by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

Charges are pending against a man serving two life sentences at Liberty Correctional Institution after another inmate was stabbed in the back four times Friday afternoon.

The injured man was flown to an area hospital by emergency helicopter. Department of Corrections (DOC) Deputy Communications Director Misty Cash would not identify the victim but said Tuesday afternoon that he is recovering and his wounds were not life-threatening.

CHRISTIAN VILLAFANE

Cash said the attack happened outside one of the dorms and "appears to have been gang related." She said a homemade weapon was used in the attack.

DOC officials are waiting for the state attorney's office to review the incident before proceeding with charges against Christian G. Villafane. He has been transferred to Wakulla Correctional Institution.

"We want people in the community to know we take any sort of incident between inmates and other inmates or officers seriously," Cash said. "We will thoroughly investigate this incident."

Villafane, 28, received two life sentences in July 2006 after being convicted of first degree murder and kidnapping, assaulting or terrorizing a victim in Dade County.

Woman charged for knocking out pregnant inmate

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

A woman being held at the Liberty County Jail has been moved to another facility after she threw coffee into the face of one inmate and knocked out a second inmate, who is pregnant.

Dana Chason, 44, of Altha, was being held for Calhoun County after being picked up on a probation violation. She was transferred to the Washington County Jail after the Sept. 11 altercation.

After a security video showing Dana Chason arguing with one inmate and then fighting with another was viewed by the sheriff's staff, Chason was charged with battery on a pregnant woman and battery on an inmate.

DANA CHASON

According to the report from the sheriff's office, Chason was seen on video as she got into an argument with an inmate around 9:30 a.m. last Wednesday.

Chason is shown putting her face close to another inmate as she points her finger and yells at her.

Chason, who was holding a coffee mug in her right hand, threw the contents in the inmate's face. The woman did not respond and remained by her bunk.

Another inmate who saw what happened spoke up and told Chason what she did wasn't right. Chason replied, telling the woman she would beat her up if she interfered.

The second inmate then got up from her bunk and walked toward Chason. As they began arguing, Chason punched the inmate in the forehead, knocking her to the ground and causing her to black out.

Another inmate pulled Chason off the woman. The first inmate Chason had argued with had minor injuries. The second woman, who is about two months' pregnant, had several large bumps on her forehead and a bite wound on her left leg.

Both women were taken to the emergency room at Calhoun-Liberty Hospital.

Parrish trial called off after plea agreement

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

Just a couple of days before jury selection was scheduled to begin for his trial on a concealed firearm charge, Floyd Parrish reached a plea agreement with the state attorney's office.

Parrish was set to go to trial Sept. 18 in Liberty County; instead, he signed a deferred prosecution agreement which was filed in the Clerk of Court's Office Monday.

The agreement states that he will not be prosecuted if he does not violate any laws in the next 12 months and does the following:

- Perform 50 hours of community service at a minimum of four hours per month
- Pay $200 to the state attorney's office for the cost of prosecution within 60 days

The Liberty County man was brought to the jail in Bristol after former Liberty County Deputy Jody Hoagland reported finding a concealed weapon on Parrish during a March 8 traffic stop.

After learning of the traffic stop, then-sheriff Nick Finch went to the jail and released Parrish.

Hoagland filed a complaint against the sheriff, who was later suspended from office and charged with official misconduct following an investigation over allegations that he removed an arrest record from the jail file and had a name "whited out" from the jail log. Finch denies the charges.

He said he stopped Parrish's arrest because he didn't believe it was a good charge based on the law.

The state attorney's office filed a charge of possession of a concealed firearm, a third degree felony, against Parrish on July 29.

Finch is scheduled to go to trial on Oct. 29.

Blountstown Police Chief tells City Council he is stepping down

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

Blountstown Police Chief Rodney Smith surprised the Blountstown City Council by announcing his plans to retire at last week's meeting.

Smith, who has served as police chief for three years, said his last day on the job would be Sept. 30.

"It was unexpected," said Blountstown City Manager Emory Pierce, who said there were no issues that he was aware of that would have prompted Smith's decision.

Two nights later at the Sept. 12 budget hearing, council members asked him to reconsider and he agreed to give it some thought if he could speak with each council member individually.

"I've been kicking it around the last year," Smith told The Journal regarding his decision. He noted that he becomes eligible for his 25-year high risk retirement at the end of the month. He added that if he took another job after retiring, "it wouldn't be in law enforcement."

City Council Chairman Tony Shoemaker said the board has scheduled a workshop for 5 p.m. next Tuesday to discuss their options and talk with Smith to see if he would reconsider his resignation.

Smith, who currently makes $56,000 a year, served as a Blountstown Police Officer for many years before taking on the chief's job.

Bristol woman injured in motorcycle crash in stable condition

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor
A Bristol woman injured in a motorcycle accident Sunday was listed in stable condition at Bay Medical Center following surgery early Tuesday morning.

Melisa Nobles and Shawn Rudd of Hosford were heading home after a family gathering in Walton County around 5 p.m. (CT) when their motorcycle went off CR 3280, just south of Bruce. "They were in the middle of a curve and the bike just got off balance," according to Nobles' friend Desiree Ammons, who said the group had just left a restaurant.

Family members were traveling ahead by car while Nobles' father, Reggie Faircloth, and her brother, James Faircloth, were also on motorcycles.

FHP Trooper Eric Diaz said the bike went off the road and onto the east shoulder, where it slammed into a large cable box.

Rudd went over the front of the 2005 Harley Davidson and landed nearby. Nobles "took the brunt of the hit on the cable box," the trooper said, explaining that she was partially thrown from the bike, which then landed on top of her leg.

He said it was fortunate she had a helmet on. The impact of her head hitting the cable box cracked the helmet.

Nobles was airlifted to the hospital in Panama City. Rudd was transported by ambulance and was treated and released.

ARREST REPORTS

Pair charged with making meth after SR 69 residence searched

A Calhoun County couple with numerous documented purchases of pseudoephedrine was arrested for making methamphetamine after investigators searched their SR 69 residence last Wednesday.

Calhoun County Sheriff's Office Lt. William Wheatley pulled up at the home around 11 a.m. and was met in the yard by Amanda Batson, who shares the home with Christopher Phillips and three children.

When Wheatley said he had information the couple had been making methamphetamine on the premises, Batson denied doing so and said he was free to look around the home. Phillips came out from the home and spoke with Wheatley, telling him, "Nothing like that is going on here," and stated that he was welcome to look around.

Wheatley was joined at the scene by Lt. Jared Nichols and Deputies Christian Smith and P.J. Crawford.

While searching the property, a cache of meth and meth-making materials were discovered in the ceiling of the closet in the master bedroom.

Items seized included a dish that held suspected methamphetamine oil, another dish with suspected methamphetamine residue and a vial that held an unknown amount of methamphetamine and tin foil.

A straw with residue, digital scales and a lithium battery were also found in the bedroom. The search also turned up two unopened boxes of pseudoephedrine pills and two unopened instant ice compresses.

The arrest report stated that since June 1, Batson has made 11 purchases of pseudoephedrine for a total of 23.52 grams. In the same timeframe, Phillips has bought nine boxes of pseudoephedrine, which totals 19.92 grams.

Both were charged with manufacture of methamphetamine and possession of listed chemicals. Phillips was also charged with violation of state probation.

Youngstown man charged with domestic battery

A 22-year-old Youngstown man was arrested after a deputy responded to a call about an altercation inside a travel trailer on Lake Lillian Road around midday Saturday.

The alleged victim's mother called the Calhoun County Sheriff's Office after hearing her daughter scream for help and yell "get off of me!" according to the complaint.

She also stated that she heard a lot of "rumbling" in the trailer which sounded like two people fighting.

A friend of the couple's said both had been in the front yard arguing but did not see any physical altercation.

Deputy Scotty Norris spoke with the woman at the travel trailer who denied there had been a fight but had visible red marks around her neck.

Her boyfriend, Shannon Duncan, was taken into custody and charged with domestic battery.

Jackson brings magic to the Library artist series Saturday

BLOUNTSTOWN - The Blountstown Library held another fun Series Event Saturday evening. From Photographs to Mellow-Dees was a hit with the crowd as Thomas Wade Jackson showed his genuine passion for the Arts. His heart is in deep and there seems to be no limitation when it comes to his talents.

The creative process is such an interesting topic and we learned about the way in which Thomas explores it. Tuning into his resourcefulness comes easily to him. Expression, whether through photography, film or song, is his life's work.

Thomas brings a world of magic into his pictures when composing, editing and 'merging' his photos. They look like paintings done with a brush! The light is almost surreal.

Music and song was heard whenever the spirit moved. Friends came along to join Thomas adding to the quality of the event.

After a break of delicious refreshments the program continued and the feeling in the air was "this is a family affair"! Informal, relaxing and educational all rolled into one. A big thanks to our guest artist, Thomas Wade Jackson, and to those who so graciously helped and volunteered.

Chipola Theatre auditions for '1940s Radio Hour' begin Sept. 30

MARIANNA - Chipola College Theatre director Charles Sirmon will hold auditions for The 1940s Radio Hour, Sept. 30, and Oct. 1, at 6 p.m. in the Center for the Arts. Auditions are for ages 16 and up.

Late Night Laughs

A RECAP OF RECENT OBSERVATIONS
BY LATE NIGHT TV HOSTS.

I've lost some weight. I am on that new Obama diet. Every day I let Vladimir Putin eat my lunch.
— JAY LENO

For the first time ever, Miss America is a woman of Indian descent. The judge asked her three questions: Why do you want to be Miss America?, What will you do with the prize?, and How do I get my laptop to reboot?
— CONAN O'BRIEN

Saturday night was the big fight in Las Vegas between Floyd Mayweather and Canelo Alvarez. Justin Bieber and Lil Wayne actually walked Floyd Mayweather to the ring. It really psyched out Alvarez. When he saw the three of them together he was like, "I don't know who to hit first."
— JIMMY FALLON

"Dancing With the Stars" returned for a 17th season. Paula Dean was rumored to be one of the stars they tried to get to dance. Over the weekend, Paula made her first public appearance since she went into hiding. I knew eventually she would have to come out for butter.
— JIMMY KIMMEL

We just had our primary for mayor here in New York City, and a new poll found that only 20 percent of New Yorkers voted. Which got even worse when 50 percent were like, "Wait, Giuliani's leaving?"
— JIMMY FALLON

A few years ago, they made the movie "Freddy vs. Jason." They do that all the time. They take two franchises that are totally out of gas and put them against each other. There was "Dracula vs. Frankenstein," "Alien vs. Predator," "Khloe vs. Lamar," "Jay vs. Conan."
— CRAIG FERGUSON

Dr. Phil is on the program tonight. You've got to hand it to Dr. Phil, he is a smart guy. He turned a phony medical degree into a media empire.
— DAVID LETTERMAN

Mercedes has unveiled a self-driving car. The car drives itself. I'm begging every member of Lindsay Lohan's family to get one of these.
— JAY LENO

The new season of "Survivor" premieres next week. It has a great twist. It has returning contestants competing for a million dollars against their own family members. So if you're wondering what it takes for people to be willing to be stranded on an island with their families, the answer is a million dollars.
— JIMMY FALLON

In the last 20 years the ambient temperature of the planet earth has increased two degrees. That's two more degrees than Dr. Phil has.

It's Friday the 13th. It is always considered unlucky. It got scarier when those "Friday the 13th" movies came out. That hockey mask Jason wears is terrifying. How did they come up with that? Who'd make a link between hockey and violence?
— CRAIG FERGUSON

Today is Friday the 13th, and over in Finland the airline "Finnair" had a flight numbered 666 going to Helsinki — which has the three-letter designation "HEL." So on your ticket it says Friday the 13th, flight 666, going to hell. Even scarier? There's a layover in Newark.
— JAY LENO

Officials in Washington, D.C., have proposed a 24-hour waiting period before people can get tattoos. Or as people who want tattoos put it, "You mean we gotta stay drunk for 24 hours?"

In Canada, a man was attacked by a polar bear and he scared it off with his cellphone. Apparently the bear got frightened when he saw the two-year contract.
— JAY LENO

Godzilla was in tons of those movies, like "Godzilla vs. King Kong." The most uneven was "Godzilla vs. Mothra." How's that a fair fight? Godzilla is a giant fire-breathing lizard. Mothra is a big moth. What does Mothra do? Eat holes in all of Godzilla's sweaters?
— CRAIG FERGUSON

Being Miss America is like being a George Clooney girlfriend. You only get to serve for one year.
— DAVID LETTERMAN

Vladimir Putin wrote that America should not view itself as exceptional. I disagree. Hey, Russia, we invented jazz and the elevators it plays in. We're the geographic sweet spot between frostbite and beheadings. Our roulette is way better than your roulette. And when you rearrange the letters in "Russia" — you get "USA, Sir!"
— CONAN O'BRIEN

Ravens quarterback Joe Flacco actually missed the birth of his son so that he could play with his team against the Browns. It was 8 pounds, 7 ounces. Not the baby — the diamond Flacco had to buy his wife to make up for it.

The Ebenezer Scrooge Party

As the Washington D.C. crowd was engrossed in the Russian President Putin and President Obama dustup over the Syrian chemical weapons, the right-wing Republicans, the Ebenezer Scrooge Party, was voting for the 41st time to defund ObamaCare.

Not only were the House Republicans exercising another vote to trash millions of Americans without healthcare, they also, once again, went after the poor in America who depend on the government for something to eat.

The Republicans refused to fund the national food program, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) as part of the Farm Bill. It doesn't matter that in helping real farmers, the Farm Bill is also a form of federal welfare for rich "gentlemen farmers," including some congressional members, the self-righteous, self-serving hypocrites on the right who won't hesitate to take food from hungry kids and old people. About two-thirds of SNAP recipients are children and the elderly.

I've heard all the right-wing claims that people on subsistence programs are nothing more than "welfare queens" suckling on the government teat. These right-wingers must live in another universe because if they should venture out into the "real America" they would know that millions of Americans barely eke by. The work I do takes me into the hinterlands. I see and talk with real Americans. Poorly educated, no money, living from day-to-day and no chance in Hell that their lives will change for the better. All are good people, honest, hardworking, if there is any work to be had, but they and their kids will never achieve the American Dream.

You can be a self-righteous scrooge and look down your nose at these poor people, but they are people with basic rights, one of which is not to starve in America.

Republican Eric Cantor, House Majority Leader, has proposed a law that will cut $40 billion from the SNAP program which will end food benefits for about 6 million people. There are about 50 million hungry people in America, about 15% of the total American population. Most of the SNAP recipients are children, old people and the disabled. The average SNAP payment is $133 monthly which will buy beans and bacon, but not much more.

Beginning in 2007, the poverty rate increased from 13% to 15%. The reason...the Recession, but, as expected, Republicans blame the increase in poverty levels on President Obama. The poverty rate was 15% in President Reagan's first term, same for President Clinton's first term.

COX'S CORNER
Jerry Cox is a retired military officer and writer with an extensive background in domestic and foreign policy issues. He lives in Okaloosa County.

On average, SNAP money is spent by the 3rd week of the month. In spite of all the "how we love our military" talk, there are approximately 900,000 military people in the SNAP program.

While the news media was engrossed in Russian President Putin's claims that American's aren't "exceptional," my local newspaper had an article on the hungry and homeless in Okaloosa and Walton Counties. (www.okaloosawaltonhomeless.com) As of January 2013, there were a total of 925 households with a total of 1,658 homeless people in these two counties. Florida has the third largest homeless population in the U.S.

Right-wingers apparently believe that if a person is poor, on the government dole for food subsistence, then it's that person's fault. In many instances, that is true. People make bad choices. They refuse to get an education or learn a trade that will make them a living.

In my view, success or lack of success in life is also dependent on a major factor...opportunity...to a point.

Children raised in poor conditions in the hinterlands do not normally have the same opportunity as does the child raised in affluent surroundings. But the child from the ghetto may become successful while the child from an affluent home may fail in life. Life is a gamble for most of us.

But in the final analysis, there have always been poor people. The question for all of us is what we do about it. Right-wingers will say, "Get a job." I agree, but children and the aged can't get a job.

It's a mystery to me why the right-wingers have zero compassion for the less fortunate in society. Do they think that people want to live on the streets, eat out of garbage cans? Do they think that old people want to live their last days in poverty? Do they think that school kids want to tell their friends that they are homeless and spend their nights in a car, a van, a cheap motel room or on the streets?

Many are on their high-horse because Putin questioned our claim that we as a society are "exceptional." Exceptionalism is the belief that we, as Americans, are different from other societies. But what is exceptional about the right-wing belief that we should collectively punish America's poor?

Q: What exactly is a "plant-based diet"? I get confused about what people are specifically recommending when they talk about this?

A: In general, there's a good chance when you hear the phrase "plant-based diet" it means that the majority of what you eat comes from plant foods—vegetables, fruits, grain products, beans, nuts and seeds. Some people or groups really mean a vegetarian diet (with no meat or poultry), or even a vegan diet (with no animal products at all). A predominantly plant-based diet – whether or not it's vegetarian – is at the heart of nutrition recommendations to promote overall health and reduce cancer risk. This allows us to get plenty of the plant foods that supply dietary fiber and antioxidant nutrients and phytochemicals, while more easily managing our weight as we fill up on foods that are not very concentrated in calories. If someone chooses to include meat, fish or dairy products, these foods play a supporting, rather than starring, role. Although highly processed foods like chips, crackers and pastries may technically be plant-based, these foods won't provide the health benefits from whole and minimally processed foods and can lead to eating more calories than you need. So, choose a balanced, predominantly whole-foods, plant-based diet to help you reach and maintain a healthy weight.

The American Institute for Cancer Research (AICR) is the cancer charity that fosters research on the relationship of nutrition, physical activity and weight management to cancer risk, interprets the scientific literature and educates the public about the results.

We need a test to determine who can survive life in Florida

People sometimes ask me when Florida officially went nuts. I like to tell them that the sane-train derailed somewhere between Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings and Carl Hiassen.

Rawlings' classic stories are from a Florida that was settled, but not yet subdued by man. Like her fictional characters from "The Yearling," she and a handful of "Cross Creek" neighbors lived largely off the land, even in the '30s and '40s, playing tug-of-war with nature for their daily bread.

Hiassen is the well-known Miami Herald columnist whose novels, including "Strip Tease" and "Tourist Season," are inspired by his years of reporting on the state's greed, corruption and excess. His Florida is one that's overrun by people, overcome by development and overflowing with wealth.

So, what happened to turn Rawlings' Florida into Hiassen's? How did we go from wild to weird to what-hell in the span of just a few short decades?

As with most Florida-related questions, rapid population growth is part of the answer.

Let's say you gathered all the people in Ireland, Israel and Albania, and then mixed in Puerto Rico for good measure. You'd still have fewer people (and probably less diversity) than Florida.

However, growth is just a symptom. The real problem is that we've made it way too easy to be a Floridian these days.

We've all but eliminated the existential threats that were a daily part of Rawlings' world. Life expectancy is up, panther attacks are down and you can now be arrested for taking a fawn from the wild. We've added indoor plumbing, cut way back on yellow fever and I rarely find a cottonmouth living under my doorstep these days.

We've tried to make things better, but the road to Hiassen is paved with good intentions run amok.

The downside is that living here no longer requires an investment of heart and soul like it did in the days before air-conditioning, mosquito control and subdivisions. It's so easy now that anyone can do it, and it seems like everyone is.

Rather than accept this fate, I propose a Florida citizenship test for new arrivals, and not the namby-pamby written kind I always forgot to study for in college. I'm talking about a practical exam that will restore our identity and rebuild our sense of community.

Want to move to Florida? Here's what you do:

- First drive in rush-hour traffic on I-75 in Tampa, navigate an early bird buffet in Boca and take a Miami cab ride anywhere.
- Next, buy a souvenir inside Disney World without spending more than $100 or having your picture taken.
- From there, go find water in Cross Creek, plant an FSU flag in the middle of Florida Field and spend the night on the border in the Okefenokee Swamp.
- Then gather and clean a limit of scallops in St. Joe Bay and sit through an entire Senate committee meeting in Tallahassee.
- Leave there headed west, stop in the Apalachicola National Forest and grunt up 50 earthworms. Find out why Vernon was once called "Nub City," then travel to Pensacola without using I-10.

Florida citizenship will be granted to all who live through the experience, don't kill anyone else while doing it and swear to never, ever try to ride a manatee under any circumstances.

I realize this test will slow our growth a little. But it will also make sure that the people who move to Florida are the ones who really want to be here.

At the very least, I think there may be a Hiassen novel in it somewhere.

Calhoun County native Jim McClellan grew up hunting, fishing and hanging out in the same Apalachicola River swamp that five generations of his family has enjoyed. He lives in Pensacola. His columns can also be found on his blog, outdoors-downsouth.com.

Water supply development grant program

HAVANA - The Northwest Florida Water Management District has launched a grant program to help local governments and utilities across the panhandle address important local water supply challenges and meet regional water supply protection and management needs.

The District's tentative Fiscal Year 2013-2014 budget includes $10 million to provide assistance for water supply development projects.

"Ensuring a clean and sustainable supply of water for the citizens and natural resources of Northwest Florida is one of the District's top priorities," said District Executive Director Jon Stevenson.

On Wednesday, Sept. 4, approximately 30 representatives from local governments and utilities attended an informational workshop to learn more about the grant application process and the type of projects eligible to receive funding.

Grant applications are due by Oct. 31. Eligible projects include both traditional and alternative water supply development projects, as well as water reuse projects and conservation projects that result in quantifiable water savings. Projects that demonstrate new or innovative techniques are encouraged, as well.

District staff will evaluate grant applications based on criteria that include support of the District's core missions and statutory water supply priorities, environmental benefits, readiness for implementation, financial need, and the ability to operate and maintain funded facilities, among others. Staff will present their recommendations to the District's Governing Board, who will vote on the final project selections in late 2013.

The information presented at the workshop, along with application materials and guidelines, are available on the District's website at www.nwfwmd.state.fl.us/pubs/WSDCAI/WSDCAI.html. Interested applicants can contact the District at (850) 539-5999 or Paul Thorpe at Thorpe@nwfwmd.state.fl.us for more information or assistance.

Health Dept.-sponsored event to promote the many benefits of tai chi

Fall Prevention Awareness Day at Magnolia Square Friday

BLOUNTSTOWN - The Florida Department of Health in Calhoun and Liberty County will be honoring Fall Prevention Awareness Day, on Friday, Sept. 20 at 9 a.m. (CT) at Magnolia Square in Blountstown across the street from the Diamond Corner.

Our Tai Chi: Moving For Better Balance class will be performing a tai chi demonstration. We will be passing out Fall Prevention Educational Materials and will also have information available about free tai chi classes that will be offered in the future. Please stop by and take part in this event.

For more information on Fall Prevention and programs offered by Florida Department of Health in Calhoun and Liberty County, call Susan Chafin at (850) 643-2415, ext. 245.

Tai chi has many health benefits. It is a mind and body practice that originated in China as a martial art and is used by many people to improve health and well-being. There are many different styles of tai chi, but all involve slow, relaxed, gentle movements, each flowing into the next. Tai chi is sometimes referred to as "moving meditation"—the body is in constant motion, and practitioners focus on posture and deep breathing. Not only is tai chi a calming and relaxing exercise that improves balance and helps prevent falls, it can have great benefits for one's overall health and improve the health of individuals with Parkinson's disease, Fibromyalgia, heart conditions, osteoarthritis, Alzheimer's and dementia. A review of scientific literature suggests there is strong evidence that tai chi may bring about many beneficial health effects such as improved bone health, cardiopulmonary fitness, balance, and quality of life.

Exercise is important for a healthy lifestyle but it is also a key part of therapy, rehabilitation and disease management. For Parkinson's disease, exercise routines are often recommended to help maintain stability and the coordinated movements necessary for everyday living.

An NIH-funded study, reported in the February 9, 2012 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine, evaluated three different forms of exercise—resistance training, stretching, and tai chi—and found that tai chi led to the greatest overall improvements in balance and stability for patients with mild to moderate Parkinson's disease.

•Tai Chi may benefit patients with fibromyalgia:

Fibromyalgia is a disorder characterized by muscle pain, fatigue, and other symptoms. Some people with fibromyalgia experienced improvements in sleep quality, mood, and quality of life after participating in tai chi and found the improvements lasted for a period of time after the exercise. •Tai Chi may benefit people with heart failure: Tai chi exercise may be beneficial for people with cardiovascular disease and cardiovascular risk factors by improving quality of life, mood, and exercise self-efficacy (belief in one's own abilities).

•Tai Chi may benefit older adults with osteoarthritis: Osteoarthritis (OA) is an increasing problem among older adults, causing pain, functional limitations, and reduced quality of life. The Chinese practice of tai chi, with its combination of physical and mental components, seems promising for those who suffer with arthritis to decrease pain and depression while improving physical function, self-efficacy and health-related quality of life.

•Beat Alzheimer's and Dementia with Tai Chi: Improving your balance through tai chi can help curtail the onset of Alzheimer's. Research suggests that this may be a result of growth and preservation of critical regions of the brain affected by this illness.

It is believed that regular participation in a tai chi exercise regimen enlarges the brain and enhances the cognitive abilities of the elderly.

Tai chi is a gentle exercise with many health benefits. If you would like more information on tai chi, or programs offered by Florida Department of Health in Calhoun County call (850) 674-5645 or Florida Department of Health in Liberty County, call (850) 643-2415.

The mission of the Florida Department of Health is to protect, promote and improve the health of all people in Florida through integrated state, county and community efforts.

Dawgs 'bag the limit' 46-8 over Gators

by Richard Williams, Journal sports writer

The Liberty County Bulldog football team went Gator hunting and bagged the limit in the first half, scoring 39 unanswered first half points on their way to a 46-8 win over Wewahitchka. Liberty's 39 first half points gave them a running clock in the second half of the Sept. 13 game.

The Bulldogs opened on defense and forced the visiting Gators to punt after four plays. Six offensive plays later William Hayes scored from four yards out to give LCHS a 6-0 lead. The extra point was no good.

Liberty's defense forced another quick punt from Wewa and four plays later Jordan Chaney scored for Liberty to give them a 12 point lead. The Bulldog defense forced another Wewa punt and this time the Bulldogs blocked the punt taking over at the Wewa one yard line. Dusty Young scored for Liberty to put the Bulldogs up 18-0.

Wewa finally got their offense moving on their next possession. The Gators needed just three plays to move the ball to the Liberty nine yard line. The Gators had a false start to move the ball back to the 14 yard line. A run lost two yards and then a pass moved the ball to the Bulldog one yard line. After losing a yard on a running play the Gators faced fourth and goal from the LCHS two yard line.

On the next play the Bulldog defense front overpowered the Wewa offensive line and tackled the Gator quarterback on the Bulldog four yard line to end the scoring threat. Liberty's next two plays were a dagger to the heart of any hope left of a Wewa comeback.

On their next play Liberty moved the ball to the LCHS 20 yard line and then Hayes broke free for an 80 yard touchdown run that moved Liberty a 25-0 lead with 10:35 remaining in the first half. The Bulldogs added two more first half touchdowns and a 39-0 lead. The lead meant the second half was played under a running clock.

In the second half Deondra Fitzgerald scored a touchdown for the Bulldogs and Wewa scored with 5.1 seconds remaining in the game for the 46-8 final.

LCHS Head Coach Grant Grantham said the Bulldogs played hard in the game and he was glad the team was able to give a lot of players a chance to play.

"Getting in those younger players gives them a chance to learn under game conditions and will pay off for us down the road," Grantham said.

The Bulldogs travel to play Franklin County Friday, Sept. 20 in a 7:30 p.m. (ET) district contest.

Blountstown rushes past Graceville 35-0

by Michael DeVuyst, contributing writer

GRACEVILLE - Friday the 13th started a little shaky for the Blountstown Tiger football team in Graceville. The opening coin toss was won by Blountstown (3-0) but an error from the team captains resulted in Blountstown kicking off to start both halves of the game.

Once the game started, the chain gang was AWOL and the scoreboard clock was malfunctioning.

However, three and a half minutes into the game and all was well again as Blountstown scored on its first possession and never was threatened the entire night. The Tiger defense registered its second consecutive shutout and limited Graceville to 2 first downs and 94 yards of total offense on 44 plays.

Blountstown struck first on a Brett Bozeman 5 yard TD reception from Hunter Jordan and Andrew Bennett kicked one of his 5 extra points of the night for a 7-0 lead. A three and out by Graceville and a short punt and Blountstown was set up in Graceville territory on the 39 to start there next drive. Five plays later Jordan rumbled into the end zone from 5 yards out and the 14-0 first quarter lead. Midway through the second quarter, Corin Peterson scooped up a Graceville punt just before it scooted out of bounds and raced 70 yards for a score. Blountstown led 21-0 at the half.

Graceville received the second half kickoff and on their second play of the half hit a 50 yard reception down the sideline. That one play resulted in their second and last first down of the night and over half of their total yards. The pass reception got Graceville down to the Blountstown 30, their closest sniff of the end zone, but two incompletions and two consecutive tackles for a loss and Graceville gave the ball over on downs.

Blountstown wasted no time and four plays later Peterson raced to the goal line from 47 yards away for his second score of the night and the 28-0 lead.

Graceville gambled on their next possession going for it on 4 and 1 from their own 29 yard line. A blitzing Jordan tackled the Graceville QB for a 2 yard loss and the gamble was lost. Graceville was 0-12 on third down conversions and 0-5 on fourth down conversions on the night.

Blountstown took advantage of the short field and scored 4 plays later when Fabian Solomon ran the ball in from 5 yards out for the last score of the night with 50 seconds left in the third quarter and the 35-0 win.

Offensively, Blountstown had 9 players rush the ball led by C. Peterson with 68 yards on only 4 carries. Jordan ran for 41 yards and Solomon and Alex Mayorga were close behind with 39 and 38 yards apiece. Jordan was 3-5 passing for 29 yards with 1 TD and 1 INT. Nathan Dunham (29 yards), B. Bozeman (5 yards) and Tripp Taylor (5 yards) had the 3 receptions for the Tigers.

Anthony Wyrick led the Tiger defense with 9 total tackles including a sack. Stephen Matthews had 8 tackles and C. Peterson and Shon Peterson had 7 tackles each.

Head coach Greg Jordan was pleased with the win but still sees areas that his team can improve. "You see the score and look at the stats and you say that we dominated this game but when you look at the film you see plenty of mistakes that must be corrected as we enter our district schedule. We need to stay healthy and continue to improve and become a little more balanced on offense and we can turn this good team into a great one."

Blountstown opens up its new district schedule this week with a home game against the South Walton Seahawks (1-2). Make plans to be at Bowles Field in Blountstown this Friday night, Sept. 20 at 7 p.m. (CT) to watch the Tigers begin their quest for a district title.

their emotions in a safe environment and gain strength from other children in similar situations through a variety of therapeutic activities including confidence-building exercises, artistic therapeutic activities, crafts and one-on-one sharing.

Camp Monarch 2013 will be held at Pinnacle Place in Alford, FL on Saturday, Oct. 19.

Dining in the Dark benefit set for Oct. 13 at University Center Club in Tallahassee TALLAHASSEE — The ninth annual Paula Bailey Dining in the Dark event, which benefits the Lighthouse of the Big Bend and its blind and visually impaired clients, will take place this year on Sunday, Oct. 13 from 5:30 - 8:30 p.m., at the University Center Club at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

Dining in the Dark is a unique Tallahassee dining event that features a sumptuous dinner served completely in the dark. Diners will be guided and served again this year in a darkened University Center Club by members of the SWAT Team of the Leon County Sheriff's Office, who will be using their night vision goggles.

Past attendees have remarked, "I really liked the 'walk in my shoes' experience of this event!" "The speakers were really inspiring." "I'm telling everyone about this event AND coming again next year!" "This is the most unique event Tallahassee has to offer!"

Dining in the Dark sponsorships are available by calling the Lighthouse at (850) 942-3658, and tickets for this exiting event went on sale in late August.

The event honors Paula Bailey, a beloved Tallahassee resident who became blind and deaf after contracting meningitis in 1999. In 2005, while volunteering to help with Dining in the Dark that year, she was tragically killed in an automobile accident on her way to march in the Springtime Tallahassee Grand Parade. The Lighthouse of the Big Bend honors the memory of Paula who remains an inspiration to all of us.

Last year, Dining in the Dark raised more than $30,000 for the Lighthouse of the Big Bend and the blind and visually impaired clients it serves.

The Lighthouse is a nonprofit, charitable organization that has served the visually disabled for the past 30 years and is an integral part of the Big Bend community. The mission of the Lighthouse is to assist people with vision loss in their pursuit of independence.

Florida's First Lady Ann Scott visits Altha's fourth grade

by Ashley Adkins

Last Wednesday, Sept. 11, Florida's First Lady Mrs. Ann Scott visited Altha School. One of our fourth grade teachers, Mrs. Alday, received an email from "Just for Teachers" over the summer. The email contained information about how to complete a request to have the First Lady of Florida visit your school and read. Mrs. Alday completed the process using the information in the email in hopes that Altha School would be awarded the opportunity to have Mrs. Scott visit.

Mrs. Scott read to both Mrs. Alday and Mrs. Rehberg's fourth grade class from "The One and Only Ivan," a popular Sunshine State book. The students had many questions for Mrs. Scott. She shared many things Florida is known for - even giving the students a special Florida Bookmark, she explained some of the duties she has as the First Lady of Florida, about how she gets to spend time with foster children and military families, and about her travels and all the sights she

she had seen. She also told the students about how she was in New York City during 9/11 when the towers were attacked. Mrs. Scott also shared about her family: how she came from a military family and about her two daughters and her grandchildren.

The students learned that Mrs. Scott is also an author. She shared about her book "Love. Read. Learn. Baby Journal." The book is filled with reading and learning tips, plus child wellness information and the journal will be distributed at no cost to new parents at hospitals throughout the state.

While on campus, Superintendent Ralph Yoder, School Board Members Kelly King and Danny Ryals, and Principal Sue Price gave her a tour of our school. She stopped by our gym, the "White Building", and many of our class rooms. While touring the culinary facilities, Mrs. Scott generously invited Mrs. Granger's Advanced Culinary Class to come and cook with her professional chef at the Florida Governor's Mansion on one of their event days.

All of us at Altha School would like to thank Mrs. Scott for visiting us.

Tolar Middle School VOLLEYBALL

Danielle Lee (#9) out-jumps Clarissa Gordon (#3) for the ball.

"We have great potential and we just haven't been playing to the best of our abilities, but we hope to turn things around and correct our techniques and have the winning season we're hoping for," said Tolar Volleyball Team Head Coach Kristy Pleasant after a series of three losses. The Tolar team was defeated by Hosford Middle School on Tuesday, Sept. 10. The girls have also played against Blountstown and Altha, but lost both games in their last set. The team finally turned things around Tuesday, Sept. 17 with their first win of the season when they beat Franklin County in two sets.

Week of September 15 ~ September 21, 2013
ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Aries, the week ahead is looking pretty good, as you will find people are more sensitive to your needs. Work with those willing to work with you.
TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21
Taurus, your visions of how things should be might differ from how things really are. Work toward improving those things that need some work, and things will turn out just fine.
GEMINI - May 22/June 21
Some surprises come your way this week, Gemini. But things will soon begin to fall into place. Just be patient before you make important decisions.
CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22
Things may seem a bit strained this week, Cancer. But all it takes is a little cooperation and an increased focus on teamwork, and things will quickly return to normal.
LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23
Leo, stay prepared and well organized and this week should fly by without a hitch. Feel free to try some things that go against the grain.
VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
Virgo, don't feel badly about the things over which you have little control. Go out and have a good time this week, and eventually things will run their course.
LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
Libra, it may prove challenging to sit still the next few days. People may be pulling at you from many different directions, and you will not know which way to lean.
SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, try not to be overly protective of your secrets this week. A friend or family member is offering their help and guidance, and such insight will prove invaluable.
SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
Sagittarius, a seemingly insurmountable obstacle presents itself this week. Some creativity and quick thinking will be necessary, but you will enjoy the challenge.
CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
Keep your feet on the ground this week, Capricorn. Even if you prefer to have your head in the clouds, keeping your cool will pay dividends in the long run.
AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Aquarius, enjoy some quiet time so you can regroup after a hectic couple of weeks. You earned some rest and relaxation, and this time away will recharge your batteries.
PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20
Pisces, you have a lot of good ideas, and it's time to share those ideas at the office. Your star will soon start to rise.
