One dead, 2 injured in shooting

Suspect arrested in Ga.

By Joyce Marie Taylor
joycemarie.taylor@gafnews.com

A shooting incident early Sunday morning left one man dead and two others with minor injuries, according to Hamilton County Sheriff Harrell Reid. The suspect shooter, Daphedron Lamar Allen, 34, Jasper, was later arrested by the Lowndes County, Ga. Sheriff's Office around noon on Sunday, May 18, without incident at a motel in Lake Park, Ga.

According to Reid, Allen had been involved in an altercation earlier on Saturday and shortly after midnight he arrived at a residence at 106 8th Ave. in Jasper. According to witnesses at the scene, there were people talking outside the residence when gunfire erupted from the bushes across the street from the residence. HCSO and Jasper Police Department were dispatched to the scene.

Reid said Frank Carl Jones III (approx. age 37) was sitting on the front porch of the residence when the gunfire started and took a fatal bullet, dying at the scene. Two other men, David Washington and Louis Ash were also injured. Washington was shot in the calf and Ash was nicked by a bullet. They were both attended to by EMS and released.

Allen fled the scene and based on information received during an investigation by HCSO, the Florida Depart-

Florida ready to spend $74 million on tourism

By Mariana Toledo | Florida Watchdog

MIAMI — As Florida stands ready to dole out $74 million to promote Sunshine State tourism, many around the state are wondering if it's a wise use of public resources.

One thing's for sure. Visit Florida, the state's official marketing organization, will see a windfall.

But Roman Estomas isn't impressed at all.

He ferries tourists between Miami International Airport and Coral Gables' Hyatt Hotel, among others.

"We are the ones whose lives are on the line when a criminal rides in our car, or when we burn up from the heat ... but we are the last one on the totem pole in this town," Estomas said.

The record-setting tourism budget approved by state lawmakers is a 700-percent increase over the 2007-2008 budgets, when the state earmarked a paltry $13.5 million to promote the Sunshine State. It's still less than the $100 million Gov. Rick Scott wanted.

Florida Watchdog attempted to obtain a breakdown on how the cash will be spent, but officials figures weren't immediately available.

However, the Visit Florida's website says $5 million is earmarked to building a medical tourism sector, and $1.3 million will go to promote the Sunshine State to veterans and active-duty military.

Another $19 million will be used to target western states, and $16.6 million will go toward hooking new travelers through global marketing, according to reports published by PalmBeach

Post.com,

Jobs, jobs, jobs

Florida's governor justified the spending, saying the money will translate into jobs.

"Every 85 visitors to Florida equals one job in our state — and it is clear that more visitors to the Sunshine State means more jobs for Florida families," Scott said.

FloridaTaxWatch, a fiscally conservative government watchdog group, agrees with the plan. The private non-profit crunched the numbers and its data suggests 100 million tourists would create 121,298 jobs, half directly in the tourism sector and the other half in support industries like retail and construction.

But Mark Soskin, a professor of economics at Orlando's University of Central Florida, said that while tourism leads to lots of jobs, they are not well paid. Florida Watchdog tried to contact Soskin, but he didn't return requests for comment.

However according to the estimates Soskin gave to the Orlando Weekly, of 324 counties nationwide with more than 75,000 workers, Florida is home to the three with the lowest median incomes (Marion, Pasco and Lake,) and four others (Volusia, Manatee, Escambia and Polk) are in the bottom 25.

Water is wet, and Florida is sunny

Many are questioning if the money is well spent. Some say tourists will come to the state to vacation without the costly sales pitch. They may be right. It doesn't take an advanced degree in meteorology to know that Florida has great weather and long stretches of sparkling beaches. So do taxpayers really need to spend $74 million to get that point across?

Soskin, a critic of the state's reliance on tourism, says not really.

"There are no tourism industries that last," he told to Orlando Weekly. "There is a life cycle for destinations. They come and they go. We have to look beyond that point: Is it something that gets us there? It can't be what we are."

Deliverables, and not just promises

Budget proposals have yet to specify where exactly all the money will be spent, and whether any of it will go toward tangible things like remodeling facilities, infrastructure, security, and airport personnel, rather than just window dressing.

Some worry that throwing millions into slick advertisements won't shorten long lines at airport customs desks or lower sales-tax and hotel-tax rates. Others worry roads and schools are taking a back seat to the tourism economy.

In addition to the budget money they will receive, Visit Florida already manages the hefty "hotel tax," a tax that rakes in another $650 million, also earmarked toward marketing.

Orlando Weekly pointed out that Sentinel columnist Scott Maxwell first raised the issue in March 2001, back when he was on the county government beat. Maxwell looked at Las Vegas, where he found officials using $65 million of its tourist taxes every year on schools and roads.

In other states, hotel taxes support other entities, not just tourism promotion.

New Orleans, for example, uses hotel taxes for education. Chicago and Seattle spend those tax dollars on infrastructure and other public works projects.

In 2009, the Miami-Dade County Commission asked the state for its permission to use some of the money coming from the bed tax to hire extra police to patrol the tourist district. The request was turned down.

UFPA announces 2014-15 season

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — Michael Blachly, director of University of Florida Performing Arts (UFPA), has announced the 2014-2015 Season. The season schedule features 73 events from July through April.

Internationalization of its programs is a top priority for University of Florida. As part of this endeavor, UFPA has launched "Artists Crossing Borders," a program that highlights artists from around the world. As part of this program, UFPA will offer expanded residencies that will include community outreach, master classes and other non-performance programs.

UFPA will also be launching another new series, "Local Routes." The series aims to highlight artists from the Gainesville area. "We are fortunate to live in a strong artistic community," says Blachly. "To that end, we hope to provide a pathway for artists within our community to start appearing under the auspices of UFPA." The lineup for Local Routes will be announced in the fall, and all artists will perform in the intimacy of the Squitieri Studio Theatre.

Supporting up-and-coming artists has long been a UFPA tradition. This season, UFPA will present Julia Bullock, a Young Concert Artist. Ms. Bullock, a soprano, was the winner of the 2012 Young Concert Artist International Auditions, as well as the University of Florida Performing Arts prize, which includes a concert engagement. She will make her UFPA debut Sat., Jan. 10 at University Auditorium.

In response to audience feedback, UFPA has added more singer-songwriters to its programmatic offerings. "Each artist, while unique in their performance style and song genre, remains true to the storytelling aspect of the singer-songwriter genre," says Blachly. This season's singer-songwriters include Perla Batalla, John Gorka, Tab Benoit, Dala and David Wilcox.

Among the musical theater offerings for the 2014-2015 is the smash Broadway hit JERSEY BOYS for eight performances, Feb. 24 – March 1, at the Phillips Center. Other musicals include CAMELOT (Oct. 3 and 5) and CHICAGO (Feb. 8).

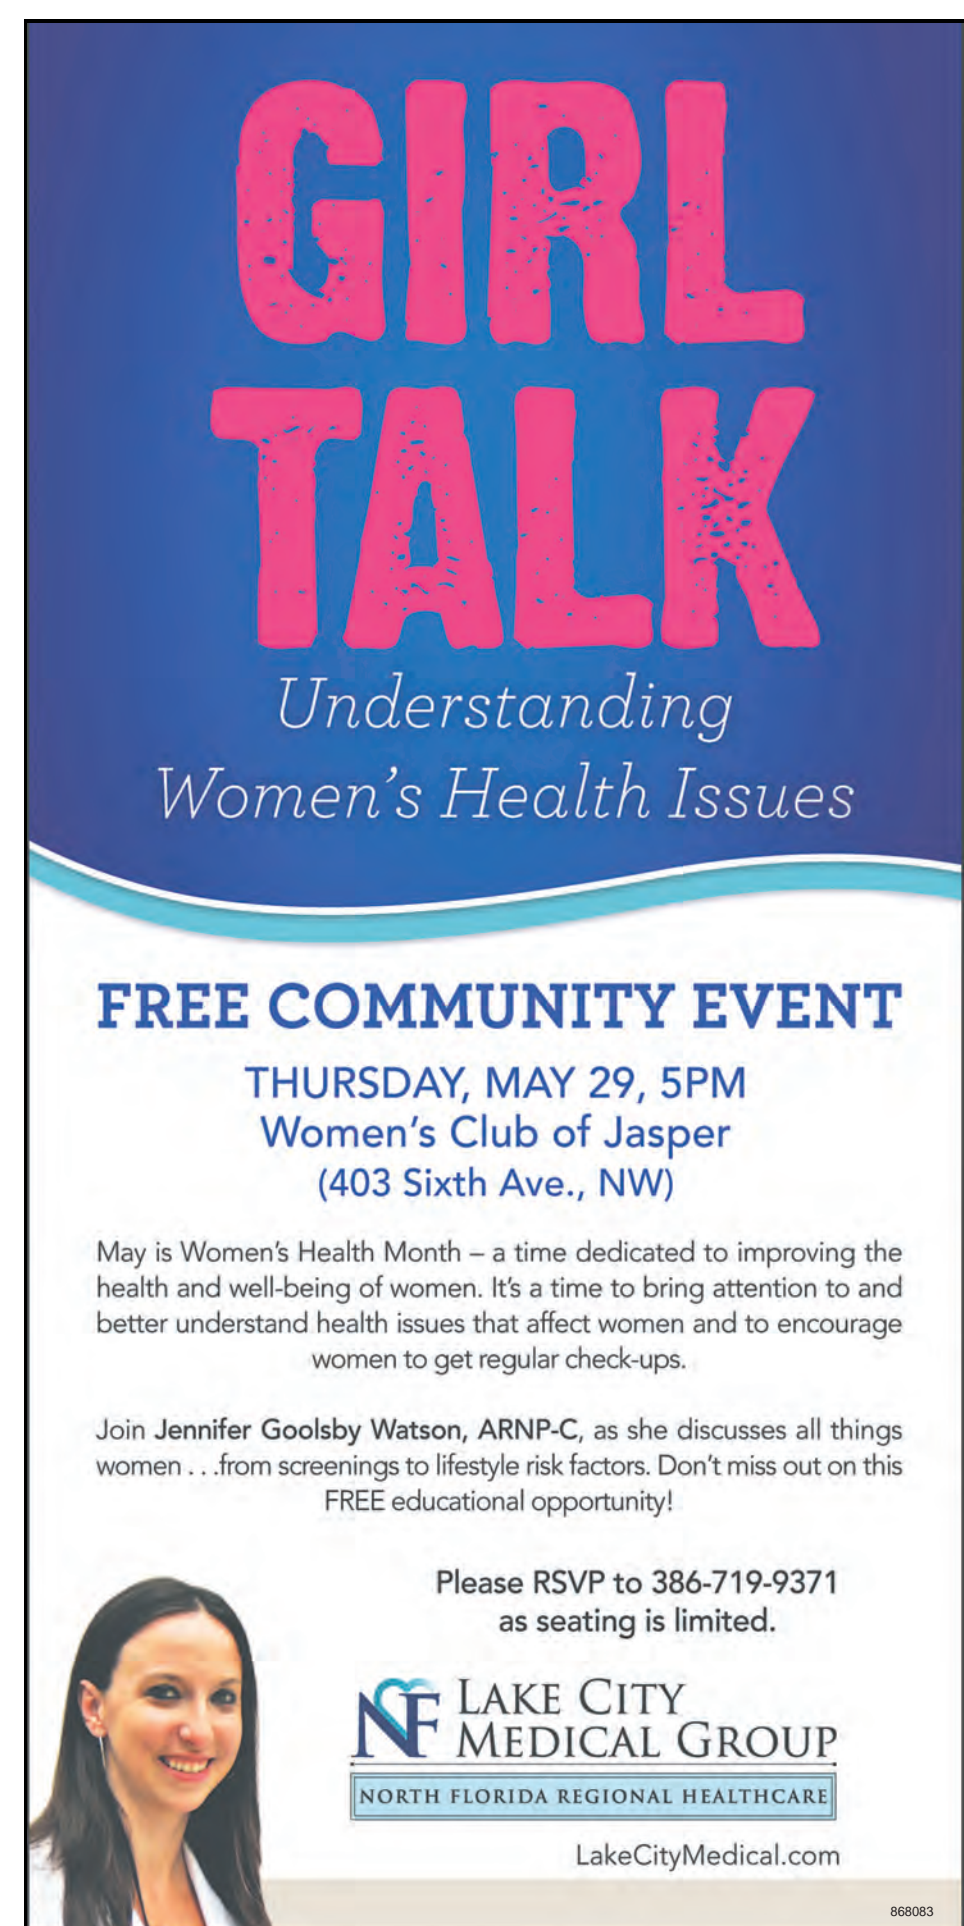

Other highlights of the 2014-2015 Season include Chris Thile & Edgar Meyer (Oct. 6), The Capitol Steps (Nov. 3), Mannheim Steamroller Christmas by Chip Davis (Nov. 16), The Official Blues Brothers Revue™ (Jan. 17), Arlo Guthrie – Alice's Restaurant 50th Anniversary Tour (Jan. 22), Mummenschanz: Musicians of Silence (Feb. 20), violinist Joshua Bell and pianist Sam Haywood (March 22) and Rosanne Cash (April 3).

Tickets for the 2014-2015 Season go on sale to the general public at noon Friday, July 11. For a complete list of the season – including times, dates, venues, prices and event descriptions – please visit www.performingarts.ufl.edu.

Life in WHITE SPRINGS

By Walter McKenzie

lifeinwhitesprings@gmail.com

"Bless his heart, I like his column alright most of the time but, I swear, if he writes about the Florida Folk Festival in his column again this week, I'm gonna quit readin' it.".... Anonymous reader.

Well alright, anonymous. I won't mention a thing about the festival, except to say that Merri and I will be there and when they ask the audience to hold up their hands to show if they've been to the festival for X number of years, I'll qualify for at least thirty consecutive years, and Merri at least forty, and quite a few folks have us beat, including a few that have been in attendance all sixty two years. Why do all these folks keep coming back to the Florida Folk Festival year after year? Well I'm sorry, I promised anonymous I wouldn't write about it, so you'll just have to show up and see for yourself. I hope to see you there this year, and year after year after year after year, keeping your attendance streak intact!

Last Saturday morning Merri and I went to the part of the White Springs "May Day" event that took place at the Old Carver School site. While there we were "filled up", not only with delicious food, but also with the warmth of feeling welcomed, and with a greater knowledge of the importance of the history of "May Day" in White Springs and of the Carver School and the community that was part of it. Leaders, soldiers, educators, parents, champions and heroes all passed through those Carver school doors back in the day, and many of them were there last Saturday to gather under a small tent near the old school to celebrate their memories and their heritage, and to tell their stories. We were reminded again and again, sometimes with humor and sometimes with fierce pride, that "White Springs is a Special Place!" I'm glad I got to hear these stories. They are an important part of the fabric of our community and, as a more recent citizen of White Springs, I feel humbled and proud to be in such good company. The activities that took place later at the ball field were loud, fun and extremely well attended but we chose to enjoy them from a distance because that style of celebration was more for the young folk. For us, the real meaning of White Springs' May Day Celebration had already taken place earlier in the day under that small tent by the old Carver School, a small space filled with great people, great stories and great joy.

The Stephen Foster Citizen Support Organization met last Monday and the big crowd of attendees was treated to a delicious meal, some treasures for a "buck in the bucket", and some really good news about the park and the CSO. They were also introduced to our brand new Park Ranger, Kim Rivers. Kim has a long association with the park as a story teller at many different events and should feel right at home. Welcome aboard Kim! Carol Stob, CSO President, and Park Manager Michelle Waterman gave reports and here are some highlights. The Seminole Family Camp, made up of numerous new Chickee Huts, will be finished for the Folk Festival. Chief Jim Billie and his people have built these magnificent structures in their new location next to the Thelma Boltin Gift Shop and Michelle has lined up contractors to do the handicapped walkways in the area. Our thanks to the Seminole Nation for their support!

The Gift Shop and all the events at the park have done well for the past year and that has made it possible for the CSO to approve some significant expenditures for the park including the following:

- $1,000 Replacement equipment for coffee house (mikes, speakers, other small items)
- $1,500 Washer/dryer for the volunteers
- $45,000 Picnic area Restroom (held over from last year)
- $850 Movie Night License
- $7,000 Improve Amphitheater sound tube
- $10,000 Seminole Village Signage
- $30,000 Contribution to the Florida Folk Festival 2015 entertainment cost
- $3,000 CSO Office and Craft Store computers
- $3,500 Replace Folklife Interpretive signs

The truly remarkable thing about all of this is that, in addition to the hard work done daily by park personnel, none of this would have been possible without the efforts of the many volunteers who serve the Citizen Support Organization and the park. Thanks Volunteers! We appreciate you!

Once again, I've probably said enough but there was a lot to say because, as always, there is a lot going on. However, I can't write about it if I don't know about it! I'm constantly on the lookout for more good news so I check my email often and look forward to hearing from you. I hope to see you out and about, enjoying life in White Springs!

Hamilton: Health Department waives testing fees for affected wells

River flooding might affect private wells

Submitted

River flooding may have impacted your private well and made your water unsafe. If your well casing has been submerged by flood water, either use bottled water, or boil or disinfect all the water you use for drinking, making beverages, cooking, brushing your teeth, washing dishes, and washing areas of the skin that have been cut or injured.

Common unscented household bleach (4 to 6%) can be used effectively as a chlorine disinfectant. Add 8 drops (about 1/8 teaspoon) of unscented household bleach per gallon of water, then let stand for 30 minutes, repeating the procedure if the water is still cloudy. An alternative disinfecting method involves bringing water to a rolling boil for one minute.

If your well has been flooded please call the Florida Department of Health in Hamilton County for information on how to sample your water free of charge and where to bring the sample for bacteriological testing. If the test reveals bacteria, the well and water system need to be disinfected.

It is important to disinfect both well and plumbing water with unscented household bleach to ensure that all infectious agents are destroyed. If you have water treatment devices, remove all membranes, cartridges, and filters and replace them after the chlorination process is completed. The amount of chlorine determines the length of time you allow the bleach to remain in your system.

DOH recommends the following steps to disinfect a contaminated well:

If the water is discolored before adding the bleach, run the water until it is clear for up to 10 minutes.

Turn off and then drain your hot water heater—bleach is not effective in water above 105 degrees.

Remove and replace charcoal filters after the disinfecting process is completed.

To avoid adding contamination to the well during disinfection, clean the work area around the top of the well. Then remove grease and mineral deposits from accessible parts of the well head and flush the outside surfaces with 1/2 cup of unscented household bleach in 5 gallons of water.

Turn off the pump. Remove the cap or the well plug on the rubber seal. There are many types of well caps and plugs. If you have questions, you should contact a licensed well driller. If you have a submersible pump, you may also want to contact a licensed well driller for advice on disinfection procedures.

Consult the bleach chart and pour the recommended amount of unscented bleach (4 to 6%) solution into the well. Try to coat the sides of the casing as you pour. If you get bleach on the pump or wiring, flush it thoroughly with fresh water to prevent later corrosion.

Re-cap or plug the well opening and wait 30 minutes.

Turn on and, if needed, re-prime the pump. Open all of the faucets on the system one at a time. Allow the water to run until there is a noticeable smell of bleach. You may also want to flush the toilets. If you have outside faucets, you may want to direct the water away from sensitive plants. If you cannot detect a bleach odor, repeat the disinfecting process.

Turn off all of the faucets and allow the bleach to remain in the system for at least eight hours.

Backwash water softeners, sand filters, and iron removal filters with bleach water.

Again, open all the faucets and run the water until there is no bleach smell—for up to 15 minutes.

After disinfecting your well, the water needs to be tested to verify that it is safe to drink. Although unscented household bleach is effective against microorganisms, it will not remove chemical contamination that may have gotten into your well

For further information, please visit www.doh.state.fl.us or www.FloridaDisaster.org.

The mission of the Florida Department of Health is to protect and promote the health of all residents and visitors in the state through organized state and community efforts, including cooperative agreements with counties. For more information about DOH programs, visit www.doh.state.fl.us.

A MINORITY VIEW

© 2014 Creators Syndicate

BY WALTER WILLIAMS

From the Nazis to the Stalinists, tyrants have always started out supporting free speech, and why is easy to understand. Speech is vital for the realization of their goals of command, control and confiscation. Basic to their agenda are the tools of indoctrination, propagandizing, proselytization. Once they gain power, as leftists have at many universities, free speech becomes a liability and must be suppressed. This is increasingly the case on university campuses.

Back in 1964, it was Mario Savio, a campus leftist, who led the free speech movement at the Berkeley campus of the University of California, a movement that played a vital role in placing American universities center stage in the flow of political ideas, no matter how controversial, unpatriotic and vulgar. The free speech movement gave birth to the hippie movement of the '60s and '70s. The longhair, unkempt hippies of that era have grown up and now often find themselves being college professors, deans, provosts and presidents. Their intolerance of free speech and other ideas has become policy and practice on many college campuses.

Former Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice, one of the nation's most accomplished women, graciously withdrew as Rutgers University's commencement speaker after two months of campus protests about her role in the Iraq War. Some students and professors said, "War criminals shouldn't be honored."

One wonders whether these students would similarly protest Hillary Clinton, who, as senator, voted for the invasion of Iraq.

Brandeis University officials were intimidated into rescinding their invitation to Somali writer and American Enterprise Institute scholar Ayaan Hirsi Ali, whose criticisms of radical Islam were said to have violated the school's "core values." Brandeis decided that allowing her to speak would be hurtful to Muslim students. I take it that Brandeis students and officials would see criticism of deadly Islamist terrorist gang Boko Haram's kidnapping of nearly 300 Nigerian girls, some of whom have been sold off as brides, as unacceptable and violative of the university's core values.

Azusa Pacific University, a private Christian university, canceled a planned address by distinguished libertarian scholar Charles Murray out of fear that his lecture might upset "faculty and students of color." In response to the cancellation, Murray wrote an open letter to the students, which in part read: "The task of the scholar is to present a case for his or her position based on evidence and logic. Another task of the scholar is to do so in a way that invites everybody into the discussion rather than demonize those who disagree. Try to find anything under my name that is not written in that spirit. Try to find even a paragraph that is written in anger, takes a cheap shot, or attacks women, African Americans, Latinos, Asians, or anyone else." Unfortunately, such a scholarly vision is greeted with hostility at some universities.

Earlier this year, faculty and students held a meeting at Vassar College to discuss a particularly bitter internal battle over the school's movement to boycott Israel. Before the meeting, an English professor announced the dialogue would "not be guided by cardboard notions of civility." That professor might share the vision of Adolf Hitler's brown-shirted thugs of the paramilitary wing of the Nazi party in their effort to crush dissent.

Western values of liberty are under ruthless attack by the academic elite on college campuses across America. These people want to replace personal liberty with government control; they want to replace equality with entitlement. As such, they pose a far greater threat to our way of life than any terrorist organization or rogue nation. Multiculturalism and diversity are a cancer on our society. Ironically, we not only are timid in response but feed those ideas with our tax dollars and charitable donations.

On having some fun with politicians

Dwain Walden
The Moultrie Observer

Several years ago I attended a symposium of sorts. Maybe it was a workshop or a seminar. I'm not sure how to tell the difference. It was a meeting. It was sponsored by government entities, and the gist was to try to bring us journalists (mainly us newspaper folk) in line.

Now obviously it wasn't billed that way. The cover story was to build better relationships between the press and governments. And curiously, it seemed to be designed as to where the government was to do most of the talking and we, the press, were supposed to be doing most of the listening.

As we got into the commentaries, a Board of County Commissioners' attorney charged that the press was "too adversary." Well, having been in the news business for quite a number of years and having been in a few Sunshine Law skirmishes along the way, that got my hackles up just a bit.

So I raised my hand on that point and was recognized to speak. So I asked the gentleman, just for the record, what profession he represented. It was that of a lawyer of course.

So I responded: "And you're calling the press adversary? On our worst days, wouldn't that be like the a platypus and an aardvark competing in a beauty contest?"

The folks from the press embraced the levity. The politicians did not. Maybe aardvark threw them.

Now don't get me wrong, we have some really good folks serving in government. I've known many of them. I think most of them have good intentions. I appreciate those qualified people who will offer their services when we have elections. Such is fundamental to our democratic republic.

My concern is that we all remember that it is "our government." And one role of the press is to keep an eye on government because there are those instances — well documented — where the "our" part is neglected. It's okay to trust, but it's crucial to verify.

I've taken a lot of jibes from my friends in politics through the years. And I've delivered a few as well. Most of it has been good natured. A little has been somewhat serrated. The give and take is historical.

Through the years I've collected a few quotes relative to politics, just in case I needed a comeback. I share a few gems now:

"If God had wanted us to vote, he would have given us candidates." - Jay Leno.

"The problems with political jokes is they get elected." — Henry Cate, VII

"We hang the petty thieves and appoint the great ones to public office." - Aesop

"Politicians are the same all over. They promise to build a bridge even where there is no river." - Nikita Khrushchev

"When I was a boy, I was told that anybody could become president; I'm beginning to believe it." - Clarence Darrow

"Politicians are people who, when they see light

Tom Vilsack
U.S. Secretary of Agriculture

at the end of the tunnel, go out and buy some more tunnel." - John Quinton

"A politician is a fellow who will lay down your life for his country." - Tex Guinan

And now in all fairness to this issue:

"We've uncovered some embarrassing ancestors in the not-too-distant past. Some horse thieves, and some people killed on Saturday nights. One of my relatives, unfortunately, was even in the newspaper business." - President Jimmy Carter.

"Media is just a word that has come to mean bad journalism." - Graham Greene

"All I know is just what I read in the papers, and that's an alibi for my ignorance." - Will Rogers

"The press is like the peculiar uncle you keep in the attic - just one of those unfortunate things." - G. Gordon Liddy

Protecting our pollinators

Tom Vilsack
U.S. Secretary of Agriculture

Last week, USDA and its partners released the results of the eighth annual national survey of honey bee losses. The survey shows good news—fewer honey bee colonies were lost this winter than in previous years. According to survey results, total losses of managed honey bee colonies from all causes were 23.2 percent nationwide.

That figure is a significant improvement over the 30.5 percent loss reported last winter, but it is still higher than the eight-year average loss of 29.6 percent and still far above the 18.9 percent level of loss that beekeepers say is acceptable for their economic sustainability.

While we're pleased to see improvement this year, these losses are still too high.

There is still more work to be done to stabilize honey bee populations and ensure the health of pollinator populations and the health of the American population—nearly one third of our diet, including many berries, nuts, fruits and vegetables, comes from plants pollinated by honey bees and other pollinators.

That is why USDA continues to aggressively support research and initiatives that will lead to long-term solutions to improve honey bee health.

Our Agricultural Research Service has put together a program to breed bees that can naturally resist varroa mites, a major factor contributing to honey bee colony declines. Earlier this year, we provided $3 million in technical and financial assistance to encourage farmers in Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin to grow alfalfa, clover and other flowering habitat on working lands to benefit bees and other pollinators.

In addition, the administration's fiscal year 2015 budget proposal dedicates $71 million for efforts to respond to the decline in honey bee health and support their recovery. Included in this request is funding for the Pollinator and Pollinator Health Innovation Institute, which will support further exploration of the biological, environmental and management issues associated with honey bee decline.

Additionally, last week we launched a new tool to increase public awareness about the reduction of bee populations. The People's Garden Apiary bee cam at our headquarters will broadcast honey bee hive activity live online at www.usda.gov/bee-watch. To learn more about USDA and our partners' efforts to improve honey bee health and how you can help by adopting pollinator-friendly land management practices at home, on the farm, and within your local community, visit www.nrcs.usda.gov/pollinators.

Gulf recreational red snapper season opens May 24 in state waters

The recreational red snapper season in Gulf state waters opens Saturday, May 24, and will remain open through July 14, a total of 52 days, closing July 15.

This season was set at the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) meeting in April. Opening the season the Saturday before Memorial Day will provide recreational red snapper fishing opportunities through an important holiday weekend, helping attract more visitors and bringing economic benefits to our coastal communities.

The federal season will be nine days, starting June 1 and remaining open through June 9, closing June 10.

Florida state waters in the Gulf are from shore to nine nautical miles. Federal waters extend from where state waters end, out to about 200 nautical miles.

The daily bag limit for red snapper will remain two per person in Gulf state and federal waters. The minimum size limit is 16 inches total length. There is a zero daily bag and possession limit for captain and crew of for-hire vessels.

Recreational anglers targeting reef fish such as red snapper in Gulf state and federal waters are required to use dehooking devices and non-off-set, non-stainless steel circle hooks when fishing with natural bait. These devices are designed to help increase the likelihood a fish will survive if it is released. Venting tools are no longer required when targeting reef fish. This requirement was removed to allow fishermen the freedom to use the methods or tools of their choosing when releasing reef fish.

To learn more about recreational red snapper fishing in the Gulf of Mexico, visit MyFWC.com/Fishing and click on "Saltwater," "Recreational Regulations" and "Gulf Snapper."

Pool Safety Tips For Parents

When shopping for a home, parents often marvel at properties that feature a pool in the backyard. Once they see a pool, parents envision their kids having fun in the sun with friends and family.

While days spent poolside with the family are fun, they can also be dangerous, especially for children. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, children ages 1 to 4 have the highest drowning rates, and fatal drowning is the second-leading cause of unintentional injury-related death for children ages 1 to 14 years. It's no wonder then why parents place such a strong emphasis on pool safety. The following are some preventative measures parents can take to reduce their child's risk of an accident in the pool.

* Ensure children know how to swim. Teaching kids to swim might sound obvious, but many kids jump into pools before having any formal swimming training. But a child who has received formal swimming lessons has a significantly smaller risk of injury or drowning than one who has not received formal lessons. A 2009 study published in the Archives of Pediatrics and Medicine found that participation in formal swimming lessons can reduce the risk of drowning by 88 percent among children ages 1 to 14 years. Local community centers as well as the YMCA and even the Red Cross likely offer swimming lessons for children, so parents should take advantage of these highly effective programs.

* Pay constant attention when kids are in the pool. Kids should never be left unattended when in a pool. But accidents happen even when parents are nearby. However, how quickly adults or others respond to a child in danger can have a significant impact on the outcome of an emergency situation. A study in the medical journal Pediatrics determined that the more quickly someone is able to intervene, such as administering CPR, the better the chance of improving the outcome. So parents should respond as quickly as possible whenever they suspect something has gone wrong in the pool.

* Don't rely on air-filled or foam toys. Parents should not rely on air-filled flotation devices such as "water wings" as a safety measure. Such devices can deflate, putting kids at risk, especially if parents are under the assumption that the devices are enough to keep kids safe while they man the grill or mow the lawn. Even if kids wearing flotation devices have had swimming lessons, the likelihood kids will panic and forget those lessons if the devices deflate is significant enough that parents should pay constant attention.

* Do not consume alcohol. Adults should never consume alcohol while children are swimming in the pool. Alcohol can negatively affect judgement, balance and coordination, making it more difficult to respond to a pool emergency should one occur. In addition, the effects of alcohol are heightened by exposure to the sun and heat, so consuming alcohol on hot summer days while kids are swimming in the pool could be an unnecessary risk.

* Put all toys away after swimming. A pool and its surrounding deck should not have toys lying around, as this only entices children to go into the pool area when Mom and Dad might not be home or watching them. A study from the Consumer Product Safety Commission found that most young children who drowned in pools were last seen in the home and had been out of sight for less than five minutes. Kids can quickly disappear, and it might be too late before parents notice their youngster has jumped into the pool unsupervised. Put all toys away once a swimming session ends, so kids don't feel the urge to go play by the pool unsupervised.

A backyard pool is both fun and potentially dangerous. A few safety measures can drastically reduce the risk of drowning or injury, but parents should remain alert and attentive whenever kids are swimming or playing around the pool.

CAPTION: Parents should take safety measures to prevent kids from injury or drowning when swimming in a backyard pool.

AAA forecasts busiest Memorial Day travel weekend since recession

Overall travel volume increased 1.5 percent from last year

AAA Travel projects 36.1 million Americans will journey 50 miles or more from home during the Memorial Day holiday weekend, a 1.5 percent increase from the 35.5 million people who traveled last year. Kicking off the summer driving season, more than eight in 10 travelers will drive to their destinations. The Memorial Day holiday travel period is defined as Thursday, May 22 to Monday, May 26.

"A long and unusually harsh winter gave many Americans the travel bug," said Mark Jenkins, spokesman, AAA – The Auto Club Group. "Combine rising temperatures with signs of an improving economy, and travel for the holiday should hit a new post-recession high."

Although an increased number of people plan to travel during the holiday weekend, more than half (57 percent) of Memorial Day travelers in the Southeast still need to finalize their travel plans such as hotel reservations, car rentals, and the like, according to a recent AAA Consumer Pulse™ survey.

"Hotel and car rental reservations are filling up fast for Memorial Day," said Jessica Brady, spokeswoman, AAA Travel. "Now is the time to make your Memorial Day travel arrangements to ensure you get what you want for the price that fits your budget."

Highlights from 2014 Memorial Day Travel Forecast include:

- Memorial Day holiday travel volume is expected to reach a new post-recession high with 36.1 million

Americans taking a trip

- The 2014 forecast is 2.6 percent higher than the 10-year historical average and the second highest travel volume since 2000 (2005 was the highest)

- Eighty-eight percent of travelers (31.8 million) to travel by automobile, an increase from 31.4 million last year

- Holiday air travel expected to increase from 2.4 percent to 2.6 million leisure travelers

- Travel by other modes of transportation including cruise, trains and buses will see the largest increase, up 6.5 percent (total 1.7 million travelers)

- Travelers will encounter slightly higher prices with airfares 6 percent higher, mid-range hotels up 2 percent and car rentals costing 1 percent more.

National & State Numbers	Auto Travel	Air Travel	Other Travel	Total Projected Travelers
Nationwide	31.8 million	2.6 million	1.7 million	36.1 million
Florida	1.6 million	138,445	61,553	1.8 million
Georgia	926,610	76,564	34,040	1 million
Tennessee	687,434	54,248	32,353	774,035

Economic improvement spurs travel growth

Improvements in several key economic factors are driving the expectation for more holiday travelers this year. "Consumer spending, disposable income, consumer confidence and the employment outlook are trending up which is welcomed news for the travel industry," continued Jenkins.

The unforgiving winter was a hindrance to economic growth at the beginning of the year but economic factors influenced by weather, such as car and home sales, appear to be resolving themselves now. Indicative of the unusually harsh winter, AAA experienced an increase of nearly 12 percent in battery related calls this winter.

Impact of gasoline prices on travel plans

AAA expects that most drivers will pay lower gas prices by Memorial Day weekend due to rising supplies. AAA expects holiday gas prices to be relatively similar or even slightly less than last year's national Memorial Day average of $3.63 per gallon, though unexpected developments such as refinery problems or international events could result in higher costs. "With many plans already made and budgets set, it is unlikely that gas prices will have a significant effect on travel plans compared to a year ago," Jenkins said.

Travel expenses rise modestly

According to AAA's Leisure Travel Index, hotel rates for AAA Three Diamond lodgings are expected to increase just two percent from one year ago with travelers spending an average of $169 per night compared to $166 last year. The average hotel rate for AAA Two Diamond hotels has risen 3 percent with an average cost of $124 per night.

Weekend daily car rental rates will average $44, only 1 percent higher than last year. Airfares are experiencing the largest increase. The average round-trip, discounted fares for the top 40 U.S. routes have increased 6 percent to $227 from $215 last year.

AAA offers digital travel planning resources

AAA's digital tools for travel planning 'on the go' include eTourBook guides for tablets and smartphones, available free to members at AAA.com/ebooks. Choose from 101 top North American destinations including city titles, like the award-winning Las Vegas, regions, like Wine Country, and National Parks.

Android uses GPS navigation to help travelers map a route, find current gas prices and discounts, book a hotel, and access AAA roadside assistance. Members using the iPad version can access interactive Top Destinations travel guides for 10 popular cities. Travelers can learn more at AAA.com/mobile.

On AAA.com, travelers can find thousands of AAA Approved and Diamond Rated hotels and restaurants using AAA's TripTik Travel Planner or the searchable Travel Guides at AAA.com/Travel. Every AAA Approved establishment offers the assurance of acceptable cleanliness, comfort and hospitality, and ratings of One to Five Diamonds help travelers find the right match for amenities and services.

AAA's projections are based on economic forecasting and research by IHS Global Insight. The Colorado-based business information provider teamed with AAA in 2009 to jointly analyze travel trends during the major holidays. AAA has been reporting on holiday travel trends for more than two decades. The complete AAA / IHS Global Insight 2014 Memorial Day Travel Forecast can be found at <http://newsroom.aaa.com/>.

FWC seeks input on proposed largemouth bass-management change

If you are among the 750,000-plus Florida bass anglers, now is the time to provide your opinion about Florida's proposed change to largemouth bass conservation by filling out a new online survey.

The change being considered is a five-bass daily bag limit, only one of which may be 16 inches in total length or longer. This means that each person would be allowed to keep up to five largemouth bass less than 16 inches, or four largemouth bass less than 16 inches and one largemouth bass 16 inches or longer each day.

This change would replace current length limits, but would not alter the current statewide bag limit of five bass.

To take the survey and to learn more about largemouth bass, and current and possible future management changes, go to MyFWC.com/Fishing and select the "Speak out on bass rules!" link under the bass icon near the middle of the page. Based on public input and future edits to the proposal, the earliest this rule change is expected to be implemented is July 2016.

"The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) takes public opinions very seriously," said Tom Champeau, director of the Division of Freshwater Fisheries Management. "Combined with the best science and case studies that we have to go on, public input helps us strive for optimal sustained use of these popular and valuable fish."

In 2011 the Black Bass Management Plan was approved, based on comments from more than 7,500 anglers and a series of Technical Advisory Group meetings involving Florida guides, tournament anglers, marina owners, trophy bass fishermen, outdoor writers and tourism representatives.

The plan encouraged FWC biologists to develop the least restrictive regulations feasible to enhance trophy bass fisheries, maintain healthy bass populations statewide, and provide diverse angling opportunities. Public input encouraged controlling the number of big bass taken from the wild and enhancing angler satisfaction. Based on a review of biological and sociological data that included almost 6,000 public responses to a preliminary survey and open-house events around the state, the FWC is seeking additional feedback on the proposed change to create a basic statewide regulation for largemouth bass.

Currently, south and east of the Suwannee River there is a 14-inch minimum, and in the Suwannee River and north and west there is a 12-inch minimum size limit for bass. Data show that protecting these smaller fish is not necessary, biologically and that the size limit complicates regulations. What is advantageous is protecting bigger fish, which are rarer and take longer to produce – hence the proposed catch limit of only one bass that is 16 inches or longer. This regulation would also be more lenient in the fishing zone in the south (east of Highway 441 and south of State Road 80), which currently allows only one bass over 14 inches.

Limited exceptions for specific fisheries that have special needs or opportunities would still be possible, such as high-profile, catch-and-release fisheries that need such a management approach, or even a few more liberal regulations where bass may be overabundant. Those would be limited exceptions and generally associated with fish management areas.

In addition, it is important to note that there is no intent to alter the simple Bass Tournament Exemption Permit process (see MyFWC.com/Permits then click on "Freshwater" and "Black Bass Tournament").

Currently, bass organizations holding tournaments may apply online for a temporary exemption to bass size limits. This is done to ensure the health of Florida freshwater resources while encouraging fishing participation from small clubs to major tournaments. Tournament organizers and sponsors must emphasize proper handling and care of bass to their participants and adhere to live-release guidelines stipulated in the permit. Moreover, in return for the temporary exemption to allow weigh-in prior to live-release of the bass, all tournament participants must forego any harvest. Hence, they are not allowed to keep what would otherwise be their five-fish bag limit. Any fish that accidentally die in a permitted tournament must be donated to charity or for research. Tournaments are not required to have a permit if they choose to abide by existing regulations (e.g., currently one bass longer than 22 inches or the proposed one bass over 16 inches).

Besides filling out the survey, those interested in ensuring quality bass fishing can do two other things: Sign up for our Trophy-Catch citizen-science program that rewards anglers for catching, documenting and releasing bass heavier than 8 pounds (see Trophy-CatchFlorida.com), and purchase a "Go Fishing" largemouth bass tag for your vehicle or trailer (see <http://bit.ly/FLbass-tag>).

Around the Banks of the Suwannee

By Correspondent
Johnny Bullard

Growing up in the small community of White Springs, there were several events that marked for us the beginning of warmer weather, which occurs here in our beloved homeland in late spring rather than the traditional first day of summer around June 21.

There was the annual Florida Folk Festival, which, during the days of my growing up years, was held the first weekend in May.

Then, shedding your shoes to go "barefooted" during the hot, summer months. By the way, you rarely caught a child or teenager during those days wearing shoes, except to school and church.

Lastly, the celebration and most importantly, the remembrance of Memorial Day.

I want to concentrate on the last one for a short space this week, as there are times, during the hustle and bustle of the Memorial Day weekend holiday that we have a tendency to forget "why" we have the holiday and "what" we are remembering.

Memorial Day was born out of one of the most bloody conflicts that ever occurred in this nation, the War between the States, the American Civil War (1861-1865). During that bloody conflict, thousands of individuals, mostly men, lost their lives fighting for "hearth and home". In some instances, they didn't know the reason they were fighting, nor did some particularly believe in "the cause", but they fought, because they felt it was their patriotic duty.

At the conclusion of the war, individuals and organizations on either side, North and South, began holding Decoration Days, "Memorial" Days, to remember those who gave their lives in the war.

In many instances, monuments were erected, speeches were made, and parades and other commemorative events were organized. One of the most notable was in Charleston, South Carolina, where a group of newly freed African American slaves organnized an event to remember some 267 Federal troops who were buried in a mass, unmarked grave. On the day this event was held in 1865, some 10,000 individuals, including many young African American school children who were attending school for the first time ever, came to honor the memory of those who were "unknown soldiers".

While Memorial Days or Decoration Days were held all over the United States in various states on dates ranging from late April to late May, it was not until 1967, and I found this very interesting, that President Lyndon B. Johnson signed into legislation an Act of Congress that stated the last Monday in May would be declared a National Holiday and be Memorial Day. Those were not the exact words of the legislation but you get the gist.

So, and, my old English teacher, Mrs. Dorothy L. Bryant, would chide me for beginning a sentence with "So", ---So, Memorial Day as a National Holiday is less than a half century in age.

There is not a family in this region who, as a family, has not been touched by someone in the military. Many families in our region received that "dreaded telegram" that came from the military beginning, "We regret to inform you...."

I had a friend, the late Dr. Vanessa Dean Arnold, Lake City, who served many years as a professor at the University of Mississippi "Ole Miss". Dr. Arnold was born in a small town in Alabama. She had brothers who served in the military during the Second World War. She wrote an account of some of her memories during those years of the Second World War and expressed that she would be working in the cotton fields and would watch "the car" that everyone knew was "the car" that carried the news of one of those dreaded telegrams. She related that she watched that car many times, and one day, as she was working, "the car" turned down their lane bringing the tragic news that her brother had lost his life in the defense of this nation. When I read that account, I don't mind relating to you that the tears flowed from these eyes like the Suwannee during "high water".

My paternal uncle, William G. Taylor, is visiting with us in White Springs. He resides in Phoenix, Arizona. He proudly served this nation for over 30 years in military service in the United States Air Force. He traveled all over the world and sacrificed a lot in service for this nation. His eldest son Donald attended and graduated from the United States Air Force Academy, and recently retired from active military service as a high ranking officer in the United States Air Force.

I have many former students and friends who have given the better part of their lives to the United States military; Brad and Robin Hall, White Springs, who both served in the United States Air Force as officers. They were in the medical division of the United States Air Force. I can relate something to you about them.

Each Memorial Day when Brad and Robin's four sons, Cooper, Cameron, Conner and Carson were growing up, their parents took them religiously with small American flags, and they placed those flags on the graves of those who served in the United States military throughout southern Hamilton County. They instilled a love of country and patriotism in those boys and perhaps, as a result, two of those fine young men are now serving our nation in the United States Army, the "twins" Cooper and Cameron. I am proud of them, as I am proud of all my "children" who are serving in the military.

Often I hear from Anitra Joseph, her mother, Elvira Udell Williams, was a classmate. Anitra is an officer in the United States Navy. Her paternal grandfather, Mr. Lawrence J. "Jim" Udell, served this nation during the Korean War. The legacy of service continues.

I think about Memorial Day when, in the past, and I have to do better this year, I purchase my Memorial Day Poppies from Mrs. Bertha Johnson, who sells them for the American Legion Women's Auxiliary in Jasper. I think about Memorial Day when I think about the dedication of men like Jasper's Lamar Royals, who worked so hard to bring to fruition a beautiful Veteran's Park in front of the Courthouse Annex, formerly the old Hamilton County High School in Jasper.

I think about Memorial Day when I take my mother over to the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Lake City or down to Gainesville, as Mama is a veteran of the United States Air Force. She was kind of a "trail blazer" coming from the small Southern town of Live Oak and serving in the United States Air Force for a couple of years.

I think of Memorial Day when I see the plaque honoring the late Clyde Hillhouse on the front of the United States Post Office in White Springs, which was named in his memory. He was a Prisoner of War of the Japanese in the Philippine Islands during the Second World War.

I remember the story told by the late Mrs. Elizabeth A. Barrett, Jasper, who was a cousin to Clyde's mother, the late Mrs.

Cora Hillhouse. She related to me that she was in the post office in Jasper the day that Mrs. Cora received official word that Clyde was alive after he had been a prisoner of war for a long, long time. "Aunt" Liz never told that story that she didn't become emotional. We all would, she and I, her sister, Mrs. Juanita, Mrs. Elizabeth's daughter Kitty, and many times Mrs. Juanita's daughter Judy. She didn't tell it often, but when she did, the handkerchiefs and Kleenex had to be passed all around.

I think of it when I go to the cemetery in White Springs and see the beautiful memorial marker and flagpole that was erected there a few years ago. Mr. John McCormick, Jasper, was instrumental in having that flagpole and marker erected, and I was privileged to participate in a program when it was dedicated. The late Billy Register, White Springs, is the name on the memorial marker in Riverside Cemetery that is near the flagpole. I can close my eyes and see him as a young teenage boy working in the tobacco fields with my daddy, the late Wade Bullard, and my paternal uncle, the late Warren Bullard.

I can keep those eyes closed and remember the day Daddy came home and told us that Billy had lost his life in Vietnam. With that memory, these eyes again mist over.

The United States is a great nation; in my opinion, the greatest nation in the world. Our nation is not perfect, but nothing is this side of heaven, but it is a GREAT nation, and there is a reason for that...FREEDOM. People will do just about anything to obtain it. Millions have died for it. Thousands suffer each day in hospitals around the world who have paid the price for it. You and I enjoy it. It is the reason this column can appear in the newspaper. It is the reason you can travel in your automobile to the destination of your choice over the coming Memorial Day Weekend or you can stay home. It is the reason you can worship where you choose to worship. It is the reason you have the PRIVILEGE to vote, and it is the reason you are able to voice your opinion and say what is right or wrong about our nation. The price paid for these freedoms was and is extremely high.

As you go about your leisurely way this coming weekend, take some time and reflect upon the reason for your holiday. Say a prayer of thanks for those who willingly served and for those who made "The Supreme Sacrifice on the Altar of Freedom". LEST WE FORGET.

From the Eight Mile Still on the Woodpecker Route north of White Springs, wishing you all a happy Memorial Day weekend and a good day filled with joy, peace, and above all, lots of love and laughter. God Bless you all. God Bless America.

EMS Week is May 18-24

EMS Week celebrates the dedication and self-sacrifice of all EMS workers. The Hamilton County Board of County Commissioners have signed a proclamation declaring the Week of May 18-24, 2014, as Emergency Medical Services Week with the theme, "EMS: Dedicated For Life", and encourage the community to observe this week with appropriate programs, ceremonies and activities.

Each and every day, Emergency Medical Service departments across the nation respond to thousands of 911 calls. Many times this means EMT's and paramedics have to go out in weather that most of us would never consider being in. They also willingly place themselves in harm's way to save a life. As a part of their training, they took an oath to save lives and protect this community.

EMS originated in 1974 when President Gerald Ford signed a bill and placed David R. Boyd as head director of the Division of Emergency Medical Service System. That was when Director Boyd convinced President Ford to proclaim a National Emergency Medical Services Week. Gerald Ford has been known as the "Hero" of the EMS story. He was a true believer who supported EMS during difficult political and economic budgetary times.

Hamilton County EMS currently operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. We are fortunate to have a full time Advanced Life Support System. Our system consists of an operations manager, office manager, 3 shift captains and both full time and part time employees. All of these employees, including volunteers, help operate the ambulances in our county.

Mac Leggett was appointed the operations manager in October, 2013, under the Director of EMS, Henry Land. He brought with him over 30 years of EMS experience. His role as the operations manager has been an asset to every aspect of Hamilton County. He guides and manages the operations of the department with the assistance of the shift captains and office manager.

Leggett has restructured the internal aspects of the department by assigning individual tasks to help promote safety and productivity. He has developed many community outreach programs, at no charge to the taxpayers. He is also working on multiple grants, which will improve EMS service, at little to no cost to the taxpayers. His leadership skills, knowledge and professionalism of EMS, have proven to be effective in the direct management of Hamilton County EMS.

Cindy Beaver is the Officer Manager, who brings 21 years of service to the citizens of Hamilton county. Her role consists of payroll, bill coding and clerical duties. She is responsible for ordering pharmaceutical and medical supplies to assure that the EMS system operates efficiently. She also maintains the Automatic External Defibrillators in all Hamilton County Schools.

Hamilton County EMS shift captains ensure that all daily duties are completed, and make sure manpower is sufficient to accommodate the needs of the citizens in times of emergencies and/or disasters.

Not to forget the EMT's and paramedics, who, without their tireless efforts 24 hours a day, the service could not operate. These are the true heroes of the organization.

Hamilton County EMS has progressed a long way from where it started with help and assistance from the county coordinator, county commissioners, volunteer firefighters, director, operations manager and employees.

Hamilton County EMS transports the sick and injured to surrounding hospitals and plays a vital role in providing needs for a very large rural area. Your Hamilton County EMS and its employees continue to strive to properly ensure all citizens receive the medical care and attention needed to maintain a healthy and productive lifestyle.

SRWMD implements second phase of E-permitting

Public workshop on new system offered May 29

Developers, consultants, and others seeking an environmental resource permit (ERP) from the Suwannee River Water Management District will be able to apply online beginning June 1.

"Currently, applicants can download an application through the District's website, but they have to either mail it in or bring it to the District's office," explains Senior Professional Engineer Leroy Marshall. "With the new E-permitting system, applicants can apply for a permit and submit all the necessary documents at any time day or night and from any location with Internet access."

In addition to the benefits to the public, the new process will benefit the District by reducing the use of paper and streamlining the process of getting information into the database.

The public can apply for an ERP online by accessing the E-permitting portal that will be available from the District's homepage at www.mysuwanneeriver.com beginning June 1. From there, they will create a login account. The system will allow applicants to submit applications, application correspondence, and permit compliance information. The new system will also allow applicants to search for application and permit information.

The District is holding a public workshop to review the new permitting process on May 29 at 1 p.m. at District Headquarters, 9225 CR 49, Live Oak, FL.

Permits for water well construction are currently available online. Water use permits are scheduled for online availability later this year.

For more information about the workshop or about E-permitting for ERPs, contact Leroy Marshall at 386.362.1001 or 1.800.226.1066 (FL only).

NFCC RECOGNIZES COLLEGE EMPLOYEES FOR PROFESSIONAL ACHIEVEMENT AND YEARS OF SERVICE

Bill Hunter from Hamilton County receives NFCC 15-Year Service Award

North Florida Community College employees gathered in the courtyard of the NFCC Walter L. Bishop Administration Building for its annual Courtyard Party on April 22. The gathering honors all NFCC employees for their contributions to the college, recognizes NFCC's Above and Beyond award recipients and honors employees for years of service to NFCC.

Two NFCC employees were selected to receive NFCC's Above and Beyond Award for 2013-2014 - Jennifer Page of Madison County and Hansel Nelson of Jefferson County. Page is the Coordinator of NFCC's new Academic Success Center. The Academic Success Center offers NFCC students one-on-one tutoring assistance, organized group study sessions, workshops, study skills trainings, academic coaching, web-resources, and other help and support necessary to ensure successful completion of studies and programs. Nelson is Supervisor of Grounds at NFCC and goes above and beyond to keep the NFCC campus looking its best throughout the year. The Above and Beyond awards are given each year to NFCC employees, staff and faculty members, who go above the call of their regular jobs to assist students, to assist their colleagues or to benefit the college.

Thirteen employees received service awards from NFCC recognizing years of service ranging from five years to 35 years. They are:

- 35 Years: Edna Ealy (Madison County)
- 30 Years: Dr. Sharon Erle (Leon County)
- 25 Years: Sarah Newsome (Madison County)

20 Years: Dr. Barbara McCauley (Madison County), Mary Anne Wheeler (Madison County) and Bobby Scott (Lowndes County, Ga.)

15 Years: Linda Brown (Madison County), Neil Smith (Madison County) and Bill Hunter (Hamilton County)

10 Years: Efrain Bonilla (Lake City / Columbia County) and Hansel Nelson (Jefferson County)

5 Years: David Paulk II (Madison County) and Dr. Michael Stine (Jefferson County)

Thirteen employees received special recognition for professional achievement. Certificates were given in honor of employees completing degrees, publishing works, and/or serving on state and national boards among other things. Those honored include Madison County residents Brandi Browning, Rose Knox, Billye Robinson, Kim Scarboro, Della Webb and Margaret Wilkerson; Dr. Sharon Erle of Leon County; Dr. Miryam Espinosa of Lowndes County, Ga.; Bonnie Littlefield, Dr. Michael Stine and Susan Taylor of Jefferson County; and Ansley Simmons of Cairo, Ga. Dr. Guenter Maresch (Jefferson County) was recognized as NFCC's 2014 Teacher of the Year; he was nominated for this honor by the President's Committee on Teaching Excellence at NFCC.

Congratulations to all. For more information contact the Office of College Advancement at (850) 973-1653 or email news@nfcc.edu.

Memorial Day Get-a-Way to feature Band of Brothers & the Justin Case Band at The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park

Bring the kids, grandma, your friends and have a long and wonderful weekend with music, dancing, food and lots of fun. Admission is $10 per carload at the gate for day or evening only guests during the holiday Friday - Sunday.

Memorial Day is summer's first holiday, and The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park (SOSMP) in Live Oak has a great weekend awaiting you and your family May 23 - 26.

Two of the best bands in North Florida - Band of Brothers and Justin Case - will take the stage in the Music Hall Friday and Saturday night. If you are arriving early, Ted "Teddy MacElvis" McMullen will hold court in the Music Hall Thursday night with karaoke and dancing.

Admission is $10 per carload at the gate for day or evening only guests during the holiday Friday - Sunday.

No additional gate charge for overnight or longer guests.

Enjoy biking, hiking, bird watching, golf carting, swimming in the park's pool for overnight guests, the ice cream shop, game room, free hot dogs for kids on Saturday along with the annual golf cart parade. And don't forget to catch a glimpse of the millions of bats as they leave the world's largest bat house at dusk each night.

The Store of the Village is open for all your needs during the weekend and crafts vendors will be open. "Dr." Don Miller will broadcast his Saturday afternoon bluegrass show live from the SOSMP radio studio over The Big 98 (98.1 FM) Saturday, May 24, from 5 - 8 p.m. in the Crafts Village. There will be music and fun all weekend! If you prefer to come for the day only, admission will be $10 per day per carload during the holiday weekend.

Begin your weekend Thursday, May 22, and enjoy Teddy Mac's karaoke in the Music Hall from 7 - 10 p.m. Plan to show off your musical talent. It's a fun night! Music Hall doors open at 5 p.m. for dinner when Teddy MacElvis is in the house.

Band of Brothers of Mayo just played its first Suwannee River Jam on the same stage where Montgomery Gentry had played. With its many fans who enjoy this great band's listening and dancing music with country, Southern rock, Elvis, maybe a little Conway Twitty or just be prepared for anything, the Band of Brothers will take the stage Friday night, May 23. Don't forget those dancing shoes.

Justin Case, another Suwannee River Jam artist, will bring all types of Southern Fried country, Southern rock and just plain good rockin' music for a great evening. This well-known and much loved band can be found at the SOSMP on a regular basis with its super original songs as well as cover songs. Come early both nights. It's going to be a weekend of great music.

Doors to the Music Hall open at 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday night for dinner from 8 p.m. to midnight. Delicious food and a full service bar available. Dancing is recommended.

If you would like to make reservations for RV parking, cabins, primitive camping or camper parking for this weekend or need more information, call The SOSMP at 386-364-1683, email spirit@musicliveshere.com or go to www.musicliveshere.com. The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park is located at 3076 95th Drive, Live Oak.

Jacksonville recording star coming to Florida Folk Festival

By Joyce Marie Taylor
joycemarie.taylor@gafnews.com

Jacksonville recording artist JJ Grey and his band Mofro will be one of the headline acts at the 62nd Annual Florida Folk Festival being held at Stephen Foster Folk Culture Center State Park over the Memorial Day weekend, May 23-25.

The New York Times described Grey's music as "impassioned singing, riff-based Southern rock, cold-blooded swamp funk and sly Memphis soul." That's quite a mouthful.

Grey is originally from Jacksonville and made his recording debut in 2001 with "Blackwater". He has been cranking out the music CDs ever since and is now promoting his seventh and latest CD, "This River", which was produced by Grey and Dan Prothero and recorded at Retrophonics Studio in Saint Augustine, with additional recording done in Grey's home studio, known as "The Egg Room".

Aside from playing in countless festivals and doing solo tours in the U.K., Germany and the Netherlands, many of Grey's songs have appeared in film and network television, including House, Flashpoint, Crash, Friday Night Lights, The Glades, The Deadliest Catch and the film The Hoot. His list of accomplishments goes on and on.

Grey is known for his down home, slice-of-life lyrics and his emotional delivery. In real life he seems to be the same way.

"I'm just a salmon swimming upstream," he said. "Going back home, I reckon. I don't know why and I quit caring why a long time ago. I guess there is no 'why' that my mind could understand, anyway. All I do know is that I've enjoyed and I'm still enjoying every second of just being here and doing whatever it is I'm doing."

JJ Grey and Mofro are scheduled to play on Saturday, May 24, during the Florida Folk Festival.

performances throughout the weekend. Opening ceremonies begin at 6 p.m. on Friday, May 23. Featured performers include JJ Grey & Mofro, Ben Prestage, Albert Castiglia, Gypsy Star, Mark Johnson and Emory Lester, plus hundreds more folk music legends from throughout the state of Florida.

Tickets are on sale now and if you buy in advance you can save some money. Advance tickets are $25 per day or $50 for the weekend for adults, and $30 per day or $60 for the weekend at the gate. Children under six are admitted free. Ticket prices for children between the ages of six and 16 for the entire weekend are $5. Please call Elevate Ticketing at 877-569-7767 or visit www.FloridaFolkFestival.com for tickets.

The Florida Folk Festival is a rain or shine event. Gates open daily at 8 a.m. Pets and personal golf carts are not allowed. Camping is not offered during the festival, but there are plenty of places to camp in the area, including Suwannee River State Park, Oleno State Park, Ocean Pond and Spirit of the Suwannee. For a comprehensive list of local public and private campgrounds (27), cabins and motels (53) in Suwannee County, near-by Columbia County (Lake City) and Hamilton County (White Springs and Jasper), visit SuwanneeValley.org.

ment of Law Enforcement and Third Judicial Circuit State Attorney's Office, a warrant was issued for Allen's arrest for the offense of second degree murder.

It was learned that Allen may have been dropped off at a Lake Park motel, and when authorities arrived they observed Allen in the motel parking lot. He was arrested without incident and booked into the Lowndes County Jail on charges of second degree murder (Fla.) and fugitive from justice (Ga.) on $500,000 bond. He appeared Monday morning in Magistrate Court for an arraignment hearing. At that hearing, Allen waived his right to extradition and will be brought to the Hamilton County Jail within 10 days.

The investigation is ongoing and additional arrests may be possible, according to authorities. Anyone with information about this incident should contact HCSO at 386-792-1001 or Lowndes County Sheriff's Office at 229-671-2950. A reward of up to $3,000 is being offered for any information that can help authorities find the weapon used in the shooting.

Griffin admits fraud

Hamilton County Jail on five counts of uttering a forged instrument and was held on $10,000 bail. Since that time, Griffin's case went before the Third Judicial Circuit State Attorney's Office where a deferred prosecution agreement was drafted for a period of 12 months, beginning May 14.

According to the State Attorney's Office, Griffin waived his right to a speedy trial, admitted guilt to the charged offenses, and agreed to numerous conditions and fines, including not violating any criminal laws, paying a total of $1,100 to the State Attorney's Office, paying $40 in court costs, and $350 for investigative costs to the White Springs Police Department. He must provide receipts of those payments to the Diversion Program Administrator. He was ordered to refrain from passing or publishing as true the Bronze and Silver Star military awards he listed on his job application. He must also work regularly, unless disabled, retired or a full time student, and must notify the Diversion Program Administrator if he changes residence.

The charges stemmed from a job application Griffin submitted in February to the town of White Springs for the position of town manager that contained false information, including fraudulent copies of U.S. Navy military certificates. Questions arose when town officials noticed all of Griffin's military awards were earned within a one-year span. According to town officials, when asked to supply the town with his military service record (DD214 Member 4), Griffin stated his certificate copies should suffice as it was federal law.

The Department of the Navy had no record of Griffin receiving the Bronze and Silver Star awards, and stated, "The documents the member provided appear not to be authentic."

Town officials presented the suspected fraudulent documents and supportive evidence to the State Attorney's Office and a warrant was issued for Griffin's arrest.

If Griffin violates any of the conditions of the Diversion Program, the State Attorney may either commence prosecution, whereby his admission of guilt can be used against him, or the period of deferred prosecution could be modified/extended. If Griffin meets the conditions of the agreement determined by the State Attorney, the charges will be dismissed.

and declined to prosecute.

The notice also states, "Although probable cause initially existed for the above listed charges, the discovery process has revealed that these charges cannot be proven beyond and to the exclusion of a reasonable doubt."

Cohen had turned himself in on Dec. 16, 2013, and was booked into the Hamilton County Jail. According to Jasper Police Chief Jeff McGuire, Cohen had resigned from the department on Nov. 15, 2013.

Court records showed that Cohen between, on or about Oct. 10 and Nov. 12, 2013, unlawfully and with a corrupt intent to obtain benefit by three systems that dropped up to 14 inches in the upper Suwannee River basin and 12 inches in coastal areas. Minor to moderate flooding occurred on portions of the Suwannee and Alapaha rivers. Portions of the Aucilla and Steinhatchee rivers also experienced minor flooding. The Santa Fe River at Three Rivers Estates experienced major flooding as the river rose to its highest level since April 2009. Three Rivers Estates has been above flood stage since March 21.

Many springs on the Suwannee River have been or are closed to swimming and diving due to inundation from river water. Rising river levels can slow or reverse spring flow, causing river water to flow into springs. In April, the Suwannee River flowed into White Sulphur Springs for the fourth month in a row. The flow into the aquifer was measured at 86 million gallons per day on April 16 just before the springhouse became flooded. Fanning Springs also experienced a reversal in flow last month.

Groundwater levels have been increasing since February, and levels are currently the highest since 2005.

The high groundwater levels, including the highest levels in 20 years near Mayo in Lafayette County, will sustain spring and river levels for months.

"When the river drops, we expect to see spring flows we haven't seen since 1998," said District Senior Professional Engineer Megan Wetherington.

Confusion at SVTA during transition

trator Gwendolyn Pra received compensatory time payouts in excess of $86,000 on top of her $78,748.80 salary, and former Director of Operations William "Bill" Steele received over $36,000 in comp time payouts, aside from his annual salary of $71,427.20. FDOT Inspector General Robert E. Clift had stated SVTA's cost accounting system was not sufficient "to make a precise determination of the sources of these payments."

Pra took the reins of the troubled SVTA on Aug. 15, 2011.

Board members

Board members present at the meeting were Chairman Ronald Williams (Columbia County Commission Chairman), Commissioners Beth Burnam and Robert Brown from Hamilton County, Commissioners Ricky Gamble and Jason Bashaw from Suwannee County, Commissioner Bucky Nash from Columbia County, newly appointed Director Teresa Fortner, Board Attorney Hal Airth and Board secretary Shirley Cribbs.

Williams, according to past minutes, has served on the SVTA Board as far back as May, 1981. The rest of the board members are fairly new. Nash replaced Scarlet Frisina on Jan. 14, 2013, Brown replaced Randy Ogburn on Jan. 14, 2013, and Burnam replaced Josh Smith on March 10, 2014. Bashaw began serving Jan. 8, 2014, replacing Phil Oxendine, and Gamble began serving Jan. 8, 2014, replacing Clyde Fleming.

Policies and procedures

Clarification on the policies and procedures manual that SVTA is operating under was questioned. It was noted by Gamble that there seemed to be several different versions of the manual.

Williams said the manual that had been followed was dated March 26, 2012.

Williams explained there were inconsistencies in the minutes from previous meetings, and amendments to the manual were never documented as being voted on and approved by the board.

He added there was mention of making amendments to the policy, but nowhere did it state the board approved anything.

"That's the inconsistency of the minutes," said Williams. "I'm not saying they were not approved. I'm saying there's no documentation verifying they were approved."

Gamble said he read through past meeting minutes and saw there were changes made to the manual, but he couldn't find any record of those changes in previous consent agendas or any of the minutes.

Comp time

Steele, upon his departure, requested payout of his comp and vacation time, which is roughly $18,000. The board approved a motion to wait until findings come back from an FDOT audit before agreeing to pay Steele. More extensive discussion led to the fact there was never board approval to accept the March, 2012 policy, so in fact, the board is operating under the 1983 approved policy, which states no comp time can be cashed in. There are no documents showing the board approved any amendments since that time.

It was agreed more review of the current policy and all subsequent amendments, as well as consultation with a labor attorney will take place before the board approves an updated policy. A motion and second to accept the 1983 policy almost got overlooked for approval, until Airth asked the board if they approved it or not, after which the board finally voted to approve it.

Gamble also made a motion that no comp time be paid out unless an employee is fired, retires or quits, until a new policy is adopted. The motion passed 4-1 with Burnam voting against.

Nash also noted that any requests from SVTA that are presented to the three county commissions must first be approved by the SVTA board.

Dialysis patients

Fortner said SVTA contacted their dialysis centers about canceling Saturday service for disadvantaged riders because of lack of funds to sustain it.

"We only receive so much money and probably as of this Friday (May 16), those funds will be up," said Fortner. "We will have to start turning trips away unless we get more funding."

Fortner explained they didn't always offer Saturday service and it is a recent addition to their program.

"I know it's a life-sustaining thing and we hate it, but if we can't afford to run..." she trailed off with a shrug of the shoulders.

Nash said he didn't agree with cutting off Saturday service.

"To me, they're your critical patients," he said.

Fortner said SVTA is working with the dialysis centers to try to adjust patient schedules so that Saturday service wouldn't be needed. Nash asked Fortner to provide him a cost evaluation for Saturday service as soon as possible.

When asked by Nash, Fortner said the dialysis patients were told they would be transported on Saturdays until the board makes a decision.

It was noted that the per mile rate SVTA receives doesn't cover the actual costs of gas and payroll expenses for the drivers, and schedules are unpredictable, which oftentimes results in overtime. Fortner said she isn't getting much support from the dialysis centers, as far as rearranging schedules for dialysis patients that don't include Saturdays.

"I realize they only have so many chairs," said Fortner.

There are about 71 dialysis patients that SVTA provides transportation for throughout the week, Fortner added.

More discussion revealed that state and federal funds SVTA receives goes into the general fund to pay all expenses and isn't broken out into specific budgets. It was noted that future accounting practices might entail having separate bank accounts for transportation for disadvantaged, Medicaid and Trust Fund monies with matching line item budgets that can be tracked.

Nash made a motion to continue to transport Saturday dialysis patients until their next meeting where they will be provided with a budget analysis of costs. Gamble seconded the motion which was carried by a unanimous vote.

Medicaid riders

According to Fortner, SVTA receives $1,300 each month in HMO payments for any and all Columbia County riders. Hamilton County is $941 and Suwannee County is $691. She noted that one Hamilton County rider involves 232 miles per day, five days a week.

"That more than eats up $900 in a month's time," she said. "We have a rider in Lake City that goes to dialysis in Gainesville three days a week and the trip is costing us more than we are allotted for the entire month."

She said they're still transporting the patient, but wanted the board to be aware of the challenges they face as far as the budget is concerned. SVTA, she said, can get out of the transportation disadvantaged contract, but it requires giving 90 days notice. Nash made a motion to send a letter to the TD Commission to cancel the contract because their costs are exceeding revenue. The motion carried.

Board secretary resigns

Williams announced that Board Secretary Shirley Cribbs had submitted her resignation.

"This board is going to have to make a decision on hiring someone or paying someone from staff to do the minutes in their spare time," said Williams.

Gamble said, "If the board doesn't have a problem with it, we have the clerk of our board (Mike Tyson) who retired a couple months ago, and I wouldn't have a problem approaching him and seeing if the board would want to hire him to come do the minutes on a part time basis."

Gamble clarified he didn't know if Tyson would even be interested, but he would ask him and the board agreed.

Three ways to get healthier, from the inside out

There are many ways to work healthy routines into your daily life.

(StatePoint) Heart health should be a year-round consideration for anybody looking to lead a healthy life. While that may sound like a daunting task, better heart health can be possible with a few steps in the right direction.

Iconic television, stage and screen actor, Tony Danza, makes his health a top priority, even when facing a busy schedule. Danza, who knows the importance of diet, exercise and "doing good to feel good," offers his go-to tips for fitting health and wellness into your daily lifestyle:

- Turn Your Daily Habits Into Exercise. Most people know that exercise, in addition to a healthy diet, also plays a key role in bettering your overall health. However, many people have trouble fitting exercise into their busy schedule or think they have to look to costly private training options to see results. What most don't realize is fitting in exercise can be as easy and cost-efficient as taking the stairs instead of the elevator or going for a walk on your lunch break.

- Encourage others, like your friends or family, to join you on these mini exercise sessions. Having a support system of people who are looking for ways to be healthier can help provide motivation to keep going on your journey to better health.

- Get Your Fiber Up. Fiber is a crucial component to our diet, but most Americans are not getting the recommended daily amount of 25 to 38 grams of fiber, according to the American Dietetic Association. Many people know that fiber can help promote digestive health, but few know that it can also promote heart health.

Diets low in saturated fat and cholesterol that include seven grams of soluble fiber per day from psyllium husk, as in Metamucil, may reduce the risk of heart disease by lowering cholesterol. One adult dose of Metamucil has at least 2.1 grams of this soluble fiber.

- Metamucil has been an important part of my health regimen for over 20 years. It's a simple way to get multiple health benefits and an extra fiber boost since it can be hard to get all the fiber you need from food alone," says Danza.

- Do Good; Feel Good. Overall health and wellness also comes from how you feel about yourself as an individual. Danza makes giving back to the community a regular practice and lists it among his healthy habits.

- "Giving back is good for the soul and really warms the heart. You will be amazed to see how much you do for yourself as a person, when you are helping and giving back to others," says Danza.

More tips and information on healthy living is available at Metamucil's Facebook Fan page at www.Facebook.com/Metamucil.

HEART MATTERS

ly means "worthless, good for nothing; unprofitable." In his commentary on the Bible, Matthew Henry explains the verse like this: "... we must see that what we set our eyes upon be right and good and not any forbidden fruit, and that we never seek that which we cannot have without sin. It is the character of a good man that he shuts his eyes from seeing evil." David was living proof of the danger we place ourselves in looking at what can bring no good. He is infamous for looking at the forbidden fruit of another man's wife, that which he could not have without sin. (His story is found in 2 Samuel, chapter 11) We also find from his life that good intentions are not enough-there must be self-control and discipline.

The good news is that all TV is not bad! In fact, there is some fun, entertaining and even educational programs, but we have to be intentional in our choices for our children and for ourselves. That said, quality does not sanction quantity, so make a plan this summer to get off the couch and invest in making some great memories. A few suggestions: set a goal to read one book a week and then head to your local library; plan a day to head to the springs or beach with a few friends or family; bake some treats and visit an elderly person; visit a museum; join a Zumba class together (lots of fun!); plan a movie night; organize family photos into an album and relive some fun memories and check out the children's programs (VBS and other summer events) offered by many area churches. As you can tell, the opportunities are limitless! This kind of planning will help keep the TV viewing in balance for a healthier family, both physically and spiritually. Because their hearts really do matter. Have a great summer!

Are you looking for The Blessed Hope?

"For the grace of God that brings salvation has appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in the present age, looking for the blessed hope and glorious appearing of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave Himself for us, that He might redeem us from every lawless deed and purify for Himself His own special people, zealous for good works." (Titus 2:11-14).

As we approach the end of the Church Age, we find that the Devil is working overtime. Christians the world over are increasingly recognizing that we are about to step off the great span of time that connects eternity past with eternity future. Our Groom has nearly finished preparing our mansions and must have His hand upon the doorknob... (After these things I looked, and behold, a door standing open in heaven. And the first voice which I heard was like a trumpet speaking with me, saying, "Come up here, and I will show you things which must take place after this" (Rev. 4:1) as He anticipates greeting His bride when He calls her to meet Him in the air. Please read I Thess. 4:16 NKJ. Verse 17 & 18 say: Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And thus we shall always be with the Lord. Therefore Comfort one another with these words.

These are exciting days in which to serve God, for we see ourselves as the "terminal" generation. Even the apostate church is speaking in guarded whispers about these matters. However, not all is rosy. The Devil is working feverishly to divert Christians from their ministries. He has known mankind's every hot button since the days of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, and he has practiced pressing those buttons for millennia. Almost every week, I hear from born again Christians who do not understand how the Devil can be so effective, so wily, so subtle in his attacks. Often the saints do not even realize that it is the Devil at all. They have become so diverted by the trials and tribulations of their lives that they no longer think in spiritual terms. Many have taken their eyes off Jesus like Peter when walking on the water (Matt 14:17-30); stopped studying His word (II Tim. 2:15); and, not praying as they ought (James 5:16). They are simply bewildered as to why their lives are suddenly so awry. Some are bitter toward God for allowing them to suffer in the ways they suffer. Others are profoundly depressed, and yet others find themselves in the grip of utter despair. No, all is not rosy in God's Church, but we can all find strength and solace and great hope, even in times of grievous trouble, if we know where to look and where to walk. Great hope is what the believer has to rely on. Without great hope we would all be most miserable. Hope is confident expectation of the return of the Lord for His Church. Hope is the happy anticipation of good. Col. 1:27 says:Christ in you, the hope of glory.

Throughout the New Testament hope is used for our encouragement, so that we may walk steadfast in these days when the god of this world influences us so strong (II Cor. 4:3-4).

According to 2nd Timothy 4:8 a special crown is given to all those who are looking for His appearing. Are you?

Longleaf Pine Landowner Incentive Program Now Accepting Applications

Applications From Private Forest Landowners Will Be Accepted May 19-June 27

Tallahassee, FL – Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Adam H. Putnam announced that the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' Florida Forest Service is now accepting applications for the Longleaf Pine Landowner Incentive Program. The sign-up period will run from May 19-June 27 and is available for non-industrial private forest landowners.

"Longleaf pine forests once covered a vast range from Texas to Virginia but that has been greatly reduced," said Commissioner Putnam. "With the help of private landowners across Florida, we can work together to restore the environmental benefits and natural beauty that come with this important natural resource."

Longleaf pine forests are highly valued for their resistance to damage by insects, disease, wildfire and storms. They are also favored for their yield of high-quality wood products, biological diversity and scenic beauty. The goal of this program is to increase the acreage of healthy Longleaf pine ecosystems in Florida by helping non-industrial private forest landowners make the long-term investment required to establish and maintain this valuable ecosystem.

The Longleaf Pine Landowner Incentive Program is offered for private lands in Florida counties located west of the Apalachicola River and counties adjacent to the Ocala or Osceola National Forests.

The program provides incentive payments for the following:

- Improving timber stand
- Controlling invasive

- species
- Conducting prescribed burning operations
- Planting Longleaf pine
- Establishing native plant understory
- Conducting mechanical underbrush treatments

To obtain an application form, contact a local Florida Forest Service office or visit www.FloridaForestService.com. All qualifying applications will be evaluated and ranked for funding approval. This program is supported through a grant from the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation with funding from the Southern Company, the U.S. Forest Service, The Nature Conservancy, the Natural Resource Conservation Service and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Florida Forest Service manages more than 1 million acres of public forest land while protecting 26 million acres of homes, forestland and natural resources from the devastating effects of wildfire.

Tips to Keep Kids Learning Over Summer

Long breaks from reading, writing and critical thinking can be detrimental for students. That's why savvy parents ensure that kids keep learning over summer. With the implementation of the Common Core and Science Technology Engineering Math (STEM) Standards, bridging the gap between school years is more important than ever.

But you don't need to replicate a classroom to reap the benefits of summer studies. After all, it's called "vacation" for a reason. Here are few fun ways to keep kids' brains on high alert all season:

Make Math Fun

The more interactive and hands-on you can make math, the more engaged kids will be. So avoid drilling them with stale worksheets.

Play a board game like "Monopoly," and bestow the role of "banker" on your child. Or, let them handle the real thing on outings by letting them pay the ice cream vendor and the grocer. You can even consider capitalizing on the summer weather with a lemonade stand -- it's a great first small business experience.

Supplement these experiences with tools that go beyond a standard workbook. For example, a new book, "Amazing Visual Math," covers the essential math concepts learned in the first years of school using interactive elements, including pop-ups, flaps and pull-tab elements. Designed to develop manual dexterity and sharpen visual skills, tools like this can make a tedious subject entertaining.

Foster their Interests

The school year can be hectic and isn't necessarily an ideal time for a child to take on new hobbies. Summer however, is the perfect time of year to encourage kids to explore new interests through thematic summer camps, community classes and sports teams.

You can also nurture interests through non-fiction literature. Check out the "Eyewitness Books" series from DK Publishing with titles that cover a broad range of topics like "World War I," "Rocks & Minerals" and "Wonders of the World." Newly updated this year and now available in paperback, they can help bridge the gap between last school year and the next.

Get Informed

The implementation of new education policies and standards can be difficult on students, but you can help smooth the transition and prepare your child for the coming school year by learning more about it. Visit www.us.dk.com/education for Common Core and STEM information for all grade levels, activity sheets and book recommendations on all topics that support classroom learning.

Friendly Competition

Start a family competition to see who reads the most books this summer. Post the results on the fridge so everyone can see.

Road Trip Fun

Make summer road trips a bit less of a bore by stocking the car with fun games and activities. The Ultimate Factivity Collection series includes doodle and coloring pages, puzzles, crafts, stickers, facts and activities that encourage learning. With titles like "Animals," "Fashion," "Star Wars" and "LEGO Legends of Chima," kids won't suspect they're learning.

To set up kids for a successful school year, find activities that strike the perfect balance between learning and fun.

Tips to Boost Infant and Toddler Brain Development

When babies are born, their minds are still a work in progress, and their brains will rapidly grow and develop based on their experience. That means the first few years are critical for healthy brain development.

"Parents play a daily role in promoting life-long health by focusing on positive ways to nurture brain development, starting in infancy and extending through the toddler years," says Dr. James M. Perrin, 2014 president of the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP).

According to Perrin, this means creating a safe, consistent environment to ensure children know they're physically and emotionally protected. He offers these tips for fostering a happy, healthy home:

- Talk to your baby in a responsive way, starting at birth. Watch how he responds to your face, focuses, and moves in time to your voice. As he grows, talk to him about everyday things, waiting for his coos and ahhs, and then respond with an encouraging word.
- One study showed that the more words parents used when speaking to an eight-month-old infant, the more words that child used at age three.
- Respond to distress with comfort. Even in infancy, it's an important way to build a child's confidence that the caregiver is there.
- Make eye contact with your child from day one. That could be during play, tummy time or even during necessary activities like diaper changes.

- When your baby starts to smile, smile back! If young children learn healthy, positive ways to get your attention, they'll be less likely to resort to fussing, crying or whining.
- Follow your infant's gaze to get a sense of what is capturing his or her attention. When it's appropriate, let your child explore that object.
- Be aware of what your face is "saying." Temper negative feelings because your baby is "feeling" them as well.
- Infants let us know when they've had enough and it's time for a nap by avoiding eye contact, becoming sleepy or fussy, coughing or rubbing his or her eyes.
- Reading to your child from infancy stimulates language and cognitive skills, builds motivation, curiosity and memory and stimulates language development.
- Babies learn best from people, not screens, and unstructured play time is more valuable for the developing brain than electronic media. Through unstructured, unplugged play, children learn to think creatively, problem solve, and develop reasoning and motor skills.

Instead of screens, try to encourage supervised but independent play like exploring a set of nesting cups or pounding on a pot with a spoon while you are preparing dinner.

• Healthy brain, healthy body. Keep a regular schedule of visits to the pediatrician to ensure your child's physical, mental, and developmental and behavioral health is on track. Your child's pediatrician can be a great resource.

Raising healthy children means daily care, attention, comfort and love. Fostering such an environment early can help put your child on a permanent path of emotional well-being.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

PLAY IT SAFE

Tips to keep kids safe all summer long

FAMILY FEATURES

Summer is a time of playground fun, camping, swimming and other outdoor activities. When kids are outdoors, their sense of adventure and curiosity soars, which can, unfortunately, lead to a higher risk of injuries.

In fact, according to the Safe Kids Worldwide organization, each year one in four children 14 years of age and younger will sustain an injury that requires medical attention. The good news is that many of these injuries are preventable by following a few simple tips and learning how to avoid accidents and injuries.

“We know kids are active, especially during the summer months,” said John Cinotto, chairman of the board of directors of Shriners Hospitals for Children. “At Shriners Hospitals for Children, we see patients every day with life-changing injuries caused by accidents. We’re always working to help raise awareness that our medical experts are here to get young patients back on track to the childhood they deserve, regardless of the families’ ability to pay.”

Here are some tips to help your family safely enjoy all the fun summer has in store.

Drive with Care

According to the American Academy of Pediatrics, motor vehicle injuries are the leading cause of death and acquired disability for children and teens. These tips can help you and your children to stay out of harm’s way while in or around vehicles.

- Teach your children to buckle up every time they get into a car, regardless of the length of the car ride. Buckling children in age- and size-appropriate car seats, booster seats and seat belts dramatically reduces the risk of serious and fatal injuries.
- Check around your parked car for children before you pull away. Teach children to be aware of moving vehicles and to wait in safe areas where drivers can see them.
- Accompany young children when they get in and out of a vehicle. Hold their hands when walking near moving vehicles, in driveways and parking lots.

Mowing Matters

While it may seem like just a common household tool, thousands of children are injured in lawn mower accidents each year, some with severe effects.

- Teach children to never play on or around a lawn mower, even when it is not in use. They should never be permitted to walk along side, in front of or behind a moving mower.
- Children under six years of age should be kept inside the home while mowing.

Fire Safety Simplified

Every hour, approximately 16 children are injured from fires or burns, according to the Safe Kids Worldwide organization. Use these tips to keep your little ones safe around fireworks, grills and other heat sources:

- Teach kids never to play with matches, gasoline, lighter fluid or lighters. Make a habit of placing these items up and away from young children.
- Do not leave children unattended near grills, campfires, fire pits or bonfires. Always have a bucket of water or fire extinguisher nearby when burning fires.
- To ensure a safe celebration, leave fireworks to the professionals.
- If your child is injured by fire or fireworks, immediately take them to a doctor or hospital.

Playground 101

The Centers for Disease Control revealed that emergency departments treat more than 200,000 children ages 14 and younger for playground-related injuries every year. Before you let them play at the park or school playground, be sure they keep these precautions in mind:

- Use appropriate and properly fitting safety equipment when participating in any sport, such as helmets and goggles, which can greatly reduce the risk of head and eye injuries.

- Take your children to playgrounds with shock absorbing surfaces. Choose parks and playgrounds that are appropriate for their age. Check for hazards or broken equipment and continuously supervise your children while they are at play.
- Teach children to use playground and sports equipment properly.
- Remind children that pushing, shoving and crowding on the playground can result in accidents and injuries.

Make a Safe Splash

While playing poolside may be a blast, the Safe Kids Worldwide organization also revealed that drowning is the leading injury-related cause of death for children between 1–4 years of age. Fill your family’s summer days with these safe practices around the water:

- Teach children to never go near or in the water without an adult present. Children and adults should never swim alone.
- Give children your undivided attention when they are swimming or near any body of water.
- Always have your children wear a Coast Guard approved, properly fitting life jacket while on a boat, around an open body of water or when participating in water sports.

Love to the Rescue

With a talented and experienced team of medical professionals, Shriners Hospitals for Children is transforming lives every day through innovative pediatric specialty care, world-class research and outstanding medical education.

One young patient who experienced this remarkable care is 14 year-old Brendon Wiseley, who lost his foot and part of his leg in a lawn mower accident. A fifth generation race car driver, Wiseley was referred to Shriners Hospitals for Children when his first prosthetic leg did not fit correctly and was difficult to use. The event had caused him to lose hope of ever racing again. But with an experienced team of medical experts, he was provided with a custom-built prosthetic and child-centric rehabilitation that not only rebuilt his strength, but also his spirit.

“I was injured in a lawn mower accident. Thanks to Shriners Hospitals for Children, I was able to get back to doing what I love,” said Wiseley, who is now a patient ambassador for the organization.

With 22 locations in the United States, Canada and Mexico, the hospital provides advanced care for children with orthopaedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate.

Mango Caprese Salad Paired with Riesling

Servings: 8 to 10
Prep time: 15 minutes

- 3 large, ripe mangos, peeled, pitted and sliced
- 8 ounces fresh mozzarella cheese, sliced
- 3 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- Sea salt and freshly ground pepper to taste
- Snipped fresh basil leaves
- Crusty toasted baguette slices

Place mango slices on platter, alternating with mozzarella slices. Drizzle with lemon juice and oil, and season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with basil and serve with baguette slices.

Grilled Chipotle Caesar Salad Wedges Paired with Moscato

Servings: 4
Prep time: 15 minutes
Cook time: about 30 minutes

- 3 cups 1/2-inch cubes of cornbread
- 1 1/2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1/2 cup good quality Caesar salad dressing
- 1 tablespoon Moscato
- 1 tablespoon fresh lime juice
- 1 teaspoon minced chipotle peppers in adobo sauce
- 1 large head romaine lettuce, cut into 4 wedges
- 1/2 cup diced tomato
- 1/2 cup crumbled Cotija cheese
- Fresh cilantro leaves (optional)

Preheat oven to 375°F. Place cornbread cubes on baking sheet and drizzle with olive oil; toss lightly to coat. Bake for 25 to 30 minutes or until golden brown, stirring once or twice. Stir together Caesar dressing, Moscato, lime juice and chipotle peppers in small bowl; cover and refrigerate until ready to serve. Preheat grill to high, adding wood chips if desired. Brush small amount of dressing mixture on cut sides of romaine. Place romaine, cut side down on grill. Cook for 3 to 5 minutes or until lightly charred. Place on 4 salad plates and drizzle with remaining dressing. Sprinkle with tomato, cheese, cilantro and cornbread croutons.

Recipe tips:

- Puree the whole can of chipotle peppers. Freeze in ice cube trays for future recipes.
- Try cooking romaine on a very smoky grill for a little extra flavor.
- No grill? No worries. This salad is great without the grilling step.

Bright Ideas for Al Fresco Entertaining

David Mirassou, wine expert and sixth generation of America's oldest winemaking family, offers up these tips:

- Pressed for time? Chill wine and other drinks in 10 minutes when you layer ice and salt in a bucket, and then fill with cold water.
- Want guests to keep track of their glasses? Dip the bottom stem of wine glasses in chalkboard paint. Once dry, guests can write their names in chalk or paint pens on their glasses.
- Looking for conversation starters? Use a chalkboard paper table runner to suggest food and wine pairings, and invite guests to comment on them.
- Not sure which varietal goes with what food? Use this rule of thumb: Pair lighter foods with lighter wines, and heartier foods with heartier wines.

Steak Salad Paired with Pinot Noir

Servings: 4
Prep time: 20 minutes
Cook time: 10 minutes

Dressing:

- 1/2 cup rinsed and drained canned white beans (from 15-ounce can, save remaining beans for salad)
- 1/4 cup white balsamic vinegar
- 3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 clove garlic
- Freshly ground pepper to taste

Steak salad:

- 8 ounces mixed baby greens
- 1 8-ounce grilling steak, seasoned with salt and pepper or Pinot Noir Marinade

- 1/2 cup quartered and thinly sliced red onion
- 1/2 cup shaved fresh fennel
- 1 cup baked croutons
- 1/2 cup crumbled Gorgonzola cheese

Place all dressing ingredients in blender or food processor; puree until smooth. Chill until ready to serve. Grill steak for about 5 minutes on each side; let cool slightly. Place greens, steak, onion and fennel in large bowl and toss with half the dressing. Arrange on 4 salad plates and top with croutons, cheese and remaining white beans; drizzle with remaining dressing.

For Pinot Noir Marinade, combine 1/2 cup Pinot Noir, 1 tablespoon Dijon mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon coarse black pepper and 2 cloves minced garlic in re-sealable plastic bag.

Protect Your Family from Harmful UV Rays

Ultraviolet (UV) rays are a danger to skin and eyes year-round, playing a contributing factor to skin damage, skin cancer and eye disorders like cataracts. With May being UV Awareness Month, it's a great time to take steps to protect your family.

"The more time you spend outdoors without protecting your eyes, the greater your risk for ocular damage," says Dr. James Winnick, an optometrist with VSP Vision Care, the largest not-for-profit vision benefits company in the United States.

Rather than avoid the problem entirely by seeking refuge inside, take steps to mitigate your risk in the sun.

Consider Risk Factors

While all people need to protect their eyes from UV radiation, some populations are more sensitive than others to the sun. For example, children don't yet have the natural protection in their eyes that adults have, so they get most of their exposure before they are 18. Additionally, people living with diabetes have increased light sensitivity.

No matter who you are, protecting your eyes outdoors is crucial, say experts.

"One of the most convenient ways to ensure you're constantly protecting your eyes from UV rays and excess light is to opt for photochromic lenses, which are lenses that darken automatically to changing sunlight conditions when outdoors," says Winnick. "These lenses can be especially useful for kids and adults who have trouble remembering to switch from their regular glasses to sunglasses throughout the day."

Protection for Entire Family

Photochromic lenses are a great way to ensure everyone in the family is getting automatic and constant protection from UV radiation -- whether it's playing in the backyard or walking from the car into the office. And an added benefit is that your eyes will be much more comfortable in all light conditions, helping reduce eye strain and squinting.

Choose Wisely

It's important to look for a brand of photochromic lenses that both darken and fade back quickly. For example, a new type of photochromic lenses called sunsync starts darkening within seconds of UV exposure and returns to clear within just minutes of going indoors. More information about sunsync lenses can be found at www.vsp.com/sunsync.

Reflected Light is a Concern

Sunlight is reflected off water, sidewalks, buildings -- almost everything -- and it goes in every direction. While sunglasses and photochromic lenses protect from UV light passing through the front of the lenses, a new trend in eye protection takes on the back side of lenses as well.

A special anti-reflective treatment can now be added to the back of lenses that helps prevent UV radiation from reflecting off of them and into your eyes. The great news is that some lens brands, like UNITY, offer this "backside UV" treatment at no additional cost depending on the options you choose for your new photochromic lenses.

Don't wait for UV exposure to get the best of your eye health. Just as you use sunblock, you should have some protection for your eyes throughout the day. This May, take steps to better protect your family.

ANSWER: STEERING WHEEL

Why did God give us coffee?

Dr. James L. Snyder

This week I came face-to-face with a genuine dilemma. I had several meetings across town and for some reason I miscalculated and ended up with a 2-1/2 hour gap between meetings. I hate to waste time, but if I drove back to my office, I would simply have to return to my meeting later and with the cost of gas these days, one cannot be too cautious.

You know gas is getting high when it costs more to fill up the car than the car is really worth. The most valuable thing in my car is in my gas tank, at least when it is filled.

I remedied the situation by stopping in a small coffee shop for cup of Joe. As far as I am concerned, there is no bad time to have a cup of coffee, in spite of the price. I ordered my coffee and when the waitress brought it to me, I began to think about coffee. Why did God give us coffee?

Then my mind went back to my grandfather, whose greatest gift to me was a love of coffee. Nobody loved coffee more. I remember one of his favorite quotes, "You can always tell a man by the coffee he drinks."

Anathema to my grandfather was the idea of instant coffee. No man, in his judgment, would ever drink anything of the kind. "If a man would drink instant coffee," my grandfather perked, "there's no telling what else he would do. Never trust a man who drinks instant coffee."

Making coffee was an art form to my grandfather. There was a right way and a wrong way to make coffee, and he always insisted on the right way. Of course, the right way was the way he made coffee.

In grandfather's kitchen was an old wood-burning cook stove. On this old-fashioned stove, my grandfather brewed his famous mud broth. He never allowed my grandmother to make the brew; it was his job, which he took seriously.

Once for his birthday, we all chipped in and bought him an electric coffee pot. I had never seen my grandfather so mad. When he saw what it was, he would not even take it out of the box.

He had strong ideas about coffee and how it should be brewed and woe be to the person who contradicted his ideas.

Grandfather always kept a fire in the old wood cook stove and on the back of the stove he kept his coffee pot, a large 2-gallon pot — one of those old-fashioned percolators long since gone out of style. The coffee was always on, and no matter when you stopped in to see him, he always had "fresh" coffee brewing.

When I say, "fresh," I need to explain. Actually, the coffee was only fresh on Sunday. On Saturday night, he routinely emptied the coffee pot and prepared fresh coffee for Sunday morning.

He had an old coffee grinder and ground the coffee beans on Saturday night. He put some other things in the coffee, I have never figured out what. One thing I know he put in was a crushed eggshell. What it did to his coffee, I have no idea but grandfather was sure it was an important ingredient.

The freshly ground coffee beans were put in, the pot filled with fresh water and set on the back of the stove to slowly perk. This coffee would last the entire week. The coffee was so strong on Sunday that if it did not wake you in the morning, you were dead.

In fact, Cousin Ernie died on a Sunday afternoon, so my grandfather tells the story, and one sip of his black coffee roused him and he lived seven more years, which was unfortunate for grandfather, as he had to support him.

Before going to bed each evening my grandfather took care of his coffee. He would freshly grind a few coffee beans, sprinkle it on top of the old coffee grounds and then add a newly crushed eggshell. Then he would refill the coffee pot with water.

His coffee percolated 24/7 and by Saturday it was so strong you needed a half-cup of sugar just to drink one cup. It was thick enough to use as syrup on your pancakes, but so strong, it dissolved your pancakes before you could eat them.

My grandmother once tried washing the coffee pot. When my grandfather saw her, he became furious, "Never wash that coffee pot," he spouted, "you'll ruin its character and a coffee pot needs a lot of character to make good coffee."

When my grandfather died, I looked at his old black coffee pot and discovered two things. One, the original color was blue. And two, although it was originally a 2-gallon pot, it only could take three quarts of water. The "character," so important to my grandfather, had built up so much over the years its capacity was diminished.

In pondering my grandfather, I thought about my Heavenly Father and His gifts. The Bible puts it this way; "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variability, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17 KJV.)

I really do not know why God gave us coffee, but I do know God's character is of such a nature that it never diminishes His ability to bless me each day.

MAKE OUTDOOR SPACE AN EXTENSION OF YOUR HOME

Bringing Indoor Comfort OUTSIDE

FAMILY FEATURES

The arrival of summer, along with its sunny skies and beautiful weather, beckons homeowners to create a space to entertain guests and enjoy the great outdoors. Design an outdoor living room that merges style and function, and incorporates elements of indoor comfort.

Whether entertaining for two or 10, the warmer weather provides an abundance of opportunities to lounge in peaceful, open-air surroundings. New offerings in decor and design breathe indoor inspiration into your outdoor spaces, creating a beautiful extension of your home for all to enjoy.

"It's easier than ever to bring the comfort and style of your favorite indoor spaces into your porch, patio and other outdoor areas," said Aimee Beatty, in-house stylist with Pier 1 Imports. "From comfy throw pillows to trendy rugs, colorful artwork and cheery curtains, new outdoor products boast durability and so much style that your patio will be the neighborhood's go-to summer hot spot."

Beatty shares some of her stylish secrets to make your outdoor space an elegant living space worth sharing.

Arrange away

Treat your outdoor area as you would your living room. If space is limited, use sectionals to create seating in whatever arrangement fits best. If there is more room, add an investment piece, such as the Echo Beach Dining Table from Pier 1 Imports. This high-quality piece is made from handcrafted, all-weather synthetic rattan and offers plenty of space to arrange chairs just as you would in your dining room. Finish the look by layering your favorite accessories, such as handcrafted trays, detailed lanterns and a colorful floral arrangement to create a cheerful centerpiece that makes your guests feel welcome.

Tie it all together

To let you in on a little secret — outdoor rugs tie everything together and really bring a space to life. Simply layer a rug, such as Pier 1 Imports' chic Wavy Geo Rug, with a beautiful seating collection, colorful cushions and pillows, and you've got an outdoor area that makes everyone comfortable and happy.

Embrace the bold

Some might be afraid to create a statement outside because — it's outside. But an outdoor living space lends itself to adventures with color and pattern, providing the opportunity to be bold and to go beyond your comfort zone. When shopping for the outdoors, remember — anything goes.

Make it uniquely yours

Mix and match with color and patterns, and personalize your space with accents such as outdoor artwork, planters, umbrellas and more. A smart combination of accessories really transforms an outdoor space from simple to fabulous.

Be bright, all night

The sun may still be shining when the guests arrive, but you'll need something to light up the night and keep the party going all evening long. Create a delightful, welcoming atmosphere with a variety of outdoor lighting options, such as string lights, paper lanterns or floating LED candles placed around the patio. Fashion an elegant glow with lanterns in various sizes, such as the Scroll Trim Lanterns from Pier 1 Imports.

Serve in style

Al fresco entertaining always focuses on food, drinks and friends. A self-service food station or bar enhances the casual tone, freeing guests to grab refreshments whenever they please. This also allows you, the host, to focus on the fun at hand. Look for serving and drink carts that maximize space, such as the Rania Serving Cart from Pier 1 Imports, which has three levels so there's plenty of room to stash an ice bucket, drink dispenser, snacks, lawn games and more.

So let the warmth of the season bring many memorable moments to your life and stylish elements into your outdoor spaces. For more great decorating ideas, visit www.pier1.com.

Outdoor-Friendly Materials

Have you ever wondered how some products are suitable for the outdoors while others can only be kept inside? Various processes and materials give outdoor furniture and decor durability and weather-resistant appeal.

Synthetic Fibers

Ever think about all the abuse from the elements outdoor pillows, seat cushions and umbrellas suffer? Between the sun, rain and everything in-between, fabrics made for outdoor use are designed to withstand the elements, keeping your newly designed patio fresh for all the parties to come. Synthetic fibers used in these fabrics are designed to bead water, resist stains and maintain their color. With this in mind, you can lengthen the lifespan of such materials by covering them when not in use and avoiding prolonged exposure to rain or sun.

Acrylics and Melamine

Outdoor drinkware and dinnerware made of acrylic and melamine provide much of the same great style as their glass counterparts without the breakability. A nice set of acrylic drinkware and melamine dinnerware, such as Summer Quench Turquoise Goblets and Trellis Dinnerware, both from Pier 1 Imports, will keep your outdoor soiree safe and fun throughout the evening.

Synthetic Rattan and Wicker

Wicker may be the traditional material for outdoor furniture, but this new generation of synthetic wickers and rattans is not your grandmother's porch furniture. All-weather chairs, tables and more are woven of synthetic rattan or wicker over durable, rust-resistant frames, making them durable and easy to clean. This approach offers the flexibility to incorporate a woven look into furniture of all styles — from traditional to global, modern to whimsical — without sacrificing durability and longevity.

Ten Tips for Parenting Teens Today

Parenting a teenager can be an uphill battle. In addition to the problems you may have faced in your youth, a new host of issues are presented by texting, sexting, social media and cyberbullying, point out experts.

"Say the right thing and you'll open up lines of communication. Say the wrong thing and it could lead to a fight or silent treatment," says Joani Geltman, child development and parenting expert and author of "A Survival Guide to Parenting Teens: Talking to Your Kids About Sexting, Drinking, Drugs, and Other Things That Freak You Out."

Geltman offers her Top Ten Parenting Tips."

- Encourage teens to think independently. Restrain yourself from being chief problem solver, so they can make good choices even when you're not around.

- Try not to ask a zillion questions. You won't get the answers you want anyway. Engage them in a conversation on a neutral topic before you start the interrogation.

- Refrain from going on the "lecture circuit." Model what it means to be a good person so you don't need to tell them. They will "get it."

- As uncomfortable as it may be, you have to talk about sex. Do it with honesty, and understanding, not judgment. Talk about your own experiences when you were a teen, especially those moments of which you are the least proud so that they will feel freer to share their questions and worries.

- When it comes to alcohol and drugs, make your house safe. Again, have honest discussions, sans judgment. Help them to anticipate new situations and problem solve about ways to stay safe.

- Don't rule with an iron fist. This may have worked when the kids were younger, but teens need to be part of the rule making. Most kids are actually pretty reasonable when given the opportunity to have some control.

- With their input, set limits with phones, computers and video games. Just like you let them eat only a few pieces of Halloween candy a night when they were younger, you need to see these devices in the same way.

- Express your appreciation and pride in your teens. Not for the good test scores or grades necessarily, but for moments of kindness and hard work. There's nothing more important than an out of the blue "you're a good kid, and maybe I don't tell you that enough."

- Find some fun with your teen. Hang out, watch TV, order pizza, go to the driving range, play a video game, listen to music, go get manis and pedis, bake a cake, take the dog for a walk, go shopping -- anything that may give you a moment, maybe just a moment, of sweetness with your kid.

More parenting insights and information about the book can be found at <http://joanigelman.com/>.

When it comes to teenagers, the stakes can be high, with scary, emotional and even legal consequences. By being open and receptive, you can help navigate these treacherous waters.

Mental Health Tips for Parents of Teens and Young Adults

If you are the parent of an older child or teen, you may not think about his or her day-to-day medical needs as often as you did during early childhood. But older kids also are dependent on you, especially when it comes to emotional health and wellness.

"Life transitions, romantic situations, stress and exposure to drugs and alcohol are just a few of the challenges facing teens and young adults," says James Perrin, MD, FAAP, 2014 President of the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP). "As a parent, you can help ease these transitions and encourage positive choices."

May, which is Mental Health Month, is a good time to take stock of your child's emotional well-being. The AAP offers these tips for parents to foster good mental health:

- At each new stage in your child's life, be extra vigilant for signals that he needs extra support. Be ready to provide it.

- Check in often and keep the lines of communication open. If your child is away at college or has moved out, speak regularly by phone. Children should know that they can talk to you about anything. Be committed to broaching tough topics. Talk about your own experiences and fears when you were an adolescent.

- If your teen has a mental health diagnosis, he or she will need extra support. Pediatricians, school counselors and mental health professionals are important resources.

- Watch for mental health red flags, such as excessive sleeping, personality shifts, excessive moodiness, noticeable weight loss or gain, excessive secrecy or signs of self-harm.

- Don't skip the annual physical. Not only are teens on the vaccination schedule, but check-ups are a crucial opportunity to talk to your pediatrician about any concerns, as well as diagnose any potential physical and mental health issues. It's also a great time for teens to seek confidential advice.

- Safeguard your home against prescription drug abuse by keeping your own medications locked. According to the AAP, prescription drug misuse by adolescents is second only to marijuana and alcohol misuse. The most commonly abused prescription drugs include Vicodin and Xanax.

- Provide logistical support for young adults like completing health forms and physicals for college; setting up accommodations at school if they have a mental health diagnosis; finding physicians to care for their adult needs; and signing up for health insurance. Your pediatrician's office can help.

- Help limit teens' stress. Don't encourage them to take on excessive time-consuming extra-curricular activities. Avoid comparing your children. Every child has his own strengths.

- Encourage habits that reduce stress and promote physical and mental health, such as a well-balanced diet, getting at least seven hours of sleep a night, and regular exercise.

- At this age, it's important for parents to arm their older children with coping skills that will serve them throughout life, rather than handling everything for them.

More health tips for parents of older children, teens and young adults can be found at www.HealthyChildren.org.

As your child gets older, don't let physical and mental health take a back seat to other considerations.

Five quick fixes for Big improvements around your home

When it comes to home improvement, you don't need to do a complete overhaul to make a big impact. A "less is more" approach may serve you better, say experts.

"Sometimes quick fixes are the ones you need most," says Lou Manfredini, host of "HouseSmarts TV" and home improvement contributor on NBC's "The Today Show."

According to Manfredini, there are five small projects you can do yourself that can make a huge difference in your home:

- Clean the Disposal: Your kitchen sink and disposal work hard, but sometimes they can stink. Every few months, eliminate odor and freshen things up by pouring half a cup of general purpose disinfectant cleaner down the drain.

Using a small nylon pipe cleaning brush or clean toilet brush, reach in between the sink drain assembly and scrub the sidewalls of the pipe below it, paying special attention to the underside of the rubber flap on the disposal.

- Patch in a Snap: Unsightly holes in walls can ruin the look of a room. Luckily, patching those holes doesn't have to be time-intensive.

For holes smaller than a dime, apply wall spackle with a putty knife. For larger holes, you may need to use a self-stick metal patch to cover it, and then apply spackle to smooth it out.

"Achieving professional looking results quickly and on-budget requires the right products," says Manfredini.

Use a high-quality wall patch like 3M Patch plus primer spackle and primer in one, now available in a kit for holes up to three inches wide. It applies smoothly and has a built in primer, so once the wall is dry and sanded, you can paint immediately, cutting the repair time in half. More information can be found at www.3MDIY.com/patch.

Quick and tasty lunch ideas to take to work

The work week can be busy and stressful, from shuttling the family around to packing everyone's lunch.

If you're constantly taking care of others, ask yourself, are you taking sufficient care of yourself? At mealtime, it's important to take a minute to re-energize, particularly during a long work day.

Rather than ordering heavy meals or packing the same old thing day in and day out, find yourself other quick and tasty lunch ideas that are satisfying and have nutritional value.

Here are some things to keep in mind.

- What's possible? When planning your meals, consider the amenities of your work environment. Do you have access to a refrigerator? If not, think shelf stability.

- Heat it Up: Tired of cold sandwiches? You don't need to spend all afternoon lingering in a bistro for a quality Italian lunch. Single-serve, portable pasta meals can be ready in one minute. For example, Barilla Italian Entrées are shelf stable and easy to eat on the job. Since the pasta and sauce are stored separately, the taste and texture of the ingredients are maintained until you're ready to eat. At 350 calories or less, they contain 10-13 grams of protein and six and 11 grams of fiber per meal. They come in a variety of options for meat lovers or vegetarians, such as Vegetable Marinara Whole Grain Fusilli and Meat Sauce Gemelli. For lunch ideas, visit www.barilla.com/italianentrees.

- Nutrition: Some meals can offer a quick burst of energy only to cause you to crash soon after.

To truly take care of yourself throughout the day and get through that afternoon slump, make sure your meals are packed with protein and fiber to help you feel full. Look for a wholesome way to stay fueled.

- Be Balanced: It's important to eat well-balanced meals as much as possible. Eating pasta or a sandwich at lunch? Try incorporating vegetables and fruit on the side to add valuable vitamins and nutrients. All you need is a bag of baby carrots or celery sticks and you're set.

No matter what you choose, you needn't resign yourself to forgoing meals or getting bored. If you're juggling work, parenting duties and chores, challenge yourself to find ways to prepare tasty, nourishing lunches in just a minute or two, so you don't go hungry or renege on important responsibilities.

- Peace and Quiet: Plagued by squeaky wood flooring? Try pouring baby powder over the noisy area. Then, wrap a block of wood in a dish rag and tap the boards down with a hammer to drive the powder between the tongue and groove of the flooring and tighten the nails holding it in place.

"It may not work in all instances but I've had great success with this process," says Manfredini.

- Accent with Paint: To update a room without investing much time or money, paint one wall an accent color. Half of all paint sold in the US is white, so why not add bold color to your home like blue, red or even tangerine?

Prep by lightly sanding the entire surface. Patch any holes and then paint using a paint and primer in one. Two coats will give you the depth of color you want and should take only an afternoon.

- Light it up: To save money and help the environment, switch to LED light bulbs. With all the improvements in color, they can now mimic the warm lighting associated with incandescent bulbs, using two-thirds less electricity.

You don't have to spend lots of time or money to spruce up your home this spring. Small projects can go a long way towards make it look great.

Tips to reduce allergens in your home this season

Many people seek refuge indoors around this time of year, when outdoor air is full of pollen and other allergens. For allergy sufferers, however, the air indoors can prove to be just as problematic.

Dust that collects in a home contains common household allergens such as dust mite particles and animal dander. If dust is disturbed from furniture, hard surfaces and carpet, those allergens can become airborne and reduce indoor air quality.

May is designated National Asthma and Allergy Awareness Month, and it is an excellent time to make your home cleaner and healthier by removing common household allergens and improving your indoor air. Even if you don't have asthma or allergies, everyone can benefit from better indoor air quality.

"The way you clean your home is important. Most household cleaning routines only recirculate allergens throughout your home rather than removing them," says Justin Bates, president of Stanley Steemer, International, Inc. "If your cleaning routine doesn't specifically focus on dust and allergen removal, you may be only moving them around, sending allergens back into the air."

To maximize your cleaning efforts while reducing allergens, consider these simple tips:

- Dust hard surfaces regularly with moist cloths or special dry dusters designated to trap and lock dust.

- Wash your bedding and linens often. Doing so can help you control dust mites in your home.

- Vacuum often. Although cleaning can sometimes trigger allergic reactions by releasing dust into the air, vacuuming floors once or twice a week will reduce surface dust and allergens. Make sure your vacuum has a high efficiency air filter to capture dust.

- Use a certified professional carpet cleaning service to deep clean your carpets to remove the stains, spills and dust that regular vacuuming leaves behind. Be sure to use a service that's qualified to reduce allergens in the home. Stanley Steemer's Professional Carpet Cleaning service is the first to be certified asthma and allergy friendly by the Asthma and Allergy Foundation of America (AAFA).

Independent testing proved Stanley Steemer's proprietary cleaning process removed 94 percent of common household allergens, including 92.8 percent of cat dander, 97.8 percent of dog dander and 91.4 percent of dust mite allergens. The process also reduces exposure to bacteria and mold by 90 percent within 24 hours of cleaning. AAFA recommends a certified professional carpet cleaning every three to four months.

- Protect yourself

when doing housework by wearing a mask. After cleaning, consider leaving for a few hours to avoid allergens in the air.

- Reduce pet dander. If you have allergies, don't keep pets with feathers or fur, such as birds, dogs and cats in your home. Animal saliva and dead skin, also known as pet dander, can cause allergic reactions. If you already have a pet, keep it out of the bedroom.

- Shut out pollen. Inspect your windows for a film of pollen on the frame or sill. Prevent pollen from entering your home by keeping windows and doors closed. Use an air filter and clean it regularly or run the air conditioner and change the filter often.

Over 70 million Americans suffer from asthma and allergies. If you're one of them, be proactive. National Asthma and Allergy Awareness Month is the perfect time to eliminate triggers in your home so you can breathe more easily. A cleaner home is a healthier home.

For more tips on reducing allergens in your home, and more information about asthma and allergy friendly carpet cleaning services, visit StanleySteemer.com.

SRWMD scores well on land management practices

Bill McKinstry discusses land management practices with the District's Land Management Review Team.

LIVE OAK, FL, May 20, 2014 – The Suwannee River Water Management District (District) Land Management Review Team recently toured several District properties to evaluate efforts to manage conservation lands over the previous fiscal year. The team, which is made up of landowners, biologists, foresters, parks and recreation specialists, environmentalists, and others, rated the District's land management practices as meeting or exceeding the District's land management objectives.

This year the review team held two field trips – one at the Otter Springs tract in Gilchrist County and the Devil's Hammock tract in Levy County. A second trip was taken to various tracts within the Twin Rivers State Forest, located along the banks of the Withlacoochee and Suwannee rivers in eastern Madison, western Hamilton, and northwest Suwannee counties. Staff from the Florida Forest Service led the tour of Twin Rivers State Forest.

The group saw firsthand what the District does to make lands available to the public and how these natural resources are managed, protected, and restored. They reviewed hydrologic resources on the properties, and were informed on the District's prescribed fire, treatment of invasive species, and timber harvesting activities. They also learned about the District's efforts to protect rare and endangered species, types of public use opportunities, and the various cooperative agreements in which the District partners with other agencies to manage lands to maximize public benefit and reduce management costs.

The Land Management Review Team tours District property annually, reviews land management objectives, and scores the District on its management practices to determine whether the District is fulfilling its statutory obligations, complying with governing board policy, and meeting specific land management objectives.

The District is statutorily required to seek feedback from local citizens and state agencies on its natural systems management practices each year. Invitations are sent to local governments, agencies, organizations and citizens in order to form the review team.

Anyone interested in joining the review team may contact Barbara Peaden at the District at 386.362.1001 or 800.226.1066 (FL only).

Natural tips to keep gardeners healthy

(StatePoint) More than 41,200 people across the nation were injured in 2012 while working in their gardens, reports the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. Conversely, many common flowers and plants have healing properties that can help gardeners treat their injuries.

Made from plants, as well as animals and minerals, homeopathic medicines offer some of the safest options for self-treatable conditions -- and can be great for ailments and injuries that befall home gardeners. Because the risk of interaction with other drugs, supplements and herbs is minimal, experts say these natural medicines are a good first choice for early symptoms.

Easily found in health food stores and pharmacies, these non-prescription medicines work naturally with the body instead of masking a problem, which is important if a more serious condition should arise.

With that in mind, here are some homeopathic treatments for common gardener ailments:

- Allergies: Relieving allergy symptoms provides a good example of the principle behind homeopathic medicines. Chopping a red onion has a "toxic" effect, causing eyes to water and burn until exposed to fresh air. When similar symptoms appear from allergies or a cold, a micro-dose of the red onion helps relieve those same symptoms. The red onion in this homeopathic form takes the Latin name of its source, Allium cepa.

Try Ambrosia (Ragweed) for watery nasal discharge with eyes that tear and itch and Sabadilla (Cevadilla) for hypersensitivity to the smell of flowers or itching in the back of the mouth. A good general allergy medicine is Histaminum, which is derived from histamine.

- Sore, Stiff Muscles: For gardeners suffering back and knee injuries, Arnica montana can be an essential gardening tool.

Commonly known as the Mountain daisy, Arnica's healing properties were first recognized in the 16th century. Legend has it mountain climbers chewed the plant to relieve sore, aching muscles and bruises from falls. Today, this homeopathic medicine is used by professional athletes and surgeons for muscle pain and stiffness, swelling from injuries and bruising. For more information visit www.Arnica.com.

- Sunburn, Blisters and Other Skin Conditions: In its homeopathic form, Calendula (Garden marigold) is one of the most versatile aids for skin irritations. Try a Calendula cream or ointment for blisters and calluses, cuts and scrapes, rashes, and chapped skin caused by wind, dry or cold air, or sun.

Used for centuries as a natural healing and soothing substance, Calendula's wound-healing properties are due to essential oils, saponins, flavonoids and alkaloids. These compounds have skin healing properties.

- Bug Bites: To help relieve bee and wasp stings, as well as gnat, black fly or mosquito bites, take five pellets of Apis mellifica (Honey bee) every 30 minutes for up to six doses. And apply Calendula topically.

- Take Breaks and Relax: While many plants help us nurture our health, remember to practice common sense. Prepare properly by stretching and wearing sun block. Don't overdo it. Take breaks. End your day with a soaking bath.

Relieve conditions at the first sign of symptoms before they grow out of control, so you can continue your gardening activities.
