Oh! what a tangleweb we weave, when first we Aldrich to deceive!

Uncle Nelson Aldrich may perhaps let Taft be the nominal President.

If only the American people realized what a friend they have in Beveridge.

In Africa after the hunting trip the cameras click and the typewriters rip.

It appears that the President is not above a glove contest when occasion arises.

The consumer has no rights which the tariff jugglers are bound to respect, anyway.

The best place to buy your goods is at the store which invites you to come through an ad. in The Sun.

Mr. Aldrich earnestly hopes that no friend of the traitor importers shall get on the proposed tariff court.

Kansas City is to have a new $20,000,000 union railway station. Baltimore is trying to get a little $500,000 one.

Dr. Elliot says that matrimony is the most profitable profession for women. But think of the poor men-victims.

Great is the Dalai Lama of Rhode Island, who presides over the Finance Committee, and Cannon is the Prophet.

An enquirer wants to know where the Hars go to, but up to date there is no evidence that they have gone anywhere.

A good many companies are handled like a tea plant, which, after it has attained a certain age, is plucked four times a year.

Ex-Chancellor von Buelow of Germany will find lively company if he should conclude to go on a little gunning trip in Africa.

One of the virtues claimed for the new "Standard Oil Butter" is that "it lasts longer than the real butter." Yes, we don't doubt it.

The only people who knew absolutely nothing about what was going on in the tariff conference room were the Democrat conferees.

If "T. R." were in the White House the tariff conferees would look like a dazzling display of fireworks interposed by two-minute bombs.

When they get to putting kerosene butter on the quick-lunch ham sandwiches Uncle Sam will have to carry around him a pocketful of pepsin tablets.

Georgia, which has become "extra dry" in a prohibition sense, now proposes to tax soda fountain drinks. It is popularly believed that soda is already heavily charged.

A discharged Auburn (N. Y.) convict will head a $30,000 Syracuse broom factory, having learned that business in prison. The man who can turn misfortune into a stepping stone like that deserves to succeed.

STICK TO THE TRUTH.

Several of the State papers are sounding a warning against the "land sharks," who seek to deceive the people of other sections into buying worthless Florida lands, through colored descriptions and false representations. The Florida press stands almost as a unit for a fair deal for all, and the fight against the land shark is prompted by humane considerations, as well as the certainty that such methods inevitably will react to the great detriment of the State.

The News receives many letters from prospective settlers and investors in Florida, and invariably the answers are couched in conservative terms. The advice is always given to come and see before a purchase is made, where this is possible. The suggestion frequently is vouchsafed that if the inquirer has good health and is doing reasonably well, he had better let well enough alone and stay where he is. We want people—the State's greatest need is people—but we will be hurt instead of benefited by people who may come here under a mistaken conception of conditions, or who find they have been gulled by a lot of elaborately printed literature.

There are a number of colonization schemes, conducted by honorable promoters, the investor in which will get his money's worth. Perhaps the man who buys a ten-acre "farm" on installments will not always find it, upon investigation, to exactly conform to his Northern ideas of a home-site; but values are advancing rapidly in Florida and "cut-over" lands that are sold for $10 an acre today in many instances will be worth double that in a few years. On the other hand, there are unscrupulous dealers who are selling to trustful people lands which are worthless and which will always remain so.

Therefore the non-resident should investigate carefully before buying. And newspapers and those getting out matter to advertise the country should not color things, but present a picture of conditions as true to life as possible. The truth about Florida is good enough. Stick to the truth. —Lakeland News.

State-wide prohibition will prevail in South Carolina for at least two weeks. Only twenty-one counties were wet under the old order of things, and the dispensaries in these counties have been closed pending the result of elections on August 17th to decide whether whiskey shall be sold in them. The sales of the dispensaries in the twenty-one wet counties of the State approximate $3,000,000 annually, with net profits to the counties of approximately $700,000. The loss of this revenue is the principal argument urged by the anti-prohibitionists in the hope of defeating the efforts now being made to vote out the dispensaries.

Of the dozen or more recent strikes only the Philadelphia car strike resulted in material gain to the strikers. In many cases the effect has been permanent dismissal and actual want. If workmen would write down the profit and loss on strike account from the beginning of labor troubles to the present time they would be appalled at the balance on the wrong side. All differences between employers and employees should be settled by arbitration.

Wild and Wooley West is going some.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Advocates of prohibition and local option laws assert that the enactment of such laws decreases the sale and consumption of liquor, and the opponents of such laws just as strongly assert they do not. All doubt upon the question will probably be set at rest by the official statement of the treasury department. The figures show a decrease of between four and five million barrels of beer in 1908. That means a billion pints less liquor drunk in 1908 than in 1907. That decrease is not, perhaps, so great as temperance reformers expected, but it is a very decided decrease all the same, and one that is all the more suggestive because of the persistent attempts at illegal selling and the facilities for securing liquor in dry territory through the operations of the express companies. It all indicates that the temperance movement is a very real thing.

That not all or even most of the ingenuity of man is directed to the invention of dreadnaughts and death-dealing engines of war we are constantly having gratifying proof. Very recently two great engineering feats constructed for the benefit of mankind have caused widespread interest. One is the great Gunnison tunnel by which an immense area of arid soil in Colorado will be irrigated and thereby transformed into a land of plenty. The other is the vast breakwater at Galveston by which the inhabitants of that city have so lately been saved a repetition of the terrible disaster of 1900. The pluck, enterprise and hopefulness shown in the construction of these enterprises was characteristically American and many generations will profit by it.

The numerous centennial, triennial and other celebrations that signalize this year remind us that we are living in an age that delights to commemorate the past. The value of these functions no one can question. They break the monotony of life, increase friendly intercourse among nations and help us to realize our indebtedness to the past. In these days of rush and enterprise we, who in this land rejoice in civil and religious liberty, would be in danger of forgetting those who in former days by their fidelity to principle and heroic sacrifice made this liberty possible, but for these celebrations which keep alive the grateful memory of them and their deeds.

A Hurry-Up Medicine.

Every housekeeper recognizes the need of effective remedies to be used in emergencies—when something must be done right away. Such a remedy is Perry Davis' Painkiller, for sprains and bruises, for strained muscles and for the aches and pains resulting from blows and falls. Burns and cuts are instantly relieved by it and helped to healing. Its mission of mercy began seventy years ago. It is used in all countries and millions of bottles are sold annually. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Have you seen the new large 35c size?
