Glades County Youth Livestock Readies Up

2012 show will have new facilities

BY JUAN LOPEZ
Glades County Democrat

The Glades County Youth Livestock Show has had much to happen this past year. Coming off a successful show last year, plans to update the field and surrounding areas were planned and have, so far, been coming true. Recently the north side bleachers were covered and the south side bleachers will be fully up and covered in the next few weeks.

GCYLS leaders are ready for what will be happening over the coming months leading up to the next show. Laura Mathis, bookkeeper and volunteer, was thrilled with how many turned out for the first mandatory GCYLS meeting.

"Last night went well and we had 137 exhibitors sign-up to show for the 2012 GCYL Show," she said on Tuesday. "We have Steer, Commercial Heifer, Dairy, Swine and Pee Wee Exhibitors."

She continued on to say that they are trying to get the parents to be more involved in the organization, which is a non-profit group. She explained that the show is for the kids to exhibit their animals and, in the end hopefully, make a little profit to go towards their college educations or other future expenses.

BHR Man Facing 11 Felony Charges

BY ERIC KOPP
Glades County Democrat

A Buckhead Ridge man is being held in the Glades County Jail following his arrest on Okeechobee County warrants that charge him with 11 felonies.

Ryan Joseph Bosold, 22, Peach St., was arrested Thursday, Aug. 25, on felony charges of grand theft, fraudulent use of a credit card (four counts), criminal use of personal identification (four counts) and credit card theft (two counts).

He was also arrested on three misdemeanor counts of petit theft.

Bosold is being held without bond. It was not known as of newspaper deadline when he would be returned to Okeechobee County.

Detective Rosemary Farless, of the Okeechobee County Sheriff's Office (OCSO), is the lead investigator on the case and it was she who applied for and received the 14 arrest warrants.

According to the detective, the charges stem from Bosold's theft of a man's ATM card. The man, who is disabled and lives on a fixed income, noticed a large amount of money missing from his account.

Bosold allegedly used the ATM card to get $686 from the man's account.

"When you live on a fixed income, you notice when that much money is missing from your account," said the detective.

Detective Farless said Bosold, in a three-day period, used the money to make purchases from local businesses.

The case remains under investigation, said the OCSO investigator.

Labor Day Mathematics

BY PASTOR JOHN HICKS
First United Methodist Church

Some mathematician with too much time on his hands came up with the following interesting analogy: There are 365 days in the year, but you take weekends off, so you have to subtract 104 days. That leaves you with 261 working days, but you only work 8 hours a day; the other 16 you are either sleeping or tending to your own business, so you have to subtract 174 days. That leaves 87, but wait, we are not through subtracting yet. You eat lunch every day and although lunch hours vary, it is estimated that the average worker consumes 45 days per year at lunch. Coffee breaks? Figure 21 days over the course of the year. Take those 21 days from the 42 left from the last calculation and that leaves you 21 days to get your work done. From those 21 days you have to subtract your two weeks vacation - 10 work days. Continuing the subtraction, 10 from 21 leaves only 11 actual full work days in the entire year, but of course, you do not work on Christmas, New Year's, Independence Day or Thanksgiving. Most firms now allow 10 paid holidays per year. After subtracting the 10 paid holidays from the 11 days remaining - you've got one full work day to your credit and you want to take that day off for Labor Day?

The reality is that work is a God-given gift, and most of us hard-driving Christians do our share. But God also gave us gifts like family and friends, picnics and other things that are called fun. Let us enjoy them and glorify God in the process, especially on this Labor Day Weekend, our unique American end-of-summer holiday that celebrates work by not working!

Knowing Our Calling

BY REV. SAM S. THOMAS, PH. D.+
Saint Martin's Church

I was at an accident scene where a young boy stood and watched mother being rescued. He looked up at me and asked "Will she be all right?" My answer was that "They have brought all of the equipment available to make sure she gets all of the treatment possible." It would have been tempting to reassure the boy that, yes, she will be all right. It would have also been possible to tell him that we just don't know. I chose a third course; give hope but don't deny reality. God works. Rain falls on the just and the unjust (Matthew 5:45). Bad things happen to good people. We sometimes get better than we deserve. Those who follow one series of weekly Bible readings may recall the lessons about Peter. Earlier, Peter acknowledged that Jesus was the Christ, the son of the living God (Matthew 16:16).

In return, the Lord tells Peter he is blessed, his revelation comes from God, he will be instrumental in building God's Church and he will have the power to bind and loosen (Matthew 16:17-19). Jesus then tells his followers that He will have to suffer many things at the hands of the religious leaders of the day, and will be killed (v.21). Peter then says "This shall never happen to you!(v.22)" Jesus turns and says to Peter, "Get behind me Satan!" That's quite a turn-around; from the foundation of the Church, being blessed, being able to bind things with eternal implications to...Satan! When you think about it; going from blessing Peter, to calling him "Satan"; something drastic must have happened. The intervening verses tell us that Peter said nothing bad was going to happen to Jesus. Whether out of good intentions, being well-meaning, being sentimental or for whatever reason, the Lord had other insights and another destiny than what Peter would have liked. He overstepped his role in God's scheme of things that day, promising more than he could, or should deliver. That's something that is always tempting; to say things are going to be all right when we really don't know, giving assurances when we may only give hope, speaking in God's name without knowing the mind of God, ignoring that God may be at work in other ways than we know.

I remember reports about a minister who felt he could heal. A young boy was on crutches. He invited the boy on the stage and then told him "throw away them crutches, boy" and the boy did. He took a few steps, fell, and had to be helped off of the stage. His doctor told him that many months of work had been undone and they would have to start over. The work of the faithful is not to give false hope, not to be offering a selfish assurance that nothing "bad" will happen, not to betray the work we are called to do in God's name. Peter really had no right to do so. Neither do we.

Two Pieces of Wood

BY JACKIE MILLER, EVANGELIST
First Christian Church

Only two pieces of wood, but it pulls people! There is a power force that compels men to believe the message of the Bible about the cross on which Jesus Christ was crucified. Jesus, Himself said long before His death in John 12:32 "I shall draw all men to myself, when I am lifted up from the earth." You may think that Christians are those rather ignorant or dependent people who choose this "crutch" to help them get through life. But Jesus said in John 6:44 "No man can come to me except the Father which hath sent me, draw him." People are pulled to the cross by the Triune God -- Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit daily opens the eyes of countless people to see that their only hope is in the work of Jesus on the cross. It was there that Jesus paid for the sins of the entire world.

Two pieces of wood: The absurdity of it all to think that everything is dependent on a man put to death on a cross! Everything? Yes, Everything!

Two pieces of wood: The vulgarity of it has always been a source of offense to the sophisticated -- only to have the Spirit show them their sin and their need for forgiveness and reconciliation.

Two pieces of wood: And now millions proudly wear this despised symbol to show their joy that God did not leave them in their stubbornness, but caused them to see the glory of His Crucified Son. Because true Christians are those who have been pulled by the power of Almighty God, His Church will never fail. One institutionalized church after another has degenerated, and many denominations today do not tell the message that they promised to tell, but new churches rise to tell the truth.

Two pieces of wood: Everywhere men are drawn to the cross. No racial barriers can withstand the power of the cross. No national boundaries can contain it. What a glorious community of people! It is the only international, inter-racial group in the world!

Beware When Moving Fish

- Even Native Bass

Richard Moore properly releases a nice largemouth bass.

BY BOB WATTENDORF
FWC

How often have you caught a great fish and wished you could release it somewhere special for you or a friend to catch again? Catch-and-release has caught on, especially among bass anglers. However, sometimes the release isn't immediate or the angler wants to relocate it in a different lake or river.

Catch-photograph-release is a great way to collect memories. The big thing to remember is this: Proper handling means keeping the fish out of the water for as short a time as possible. Consider holding your own breath while the fish is out of the water as a gauge. If the fish is going in a livewell, remember to exchange the water frequently and keep it cool.

When and where should you release your catch? First, if the law requires a freshwater fish to be released in Florida, do so as quickly and effectively as possible, but taking the necessary measurements or a photo is permitted. Release it where you caught it.

When a native fish is legal to take, it is your decision whether you harvest it or release it. Generally speaking, size and creel limits have been established so that harvesting these fish will still allow sustaining the fish population. In certain circumstances, such as where slot limits are specified, it is especially helpful to remove the smaller fish (below the slot). In theory, reducing the numbers of small fish reduces competition, which allows the protected fish in the slot (for instance 15 inches to 24 inches) to grow more quickly. Nonnative fishes (other than peacock bass and triploid grass carp) should be harvested. Most make good eating, and the best way to transport them is on ice. They should not be released and definitely should not be relocated.

Rules for relocating largemouth bass went into effect in July 2010. They affect anglers relocating bass and purchasing and stocking bass in private ponds.

The reason for Rule 68-5.002 (see FLrules.org) is to protect genetically pure Florida-strain largemouth bass, also called Florida largemouth bass. Under this rule, only aquaculturists, or fish farmers, whose fish have been genetically tested and authenticated as pure Florida largemouth bass by the FWC are allowed to possess or sell bass to customers for stocking south and east of the Suwannee River.

Two farms (Florida Fish Farms Inc., 352-793-4224; and Shongaloo Fisheries, 352-468-1251) are registered with the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and authorized to sell authenticated pure Florida largemouth bass. Largemouth bass produced out of state must be tested using procedures approved by the FWC before they can be brought into peninsular Florida. Intergrade or hybrid largemouth bass may only be transported into the Florida Panhandle for stocking in private waters west and north of the Suwannee River.

These rules were implemented following extensive genetic research that identified even more refined differences with largemouth bass stocks in Florida, which could relate to localized adaptations that allow the fish to thrive in particular habitats and climates. State-run hatcheries now actually use four specific genetic conservation units to ensure that our hatcheries protect these resources. But in an age of commercial hatcheries and anglers transporting fish around the state in livewells, regulations were necessary. Release of impure Florida largemouth bass (with northern largemouth bass genes) mainly occurs through stocking private ponds and lakes, but they can end up in our rivers and lakes. This was verified during the genetic analyses of bass populations in South Florida that should have been "pure Florida" but were not.

The problem is that the two subspecies, northern largemouth bass and Florida largemouth bass, readily interbreed, and stocking northern largemouth is a real threat to pure Florida largemouth.

"Florida largemouth bass are adapted to Florida's subtropical climate and typically spawn earlier in the year than northern largemouth bass. If the northern subspecies or intergrade (i.e., hybrid) bass spawn with Florida largemouth, their offspring may inherit genes that may reduce growth or survival, and other, less obvious genetic traits," said Brandon Barthel, Ph.D., an FWC black bass geneticist.

Anglers come to the Sunshine State from all over the world to catch trophy Florida largemouth bass. The FWC is doing everything possible to protect the genetic purity of this ecologically and economically important subspecies of fish and to promote their wise use and release. Anglers and concerned citizens can help.

Weekly Gas Price Update

Florida, Aug. 29- Average retail gasoline prices in Florida have not moved in the past week, averaging $3.54/g yesterday.

This compares with the national average that has increased 2.8 cents per gallon in the last week to $3.61/g, according to gasoline price website FloridaStateGasPrices.com.

Including the change in gas prices in Florida during the past week, prices yesterday were 96.4 cents per gallon higher than the same day one year ago and are 15.8 cents per gallon lower than a month ago.

The national average has decreased 9.1 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 91.6 cents per gallon higher than this day one year

"Retail gasoline prices finished last week quite strong in some areas on concern surrounding Hurricane Irene," said Patrick DeHaan, GasBuddy.com Senior Petroleum Analyst. "The concern surrounding refinery production on the East Coast helped boost gasoline prices outside that area as well.

The good news for motorists is that damage to refineries was likely minimal and gasoline production will resume soon. However, with Labor Day weekend fast approaching and these refineries taking days to resume production we still may see retail prices gradually climb during this week," DeHaan adds.

More than 110 bird species were reported by teams and individuals last fall.

Margaret England

Fifty-three Chimney Swifts were observed in Clewiston during last year's NAMC. Currently Chimney Swifts are being seen flying

Chimney Swifts look like a "flying cigar" when soaring overhead. This small bird has a sooty gray to black elongated body with a slightly lighter or even silvery gray throat. They have large eyes. Chimney Swifts are not capable of perching on a branch or walking on the ground like other birds. They have extremely short legs, hooks on their tiny claws and stiff-spiked tail feathers that are adapted for clinging to vertical surfaces. Their high-pitched rapid chirping twitters are often heard when they are in flight.

These rapidly flying birds spend most of their time in the air when they aren't nesting or roosting at night. In flight, they catch insects, drink, bathe and collect nesting materials.

They nest in chimneys, rock walls and buildings. The half-cup-shaped nest is made from small sticks which are glued together, and secured to a rock wall or chimney with their saliva. Both parents help incubate the clutch of three to seven white glossy eggs for 19-21 days. Chicks are capable of flight at 28-30 days of age, but may leave the nest after three weeks and cling to the wall.

Chimney Swifts are usually found in Florida from March until mid-October. They fly long distances to their wintering grounds in western Brazil, eastern Peru and other locations in South America.

You are invited to join a team or volunteer to count at your home during the Sept. 17 NAMC. Send an e-mail to Margaret England, at sta5birding@embarqmail.com to request information.

Researchers Detect Underground Insects That Attack Grapes

High tech acoustic equipment used

BY MICKIE ANDERSON
Univ. of Florida

University of Florida researchers are finding new ways to thwart crop-devouring pests — by being good listeners.

High-tech acoustic equipment makes it possible for them to listen in as insects gnaw on grapevine roots, making it much easier for vineyard owners to know where to focus their efforts against the pest called the grape root borer.

Will Sanders, a former UF entomology graduate student, conducted much of the research and outlines the project in the current issue of Florida Entomologist.

Using sound to target the pest could one day save vineyard owners money and pay off for consumers in lower costs for grapes and wine, he said. Grapes are a $20 million annual industry for Florida.

The grape root borer, a moth that looks similar to a wasp, is a major pest in grapes in the Southeast. In its caterpillar stage, it feeds inside the grape plant's roots and damages the plant. There is a pesticide called chlorpyrifos that works well against the insect, but it is toxic to birds, fish and bees, making many vineyard owners reluctant to use it.

There is another relatively effective control that does not involve pesticide that growers can use, however, called "mounding."

Before grape root borer caterpillars become moths, they must burrow up to the soil surface. They form their cocoon while still submerged. When grape root borers become adults, they break free from the cocoon and emerge from the soil.

Placing a mound of soil around the base of the grapevine means the insects must travel farther as fragile adults before they reach the surface, and generally kills them.

But piling up mounds of dirt throughout a vineyard is time consuming, labor intensive and expensive, said Sanders, a former graduate student advised by Oscar Liburd, a professor in pest management with UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences.

Sanders said long before he began working on grape pests, he remembered seeing a presentation by Richard Mankin, an insect physiologist with the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, on how scientists were using a machine called an accelerometer to convert vibration to an electrical signal, then another to convert that signal into sound. Mankin had used the setup to detect underground sugarcane pests as well as pests munching away in grain silos.

As he began his graduate work, Sanders said he was trying to think of ways to attack the underground borers before they emerged from the soil, when he remembered Mankin's presentation.

"It seemed like a great idea — if they can find dinosaur bones with sound, and they can find beetles with sound, maybe I'll be able to find my caterpillars with sound," he said. Mankin, a member of UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, helped Sanders with the research project. Sanders, Mankin, Liburd and Lukasz Stelinski, an assistant professor in entomology, wrote the journal article.

Sanders said it wasn't hard to tell the difference between underground insects and other noises, but it was difficult to distinguish grape root borer sounds from other insects. After listening in on over 30 root systems in commercial vineyards in Florahome and Lithia, Fla., they only captured one live grape root borer, as well as many other insects.

But the acoustic testing works, he said, because if growers were to count even ambiguous insect sounds as a positive, they could reduce the number of sites that require mounding by as much as 75 percent.

Mankin said he believes the grape root borer study will eventually prove useful to the state's 22 wineries and that he hopes Sanders can secure funding to devote more time to the research.

"I think it's potentially very useful," Mankin said. "This is the main pest of concern to grape growers in this part of the country."

Jacksonville District to Host Manatee Pass Gates Public Meeting

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Jacksonville District will conduct a public meeting, Sept. 1, to discuss the installation of Manatee Protection Systems (MPS) at the Moore Haven Lock on the Okeechobee Waterway.

The meeting will be held in the South Florida Operations Office conference room, 525 Ridgeway Rd., Clewiston, at 6 p.m.

The formal portion of the meeting begins at 7 p.m. Technical experts will be available prior to, and after, the formal presentation to provide information and answer questions about the Manatee Pass Gates project.

The MPS detects the West Indian Manatee and prevents the gates from closing and harming the protected animal. The system uses an acoustic array that sends signals between sensors.

If the signals of the sensors are interrupted by a manatee, the lock gates automatically stop. After a program delay to allow the obstruction to clear, the gates attempt to close again. If the obstruction is clear, the gate fully closes, if not, the gate will stop again.

Both the Marine Mammal Protection and the Endangered Species Acts require the Corps of Engineers to provide protection for these endangered animals. These laws make it illegal to harass, hunt, capture or kill any marine animal.

The Moore Haven Lock located on the west side of Lake Okeechobee at the junction with the Caloosahatchee River, will be closed Sept. 18 through Nov. 14.

The contractor, Harbor Branch Oceanographic Institute, will work as rapidly as possible and hopes to complete the project ahead of schedule to minimize adverse impacts to those who use the lock.

Navigation interests are urged to take the closure into consideration when planning their travel and operations.

Additional information regarding this issue and others may be obtained by accessing the Jacksonville District's website at www.saj.usace.army.mil and choosing 'Operations Division' tab and selecting 'Notices to Navigation' from the pull down menu.

Terriers Fall to the Blue Streak 45 - 8

'We wanted to see where we were'

BY JUAN LOPEZ
Glades County Democrat

The Kick-Off classic against the Sebring Blue Streak was, for some, a disappointing game. For others, it was a test to see where the team was and how far they have come since last year. According to Coach Belser, that would be a long way.

For him, the game was a test to see how his team would perform and what else needed to be changed, if anything. From what he saw, other than his players feeling nervous and a bit trepidatious, they have improved greatly.

"We were disappointed by the result but we did have eight turnovers and you cannot expect to win a game like that," he said. "Honestly, they were a bit nervous but, man for man, our players could match them."

He continued to say that since the start of last year, the team and the players have stepped up and improved their level of play.

"If you look at the players, position by position, you see improvement," he said. "When we were watching the films from that game, we saw that, aside from the turnovers, we were matching them and that means a lot. That is what counts."

Belser is confident that they can have a successful season. All they have to do is take it one game at a time. As to what the team is wanting to accomplish this season, they want the district title.

"Our goal is to win district this year. Last year, we concentrated on getting high in the standings and we did," he said. "Now, it is time to challenge ourselves and see what we are made of. I'm confident that we can grab the title this year."

The Terriers will be playing at home for the first season game, which is a district game. The game will be at 7:30 p.m. this Friday.

Introduction to Budgeting

The first of a five-part series

BY DOTTIE COOK
Empowerment Alliance of SW Florida

Editor's Note - The Empowerment Alliance of SW Florida is a 501(c)(3) not for profit corporation and primarily covers Eastern Collier, Hendry and Glades Counties with a main mission of building affordable housing for low income families. The organization also is a HUD-approved agency for counselling on credit, first time home buyers and foreclosure matters.

Do you sometimes run out of money before your next paycheck and feel like you don't know where it all went? Are your credit card bills higher than you would like? A budget is a simple tool that can help.

A budget helps us plan and track where we spend our money. The idea of creating a budget sounds difficult and time-consuming, but you can complete one in about 20-30 minutes. And tracking what we spend takes just a few minutes each night.

What takes a little more time is thinking about your money goals. What are you trying to accomplish? Is it buying a house or a car, paying off your credit cards, building a savings account, or something else?

Your money goals can be short-term such as buying a new dress, or long-term, like buying a house. Most have several money goals at any time, but if we don't think about our goals and make a plan for how to accomplish them, we probably won't be successful in achieving them.

For purposes of a budget, you'll want to think about those goals not only in terms of initial cost, but also in terms of what they will cost on a monthly basis if it's more than a one-time expense. For example, think about buying a car.

The costs involved will not only be the monthly car payment, but also the monthly costs of car insurance, gas, and regular maintenance. All of these costs must be included in our monthly budget as expenses of owning and operating a car.

Many of our goals have costs we may not initially think of, but when we look at the whole picture, we have a better understanding of how much these goals cost. In the case of our car example, these other costs may determine if you buy a new or used car and how long you finance it.

Better to think of these things now than purchase something and find out later that it's more than you can afford.

Think about your goals and identify which ones are most important to you and the true costs of them. Also determine which goals can wait if you don't have enough income for everything right now.

Next week we'll help you build your own budget so you can start tracking where you spend your money and working toward your goals.

How to Choose Mobile Devices For Your Family

BY STATEPOINT

A mobile device is a very personal thing. Whether it's a laptop, tablet or smartphone you're looking for, it's best not to take a one-size fits all approach. What works for you may not be right for your teen or spouse. Before making a selection, there are a few factors to take into consideration, including size, operating system, design, intended use and feature set.

"Mobile technology devices are pervasive in our lives. They're our digital companions," says Li Jun, Senior Vice President, Product Group at Lenovo. "Whether your priority is entertainment, business, security or productivity, a little research can help you find the device that best suits your needs."

The Student

Since students are very active, size matters. But with note-taking and reading a top priority, you don't want to select a mobile device that's too small. Since the device will need to go to class, study sessions and even parties, a tablet is an ideal compromise. New tablet devices weigh less than two pounds, in many cases, and come preloaded with student-friendly apps like Amazon's Kindle eBook reader.

The Online Socialite

Are you always updating your status message? Can't enter a restaurant without "checking in?" If your mobile device is your BFF, a device with a one-stop social connection and multi-tasking interface will save on battery life and leave more time for keeping up with friends and family. The Lenovo IdeaPad Tablet K1, for example, offers a "Social Touch" app that aggregates your favorite networking sites like Twitter and Facebook with your calendar and e-mail. It also offers a front and rear camera for face-to-face networking.

The Professional

Do you frequently travel or meet with clients? If so, you should consider things like aesthetics, speed and functionality when choosing a device. Business-focused devices should offer features like a full-sized USB drive and SD card reader for easily transferring files between meetings, or the ability to connect presentations to an external monitor, conduct video conferences and keep your business chugging.

Of course your business wouldn't buy file cabinets with broken locks. You'll need the same security for your digital data. Make sure your device comes with anti-theft software, which disables it if it is lost or stolen.

For more on finding the right combination of function and security, and to browse different mobile devices, visit www.shop.lenovo.com. In today's connected world, a mobile device suited to your needs is essential no matter what you do for fun or money.

STATE OF FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE PERMIT

The Department of Environmental Protection gives notice of its intent to issue a permit to The ACL Group, Inc., Alberto Garcia, 300 SW 136th Avenue, Miami, Florida 33184 to construct and operate a 0.006 million gallon per day (MGD) Industrial Wastewater treatment facility which would land apply 0.006 MGD of process wastewater from a mobile slaughterhouse unit to a spray-field system. The facility will be located at latitude 26°46'56" N, longitude 81°04'43" W, at 29513 U S 27, Moore Haven, Florida 33471, in Glades County.

The intent to issue, draft permit, and application file are available for public inspection during normal business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except legal holidays, at the Department's South District Office, 2295 Victoria Ave, Suite 364, Ft. Myers, Florida 33902-2549, at phone number (239)344-5600.

The Department will issue the permit unless a timely petition for an administrative hearing is filed under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes, within fourteen days of receipt of notice. The procedures for petitioning for a hearing are set forth below.

A person whose substantial interests are affected by the Department's proposed permitting decision may petition for an administrative proceeding (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. The petition must contain the information set forth below and must be filed (received by the Clerk) in the Office of General Counsel of the Department at 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station 35, Tallahassee, Florida 323993000.

Under Rule 62-110.106(4), Florida Administrative Code, a person may request an extension of the time for filing a petition for an administrative hearing. The request must be filed (received by the Clerk) in the Office of General Counsel before the end of the time period for filing a petition for an administrative hearing.

Petitions filed by any persons other than those entitled to written notice under Section 120.60(3), Florida Statutes, must be filed within fourteen days of publication of the notice or within fourteen days of receipt of the written notice, whichever occurs first. Section 120.60(3), Florida Statutes, however, also allows that any person who has asked the Department for notice of agency action may file a petition within fourteen days of receipt of such notice, regardless of the date of publication.

The petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition to the applicant at the address indicated above at the time of filing. The failure of any person to file a petition or request for an extension of time within fourteen days of receipt of notice shall constitute a waiver of that person's right to request an administrative determination (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. Any subsequent intervention (in a proceeding initiated by another party) will be only at the discretion of the presiding officer upon the filing of a motion in compliance with Rule 28-106.205, Florida Administrative Code.

A petition that disputes the material facts on which the Department's action is based must contain the following information, as indicated in Rule 28-106.201, Florida Administrative Code:

- (a) The name and address of each agency affected and each agency's file or identification number, if known; (b) The name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner; the name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding; and an explanation of how the petitioner's substantial interests will be affected by the determination; (c) A statement of when and how the petitioner received notice of the Department's decision; (d) A statement of all disputed issues of material fact. If there are none, the petition must so indicate; (e) A concise statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the Department's proposed action; (f) A statement of the specific rules or statutes the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the Department's proposed action; and (g) A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action the petitioner wishes the Department to take with respect to the Department's proposed action.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the Department's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this notice. Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the Department have the right to petition to become a party to the proceeding, in accordance with the requirements set forth above.

Mediation under Section 120.573, Florida Statutes, is not available for this proceeding. 396211 CN 9/1/2011

All comments filed will be made available for public inspection.

The Permitting Authority will accept written comments concerning the draft Title V air operation permit for a period of 30 days from the date of publication of the Public Notice. Written comments must be received by the close of business (5:00 p.m.) on or before the end of this 30-day period by the Permitting Authority at the above address. As part of his or her comments, any person may also request that the Permitting Authority hold a public meeting on this permitting action. If the Permitting Authority determines there is sufficient interest for a public meeting, it will publish notice of the time, date, and location in the Florida Administrative Weekly (FAW). If a public meeting is requested within the 30-day comment period and conducted by the Permitting Authority, any oral and written comments received during the public meeting will also be considered by the Permitting Authority. If timely received written comments or comments received at a public meeting result in a significant change to the draft Title V air operation permit, the Permitting Authority shall issue a revised draft Title V air operation permit and require, if applicable, another Public Notice. All comments filed will be made available for public inspection. For additional information, contact the Permitting Authority at the above address or phone number.

Petitions: A person whose substantial interests are affected by the proposed permitting decision may petition for an administrative hearing in accordance with Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S. The petition must contain the information set forth below and must be filed with (received by) the Department's Agency Clerk in the Office of General Counsel of the Department of Environmental Protection at 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station #35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000. Petitions filed by any persons other than those entitled to written notice under Section 120.60(3), F.S. must be filed within 14 days of publication of the Public Notice or receipt of a written notice, whichever occurs first. Under Section 120.60(3), F.S., however, any person who asked the Permitting Authority for notice of agency action may file a petition within 14 days of receipt of that notice, regardless of the date of publication. A petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition to the applicant at the address indicated above, at the time of filing. The failure of any person to file a petition within the appropriate time period shall constitute a waiver of that person's right to request an administrative determination (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., or to intervene in this proceeding and participate as a party to it. Any subsequent intervention (in a proceeding initiated by another party) will be only at the approval of the presiding officer upon the filing of a motion in compliance with Rule 28-106.205, F.A.C. A petition that disputes the material facts on which the Permitting Authority's action is based must contain the following information: (a) The name and address of each agency affected and each agency's file or identification number, if known; (b) The name, address and telephone number of the petitioner; the name address and telephone number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding; and an explanation of how the petitioner's substantial rights will be affected by the agency determination; (c) A statement of when and how the petitioner received notice of the agency action or proposed decision; (d) A statement of all disputed issues of material fact. If there are none, the petition must so indicate; (e) A concise statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action; (f) A statement of the specific rules or statutes the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action including an explanation of how the alleged facts relate to the specific rules or statutes; and, (g) A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action the petitioner wishes the agency to take with respect to the agency's proposed action. A petition that does not dispute the material facts upon which the Permitting Authority's action is based shall state that no such facts are in dispute and otherwise shall contain the same information as set forth above, as required by Rule 28-106.301, F.A.C.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the Permitting Authority's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this Public Notice of Intent to Issue Air Permit. Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the Permitting Authority on the application have the right to petition to become a party to the proceeding, in accordance with the requirements set forth above.

Mediation: Mediation is not available for this proceeding.
Objections: Finally, pursuant to 42 United States Code (U.S.C.) Section 7661d(b)(2), any person may petition the Administrator of the EPA within 60 days of the expiration of the Administrator's 45-day review period as established at 42 U.S.C. Section 7661d(b)(1), to object to the issuance of any Title V air operation permit.
