Suspect who fled during trial caught in Arizona

A defendant who fled the jurisdiction on the second day of his jury trial here was apprehended in Arizona Wednesday night, May 8.

Members of the U.S. Marshals Fugitive Task Force in Phoenix took Daniel M. McCune, 27, into custody without incident around 7 p.m. local time. He is awaiting extradition to Taylor County where he faces sentencing on his original drug trafficking charges (the jury deliberated in his absence and found him guilty as charged).

The Taylor County Sheriff's Office (TCSO) had been working in concert with the local fugitive task force and "were able to develop information that he was possibly in

Decades of trial evidence 'up in smoke'

(Clockwise) Moonshine, an ornate bong and crack cocaine were some of the trial evidence destroyed.

Tucked on a bottom shelf for nearly 51 years, the gallon of moonshine could almost have been mistaken for a jug of water.

However, the evidence sticker on its front—with discoloration around its edges after five decades—and the cork-top were hard-to-miss indicators that the clear liquid inside was anything remotely related to bland water.

Once the cork was removed, the aroma that emerged was strong enough to take your breath away.

The glass gallon jug was upended over a sink and a few glugs later…the potent liquid was history.

"That's probably the last moonshine ever seized in Taylor County," Clerk of Court Annie Mae Murphy said.

The moonshine was one of hundreds of pieces of trial evidence stockpiled into a mountain of materials under the watch of the past four court clerks.

"It was time to go through everything," Murphy said.

Music, art festival this weekend

The sixth annual Forest Capital Music & Art Festival will showcase local and regional performers Saturday, May 11, beginning at 9 a.m. at Forest Capital Heritage Pavilion.

This year's featured performer is Ashton Stoyer, a 2011 graduate of Taylor County High School and current student at Tallahassee Community College (TCC).

Stoyer said her inspiration comes from Patsy Cline and Katy Perry.

"She stepped out in the industry with a powerful voice with a full range of sound that gave her the advantage over other performers of her time," she said of Cline.

Stoyer added that she has "always had a burning desire to compose music" and at age nine started writing songs. The first song she composed was gospel in nature titled "Black and White."

Over the years she has performed for First Baptist Church, the Perry Elks Club, the 2012 Forest Capital Music & Art Festival and the 2012 Relay for Life.

She will graduate this month from TCC with an associate of arts degree and has been accepted to Nashville State Technical Community College, where she will work to earn a music technical degree. This education will help her with composition, putting together sound tracks, and opportunities in the music industry, she said.

As for her music, she said she enjoys playing the piano, flute and especially her Luna electric acoustic guitar. She wants everyone to know she is "crazy" about her music and wants to share it. "As long as one person is touched it makes it worthwhile."

On Saturday, she will perform several of her favorite Patsy Cline songs as well as her own composed music.

Ashton Stoyer, a 2011 graduate of Taylor County High School and current TCC student, will headline Saturday's music festival at Forest Capital Park.

Legislature overhauls Medicaid billing formulas for counties in final hours of 2013 session

In the final hours of its 2013 session, the Florida Legislature passed a bill overhauling how counties will be expected to pay the state for certain Medicaid bills incurred by local residents.

Although the bill's formulas were tweaked once more before final passage, Taylor County is still expected to spend significantly more than it current pays on Medicaid charges from the state.

The Florida Senate passed SB 1884 on Monday, April 29, in a 31-5 vote. There was no corresponding House bill, but SB 1884's language was ultimately included in a budget conforming bill (SB 1520), which was passed by the House (79-38) and Senate (33-6) on Friday, May 3. Both of Taylor County's legislators--Sen. Bill Montford and Rep. Halsey Beshears--voted in favor of the bill.

Under the previous system, counties were responsible for 35 percent of bills for extended hospital stays (days seven to 45) accrued by Medicaid patients who are residents of that county, regardless of where in the state they Remember when...

My favorite girls

By ANTHONY L. WHITE
anthonylamarwhite@yahoo.com

Delores White. Doris White. And Thelma Bishop. They will always be my favorite girls.

It has been four years since my mother Delores passed away. Nineteen years ago, my grandmother Doris passed. And, nearly 44 years have passed since that September morning when my grandmother Thelma passed. Time has healed the hurt, but not even time can cloud the memories I have of them.

A few times a year since each of them passed, I find myself reflecting on those memories. Occasionally, I find myself trying to single out my fondest memories of each, which I've learned is a monumental task.

My fondest memories of my mother seem to mostly involve her entertaining me and my two brothers or the pride she felt watching me perform or participate in various activities. My mother never claimed to be a singer, but she would often sing to me and my brothers. Her favorite song to sing and the song we begged her to sing on a daily basis was "Frankie and Johnny."

"Frankie and Johnny were sweethearts," she would begin singing as we huddled around her. "At least that's the way the story goes." We would usually join in as her background singers during the song's chorus. I still remember thinking of her and the three of us as "Lois and the Pips."

Another memory centers on her sitting in the auditorium of the former high school watching me perform in my sixth-grade Bicentennial theatrical play. I had a small role playing a letter in the word "History." Even though I only had a few lines, my mother sat in the audience watching what she considered to be a Tony-award winning performance. She walked around for days telling neighbors and friends that I was going to be the next Billy Dee Williams.

When it comes to my fondest memories of my grandmother Doris, the list could go on and on. However, one memory that really sticks out in my mind involved a picture she and I took one afternoon on the side of our house. There was no special occasion or anything going on at the time; she was hanging clothes on the clothesline and I just happened to walk up playing around with one of the one-use Kodak cameras I'd just purchased at Dollar General. My brother Ken walked up about the same time, so I asked him to take a picture of me and my grandmother. I consider this one of my favorite moments, because the photograph my brother took that day is my all-time favorite photo of me. Perhaps, it is because the woman standing next to me is smiling as though she was living one of her own favorite moments.

The memories of my grandmother Thelma are not as vivid as the memories of my mother and my grandmother Doris because I was only four when she passed. But I can still remember sitting in her lap on the front porch of her house on Schwartz Street. I can still remember her carrying me on her hip as she walked to Nola's Store down the street. And, I can still remember my mother coming to pick me up from kindergarten class at Jerkins School one morning and telling me that my grandmother Thelma had died. That was my first experience with death.

I lost my favorite girls four years ago, 19 years ago and 44 years ago. It's true. Time moves on. But not even time, can separate or distance me from the memories of my favorite girls, especially when the calendar nears the second Sunday of May.

Happy Mother's Day.

Suspect fled when court broke for lunch

Phoenix. We sent the information out to officers in Arizona and they caught him," Capt. Ron Rice said.

McCune, who was arrested here in 2010 for trafficking in oxycodone, initially turned down a plea offer that included probation and no jail time.

Instead, he opted for a jury trial and then fled in the middle of the proceedings.

"They took a break for lunch and he didn't come back," Rice said.

McCune had been released on a $25,000 bond pending the trial.

"He had a GPS monitor…when he failed to return to court, the tracker was checked and it was found to be inactive. Efforts were made to contact McCune and the court finally determined this was a case of a defendant willfully not returning," a court official said.

"Both sides had already rested their cases and all that was left was for closing arguments to be presented. They did that and the jury was then sent to deliberate. They came back with a guilty verdict," Rice said.

Taylor County's Medicaid costs expected to grow receive treatment. They were also responsible for 35 percent of nursing home or intermediate facility charges in excess of $170 per month (limited to $55 per resident per month).

Under the new bill, however, rather than basing counties' contributions on actual expenditures incurred by their residents, a statewide contribution has been determined ($269.6 million for fiscal year 2013-14) and counties will be billed using a formula based on the percentage of the state's Medicaid patients which reside in that county as well as the percentage of the statewide expenses which originate in the county. For Taylor County, those percentages are 0.14 and 0.103 respectively.

State officials said the reason for the changes was Florida's overhaul of its own billing system and how it pays medical providers for Medicaid services.

Initially, SB 1884 would have determined counties' share of the total Medicaid cost based on the county's percentage of the state's actual expenses (or usage) in the current year and then transitioned over the next six years to basing contributions on counties' percentage of enrollees.

Under the language ultimately approved, however, the contributions will be based entirely on usage for two years, with the transition then spread out over five years.

Taylor County officials have said they are in favor of basing the contributions on usage rather than enrollees, which they say shifts costs to smaller counties.

Based on estimates conducted by the Florida Association of Counties (FAC), Taylor County will spend significantly less under the usage-based formula than the enrollee-based formula.

Therefore, as the state transitions to the enrollee-based billing, the county's expenses are projected to increase.

According to FAC's latest estimate, the new language will reduce Taylor County's overall costs compared to what they would have been under SB 1884, but the county's Medicaid expenses are still expected to grow from $277,000 in fiscal year 2014 to $446,000 in fiscal year 2020.

MASTER GARDENERS'

Plant sale is Saturday

Forget the lists of booths, the names of plants and the participating demonstrators, just know this: the Master Gardeners' annual spring plant sale is Saturday at Forest Capital Hall. The sale begins at 9 a.m. and concludes at 1 p.m. with raffles planned throughout. As for the booths, demonstrators and names of plants, come see on Saturday!

Taylor County's Master Gardeners work all year to present this sale. They encourage your attendance Saturday and assure you that an array of plants awaits you along with information on planting and cultivating all.

Master Gardeners, 'Friends' gather for Marshall's 'tour'

David W. Marshall, Extension Agent Emeritus for Leon County, shared pictures of native plants he recommended for local landscapes, during the April 29 meeting of the Friends of the Taylor County Library.

Master Gardeners rounded out attendance for the day and excelled at naming plants and shrubs as Marshall shared his favorites. Marshall had copies of his book, "Design and Care of Landscapes and Gardens in the South," available, as well as updates on gardening events in the region.

New officers for Perry Woman's Club

Outgoing officers honored by Beach

Shawna Beach, president of the Perry Woman's Club, presented gifts of potted orchids to new officers Wednesday and also made presentations to outgoing officers.

"Debbie Hill has served 10 years or longer as recording secretary and we are very grateful for her work," said Beach. She also spotlighted outgoing corresponding secretary Nancy Hendry, "for her kindness and the encouragement she sends through her cards."

Special appreciation went to Barbara Burns, "the brain of our club," said Beach, as well as Jeanne Raulerson whom she called "the energy supply behind our club" and Ola Mae Grubbs for her quick smile and opinion. Beach also presented gifts to Parliamentarian Virginia Sessions and Past President Iris Parker. "This club makes a positive difference in our community," said Beach. Meetings resume September.

Garden Club wraps up year next Wednesday

The last meeting before the summer break for the Perry Garden Club is Wednesday, May 15. The main course for the luncheon will be provided; members are asked to bring a covered dish and to arrive by 11 a.m. with lunch set to begin at 11:30 a.m. After the luncheon, incoming District Director Mickey Nyberg will install the incoming officers for the 2013-2014 year.

Changing times and crimes chronicled in nearly six decades of trial evidence

TRIAL EVIDENCE

More than a year ago, Murphy began the daunting task of cataloguing nearly six decades of materials and this week, began carrying out destruction orders.

Joined by a representative from the Taylor County Sheriff's Office (TCSO) and local media, each box of evidence was carefully checked against individual destruction orders and inventory lists.

With cases dating back to the 1950s, the evidence room became a time capsule of the changing times, crimes and prosecution methods.

While the jug of 50-year-old moonshine definitely ranked high on the list of unusual finds, there was also the lone glass jar filled with white pills, labeled "found in the office of the 5th Wheel Truck Stop."

The label on the jar was dated Oct. 11, 1957, and featured the signatures of M.S. Linton and Elbert Parker.

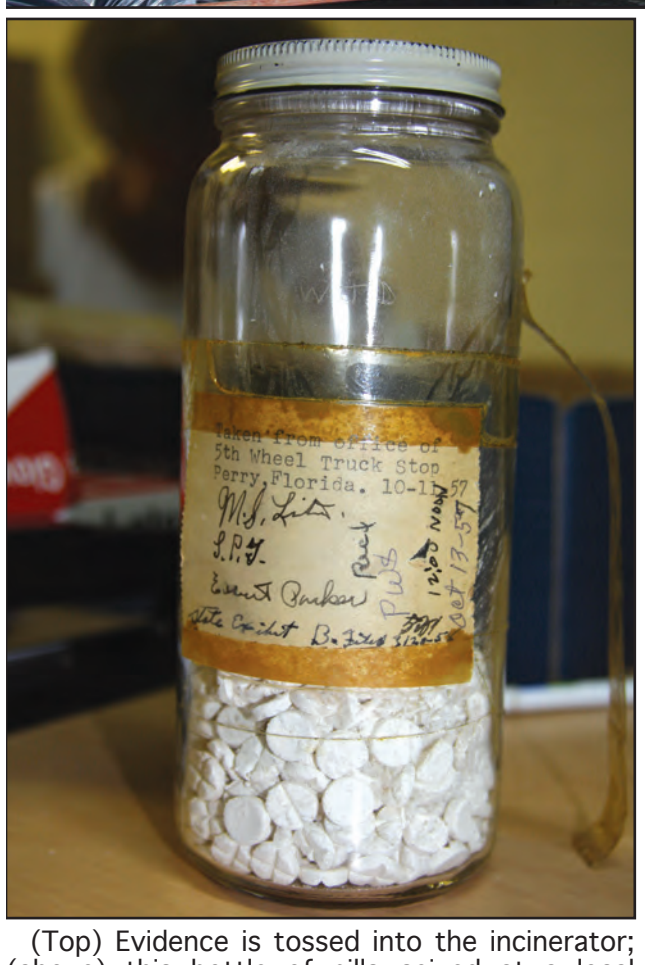
Another box held photos of bloody footprints that lead away from a horrific murder scene.

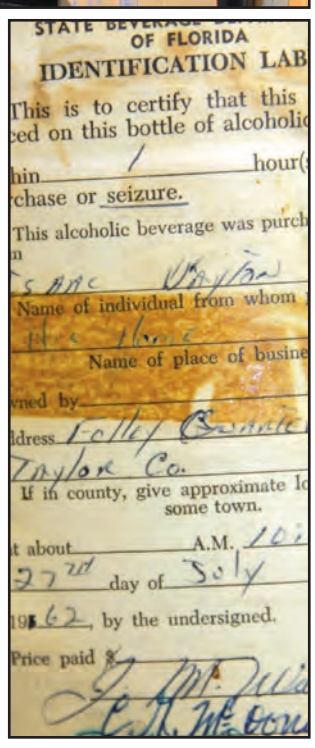
Still another was filled with a wig, glasses and ski mask used in an armed robbery.

Drugs—rock cocaine, powder cocaine and marijuana—were also prevalent.

Once an inventory of the items was completed, the evidence was taken to the incinerator and destroyed under the watchful eye of law enforcement and court officials.

Firearms and ammunition held in evidence were turned over to the sheriff's office for disposal, as well as other weapons.





(Top) Evidence is tossed into the incinerator; (above) this bottle of pills--seized at a local truck stop--was entered into evidence in 1957; (above, right) the evidence label on the gallon jug of moonshine said it was seized from a home in Foley Quarters on July 27, 1962, at 10:15 p.m. An additional half-gallon of moonshine was also seized at the same time. It turned a rust-color during the ensuing decades, while the gallon jug of moonshine remained clear.

VANPOOL RIDERS WANTED

Big Bend Transit, Inc. (BBT) is seeking residents of Taylor County who are interested in forming a Vanpool. Vanpooling will save you wear-and-tear on your vehicle, fuel, and is good for the environment.

BBT furnishes each Commuter Vanpool a 12 ambulatory passenger, van, insurance ($100k/$300), fueling at designated locations, scheduled and corrective maintenance, and, as necessary, use of a back-up vehicle (a 12 ambulatory passenger van).

Commuters furnish properly licensed (at lease a valid Class E Florida) drivers and back-up driver(s), with acceptable MVR's. Drivers and back-up drivers are not employees of BBT, are not compensated for driving, and may not use the vehicle for personal use. Commuters identify, and BBT approves, a designated parking location for the vehicle when not in use.

For pricing and additional information please contact Dino J. Kaklamanos, General Manager or Shawn Mitchell, Operations Manager.

Thomas Francis Bagan

Priest who served here, dies at 87

Following a lengthy illness, the Rev. Thomas Francis Bagan, OMI (Oblates of Mary Immaculate), 87, died on May 4, 2013, at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Residence in Tewksbury, Mass. He served in Perry during the 1990s.

Bagan was born on May 12, 1925, in Benkelman, Neb., to Wilfred J. and Marguerite (McAdams) Bagan. In addition to his parents, he was predeceased by his two sisters, Helen Noonan and Genevieve Bagan, and his brother, Gerald Bagan.

Bagan entered the novitiate of the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate in Tewksbury on Sep. 7, 1945. He professed his first vows on Sept. 8, 1946, and was ordained to the priesthood in Washington, D.C., on June 2, 1952, by Bishop Arsene Turquetil, OMI. He was to celebrate 61 years of priesthood this June 2.

Immediately following ordination, Bagan was a teacher until 1965, first at Bishop Fallon High School in Buffalo, N.Y., and then at Our Lady of Hope in Newburgh, N.Y. He was on the Province Director of Studies Committee from 1965 to 1969 and was bursar and then superior of the community at Our Lady of Hope until 1979. From 1979 to 1993 he was in parish ministry. He served at parishes in Lowell, Mass., Mullens, West Va., Douglas, Ga., as well as Perry and Opa Locka, in Florida.

TIDBITS: Mother's Day salute...

By SARAH HALL

A Mother's Day Salute

Any given morning, except on Sundays, you can find Ruth Monroe (Ms. Ruth) in her yard, taking care of and working in her flowers and garden. She grows them everywhere. If you look around, as I did, you will find collard greens growing with corn as well as along the fences. The flowers next to the front steps are a variety of colors and species. In the front corner, there are some of the prettiest collard greens you will find anywhere! Young and tender! Ready to be cropped and eaten!

Most everybody knows that Ms. Ruth's first love is making flowers. She is very good at it too. So take a moment and say "Hello" to Ms. Ruth and thank her for motivating us to plant greens, flowers and also for planting a spirit of community love. She is a "community mother" to everybody and their children.

She shows us life doesn't stop at retirement. It just brings a renewal of life as we each use the skills God gave us. Ms. Ruth surely does that.

Goodbye

Last week we said "goodbye" to our friend, Elihu "Jack" Scott, a political activist, community resource person and a fine human being.

We stand amazed, God at the awesome creations you allow us to enjoy. From distant galaxies to beautiful butterflies. You put people here to enjoy and learn from. You have given us a world that speaks loudly of your love for us. Oh Lord, our God, we magnify you for your wondrous works! Through your inspirations, your love and your word you taught us how to say "Goodbye."

Class Saturday

The next class of the Taylor County Union Christian Leadership School will be held Saturday, May 11, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. at Little St. John M.B. Church.

Special prayers

Please pray for Essie Mae Spanks (DMH), Jeffery Garner (TMH), Elizabeth "Liz" Whetsel (home), Thelma Newberry (home), Harold Mixon (Marshall Rehab) and Eddie Lee Johnson (home). In bereavement, we remember Shirley Scott and the families of the late Elihu "Jack" Scott.

Cards of Thanks

Hendry

The family of Janette H. Hendry wishes to extend heartfelt gratitude to all who expressed their love with prayers, visits, food, flowers and monetary gifts to First United Methodist Church. We also want to thank her physicians Randy Hearne and Dr. Yu. We also extend our gratitude to Cheryl Harris and staff at Oak Ridge Assisted Living, the staff at Lafayette Health Care Center and the staff at Doctors' Memorial Hospital. Better care could not have been provided to our loved one. May God bless each one of you.

The family also wishes to thank the Burns Funeral Home staff for the professional and caring services they provided to the family and friends.

Happy Mother's Day Momma "Ola Jane Cook"
12-5-1952 ~ 4-15-13

In tears we saw you sinking,
And watched you pass away.
Our hearts were almost broken,
Because we wanted you to stay.
But when we saw you sleeping,
So peaceful, free from pain,
How could we wish you back with us,
To suffer that pain again.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But yu did not go alone,
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.
We love and miss you more with every passing day,
But forever in our hearts is where you will stay.
Love,
Your family

Community Activist Departs

Elihu "Jack" Scott

A good thing happened the day that Elihu "Jack" Scott moved to Perry, Taylor County. He came with a wealth of ideas, expertise, talent and professionalism. He wasted no time on trivia. He believed in "dotting every I and crossing every T".

He, along with Amos Bellamy, was instrumental in forming a committee of litigants to advocate for and successfully attain single member district voting, road paving, sewer installation and the development of the Loughridge Park Community Center. He was also one of the founders of the Taylor County Leadership Council.

To say that he was civic-minded is an understatement. This is illustrated by the fact that he served on several city boards. On Dec. 9, 2008, the City Council recognized him for his outstanding contributions and service to the City of Perry.

He and Shirley Curry were married and divorced; yet they remained companions until his demise.

Jack was born February 27, 1928, in Pine Bluff, Ark. His parents, who preceded him in death, are Elihu and Rubye (Scott) Skinner. He departed this life on Friday, May 3, 2013, at Marshall Health and Rehab Center in Perry.

Those who cherish his memory are: Companion, Shirley G. Scott of Perry; 2 daughters, Michelle (Carl) Joseph of Country Club Hills, IL. and Veleta (Kendrick) Roberson of Perry; 2 sons, Michael Johnson of Chicago, IL. and Gherry Rolle of Hampton, VA.; a sister-in-law, Shirley (Floyd) DuBois; 4 grandsons, Shaun (Keisha), Jeffry, Jeremy and Marcus; 3 granddaughters, Mitzi, Elizabeth and Patricia, who preceded him in death; 4 great-granddaughters, Ayshia, Khloe, Yasmine and Chancellor; and an adopted family which includes Alyce Watkins, Nellie Walker, Patricia Jackson, Sarah Hall, Joann Morgan and Christine Anderson.

At Dorsett Stadium

TCMS Bulldogs will play spring game on May 16

The Taylor County Middle School football team is in the midst of its spring practice and is preparing for its spring game on Thursday, May 16, at 6 p.m. at Perry's Dorsett Stadium.

The Bulldogs will square off against Wakulla Middle School, which promises to be a very competitive contest.

TCMS Coach Tanner Jones encourages all football fans to come out and enjoy an evening of football.

"Our young men have been showing great dedication and team work since beginning weight training in February," Coach Jones said.

The coach said his team have a number of new players as well as returning starters who have performed well thus far this spring.

Among them are: Chris Reeves, quarterback and running back; Josh Mixon, quarterback; Keisten Anderson, linebacker; Victor Conde, defensive end; Anthony Washington, running back and linebacker and Chad Richardson, cornerback.

Members of the TCMS team get in some contact during a practice session this week.

Soccer camps seeking applicants

Taylor County 4-H will sponsor two soccer camps this summer at the Taylor County Sports Complex.

During the camps youngsters will learn individual skills, both defensive and offensive, to be used in one-on-one situations or in space. A variety of strikes on the ball will be taught for passing, shooting, trapping and heading.

Also, principles of being a part of a team and defense and offense as well as rules of the game will be taught.

Taylor County High Soccer Coach Rodney King will conduct the camps, scheduled on June 10-14 for 7-9 year-olds and July 22-25 for 10-13-year-olds.

The camps will run daily (Monday-Thursday) from 9 a.m. until 12 noon, ending with a Parents Night at 6 p.m. on Thursday.

The cost is $45 per participant with a limit of 25 for each camp.

To sign up for these camps, contact the 4-H Extension office at 850-838-3508, or email abbeytharpe@ufl.edu or megharley@ufl.edu, for more information.

FWC plans hunter safety course

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is offering a free hunter safety course in Jefferson County.

The course will be at the Beau Turner Youth Conservation Center, 9194 S. Jefferson Highway, Monticello. Instruction is from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., May 18, and 1 to 5 p.m., May 19.

People interested in attending this course can register online at MyFWC.com/HunterSafety or call Hunter Safety Coordinator George Warthen at 850-265-3676.

Stone crab season closes May 16, re-opens Oct. 15

The commercial and recreational harvest of stone crab claws in Florida closes on May 16, with the last day of harvest on May 15.

This closure occurs each year during the species' peak spawning season to help protect and sustain Florida's valuable stone crab resource. Stone crab season will re-open on Oct. 15.

Commercially harvested stone crab claws may be possessed and sold during the closed season but only if they have been placed in inventory prior to May 16 by a licensed wholesale or retail dealer.

Stone crab traps must be removed from the water within five days after the close of the stone crab season unless a special extension is granted by the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC).

For more information about the stone crab harvest season, visit MyFWC.com/Fishing.

‘Iron Man 3’ proves Part III doesn’t have to disappoint

In this modern day of big-budget comic book adaptations, the dreaded “Part 3” has felled more heroes than a truckload of kryptonite.

Take the franchise that helped kick-start the entire genre: “X-Men.” The first film was great. The second film was superb. The third film, however, nosedived under the weight of too many plot lines, resulting in a complete lack of focus or energy.

Then came “Spider-Man.” Again, the first two films were wonderful action movies that included much of the human emotions which have kept kids of all ages coming back each month after month and year after year. Then came the third installment, which once again crashed because of too many distractions and three separate villains.

Last year, “The Dark Knight Rises,” the third and final film in Christopher Nolan’s Batman trilogy, finally broke this trend, delivering a completely satisfying conclusion to his epic.

And now, with the Summer 2013 Blockbuster Season upon us, we have “Iron Man 3,” yet another third installment, this time of the series which helped launch Marvel Comics’ much larger cinematic universe.

Going into “Iron Man 3,” I had some hope that it would also break the curse, but then, the franchise had suffered its stumble early with “Iron Man 2,” which while not nearly as bad as “Spider-Man 3” or “X-Men: Last Stand,” exhibited the same problems: doing many things adequately rather than doing one or two things great.

“Iron Man 3” definitely rights the ship and sets the groundwork for Marvel’s greater universe as it marches onward toward the eventual “The Avengers 2.”

With a new director, it arrives with a new feel that manages to breathe new life into the franchise while still delivering the same amount of action and Tony Stark eccentricities brought to the screen by Robert Downey Jr.

The story picks up sometime after “The Avengers,” with Tony continuing to deal with the emotional aftermath of literally battling for the sake of the planet against an alien invasion, one led by a Norse god. An introspective Tony reflects back on his past mistakes, specifically at a New Year’s Eve party in 1999 during which he met Maya Hansen (Rebecca Hall, “The Town”), inventor of a new regeneration technique, and Aldrich Killian (Guy Pearce, “The King’s Speech”), a scientist eager to have Tony and Maya join his new venture, AIM.

In the present, Tony is suffering panic attacks and is becoming increasingly protective of Pepper (Gwyneth Paltrow), who is now living with him. His issues only get worse when a new terrorist calling himself The Mandarin (Ben Kingsley, “Hugo”) takes credit for a series of deadly bombings. Tony calls out The Mandarin, an act that will have far-reaching ramifications for him and everyone around him.

It’s notable that Jon Favreau, who directed the first two films, turns the reins over to Shane Black, who is better known as the writer of “Lethal Weapon” and “The Last Boy Scout” than for his only prior directing work, 2005’s “Kiss Kiss Bang Bang.” Although he may not have been the most obvious choice to helm a big-budget, special-effect laden extravaganza, I would argue he’s a wonderful symbolic choice. When Black cast Downey Jr. in 2005, the actor’s career was pretty much dead from self-destruction, and it was his role in “Kiss Kiss Bang Bang” that signaled to Hollywood he was back again, ultimately leading Favreau to take the chance to cast him in “Iron Man.”

The story of “Iron Man 3,” which was co-written by Black, takes a much more balanced approached than the cluttered first sequel. It is notable, that like Bruce Wayne in “The Dark Knight Rises,” Tony spends the vast majority of this film outside of his suit. If there is a theme to “Iron Man 3,” it’s about overcoming our fears, whether it is personal as in our ability to protect those that we love or more globally, as is the threat of terrorism.

The Mandarin is an interesting choice for a villain, especially in light of the recent attack in Boston, and in a way, I think that’s why he resonates more than yet another faceless villain hiding behind a metal suit. (Although as I write that, I find no small amount of irony when contemplating some of the film’s more intriguing plot twists.)

While the threats are serious and the action high-flying, there is still plenty of room for the humor in “Iron Man 3,” and Downey Jr. once again delivers on the snarky side of Tony.

“Iron Man 3” is an example of how an action franchise can continue to grow as it ages, providing a new look on not only its hero but also the genre as a whole.

The film is rated PG-13 for sequences of intense sci-fi action and violence throughout, and brief suggestive content.

‘Beauty & the Beast’ ballet opens tonight

The Tallahassee Ballet presents “Beauty and the Beast,” an original ballet choreographed by Artistic Director Rick McCullough, this weekend (May 10-12) at Florida State University’s Nancy Smith Fichter Dance Theatre.

Few fairy tale heroines deserve their happily-ever-after’s more than Beauty, whose pure love tames the savage Beast. In this version, the Beast presides over a menagerie of leopards, monkeys and birds. He is a cross between a bear and a lion, with fangs and a hairy face.

“The Beast represents the basest instincts we can have and still be human,” said McCullough. “He’s jealous, selfish and strong, so he can have anything he wants.”

The role will be performed by FSU dancers Joe Casanova and Yeman Brown, who will wear a breathable prosthetic mask. Beauty will be danced by FSU students Andra Gold and Gianna Mercandetti.

McCullough choreographed the ballet to music by 20th century British composer Benjamin Britten, including “Young Person’s Guide to the Orchestra” and “Variations on a Theme of Frank Bridge.” He first staged it in 1996 at Greensboro Ballet in North Carolina.

Fans of the 1991 Disney movie might wonder why there’s no dancing silverware or lovesick candelabra in the production.

“None of that is in the original story,” McCullough said.

The Tallahassee Ballet’s production of “Beauty and the Beast” opens tonight (Friday) at FSU’s Nancy Smith Fichter Dance Theatre.

He based his version on the French story published in 1757 by Jeanne-Marie Le Prince de Beaumont, as well as the 1946 French movie “La Belle et la Bête” by Jean Cocteau.

The ballet’s handmade costumes, which complete the enchanted effect, were designed by Ann Todd and her staff at The Tallahassee Ballet.

“Beauty and the Beast” will be McCullough’s last show as artistic director of The Tallahassee Ballet.

Full-length performances are today (Friday) and Saturday at 8 p.m., and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. An abbreviated children’s performance will be on Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

Tickets are $35 for adults, $25 for seniors 60 and over, and $20 for children 12 and under. Seating is general admission.

Tickets may be purchased online at www.tallahasseeballet.org. For more information call 850-224-6917 ext. 1.

At free concert in Gainesville

‘64 Nickels to perform

The band ’64 Nickels will perform tonight (Friday) as part of Gainesville’s “Free Fridays” Concert Series at the Bo Diddley Community Plaza.

‘64 Nickels plays classic songs from the 1950s to the 1980s with most of their repertoire circa 1964, which was the year that The Beatles first performed on “The Ed Sullivan Show” and began what was known in the United States as the British invasion.

When band member Tom Wagner (guitar/vocals) noticed there were several 1964 nickels in his pocket and thought it an omen, the ‘64 Nickels got its name. Wagner is joined on stage by Linda Smart (bass/flute/vocals), Jeff Griffin (keyboards/vocals) and Tony Losco (drums/percussion).

‘64 Nickels will perform a free concert tonight at the Bo Diddley Community Plaza in Gainesville. The band performs songs from the 50s-80s.

The band emphasizes its three-part harmonies and musical leads as members work through an extensive music repertoire that includes such musical greats as The Beatles, The Eagles, Elvis Presley, The Everly Brothers, Santana, Van Morrison, The Monkees, The Byrds, Dobie Gray, Buffalo Springfield, Johnny Cash, The Rascals, The Animals, The Bee Gees, Buddy Holly, Chuck Berry and many more.

The Bo Diddley Community Plaza is located on the corner of Southeast First Street and East University Avenue in Gainesville. A complete listing of the “Free Fridays” entertainment schedule can be found at www.gvlculturalaffairs.org.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

May 10-12

The Southside Arts Complex and Canopy Roads Theater present Lorraine Hansberry’s “Raisin in the Sun.” The play portrays a few weeks in the life of the Youngers, an African-American family living on the south side of Chicago in the 1950s. Showtimes are May 10 and 11 at 7:30 p.m. and May 12 at 3 p.m. Admission is a $25 donation for reserved seating, a $15 donation for general admission, a $12 donation for senior tickets and a $10 donation for student. Tickets can be purchased at www.southsideartscomplex.org.

May 29 – June 23

The Hippodrome’s 40th anniversary season concludes with the internationally beloved Broadway sensation “Avenue Q.” Winner of the Tony Award’s “Triple Crown” for Best Musical, Best Score and Best Book, “Avenue Q” is a coming-of-age musical where characters lament that as children, they were assured by their parents, and by certain fuzzy puppets on public television, that they were “special” and “could do anything”; but as adults, they have discovered to their surprise and dismay that in the real world their options are limited, and they are no more “special” than anyone else. This musical contains adult language and situations. Ticket prices vary depending on showtime and seat location. For more information, visit thehipp.org or call 352-375-4477.

this weekend at the movies

While it doesn’t seem like the quintessential summer blockbuster, director Baz Luhrmann’s (“Romeo + Juliet,” “Moulin Rouge”) big screen 3-D adaptation of F. Scott Fitzgerald’s “The Great Gatsby” is going to make its best impression of one. Luhrmann is known for his flamboyant filmmaking style which earns almost as many detractors as it does fans, but there’s no denying his works are unique creations. Here he reteams with his “Romeo + Juliet” star Leonardo DiCaprio who joins a cast that also includes Tobey Maguire (“Spider-Man”), Carey Mulligan (“Drive”) and Joel Edgerton (“Zero Dark Thirty”). Maguire plays a war veteran who becomes first intrigued with and then entangled in the dealings of his millionaire neighbor, Jay Gatsby (DiCaprio). Purists may look aghast at the trailers for “The Great Gatsby,” but then, Luhrmann has never made films for purists.

The film is rated PG-13 for some violent images, sexual content, smoking, partying and brief language.

Writer/director/actor Tyler Perry adds mentor to his resume, producing the ensemble comedy “Peeples,” written and directed by Tina Gordon Chism, who wrote 2002’s “Drumline.” Wade Walker (Craig Robinson, “The Hot Tub Time Machine”) wants to marry Grace Peeples (Kerry Washington, “Django Unchained”), but first he’s going to have to survive her family when he crashes their annual gathering in the Hamptons. Like “The Big Wedding” a few weeks ago, this one will surely feature clashing family cultures and absurd misunderstandings. It also hopes that the power of its cast—which also includes S. Epatha Merkerson (“Law & Order”), David Alan Grier (“In Living Color”) and Diahann Carroll (“White Collar”)--can overcome what, on the surface, seems to be a well-trodden storyline.

The movie is rated PG-13 for sexual content, drug material and language.

Vigilance urged during Arson Awareness Week

Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Adam H. Putnam and the Florida Forest Service are recognizing National Arson Awareness Week this week by bringing attention to the threat of arson and urging Floridians to always report suspicious wildfire behavior.

"Although recent rainfall is helping, the threat of wildfire is always present in Florida during the dry season," Putnam said.

"Arson is responsible for more than 20 percent of our wildfires this year, but with your help, we can stop arsonists and protect Florida's citizens and valuable resources."

Arson on wooded lands costs Florida taxpayers millions of dollars each year. Since January 1, more than 1,200 wildfires have burned 23,739 acres in Florida. More than 5,000 acres have burned due to arson.

"This serious crime not only threatens homes, property and our natural resources, but also places the lives of Floridians at risk," said State Forester James R. Karels.

"The state will not tolerate anyone who purposefully endangers our citizens."

To report suspicious wildfire activity, contact the state's Arson Alert Hotline at 1-800-342-5869. Callers can remain anonymous and information about wildland arson could result in a reward up to $5,000.

The Florida Forest Service manages more than one million acres of public forest land while protecting 26 million acres of homes, forestland and natural resources from the devastating effects of wildfire, Putnam said.

Bryant to speak at New Brooklyn Church for Men's Day on May 19

New Brooklyn Missionary Baptist Church will observe Men's Day on Sunday, May 19, with Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. and worship at 11.

The Rev. DeMario "Bart" Bryant, a native of Perry and graduate of Taylor County High School, will be the guest speaker. He currently serves as associate minister at Jacob Chapel Church in Tallahassee and is employed at Florida A&M University.

Rehearsal for the Men's Day Choir is Wednesday, May 15, at 7 p.m. at New Brooklyn.

All men of the city are invited to sing and/or participate in this celebration.

Obituaries

Bagan was involved in the preaching ministry from 1993 to 1999 while residing at Immaculate Conception Parish in Perry, then at Our Lady of Hope Center in Newburgh, N.Y. From 1999 to 2007, he did reduced ministry at Immaculate Conception Parish in Perry and St. John Fisher Parish in West Palm Beach.

Due to failing health, Fr. Bagan retired in 2007. He joined the community at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Residence in August of 2008.

Besides his Oblate family, Fr. Bagan is survived by a niece, Jane Dutton, and her husband, James, of Broomfield, Colo., and many cousins.

A prayer service was held in the Chapel at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Residence, 486 Chandler Street, Tewksbury, on Thursday, May 9, at 7:30 pm.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated today, May 10, at 11 a.m. Interment will take place in the Oblate cemetery at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Residence and Infirmary.

Donations in memory of Father Bagan may be made to the Oblate Infirmary Fund, 486 Chandler Street, Tewksbury, MA 01876-2849.

The McKenna-Ouellette Funeral Home at 327 Hildreth Street in Lowell, Mass., is in charge of arrangements.

Horoscopes for the second week of May

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Aries, something irresistible keeps grabbing your attention. Don't overindulge too much or you will regret the decision later on. Exercise moderation.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21
Taurus, you may be tempted to run away from a challenging situation, but it is in your best interest to hunker down and face the problem. You won't be going it alone.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21
Gemini, you seem to quickly conquer tasks that others struggle with. It could be thanks to your ability to focus, but look over your work to make sure it's correct.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22
Cancer, while many things come easily to you, there is one particular situation that continually proves problematic. You might have to scale a few mountains to handle it.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23
Leo, this week you might be better off tackling things on your own instead of looking to others for support. This will help minimize any potential distractions.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
You have a few secrets you are not willing to share just yet, Virgo. That's alright. Keeping some of your agenda private will inspire curiosity and be to your advantage.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
Libra, you may be trying to get a certain person alone so you can have some one-on-one time together. A rendezvous is possible this week.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, you are at an impasse because you are second-guessing some of your most recent decisions. You may need to shift your focus to get back on track.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
The old adage that if you want something done right you have to do it yourself rings especially true this week, Sagittarius. Your skills are put to the test.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
Capricorn, there is a certain window of time this week when you will be extremely efficient and effective. The other times you may as well throw in the towel.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Aquarius, you have to work out a few loose ends before you are free for a much-needed vacation or just time spent doing whatever it is that makes you happy.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20
Pisces, sometimes love can cause pain, but this is the way to grow and learn from mistakes. There are lessons to be learned in a few days.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Marine agent talks to Rotary

Taylor County Marine Agent Geoff Wallat (left) visited the Perry Rotary Club Tuesday, speaking about the county's artificial reef program and the upcoming recreational scallop season, as well as the duties of his new position. Wallat was hired by the University of Florida to be the county's new marine agent in February.

Single pack of cigarettes costs economy $18.05?

By MARTINE YOUNG

The Florida Department of Health in Taylor County

Taylor County is a place known throughout the state for its plentiful hunting and fishing, and abundant nature; however, according to the latest county health rankings, 30 percent of Taylor County's citizens are smokers, compared to only 19 percent in the state of Florida.

Employers can help to reduce this number all the while helping their employees become healthier and reducing their bottom line by simply adopting an employer cessation policy.

Cigarette smoking is the leading cause of preventable and premature death in the United States, responsible for approximately one in five deaths, and is costing Florida $6.3 billion in health care costs and $6.87 billion in lost productivity each year.

Where an average pack of cigarettes costs a smoker $5.51, that pack has a cost to the economy of $18.05 or roughly $6,588 per smoker. It's no secret that smoking is costly, both for the smokers' wallet and for the employers as well. Men who smoke exceed $15,000 more in lifetime medical expenses, and women who smoke exceed $17,000 in lifetime medical expenses, compared to men and women who do not smoke, respectively.

Health plans also bear the burden of smoking. Northwest Kaiser Permanente, a health maintenance organization (HMO), reported increased use (20 percent more than nonsmokers) of hospital services by smokers, thus adding costs. Former smokers are almost equal to never smokers in use of hospital services.

Smokers create an additional economic burden for employers and use more resources. Smokers have higher average insured payments, higher average outpatient payments, increased hospital admissions, increased hospital days and increased average length of stay in the hospital.

The impact of smoking on employers is significant. Smokers are absent up to 1.5 times more often than nonsmokers, average 6.7 health-related absences per year compared to 4.4 days for nonsmokers and 4.9 days for former smokers. Smokers average 76.5 hours lost per year compared with 42.8 hours lost for nonsmokers. Smokers also spend 8 percent or more work time, beyond regular breaks, on smoking-related activities. In a nutshell, current smokers cost employers more in terms of lost productivity than both former smokers and nonsmokers put together.

Employers can benefit when employees quit smoking. According to a recent report, when employees quit smoking, employers will see a decrease (at least $210 for each employee or dependent who quits) in health and life insurance benefits provided.

The good news is that 70 percent of current smokers want to quit completely. As an employer, you can help your employees quit tobacco use. It is important that cessation benefits offered to smokers are comprehensive, meaning they include several options for quitting. Helping smokers quit is an important opportunity to not only save lives, but also help Florida save up to $44 million.

The Florida Department of Health in Taylor County can help both employers get started with cessation services and policies as well as help employees to quit.

Give us a call today at (850) 584-5087 to learn how we can help. We work in conjunction with Tobacco Free Florida in offering 3 easy and free ways to quit.

Tobacco users can talk to a quit coach by calling 1-877-U-CAN-NOW, via online services at www.quitnow.net/florida, or by finding their local face-to-face class at www.ahectobacco.com.
