amended by the councils of the various towns and cities, the same to be submitted to the qualified electors as a referendum.

That an effective law in regard to lobbying be enacted to prevent corrupt practices concerning, or in opposition to, or in support of, laws or pending legislation, or in opposition to, or in support of claims against the State, and providing penalties for violation of such law.

That the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln be made a legal holiday.

That the law be amended so as to permit railroads to tender transportation in exchange for space in newspapers, when said transportation is for use of those connected with the business or their families.

The document does not contain any recommendations regarding the liquor laws.

A Pleasant Event.

A most delightful day was spent last Saturday at the Sink by a party consisting of Mrs. E. S. Walker, Miss Leidtke, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Clarke, Mr. Finley Cannon, Misses Margaret Walker, Lillian Clarke, Otelia Medlin, Eva Futch, Mozelle Burkhim, Sarah Walker, Emma Lee Hudson, Juanita Davis and Sophia Burkhim.

The crowd thoroughly enjoyed lunch and cream and the day passed too quickly for all, returning by moonlight.

Eminent Authorities Say

That out-door exercise is needed by the American people. That's all very well, but how can people with rheumatism follow that advice? The answer is very simple—use Ballard's Snow Liniment and the rheumatism will go leaving you as spry as a colt. Gives quick and permanent relief from rheumatism, neuralgia, lame back Sold by W. M. THE "TRADES EXTRAVAGANZA."

A Splendid Recommendation from The Cordele (Ga.) Dispatch.

The following from The Cordele Dispatch of Cordele, Ga., is but one of scores of similar clippings Mrs. Hollibaugh has in her possession, that the press have given in different parts of the country, and since this beautiful and trade-benefiting entertainment will be given in the New Baird Theatre on the night of Wednesday, April 14th, this article will be of interest to the nearly half hundred of Gainesville's progressive firms that are to be advertised, and the Woman's Guild are fortunate in securing such a novel as well as artistic production:

"On last Tuesday evening at the opera house the young ladies of the town, under the direction of Mrs. Hollibaugh and under the auspices of the local chapter of the U. D. C., gave one of the most extravagant and one of the most interesting performances which Cordele has ever known.

"It was sparkling and unique from beginning to end. Every number was catchy and yielded some unexpected point of amusement and delight. The whole thing was a departure from the ordinary, and how well the novelty of the thing appealed to the public sentiment was attested by a house crowded even to unavailable standing room.

"Expectation was high and almost tense, and that it was not disappointed was demonstrated by the frequent and hearty applause.

"It is very seldom that human eyes are greeted by a fairer scene of youth and splendor than that which presented itself as the curtain rose on the grand march. Beauty seemed to concentrate itself there in such luxuriant profusion of handsome women and fair maidens that the audience could but sit spellbound, hard to realize that it was Cordele's—all her own.

"Each firm was represented by a girl wearing a shield with the name of the firm thereon. Each costume was appropriately decorated in gorgeous suggestive trimmings. Each jingle and each song was suited to the spirit of the advertisement.

"The tableaux were elaborate and splendid, bringing out many unique and novel features of the plan of the entertainment.

"To say the whole thing was a success does not begin to tell the delight and enthusiasm of the audience. The capacity of the house was reached and another performance was given on Wednesday night in order to give everybody in Cordele an opportunity of seeing the performance that one cannot see often."

Mr. F. G. Fritts, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children, as it is mild, pleasant and effective, and is a splendid spring medicine, as it cleanses the system and clears the complexion. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Very Impressive.

Nouveau Riche is at times an amusing person. Said one of these exotics the other day—he was a commuter—just as the train was moving from the station:

"Er—John."

"Yessir!" answered the valet.

"I—I think, after all, I would like the asparagus served as an entree tonight."

And the train moved off amid smothered laughter.—New York Times.

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for woman's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentations would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:—

Melbourne, Iowa:—"I suffered for many years with female troubles, inflammation, and bearing-down pains, so that I was unable to do my work.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and I am so thankful for the great good it has done me. I feel that I am a living advertisement for this medicine as I have influenced so many of my friends to use it, so thankful am I that it restored me to health."—Mrs. Clara Watermann, R. D. 1, Melbourne, Iowa.

When a woman like Mrs. Watermann is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.
