36 grams meth seized Twenty charged in Operation Street Thunder

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

A four-day effort by the Liberty County Sheriff's Office, with the assistance of deputies from Taylor and Jefferson counties, resulted in the arrests of 20 people on charges ranging from methamphetamine possession to probation violations.

Operation Street Thunder resulted in the seizure of over 36 grams of methamphetamine with an estimated street value of more than $5,000, according to Capt. John Summers.

The arrests included seven people working with an out-of-town construction company who had been living at the Snowbird Motel in Bristol since sometime after the Oct. 10 hurricane, according to Summers.

"After they came to our attention a couple of weeks ago, we began doing surveillance and got search warrants for three rooms and one vehicle," he said. All are from Dixie County.

The arrest report showed that several white males were seen coming and going from a motel room before getting into a labor truck and driving away. When a deputy attempted to make a traffic stop, the men inside began throwing things out of the truck.

After the truck finally pulled over, deputies searched it and located a sunglass case that held an unspecified amount of methamphetamine. Two small baggies of marijuana and five marijuana pipes were also discovered. Three pellet rifles found in the truck were taken for safekeeping and the vehicle was towed from the scene.

A clear glass pipe with residue that tested positive for methamphetamine was found inside the room the men had just left, along with a large knife with

Divers recover knife following fatal stabbing at Mossy Pond

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

The knife believed to have been used in a fatal stabbing was found in Mossy Pond by the Jackson County Dive and Recovery Team on Friday.

While the long black-handled knife has not been confirmed as the weapon that resulted in the death of 61-year-old Gerald Francis Becker, it matches the description given by witnesses at the scene and has been turned over for processing by the FDLE lab, according to Lt. John Scheetz of the Calhoun County Sheriff's Office.

Additional interviews resulted in an eyewitness account detailing the altercation that resulted in Becker's death at the campsite near the landing where he had been staying and sharing a tent with his grand-nephew, Dakota Mitchell Lavanway, 22.

Witness reports seeing knife attack

Lavanway was charged with aggravated battery and homicide.

Robert Tibbetts gave a statement that he, Lavanway and Shawn Lee Hosington, Lavanway's father, along with a 17-year-old relative, rode to the landing to recover property that had been loaned to Becker.

He said when they arrived, Becker came at them waving a metal pipe. Lavanway and Hosington came at Becker from different directions, and Becker fell to the ground.

The two were beating him until Hosington stopped and walked away to get something from a plastic tote. His son continued the attack. Tibbetts said he told Lavanway to stop and cautioned Becker to stay on the ground.

He said he turned to see that Becker had blood running down around his legs. He then saw a knife in Lavanway's hand. He said Lavanway got down on one knee and put the blade in the back of Becker's right leg.

He added that the victim was much smaller than the other two men and said they never should have jumped on him.

Lavanway is being held in the Calhoun County Jail without bond.

Company that processes garbage into fuel, diesel and synthetic wood wants to open plant in Liberty County

Patrick James addresses the Liberty County Commission as he tells them about a business that wants to locate here. JOHNNY EUBANKS PHOTO

by Teresa Eubanks, Journal Editor

A company that uses municipal solid waste to create fuel pellets, diesel and synthetic wood products wants to set up a plant next to the Liberty County Landfill.

Patrick James, who represents Allied Energy Services, said the operation could create 65 to 100 full time jobs and bring money into the county by trucking in waste from other areas. It would also dramatically reduce garbage collection costs as well as eliminating tipping fees for Liberty County residents.

This would be the company's second plant; the first, which is scheduled to go into operation in a few months, is located at Augusta, GA. "It will be the first of its kind to be installed in the U.S.," he told the board at a recent Liberty County Commission meeting. The waste-to-fuel making process is already being used in Europe, he said.

"We will build 12 plants in the southeast in the next two to three years," he said.

The Liberty County site would be an ideal location, he told commissioners. Why? "Because we need Tallahassee's garbage; we also need Calhoun County's, Gulf County's and Gadsden County's. We need to reach out to a 150-mile radius area to obtain the volume we need," he said. "The Liberty County landfill produces eight to 10 tons of garbage daily. We need almost 100 times that for this plant," he said.

The county would also get around a dollar or more for each ton brought in from surrounding counties, he said. The plant's goal is to process 200,000 tons a year, which would result in a significant payment for Liberty County.

The location has natural gas, wastewater treatment and a high priority electric line.

"It's in a rural area with high elevation and geo-technically speaking, we think it's highly suitable," according to James. "The site and the transportation corridor for our target market is ideal. The site from the proximity of I-10 is ideal," he said.

"We're in a competitive market and Tallahassee is a must for us," according to James. "They (the City of Tallahassee) know I'm having these discussions with you and they, quite frankly, are excited."

He acknowledged that the one stumbling block in the process is permitting. "We need Liberty County as our partner. Liberty County can achieve expediency with the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) that we can't in the private sector," he explained.

"It's truly a public private partnership," he told commissioners. "You are the political body that grants host governmental approval.

Four men and one woman were arrested after deputies searched a mobile home and a camper on NW Turkey Creek Road Friday, where they found 29 grams of methamphetamine in two plastic baggies, more methamphetamine in a syringe along with drug paraphernalia, including a used syringe, digital scale and two glass pipes.

Those arrested were:

- Jodi Johnson, 41, of Clarksville, Shawn Reddick, 39, Richard "Ricky" Kyle, 48, both of Bristol, and Billy Mears, 40, of Blountstown, who were each charged with trafficking methamphetamine and possession of drug paraphernalia.

- Robert Kyle, 51, of Bristol, was charged with possession of methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia.

Others arrested during the four-day sweep included:

- Brandie Burnette, 35, of Marianna, who was charged with possession of methamphetamine with intent to sell, possession of less than 20 grams cannabis and driving while license suspended or revoked with knowledge.

- Tanner Ammons, 20, of Hosford, who was charged with possession of paraphernalia, attaching tag not assigned and driving without a license after a traffic stop during which a bong was found in his vehicle.

- Richard Eddleman, 37, of Bristol, a passenger in a vehicle stop who pulled back from deputies when they reached to pull his hands from his pocket after he refused an order to do so. Eddleman then spit on deputies and when they started to take him into custody, he resisted before being handcuffed. He was charged with battery on a law enforcement officer and resisting arrest.

- Trampus Wayne Johnson, 43, of Bristol, for possession of methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia.

- Corin Peterson, 22, of Blountstown, for criminal mischief.

- Tyler Patterson, 25, and Benjamin Means, 28, both of Bristol for probation violations.

- Kaila Odom, 35, of Sumatra, burglary with person assaulted or battered, battery with a prior conviction and battery on a person 65 years or older.

Husbands join Woman's Club gathering for lunch date at the Jan. 24 Tiger's Table

Woman's Club makes donations to three schools

In recognition of the hands-on learning environment fostered in PreK through 12th grades, the Blountstown Woman's Club continued their donations to all Calhoun County Schools with a $100 contribution each to Blountstown Elementary, Blountstown Middle and Blountstown High. Pictured is Ralph Yoder, Calhoun County Superintendent of Schools with Terry Tanner-Smith, President of the Blountstown Woman's Club.

One of the goals of the 2018-2020 Blountstown Woman's Club's Board is to insist on FUN in the FUNction of the Club. Field trips offer a perfect opportunity to pair support of community events with pleasure.

On Jan. 10, nine members and two husbands supported the Arts by attending Sean of the South at Chipola.

Not to be outdone, the Education Community Service Project planned a lunch date at the Tiger's Table held Jan. 24. Twelve members attended. Three members' husbands couldn't resist dining on the appetizer, entrée and dessert combo so they became honorary club members for the day.

As part of this culinary arts program, the students prepare and serve the meals under the supervision of their sponsor,

Samantha Taylor. All the students were attentive to their diners' needs. Without exception, they did an exemplary job making the meal enjoyable. All attending felt very special indeed.

Liberty County Property Taxes after HURRICANE MICHAEL

Several property owners have asked if the property damage experienced from Hurricane Michael will impact their tax bill? Although the damage was not reflected on your 2018 tax bill, the damage will be addressed in the 2019 tax year.

Per Florida Statute, the property tax valuation for 2018 is based on the market value and condition of Real Property as of January 1, 2018. Any damage received to Real Property after January 1, 2018 will be reflected on the 2019 assessment.

Example: If your assessed property experienced damage from Hurricane Michael and the damage is not repaired by January 1, 2019, you may receive an adjustment to your property assessment. However, if your property received damage from Hurricane Michael, but was repaired by January 1, 2019, you will not qualify for an adjustment solely for storm damage.

We've already begun field inspections of damaged property throughout the county. If you have any questions, or would like to report damage to your property, contact us at (850) 643-2279.

For your convenience, we've added a link to our website for reporting property damage. Go to our home page and click the hurricane damage link at qpublic.net/fl/liberty/

As we continue to recover from the impact of Hurricane Michael, please know that The Property Appraiser's office is here to serve the residents of Liberty County and to answer any questions you may have.

Our thoughts and prayers are with you all. We know that Liberty County will recover and come through this stronger than ever!

Sincerely,
Cindy P. Walker

Extra help with Medicare prescription drug costs

by Jeff Murpree
Social Security District
Manager in Marianna

Paying out of pocket for prescription drugs can be a burden that many households can't afford. The Extra Help with Medicare Prescription Drug Plan Costs program was designed to help people in getting the vital medicine they need to live healthy and productive lives.

Anyone who has Medicare can get Medicare prescription drug coverage. Some people with limited resources and income may also be able to get Extra Help to pay for the costs — monthly premiums, annual deductibles, and prescription co-payments — related to a Medicare prescription drug plan. Extra Help can be worth up to $4,900 per year.

To qualify for Extra Help in 2019, your resources must be limited to $14,390 for an individual or $28,720 for a married couple living together.

You can apply for Extra Help at www.socialsecurity.gov/extrahelp.

You can also call Social Security at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) to apply over the phone or request an application, or if you prefer, you can apply at your local Social Security office.

To prepare for your application you should:

- Identify the things you own alone, with your spouse, or with someone else, but do not include your home, vehicles, burial plots, life insurance policies, or personal possessions;

- Review all your income; and

- Gather your records in advance to save time.

The records you'll need are:

- Statements that show your account balances at banks, credit unions, or other financial institutions;

- Investment statements;

- Stock certificates;
- Tax returns;
- Pension award letters; and
- Payroll slips.

The program was created because there is a great need for prescription drug assistance. Social Security is here to help.

To learn more about the Extra Help program, visit www.socialsecurity.gov/extrahelp. Securing today and tomorrow. If you know a family who needs our help, please share these resources.

ALLIED ENERGY

Allied Energy Services is the corporation that builds the plant and the assets."

Before doing the engineering studies, he said they would need one thing: "The political will and the endorsement from the host government." That would include their assistance in rezoning a part of a 300-acre site next to the landfill, as well as giving the county's support in working with the DEP and permitting.

Commissioners voted 4-1 to support the effort by authorizing the use of a site next to the landfill for waste processing subject to the issuance of all necessary operating permits.

The sole dissenting vote was by Commission Scott Phillips.

"Many challenges must be met before this or any industry becomes a reality, such as land use classification, environment issues, and public concerns," said Liberty County Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Johnny Eubanks. He said all issues would be addressed before the final permitting.

James was the guest speaker at Monday night's annual Liberty County Chamber of Commerce meeting where he gave an overview of what the business could mean for this county.

NOTE OF THANKS

Thank you to everyone who has walked along side us, blessed us with kindness and supported us with prayers. We appreciate it more than words can say!

The Celebration of Life service was a beautiful testament to my husband who loved deeply and served honorably. Thank you to all who participated and special thanks to the staff of Peavy Funeral Home.

We extend our sincere gratitude to the Leon County Sheriff's Department and their Honor Guard, and the Liberty County Sheriff's Department for their tribute to Jack's law enforcement career. It was outstanding!

Your continued thoughts and prayers for our family will give us strength to go forward and to live the life Jack exemplified.

God bless each of you,
The family of Jack L. Revell, Sr.

Late Night Laughs

A RECAP OF RECENT OBSERVATIONS BY LATE NIGHT TV HOSTS.

El Chapo might have bribed the ex-Mexican president $100 million. Although, to be fair, the Mexican president has already denied it from the deck of his $101 million yacht. — TREVOR NOAH

Pro skateboarder Tony Hawk is launching his own fashion line that will include hoodies, T-shirts, flannels and carpenter pants. It's great — if you love hearing your wife say, 'No. Change.' — SETH MEYERS

We are here tonight to celebrate the midway mark of Donald Trump's first term in office. Because, let's be honest, this is a man who is far too humble to celebrate himself. — JIMMY KIMMEL

Nominations for the Academy Awards were announced earlier this morning by Tracee Ellis Ross and Kumail Nanjiani. So if you're keeping track, they found two people to wake up at 5 a.m. to read the nominations, and still no one to host the show. — JIMMY FALLON

Speaker Pelosi rejected the deal (to end the shutdown) before the president even announced it. She said no before Trump even asked — a move known in Washington as 'the Melania.' — STEPHEN COLBERT

Researchers at Tinder have released some interesting user information, and it's particularly appropriate for tonight. Apparently, the most popular time to use the dating app is right now, in January, and particularly on Monday evenings. Yeah, in winter, after the holidays, on a Monday. So literally when you're at your most depressed. — JAMES CORDEN

A marijuana company is giving out free weed to government workers, which is why a bunch of T.S.A. agents are staring at their security wands like, 'Dude, I'm Harry Potter!' — JIMMY FALLON

Without properly staffed air-traffic control, pilots are asking how safe it is to fly. And Spirit Airlines pilots are asking, 'What's air-traffic control?' — TREVOR NOAH

Burger King has announced it will begin selling funnel-cake fries starting tomorrow. I'd say run, don't walk, but something tells me that's not an option. — SETH MEYERS

To end the shutdown, an Arizona lawmaker wants to fund Trump's border wall by taxing porn. Experts say that if we do, the wall will be finished by Friday. — JIMMY FALLON

Nobody knows if we're going to have a State of the Union address. The situation is chaotic and bitter and confusing — which is actually the state of our union. — STEPHEN COLBERT

To all the billionaires threatening to run for president: No thanks. We're too full for seconds! They need new hobbies. I tell you what, can't Richard Branson just build a day camp for these guys to keep them off the streets? — STEPHEN COLBERT

Wofford shows campaigns can and do change history

In 1960, when John F. Kennedy was running for the White House against Richard Nixon, winning Democratic presidential tickets still depended on the backing of segregationist party colleagues in the Southern states.

AMERICAN COLOR

By Mark Shields

Pundit Mark Shields has been on the political playing field since Robert F. Kennedy ran for president in 1968. After years of managing campaigns from the courthouse to the White House, he is now one of the most widely recognized commentators in the U.S.

the courage to wipe the tears from Coretta's eyes, (I) will vote for him whatever his religion." Nixon remained silent.

In October of that year, when Martin Luther King Jr. was arrested and sent to jail on a trumped-up traffic charge in Georgia, his wife, Coretta, then five months pregnant, was legitimately worried about her husband's safety and survival. Kennedy's Southern backers told him not to intervene. But after the persistent advocacy of Harris Wofford and Wofford's close friend Sargent Shriver (JFK's brother-in-law), Kennedy -- ignoring the arguments of his own campaign leadership, including his brother Robert -- called Mrs. King to offer his comfort and sympathy to her and to say he would do whatever he could to see that justice would be done.

narrow victory, with a smashing 79 percent of the U.S. black vote, was secure. And the national Democratic Party would abandon the segregationist South to champion federal civil rights laws.

In Wofford's single winning campaign, his 1991 upset win over Dick Thornburgh for a U.S. Senate seat in Pennsylvania, he ran on an issue that many national Democrats had told him would be a loser, national health care.

Wofford, after a conversation with a Philadelphia doctor, insisted on making a TV ad in which he said straightforwardly: "If criminals have the right to a lawyer, I think working Americans should have the right to a doctor. ... I'm Harris Wofford, and I believe there is nothing more fundamental than the right to see a doctor when you're sick." Wofford won, and the national debate on health care was profoundly changed, such that 20 years later, the Affordable Care Act could become the law of the land.

Blacks in the South who could vote at that time were, out of gratitude to the legacy of Abraham Lincoln and because local Democrats did not welcome them to the voter rolls, overwhelmingly Republican. "Daddy King," one of the South's most influential ministers and Martin Jr.'s father, was in Coretta Scott King's home when she answered Kennedy's call.

Harris Wofford, a committed American citizen who died this past week at 92, proved conclusively that one individual and two political campaigns can change our nation.

He was skeptical of Kennedy's Catholicism and sympathetic to Nixon. After the call, he said the following: "If Kennedy has

COMMENTARY

SEAN OF THE SOUTH OLD DUDES • BY SEAN DIETRICH

Former Starbucks CEO Howard Schultz considering 2020 presidential run

It's an old cafe. The coffee cups are bottomless. The waitress wears jeans. On the walls are mounted bass and a few buck heads.

There are old men in the corner, seated around a table with mugs. These are rural men with old-world accents like your granddaddy probably had.

They are discussing crucial topics like: "Hey, Charlie! What the hell was the guy's name who used to date Sharon? You know, he had the big ears and always looked like he'd just sucked a lemon?"

They say things like: "Did you hear Marilyn's son built his house with the kitchen window facing his mama's kitchen window so in the mornings they can wave to each other when they make coffee?"

They say: "Looks like Mike is running for mayor again, can you believe it? That skinny-dipping stunt he pulled in high school is gonna come back to bite him, just watch."

These are the conversations you hear from old men with rural accents.

Their reparte doesn't follow one line of thought. One man says something. A man across from him says something unrelated.

Everyone gets a turn. Round and round it goes, until you realize they aren't actually talking to each other. They are simply reporting the news.

A young couple walks into the restaurant. The young man wears a work jacket and boots. He is carrying a baby-carrier by the handle. The young woman is holding his arm.

They are both so young they still squeak when they walk. They sit in the booth behind mine.

"What time do you have to go back to work?" the girl asks her young man.

"As soon as we're done eating," he says. "I'm sorry, I wish I had longer."

She seems disappointed. It's the weekend. Nobody wants Daddy to work on the weekend.

They order burgers and fries. The waitress doesn't need a notepad to take their order. She says to the young man. "How's your mama doing, John?"

"Oh, she has her good days and bad days."

"I need to stop by and visit her this week," the waitress says.

It isn't long before the baby begins to cry. I'm talking a bona fide conniption fit. The baby is flailing arms and screaming loud enough to rattle the ceiling vents.

The mother holds the baby, but can't seem to get him to quiet. She becomes flustered, she's embarrassed.

"I'd better take him outside," the young woman says.

"No," he says. "It's too cold, don't do that. Give him to me."

The mother hands the baby over. I can see she is tired. It looks like she could use a long Carnival cruise ship ride and a few fruity drinks with little umbrellas in them.

The baby is not calming down.

The waitress comes from the kitchen. She makes a beeline for the young man, arms wide open.

"Bless that little heart," the waitress says.

She doesn't even ask, she takes the baby from the young man so he can eat his food.

The child stops crying. Our waitress has the touch of a pro. She kisses the baby, and carries the child all over the restaurant.

She introduces the newborn to every table of customers, even mine.

The kid's name is Bradley. That's a good strong name, if you ask me. You wouldn't want to fool with a guy named Bradley.

Next, she takes Bradley to the table of old men. Their general conversation fades when they see the child, and the elderly men transform into granddaddies.

A man in suspenders takes the baby. He is pressing his nose on the newborn's forehead, and explaining the rules of football.

Then an elderly man in a Bass Pro Shop cap steals Bradley. Now, Bradley is in his arms and he is speaking to the child in a sing-songy voice.

In a few moments, the entire table of men has become enchanted with this child. They are gathered in a big circle around him as though Bradley was just found lying in a manger.

The waitress refills the young mother's glass. She finds the young woman is sleeping on her young man's shoulder.

"Bless her," whispers the waitress to the man.

"Yeah," the young man says. "This is the first time she's slept all week."

The waitress smiles. "Poor thing."

The young man reaches for his wallet. "I'll take our bill, I gotta hurry."

The waitress waves him off. "You're money's no good here, sweetie." She takes his empty plate and heads for the kitchen.

"Seriously?" he says. "Thank you."

"Don't thank me, honey. Thank the old dudes who are trying to kidnap your baby."

You're in good hands, Bradley.

OBITUARIES

HERMAN GENE GREEN

OCHEESEEE - Herman Gene Green, 89, of Ocheese, passed away Saturday, Jan. 26, 2019 after a brief illness. Born on July 23, 1929 in Calhoun County to Council James and Beatrice Scott Green, he lived in Calhoun County for most of his life. He was a devoted husband to Donna for 59 years and together they raised six children. He was a veteran, serving eight years in the United States Army during the Korean Conflict; a member of Red Level Masonic Lodge #134 in Marianna, where he served as Worshipful Master; he was also a member of the American Legion. He was a retired Project Engineer with the FDOT for over 25 years. His passion was to serve others, emulating the attributes of his savior Jesus Christ.

He loved to grow things, planting and maintaining a large garden every year, sharing as much of his harvest as he could bless others with. He loved to fish and of course have fish fries, as well as cookouts of all types, inviting all to come to break bread and fellowship together. He was a member of the Shady Grove Methodist Church where he served as Lay Leader and adult Sunday School teacher. He was also known as a prayer warrior. If you need a prayer to reach heaven, then you asked Herman to pray for you, according to the testimony of his fellow members.

He was preceded in death by his parents and four sisters, Edna McGowan, Murel Cissell, Betty Turcotte and Dorothy Whitfield.

Survivors include his wife, Donna Green of Grand Ridge; two sons, Gary Green of Wewahitchka and Jim Green of Ellijay, GA; five daughters, Gail Rosenberger and her husband, John, Sandra Davis and Brenda Green, all of Grand Ridge, Beverly Etheredge and her husband, Tim of Mexico Beach and Sylvia Green of Ball Ground, GA; two brothers, James Kenneth Green of Ocala and Glen Edward Green and his wife, Linda of St. Augustine; one sister, Kathryn Barfield of Grand Ridge; 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Family will receive friends Friday, Feb. 1 from 5-7 p.m. CT at Peavy Funeral Home.

Services will be held Saturday, Feb. 2 at 11 a.m. CT at Shady Grove Methodist Church with Rev. Chris Ackerman and Rev. Terry Tatum officiating. Interment will follow in Shady Grove Cemetery.

Peavy Funeral Home in Blountstown is in charge of the arrangements.

LCHS Bulldog Beat

by Lauren Harger

Welcome back to the Bulldog Beat! Right now our Beta club students are slowly starting to gather supplies and start working on a tradition of the club, Beta doors. It might sound weird, but to put it simply students pair up and are assigned a teacher's door, then they decorate it with whatever they want. Normally, we do Christmas themed doors, but since the first half of the year was a little crazy after the hurricane we decided to switch it up and do Valentine's themed doors. It's different, but it's definitely an exciting change of pace!

Our HOSA (Health Occupation Students of America) club has started two new challenges to get our students active and healthy. The first one is a water drinking challenge that pushes you to drink at least eight cups of water a day. The other is a fun challenge called "Couch to 5K", and it is a program where you gradually go from walking to running after school over eight weeks and at the end, everyone that participated will enter a 5K run together.

After a period of silence after Homecoming, Student council is kicking things back into gear and are preparing many fun spirit activities for baseball and softball season. As President, I can tell you that it's gonna be good, so make sure to come out and support our teams!

Graduation is fast approaching and our seniors are getting more and more excited. About two months ago, we ordered our cap and gowns and we're all experiencing a mix of emotions. One senior, Kayla Maneth, says "I'm really scared! I've gotta go out into the big world and be a grown-up!" but on the other side of the scale is Marybeth Rogers, who says "I'm counting down the days. I'm beyond ready to be out of here." No matter how we feel about it, we can't deny that it's coming! May 24, we're ready (or not) for you.

Prom is April 26, so the junior class is starting to get a plan together for the theme. We can't wait to see what they come up with.

TOLAR SILVER - The Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services Division of Food, Nutrition and Wellness is proud to notify Liberty County School Board that Hosford Elementary and Junior High School and W.R. Tolar K-8 School have reached the first goal of Silver for the Healthier U.S. School Challenge. The school lunchrooms will continue to work to reach the highest level in this challenge to make our lunchrooms the best they can be. The schools received an award banner for display, a signed plaque and $1,000 for their nonprofit school food service account. Pictured above are Ron Johnson, manager at W.R. Tolar School, Wendy Peddie, manager at Hosford School and Superintendent of Schools David Summers.

The annual Alumni Game and Chili Cook-off was held this past Saturday night.

Chili Winner is Ray Howell (2nd year in a row) and Crowd Favorite is Anna Alday (also 2nd year in a row).

We would like to thank everyone for coming out and showing your support. This is an annual fund raiser for our PTO.

Altha Parent Night Feb. 5

Parents of 3rd through 8th grade students, join us to receive guidance and resources on how to support your student at home in Reading and Math Tuesday, Feb. 5 from 4:30-5:30 p.m. CT in the Altha Public School Cafeteria

All attendees will be awarded free admittance to the boys Feb. 5 basketball game vs. Freeport following the parent meeting.

Jan. 30 - Feb. 5, 2019

ARIES – Mar 21/Apr 20
Aries, save up your energy because you might need it for a difficult project on the horizon. This could mean you have to keep socializing to a minimum.

TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21
Taurus, you have been on a stable path, and this is a good thing. Wasting time floundering will get you nowhere fast. Keep up the good work and momentum.

GEMINI – May 22/Jun 21
A rough patch or string of bad luck will soon pass, Gemini. Focus on the positives in your life and give them all of your energy for the time being. Gray skies will clear up.

CANCER – Jun 22/Jul 22
Cancer, a great opportunity is coming your way and you are eager to dive right in. Write down the pluses and minuses of this endeavor before getting too deep.

LEO – Jul 23/Aug 23
Leo, ensure that your voice is heard on a particular matter; otherwise, you may regret not speaking up. Wait until others are quiet to get your point across.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22
Virgo, if you've been looking for a new career, you may be pleasantly surprised with the news coming your way. Opportunity knocks, but you must be paying attention.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23
Extra spending on essentials may have you reevaluating your budget this week, Libra. You might need to cut corners to make everything work, or find new income.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, it seems the bumpy stretch in your life has been long, but you're finally able to see that pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. Keep your head high.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21
A relationship may be blossoming and you won't be sure which direction it will go for a little longer. If you trust your instincts on this and be yourself, things will work out.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20
Capricorn, you will prove your mettle and show everyone just how tough you can be with a surprising announcement this week. Be prepared for some applause.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18
Aquarius, even though many things are changing in your life right now, you'll probably find that you welcome change whole-heartedly. It's time to shake things up.

PISCES – Feb 19/Mar 20
Moving in a new direction can mean many things to you, Pisces. A change of address, a vacation, a new career, or even a new style fit the bill.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid. Each row, column, and 3x3 sub-grid must contain the numbers 1 through 9. Each row, column, and sub-grid must contain each number exactly once. You will figure out the order in which the numbers appear by using the numbers clues already provided in the puzzle. The more numbers you know, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle.
