, then serving as dean of students. The sports enthusiast was also a coach.

From 1993-1996, he was a visiting teacher, and then he was promoted to assistant principal at Southside Elementary School. After Southside, he served at Bradford Middle School as assistant principal from 2001-2003, before being tapped to become principal at Hampton Elementary School.

Other than teaching math at BHS,

Educator Rick Stephens, 1950-2014.

Stephens' longest assignment was overseeing Hampton, helping elevate it to one of the district's most reputable schools, the school with the most A grades to its name. In 2009, he took over at Brooker Elementary as well, leading both schools, until he was asked to return to BHS.

Stephens spent his final years for the district as principal at Bradford High School. During that time, BHS raised its school grade to a B for the first time. While he retired at the end of the last school year, Superintendent Chad Farnsworth said Stephens had remained involved and his work for the district was far from over.

Farnsworth and his wife, Jennifer, were both assistant principals at BHS under Stephens before Farnsworth became superintendent. The three worked closely together over the past few years, but they became close personally as well.

"He played a major part in both our professional and family lives," Farnsworth said. "He was not only a mentor and confidant, he was a dear friend. The time we spent together working at the high school will always offer a source of fond memories. I will miss most the laughs we shared exchanging ideas and perspectives."

Those who knew him say there was much more to Stephens than his tough persona.

"Beneath his gruff exterior was a soft, caring and generous heart. He truly loved the children and students of Bradford County," Farnsworth said.

Starke's proposed annexation in question

BY MARK J. CRAWFORD
Telegraph Editor

The Starke City Commission may have thought it was a mere formality, but questions are now being raised about the legality of its intended annexation of the new Badcock furniture store that will be constructed south of the city, as well as other annexations in that area over the past decade.

Starke's development agreement with Badcock includes the agreement of the owner to annex the property into the city in order to receive sewer service. In addition to the sewer extension, annexation and 10-year tax abatement, the city will receive the current Badcock property at the corner of Walnut Street and S.R. 100.

But the letter Starke sent to Bradford County announcing annexation plans set off alarms because the new Badcock property, located across Southeast 142nd Way next to the Richard Morris State Farm Insurance office, is not contiguous to any other property in the city limits.

According to City Clerk Ricky Thompson, Starke does have an easement down the east side of the highway because of its emergency water extension to Deerwood Subdivision. In addition, the Florida Department of Transportation moved the city limit signs south when the Walmart Supercenter was constructed and annexed. The stretch of U.S. 301 from the south city limits to south of the Walmart intersection is being considered as part of the city, too.

According to state statute on annexation, contiguous "means that a substantial part of a boundary of the territory sought to be annexed by a municipality is coterminous with a part of the boundary of the municipality."

The definition also states that "nothing herein shall be construed to allow local rights of way, utility easements, railroad rights of way, or like entities to be annexed in a corridor fashion to gain contiguity." In other words, no running down the highway right of way to grab noncontiguous properties.

According to Sheriff Gordon Smith, the annexation of 301 and the law enforcement operations there is reminiscent of Hampton, although no one is accusing city police of excessive traffic enforcement on this stretch of highway.

The sheriff's office, which oversees 911 addressing and mapping for the county, says there is no way for the city to require Badcock to annex its new location because neither the highway nor the utility easement count as contiguous city property.

Claiming this stretch of U.S. 301 also poses another issue for the city in that it appears to create three enclaves along U.S. 301—unincorporated areas that are bounded on all sides by the city. State law prohibits annexation when it creates enclaves. Allowing the city to grab additional properties one at a time would likely create more and more of these enclaves.

According to the sheriff's office, public safety could be involved when it comes to addressing these sites, dispatching emergency response, etc.

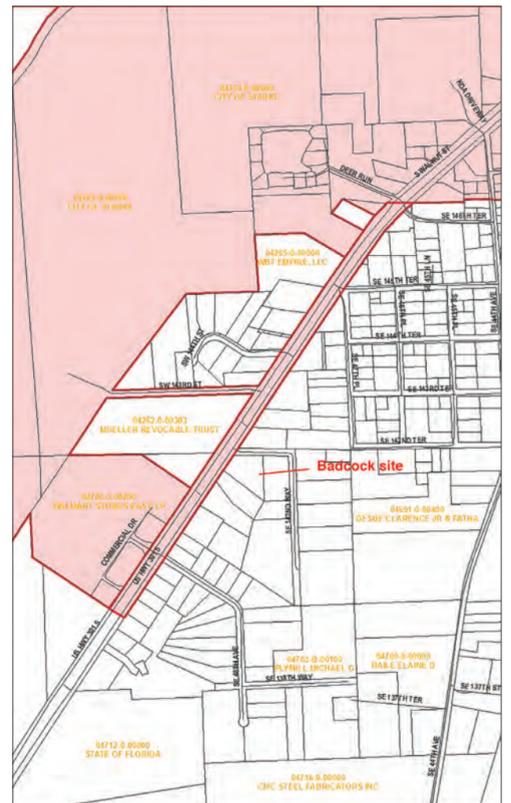

The topic hasn't come up for discussion at a county commission meeting, and the county's attorney, Will Sexton, said he isn't sure how much county commissioners know about the questions being asked.

Thompson, however, said he's waiting on a letter from Sexton spelling out all of the county concerns so he can meet with the North Florida Regional Planning Council for advice on how to proceed. There was a meeting between the sheriff's staff, Thompson and the city and county attorneys, but Thompson said he wants the objections in writing.

Former annexations carried out with the assistance of former city attorney Terry Brown may have been "goofed," according to the city clerk, based on what he's heard from mapping. Because the past annexations, like Walmart and the Beck dealership, were voluntary on the part of the property owners in order to gain access to city utilities, some notification requirements may have been skipped and legal objections to enclaves ignored. The city wants to make sure this is done correctly, Thompson said.

There is also a section of Florida law that deals with the simple annexation of enclaves, Thompson said, like those already created, but it requires the county's cooperation.

Another motive behind southward expansion Thompson acknowledged was the extension of utility lines down both U.S. 301 closer to where the bypass interchange will be built and future development is expected. The city wants to be able to serve that development.

According to the city of Starke, this is what the southern city limits currently looks like.

Horse owner arrested for abuse

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Monitor Editor

Clay County deputies arrested a McRae woman on March 21 after finding six malnourished horses on her property, according to an arrest report.

Biscardi

Deanna Alma Biscardi, 43, of Lori Loop Road was charged with eight counts of animal cruelty.

According to the Clay County Sheriff's Office, a person who sold two horses to Biscardi and never received payment for the animals repossessed the horses from Biscardi's property in early March. The seller then complained to the sheriff's office that the horses were malnourished and had experienced significant weight loss.

An investigator wrote in an affidavit that when he went to Biscardi's residence to question her, she was not home.

"Six other horses were observed on her property and were in the same condition," wrote investigator Stacey Durham. "Very little food was available for three of the horses and no food was available for the other three."

Durham wrote that he returned to McRae seven days later. He wrote that the two horses that had been repossessed experienced considerable weight gain while those at Biscardi's residence "had no food available and did not appear to have gained any weight."

Durham also wrote that in October,

Clay County Animal Control opened a case on the animals. "The horses appeared to be in the same condition since October 2013 which indicates a pattern of neglect on the part of D. Biscardi causing continuing suffering of the horses," wrote Durham.

Plane makes emergency landing

83-year-old pilot from Jacksonville ran low on fuel

BY VINCENT ALEX BROWN
Times Editor

George Charles Momberg of Jacksonville gave motorists on State Road 16 outside of Raiford a thrill when he made an emergency landing there right in front of Florida State Prison while heading west at around 5 p.m. on Monday. He then taxied across the bridge, past the new Union Correctional Institution Work Camp and south onto Northeast 285th Court by UCI.

Warden Diane Andrews said putting an airplane on the prison's perimeter road alerted everyone and correctional officers were quickly out in full force to assess the situation.

Once they determined everything, including the pilot, was OK, they quickly moved the airplane across the highway onto the PRIDE Enterprises property and waited for the Florida Highway Patrol to investigate the matter.

Momberg, 83, picked up his white 1946 Ercoupe 415-C in Minneapolis earlier in the day and was flying it back home, having refueled in Alabama. However, he ran low on fuel en route to Herlong Recreational Airport in Jacksonville, about 30 miles away.

The airplane holds a total of 24 gallons of fuel, which it burns at a rate of about 5 1/2 gallons per hour at a top speed of 90 MPH, according to the pilot.

"I took the better part of valor—get on the ground, don't run out of gas in the air!" the pilot exclaimed. "And this highway's nice and straight, it's got traffic on it, set up to where I could come over a car or two and have plenty of room before I ran into some traffic coming the other way.

"And gave them a real thrill. I turned on my landing lights, and they pulled over to the side of the road, I landed on the road."

He knew he was landing in front of a prison, but originally thought he was touching down on U.S. 90 in front of Columbia Correctional Institution east of Lake City.

"I was pulling out of FSP when it landed on 16 right in front of me," said Jason Ferguson, who Pilot George Charles Momberg explains what happened to FHP Tpr. K.A. Hilliard.

On Monday evening, Momberg's plane sat in front of PRIDE Enterprises with UCI in the background while DOC officers mill about.

works at the prison. "I followed it to UCI."

FHP Tpr. K.A. Hilliard questioned Momberg shortly afterwards while the pilot waited for his son to bring 10 gallons of fuel over from Jacksonville.

Momberg finished military flight school in 1956 and "got out" in '59. Went back to flying in '68, and "got out" in '74. He lost his wife last May and told his children on his 83rd birthday last September that he needed something to do. That something was to get back in the cockpit—much to their chagrin, especially at his age, they thought. And he had not flown in nearly four decades.

They held out hope that he wouldn't pass his physical, but he did, and started looking all over the eastern United States for a plane. He bought the Ercoupe in December, but had to wait on a break in the weather in order to fly it home.

According to the Union County Sheriff's Office, early on Tuesday morning the Federal Aviation Administration conducted their investigation and approved the pilot for takeoff, on his way to a new destination: Jacksonville Executive at Craig Airport.

Sheriff's deputies and Florida Department of Corrections personnel were on hand this time to clear the roadway so Momberg could taxi and take off safely this time.

Andrews said that she's worked at UCI for many years and has never experienced anything like that. Most likely neither has anyone else in the area.

Co-op members elect trustees, hear Yoho

Clay Electric Cooperative's members voted to elect three members to the board of trustees during the co-op's 76th annual meeting on Thursday, March 20. Members who attended the meeting at the cooperative's central office also approved four amendments to Clay Electric's bylaws.

In the District 6 board of trustees election, Jimmy Wilson defeated Julia O'Sullivan. Wilson received 864 votes to O'Sullivan's 234. Kelley Smith, incumbent trustee for District 2, was re-elected with 1,054 votes (no opposition), as was Carl Malphurs, incumbent trustee for District 4, with 1,035 votes (no opposition).

The amendments approved addressed memberships, special meetings and the process for nominating trustee candidates. In addition, one of the amendments approved will permit absentee voting at future co-op elections.

Congressman Ted Yoho stopped by the event and spoke briefly about energy policy issues.

The co-op estimated that approximately 3,000 people attended this year's annual meeting. Members who attended the daylong event also had opportunities to participate in several health screenings offered at a health fair, visit a variety of energy exhibits and listen to music by the Palmetto Ramblers.

The winner of the grand prize, a 2007 Chevrolet Colorado truck, was Diane McKinney of Melrose. The co-op gives away a used truck during the annual meeting each year.

During the afternoon business session, General Manager/CEO Ricky Davis and Board President Susan Reeves spoke to the annual meeting crowd about the co-op's accomplishments in 2013, as well as the hard work and dedication of the co-op's employees. Davis said the co-op returned $5 million in capital credits to entitled members this month.

Davis also commended employees for upholding the co-op's number one core value, safety. Last year, Clay Electric was recognized by its workers' compensation carrier for exceeding 2.5 million hours worked without experiencing a last-time injury.

Davis presented the co-op's annual Employee Recognition Award to Marsha Douglas, district office coordinator for the Palatka district. Douglas has worked for the co-op for 30 years and was nominated by several other employees for her excellent customer service.

Teacher Sallye Scoggins agreed.

"I worked with/for him at Southside, and again at Hampton and Brooker. Many people thought of him as a gruff or harsh man," she said. "He once told me, 'You have to be firm with them (the kids), but come back later and let them know you care and love them,' and that is just what he did, and that's why so many of the kids grew to love him."

"Rick enjoyed doing the silly things," Scoggins said. "He painted his hair green when the kids/school met their AR goal, he would play baseball with the faculty against the fifth-graders, and once he had the faculty make cornhusk dolls at Thanksgiving. But when it was time for learning he was all business, leading Hampton to be an A school."

Brenda Donaldson said when she became a principal for the first time at Hampton Elementary, it was Stephens' prior work that made it a smooth transition.

"He had everything in order from the technology, curriculum, and a staff that works well together as a family," she said. "He has also been a mentor this year for the administrators with our Professional Learning Communities and Advanced Professional Growth. There is and will be a great void in our hearts with the passing of Rick from the Hampton Elementary faculty and staff."

Patricia Cook and Rick Stephens

Brooker Elementary PTO President Patricia Cook said his short time at that school was just as impactful, beginning with his first impression.

"When I first met Rick over that summer, I found him in the ceiling of Brooker Elementary, wearing shorts, a T-shirt and tennis shoes running additional wires for technology upgrades," Cook said. "My initial impression was, wow, he's awfully casually dressed. But after meeting him for 10 minutes, I understood why. He spent his days running wires through all the classrooms to add additional technology functionality for the teachers, ensuring it was ready by August."

"Rick and I often did not see eye to eye, but we always took time and talked through it," Cook said. "That particular year of my PTO presidency, I spent every single morning at Brooker with Mr. Stephens before I would drive to my job at UF. I listened to him explain his theory on making kid's proud of their school. I walked the grounds with him and saw through his eyes the vision he had to make a campus friendly to children. We would talk at length about the simple and complex things we could do to improve our community, and our school within it."

"I was only able to partner with Rick for two short school years before he moved on to BHS," Cook said, "but the lessons I learned from him will last a lifetime. He taught me to be a better parent, a better community member and an overall better school participant. He freely gave advice and criticism, but knowing his intentions always made both easy to absorb. He will be greatly missed."

"His work in the Bradford County School system was far from finished," said Farnsworth. "Those of us who loved him the most will certainly keep his spirit alive as we press forward in our mission to educate the kids of our community."

"Our 'Head Hornet' will be greatly missed. But, I know that he is in heaven along with Lynne, Edith and Barbra," Scoggins said of Stephens and three other beloved faculty and staff members lost in recent years.

Stephens was laid to rest

March 25 at Crosby Lake Cemetery following a service at First Baptist Church of Starke.

He is also survived by his mother, Myra Stephens of Yankeetown, and three siblings: Scott Stephens of Belleview, Dawn Mendoza of Gainesville and Shawn Stephens of Yankeetown.

Hampton diving into water billing, budgetary issues ahead of hearing

BY JAMES WILLIAMS
Special to the Telegraph

Hampton's latest town hall on March 20 was led by Councilman Dan Williams, who updated citizens on efforts to address financial concerns arising from the state audit.

Williams, a Hampton resident and employee of TD Bank who was appointed to replace Charles Hall, said he was asked to look into the city's finances and especially to determine the status of one of the town's chief resources—its water system.

He and other council members have been studying the collection of the town's various taxes such as gas, sales and ad valorem taxes, and were continuing to track where the funds were spent.

But looking ahead, the council has also begun to consider actions to keep the financial practices of the past from returning. Suggestions included making daily deposits, using locked bank bags, requiring multiple signatures on checks and separating duties so city council members are also involved as the city clerk deposits funds and writes checks.

Williams said that after reviewing a list of all water accounts, approximately 70 water meters were not being read and billed or didn't exist. He and others are also asking questions like, "Is the water usage attributed to two town parks commensurate with expected usage. Do the parks have an irrigation regimen?"

Williams added that working with contracted and volunteer water management personnel, they will begin to track meters and lines. One resident said he knew of two neighbors that had never paid a water bill. Williams said the town would begin to pay closer attention to when water is turned on and turned off as renters come and go.

Some residents asked whether the city's volunteer fire department was billed for the water it uses, and whether it should be. One resident said he believed pumper trucks from fire companies in the area regularly filled up their tanks at Hampton hydrants.

A report from the town's computer made no distinction between active and inactive accounts, but listed almost $35,000 in accounts payable. It was unclear whether the computer system automatically billed all accounts the basic $28 fee each month, whether or not the meters had been read.

Three of the delinquent accounts were the city of Hampton's—city hall and the two parks. Back payments owed amounted to more than $2,000.

Williams noted that the entire water system had been budgeted at $57,500 in revenue and expenses for the current fiscal year.

Attorney John Cooper confirmed at the meeting that the city could legally shut water off from residents, including renters, when the residence owner fails to pay, after sufficient notice. He added that there might be some cases when water service cannot be cut in cases of severe health issues.

Additional issues that arose were what to do when the city learns whether funds are left in two bank accounts dedicated to law enforcement and fines. Since Hampton may no longer have a police department, the funds must be used for designated purposes. Community safety education and a school safety patrol were suggested.

According to Cooper, Hampton's fiscal situation is in fairly good shape. He said it appeared that Hampton's only debt obligation was a bond taken out to finance a water system upgrade a few years ago. Cooper and Williams said the bond requires a $5,500 payment each year, but they did not know yet how long the city must continue to pay.

Williams said in the time since new City Clerk Amy Davis had been hired, already $2,000 had been taken in as citizens continued to pay their water bills, some paying bills that haven't even been written yet.

Williams didn't foresee having to raise the water rates. He noted that the former city council had raised the rates slightly higher than had been suggested by a previous audit. However, the auditor had suggested that the rates go up by $1 each year until the water system was stabilized.

Williams also announced that the city of Hampton, despite everything, has just been given a $25,000 state and federal grant for water tank revitalization.

The legislative delegation meeting to evaluate Hampton's progress will be held on Friday, March 28, at 6 p.m. at Victory Baptist Church. Representative Charles Van Zant and Senator Rob Bradley are scheduled to attend and hear about the town's progress.

Editor's note: In the interest of full disclosure, the writer who submitted this synopsis of Hampton's latest town hall, James Williams, is a Hampton resident and the brother of Councilman Dan Williams.

When is Candy Dangerous?

When it is Used to Flavor Tobacco!

Tobacco companies are using candy and fruit flavors to sweeten their products and make them more attractive to our children and teenagers.

But this is a dangerous bait-and-switch designed to addict younger and younger kids to tobacco creating life-long customers.

What can I plant in April?

If you are looking for an annual that will do well in the sun or in the shade, and will provide vivid color and patterns for months, try planting some coleus.

Caladiums are bulbs that will do well in the shady parts of your garden, and also are attractive cut and put in a vase of water.

Louisiana iris also makes a great cut flower, and thrives in most types of soil, but prefers moist soils with high organic matter content. You may also want to try bulbs like cannas and blood lily.

If you like herbs, plant some that love the heat, like basil, oregano, sage, Mexican tarragon and rosemary.

Keep planting warm season vegetables like okra and cucumbers. If you mulch them well it will help prevent weeds. Be sure to provide irrigation if rainfall is scarce.

April is also a good time to plant many shrubs and trees. Consider planting fringetree, red bud or Carolina silverbell.

What needs to be done in the garden in April?

Now that tender new growth is coming out on landscape plants, monitor them weekly for signs of pests like aphids, scale and mealybugs.

One of the best things about gardening is being able to pass along cuttings and divisions, so divide perennials and bulbs this month to share with friends and family. April is also a good time to divide ornamental grasses.

Very often lawn problems like lack of water can look like insect damage. Confirm that insects are the culprit before applying a pesticide.

Wait until mid April to apply lawn fertilizer. The best time to apply fertilizer is after new growth has started. Choose a lawn fertilizer with little or no phosphorous, unless a soil test indicates a need for it. Fertilizers with slow release nitrogen will give longer lasting results. Source: <http://bit.ly/1eF8GUE>.

What kinds of wildlife should I expect to see in April?

Plenty! Bobwhite quail nest now through September. Hummingbirds feed on blooms of columbine, buckeye and black bears begin moving after winter's inactivity.

Consider planting extra parsley for black swallowtail butterfly larvae to eat. Blooming wildflowers and pitcher plants blanket the wet savannahs of the Apalachicola National Forest Source: <http://bit.ly/1h1pg27>.

Did you know?

Most people know that parsley is a versatile herb that is used in cooking, with the flat-leaf form having the strongest flavor. But here's something you may not know about parsley: It's also a host plant for caterpillars of the black swallowtail butterfly. So why not plant parsley in your garden this season? Even if you don't cook with it, the caterpillars will thank you!

Former Starke resident finds home on the fashion runway

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
Staff Writer

At one time in her life, Mikaela Herres considered modeling to be too "girly" for her tastes.

"I was too much of a tomboy," she said.

The 19-year-old former resident of Starke has since achieved quite a few highlights in the profession and recently moved to New York to see just how far modeling can take her.

Herres, the daughter of Joey and Jackie Herres, said things have happened "very fast." Most recently, she participated in New York Fashion Week—a bi-annual event—twice and is already booked for the next event.

"It can be (overwhelming) at times," Herres said. "You just have to take a deep breath."

In 2006, Herres moved from Starke to Tampa, which was quite a nerve-racking change in her life. She went from a town where everyone knows who you are pretty much to a city where she didn't even know her neighbors. Plus, she found herself at a school with a population between 2,000 and 3,000.

"That's like a tough transition," said Herres, who was in middle school at the time.

Herres admitted she was quiet and shy, focusing her energies on athletics, such as track and field in school and aerial gymnastics outside of school.

Modeling has helped her come out of her shell.

"It definitely has boosted my self esteem," Herres said.

It wasn't until she graduated from Gaither High School that she began seriously considering modeling as a career, Herres said. And why not? She went from doing a couple of photo shoots while she was a middle school student and not that interested in modeling to being a finalist at Elite Model Look-Puerto Rico and International Modeling and Talent Association shows.

Herres, who has been the "face" of Bettina Cosmetics the past four years, said her thought was, "Well, things are happening. God's putting this in front of me for a reason."

Her first New York Fashion Week was "amazing" and "awesome," but Herres said her second Fashion Week was even better. She got to meet more people in the fashion industry as well as people from shows such as "Basketball Wives" and "The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills." Herres said she also got to meet former Miss USA and Miss World winners.

While in New York during the most recent Fashion Week, Herres said two "major" agencies have expressed interest in her.

The trip was also memorable in that Herres' mother made the trip as well to see her on the runway.

You might think having her mother in the audience would make her a little nervous, but Herres said she pushed those nerves aside. With her announced intention of moving to New York to further pursue modeling, it was important for her mother to see her perform at a high level.

"I just had to show my mom I could handle this," Herres said.

As she became immersed in modeling, Herres said it was a surprise to see how serious the issues of weight and measurements are.

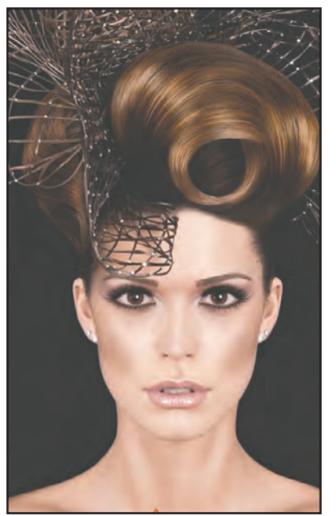

"They can look at you and tell if you're on the (right) measurements or not," Herres said.

Herres was muscular and toned due to her athletic endeavors. She was told she was almost too toned and had to stop working out so she could lose a bit of

John Warren

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS—Chief Warrant Officer (W4) John Warren, U.S. Navy (Ret.) was born December 9, 1923 and passed away on Friday March 21, 2014.

John was one of 14 children and is survived by his three sons, Steve (Avis), Mark (Diane) and Mike (Katherine); five step-children, Jim, Arlo (Barbara), Ronnie (Katherine) and John (Cindy) Cook and Sandy (George) Apthorp. John was always a caring and giving person. He proudly served in the U.S. Navy from 1941 to 1962 and while in the service he sent most of his paycheck back home to his parents to help support the family. After his retirement, he stayed active as a volunteer to many organizations. He was an avid camper and devoted a great deal of time to the Boy Scouts of America. He was a Scout Master for many years and helped many young scouts become responsible citizens. He was instrumental in getting the Am-Vets Post in Keystone Heights established. He went on to serve as the Florida State Representative for the Am-Vets Organization and attended many conferences around the country. He was also an active volunteer at the Lake City VA Hospital where he pushed wheelchairs each week. For many years he was a regular volunteer at the Robert Jenkins Veterans Domiciliary where he ran the weekly bingo game and bought ice cream for monthly birthday celebrations. He was frequently called upon by area schools to represent the veterans at school functions.

John will be remembered by his friends and family as a man who was never "too busy" to listen to another person, and who was always willing to lend a helping hand to anyone in need of assistance.

A memorial service will be announced at a later date. Donations in John's memory may be made to the Community Hospice of NE Florida, 4266 Sunbeam Rd., Jacksonville, FL 32257. St. Johns Family Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

EDITORIAL/OPINION

BRADFORD COUNTY TELEGRAPH • UNION COUNTY TIMES • LAKE REGION MONITOR

Thanks to the newspaper

Dear Editor:

I just wanted to say a quick thank you to those at the Bradford Telegraph for being a fine example of journalism. The vast majority of newspapers are, at least, left leaning and purely assumption on my part, I suspect so would be the ideology of the Telegraph. Even if that is the case, it has been hard to say for sure because over the years as you've presented the area news and given voice to the area residents at both ends of the spectrum. In an era when the formerly most ardent defenders of free speech, liberals, have seemingly turned to endorse censorship of any opposing view, your paper says there is still hope. It stands as an example to civil discourse which once thrived in America. Once upon a time in America the majority of us, conservative and liberal, could come together and argue politics or ideologies most heatedly but at the end of the day, have a beer together secure in the knowledge that despite those disagreements, each had America's best interest at heart. I am afraid, however that those days are all but gone. Rome is falling, the Vandals and Goths are at the gates and the Dark Age looms.

Two weeks ago you printed what will most likely be my last opinion letter to your paper. It was quite lengthy I must admit and soaked with patriotic conservatism but of three newspapers it was sent to, yours was the only one with the fortitude to publish it. The two much larger papers it was sent to could not, apparently, afford the ink to reproduce it. Truthfully, I had not expected you to print it either; not because of content but because of its size. Over the years, your paper has never failed to print one of my letters. I suspect I could write and say everyone there was an idiot or Buster Rahn is a necrophiliac and you'd still print it. Neither is the truth, of course, nor do I hold such opinion. In fact, I hold both in the highest esteem because you do not censor the public opinion. I bet it would have been a blast to have written for the Telegraph.

Anyways, I again thank you for being such an example for free speech and of course, you are exempted from any expectation of printing this one. It is merely a thank you note for having the courage to print my drivel over the last decade or so.

With highest regards,
Thomas Rice

Community will miss Fishley

Dear Editor:

Our community recently suffered a great loss with the death of William Fishley of Keystone Heights.

A quiet, unassuming man, Bill did not stand out in a crowd because of his material possessions or dominating personality. He usually didn't have a lot to say about anything.

He was a gentle man, usually in the background. Yet he had a definite impact on those around him.

Bill always had a welcoming smile for anyone he encountered. But even more endearing was his attitude. You see Bill was one who believed he could do things to make a difference in this world. And he did.

Bill spent many hours of his life reaching out to others. He spent time with those incarcerated in our prisons and with those in his church community who were homebound.

He was frequently on the front lines trying to bring attention to the injustice of the legalized murder of unborn babies. He stepped up and defended the vital institution of God's marriage in our society. All of this in spite of serious physical problems.

If I were to be tasked with engraving something on Bill Fishley's tombstone, I would assign these words from the biblical book of James: "Be doers of the word and not hearers only..."

I am grateful for the fact that I knew this man. He modeled what it means to be a true Christian. He is missed, and will not be forgotten.

Thank you from D.J. Mobley family

Letter to the Editor:

Words cannot express the gratitude, love and compassion that Racquel, Kaleb, myself and our families feel for each person who has stopped by, sent cards, made donations to cover expenses, thoughts and prayers and those who brought food to our family during the loss of our son, Dakota Jacob Mobley "DJ". We are grateful to live in such a supporting community and are glad to call Keystone Heights our "home".

A special thank you to Racquel's extended family at Union Correctional Institution for their support and understanding and to our extended families with Clay County Fire Rescue, Orange Park Fire Department, Keystone Heights Volunteer Fire Department, Clay County Sheriff's Office and Bradford County Fire Rescue for the sincere concerns and support during this time, your concern did not go unnoticed. To VEMA, Fire and Iron, Middleburg American Legion, McHenry's (KH), Senior Wings (Orange Park), Prevatt's Bar and Grill (Middleburg), Whitey's Fish Camp (Orange Park), Dicks wings (Lake Asbury), and all of the riders for your support with the motorcycle ride to help cover the costs of DJ's funeral, we cannot thank you enough.

Our appreciation pours out to Jones Gallagher Funeral home, KHHS JROTC, KHVFD Explorer Post 501, Boy Scout Troop 146, Trinity Baptist Church, Pastor Rob Morford and Pastor Marty Frakes for comforting our families and making this tragedy easier to understand. I know there are many names that we have left out and I do not think we could begin to acknowledge every person, but know that our family appreciates each and every one of you for your support which has made this difficult loss easier to cope with.

On a more personal note Racquel, Kaleb, and I could not have made it through this without the love and continuing support from Racquel's sister Rhonda Singletary, brother Brian Singletary, and parents Keith and Debbie Singletary, Kevin's Sister Lauren Thomas, and parents, Linda Brophy and Don and Kit Mobley. Thank you each from the bottom of our hearts.

Find way to cope with bypass

Dear Editor:

I've heard a lot of discussion regarding the bypass and the businesses of Starke. The bypass is a done deal. Now, Bradford County must find a way to cope. Change is going to happen, no matter how the town and its residents resist. Yes, we all want to keep the quiet close feeling of a small town, but we have to adapt. And that's where Starke has failed. Too many would rather fight to keep the city exactly as it is, while lamenting that businesses are closing, the kids are graduating and leaving for cities and towns where there are jobs, and the area is floundering.

I love my adventuring. I visit the little towns and the roadside attractions in search of Forgotten Florida. It is one of the reasons I liked living in Starke and I loved learning its history. I've been to all the little model towns like Micanopy and Alachua. Those places are off the beaten path and yet have thousands of visitors each year. I know that the town has visited these places looking for ideas, but nothing's come of it. These places are proof that you can keep the small town atmosphere and rake in the tourist dollars. Starke has the added bonus of sitting on 301 and yet driving through, a traveler sees a used up town and has no incentive to stop.

Many are opposed to the bypass saying businesses are going to close but closings happen everywhere, every day. Mostly, shops fail because they operate as they always have. They have not prepared for the coming years. They haven't updated their ideas. They haven't kept up with technology or the needs of their customers. For instance, the hardware store... They currently fulfill a need, but worry at the thought of the bypass, and Lowe's or Home Depot coming to town. Firstly, travelers who will opt for the bypass route don't shop the hardware store. You don't head out on vacation thinking, "Hey. When I get to Starke, I'm dang "skippy" stopping for six carriage bolts." So the bypass won't affect the store much, if at all. And Lowe's or Home Depot WILL price them out of business unless they find a niche. But, (food for thought) the growing trend now is not DIY, but to hire someone to do it. Our kids are becoming more technology dependent and less hands-on. Our FFA's and construction classes in high school are becoming a thing of the past. We don't have shade-tree mechanics. Now you have to take your car to the dealer for even the smallest repair. Because of building codes and restrictions, you can hardly put up a barn or a shed - you have to have approved plans and a permit so you have to call a construction firm. If Jackson's is preparing for and anticipating this growing trend, they will have a thriving business that the box stores won't harm.

Though I don't know this for sure, it was my understanding that Applebee's or the like wanted to open a restaurant when the new Wal-Mart went in, but decided against it when there was a dispute over the liquor licensing. Has anyone noticed that the loosening of the liquor laws a few years ago didn't create a bunch of slap-happy drunks? We just have the same old ones... But I digress...

Anyway, my point is that you can't blame the bypass for Starke's dying. Without fresh ideas and, heaven forbid... change, Starke will fade away, just like Lake Butler. The bypass might just be a mercy killing.

I would rather see the bypass as an opportunity. It will remove from 301 the trucks who don't stop anyway, making the Starke section more conducive to stopping (and spending.)

I would encourage the storefronts along 301 to clean up, up-grade and beautify with an eye on eventually re-establishing street parking once the traffic pattern has been established. Many of the businesses along US 301 are suffering from the same malaise as the town. I would encourage box-stores and chains at the north or south end of the by-pass anchoring the town, and look for entrepreneurs for the empty stores. I'd encourage investors to build unique strip shops with an old Florida theme along 301. Tourists are searching for vintage Florida and I would give it to them in exchange for their discretionary funds. Bradford County has a captive audience with US 301 but it is not being utilized.

Before the first shovel is turned on the by-pass, Starke should have a plan in place. Does it?

Very truly yours
T. E. Davis

Union County makes great showing in fair — Bradford step up

Dear Editor:

From what I observed at the Bradford-Union county fair last week, and I was there everyday, I am almost ready to conclude that the name of the fair should be reversed and be called the Union-Bradford county fair and here is why!! The Union county 4 H and FFA had the support of almost everyone in Union county, starting with the county commission, the school board, the school superintendent and the teachers. Don't you just love it, you look around the fair and you don't see the Bradford School Board the Bradford School Superintendent, very few Bradford school teachers. You do see the Bradford 4 H and Bradford FFA kids working their tails off showing off their animals and their parents are right there with them admiring their efforts.

You also have to wonder where the 40,000 dollar a year public relations guy that the Bradford school Superintendent hired to help showcase the students was the entire week of the fair. This also applies to most of the teachers who probably looked upon that week as vacation week. The problem that I have and it's more in the form of a question: Were these teachers still on the payroll?

And where was the woman who is in charge of the AG program? She wasn't there the entire week.

The more I think about this the more disgusted I get. My wife and I love the guys and gals who participate in the FFA and the 4 H and we try in every way we can to support them.

I guess we are more like the people in Union County.

How should we handle this mess? We could start by removing those who don't care about our kids from office.

It should be mentioned that our State representative Mr. Yoho was more interested in our kids, at least he participated in this event.

Indians defeat Fort White 2-0 for district win

Taylor Morris batted in and scored the game's only runs as the Keystone Heights High School softball team defeated Fort White 2-0 on March 19 to improve to 4-3 in District 5-4A.

Morris' line drive off the center-field fence drove in the first run, while she later scored herself on an error.

Breanna Wells and Kristen Wood went 2-for-3 and 2-for-2, respectively.

Pitcher Brittany Schellpepper earned the win, bringing her record—and Keystone's team record—to 4-7.

Prior to playing Fort White, the Indians were held to no hits by pitcher Ashtin Strickland in a 9-0 loss to district opponent Santa Fe on March 18.

Keystone rallies in 7th to defeat Santa Fe 4-3

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
Staff Writer

Keystone Heights was held to one hit, but that didn't prevent the Indians from scoring four runs in the bottom of the seventh to defeat Santa Fe 4-3 in a District 5-4A baseball game on March 21.

Santa Fe pitcher Clint Duke held the Indians (8-6, 5-2) hitless through the first six innings and allowed just one base runner during that span. However, Storm Miller reached on a dropped fly ball to lead off the bottom of the seventh. Bryce Plummer drew a walk before Kyle Hix singled to load the bases.

Tristan Starling hit a ground ball to short, which scored Miller, but an error on the force-out attempt at second kept the bases loaded with no outs. Keystone scored another run on a wild pitch before Duke was replaced on the mound by Tyler Barron.

Santa Fe attempted to get an out at home on a ball put into play by Blake Richardson, but catcher Jarrett Brown failed to make the necessary tag on the base runner, apparently thinking it was a force-out situation. That allowed Cory Taylor, who was running for Plummer, to score and tie the game.

A wild pitch with Blake Valenzuela at bat allowed Starling to score the game winner.

Prior to playing Santa Fe, the Indians defeated district opponent P.K. Yonge 8-2 on March 18 and defeated Middleburg 3-2 on March 20.

Miller hit a home run and drove in three runs in the win over P.K. Yonge. He finished the game 2-for-4, while Plummer and Hix were 2-for-2 and 2-for-3, respectively.

Hix drove in two runs, while Blake Richardson, Morgan Smith and Jerrett Tschorn each drove in one.

Starling threw a complete game, giving up five hits and three walks, while striking out six.

In the win over Middleburg, Hix and Miller each drove in a run, with Miller hitting a double.

Starting pitcher Wyatt Harvin earned the win, giving up two hits and one walk in four innings.

Austin Bass and Dean Dukes combined to allow two hits in three innings of relief.

Keystone played Baker County and district opponent Bradford this past Monday and Tuesday and will travel to play district opponent Interlachen on Friday, March 28, at 7 p.m. The Indians will travel to play St. Augustine on Tuesday, April 1, at 6 p.m.

Keystone shuts out BHS in season's 1st meeting

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
Staff Writer

Pitcher Morgan Bass gave up two hits and struck out 13 as the Keystone Heights High School baseball team defeated Bradford 5-0 on March 14 in Starke.

Kyle Hix, who was 2-for-2, drove in three runs with singles in the first and fifth innings and a sacrifice fly in the third.

Keystone scored another two runs on errors.

Bradford pitchers Wyatt Barnes and Zach DeWitt combined to allow six hits, with Barnes striking out seven.

The loss dropped the Tornadoes (6-7 overall) to 2-2 in District 5 prior to playing Interlachen on March 21.

Prior to playing Bradford, the Indians lost 4-2 to Buchholz on March 11 in Gainesville, with the host Bobcats scoring three runs in the bottom of the sixth.

Hix and Tyler Keaton each had an RBI, while Bryce Plummer went 3-for-3. Jerrett Tschorn went 2-for-4.

Pitchers-Tristan-Starling and Dean Dukes combined to allow just three hits.

On March 13, Keystone lost 7-4 to the visiting Williston Red Devils. Hix, Keaton, Plummer and Starling each had an RBI, with Plummer going 2-for-2.

The Tornadoes entered the Keystone game off of a 14-1, five-inning win over Eastside on March 11. Matt Stanwix-Hay and Carson Yowell drove in three and two runs, respectively, while Jackson Reddish went 2-for-2 and drove in a run.

DeWitt, Wyatt Collins, Jacob Luke and Alex Mejias each had an RBI.

Luke (1-1) threw a complete game to earn the win, striking out 12.

Bradford, which played Keystone again this past Tuesday, played district opponent P.K. Yonge on March 26 and will host Williston on Thursday, March 27, at 1 p.m. On Friday, March 28, the Tornadoes will travel to play Oakleaf at 4:30 p.m.

The Tornadoes return home to play district opponent Fort White on Tuesday, April 1, at 6:30 p.m.

Cook, Edwards earn 8th-place finishes for UC at Bolles meet

Trophy catches and bass tournament action

The bass action coming out of Kingsley Lake during March is certainly the headline outdoors activity of the month. Brooks Morrell entered three bass in the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission's Trophy Catch Program and two in the FWC Hall of Fame.

Richard Barnes entered two in the Trophy Catch Program and one in the Hall of Fame.

Additionally, Len Andrews from Virginia made another Hall of Fame entry and continues to pursue his big bass hunt, which has been a 17-year tradition.

The Bald Eagle Open Tournaments, which are held on Wednesdays. The first three placements in the first tournament were as follows: Paul Akridge and Randal Alvarez in first, Dwayne Davis and Caleb Johns in second and Travis Cain and Josh Wisham in third.

On March 19, the Bald Eagle winners were Lester Harrison and Mike Meredith in first, Clint Sheppard and Jason McClellan in second and Bobby Allen and Lawrence Cook in third.

The March 15 Murphy's Law Relay for Life Bass Tournament came off as a great success, despite the fact that it had to compete against several nearby events. The tournament has established itself as one of the major spring tournaments in North Central Florida.

The first five places were as follows: Clint Jackson and Jason McCellan in first, Jimmy Ballard and Marcus Hodges in second, Jeff Thompson and Ed Prather in third, Derek Daniels and Michael Johnson in fourth and Brooks Morrell and Kris Kadlec in fifth.

Area host to recent shooting events

The Florida Challenge Sporting Clays event at the Sportsmen's Farm was a great show of shotgunning competition Feb. 27-March 2, and the heavy action in the local sporting clays competition is not over for the year.

The Sportsmen's Farm is proud to announce that it will host the Florida State Championship, starting on April 3 and running through April 6. This is a really good opportunity to watch some really good wing shooters pit their skills against each other.

Furthermore, the shotgun displays, gunsmith services and vendor displays are really plentiful for anyone interested in firearms.

Charles Alvarez held his last pheasant shoot of the season on March 14 at his farm on Brownlee Road near the Union County line. Again, the live wing shooting with a beautiful bird and the retriever action of trained dogs was a treat for all outdoorsmen.

Alvarez does plan to provide more pheasant shoots next hunting season, so stay tuned for more of that rustic action year.

Outdoors outlook

While bass fishing is really taking hold, crappie fishing is beginning to wane. However, no one reminded James McKinney and Hubert Coleman on March 14. After an afternoon on Santa Fe Lake fishing shoreline cover for the speckled slabs, they had a cooler of 12 to 15 nice slabs to show for their efforts, as shown in the accompanying photograph.

The local bass tournaments got started this week on Santa Fe Lake, but the bite seemed to suggest that the best of the bass spawn has yet to take place. The exception to that has been the recent big bass coming out of Kingsley Lake. Brooks Morrell landed three Kingsley Lake bass that were all over 11 pounds. Two were over 13 pounds, and the largest was 14 pounds, 9 ounces.

Richard Barnes landed one that was 10 pounds, 13 ounces, and another that was 13 pounds, 11 ounces.

More recently, Mark Roberts landed a 14-pound, 8-ounce monster bass.

Kingsley Lake's deep water makes it easy for the big fish to hide during most of the season, but during the bass spawn, the exposed bright sand makes it easier to locate them.

Kaylee Fowler of Keystone got in on the bass action on March 19. Fishing a shiner in a small Keystone Lake, she hooked and landed the 12-pounder shown in the accompanying photograph.

The next new moon and full moon should produce more hot bass action, but bass-bed fishing should quickly subside.

The speck spawn should also wane from those dates, and the freshwater bedding action from that point forward will be restricted to panfish.

Tight lines until next week.

HERRES

muscle. She started dieting, concentrating on eating a lot of fruits and vegetables, salads and tuna, while trying to avoid most meats and red meat specifically. She drinks water only.

The first eight to 10 months were tough, Herres said, especially considering she was used to taking in protein because of her workout regiment.

"Now, I was doing the opposite," she said.

Of course, Herres has had to deal with people's stereotypes of models in regard to their bodies and how thin they are, but she insists she and other models are healthy.

"That's just our body type," Herres said.

Herres said the peak ages for a model are between 18 and 25, saying that when you reach 25, "they consider you old."

Some women may have a longer career of modeling if they sign with specific designers or go into acting. Herres said she's keeping an open mind, but really has no desire to be an actor.

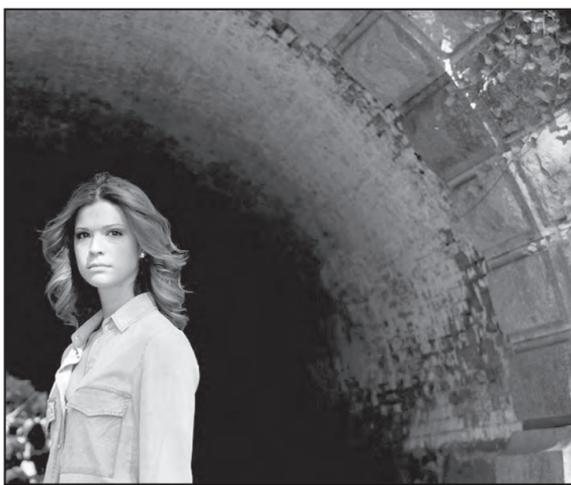

What she would like to do if she is indeed done modeling at 25 is to go to the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York, go through a business management program and open her own agency. Herres said her grandparents have encouraged such a move as well as serving as a mentor to girls.

Herres said she does enjoy interacting with younger girls and talking to them about the industry, so she would embrace the role of a mentor.

"I really like being a role model for other people," she said.

Though she dresses up to walk runways, Herres said she still enjoys going outside, playing sports and getting dirty. She's still a tomboy.

"I just know how to dress like a lady now," she said.
