

Three computers & over $1,000 missing

Former Jail Administrator charged with grand theft

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

Liberty County Jail Administrator Jenny Young is charged with grand theft after over $1,000 in jail funds and three computers could not be accounted for when she left her job on Jan. 1, 2013.

JENNY YOUNG

Young, 50, of Hosford, served as Jail Administrator for three and a half years. She resigned when the new sheriff and staff took office.

In January, the company that provided supplies for the jail's canteen reported they had not been paid in seven months and the bill had reached $2,042.44. Young's duties included running the canteen program by ordering supplies, keeping records and paying the bills. The computer with software provided by Smith's Automated Commissary Services to keep accounts for the jail canteen was missing, along with two other computers belonging to the sheriff's office.

An unopened package of laser checks was the only thing relating to the commissary accounts found in her office after she left, according to the arrest report.

MISSING COMPUTERS

Liberty County Sheriff's Office (LCSO) Deputy Darrell Johnson, who is a pastor at the church Young was attending in Blountstown, called investigators when he saw her bring a computer to the church on Jan. 13. Sgt. Jody Hoagland went to the church and confiscated the computer.

The next day, Young left a message for Lt. Mark Mallory stating that former LCSO Major Dussia Shuler

Training drill held for LCSO

Ten members of the Liberty County Sheriff's Office took part in a four-hour tactical law enforcement training session late Monday afternoon, participating in different scenarios requiring them to make quick decisions and take decisive action. The program, coordinated by Management Experts out of Tallahassee with assistance from the Suwannee County SWAT team, was especially valuable for some of the newer deputies, according to Sgt. Jody Hoagland.

"We've got some officers fresh out of the academy," he said. "This was good for our young guys." He said the experience of being fired upon - even with blanks - helps them prepare for what they may face on the job one day. Participants are shown during one exercise in the parking lot of the Mormon Church, across the street from Liberty County High School. Law enforcement agencies across the county were especially aware of their role in protecting the public after the tragic events earlier Monday when two bombs went off at the finish line of the Boston Marathon, killing three people and injuring many more.

Beer stolen in 'smash & grab' at Crow's Corner Monday

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

The Liberty County Sheriff's Office is asking for information on the identity of two people who broke into the Crow's Corner convenience store late Monday night, shattering the front glass door and stealing three boxes of beer.

The sheriff's office was alerted sometime after 11 p.m. that the business located at SR 20 and SR 267 in Hosford had just been burglarized.

A review of the surveillance video showed one suspect approach the south door and then step back. A minute later, a skateboard was thrown through the glass door.

The suspect was joined by a second person. Both jumped through the broken glass and went straight to the store's beer cooler. One grabbed what appeared to be a 12 pack of Bud Light beer; the other took two 18-packs of Natural Light beer.

One of the suspects grabbed the skateboard before they slipped out through the broken door and left the scene.

Only 15 seconds elapsed while the two were in the store.

The pair were wearing baggy clothing and hoodies, according to Lt. Mark Mallory. They are believed to be white males.

No footprints were found around the store but some water on the concrete suggested that a

Sellers of synthetic drugs to face fines in Liberty County

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

It's not illegal, but if you get caught doing it in Liberty County, it will cost you up to $500 and could send you to jail for 60 days.

An ordinance passed April 4 by the Liberty County Commission will fine anyone caught selling synthetic drugs, commonly known as "bath salts" and "herbal incense."

Reports of bad reactions to the use of such products haven't deterred many from using the chemical-laced compounds designed to replicate the effects of illegal drugs. While not as easy to find in local stores it once was, "We know of a couple of people in the county selling on a regular basis," said Sheriff Nick Finch. "They're going out of the county and bringing it here."

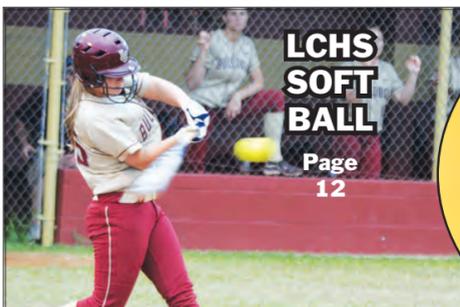

The sheriff said Mojo is widely used in the area, even though at least three local people have been hospitalized after using it.

Ordinance No: 13-02 bans selling, giving away, advertising or displaying synthetic cannabinoid herbal incense and contraband bath salts that mimic illegal drugs. The products are marketed under many names, including Spice, Fake Pot, K2, Yucatan Fire, Cloud Nine, Super Coke, Vanilla Sky and Bliss. They often have a label warning "not for human consumption."

The ordinance cites the synthetic drugs' numerous side effects, which are said to include hallucinations, kidney and liver failure, hypertension, tachycardia and paranoia.

ARREST REPORTS

JAMES R. JOHNSON

DARIN D. SUMMERLIN

AUSTIN L. SCOTT

TERESA S. BAILEY

Four charged after 'take down' team goes after felon believed to be armed

A man the Calhoun County Sheriff's Office calls a "known meth cook" was taken into custody last week after he was served with an arrest warrant for failure to appear on felony drug charges.

Calhoun County Sheriff Glenn Kimbrel, along with Lt. Emory Godwin, Lt. Jared Nichols, Lt. Todd Wheatley and Deputies Scotty Norris and Zach Whitfield went to a fish camp a Calvin Martin Road, where a confidential informant told them James R. Johnson, 30, of Altha, had been staying.

During surveillance of the camp, deputies recognized another man at the site known as Austin Scott, 24, of Altha, who was also wanted on felony warrants.

When officers entered the building, they walked into a hazy room filled with the strong chemical odor associated with methamphetamine manufacturing.

They found Johnson in bed and discovered that he was laying on top of two loaded handguns, a .45 High Point semi-automatic and a .38 Special revolver.

As they took Scott into custody, two meth pipes were found in his pants pocket.

The camp's owner said Darin Summerlin was the only person who was supposed to be at the camp. Summerlin and a fourth person, Teresa S. Bailey, were also charged in connection with this case, according to the sheriff's office.

Those charged included:

- James Russell Johnson, failure to appear, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, manufacture of meth, possession of listed chemicals, possession of drug paraphernalia.

- Scott Austin, grand theft over $5,000, conspiracy to commit grant theft, manufacture of meth, possession of listed chemicals, possession of drug paraphernalia.

- Teresa Bailey, possession of listed chemicals, manufacture of meth, VOP.

- Darin Summerlin, principal in manufacture of meth.

Two meth-related arrests made in Kinard

Two people were arrested on meth-related charges Saturday when officers from the Calhoun County Sheriff's Office served a narcotics search warrant at the Kinard residence of Victoria Hayward, 40, on April 12.

During a search of a shed on the property, investigators reported finding two half-full reaction vessels, a bag containing ammonium nitrate, unused coffee filters, a funnel with residue, pliers, a propane touch and lighter fluid.

A strip of tin foil with suspected methamphetamine as found in the kitchen trash can.

Also at the home at that time was Christopher McCoy, 34, of Altha.

He told investigators the items in the shed belonged to him and said he had manufactured methamphetamine there earlier that day, according to the arrest report.

McCoy was charged with manufacture of methamphetamine. Hayward was charged with principal in the first degree (manufacture of methamphetamine) and violation of state probation. She is being held without bond. McCoy's bond was set at $5,000.

Man stopped for DUI identified as suspect in earlier accident

A Bristol man was charged with DUI after a deputy saw him cross into the opposite lane and narrowly miss hitting a line of three oncoming vehicles Friday night on CR 12 South.

Liberty County Deputy Jarrod Taylor caught up with the car driven by Freddie Jones, 40, after being alerted by an off-duty officer who spotted Jones driving erratically shortly before 10 p.m.

After conducting a traffic stop in front of the Harrell Memorial Library, Taylor walked up to the passenger's side of the car where a window was rolled down just two inches and attempted to talk with Jones and his passenger.

His report noted there was a strong odor of alcohol coming from inside the car.

The driver had some difficulty lowering the window and spent about two minutes trying to put the key in the on position before he could comply with the deputy's request.

Jones acknowledged he had been drinking earlier in the day. The deputy's report noted his speech was slurring and Jones repeated approximately 15 times: "I was just taking my friend home. I'm from the other side of the bridge."

After failing to perform satisfactorily on a roadside sobriety test, Jones was taken into custody. Breath samples taken at the jail resulted in alcohol content readings of .162 and .154. The legal limit is .08.

After taking Jones into custody, the Liberty County Sheriff's Office learned that he matched the description of a man who had just been involved in a hit and run in Blountstown. His older white two-door car with a Superman tag on the front was the one described in the accident and was found to have some evidence of recent damage.

The woman whose vehicle was hit came to Bristol and identified Jones as the person whose car hit hers.

That accident remains under investigation in Blountstown.

Jones' bond was set at $2,500.

vehicle was recently parked there, according to the report from the sheriff's office.

Deputies were just finishing a four-hour tactical training program in Bristol when they responded to a call in the Hosford area that evening. A short time later, they were sent to the scene of the store's break-in. In the midst of that activity, volunteer firefighters were called to the scene of a shed fire behind a Bamboo Court residence in Hosford just after 1 a.m.

The state fire marshal's office was contacted early Tuesday morning to send an investigator to determine the cause of the blaze. The burning shed created some minor heat damage to one home.

One more call was added to the mix when a report came in of a suspicious vehicle seen off Talquin Circle.

FL Guardian ad Litem Program earns Davis Productivity Award

The Florida's statewide Guardian ad Litem Program has been honored for the second year in a row with the prestigious Prudential Davis Productivity Award.

The Prudential Davis Productivity Awards Program recognizes state employees and public agency leaders whose work "significantly and measurably increases productivity" and "saves money for Florida taxpayers and businesses."

The Davis Awards program, a major government improvement initiative, is co-sponsored by Florida TaxWatch, the Florida Council of 100, the State of Florida and Prudential.

The Guardian ad Litem Program is being recognized for maximizing its resources by expanding the volunteer model, increasing efficiency by more than 80% and ensuring children in foster care get more of that one-on-one attention by a volunteer child advocate.

Alan Abramowitz, Executive Director of the Florida Statewide Guardian ad Litem Office, said his staff and volunteers got a Prudential-Davis Award last year and again this year. The agency, a public-private partnership, provides volunteers who are appointed by the courts as advocates for abused and neglected children - a practice that has proven to result in better outcomes for those youngsters.

"That means less time in foster care. It also means adoption quicker," Abramowitz said. "We were able to calculate the costs savings for the state and it's over $18 million a year for each these volunteers are spending doing this work."

Two left with minor injuries in ATV mishap on Saturday

Two young boys from Hosford sustained minor injuries after losing control of the 2001 Honda TRX 500 ATV they were riding Saturday on SR 65, one mile north of SR 20.

Both boys were taken to area hospitals after the 2:45 p.m. mishap. A 15-year-old was transported to Capital Regional Medical Center. The second boy, who is 11, was treated at Calhoun-Liberty Hospital.

FHP Trooper S.T. Wilson said the ATV was southbound alongside SR 65 when it began fishtailing due to the washboard effort on the shoulder of the road. The ATV overturned onto its left side, ejecting the driver and passenger on the east shoulder of SR 65.

The report noted that helmets were not used. Charges are pending.

Commissioner Putnam cautions public as wildfire activity increases

TALLAHASSEE – Commissioner of Agriculture Adam H. Putnam and the Florida Forest Service remind Floridians to be extremely careful with fires outdoors as the state’s wildfire danger continues to increase. Wildfire Awareness Week - which was marked during the week of April 8 - 12 - recognizes wildfires that raged across Florida in 1998, burning more than 500,000 acres and damaging or destroying 337 homes and structures.

Wildfires generally occur in the spring and early summer months due to a lack of rainfall, low humidity and strong winds. However, Florida is already experiencing a higher than average occurrence of wildfires near homes and neighborhoods.

“Most wildfires are caused by human carelessness,” said Commissioner Putnam. “Right now, it is critical that we all do our part to prevent wildfires, especially in areas where homes and lives could be threatened.”

The two most frequent causes of wildfires this year are debris escaping from burn piles and arson. Since Jan. 1, the Florida Forest Service’s firefighters have responded to more than 1,000 wildfires on 20,430 acres.

“People should be extremely cautious while burning outdoors,” said James Karels, Florida Forest Service state forester. “If we can reduce the number of human-caused wildfires, it will increase safety for Florida’s citizens and firefighters alike.”

The following tips can help prevent wildfires:

- Check with your local city or county officials to see if there are any burn restrictions in the area.

- Keep fires contained to an 8-foot diameter pile or non-combustible barrel. Fires must be at least 25 feet from forests, 25 feet from homes, 50 feet from paved public roads and 150 feet from other occupied buildings.

• Obtain a burning authorization from the Florida Forest Service for piles larger than 8 feet in diameter. Call your local Florida Forest Service field office (www.floridaforests-service.com/field\_operations).

- Check the weather daily and don’t burn on windy days or when the humidity is below 30 percent.

• Never leave a fire unattended, and make sure it is completely out before leaving.

- Keep a shovel and water hose handy in case the small fire starts to escape containment.

• Report suspicious activity to the Arson Alert Hotline at 1-800-342-5869. Callers may remain anonymous, and information about an arson-caused fire could be worth up to a $5,000 reward.

The Florida Forest Service manages more than 1 million acres of public forest land while protecting 26 million acres of homes, forestland and natural resources from the devastating effects of wildfire. # Americans to unite for National Day of Prayer May 2

As our nation struggles with continued economic insecurity, vast healthcare reform and countless challenges to our constitutional rights, citizens of the United States are preparing to exercise their freedom to gather, worship, and pray. Millions will answer the call to prayer on Thursday, May 2 in observance of the 62nd Annual National Day of Prayer. Local church leaders have organized an event to be held on the Courthouse Lawn in Bristol at 12 p.m., where intercession will be made for America and its leadership. The public is urged to attend this time of prayer for our nation. This year's theme, Pray for America, is based on Matthew 12:21 which reminds us that "In His name the nations will put their hope." National Day of Prayer (NDP) Task Force Chairman Shirley Dobson, wife of Family Talk founder Dr. James Dobson, has said that, "The American people continue to be plagued with challenges that defy simple answers, and our hope lies in humbly seeking the Almighty's guidance, protection, and blessing—not only on the National Day of Prayer, but throughout the year."

ST. STEPHEN AME CHURCH

- Elaine Jones will be ministering at St. Stephen AME Church in Sweetwater on Saturday, April 27 at 4 p.m.

Everyone is welcome to come worship with us. Elaine Jones is a member of Mount Calvary Church in Englewood, NJ. She is a woman that loves God. She has preached throughout the United States and internationally. She has delivered such profound words of wisdom such as "I have right" and "I am a Woman with issues, but I still qualified."

Elaine has a true heart for the people of God. She desires to see the lives of people changed through applying the word of God. She has experienced the love and forgiveness of Christ first hand and knows that one word from God can change someone's life and situation. Elaine is the mother of three wonderful children, Corin, Faith and Trey. She is currently pursuing a Doctorate in Education and will graduate in 2014.

NEWS FROM THE PEWS

the Continental Congress' proclamation in 1775 setting aside a day of prayer. In 1952, Congress established an annual day of prayer and, in 1988, that law was amended, designating the National Day of Prayer as the first Thursday in May.

Seven Points of Prayer for our community

- Government – Pray for local and state leaders asking God to grant them wisdom, discernment, and hearts that are open to His leading.
- Church – Pray for the Churches and Church Leaders throughout that state. Ask God to preserve and protect them, as He inspires and empowers His 'Saints' for the work of ministry, for the building up of the Church, and for the spreading of the Gospel.
- Military – Pray for our Military, Guard, and Reserve units and their leadership. Pray for God to grant courage, protection, and strength for our service men and women, and their families, as they serve our country.

- Family – Pray for families in your community and across the state. Ask Him for protection, and to strengthen marriages, encourage parents toward His priorities, heal relationships, and secure traditional values in each home.
- Education – Pray for God's presence in our schools, colleges, and universities. Ask Him to select teachers and administrators who honor His statutes, protect our children, and inspire them to discover their God-given calling.
- Media – Pray for Christian influence in the media industry, from local television and radio stations, to newspaper and magazine publishers. Ask for the Lord to provide Godly men and women to work in and influence the media throughout the state and in every city.
- Business – Pray for divine intervention in the state and local economies. Ask that God raise up Godly business leaders and provide industry to provide honest employment and generous provision for individuals and families in each community.

Calhoun Library warns new version of GED testing begins in January 2014

Anyone with a good education will be more able to meet life goals and responsibilities to acquire a good future, a good career and a stable life.

Workers are offered better paying jobs, parents are better able to help with their children's homework and adults more easily discover how to apply available resources to their daily lives.

In January 2014, the GED Testing

Service will be releasing a new version of the GED Test.

Anyone presently testing on the current 2002 series of exams must complete the entire series of tests by December 2013 -- or restart the test series all over again. Scores from the current series will not be combined with scores of the new tests.

If you need your GED - or would like to better your Reading, Math or computer skills - come to your nearest Calhoun County Library for study assistance, both online and one-on-one tutoring, when necessary. TABE testing will be given to determine what course of study is needed.

Study materials will then be provided for use in the library.

For further information, please contact Rachel McCoy at the Blountstown Public library at 674-5200.

Open hours are Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Remember - you have only through December 2013 to complete your present GED test series or start the entire process over starting in January 2014.

Big River Roundup Catfish Tournament Memorial Day weekend

BLOUNTSTOWN - The Blountstown Rotary Club will host the 17th annual Big River Roundup Florida Flathead Catfish Tournament Memorial Day weekend, May 24 - 25.

The tournament was not held in 2012, but after encouragement by the community to continue the event, the Rotary Club decided to relaunch the tourney this year. This year's tourney will have some changes, such as no bank fishing, and more cash prizes awarded.

The 2013 Big River Roundup marks the 17th anniversary of the first organized flathead catfish tournament in Florida. The "Roundup" tournament is unlike any other with fierce competition between locals for bragging rights, cash prizes, and $50,000 at stake if the current State Record is broken during the event.

Boat fishing contestants vie for $1,000 for the largest flathead, $500 for second largest, $400 for third largest, $300 for the fourth largest, and largest non-flathead catfish will win $100. In addition, the most flathead catfish total poundage for the event will pocket $100.

Blountstown Rotary is proud to say that their tournament has graced the pages of Field & Stream, Florida Fish & Game, and GAFF magazines.

As word of the tournament has spread, fisherman from Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, South Carolina, and even as far as Ohio have regularly traveled to take their chances at winning the event.

The tournament entry fee for adults is $50 per person if pre-registering or $55 per person at the gate. Those 14-years-old and under may enter in the youth category for $20 per person.

Individuals are encouraged to pre-register to be included in a special pre-registration prize drawing. Participants can also register on-site Friday, May 24 beginning at 9 a.m. (CT) until 12 a.m. (CT) and on Saturday, May 25 from 6 a.m. (CT) until 10 a.m. (CT) at the Blountstown Landing (Neal Landing).

There will be multiple boat launch sites available and approved by the Blountstown Rotary Club. See rules for more information.

The tournament begins at 4 p.m. (CT) on Friday, May 24 and ends at 12 noon (CT) Saturday, May 25. Awards presentation will be held at 12 p.m. (CT) on Saturday at the Blountstown landing.

For more information on the tournament, a list of rules and an application, visit www.blountstownrotary.com. Or, call Tournament Director Phil McMillan at (850) 643-7082 or Asst. Tournament Director Phillip Hill at (850) 447-1975.

Mail applications to Blountstown Rotary Club, P.O. Box 161 Blountstown, FL 32424, or you can drop off at the Calhoun County Senior Center, Gulf State Chemical, Adams Funeral Home, or Centennial Bank in Blountstown.

Antique & Classic Boat Show Sat. in Apalachicola

APALACHICOLA - Apalachicola will host the 15th Annual Apalachicola Antique and Classic Boat Show Saturday, April 20. Antique boats, examples of classic and traditional vessels, work-boats, and fiberglass and aluminum classics will all be on display throughout the day. This festival emphasizes the maritime history of our picturesque coastal town. Special highlights include authentic oyster boats, work-boats, and home-built boats by skilled craftsmen, antique outboard engines, plus antique automobiles and art booths. The Apalachicola National Estuarine Research Reserve will have displays on the Apalachicola River and its flora and fauna, plus demonstrations on oyster tonging. The 50 foot-long Apalachicola Traders' Canoe will be on display at the Cotton Warehouse on Water Street.

The restored 1877 gaff-rigged schooner the Governor Stone will also be on display at the city dock in the center of town and the Apalachicola Riverkeepers will be giving guided tours of the river. Also, at the Cotton Warehouse there be an exhibit of model boats built by some of the finest model boat builders in the country, plus a marine art exhibit.

At 6 p.m. there will be a dinner and lecture. Reservations required for dinner and evening lecture. For information please call (850) 653-9419 or email us at info@apalachicolabay.org, or visit www.antiqueboatshow.org.

Peanut Association offering scholarship to producing families

MARIANNA - The Florida Peanut Producers Association is pleased to announce the opening of their 2013 Scholarship Award Program which began April 1.

Two $1,200 scholarships will be awarded to deserving high school seniors and/or college students. The applicant or someone in the applicant's family must be an actively producing peanut grower, not necessarily a member of the FPPA. It is the intent of the Scholarship Award Committee, however, that the award recipients attend a Florida junior college or four-year university.

"The Florida Peanut Producers Association is committed to helping further the education of young people in Florida and the scholarship program is evidence of our commitment," said Ken Barton, Executive Director of the FPPA.

"The FPPA welcomes all applicants. The final selection will be made by the committee and all applicants will be notified by mail, as will the scholarship winners," said Barton.

For an application contact the FPPA office at 2741 Penn Avenue, Suite 1, Marianna, FL 32448, call (850) 526-2590 or you can print the application off the FPPA website www.flpeanuts.com. The Scholarship applications must be postmarked no later than Monday, July 1.

Swearing-in ceremony for Courthouse Therapy Dogs set April 18 in Tallahassee

TALLAHASSEE - The Second Judicial Circuit, comprised of Franklin, Gadsden, Jefferson, Leon, Liberty and Wakulla Counties, will hold a Swearing-In Ceremony for the Courthouse Therapy Dogs on Thursday, April 18 at 5 p.m. in Courtroom 3A, Third Floor of the Leon County Courthouse, in Tallahassee. Circuit Judge James C. Hankinson will be presiding. Twelve specially trained therapy dogs, accompanied by their handler team partners, are slated to participate.

In August 2007, the Second Judicial Circuit became the first court sponsored animal therapy program in Florida. The therapy dog teams are provided by the Tallahassee Memorial Healthcare Animal Therapy Program, at no cost to the Second Judicial Circuit. The therapy dogs were initially available to comfort and support children testifying as victims in violent crimes, and later expanded to assist children participating in dependency court proceedings, and adults as determined by the court to be in need of the service.

Chief Judge Charles Francis thought the program concept had great potential from the start. "We already had teddy bear therapy that we use with children who have gone through traumas. I thought it could work, right off the bat, if the dogs were properly trained and properly controlled."

The first dependency animal therapy court visits statewide began in 2009 in Wakulla County as part of an initiative by Wakulla County Judge Jill Walker to have children participate in dependency court cases. Dependency proceedings involve children who have been abused or neglected, determinations of parental rights, and custody of children. Court proceedings can be extremely emotional and stressful for the parties involved. According to Walker, it is important for children to be present in court, and it is especially important for the judge to obtain as much information as possible from the children. "The dogs are a relaxing resource. Well documented research shows that petting an animal lowers the levels of cortisol, a stress inducing hormone; we need to be taking advantage of this science. By lowering stress levels that all parties feel coming into court, you can get more complete and more accurate information by having everyone able to focus on the issue at hand. It makes my job easier as the decider of fact."

The Second Judicial

Circuit Courthouse Therapy Dog Program serves as a model for other jurisdictions. The program has assisted nine of the twenty judicial circuits of the State of Florida in implementing similar programs. The Second Circuit program also took the lead in drafting statewide recommendations for the use of therapy dogs in dependency courts.

To date, the therapy dog teams have participated in SS criminal court events and provided comfort and support to countless children during about 120 dependency court dockets. According to Hankinson, "The swearing-in ceremony is a way for the courts to show our appreciation to the volunteers of the TMH Animal Therapy Program and their animal partners."

Late Night Laughs

A RECAP OF RECENT OBSERVATIONS BY LATE NIGHT TV HOSTS.

Why does the government charge us postage to send in our tax returns? We have to pay them to pay them. It's like giving a slice back to the pizza delivery guy. How about you just deduct 75 cents from what I already paid? — JIMMY KIMMEL

According to a new study, our views on immigration are changing. For example, when asked if they support a path to citizenship, 40 percent of the respondents said, "Si." — JAY LENO

Things are still very tense in North Korea. In fact, world leaders are still waiting to see if Kim Jong-un is going to actually fire a missile after this week's deadline came and went. Apparently what happened was he messed up and bought Mentos and regular Coke. — JIMMY FALLON

Baseball commissioner Bud Selig has announced the creation of a diversity task force. He said it's time for baseball to begin letting in players who are not on steroids. — JAY LENO

Do you believe Dennis Rodman is still talking about Kim Jong Un? It's not a good sign when the friend who's trying to explain that you're not crazy is Dennis Rodman. That's not the guy I would send out for my sanity test. — CONAN O'BRIEN

North Korean officials reportedly are planning a cyber attack on the U.S. in an effort to bring our economy to a halt. Nice try guys. You're five years too late. — JAY LENO

According to a new report, Sharon and Ozzy Osbourne's 30-year marriage is over. After hearing this, Ozzy said, "I was married?" — CONAN O'BRIEN

According to a new poll, 50 percent of Americans would vote for Ronald Reagan for president right now over Barack Obama. In fact, in the last election 58 percent of the people in Florida DID vote for Ronald Reagan. — JAY LENO

April 15 is the most stressful day of the year for accountants, small business owners, and Wesley Snipes. — JIMMY KIMMEL

The Coachella Music Festival started. It's held every year in the California desert. A whole weekend of peace, love, and $10 bottles of water. — CRAIG FERGUSON

Iran is gearing up for a big presidential election in June. Yeah, this year it's gonna be a tight race between Ahmadinejad and the guy they picked to lose to Ahmadinejad. — JIMMY FALLON

It's starting to get serious — China has warned North Korea about starting a war. China told them flat out, "Do not fire any missiles at the United States at least until after we get our money. They owe us $16 trillion. Wait until then." — JAY LENO

McConnell and the small tent GOP

WASHINGTON — The country faces an array of challenges that can only be addressed through bipartisan compromise. President Obama is doing his part, offering highly controversial budget proposals that would rein in federal spending on Social Security and Medicare at the expense of the elderly and the needy, which Republicans have callously demanded for some time. Yet it's unclear that even this major concession by a Democratic president can pierce the wall of opposition that the GOP has erected to anything with Obama's name on it.

Dislike of the president and his policies is so intense within the GOP that any Republican who dares to work with Obama has to worry that he or she will be "primaried," a newly coined word that describes the fear among Republicans that a challenger to their right will defeat them in a primary.

That's the calculus driving Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell, R-Ky., who is up for reelection next year and has virtually abandoned his post as leader of the Republican caucus to stand with its most conservative members. When 13 Republicans threatened to filibuster any gun legislation brought to the Senate floor, McConnell said he would join them in a show of solidarity, an unprecedented step for a Senate leader.

McConnell hired Sen. Rand Paul's (R) campaign manager to run his 2014 campaign, and he is taking cues from his state's junior senator to make sure he doesn't run afoul of the GOP's conservative base. An example of just how nervous McConnell is arose when the recording of a meeting at his campaign office in Louisville surfaced on the web site of the liberal magazine, "Mother Jones."

McConnell is heard saying, "This is the Whac-A-Mole period of the campaign . . . . When anybody sticks their head up, do them out." At the time of the recording, actress Ashley Judd was toying with running against McConnell, and aides are heard discussing potential lines of attack, including characterizing her as "emotionally unbalanced" based on her candid discussion of her struggles with depression and suicidal thoughts in an autobiography.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by Douglas Cohn and Eleanor Clift

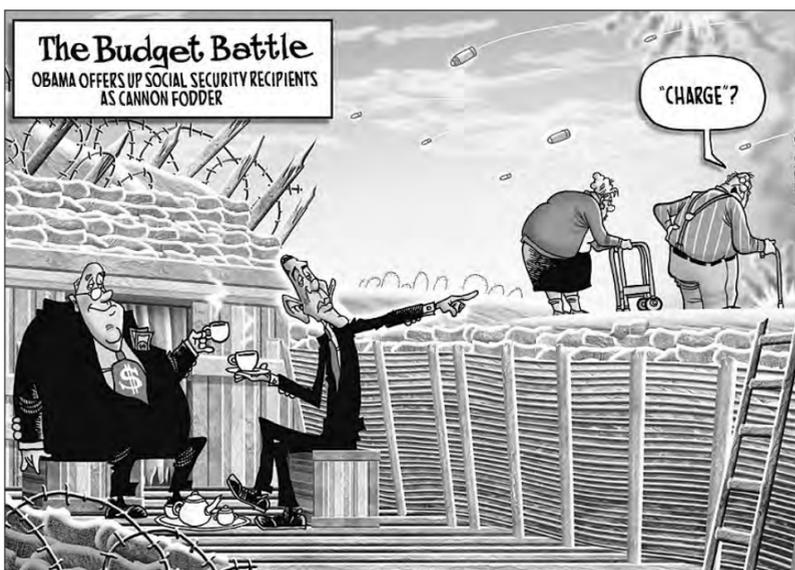

Judd is out as a potential opponent, and McConnell probably has more to worry about from a challenge within the GOP than any Democrat he will face.

According to the Pew Research Center, the percentage of people who identify themselves as Republicans is at historic lows, and within that smaller base of people, almost half (45 percent) are extremely conservative, which explains why McConnell and other once traditional conservatives have moved so far to the right.

It's how they hold their seats in a party that is down from the big tent of the Nixon and Reagan years to a small tent of ideologically pure diehards. The party has traveled a long way to squander the advantage it once held in winning the presidency. Richard Nixon was a moderate Republican in the Eisenhower mold, serving as Ike's vice president. Even as he moved to capitalize on racial grievances with his Southern Strategy, Nixon managed to hold onto the liberal Rockefeller wing of the party.

Ronald Reagan had a blue-collar appeal even though he was a Hollywood actor. He expanded the Republican tent with Reagan Democrats, working class voters who felt abandoned by the national Democrats and signed on for a generation to be Republicans.

Compare these past incarnations of the GOP with the current state of the party, characterized in a 2011 Pew survey as dominated by staunch conservatives who are 92 percent white and tend to be male, married, Protestant, well off and at least 50 years old, according to Pew's Andrew Kohut in a Washington Post piece last month. These voters don't want their representatives to compromise with Obama on anything; they want to stand and fight even if it's their own party they're destroying.

Womanless Beauty Pageant raises $1,100

Hosford School held a different kind of beauty pageant Saturday night with an array of interesting contestants competing in a Womanless Beauty Pageant. Fifteen took the stage to vie for the crown. There were prizes for best dressed, sexiest legs and best dancer. The event raised about $1,100 to help some of Hosford's eighth grade students attend the Orlando class trip. Michelle Mayfield organized the event with the assistance of Aaron Day.

Leonard Shiver was a real crowd pleaser and his efforts paid off - he won the crown!

Bristol photographer to host nature photo workshop on May 18

TALLAHASSEE - A daylong nature macro photo workshop led by award-winning nature photographer Bill Boothe will be held at the Tallahassee Museum of History and Natural Science on Saturday, May 18 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (ET). The morning session in the classroom will cover what to shoot, equipment, setting up your camera, composition, lighting, exposure, closeup and macro photography, and studio and field techniques. After lunch, participants will be photographing in the field to get hands-on experience. Cost is $60 per person. Tallahassee Museum members are eligible for a discounted rate of $50.

Bill Boothe, a professional naturalist and nature photographer, and his wife, Marcia live in Bristol. Around every bend of the road in the Florida Panhandle, something new and fantastic beckons them to stop and take photographs of Florida's rare and beautiful plant and animal species. You may see some of his photos at his www.NatureInFocus.com.

Participants must bring a digital camera (DSLR preferably with macro lens or point and shoot with macro capabilities) and camera manual. A basic knowledge of how to use a camera is a prerequisite. This class is not intended for beginning photographers or those who do not know the basic operation of their camera.

Registration deadline for the workshop is Monday, May 13 with spaces limited to the first 20 registrants. A registration form and additional details about the workshop are available at the Museum's website at www.tallahasseeemuseum.org or you may call the Museum at (850) 575-8684 extension 126.

For more information about the workshop, please call Bill Boothe at (850) 643-2583.

Beau Turner's Outdoor Experience set April 20

JEFFERSON COUNTY - Folks looking to get outside on a nice spring day are invited to attend the Beau Turner Youth Conservation Center's (BTYCC) sixth annual Outdoor Experience on Saturday, April 20. The BTYCC is in Jefferson County on U.S. 19 just north of U.S. 27.

The Saturday event is free and open to all ages. It begins at 10 a.m. and lasts until 2 p.m. Advance registration is not necessary.

Activities include fishing, archery, shooting sport stations, K-9 demonstration, wild animal displays, hayrides and more. The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission and its partners will have activities and educational programs that highlight the conservation of Florida's fish and wildlife resources.

Outdoor television personality and Xtreme Sport Shooter Patrick Flanigan will be there, giving demonstrations at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

All attending youth age 15 and under will have a chance to win one of several door prizes, including hunting and fishing gear, a week of summer camp at the Ocala Outdoor Adventure Camp or a spot at the BTYCC summer camp.

Food will be available for purchase, or attendees can bring their own sack lunch.

For more information on Beau Turner's Outdoor Experience, or to obtain more detailed driving directions to the center, call (850) 717-8702, or go to BTYCC.org.

Geocache Treasure Hunt at Landmark Park April 27

DOTHAN - Geocaching is the popular sport that sends participants on a real life treasure hunt in search of caches of hidden prizes using a handheld GPS unit or smart phone. Join Landmark Park on April 27 for a geocache event designed to take participants on a journey throughout the park to complete a series of tasks with prizes up for grabs at the end.

The day will kick off at 9:30 a.m. with an introduction workshop for beginners on the basics of using a GPS unit held in the Interpretive Center auditorium.

Registration for the geocache event will begin at 10:30 a.m. and the hunt will start at 11 a.m.. You may enter as an individual or a team but only one prize will be awarded per registration. Registration is $10. Please call the park office to register or email dpeters@landmarkpark.com. Prizes to be given away include a gift certificate to The Basketcase, a subscription to Dothan Magazine, several park memberships and more.

Landmark Park is a 135-acre historical and natural science park located on U.S. Highway 431 North in Dothan, Ala. For more information, contact the park at (334) 794-3452.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL by Elam Stoltzfus

Calhoun County resident Elam Stoltzfus is a filmmaker whose latest work, a documentary on The Florida Wildlife Corridor Expedition, is being featured across PBS stations through April. It will be released to PBS nationwide in June.

LOCAL PROGRAM DATES & TIMES

- Sunday, April 21: WFSU-TV at 6 p.m. WFSG-TV at 6 p.m.
- Monday, April 22: WFSU-TV at 10 p.m. WFSG-TV at 10 p.m.

For me, a filmmaker, the Florida Wildlife Corridor Expedition was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to showcase the landscapes, wildlife habitats, winding waterways and conservation legacies of Florida. Experiencing the wilds of Florida was like an epic dream come true. It is as Dr. E.O. Wilson says, "our love for nature is an innate and genetically determined affinity of human beings with the natural world", that piques my continual interest in exploring an in-depth connection with nature.

Making films has introduced me to fascinating stories and characters across Florida. I've discovered a collection of true-life stories, a trove of tall tales, dreamers for a better tomorrow, an active sportsman's paradise and a diverse interaction with the natural world.

During the expedition, some of my favorite moments were early in the morning, especially on waterways with the morning fog rolling in. One particular memory: we were on a tree island in the Everglades and misty showers greeted the morning, followed by the sun breaking through the rainy clouds with a rainbow appearing over the sawgrass horizon. I quickly set up the camera. The composition was right there, five feet from the tent. What a moment being immersed in the scene developing around me.

Another magical memory was with a flock of roseate spoonbills along the St. John's River. It was shallow enough that I could move the kayak with my toes, and I moved slowly through the marsh, keeping the camera mounted on the kayak steady. Finally I was within a few yards of the birds, to be able to capture these images is a gift.

Having the opportunity to listen to stories people shared during 90 video interviews and spending time with them in their home landscapes was like having a front row seat in a college class. For many, this was an investment into the greater cause of the corridor concept. A number of them walked with us, some kayaked with us, others rode horses along side with us. One of the greatest treasures to the whole experience is what people gave and shared and invested into the expedition. I'm so honored because that's what the journey is all about: those people and their stories.

At the end of the trek a journalist asked me: "Can you give a sentence summarizing the journey?" My immediate reply was "into the wind, against the current, and off the beaten trail." Certainly, our journey was an arduous one, with long days and grueling terrain as we traversed Florida's remote heartland. It was filled with obstacles that we would not have overcome on our own. All throughout our journey, from the moment it was merely an idea, there have been people pushing it toward reality. From trail angels to pastors, from professors to teachers, from commanders to generals, from bear biologists to park rangers, from corporations to small businesses, from kids to parents, people of every walk of life have supported our quest.

As we experienced the corridor, we discovered what brings us together, what we have in common. We all want to protect natural Florida for current and future generations. We want to continue to see habitat restoration, endangered species protected, and cross-agency cooperation become a part of Florida's landscape. Our journey has shown what's possible. With your continued support Florida has the opportunity to bring the idea of the Florida Wildlife Corridor into reality. May our voices reach further as we share this story together.

DOUBLE STANDARD: The difference between children and grandchildren

It occurred to me not too long ago that I haven't been anybody's grandchild since 1991 and I miss it sorely. As a kid with grandparents, you always know there's somebody out there who thinks you're wonderful, no matter how often or badly you screw up.

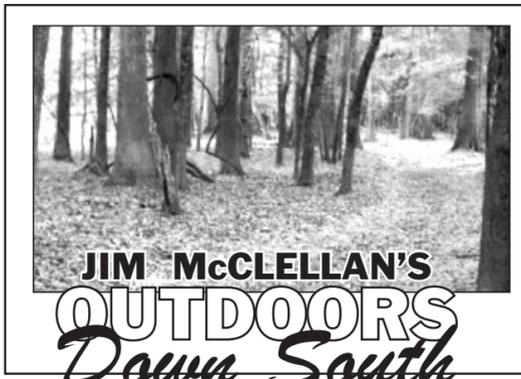

Someone once said that the reason grandparents and grandchildren get along so well is that they have a common enemy: the parents. That was certainly the case in my experience as a grandchild and as a parent.

When I was very young, my mother arranged for a woman to come to our home and watch me so she could go back to work teaching school. I was too young to remember, but Mother Mac, my father's mother, checked in on me one day and didn't like what she saw. She more or less fired the babysitter on the spot, and her house became my "daycare" until I started school.

Years later, when someone would ask Mother Mac if I was Gene and Betty's son, her standard response was, "Yes, but I raised him." That irritated my mother and father to no end, but when their turn came, they were almost as annoying.

As a grandmother, Mama would encourage me not to get angry and yell at my kids, and instead focus on correcting their behavior. All I could think about was her reaction when I got bad grades in school. If she wasn't angry back then, she was at least "aggressively disappointed" at high volume.

Daddy also had some serious double standards for kids and grandkids.

One day when my children were 10, 8 and 6, I took them fishing down at the camp. We were all standing on the bank, poles in hand, not 10 feet from each other when Daddy came rolling up. I turned around to greet him, but before I could get the words out, he said, "Don't let those young'uns get that far away from you! A gator might jump up there and grab one before you can do anything about it."

I gathered the kids closer, but as he drove away I remembered being down there at eight or nine years old and having this same man give me a pole, a can of worms and instructions to "meet back here in a little bit."

Either gators only recently became dangerous or his level of concern was considerably lower when I was a kid.

Another time, when my oldest was about four, my parents came to our new house for a visit. I was in the living room talking with Mama while Daddy and Mary Grace were outside. After hearing a strange noise above us, I looked out the window to see my father tossing a baseball on the roof of the house. He would let it roll off and then catch it, which for some reason was great fun for my daughter.

I went outside and reminded him that he used to get mad at me for doing the same thing.

"Didn't you say that throwing a ball on the roof could break the shingles?" I asked.

"Yep."

"Then why is it okay now?"

He just smiled and said, "Not my roof."

I won't get to be a grandchild again in this life, but I may get to be a grandparent. From what I can gather, that's the next best thing.

Topics include red snapper season, marine fisheries rule changes, gopher tortoise permitting guidelines FWC will meet Wed. & Thurs. near Tallahassee

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) will meet Wednesday and Thursday, April 17-18 to discuss an array of issues, ranging from marine fisheries and upland wildlife management and harvest issues to boating safety, staff reports and enhancing the public's ability to help control the invasive lionfish.

Sessions start both days at 8:30 a.m. at the Florida Public Safety Institute, 85 Academy Drive, Havana, FL 32333 (www.floridapsi.com). The Institute is located west of the city of Midway on US 90.

The meeting is open to the public, and all interested individuals may speak within guidelines established by the Commission.

Marine issues dominate the first day, after a representative of the Wildlife Foundation of Florida presents the annual Louise Ireland Humphrey Employee of the Year Award to FWC Assistant Executive Director Greg Holder.

When the Commission takes up marine fisheries issues April 17, it will start with a final public hearing on the Gulf of Mexico recreational red snapper season. The proposed season would be open June 1 through July 14.

The Commissioners will then discuss a draft rule that proposes format standardization and reorganization for several marine fisheries rules in Florida Administrative Code 68B, as well as the creation of a new General chapter that will include a series of definitions and general regulations that would be applied to all saltwater fishing.

In a draft rule hearing, the Commissioners will discuss a proposal to eliminate the requirement for a recreational fishing license when targeting lionfish with certain gear and to have no recreational or commercial harvest limit. Additionally, the Commission will consider a proposal to make tarpon and bonefish catch-and-release-only species, and review and discuss gear use for tarpon in Boca Grande Pass.

At the request of the Collier County Board of Commissioners, the Commission will also discuss in a draft rule hearing the repeal of two Special Acts of Local Application that prohibit spearing or gigging with artificial light and spearing in state waters off the county shoreline.

The Commission will end the marine fisheries section with a staff update on South Atlantic Fishery Management Council actions and discussions.

On Thursday April 18, Commissioners will welcome a representative of the Shikar-Safari Club International to present the Officer of the Year Award to FWC Officer Bryan Fugate.

Following Executive Director Nick Wiley's presentation of the Executive Director's Report, the Commissioners will consider creating a Private Lands Deer Management Permit program that would better meet the needs of landowners and leaseholders, giving them greater flexibility in herd and harvest management while promoting conservation and hunting heritage efforts. This voluntary program would apply to land parcels large enough to implement herd and wildlife management.

Next, Commissioners will consider proposed revisions to gopher tortoise permitting guidelines that are based on stakeholder input and designed to be consistent with the updated Gopher Tortoise Management Plan approved in September 2012. Other proposed improvements to the permitting guidelines include ensuring adequate funding for long-term management of gopher tortoise recipient sites, providing guidelines for capture of tortoises for relocation when using a backhoe, and establishing criteria to suspend, revoke or not renew an authorized gopher tortoise agent permit.

FWC staff will then present draft rules on changes to localized boating-restricted zones in Broward and Pinellas counties.

After staff reports, the public can comment on items not on the agenda. The next regular Commission meeting will be June 11-13 in Lakeland, commencing at 8:30 a.m. each day.

Hog hunting available soon on public lands

If you like to hunt wild hogs, the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) has several upcoming opportunities on public lands in northwest Florida that you won't find in the most recent printed brochures for wildlife management areas.

On the Joe Budd Small Game Area near Tallahassee, still hunters can hunt hogs May 3-5 without having to obtain a quota permit. Additionally, the hunter quota for hog hunts using dogs has been increased from five to 10. Wild hog-dog hunts on Budd are set for May 16-19, June 20-23, July 18-21, Aug. 15-18 and Sept. 19-22.

On the nearby Ochlockonee River SGA, the still hunter quota has been increased from 30 to 50 hunters per hunt, and the hunt area has been expanded to include the area south of Interstate 10. This year's open hunt dates are May 10-12, June 14-16, July 12-14, Aug. 9-11 and Sept. 13-15.

Hog hunts are also set for the Aucilla SGA in Jefferson County and Blackwater SGA in Okaloosa and Santa Rosa counties.

The online brochures and hunting rules for Joe Budd, Ochlockonee River, Aucilla and Blackwater SGAs can be viewed or downloaded by going to MyFWC.com/Hunting and selecting "WMA Brochures."

LCHS Lady Dawgs beat Mosley High 7-5 on Senior Night

The LCHS Lady Bulldogs hosted Mosley High School Thursday for Senior Night in Bristol and ended the game with a 7-5 win. Liberty County's Montana Manley got a 3 for 5, hit a triple and made a home run. Pitcher Kayla Johnson added six strikeouts to her record. Coach Jennifer Sewell said, "This group of seniors have had 87 wins and only 17 losses so far. They could play for a district championship if they win the next game."

Bulldogs split pair of games

The LCHS Bulldogs split a pair of games this week. On Thursday, the Dawgs hosted the Bay High Tornados and came away with a 2 - 0 victory. Senior Hayden Swier pitched a complete game shutout for the Dawgs. "Hayden has really stepped it up for us on the mound this year. We have had some injuries and he has filled the void for us," Coach Donnie Coxwell said. At the plate the Dawgs were led by Seniors Dustin Watson, Hayden Swier, Chuck Morris and David Black who each had a hit a piece for the Dawgs. Junior Monroe Hinson drove in a run in the bottom of the 2nd with a single to give the Dawgs the lead.

On Friday the Dawgs lost to the Blountstown Tigers. Senior JoJo Durden got the loss on the mound giving up only two hits. "JoJo threw the ball well enough to win but we didn't score any runs behind him," the coach said. "We were also a little shaky on defense. All three of Blountstown's runs were unearned."

Upcoming games include Chipley on Monday, Bainbridge on Tuesday, and Marianna on Thursday. Thursday will be Senior Night for the 9 seniors on this year's team.

LCHS will host District Tourney

The Liberty County Bulldogs will be hosting the 2013 Class 1-A District 4 Tournament starting on Monday, April 22.

On Monday three games will be played. At 1:30 p.m. South Walton will take on Port St. Joe. At 4 p.m. the Bulldogs will host the Franklin County Seahawks and the late game will be the Blountstown Tigers taking on West Gadsden.

On Tuesday, April 23 two games will be played. The winner of the games on Monday featuring the Bulldogs and the Blountstown Tigers will play each other and the winner of the South Walton/Port St. Joe game will play Bozeman. Tuesday's games are extremely important because the winners of those games are guaranteed a trip to the playoffs and will play each other on Thursday for the District Championship.

The Championship game will be on Thursday, April 25 starting at 7 p.m. (ET).

The cost for admission will be $6. This price is set by the FHSAA.

Track team heads to regional meet

The Liberty County Boys Track Team did well at Friday's District Meet at Maclay School in Tallahassee.

Six boys will advance to the Regional meet in Jacksonville on Thursday, April 18.

Alex Marlowe qualified in four events: the long jump, high jump, triple jump and 400 meter relay. Jordan Chaney, Johnathan Hall and Jarrod Beckwith each qualified in two events: Chaney in the triple jump and 100 meter dash, Hall in the 800 meter run and 400 meter relay and Beckwith in the triple jump and 400 meter relay. Ben Beckwith and Dusty Young each qualified in one event. Beckwith in the 110 high hurdles and Young in the 400 meter relay.

Jarrod Beckwith, Johnathan Hall, Dusty Young and Ben Beckwith will represent LCHS in the 400 meter relay at the regional meet.

Regional finals will be held at Bishop Snyder High School in Jacksonville on Thursday, April 18.

The top four finishers in each event will advance to the FHSAA 1A State finals at the University of North Florida in Jacksonville on Friday, April 26.

Huntingdon signs three LCHS students

Last Thursday, April 11, brought a gathering of Bulldog Pride to the Liberty County High School media center. With the media center full of family, friends, and teammates, three student athletes signed to play at Huntingdon College.

Jessica Read will be cheering for the Hawks next season. While Jesse Williams and Dustin Watson will play football for the school located in Montgomery, AL.

Huntingdon College is a Division III school which will be joining the USA South Athletic Conference later this year. Mike Turk will lead the Hawks football program again in 2013.

Last season Huntingdon was ranked as high as #16 and finished in the top 20 in the Division III ranks. Huntingdon President J. Cameron West said, "Coach Turk is known throughout the community, region, and college athletics for his integrity, character and professionalism."

JESSE WILLIAMS

Jesse Williams will enter Huntingdon to play on the offensive line. He had a very strong senior season at LCHS after suffering a season ending injury early in his junior season. During his senior year Jesse helped a strong LCHS rushing attack to a 10-3 record and District and Regional Championships. Jesse received many personal honors including First Team All-State, All District for Defense, All District for Offense, LCHS Defensive Lineman Award and was selected to play in the GA/FL Border Wars game. Jesse also played basketball and baseball for the Bulldogs.

DUSTIN WATSON

Dustin Watson will join Jesse on the offensive side of the ball and compete for the quarterback position for the Hawks. Dustin transferred to LCHS from Robert F. Munroe where he played for Coach Joey Striplin and was selected the Gadsden County Player of The Year during his junior year. Dustin was also selected to the All Big Bend Team as a junior. As the signal caller at LCHS, Dustin helped open up the passing game as the Bulldogs made a strong push for the State Championship, while showing great leadership. Coach Grantham stated, "Dustin was instrumental in allowing us to use all of our weapons and shift people around to their natural position. Dustin has become a true Bulldog with his hard work and dedication to being his best." Dustin was selected as the All District Punter and LCHS Offensive Captain this past season. He also played basketball and baseball for the Bulldogs.

JESSICA READ

Jessica Read has signed as a cheerleader with Huntingdon College. Jessica has been a varsity cheerleader for the Bulldogs for four years where she has served as Co-Captain for two years.

She has been elected UCA All-Star cheerleader for two years where she represented LCHS in the Macy's Day Thanksgiving Parade in New York and the New Year's Day Parade in London. She has been a member of the Jags Competitive Cheer Team for four years. Jessica has been a great leader on and off the field. We are proud of her accomplishments and wish her well.

The entire staff at LCHS would like to congratulate Jessica, Jesse and Dustin on their accomplishments. We would like to encourage each of you to continue to strive to be the best. The entire Bulldog family will be looking forward to following your college careers.

Altha School to host Scholastic Book Fair April 22 - 26

Mark your Calendars!--Altha School will host "Story Laboratory - Reading Gives You Super Power!" April 22 - 26. Shopping hours will be 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily. Families, faculty, and the community are invited to attend this fun reading event that helps inspire children to become lifelong readers.

The Book Fair will feature a special Family Event on Tuesday, April 23, from 3 - 6 p.m. This event will feature time to shop at the fair, book fair related activities, and refreshments. Parents, Grandparents as well as other relatives are invited to our "Book Fair Breakfast" on Friday, April 26, from 7-7:30 a.m. A light breakfast will be served and there will be time to shop at the Book Fair. The Book Fair offers specially priced books and educational products, including popular series, award-winning titles, new releases, and other great reads from more than 100 publishers. You can also shop online at www.scholastic.com/schoolbookfairs until Friday, May 3. All orders ship to school for FREE and each purchase benefits our school.

In addition, the Book Fair will feature the One for Books® program, where students can share the thrill of reading by donating their loose change to help purchase books for classroom libraries. Scholastic matches monetary donations with a donation of up to one million books, which go to national non-profit organizations dedicated to helping families in need, such as the Marine Toys for Tots Foundation, Kids in Distressed Situations, Inc., and Kids In Need Foundation. The more a child reads, the stronger reader he or she becomes. Strong reading skills are essential to a child's success in school and life. Our Book Fair encourages this success by offering students access to great books at affordable prices. Children are more likely to read books they personally choose. The wide variety of choices offered at our Book Fair ensures that there will be something for everyone!

For more information, please call the Media Center at 762-3121.

BES students 'Blow' the top off of FCAT at pep rally Friday

The FCAT test started Monday for 3rd, 4th and 5th grade students.

Mrs. Bozeman and Mrs. Taylor held a pep rally Friday afternoon to let students know that they are ready for the test and are going to do great.

Fourth grade students did a Flash Mob song to motivate the other grades to do their best and score a 5. Mrs. Bozeman and Mrs. Taylor also gave away AR prizes to students with AR points.

The theme is "Blow the Top Off of FCAT" so all of the students were given Blow Pops to eat during the assembly.

Covenant Hospice honors volunteers and celebrates 30 years of service

TALLAHASSEE – Covenant Hospice is a proud participant in National Volunteer Week, to be celebrated April 21-27 honoring volunteers throughout the country. This year Covenant's Tallahassee office annual volunteer appreciation event will be held on Saturday, April 27 from 4-5:30 p.m. The dinner will be held at Covenant's new Tallahassee branch location. Part of the events activities is celebrating Covenant's 30th Anniversary and honoring our dedicated volunteers who helped to start and continue to support the organization.

"Covenant Hospice volunteers expand and enhance the care and services provided by the Covenant team," said, Sandi Huster, Director of Volunteer Services for Covenant Hospice. "Nearly 3,000 volunteers serving Covenant's 14 branch locations located in North Florida and South Alabama provide companionship and support to patients and their families, as well as a wide range of development, outreach and administrative support services," added Huster.

Covenant Hospice volunteers served 71% of all patients cared for in 2012 and met 99% of all requests to support patients and families, saving the organization over two million dollars in donated time and mileage. Volunteers rate their satisfaction with volunteering for Covenant at 98% highly satisfied/satisfied. For information about becoming a Covenant Hospice Volunteer, please contact Kortney Rudd, Volunteer Manager, at (850) 575-4998.

Ex-Jail Administrator charged

allowed her to use the computer six to eight months ago and she "had not thought about it belonging to the sheriff's office."

Shuler's recollection differed from Young's. He stated that their conversation about using a computer happened "years ago."

According to Mallory's report, Shuler said about three years earlier an old computer was being discarded because it did not work with their current software. He said Young asked permission to use the computer and then-Sheriff Donnie Conyers approved it. Shuler said Young should have returned the computer when she resigned because she knew it belonged to the sheriff's office.

When asked about the computer used for the commissary program, Young stated she threw the computer as well as the monitor in a dumpster because it wasn't working, but couldn't remember when that was. It was later determined that she placed her final order on that computer Nov. 19, 2012.

An inmate stated that Young had asked her to move some things out of her office her last day at work. The woman said that around midday on Jan. 1, 2013, Young brought in a laundry basket with some clothing. Once they were inside the office, Young told her to close the door.

The inmate said Young told her to put a computer and monitor in the basket and "cover it up good" with laundry. She was told to take the basket to Young's vehicle and warned to be sure no one saw her, according to the inmate.

When questioned about that incident, Young maintained the computer the inmate carried out was her own personal desktop computer. Why have the inmate conceal it? She told Harsey she "didn't want anyone thinking she was taking something that belonged to the jail."

She said she took that computer to her son's home in Marianna. She explained that she had earlier brought the computer to her office to have someone work on it for her.

That computer was returned after Capt. Wes Harsey contacted Young and asked her to account for it. In an interview with investigators on Jan. 23,

Young said she had forgotten about it until Harsey questioned her.

A 'LOST' DEPOSIT

When asked about the money missing from the commissary account, Young said she lost a deposit, which she estimated to be between $1,200 and $1,500. She later said it was probably "more than $1,500."

She told Harsey the cash was in a red money bag that had last been seen on her desk.

She acknowledged that she failed to tell her supervisor, Major Dussia Shuler, that the money had gone missing. She also admitted that she did not write up a report about the missing funds, nor did she document it in any way.

She said she planned to pay back the missing money, indicating that she had saved up some money and had borrowed some to replace the missing funds.

When LCSO Financial Officer Brett Phillips asked about the money owed to the commissary company just before she left, Young stated that she lied when she told him she had sent a cashier's check that hadn't shown up yet. She said she lied to "buy more time" to pay back the missing money.

She said she didn't know how much was missing and explaining that she would go three or four months without making a deposit. The money was kept in her office safe between deposits, she said.

When her record-keeping was questioned, she said inmates and their families received receipts for the money they gave her for commissary items. She said that once she logged the money into the computer, she threw out her copies of the receipts.

As Harsey went down the list of questionable actions on her part, Young admitted it looked bad. She said, "There's nothing I can do to change what has happened."

After combing through records, "We can prove she took $1,030.90 from the commissary," Harsey said. One of the three computers is still missing.

Young was charged with grand theft April 10. She was booked in and placed in a holding cell until she was later released on $2,500 bond.

Families sought for student exchange program

World Heritage Student Exchange Program, a highly respected, non-profit public-benefit organization, is seeking local host families for high school boys and girls from Scandinavia, France, Germany, Italy, Thailand, China, South Korea and the former Soviet Republics.

Students are already awaiting word on their host families for the 2013-2014 academic school year (or semester).

Host families provide room, board and guidance for a teenager living thousands of miles from home.

The exchange students arrive from their home country shortly before the 2013-2014 school year begins and each World Heritage student is fully insured, brings his/her own personal spending money and expects to bear his/her share of household responsibilities, as well as being included in normal family activities and lifestyles.

If you are interested in opening your home to a student, please call your local area representative, Amy Strout at (850) 281-2092 or (800) 888-9040 (toll free). Please also visit our website at www.whHosts.com.

March 7 workshop meeting minutes from the Liberty School Board

Official minutes from the March 7 Workshop meeting of the Liberty County School Board as recorded by the board secretary

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Kyle Peddie. Members present at the meeting were Darrel Hayes, Roger Reddick, Tina Tharpe, Logan Keever, Chairman Kyle Peddie, and Superintendent Gloria Gay Uzzell.

The Prayer was offered by Darrel Hayes. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Roger Reddick.

Peddie stated that the purpose of tonight's workshop was to go over the agenda for the March 12, 2013, Regular Board Meeting. He further stated that Agenda Items 10 (FA) (1) and (FA) (2) were recommendations to non-renew contractual agreements with Compass Group, USA < Inc., by and through its Chartwell's Division (food service management), and GCA Services Group (custodial management company) effective June 30, 2013.

Steve Crist spoke on behalf of GCA. He stated that in 2010 GCA went through the RFP process and received the award for the contract.

Reddick asked Crist what the management fees ($12,162 per month) covered. Crist answered that it covered supplies, products, social security, and Steve Hofheinz's salary and truck. Uzzell stated that in addition to the monthly management fee, Liberty County School board paid the hourly salaries of the GCA custodians.

Tharpe stated that during SY 09-10 supplies were $55,000. During SY 10-11 they were $5,000 and during SY 11-12 they were $12,000. She inquired as to why there was such a large increase. Crist stated that paper products, trash liners, and everything related to paper or plastic went up because the cost of gasoline went up.

Tharpe asked Crist if GCA's contract had a non-compete clause in it and if so to explain how that worked. Crist stated that the school board could not hire any of the current GCA employees.

Superintendent Uzzell asked the board members to refer to the GCA contract and read a clause to the group. She stated that according to the GCA contract, LCSB can hire the custodians but not management personnel. She then told the group that she interpreted that as the District being able to hire everybody (if they so choose) with the exception of Steve Hofheinz, since he was management. Crist explained that most of the GCA contracts indicated that no employees could be hired. Uzzell stated, "Well, THIS contract says that we can hire them if we so choose."

Eugenie Caroselli, Regional Vice President of Chartwells, gave a presentation to the Board and Superintendent.

Caroselli stated that food service is very emotional. She stated that LCSB and Chartwell's have a 7 year history with our contract and that we need to understand the value of the partnership. She stated that she regrets the quick turnaround time. She said the Board needed to think about what is important to the District now.

Uzzell asked how Chartwell's catering worked, because she wanted to know why Chartwell's catered functions for the Army in Blountstown during December of 2011 totaling nearly $10,000. She inquired as to why the Army paid Liberty County School District for the catering and then Liberty County School District turned-around and paid Chartwell's the same amount.

Caroselli stated, "That was the way that the Liberty County School Board decided to handle catering."

Uzzell asked, "How many other Districts do business with Chartwell's in that manner?"

Caroselli stated that it was the way it was handled in the past with Liberty County Schools.

Reddick asked Caroselli if handling the catering like that changed the bottom line.

Caroselli stated, "No, they don't." Uzzell produced an e-mail which was written by Karen Peddie, former Liberty County Director of Administration and Food Service to Vernon Tanner, former Food Service Manager for Chartwell's in Liberty County Schools, and read it. The e-mail contained a statement that catering "would add to the bottom line".

Uzzell stated that according to School Board minutes these catered events were not approved by the Liberty County School Board. She asked Vernon Tanner, "Who prepared the food for the catering job in Blountstown?"

Vernon Tanner, former LCSB Food Service Director for Chartwell's, stated that Chartwell's employees prepared the catered food at LCHS during the regular school day and were assisted by LCSB employees. Uzzell inquired whether or not the LCSB employees volunteered their time to assist with the catering. Tanner responded that the employees had not indicated that they had a problem helping with the catering.

Uzzell read an email she had from Kathy Whiddon, current Food Service Director for Chartwell's for Liberty County, dated 9/26/11 at 11:57 a.m., which was written to Tanner stating, "I won't be in today because I'm helping Vernon (Tanner) with catering". Uzzell added that this demonstrated even more time that workers were pulled away from providing services to Liberty County students to handle private catering for their company.

Uzzell stated that there was $36,000 on the books (that she'd discovered thus far) from money the district received from Chartwell's catering events, which was then turned-around and the exact amount paid to Chartwell's. Caroselli indicated that this was called a "pass through". Uzzell indicated that since she had become Superintendent that there had been no more "pass throughs" or catering activities, nor would there be.

Caroselli went on to explain that Chartwell's can buy food less expensively than most places.

Uzzell asked Caroselli if Chartwell's received coupon credits from vendors. Caroselli stated that Chartwell's does not receive coupon credits because they are not a food distributor.

There were no questions from the Board at this time.

Uzzell introduced Myra Singletary, Liberty

County High School Cafeteria Manager. Singletary stated that there were some things that were misunderstood about the catering by Chartwell's. She said that she would say to Tanner the same thing that she told Rita Lewis, "I do what I am told to do." Singletary denied that she took on catering willingly and did it only unless she was told to do so. She stated that the 1st military catering was done by Liberty County School District employees at the LCHS kitchen during regular school hours WITHOUT additional compensation. She said that regarding the 2nd military catering she was not told by Tanner not to help. She stated that 90% of the catering done by Chartwell's was done at LCHS kitchens WITH her help and without compensation. Singletary clarified that the $10,000 catering event in December of 2011 covered a period of over 7 days with her assisting without compensation.

Caroselli stated that she wanted to bring some perspective to the catering assistance by district employees. She apologized for any misperceptions that this may have caused. She said that the lines became blurred by the terms of the contract as to who the work was to be done by.

Uzzell gave a presentation which outlined overall Liberty County School Board financial conditions and figures related to GCA Custodial and Chartwell contracts.

Peddie asked Uzzell to give a general overview of why the District should go in a different direction.

Uzzell responded that with GCA the District would save money because of the way the spending had been in the past, even with hiring custodians and paying them benefits (which GCA hadn't provided). She said that with Chartwell's it was the quality of the food. She said that we have all been disappointed in the quality of the food, and when all was said and done, we did better when we ran it ourselves. She also added that she has received numerous complaints from students, parents, and employees about the quality and quantity of food served.

Uzzell asked Rita Lewis, current Liberty County School Board food service coordinator, to speak about food service. Lewis stated that food service is very complex. She stated that she has been studying continuing the contract with Chartwell's and taking it back in house and that there are pros and cons for both. She further stated that both Calhoun and Franklin counties are in the black with their in house food service.

Caroselli stated that the prices are not going up...the price increases are due to more kids eating. Have the District revenues changed in proportion to the price increases?

Caroselli added that the District needed to determine if it wanted to increase its losses with complete exposure or limit the exposure. She said that you pay for what you ask for and that she could put together a mid-year update and a forecast. Jason Cain, citizen, asked Caroselli how much of the $2.51 went toward food. She stated that it was $1.29.

Peddie stated that he wanted to do what was best for kids and make a good fiscal decision.

He stated that he had never had one person complain to him about food service. He added that he wanted to go to the vendors and give them a chance to discuss and give them an opportunity to improve.

Tharpe stated that she gets complaint calls from parents all the time about Chartwell's. She stated that this is about the kids first and then the money. She stated that this is not a portion issue it is a quality issue.

Peddie stated, "Kids come first...but we need to ask these vendors; can you improve? Will you improve?"

Peddie asked if the Board was willing to take this risk. He continued to state that there is one more year of the contract; if something is not right what can we do to make it right?

He asked, "Are we willing to take that financial risk and is this the time to do it? Can we find a way to fix it and give it a year?"

Uzzell stated that she'd met with Bob Russell, Chartwell's Regional Manager, on several occasions since she took office to express her concerns.

Keever asked if Chartwell's was awarded the Bay County contract. Caroselli responded yes.

Reddick stated that it would be $17,000 cheaper for the District to take over the janitorial services based on page 2 of Uzzell's handout.

Crist stated to Uzzell that GCA would come off their cost by 8% and forego the CPI which would make the price reduction about 10%.

Uzzell stated that if we take the janitorial services back in house we would be hiring custodians to work for the District. She said that she did not know if the cleaning hours would change, but if we go back in house there would need to be more discussion on the working hours.

Uzzell stated that in the seven years that Chartwell's held the food service contract the quality of the food has not improved, and that she does not see the quality of the food improving if the contract is renewed.

Peddie asked if this contract was fixable. Caroselli responded that Chartwell's could fix it. She said that there were answers for everything that had been brought up if we would sit down and discuss. She said that Chartwell's would offer additional resources, redefine what the future looks like, commit to it, and LCSB can measure it. She also stated that training for the end users had been a problem.

Chairman Peddie asked if anyone else had questions or comments to make.

Uzzell stated that on May 9, 2013, there will be a joint meeting of the city, county, and LCSB on the School Concurrency Plan for Growth Management under DOE. She added that we are the only county in the state that has not implemented this plan.

The meeting was adjourned by Chairman Peddie at 10:45 p.m.

Local Health Departments continue public health events

The Florida Department of Health in Calhoun and Liberty Counties is in the third week of our month long celebration of this year's public health theme of Public Health is ROI; Saves Lives, Saves Money. Events coming up this week to promote Public Health:

•FREE blood pressure checks on Friday, April 19 at Blountstown Post Office and the Bristol Post Office.

•FREE door and window alarms: Drowning can be a silent catastrophe, one that can happen in the few minutes you take to answer a phone call or run inside for a towel. We have FREE door and window alarms available at both the Calhoun and Liberty County Health Departments for households that have access to a pool or to a body of water such as a lake, river or canal. Please stop by and pick up your free alarm.

•FREE 5K Run/Walk: In honor of Public Health Month we will be holding a FREE 5K Run/Walk at Coopers Park in Blountstown on Saturday, April 20. Registration starts at 8 a.m. (CT) and the race starts at 9 a.m. (CT). Free shirts and other giveaways will be given to all participants. The Prayers

Chainers Mission of God DrumLine will be there to start the race. Please plan to join us for this fun event.

"Life Money"
We all throw a quarter, dime, nickel, and even pennies into a container and "save up" for a vacation, new clothes, or maybe a new computer. Why not do the same with your health? Incorporating simple changes into your daily life will eventually add up which you can cash in on later in life. Whether you're 100 pounds or 1,000 pounds, any amount of daily physical activity is better than none. Would you consider throwing away that change you saved? NO! So let's not throw away another minute of our lives!

Simple lifestyle changes you can make at any weight.

•Park your car further away from work or to the entrance of a store.

- Stand up and walk around when you talk on the phone
- Take the stairs instead of the elevator
- Cut back on emails, deliver the message in person
- Take a walk around the building at lunch or on your break at work
- Walk down the hall to talk to a co worker instead of picking up the phone
- Use a rake instead of a leaf blower
- Go for a two-minute walk around the house during TV commercials
- Do stretching exercises while watching TV
- Mow the lawn
- Sweep or mop the house
- Walk the dog
- Do gardening or yard work

Think of some simple ideas of your own, write them down and incorporate them into your daily life. If you can only walk for 2 minutes today, GREAT! Tomorrow try for 3 minutes. Keep depositing more and more of your life money daily. Soon you will be up to 30 minutes of activity a day. Always talk with your healthcare provider before starting any exercise regimen. Exercise has a great return on investment for your health and can help decrease your risks of illness. Thirty minutes of daily physical activity is required to reduce the risk of chronic diseases in adulthood.

- Just a few benefits of physical activity:
- Improves your mental health and mood
  - Controls your weight
  - Reduce your risk of heart disease
  - Reduce your risk for type 2 diabetes and metabolic syndrome
  - Reduce your risk of some cancers
  - Strengthen your bones and muscles
  - Improve your ability to do daily activities and prevent falls, if you're an older adult
  - Increase your chances of living longer
- Everyone can gain the health benefits of physical activity. Age, ethnicity, shape, or size does not matter. Regular exercise or physical activity helps many of the body's systems function better and is a great investment for your health.

Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

★ STARSCOPE ★

Week of April 14 ~ April 20, 2013

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Aries, take time to sort through some of the paperwork on your desk. You could find there is something important that you overlooked that needs to be addressed.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21
There are a few things you can't seem to work out in your head, Taurus. A better idea may be to put everything on paper and perhaps the answer will jump out.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21
Gemini, there will be a few moments this week when you seem to have a breakthrough. Maybe it's in a relationship or you have just the right answers at work.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22
Surprising events are in store as you continue to change your views about life-altering events, Cancer. You may find your master plan is entirely turned on its head.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23
Leo, your energy level is so revved up that others won't be able to keep up with you. You may have to slow down a little to let others catch up.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
Virgo, others find it difficult to change your opinion once you have your mind set on something. But it still helps to consider if the direction you're heading is the right way.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
Libra, you may be feeling a little homesick, especially if you are away on business or on vacation. Try to make the most of the situation even if you're feeling nostalgic.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, if it seems like nothing is going your way, keep in mind there is a master plan in the works. You may not be able to see the resolution, but just be patient.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
Sagittarius, there are a few puzzle pieces that you need to get into place and then you'll have everything worked out. Reward yourself with a night out.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
Capricorn, lay low for awhile rather than drumming up some trouble. Tempting as it is to stir the pot, it may cause more difficulties for you in the long run.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Aquarius, although you have a few projects on your to-do list, you can't seem to get started. Instead of looking at the entire list, tackle one task at a time and you'll get the job get done.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20
Pisces, turn your thoughts to creative efforts and you'll find the days will just fly by. Before you know it, the weekend will be here.
