Glades County Public Library hosts children's story hour as a costume Halloween party for the preschoolers.

After the Halloween story is read, it was great fun watching these tiny tots eating sticky chocolate frosted cupcakes cookies and juice.

Many of the costumes were ingeniously homemade while others featured butterflies, princesses, Superman, Indiana Jones, Pirates and others.

More than 25 area children enjoyed the festivities coloring picture's and having their Long time board member, Mike Pressley, gave a great presentation to all those in attendance at the Glades County Youth Livestock Show Annual Banquet on Friday, Oct. 25. He shared some history with the group about the beginnings of Glades County Youth Livestock Show, Inc., the early years, the hurricane damage sustained in 2005, all the way up to the current arena renovations.

It was very interesting as well as entertaining looking at old pictures of the arena then, the first steer exhibitors and all the way up to a group picture of last year's exhibitors. He explained that this picture of the entire group is what GCYLS is all about and what they all work so hard for.

This was followed with a presentation by President-Weston Pryor to our county commissioners as well as our city council for their financial support over the years.

Without their help a lot of the arena renovations you see today would not have been possible in the timely manner in which they were done!

Halloween Safety Tips

Everyone loves a good scare on Halloween, but not when it comes to child safety. There are several easy and effective behaviors that parents can share with kids to help reduce their risk of injury.

On average, children are more than twice as likely to be hit by a car and killed on Halloween than on any other day of the year.

Walk Safely

Cross the street at corners, using traffic signals and crosswalks. Look left, right and left again when crossing and keep looking as you cross.

Put electronic devices down and keep heads up and walk, don't run, across the street. Teach children to make eye contact with drivers before crossing in front of them.

Always walk on sidewalks or paths. If there are no sidewalks, walk facing traffic as far to the

Children should walk on direct routes with the fewest street crossings.

Watch for cars that are turning or backing up. Teach children to never dart out into the street or cross between parked cars.

Trick or Treat With an Adult

Children under the age of 12 should not be alone at night without adult supervision. If kids are mature enough to be out without supervision, remind them to stick to familiar areas that are well-lit and trick-or-treat in groups.

Keep Costumes Both Creative and Safe

Decorate costumes and bags with reflective tape or stickers and, if possible, choose light colors. Choose face paint and makeup whenever possible instead of masks, which can obstruct a child's vision.

Have kids carry glow sticks or flashlights to help them see and be seen by drivers. When selecting a costume, make sure it is the right size to prevent trips and falls.

Drive Extra Safely on Halloween

Slow down and be especially alert in residential neighborhoods. Children are excited on Halloween and may move in unpredictable ways.

Take extra time to look for kids at intersections, on medians and on curbs. Enter and exit driveways and alleys slowly and carefully.

Eliminate any distractions inside your car so you can concentrate on the road and your surroundings. Drive slowly, anticipate heavy pedestrian traffic and turn your headlights on earlier in the day to spot children from greater distances.

Popular trick-or-treating hours are 5:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. so be especially alert for kids during those hours.

Unlike Hurricanes, Wildfires Occur Every Year

FLORIDA FOREST SERVICE

With the transition from wet season into dry season, Florida Forest Service, Okeechobee District is asking homeowners to prepare for an increase in wildfires.

"If you live near nature, then you can be at risk for wildfire danger," states Melissa Yunas, Wildfire Mitigation specialist.

Dry season is when the vegetation starts to lose moisture and goes into a dormant state. Grass vegetation will slowly dry out due to a diminishing of daily rainfall; typically, winter wildfires are smaller but more frequent. Grass wildfires can be very dangerous and fast moving.

"Residents can help State Wildland firefighters," states Yunas. "Take the time to remove anything that will burn from your roof, gutters and the sides of your home." This includes pine needles, leaves, small twigs and palm fronds.

Yunas says to "keep nature at least 30 feet from your home."

To learn about the seven most highly flammable plants in South Florida, visit www.FreshFromFlorida.com and search for the "When Nature is Your Neighbor" publication.

"Even though we're the Florida Forest Service (FFS) Okeechobee District every county has an FFS station equipped with State Wildland firefighters and firefighting bulldozers," says Yunas. To learn how to reduce the risk of wildfires, call or stop by a local FFS station.

The following are ways to protect one's home and family from a devastating wildfire:

Keep the surface and area beneath decks, sheds, propane tanks and boats free of debris, leaves and flammable vegetation. Maintain a three- to five-foot "fuel free" space around the house and all attachments -- no flammable mulch, wood-piles or plants that can allow fire to touch the house.

A well-marked, non-flammable street sign makes it easier for first responders to find one's home, as does an address on the mailbox or the house. Having a wide-enough drive and paved road also make it easier for first responders in larger vehicles to quickly render aid.

Ensure that trees and shrubs within the first 30 feet of the home are healthy, spaced apart and not overhanging the house.

A pond or fire hydrant aids firefighters in quickly accessing water to extinguish flames.

Mow the lawn regularly and water wisely.

COURTESY PHOTO

Keep the woods 30 feet beyond the house and attachments. Add protection with "fuel breaks," such as driveways, gravel walkways and lawns.

Clean out gutters and downspouts of debris and leaves. Make sure the roof covering and assembly is non-flammable -- one's roof is the most vulnerable spot for fire-brands, which blow in and collect.

Love for Nature Increases Wildfire Danger.

Inland Birding Fun: Great Horned Owl

BY MARGARET ENGLAND
Hendry-Glades Audubon

and gurgles that have been described as sounding like a monkey or a buzzy raspy hiss when they are agitated.

Florida's best-known resident owl is known by many names, including Eight Hooter, Rain Owl, Wood Owl, Striped Owl and Hoot Owl. The Barred Owl is a large bird having a pale face with dark rings around the eyes, a hooked yellow beak and brown eyes. The head of the Barred Owl is round with no ear tufts. The under parts are whitish with dark streaks, while the upper parts are mottled gray-brown. There is horizontal barring on the chest, but the belly is streaked lengthwise. Feathers cover the legs and feet to the talons.

Barred Owls have a diverse diet which includes mammals, invertebrates, amphibians and reptiles, which they usually devour on the spot. They generally hunt near dawn or dusk. At night, they have been known to be attracted to campfires or lights while they forage for large insects

These resident owls are found in moist woodlands, hammocks, cypress swamps and along creeks, rivers and streams. Populations are being observed in suburban neighborhoods where they often build nests in tree cavities. These highly territorial birds can live up to 10 years. Bonded pairs are often observed nodding or bowing to each other.

In southern Florida, the female will begin laying a clutch of two to three eggs in early January. The male will bring food to the female while she incubates the eggs, which hatch in about four weeks. The young owls fledge when they are four to five weeks old.

Additional information about Great Horned Owls and other bird species are available at Cornell's www.allaboutbirds.com or the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation's website. New Weight Management Program Can Assist with Weight Loss While Quitting

State is also offering new combination Nicotine Replacement Therapy

Many individuals worry about weight gain when they are trying to quit smoking. However, the Florida Department of Health's Tobacco Free Florida program's new expanded resources can help.

As of Sept. 25, participants who enroll in the Florida Quitline phone counseling may access the Weight Management Program, a pilot program designed to help tobacco users quit while limiting possible weight gain associated with quitting.

Those enrolled will receive up to three tobacco cessation calls in addition to up to three weight management coaching calls. Participants with Type 2 diabetes will receive up to three calls with registered dietitians trained in the weight loss needs of individuals with Type 2 diabetes.

The Weight Management Program is available to Florida Quitline participants, age 18 and older, who speak English, currently use tobacco and have a body mass index (BMI) of 23 or higher. Participants cannot be pregnant, diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes or have had weight loss surgery in the past 12 months.

Tobacco Free Florida has also expanded its free nicotine replacement therapy (NRT) offering. Any participant who smokes more than nine cigarettes per day or chews more than two tins per week is eligible for combination NRT, including a supply of both nicotine patches and gum, free of charge.

This offering comes after a change in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Treating Tobacco Use and Dependence guidelines. For individuals who use tobacco at these levels, the guidelines indicate this combination of medications "may result in greater suppression of tobacco withdrawal symptoms than does the use of a single medication."

Florida residents who want to quit tobacco and qualify for the Weight Management Program and/or combination NRT can take advantage by calling 1-877-U-CAN-NOW.

Both programs are free and give participants access to a trained Quit Coach who will provide support by: preparing participants for their quit date; helping develop an individualized Quit Plan, including a plan for weight management if applicable; and offering advice and information on medications that may help with withdrawal symptoms.

"Any participant who smokes more than nine cigarettes per day or chews more than two tins per week is eligible for combination NRT, including a supply of both nicotine patches and gum, free of charge."

Clewiston Holds Off Glades Day in Pete Walker's Return to Schlecter Field

Pahokee blows lead in loss to Seminole Ridge; Glades Central's game cancelled in Week 9

BY NAJI TOBIAS
Special to INI

Twenty-four seconds.

That's all it took for the game to be decided in favor of Clewiston, which earned its 16-10 win over Glades Day on Oct. 25 at Schlecter Field.

Down 10-9 with 5:18 left in the fourth quarter, Clewiston junior athlete Lenorris Gaines had the end on his mind.

Lined up at Clewiston's 25-yard line, Gaines was in prime position to make a kickoff return play on special teams. Once the speedster caught the ball, he used his athleticism to juke several would-be tacklers and crisscrossed the field to elude Glades Day's special teams on his way to the game-winning score.

At the 4:54 mark, Clewiston (7-1 overall) regained the lead it had lost and proceeded to hold on the rest of the way.

"Lenorris is a stud and a playmaker for us," said Tigers' Head Coach Pete Walker, who defeated the team he guided to three state titles as the Gators head coach from 2006-2012. "We try to get the ball in his hands as much as possible."

Ironically, Walker's strategy could have won the game for his former team.

Clinging to a 9-3 lead midway through the fourth quarter, the Gators offense sputtered on a critical drive, as the Tigers defense forced them to send in their special teams to punt the ball away.

Then all of a sudden, Gaines, who was in position to make a punt return play from inside Glades Day's 10-yard line, touched the ball but fumbled it away with 6:32 left.

It gave Glades Day (7-1 overall) a prime opportunity to take its first lead of the game.

Clewiston's defense seemed to hold Glades Day's offense to yet another three-and-out, but on third-and-goal from the Tigers 7-yard line, Gators quarterback Justin Sager rolled to the right, avoided the opposition's pass rush and fired off a pass in the end zone to Christopher Guerry.

Along with Alberto Garcia's extra point, the touchdown sent Glades Day's fans into a frenzy.

That didn't faze Walker and his team one bit.

"We made a mistake fielding a punt," the Clewiston head coach said. "We just needed to make up for it."

It proved to be the difference in a game that could have really gone either way.

"I knew Glades Day was going to play tough from start to finish," Walker said. "It was a defensive battle between both teams. Sometimes, you just have to find a way to win it on special teams, and that's what we were able to do."

Clewiston (7-1) took a 6-0 lead with 2:25 left in the first quarter, thanks to a 94-yard touchdown reception that was caught by Gaines (3 catches, 118 yards, TD; 75-yard KO return for TD; 206 total yards). On first-and-15 from the Tigers 6-yard line, sophomore quarterback Davis Witt dropped back after the snap, planted his feet and saw an open Gaines downfield before slinging a pass that only he could have caught.

"It was a post in the middle of the field," Walker said. "Davis just laid it right in there to make the play happen. Lenorris used his speed to do the rest."

Other than those three scoring plays, this game proved to be a defensive slugfest, as neither team was able to do much of anything on offense. For the game, Clewiston outgained Glades Day in total yards, 166-75.

"It was a tough one," Glades Day Head Coach Eric Pitts said. "Other than the kickoff return and long touchdown pass, I thought our defense played very well. We made a couple of mistakes, but that's all it takes sometimes."

The Gators were undefeated before losing at home on its Senior Night to the Tigers. Meanwhile, Clewiston has won five straight since losing a 17-14 heartbreaker at home to King's Academy in Week 3.

Seminole Ridge 24, Pahokee 13: McArthur Burnett scored the game's first two touchdowns for the Blue Devils (5-3 overall), who went into halftime with a 13-3 lead over the Hawks. But Seminole Ridge junior D.J. Hickman, a Pahokee native, and senior running back E.J. Elien combined for three rushing touchdowns to snatch the win from Pahokee at Anquan Boldin Stadium.

Glades Central vs. Miami Northwestern - CANCELLED

According to published reports, the Palm Beach County School District cancelled the Glades Central-Miami Northwestern game on Oct. 25. The decision was made primarily because of a shooting that took place near Glades Central High School on Oct. 24, the night before the Raiders were scheduled to play the Bulls at Effie C. Grear Stadium.

As a result of the cancellation, Glades Central was forced to forfeit the game and accept a loss, which drops its overall record to 3-5.

AUGUST 15, 1946 - NOVEMBER 2, 2010

*It's been three long years since the Good Lord took you away.
I miss you every second, of every minute,
of every hour, of every day.
I'll never forget the first time that we met.
It was a blind date
7:00 at night and love at first sight.*

*The happiest time in my life was when I was your husband and you were my wife.
We had 46 years of wedded bliss. Your smile, your hugs and your kiss I so dearly miss.
Since you've been gone, I've been so heartbroken. I've cried enough tears to fill an ocean. Just when I think I can't cry any more here come the tears, even more than before.*

*You were so much more than just my wife.
You were my best friend, my lover, my life.
There's only one thing in this life I regret
I didn't get to do, and that was to grow old
With you. I know I'll be seeing you soon, and I can hardly wait to see you again.
When I pass through those pearly gates,
We'll walk the Golden Streets of Heaven
Praising his name forever and ever.
And there will be no more tears and no more pain.*

YOUR LOVING HUSBAND,

Larry

LABELLE — LaBelle native Robert Ernest Hollingsworth will recount his memories of his grandfather Robert Waldron at the Nov. 7 program meeting of the LaBelle Heritage Museum at LaBelle City Hall, 481 West Hickpochee Avenue, at 7 p.m. Mr. Waldron, who moved to LaBelle at an early age, was a member of a well-known Southwest Florida pioneer family. Rob Waldron, an entrepreneur and local businessman, is remembered by many old timers as the owner of the Courtview Restaurant, the Waldron Hotel, and the builder/operator of the LaBelle Motel as well as for his construction and farming activities over the years.

The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested in knowing more about LaBelle and our heritage is welcome. Refreshments will be served following the program. LaBelle Heritage Museum schedules monthly program meetings on the first Thursday of the month from September through May that remind those who have made their homes here for a lifetime what made LaBelle the community it was as well as opening a window to our heritage to new residents and visitors alike.

Halloween: Just Before the Triumphal Entry

BY REV. SAMUEL S. THOMAS, PH. D.+
Saint Martin's Church

There is an American hymn of unknown origin. It is old and has many different variations, but the message is always the same: "O when the Saints go marching in, I want to be in that number, when the Saints go marching in." It expresses a hope of the faithful and a recognition that the day will come when they will be victorious over the evil in this world. The Church has always held on to that hope and has celebrated it with Christian calendars throughout the ages. Nov. 1 is marked "All Saints' Day" in many traditions; it is a day when the faithful commemorate the lives of those who did great things and who are the "heroes" of the Church.

We still celebrate some of them on their own individual days -- Saint Patrick or Saint Valentine to name just two. All Saints Day was at the end of the Christian year and commemorated them all at once: they would be victorious at the end of time and celebrate with a triumphal entry. Earlier, the language of the time regarded them as "the holy ones" or, in older English, "the hallowed ones." (Remember that vestige we find in the Lord's Prayer "...hallowed be thy name"?) The evening before "All Hallow's Day" was "All Hallow's Eve" and the time known today as "Halloween."

Why the ranting and raving with all of the witches and ghosts and goblins and bad actors? Because they knew their hours were numbered; the next day would be the day that God's Saints would come marching in and it would be over for them. It was a night of their "last fling" and they would make the most of it.

The tradition as it is celebrated today is carried on by our young "trick-or-treat" citizens, who are probably very unaware of the reasons they dress up and go from door to door. I am happy to see adults gathering and providing structured activities in lieu of going about after dark in neighborhoods that are not their own, not knowing the potential risks of such activities. I am also happy to see that not all of those who celebrate it dress up as bad actors and evil characters. Why celebrate something that is going to end and not celebrate the hope of humanity instead?

The well-known hymn expresses where we should be and where we really want to be: "I want to be in that number," and that's what is to be celebrated. Halloween or any time is the time to begin!

A recent article that came to my attention spoke of the need to provide those entrusted in our care with values, and spoke also of the senseless acts that take place when children are left to raise themselves. One researcher has pointed out that children need both controls and warmth to grow up as healthy and responsible adults. Those who lack one or both of these qualities are all too often the cause of many of the tragedies we see on TV or read about in our papers. A few moments in the headlines and then a life radically changed ever afterward and not for the better.

If there is a message in Halloween, it is that Halloween should not be taken alone and without the day of its origin: All Saints Day.

There are forces of evil that exist in this world, but they are ultimately going to be overcome. Our faith and hope is to let us see the call to participate in the victory and not fall victim to what will finally pass away. The allegories that speak to this victory are found in Revelation (cf. 11:15ff) and they also remind us that the one who does evil "is filled with fury because he knows that his time is short(12:12)."

Halloween is celebrated annually; the faithful celebrate every day. Today will be Halloween; tomorrow it will be over and Sunday will commemorate what is the final victory -- and every Sunday after that, too. Don't forget to celebrate with the winners on the winning team. They'll come marching in!

Moore Haven Junior-Senior High School honors Star Staff

Gas Price

Average retail gasoline prices in Florida have fallen 5.0 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $3.26/g yesterday, according to GasBuddy's daily survey of 8,237 gas outlets in Florida. This compares with the national average that has fallen 5.9 cents per gallon in the last week to $3.30/g, according to gasoline price website GasBuddy.com.

Including the change in gas prices in Florida during the past week, prices yesterday were 22.6 cents per gallon lower than the same day one year ago and are 6.4 cents per gallon lower than a month ago. The national average has decreased 13.3 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 26.4 cents per gallon lower than this day one year ago.

"Last week saw new downward momentum in crude prices- after staying above $100/bbl for 111 days since early July, crude prices fell below $100 and just days ago closed as low as $96/bbl," said GasBuddy.com Senior Petroleum Analyst Patrick DeHaan. "In turn, the sudden drops in crude prices have pushed gasoline futures down as well, with motorists on the winning side of this all. The national average has picked up some steam on it's downward trend and in some areas of the U.S., the wholesale price of gasoline is nearing yearly lows, which is adding up to significant savings for motorists. Americans are spending over $100 million per day less on gasoline than they did a year ago, and I'm willing to bet if every motorist used the GasBuddy app, the savings would be twice as significant," DeHaan said.

Constitutional Officers

County Attorney (Not in attendance)

Chairman Storter noted items involving the county attorney that will be on the agenda for the next meeting include foreclosure process for the abandoned property in which the county was involved due to CDBG (Community Development Block Grant) funding, on which $5,930 back taxes would need to be paid by the board.

Also to be considered is Attorney Pringle's follow-up on the request from Kathy Warr concerning right of way issues on Riverside Drive.

County Manager

Interim County Manager Avant Brown informed the board that he was contacted by a representative of Thalle Construction concerning leasing 4 acres at the Road Dept. Compound for three years for use as a temporary construction office and staging area.

Thalle was recently awarded a $31.8 million contract with Corps of Engineers for replacement of Herbert Hoover Dike Culverts 5 (S-282) and 5A (S-281) north of Moore Haven in Glades County.

Board approved lease subject to legal requirements to be determined with review by County Attorney. The lease would be $650 monthly, possibly thru the spring of 2017 when the culvert project is expected to be completed.

Board also directed Brown to seek alternative uses for another 40 acres (approximately) at the compound that may be suitable for a hay field or another use that would not require fencing.

Commissioner Stanley inquired about current code enforcement staff, reporting that a Buckhead Ridge resident had contacted him about a neighborhood area that was not being mowed. Brown was to work with Stanley on reviewing the complaint.

Brown noted that discussion of the process for filling the vacant position of county planner would be on the next agenda. Commissioner Echols suggested that the new county manager soon to be coming on board should be involved in the hiring process.

Public Input On Non-Agenda Items Commissioners Items And Comments

Commissioner Echols stated that the recent federal government shut-down had delayed the permitting process for the Moore Haven Canal project, but it was now back on track moving swiftly.

Commissioner Griffin expressed concern about the safety issues with a post installed on Riverside Drive by Mrs. Warr and asked could the road department remove it. Mr. Brown stated he had contacted Howard Emhke of Water Management District about ownership and rights-of-way on Riverside Drive and the maps reviewed seemed to concur with Mrs. Warr's survey report on the property, but he would install posts with bright reflectors in areas near her post (though on her property) to warn motorists of the danger.

Commissioner Beck stated Interim County Manager Bob Jones is getting prices for construction of the new pavilion at Harney Pond Canal Park, and it may be possible to re-hab the old bathrooms at the park.

Chairman Storter stated that tickets to the annual Glades Salute to Veterans dinner/event are available from the Veterans' Service Officer in County Manager's office and Veterans' tickets are free.
