The Church, Where God's People Meet

The Church as God intended it to be is fastly declining in attendance. If there is not an awakening of God's people, there may come a time when it will be hard to find a place that truly worships as God intended. Why is this? Many are the answers to this question, but as David Jeremiah said "There is too much world in the Church and too much Church in the world." Some think as the culture changes the Church must change. I do not believe that to be true. The culture is certainly not changing toward God, but fastly moving away from God. The Church must remain pure and undefiled. It is to set an example for the world in every area of life.

The English word "church" derives from a Greek word meaning "belonging to the Lord." It is a place where God's people assemble. The people are the Church, the building is the place where the Church assembles. Study 2nd Corinthians 6:14-18, verse 17 says to the people "Come out from among them and be separate, says the Lord. Do not touch what is unclean, and I will receive you." The Church today has put that aside; they believe that they can compromise and get people into the Church and then win them. But it does not work that way. Galatians 5:9 "A little leaven leavens the whole lump." Even many preachers look like and dress like the world; even wear shorts and flip flops to Church and to meetings. We should go to church to be counter cultural in the best sense of the word.

There is no place on the face of the earth that gives us more reason to affirm the value of every person than a body of people "called out" by the Lord of the universe to regard everyone as someone for whom Christ died (James 2:1-9). We should want to go to Church to confess with others the life-changing truth that meeting together is not just about us. From the beginning, the Church was established to be a place where the words of God are contemplated, where the Spirit of God is heard, where the goodness of God is confessed, and where the wisdom, power, and love of God are praised.

Going to Church is a family reunion. Jesus, when asked "Who is My family?" replied, "Those who do My will (Mark 3:33-35)." We need each others support. Church should be a refuge. The sanctuary is a place to get away from the business of the world. It's a place to focus our thoughts on things above, to worship. Going to Church is a memorial service. We should attend His memorial service, taking part in communion services; remembering His death. Going to Church is like partaking in a victory celebration. Jesus left an empty tomb. We can celebrate His resurrection together. The first day of the week should be set aside for remembering Jesus' triumph over death and Satan. After all, God is our Father. Why shouldn't we go to His house and spend time with Him as any child should do.

Hebrews 10:24 -25 says "And let us consider one another in order to stir up love and good works, not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as is the manner of some, but exhorting one another, and so much the more as you see the Day approaching." We can certainly see the Day of the coming of the Lord for His Church is near. So, Church, be ready.

more than voting the party line when he wrote:

"Societies are tragically vulnerable when the men and women who compose them lack character. A nation or a culture cannot endure for long unless it is under-girded by common values such as valor, public-spiritedness, respect for others and for the law; it cannot stand unless it is populated by people who will act on motives superior to their own immediate interest.

Keeping the law, respecting human life and property, loving one's family, fighting to defend national goals, helping the unfortunate, paying taxes — all these depend on the individual virtues of courage, loyalty, charity, compassion, civility and duty."

"Acting on motives superior to their own immediate interests" means that where a candidate stands on issues like abortion and protecting God's definition of marriage and family should be more of a decision maker on who to vote for than what financial relief they are promising on the campaign trail. In Proverbs 29:2, the Bible is clear: "When the righteous rule, the people rejoice; when the wicked rule, the people groan." Make it a priority to vote in the upcoming election. Let's use our voice to uphold God's standard by voting values, because the hearts of this generation and the next...they really do matter!

(To see where your candidate stands on the issues, go to the Christian Coalition of Florida's website at www.ccsfla.org and download your free voter's guide.)

Driver license and vehicle inspection checkpoints

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office will be conducting driver license and vehicle inspection checkpoints during the weeks of October 1, 2014, until December 31, 2014, in Hamilton County.

Recognizing the danger presented to the public by defective vehicle equipment, deputies will concentrate their efforts on vehicles being operated with defects such as bad brakes, worn tires and defective lighting equipment. In addition, attention will be directed to drivers who would violate the driver license laws of Florida.

The Sheriff's Office has found these checkpoints to be an effective means of enforcing the equipment and driver license laws of Florida, while ensuring the protection of all motorists.

The checkpoints will be: US-41, CR-145, NW 16th Avenue, CR-751, CR-25A, SR-6 W, SR-6 E, CR-141, CR-143, CR-51, CR-249 and SR-129.

A Healthy You

By Johnny Bullard
Florida Department of Health-Hamilton County

Harper Lee mentions a scuppernong arbor in her well-known book, "To Kill a Mockingbird", which has caused many a reader to wonder what, exactly, a scuppernong is. Scuppernongs are a type of grape native to the South; particularly abundant in North Carolina, but here in North Florida and in Hamilton County, we grow some wonderful, succulent and sweet scuppernongs. Many native Southerners have fond memories of picking these treasured grapes and feasting on them in the hot, last lazy days of summer and the very first days of early fall.

Scuppernongs are defined as a type of bronze muscadine grape. They are distinguished from the purplish muscadines by their green, amber, bronze color. They were originally called the "big white grape". Scuppernongs are very large, about twice the size of a regular grape, with a thick, bitter skin.

They are found in farmers markets and grocery and produce stores throughout the South in late summer and early fall. You can also often find individuals who have scuppernong vines and offer "U-pick" opportunities for those who want to get out and enjoy seeing the scuppernongs grow, and who enjoy picking them.

Scuppernongs were North America's first cultivated grape, with varieties having been taken from the wild and grown at home for over 400 years. Native Americans enjoyed the fruit of this vine and dried the grapes for year round use. Sir Walter Raleigh's explorers and the Florentine navigator, Giovanni de Verrazano, saw these grapes while exploring North Carolina and wrote about their abundance. The scuppernong is named after the Scuppernong River in coastal North Carolina. Scuppernong is a Native American word that comes from the Algonquin tribe.

In 2005, Studies published in the "Journal of Agricultural and Food Chemistry" by Nutraceutical Research Laboratories, University of Georgia:

- Anti-inflammatory properties of the muscadine grape (Scuppernongs are a type of muscadine), (Vitis rotundifolia).
- Study of anticancer activities of muscadine grapes phenolics in vitro. In 2006, A study published in the "Journal of Agricultural and Food Chemistry" by the Department of Pharmaceutics, University of Florida.

- Induction of cell death in Caco-2 human colon carcinoma cells by ellagic acid rich functions from muscadine grapes (Vitis rotundifolia).

In 2007, a study published in the Cancer Research by the Laboratory of Cellular Regulation and Carcinogenesis, National Cancer Institute: Inhibition of Prostate Cancer Growth by Muscadine Grape Skin Extract and Resveratrol through Distinct Mechanisms.

In 2009, an article in "Living Without Magazine", written by Christine Doherty, muscadine grapes and scuppernongs are a variety of muscadine that were rated six in the top ten super fruit list. Like other super fruits, they are loaded with potent phytochemicals. Most phytochemicals have antioxidant activity and protect our cells against oxidative damage and may reduce the risk of developing certain types of cancer. Scuppernongs are naturally high in polyphenols, which is a highly studied phytochemical.

As you can see, the health benefits of eating scuppernongs, a variety of muscadine, are many. Scuppernongs are also a healthy and vital part of the encouragement in the "fruits" category, for Americans to eat more of; Americans are encouraged to eat at least five servings of fruits and/or vegetables daily for a healthy and balanced diet, and one that will lead to "Healthiest Weight" and a "Healthier You".

Scuppernongs are abundant now in our part of North Florida. They are sweet, succulent and good for you, and they are a part of our heritage. In many instances, they are associated with fond memories many have about growing up in this region.

Many people have fond memories of picking grapes at the home of a friend or loved one and just eating their fill. It is one of the wonderful "commonalities" many of us share who grew up in this area.

Remember the tune, "I Heard it Through the Grapevine", that was extremely popular during the late 1960's, and is now an American classic? You can tell everyone you have not "Heard it through the grapevine", but you read about the value of scuppernongs in "A Healthier You". I hope you will enjoy the succulence and sweetness of scuppernongs as part of reaching your "Healthiest Weight" and a "Healthier You", because you are worth it.

2014 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS BALLOT LANGUAGE

No. 1 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE X, SECTION 28

Water and Land Conservation – Dedicates funds to acquire and restore Florida conservation and recreation lands

Funds the Land Acquisition Trust Fund to acquire, restore, improve, and manage conservation lands including wetlands and forests; fish and wildlife habitat; lands protecting water resources and drinking water sources, including the Everglades, and the water quality of rivers, lakes, and streams; beaches and shores; outdoor recreational lands; working farms and ranches; and historic or geologic sites, by dedicating 33 percent of net revenues from the existing excise tax on documents for 20 years.

This amendment does not increase or decrease state revenues. The state revenue restricted to the purposes specified in the amendment is estimated to be $648 million in Fiscal Year 2015-16 and grows to $1.268 billion by the twentieth year. Whether this results in any additional state expenditures depends upon future legislative actions and cannot be determined. Similarly, the impact on local government revenues, if any, cannot be determined. No additional local government costs are expected.

YES
NO

No. 2 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE X, SECTION 29

Use of Marijuana for Certain Medical Conditions

Allows the medical use of marijuana for individuals with debilitating diseases as determined by a licensed Florida physician. Allows caregivers to assist patients' medical use of marijuana. The Department of Health shall register and regulate centers that produce and distribute marijuana for medical purposes and shall issue identification cards to patients and caregivers. Applies only to Florida law. Does not authorize violations of federal law or any non-medical use, possession or production of marijuana.

Increased costs from this amendment to state and local governments cannot be determined. There will be additional regulatory and enforcement activities associated with the production and sale of medical marijuana. Fees will offset at least a portion of the regulatory costs. While sales tax may apply to purchases, changes in revenue cannot reasonably be determined since the extent to which medical marijuana will be exempt from taxation is unclear without legislative or state administrative action.

NO

No. 3 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE V, SECTIONS 10, 11

Prospective Appointment of Certain Judicial Vacancies

Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution requiring the Governor to prospectively fill vacancies in a judicial office to which election for retention applies resulting from the justice's or judge's reaching the mandatory retirement age or failure to qualify for a retention election; and allowing prospective appointments if a justice or judge is not retained at an election. Currently, the Governor may not fill an expected vacancy until the current justice's or judge's term expires.

Do statistical disparities mean injustice?

How many times have we heard laments such as "women are 50 percent of the population but only 5 percent of Fortune 500 CEOs" and, as the Justice Department recently found, "blacks are 54 percent of the population in Newark, New Jersey, but 85 percent of pedestrian stops and 79 percent of arrests"? If one believes that people should be represented socio-economically according to their numbers in the population, then statistical disparities represent injustices that demand government remedies. Before we jump to conclusions about what disparities mean and whether they are indicators of injustice, we might examine some other disparities to see what we can make of them.

According to a recent study conducted by Bond University in Australia, sharks are nine times as likely to attack and kill men than they are women. If sinister motivation is attributed for this disparity, as is done in the cases of sex and racial disparities, we can only conclude that sharks are sexist. Another sex disparity is despite the fact that men are 50 percent of the population and so are women, men are struck by lightning six times as often as women. I wonder what whoever is in charge of lightning has against men.

BY WALTER WILLIAMS

Another gross statistical disparity is despite the fact that Jews are less than 3 percent of the U.S. population and a mere 0.2 percent of the world's population, between 1901 and 2010, Jews were 35 percent of American and 22 percent of the world's Nobel Prize winners.

There are other disparities that we might acknowledge with an eye to corrective public policy. Asian-Americans routinely score the highest on the math portion of the SAT, whereas blacks score the lowest. The population statistics for South Dakota, Iowa, Maine, Montana and Vermont show that not even 1 percent of their populations is black. In states such as Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, blacks are over-represented in terms of their percentages in the general population. When this kind of "segregation" is found in schooling, the remedy is busing.

There are loads of international examples of ethnic disparities. During the 1960s, the Chinese minority in Malaysia, where Malays politically dominate, received more university degrees than the Malay majority -- including 400 engineering degrees, compared with just four for the Malays. In Brazil's state of Sao Paulo, more than two-thirds of the potatoes and 90 percent of the tomatoes produced have been produced by people of Japanese ancestry.

Blacks are 13 percent of our population but 80 percent of professional basketball players and 65 percent of professional football players and among the highest-paid players in both sports. By stark contrast, blacks are only 2 percent of the NHL's professional ice hockey players. Basketball, football and ice hockey represent gross racial disparities and come nowhere close to "looking like America."

Even in terms of sports achievement, racial diversity is absent. In Major League Baseball, three out of the four hitters with the most career home runs are black. Since blacks entered the major leagues, of the eight times more than 100 bases have been stolen in a season, all were by blacks. In basketball, 50 of the 59 MVP awards have been won by black players.

If America's diversity worshippers see underrepresentation as "probative" of racial discrimination, what do they propose be done about overrepresentation? After all, overrepresentation and underrepresentation are simply different sides of injustice. If those in one race are overrepresented, it might mean they're taking away what rightfully belongs to another race. For example, is it possible that Jews are doing things that sabotage the chances of a potential Indian, Alaska Native or Mexican Nobel Prize winner? What about the disgraceful lack of diversity in professional basketball and ice hockey? There's not even geographical diversity in professional ice hockey; not a single player can boast of having been born and raised in Hawaii, Louisiana or Mississippi.

Courts, bureaucrats and the intellectual elite have consistently concluded that "gross" disparities are probative of a pattern and practice of discrimination. Given all of the differences among people, such a position is pure nonsense.

The organizational meeting will be on Monday, September 29, 2014 at 5:05 p.m. in the Board Meeting Room, County Courthouse, 207 Northeast First Street, Jasper, Florida. The public is welcome to attend. Again, appeals regarding exemptions or property assessment will NOT be considered at this meeting.

In accordance with Section 286.0105, Florida Statutes, notice is given that if any person decides to appeal any decision made by the Board, agency or commission, with respect to proceedings and that, for such purpose, he/she will need to ensure that a verbatim record of the proceedings is made, which record includes testimony and evidence upon which the appeal is based.

Some recent research conducted by people who obviously have nothing else to do in this world has concluded that many of the people who report UFOs are normal. In other words, the study showed that you don't have to be loony to see something flying through the sky that you can't identify.

But let me clarify: An "unidentified flying object" doesn't necessarily imply a vehicle driven by extrater-restrials. It could be Big Brother trying out a new drone or a new stealth bomber. It could be a drone dressed up for Halloween.

In my very younger days, we had UFOs in the lunchroom. Unidentified food objects. We knew it was stew, but we were not sure about the ingredients. It was nothing like the food served in schools today. Today in high schools, students have food choices. We had choices, also. We could eat or not eat.

Back to that study. Like I said, these researchers had absolutely nothing else to do that day. Their cats didn't need baths and their gold fish didn't need therapy. And now there is speculation that more "normal" people will come forth with UFO stories because of these findings.

I have no problem believing that there are otherwise normal people who have seen things that they couldn't explain in terms of heavenly flight.

Of course it has been found that some alleged sightings that involved photos were as bogus as a horoscope. Now some people want to see things so badly, they convince themselves that the shadow was actually a black panther or a skunk ape.

The other night I watched a special on UFOs. Stories were told and re-enacted for dramatic effect. And yes, there were seemingly normal people who reported seeing strange lights and various types of flying craft that were there one second and gone the next. I'm not talking about the guy with one tooth who is always called upon to describe the tornado that took away his out-house. One of those interviewed was a former airline pilot. Another was former military. One was a school teacher.

I've been asked if I believe we have been visited by beings from outer space. I really don't have a strong opinion on that. I have wondered about it though. I will say that I think there may be life in other solar systems, though I'm not sure what forms it might take.

If there is other life out there, I wonder if they grow butterbeans, suffer from kidney stones, play football and diagram sentences. In their societies, are they all kind and gentle or like ours — do they have nutcases who open fire with automatic weapons in crowded shopping malls?

Generally these thoughts come to mind when there's a special on TV about that alleged space vehicle that supposedly crashed in New Mexico many years ago.

Dwain Walden

Now I do consider that if we have been visited, then their civilization is much more advanced scientifically than ours. Chances are, they already have vast sources of renewable fuels and have found cures for cancer and cellulite. I would think if they have television, it's unlikely they have shows like "The Kardashians" and "Honey Boo Boo" which collectively seem to contradict the concept of intelligent life.

On this subject, I have gone on record before that I think there's a much greater chance that we have been visited by extraterrestrials than there is that Bigfoot is real. I still believe that.

Cogongrass treatment cost-share program now accepting applications from private landowners

Applications accepted through Feb. 20 to remove invasive plant

The Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services announced today that the Florida Forest Service is now accepting applications for the Cogongrass Treatment Cost-Share Program.

"Invasive cogongrass spreads quickly and aggressively and can cause long-term problems if left untreated," said State Forester Jim Karels. "In addition to reducing the productivity and value of forests and rangelands, it can greatly increase the risk and severity of wildfire."

Cogongrass is an invasive, non-native grass that occurs in Florida and several other southeastern states. Cogongrass infestations negatively affect tree regeneration, growth and survival, as well as wildlife habitat, native plant diversity, forage quality and property values. They also increase the risk of wildfires and alter fire behavior.

The Cogongrass Treatment Cost-Share Program is offered for non-industrial private lands in all Florida counties. It provides reimbursement of 50 percent of the cost to treat Cogongrass infestations for two consecutive years.

Applicants who wish to conduct treatments in 2014 may apply from Sept. 22, 2014, through Oct. 3, 2014. Applicants who wish to conduct treatments in 2015 may apply from Oct. 6, 2014, through Feb. 27, 2015.

To learn more about this program and obtain an application form, contact a local Florida Forest Service office or visit www.FreshFromFlorida.com/Divisions-Offices/Florida-Forest-Service. All qualifying applications will be evaluated and ranked for approval. This program is supported through a grant from the U.S. Forest Service.

The Florida Forest Service manages more than 1 million acres of public forest land while protecting 26 million acres of homes, forestland and natural resources from the devastating effects of wildfire. Learn more about the Florida Forest Service.

The Thing I Miss Most About Summer

Summer is over and winter is beginning to give us her cold shoulder. The only way I can really handle winter is the hope of summer coming again in all her warm embraces. I can only take the shivers for so long.

In our home, there is a divide over the subject. The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage lives for winter and I live for summer. How two people who can be so opposite and still live together harmoniously is one of the mysteries of matrimonial bliss. I endure her complaining about how hot it is during the summer and she somehow endures my shivering throughout the winter. And boy, do I shiver.

I am not so sure what it is about winter that is so fascinating for her. Maybe it is because she gets to wear more clothing than she can during the summer. Or, maybe she just likes the cold. That is not exactly true because once I gave her a cold shoulder and I have been paying for that ever since. She does have that cold stare when I am in trouble, but that comes during the summer as well as the rest of the year.

Maybe she likes winter because in the middle of winter is Christmas. If anybody loves Christmas, it is my wife. She begins her Christmas planning in January and knows exactly what she is going to buy throughout the year. I think it has something to do with when things go on sale or something like that. Personally, and do not let this get back to her, I think it is just an excuse to go shopping. I will not say she is a Shopaholic, but give her a coupon and she is off to the mall. You did not hear it from me.

Also during the winter season is Thanksgiving where my wife outdoes herself in making Thanksgiving dinner for all the family. She makes enough for an army and out of deep respect for her, I eat like an army. Actually, I eat until I hear that little whisper from the other end of the table, "Don't you think you have had enough?" What she does not understand is, when I am eating I am not thinking.

As for me, I enjoy summer and all the laziness associated with summertime. All those lazy, crazy days of summer were designed for people just like me. When it comes to lazy and crazy, I am the expert.

I can remember years ago when I was doing something and my wife thought it was a little out of line, she would say, "Are you acting crazy?"

She does not say that anymore because she has concluded, and rightly so, that I am not an actor. If I were acting, she is sure I would get an Oscar.

However, something about summer makes a person slow down a little bit and not be in such a hurry. One of my excuses is that it is too hot to do anything today. I love that excuse because my wife always agrees. I cannot use that excuse in winter for obvious reasons. According to her, an activity will warm me up. I have never warmed up to that idea.

I like summer because there are so many fun opportunities to get together with family. Every summer we go and spend a week with my son and his family, which is one of the highlights of the summer. I only have one week out of the year to spoil his children so I try to make the best of it.

If I had the ability to manipulate seasons, I would make sure that 11 months out of the year it would be summer. I would have to give one month to my wife for winter, but I would only give her one month. That is about all I can handle. Summer is a time to enjoy the nature God has created. It is wonderful to see green grass and green leaves on the trees and watching blossoms turn into full-fledged flowers.

What could be better than sitting on the back porch with a tall glass of iced lemonade watching the sunset? I love hearing the crickets in full concert and that only happens during the summer. Here in Florida we have little frogs that think they are crickets and chime in adding their voice to the evening music.

Did I mention picnics? What would summer be without a picnic? In my mind, a picnic is an excuse to overindulge in the fine art of stuffing yourself. The picnic is a little different so that somebody cannot query me with, "Don't you think you've had enough?" The "Food Whisperer" is not allowed at picnics. After all, at a church picnic it is imperative that I sample every dish brought to the picnic. I do not want to leave anybody out on this. The picnic is the time to let down your hair, if you have any, and just enjoy food and fellowship.

It amazes me how fast time flies when you are not paying attention. King Solomon understood this when he wrote, "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven" (Ecclesiastes 3:1).

One man's winter is another man's summer and the joy of life is learning to appreciate what you may not really like.

Poor College Student?

I am a professor at a community college. If you can't afford textbooks or other supplies, ask your professor! If a student lets me know they have very tight funds, I will lend a textbook. I also allow recycled paper to be used to turn in work and projects. Students leave spiral notebooks and folders as well as pens and pencils in class. I collect them, and then I give them to students if left unclaimed. Need a ride? I teach other sections and can ask in each section for someone going your way.

For trips home, many colleges have a ride along board for students who want to go home. They can save gas by sharing. Also, your choice of roommate can be critical. I recommend teaming with someone who is well supplied by parents. They normally will share with a very needy student in a very generous way.

Around the Banks of the Suwannee

By Correspondent
Johnny Bullard

"Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam, Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

"Home"... I thought about that term a good bit this week, well, it kind of "came over me" on Sunday, as I sat in the pew at White Springs United Methodist Church... the late summer sunlight streaming through the old stained glass windows, the old familiar names on the stained glass windows, the familiarity of the church... Each week I write this column, and I write a good bit about home, but what makes a place, a certain place, "home" to someone?

For those of us who live around the Banks of the Suwannee and whose families have lived here for several generations, there is a treasure trove of memories, stories, faces and places that collectively comprise our "ideal" of home. For some, the ideal changes, and for some it remains the same. Sometimes, as children of our area, we drive around remembering and looking for it, going down familiar roads and pathways, and sometimes we find the object of our search was in "our hearts" and that we can't go back and find that again. I guess the closest we come to it, at times, is at family reunions and church homecomings.

I have known folks who lived here on the Woodpecker Route decades ago. I have known them to stop by the house and say, "I lived out here years ago. Gosh, things have changed." They have... in many cases, not the same people who owned the property years ago still own it, many of the people they knew are now deceased or have moved away...yes, things do change... they change everywhere.. Change is a part of life.

The places we go back to anchor ourselves, without really realizing we are doing that, are to places of faith, churches, places that in many instances remain the same and where, for just a little while, we can hear voices and see faces from our past that manifest themselves in our hearts, as we celebrate who we are as a people.

Sometimes, in addition to the churches, the Suwannee River itself can do that for us. The Suwannee is so much a part of our collective heritage and memory. It is central to so many great stories, great events of any number of lives regardless of race or background. Memories shared in common.

"We went to the river and had a nice fish fry."

"I remember Daddy and Mama catching fish from the river, as they fished in the boat. Daddy would build a fire and Mama would take the frying pan and fry freshly caught fish Daddy had caught right there on the river bank."

"We went to the river swimming. There was a whole group of us."

"We took our canoes and put them into the Suwannee River."

"We drove down to the river and watched the water go by and talked and talked."

"My first kiss with the girl who, several years later, became my wife, was sitting on the banks of the Suwannee River."

"After church on Sundays, we would walk from the farm down to the river and during the spring of the year, we would pick wild violets along the way."

"When I was younger, we would swim in the river from behind the farm, and I would come home and tell Mama, I've been to Columbia County today, as I swam the river from bank to bank, from the Hamilton to the Columbia side."

Yes, the river is always central in our stories, and in our thoughts and shared memories.

A longtime friend, renowned chef, restaurateur, and cookbook author, Art Smith, visited his childhood home of Jasper recently. Art has published some wonderful cookbooks, and he has led an exciting and rich life pursuing and mastering his love for food, food ways, and just wonderful cooking skills shared with others in a spirit of generosity.

Food definitely is a "definer" of a region, and we know all about some food events that are part of the iconography of this region. Let me name four events involving food that touch just about everyone in this region:

1. The fish fry: How many of us in this region can say "pick me", when you hear the term "fish fry"? What image does it conjure up for you?

For me, it conjures up memories of Suwannee River Channel catfish, bream, war mouthed perch, and small mouthed bass, all cleaned, properly salted, dredged in cornmeal and fried crispy and brown in peanut oil, or some can remember, and I can, too, in pure hog lard. Fried fish, hush puppies, grits, coleslaw and fig preserves, guava jelly, or any kind of homemade jelly you had handy to put on your hush puppies. Heaven... Fresh mullet from the coast, fried crisp... wonderful. Fish fries unite us in memory.

2. Barbecues: I am not referring here to grilling a steak or a hamburger. I am referring to culinary artistry. My first cousin from Live Oak, Damon Wooley is great at it, and it requires patience, love for what one is doing, and artistry, to turn out succulent and perfectly seasoned smoked pork ribs, Boston Butt, or you name it with just the right sauce. During my childhood, I remember the famous barbecues around political time hosted by the late Mr. Duke McCallister, Live Oak, and those that were held annually at the Florida Sheriff's Boy's Ranch. Great barbecue. Good memories.

3. Chicken Pilau: How many times have you been to a large family gathering, a family reunion, a political event, an event at the church, and you were served chicken pilau? Chicken Pilau is so much a part of the "food ways" of our Suwannee River Valley. The traditional Chicken Pilau plate at barbecues usually consisted of Chicken Pilau (chicken and rice), cole slaw or green beans, and a slice of white, light bread. Well seasoned Chicken Pilau is hard to beat, but I don't want any "gummy" rice. I was raised in Hamilton County, and in the southern end of Hamilton County, we like our pilau where each grain of rice will stand on its own with plenty of chicken in it. No gummy rice for us around the "Sprangz", that's White Springs, for interpretation, and we in this area have some folks who had their doctorate degree on cooking perfect or near perfect pilau. My brother, Jerry Lawrence Bullard, is one who can "flat turn it out".... wonderful... and there are others.

4. Peanut Boils: How many of you have ever been to one? I have. When folks would have acres of wonderful peanuts, they would pull the peanuts, wash them, boil them in salty water and let them set and soak until the consistency of that boiled peanut is just right. Sometimes bushels of peanuts would be boiled for a big peanut boil. The menu was pretty simple. Boiled peanuts and iced tea, water, or sometimes soft drinks. Lots of fun and laughter at peanut boils but once those wonderful boiled peanuts were served, a lot of silence, as everyone was intent upon eating those peanuts, and I've never met a boiled peanut I didn't like.

When I think about what evokes the picture or thought of "home" here in our beloved homeland, which is prolific with slash pines, palmettos, white sand roads, and one where a "river runs through it" ceaselessly to the Gulf of Mexico, I think about those common threads that tie us together as a people. Those threads that for some seem everyday and common, but which are unique in their strength and resilient beyond words.

This past week, our pastoral, peaceful image of home was shattered with the news of a tragic and brutal murder/suicide in the very small Gilchrist County town of Bell. Gilchrist County is one of the counties bordering our beloved Suwannee River. It is one of the few places left in the state of Florida that has a K-12 school. Gilchrist Countians celebrate life with many of the "common threads" of "home" with which we celebrate in Hamilton and Suwannee counties. Their joys are our joys and their tragedy is ours. It could easily happen anywhere; it happened in Bell.

The good people of Gilchrist County and Bell will never forget this tragedy. I have to comment about the Gilchrist County Sheriff and his televised press comments. He was, in my opinion, the very epitome of professionalism, carefully chosen words, genuinely contrite, and being human, somewhat visibly shaken. He was wise enough and humble enough to call upon those in the community and everywhere to seek Divine Providence in prayer. He did a good job. He voiced so much in those few words about the fabric that holds our lives together in North Florida; faith, family and friends. He didn't mention food, but I can guarantee you being a small Southern community, there will be an outpouring of those who will furnish food for the bereaved and those who are grieving. It's the way we do things. It is who we are.

In the novel "To Kill a Mockingbird" by Harper Lee... Lee wrote..

"Friends bring food with sickness and flowers with death and little things in between."

She was so right, and in these few words, she encapsulated so much of what we love about this place we call home. There are no major museums of art, no opera, no huge malls, and sometimes when you want something, you think, I wish I didn't have to drive so far to obtain it, but the trade off to me is, there is more caring, compassion, and in many cases more "real" characters one gets to know on a personal basis, and more love.

Ernest Hemingway wrote, "The world breaks everyone, and afterward, many are stronger in the broken places."

Our home helps us all become stronger in those broken places. It cries with us when we fall, it prays for us during our recuperation, it rejoices when we "get up" stronger. It is a land beautiful in natural resources, and in the spirits and souls and hearts of its people, and it's the reason I write this column each week.

For some "down home" food and good "down home time" with "home-folks", come join us on Saturday, Oct. 4, at White Springs United Methodist Church fellowship hall in White Springs, on US 41, from 7:30 a.m. until... and we will give you a taste of home with some great breakfast at a nominal price, and you can plunder till your heart's content among all our Yard Sale treasures and hopefully purchase some things, too.

From the Eight Mile Still on the Woodpecker Route north of White Springs, wishing each of you a day filled with joy, peace, and above all, lots of love and laughter. So blessed to be in the number "one more time".

Arts building so that student Coalition members could attend, will now be held at the usual meeting place at the courthouse annex in conference room 4.

Officer Elections

At the Aug. 19 meeting of the Coalition, new officers were selected to start off the fiscal year. Re-elected were President Jeramie Cheshire, Vice President Don Fenneman, Secretary Brenda Carter, and Treasurer Laura Dees. Newly elected was Connie Speights-Public Relations.

Then, at the Sept. 16 meeting of the Coalition, Sharon Gay was re-elected to serve as chairman of the Sub-committee for Long Term Planning and Evaluation, and Karen Elliott was elected as Program Chair.

N.O.P.E. Vigil

This year's candlelight N.O.P.E. (Narcotics Overdose Prevention Endeavor) Vigil will be held Tuesday, Oct. 28, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the City Park in Jasper. The program's purpose is to offer hope and help to those who have lost a loved one to drug abuse, and to remember those who have died.

Friday Night Done Right & Parents Who Host Lose the Most

Members of the Coalition will be present at all the home field football games to promote these two programs and get students involved and educated about certain dangerous activities. They will also be sponsoring activities in the high school cafeteria that include games and dances for their social marketing campaign. The objective is to change attitudes and beliefs kids may have about how to have a good, clean, fun time together. Principal Kip McLeo, McDonald said, is on board with the idea.

"When they come in, they'll stay," said McDonald. "It will be a safe event. This is to get kids off the streets, out of the parking lots and out of the fields. So, they come together with a no alcohol and no dope environment to have just a good time, and they will socialize, which kids need to do."

As a reminder, McDonald explained that it is illegal for parents to host parties for their underage kids where alcohol is being served.

Prom Project

Deputy Cheshire updated the group on a project he is working on that is still in the beginning stages; a mock DUI crash that will take place on the football field at the high school. Students will be involved in the production, which will be the creation of a mock crash from drunk driving. The project will involve local law enforcement, EMS services and a helicopter to life flight the crash victims.

"Through the demonstration we want to try to impact the youth here at the high school during the week of prom, so they will understand the consequences of drinking and driving," said Cheshire. "We want to recreate a traffic crash that occurs, with the use of makeup and actors. Hopefully, we can have the drama team come in to participate."

The entire production will be done live at the beginning of prom week and recorded on video for later use, as well. Cheshire said Columbia County did something similar at the local college several years ago in conjunction with the Sheriff's Association and the Florida Highway Patrol.

"Every year during prom season they show the video," he said. "In the beginning, when they actually recorded the video, it was very emotional for the kids. It was a very live display of what can happen."

Cheshire said he believes it would be very helpful for Hamilton County, since there have been a few alcohol-related crashes in the last couple of years that have taken the lives of young adults. Once the video is produced, it can be shown to students in subsequent years during prom week.

The impact of the project, Cheshire explained, is not just for prom week, but for anytime, especially weekends, when young adults are prone to go out partying.

If anyone would like to volunteer their services for the project, Cheshire said they can contact Michelle Lee or himself.

Prescription Drug Take Back Day

This year Prescription Drug Take Back Day will be Saturday, Sept. 27, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Drop off sites are the Sheriff's Office at the courthouse in Jasper, Jennings City Hall and White Springs Police Department. Residents can drop off old, unused medicines with no questions asked.

"This is the last National Prescription Drug Take Back Day," McDonald told the group. "We're investigating what we can do. They're supposed to be making it so that pharmacies can do it if they are willing to do it."

Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) Meetings

Karen Elliott advised the group that AA meetings are now being held at the Meridian Behavioral Healthcare office (Virgie Cone Center) on Wednesday afternoons from 12:30-1:30 p.m. Meridian is not sponsoring the meetings, but simply allowing use of their facility for the meetings. The facilitator of the meetings is Linda Hill, a 30-year recovered alcoholic. Hill is also a retired mental health counselor.

Principal Zamora takes the challenge has gone viral on Internet social media websites.

Zamora's bravery in taking on the challenge, however, came with a little hitch of her own for the elementary school students, whom she recently challenged to increase their AR reading goals. The students with the highest points in each grade at each school then had the distinct honor of dumping the bucket full of ice and water over top of their beloved principal's head.

After the ice bucket challenge at North, it seemed Zamora was stalling a bit when it was Central's turn, as if she knew what was coming and wasn't quite sure she was ready to do it again. She was a trooper, though, even as the skies above were rumbling with thunder and a downburst of rain was inevitable soon. Even a busted bucket couldn't deter the festivities because another bucket was located pronto.

The entire student body at Central gathered on the football field and watched Zamora get drenched with ice cold water and ice, but first Zamora congratulated all the students on a job well done with their reading.

Zamora's bravery continued after she survived the ice bucket challenge at Central when she nominated Hamilton County High School Principal Kip McLeod to follow in her footsteps. What will he do? Will he accept the challenge?

We are still awaiting word on when the students at South get to ice the principal, but here are the students from all three elementary schools with the highest scores:

into the south guard rail with its front. The driver exited his vehicle and began walking southbound on the interstate. A 2010 Ford pickup, driven by Billy D. Hall, 51, LaFollette, Tn., was also traveling southbound on I-75, when, for unknown reasons, he stopped in the center lane.

Reports further state that a 2013 Volvo semi tractor-trailer, driven by Milivoje Balagojevic, 54, Bowling Green, Ky. was traveling southbound in the center lane of I-75 and struck the Hyundai's left side with its left side, after which Balagojevic lost control of the vehicle. He then struck the pickup that was stopped in the center lane. Fouts and LaFollette were out of their vehicles at the time of impact by the semi and were both thrown onto the west shoulder of I-75.

Hall and Fouts both sustained serious injuries and were transported to a hospital in Valdosta, Ga. The semi driver was not injured. Charges are pending, according to FHP.

Damage to the Hyundai was estimated at $5,000, damage to the pickup was estimated at $8,000, and the semi had $45,000 in damages, reports state.

ical to Swift Creek Chemical is in line with a sound business strategy that focuses on our five core elements of production excellence-safety, environmental stewardship, high quality products, lowest cost, and continuous improvement. Lo-Mag is a proven high quality product with high demand and good profitability. Phosphate rock is a finite resource and as good stewards of this valuable resource, we need to utilize it to provide the best possible products at White Springs. Lo-Mag (Green SPA) and Black SPA are those products," Kitto added.

General Manager Bill Donohue said, "White Springs is moving in a positive direction to ensure future sustainability based upon safe and environmentally sound production of high quality, low cost products. Our recent changes have added five additional years of operation here at White Springs and it is our goal to continuously improve. The Lo-Mag Project is a good example of our investment in the future of White Springs."

The Lo-Mag Project has a capital budget of approximately $15 million dollars and has created 125 construction jobs and 14 PotashCorp positions. The project is on schedule to be completed by the end of September, 2014.

Health department receives state and national recognition the statistics side over the previous fiscal year," said Lander.

Areas of interest, he said, were that primary care had about a 10 percent increase in services provided, school health increased 9 percent, and there was a 49 percent increase in services in their family planning program.

"This was the first full year we've had Ms. Belote as our A.R.N.P.," said Lander.

The pharmacy assistance program, he added, had 88 clients and resulted in a savings of almost $283,000 in medication, which was pulled in from pre-dispensing physicians.

Projections for services for the next fiscal year were also included in Lander's report. He explained that many of the services provided by the health department come from a funded source. However, there are some that are not funded. Although non-categorical general revenue funding has increased, Lander said those extra funds were designated for state lump-sum bonuses and increases in health insurance premiums for employees. They were not targeted to fund increased services.

As for Medicaid funding, Lander said he expects about a $60,000-$65,000 loss of revenue in client fees for the new fiscal year.

Recognitions

Lander said Hamilton County has been nationally recognized as a Project Public Health Ready community, which is a collaborative effort with county emergency management services.

Healthy Schools LLC, Public Health Accreditation and Healthiest Weight are other programs that have garnered positive attention from state and federal agencies, Lander said. One in particular, is the "Healthier You" weekly column that runs in the Jasper News, written by Johnny Bullard. His articles were recognized in a recent health department publication, Lander added.

The dental care bus for Hamilton County K-6th grade students who are on Medicaid has also been very successful, Lander said.

"We were able to open it up to the H.O.P.E. Summer Program kids in White Springs this year," said Lander. "They saw about 40 kids and quite a few services were provided. We intend to do that next year."

Lander said he has also been in discussions with School Superintendent Thomas Moffses about possibly increasing the program to include 7th and 8th graders.

Suwannee River Jam Audition winners named at the Smokin' Pig BBQ Fest

The first 2015 Suwannee River Jam Audition at The Smokin' Pig BBQ Festival in Lake City, Fla. Sept. 20 yielded winners, l to r, Rachel Blount (Saint Augustine), alternate Katherine Kincaid (Saint Johns), winners Cassidy Kinsman (Jacksonville) and Joshua Edwards (High Springs). The winners will compete in the SRJ Finals at The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park & Campground (SOSMPC) in Live Oak, March 28, 2015 to see who gets to perform on the 1st Street Music and Sound and Budweiser Party Zone Stage at the 2015 Suwannee River Jam! Photo: SOSMPC.

A large number of country artists auditioned Sept. 20 in Lake City to move closer to the opportunity to perform at the 2015 Suwannee River Jam (SRJ) at the Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park & Campground (SOSMPC) in Live Oak April 29 - May 2. Three were chosen to move to the finals March 28 at the SOSMPC with one alternate.

Chosen to move on to the finals were Rachel Blount (Saint Augustine), Cassidy Kinsman (Jacksonville) and Joshua Edwards (High Springs). Katherine Kincaid (Saint Johns) is the alternate.

The three beautiful young ladies, all in their teens, brought exciting music and exhilarating performances as they worked hard to get into the finals and gained audience approval. Joshua Edwards, a newcomer to SRJ Auditions and competitions, thrilled the audience with his performance and voice, particularly his last song, a prayer sung in Italian and English!

Each performer brought a different take on country music with excellent performances from artists in their teens to 50s from Panama City to Jacksonville and from South Georgia with a 13-year-old who wowed the audience!

This week for the first time an audition will be held in Perry, Fla. The event will be Saturday, Sept. 27, at The Country In The Pines Country & Southern Rock Festival which runs from Sept. 26-27. This SRJ event will be held at Forest Capital State Park at 203 Forest Park Drive in Perry from 11 a.m. - 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 27. The two-day festival includes Tobacco Rd Band, 309C Band, Band of Brothers, Adam Brock and Southern Rain Band, food and arts and crafts vendors, Mud Truck Show and lots of family fun. For tickets and more information about the festival, contact the Taylor County Chamber of Commerce at www.taylorcountychamber.com or call 850-584-6366. You may also go to www.countryinthepines.com for tickets.

If you would like more information about the SOSMPC or would like to make reservations for RV parking, cabins, primitive camping or camper parking for upcoming events, call The SOSMPC at 386-364-1683 or email spirit@musicliveshere.com. The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park & Campground is located at 3076 95th Drive, Live Oak.

2015 Suwannee River Jam Audition set for country in the Pines Country & Southern Rock Festival, Sat., Sept. 27, in Perry

This week kicks off the brand new Country In The Pines Country & Southern Rock Festival in Perry where Perry will host for the first time a Suwannee River Jam (SRJ) 2015 Audition to select country artists to compete in the SRJ Finals next March. Artists will be chosen during the March event to perform at the SRJ 2015!

Saturday, Sept. 27, at 11 a.m. the SRJ Auditions begin under the direction of Steve Briscoe at Forest Capital State Park located at 203 Forest Park Drive in Perry. Briscoe, owner of 1st Street Music & Sound Company in Lake City, holds the SRJ auditions each year with a final event held at The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park & Campground (SOSMPC), Live Oak, in March to select from the finalists who will perform at the SRJ. Briscoe also oversees the 1st Street Music & Sound and Budweiser Party Zone Stage at the SRJ where the winners will perform.

Country artists auditioning Sept. 27 include soloists and bands. Although soloists winners will have to make it through the SRJ Final in March to perform at the SRJ, the winning band Saturday will be invited to perform at the 2015 SRJ without further auditions! The auditions are from 11 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Those auditioning include Willow Veda (Lake City, Fla.), Steffanie Renae (Middleburg, Fla.), Cole Tomlinson (Patterson, Ga.), Joe Martino (Lake City), Nate Kenyon (Baxley, Ga.), James Carter (Lake City), Chris Tyler Band (Jacksonville), Michael Miller Band (Tallahassee), Mad-die Norris (Greenville, Fla.), Mark Copeland (Alachua, Fla.), Late Night Session Band (Live Oak) and Heather Besscript (Jacksonville). Included in this group is a former American Idol contestant, a number of artists who have auditioned for many TV Talent shows, some who were finalists in the 2014 Country Showdown contest and a 13-year-old Georgia boy who will knock your socks off with his performance! And that's just a few of those performing! Sign-up is closed for this audition but watch www.firststreetmusic.com for more upcoming auditions but sign up quickly if you are an aspiring country singer.

Country In The Pines gets underway Friday, Sept. 26, at Forest Capital State Park in Perry with country and Southern rock music, many different food and arts and crafts vendors, a Mud Truck Show and lots of family fun. Gates open from 5 - 10 p.m. Friday; Saturday 11 a.m. - 10 p.m. with evening music beginning at 4:30 p.m. after the SRJ Audition winners are announced. Bands scheduled to perform include some of the hottest country bands around - the fabulous Tobacco Rd Band of Tallahassee which is becoming a North Florida music legend, high energy and awesome young musicians 309C Band of Palatka, Mayo's own Band of Brothers who have taken North Florida by storm, Perry's country star Adam Brock and also the phenomenal four-piece Southern Rain Band playing Southern & classic rock, blues, country, oldies, 50s & 60s, cover hits and favorites spanning five decades.

Contact the Taylor County Chamber at www.taylorcountychamber.com or call the TCC at 850-584-6366 for more information about Country In The Pines and tickets or get your tickets at the gate and at www.countryinthepines.com.

Hwy. 247 Martin & Beach and Justin Case bands to rock the house

Are you ready for some great music, good food and dancing? If so, you should plan now to be at The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park & Campground (SOSMPC) Sept. 26-27 when two great bands with large followings will rock the house! Hwy. 247 Martin & Beach will take the stage Friday night, Sept. 26, with its great country band that has become a new favorite for listening and dancing. Saturday night, Sept. 27, it's the ever popular Justin Case Band which will draw a large crowd also for even more great country, Southern rock and other genres of music!

Hwy. 247 Martin & Beach Band hails from the Lake City/Branford area with renowned Branford/Nashville singer/musician Boogie Beach who had returned to North Florida after many years in Nashville and Artie Martin along with the band's other great musicians. If you haven't heard this band, waste no more time...get out to the SOSMPC, and you will become a fan! Boogie has played on recordings for many, many of Nashville's greats, has won state bluegrass competitions in his earlier years, traveled Europe numerous times playing music and has played on the Grand Ole Opry Stage more than 50 times! Boogie was also part of a Grammy nominated group for the album Murder on Music Row. Artie has played with Outlaw bands, rock and the bands And The Beat Goes On as well as Krazy Horse and Hwy. 247 Martin and Beach Band. He started playing drums while living in Hollywood, Fla. although he played the snare drum in his high school band. These two have formed a great band to entertain country audiences everywhere.

Justin Case Band has become a country standard and has legions of fans. They've played all over North Florida and South Georgia and played the famous Suwannee River Jam. The wide variety of music and original songs delight their fans who cannot get enough of this band! You never know who is going to be an invited guest to perform with Justin Case Band! Make plans now to come out and enjoy the music, dancing, food and friends Saturday, Sept. 27 but come early or call 386-364-1703 and reserve a table! You'll be glad you did!

Free admission, doors to the Music Hall's SOS Café and Restaurant open at 6 p.m., music from 8 p.m. - midnight. Great food and a full service bar.

Please check the SOSMPC website at www.musicliveshere.com to see the many events coming up such as Magnolia Fest with Lyle Lovett, Suwannee Hulaween, Bear Creek Music & Art Festival, Thanksgiving dinner along with Old Tyme Farm Days & Swap Meet that weekend featuring a cane grinding, antique machines and tractors, arts and crafts vendors and much, much more. If you would like to

Don't drink the (warm) water, UF/IFAS study says

By Brad Buck
bradbuck@ufl.edu
Source: Lena Ma, 352-294-3135, lqma@ufl.edu

GAINESVILLE, Fla. – Americans can take a warning from a University of Florida study of bottled water in China - don't drink the liquid if you've left it somewhere warm for a long time.

Plastic water bottles are made from polyethylene terephthalate. When heated, the material releases the chemicals antimony and bisphenol A, commonly called BPA.

While the U.S. Food and Drug Administration has said BPA is not a major concern at low levels found in beverage containers, it continues to study the chemical's impacts. Some health officials, including those at the Mayo Clinic, say the chemical can cause negative effects on children's health.

And antimony is considered a carcinogen by the International Agency for Research on Cancer, part of the World Health Organization.

UF soil and water science professor Lena Ma led a research team that studied chemicals released in 16 brands of bottled water kept at 158 degrees Fahrenheit for four weeks, what researchers deemed a "worst-case scenario" for human consumption.

Of the 16 brands, only one exceeded the EPA standard for antimony and BPA. Based on the study, storage at warm temperatures would seem to not be a big problem, Ma said. But she said more research is needed to know if other brands are safe.

Ma's study found that as bottles warmed over the four-week period, antimony and BPA levels increased.

"If you store the water long enough, there may be a concern," said Ma, an Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences faculty member who has a research program at Nanjing University in China.

The UF scientist warned against leaving bottled water in a hot garage for weeks on end or in your car all day during the summer.

Because of what Ma calls cultural differences and because Chinese citizens have less faith in their tap water, some leave bottled water in their car trunks for weeks. China consumed 9.6 billion gallons of bottled water in 2011, making that country the commodity's largest market.

By comparison, Americans drank 9.1 billion gallons of bottled water that year, according to the International Bottled Water Association. While most Americans don't store bottled water in their cars for extended periods, they often keep it there for a day or two. Drinking that water occasionally won't be dangerous, but doing so regularly could cause health issues, she said. And it's not just water containers that merit more study, Ma said.

"More attention should be given to other drinks packaged with polyethylene terephthalate plastic, such as milk, coffee and acidic juice," she said. "We only tested the pure water. If it is acidic juice, the story may be different."

Although not part of the study, Ma touts tap water over bottled water. Both are regulated by the federal government, tap by the EPA and bottled by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

The study is published in this month's edition of the journal Environmental Pollution.

Hamilton Humane Society Receives Donation toward New Shelter

$1,000 Donated through First Federal's Community Rewards Program

Founded only a few years ago, the Hamilton Humane Society was formed by a group of concerned citizens who wanted to promote animal welfare and build an animal shelter for lost, stray and unwanted pets. Currently they are temporarily housed at North Florida PAWS in Jennings. There is limited space inside and out for rescued dogs and cats and the need for more space is evident. As Hamilton Humane Society continues to search for land, they are raising funds for a new, larger shelter that is capable of housing around 40 dogs and cats. Eventually they would like to have space for other domestic pets such as horses, goats, and rabbits. Hamilton Humane Society asked to participate in First Federal's Community Rewards Program to help raise funds and awareness. Through the assistance of First Federal Bank customers, First Federal was able to support the Hamilton Humane Society with a $1,000 donation toward their new building. Debbie Reid, First Federal Financial Center Manager and Chrissy Cribbs, First Federal Financial Specialist, recently presented the Humane Society with the money. Debbie Reid said, "We are grateful to the community for partnering with us to provide the donation for the Humane Society. We are also grateful for the dedication of this organization and the services they provide for the animals of this county. We hope that these efforts will encourage others to become involved." If you are interested in helping Hamilton Humane Society, please contact Lori Johnson at (386) 938-4092.

The British public could learn a lot from Hamilton County

Submitted

Lamar Royals, Post Commander of VFW Post 8095, expressed how encouraging it was to receive the responses from the last shipment of boxes, mailed in July.

"Not only did we receive notes from a couple of American soldiers, but we also received three from some British troops serving alongside our Marines in the outposts of Afghanistan," Royals said.

A British Royal Air Force officer wrote, "We are working with the U.S. Marine Corps at Camp Leatherneck. We are fortunate to work with some incredible U.S. personnel who have kindly let us share some of their care packages. My colleagues and I are always overwhelmed by the support the U.S. public provides to their troops. The treats you have sent are fantastic! I particularly like the Skittles and anything with peanut butter."

Another letter from a captain in the Queen's Royal Hussars wrote that he and his unit are serving alongside the U.S. Marines in Southern Helmand Province in Afghanistan.

"(We are a) "200 man armored combat team, the last British ground combat troops to serve out here. As I am sure you know, things are winding down out here, and both Camps Bastion and Leatherneck are reducing in size every day as the pull-out gets closer. Our group is due out before October, which is good as it has been a busy year. The war out here is not over yet, and it can be very kinetic when the grip is on the ground so, in turn, thoughts and prayers are always appreciated. Please rest assured, many of your parcels have gone to a very grateful squadron of British soldiers."

Royals stated that this is just another example that when we send care packages, we have no idea of the lives we touch and the effect it has on the recipients.

The final letter from a British soldier stated, "I am writing this letter to express my gratitude for all that the kind folks of Hamilton County have done for the American Armed Forces, especially the U.S. Marine Corps currently serving out here in Helmand Province, Afghanistan. Up until 2009, Helmand was under British command and witnessed the most ferocious of the fighting out here. Thankfully, we now work as part of a coalition with the strongest of bonds lying with the U.S. and the U.K. I work alongside the Marines and witness every day the joy that receiving one of your parcels brings to each of them. The simple things in life are appreciated out here, especially when the days are long and the sun is on your back."

"I will be leaving in October (Ps. 91:15) and ending my 14th operational tour. Hopefully, this will be the last time for most of us that we have to leave family and friends behind (it is you guys who are the heroes, having to cope with the unknown.) I will take away good memories of working alongside the U.S. Marines: they are good soldiers who are proud of their country and it's down to people like you that make the bonds stronger and give them all something worth fighting for. The British public could learn a lot from Hamilton County. God bless you all for looking out for these young men and woman; they truly appreciate it."

"Due to the situation in Afghanistan at this time, it is not known when we may be sending packages again," Royals commented. "We hope that all our troops in harm's way will return home soon. We at VFW Post 8095 are so appreciative of the overwhelming support of this community in all of our endeavors to serve the active members of the military, as well as all our veterans."

Habichuelas Guisadas: Adding Latin flare to your kitchen

From the kitchen of Chef Morgan Larracuento

I am originally from a big city where Spanish restaurants are found on almost every corner. Being a new resident of Suwannee County, I've found it very hard to find an eatery that has a little Latin flare. With rice and pink kidney beans (also known as habichuelas guisadas) being one of my all time favorite side dishes, I was left with no choice then to learn how to whip them up in my own kitchen. You can serve these saucy and flavorful beans otop of steamed rice with pork chops, chicken, fish, or your favorite cut of beef.

Ingredients:

- 2 Cans (16oz each) Pink Kidney Beans
- 2 Envelopes Sazon
- 2 Envelopes Ham Bouillon
- 1tsp Oregano
- 8oz Tomato Sauce
- 3Tbsp Sofrito
- 3Tbsp Recaito
- 2tsp Vegetable Oil
- 1/2cup Green Olives
- 1cup Ham, diced
- 2 Medium Potatoes, diced
- 2cups Water

*Most of these ingredients can be found in the Hispanic or International aisle at your local supermarket.

1. Heat oil in a pot on med-high heat.
2. Add Sofrito, Recaito, Sazon, Oregano, Bouillon, olives, ham, and tomato sauce. Cook for about 2 minutes.
3. Add potatoes and water. Boil for about 5 minutes.
4. Add beans (with juices).
5. Cook on medium to med-low for 30-45 minutes.
6. Serve over white rice and enjoy now or store for in refrigerator for up to 1 week.

Ants Away

If you're looking for a natural ant remedy, try vinegar. For some reason, ants can't stand it! We use it in Florida where it's ant season all year. I just wipe down any place where I find them with undiluted white vinegar.

Major Jo Anne Daniels Whisenhunt

Reflection of military service

This document is written to validate and confirm the 27 years of dedicated service of Major Jo Anne Whisenhunt, the daughter of Willis R. Daniels (deceased) and Zeffie L. Daniels of Jasper. She is a mother, wife, sister, aunt and so much more to the readers of this article.

Major Whisenhunt has committed and dedicated her life to the United States Armed Forces for the quality of life, welfare and freedom of her country. Her steadfast devotion to the United States Army fulfilled the long term contract she signed in Ocean Springs Mississippi in 1987. Always on time, on call, and on target. An Army Soldier who has provided medical combat service support since commission and consistent to date to include 9/11, the Global War on Terrorism, Iraq and Afghanistan.

Major Whisenhunt has demonstrated sterling and honorable leadership during her tenure in the service, which has been recognized and held in the highest esteem. Her years of dedicated service to our country tied her to years of long separation, unlimited geographical locations and non-negotiable assignments with little or no options. A point that must be expressed in regards to her family support. Her family has been a solid foundation, despite all the added pressures of her absence. Overcoming many challenges of being both parents or to having the experience of only one parent present at school or a competitive sports event. It is commendable to the families who accept and ensure the separations and willingly stand fast and await with open arms the return of their loved ones to share and reflect on the condensed version of their lives that went uncaptured.

Nevertheless, Major Whisenhunt is a phenomenal warrior. She was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for combat in Iraq for her heroism and has exhibited extraordinary bravery under combative conditions on enemy soil. She has earned and received many accolades and awards and has continued to serve honorably in harm's way, every day for the past 27 years.

Her leadership and management attributes have satisfied her service. Her noble loyalty has defined the Model Soldier and warrior whose contributions have clearly been woven into the patriotic pattern of freedom... Honor, Courage and Commitment. Major Whisenhunt continues to represent the fighting spirit of the diverse cloth of this nation she's fought so hard for and so many have bled for. You have stood the watch for 27 years. Today the watch stands relieved.

Job well Done!

We all are so proud of you on your significant accomplishment. Congratulations Major Whisenhunt on your Retirement! Bravo Zulu to all the love and support of your families.

Women in uniform are just as great as the brave men who stand among us today.

Trojans dominate Marauders

Submitted

The Hamilton County Trojans football team whooped the Maclay Marauders Friday night by a final score of 51-17.

In the first quarter, La'Marcus (Bud) Webb took the opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown. There were great blocks up front and the extra point by Santiago Granatos with the snap by Ethan Land and the hold by Ridge Cone, was good, 7-0 Hamilton.

For the second game in a row, the defense made the opponent punt in the first series. But were not able to take advantage of the great defense by fumbling the punt and giving the Marauders first and 10 from the HCHS 30 yard line. A quarterback keeper and screen pass gave Maclay what they needed to score and six plays later were on the board, score tied 7-7. On the next series for Hamilton, the Trojans got a couple first downs but after a Trojan wide receiver jumped off sides, the drive stalled and Hamilton County had to punt.

The punt snap was high and after a scrum by both teams, the Marauders ended up on the ball in the end zone. With the point after the Marauders led 14-7. On the ensuing kick off return, La'Marcus Webb took it back for 92 yards for a touchdown but an illegal block 20 yards behind the play got the touchdown nullified and the ball was put in play at the Maclay 49 yard line.

After several runs by Kentwan Daniels and Malik Randolph, Daniels took it in for six yards out and Granatos made the extra point, 14-14-tie game. For the next three quarters the Trojan defense only allowed a field goal. The defensive line and linebackers Marcus Williams, Hunter Hill, Deangelo Robinson, Soloman Arrington, Travion Weary, Amaad Gandy, Ethan Land, Darrell Walker, Jesse Alsing and Justin Williams stifled the run game of the Marauders. The secondary made up of La'Marcus Webb, J'Quan Cole, Kentwan Daniels, and Andrew Graham shut down the prolific pass game of Maclay.

In the second quarter, Granatos put a 33 yard field goal through the uprights to make the score 17-14, the first field goal kicked by a Trojan team in eight years, according to local sources. Malik Randolph and Kentwan Daniels took turns carrying the ball on the next offensive series as Randolph capped the drive with a one yard touchdown run. Granatos' kick was good, 24-14.

In the second half after holding the Marauders on the first series, Kentwan Daniels hit J'Quan Cole on a 58 yard bomb to score a touchdown. The score stood at 31-14 Hamilton—later in the third quarter, the Marauders drove to the Hamilton 13 yard line but were only allowed a field goal, score 31-17. A sack by Amaad Gandy near the end of the third quarter forced Maclay to punt. With the change to the fourth quarter, Daniels led the Trojans on the next series by cutting across the field and scampered 60 yards to put up another score and Granatos nailed the extra point again, score 38-17. On the next drive by the Marauders, sacks by the defensive line and a blocked pass by Ethan Land put the pressure on the Tallahassee team and when they tried a screen pass, Sophomore defensive lineman, Fabian Reid was there to intercept the pass on the Trojan 40 yard line. Justin Culbreath took the reins as quarterback on the next Trojan drive and teaming with Malik Randolph moved the ball to the Maclay 32 yard line. Justin, forced out of the pocket, scrambling to his left was given more time to throw by a hustling Amaad Gandy. Justin made a great throw to Hunter Smith who made an outstanding catch and move, to get the ball down to the six yard line. Bud Webb helped spring Smith loose with a huge hit. After an off sides penalty by Maclay, the ball was snapped from the 2 yard line and Culbreath handed the jet sweep to La'Marcus (Bud) Webb who easily raced around the right end for the touchdown. Granatos and the extra point team got another point, making the score 45-17.

With about seven minutes remaining in the game, Coach Armstrong pulled all the starters and put all the young players in the game.

The defense was outstanding, holding the Marauders and forcing a punt. The young Trojans played hard and scored once more making the score 51-17 with a 21 yard touchdown pass from Justin Culbreath to freshman Cam Walker. Point after failed.

Final score 51-17 as the younger Trojans kept the Marauder starters out of the end zone.

Several Trojans come to the line of scrimmage.

Explaining Sensory Processing Disorder

Educators and parents must now be more cognizant today about the various needs of their students and children. The lines between certain learning disabilities and conditions are not always easy to decipher, and this is especially true with a condition known as sensory processing disorder.

Sensory processing disorder, sometimes referred to as sensory integration dysfunction, involves the way the nervous system receives messages from the senses and transforms them into appropriate motor functions and behavioral responses. When a child has SPD, his or her sensory signals are not organized into appropriate responses. This can present challenges when performing everyday tasks, says the Sensory Processing Disorder Foundation. Clumsiness with regard to motor skills, behavioral problems, difficulties in school and anxiety are just some of the conditions that may result from SPD if no treatment is sought.

A person with SPD may find clothing, physical contact or some sort of sensory input, like light or sound, to be uncomfortable, while another may underrespond to certain stimulation, such as not reacting quickly enough to pain. Others with SPD may not have adequate motor skills, leading them to consistently fall or trip. Some people with SPD overly seek out stimulation and sensation to a point where they are often misdiagnosed with ADHD. Identifying and understanding SPD is essential, as such an understanding can mean the difference between getting the right treatment or being misdiagnosed. Some people with SPD are medicated for other issues, when SPD really is the cause of their problems.

SPD is most common in children, although it can occur in adults. The exact cause of the condition, and other neurodevelopmental disorders, have not been entirely identified. Doctors believe SPD is often inherited and SPD causes are ingrained in DNA. Prenatal and birth complications also have been implicated, and environmental factors may be involved. However, researchers believe SPD is the result of factors that are both genetic and environmental.

An accurate diagnosis of SPD means that most children will be treated with some form of occupational therapy. Listening therapy and other therapies may be combined. Therapy may take place in a sensory-rich location that is challenging but fun. Additional support may be needed in the classroom for school-aged children. Because kids with SPD have brains that are wired differently, they may require different approaches to learn their lessons. The disorder does not make them any less intelligent; it just means lessons need to be tailored to meet their needs.

The best course of action is to ask a doctor to conduct tests to determine if a child has SPD. Research shows that families who work together with educators, therapists and other family members have the highest levels of success with regard to making life easier for someone with sensory processing disorder. Furthermore, parents who suspect their child has SPD can refer to this checklist, which is available at www.sensory-processing-disorder.com/sensory-processing-disorder-checklist.html. A child may not exhibit all signs of SPD, but the list can be a good starting point for conversations with a doctor.

Sensory processing disorder is a condition that can impact a child's performance in the classroom.

No. 1 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE X, SECTION 28 (Initiative)

Ballot Title: Water and Land Conservation - Dedicates funds to acquire and restore Florida conservation and recreation lands

Ballot Summary: Funds the Land Acquisition Trust Fund to acquire, restore, improve, and manage conservation lands including wetlands and forests; fish and wildlife habitat; lands protecting water resources and drinking water sources, including the Everglades, and the water quality of rivers, lakes, and streams; beaches and shores; outdoor recreational lands; working farms and ranches; and historic or geologic sites, by dedicating 33 percent of net revenues from the existing excise tax on documents for 20 years.

Financial Impact Statement: This amendment does not increase or decrease state revenues. The state revenue restricted to the purposes specified in the amendment is estimated to be $648 million in Fiscal Year 2015-16 and grows to $1.268 billion by the twentieth year. Whether this results in any additional state expenditures depends upon future legislative actions and cannot be determined. Similarly, the impact on local government revenues, if any, cannot be determined. No additional local government costs are expected.

Full Text: ARTICLE X MISCELLANEOUS SECTION 28. Land Acquisition Trust Fund.— a) Effective on July 1 of the year following passage of this amendment by the voters, and for a period of 20 years after that effective date, the Land Acquisition Trust Fund shall receive no less than 33 percent of net revenues derived from the existing excise tax on documents, as defined in the statutes in effect on January 1, 2012, as amended from time to time, or any successor or replacement tax, after the Department of Revenue first deducts a service charge to pay the costs of the collection and enforcement of the excise tax on documents. b) Funds in the Land Acquisition Trust Fund shall be expended only for the following purposes: 1) As provided by law, to finance or refinance: the acquisition and improvement of land, water areas, and related property interests, including conservation easements, and resources for conservation lands including wetlands, forests, and fish and wildlife habitat, wildlife management areas, lands that protect water resources and drinking water sources, including lands protecting the water quality and quantity of rivers, lakes, streams, springsheds, and lands providing recharge for groundwater and aquifer systems; lands in the Everglades Agricultural Area and the Everglades Protection Area, as defined in Article II, Section 7(b); beaches and shores; outdoor recreation lands, including recreational trails, parks, and urban open space; rural landscapes; working farms and ranches; historic or geologic sites; together with management, restoration of natural systems, and the enhancement of public access or recreational enjoyment of conservation lands. 2) To pay the debt service on bonds issued pursuant to Article VII, Section 11(e). c) The moneys deposited into the Land Acquisition Trust Fund, as defined by the statutes in effect on January 1, 2012, shall not be or become commingled with the General Revenue Fund of the state.

No. 2 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE X, SECTION 29 (Initiative)

Ballot Title: Use of Marijuana for Certain Medical Conditions

Ballot Summary:

Jasper Legals

Allows the medical use of marijuana for individuals with debilitating diseases as determined by a licensed Florida physician. Allows caregivers to assist patients' medical use of marijuana. The Department of Health shall register and regulate centers that produce and distribute marijuana for medical purposes and shall issue identification cards to patients and caregivers. Applies only to Florida law. Does not authorize violations of federal law or any non-medical use, possession or production of marijuana.

Financial Impact Statement: Increased costs from this amendment to state and local governments cannot be determined. There will be additional regulatory and enforcement activities associated with the production and sale of medical marijuana. Fees will offset at least a portion of the regulatory costs. While sales tax may apply to purchases, changes in revenue cannot reasonably be determined since the extent to which medical marijuana will be exempt from taxation is unclear without legislative or state administrative action.

Full Text: ARTICLE X MISCELLANEOUS SECTION 29. Medical marijuana production, possession and use.— (a) PUBLIC POLICY.

(1) The medical use of marijuana by a qualifying patient or personal caregiver is not subject to criminal or civil liability or sanctions under Florida law except as provided in this section. (2) A physician licensed in Florida shall not be subject to criminal or civil liability or sanctions under Florida law for issuing a physician certification to a person diagnosed with a debilitating medical condition in a manner consistent with this section.

(3) Actions and conduct by a medical marijuana treatment center registered with the Department, or its employees, as permitted by this section and in compliance with Department regulations, shall not be subject to criminal or civil liability or sanctions under Florida law except as provided in this section. (b) DEFINITIONS. For purposes of this section, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings: (1) "Debilitating Medical Condition" means cancer, glaucoma, positive status for human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), hepatitis C, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), Crohn's disease, Parkinson's disease, multiple sclerosis or other conditions for which a physician believes that the medical use of marijuana would likely outweigh the potential health risks for a patient.

(2) "Health or its successor agency." (3) "Identification card" means a document issued by the Department that certifies a person who has a physician certification or a personal caregiver who is at least twenty-one (21) years old and has agreed to assist with a qualifying patient's medical use of marijuana. (4) "Marijuana" has the meaning given such cannabis in Section 893.02(3), Florida Statutes (2013).

(5) "Medical Marijuana Treatment Center" means an entity that acquires, cultivates, possesses, processes (including development of related products such as food, tinctures, aerosols, oils, or ointments), transfers, transports, sells, distributes, dispenses, or administers marijuana, products containing marijuana, related supplies, or educational materials to qualifying patients or their personal caregivers and is registered by the Department. (6) "Medical use" means the acquisition, possession, use, delivery, transfer, or administration of marijuana or related supplies by a qualifying patient or personal caregiver for use by a qualifying patient for the treatment of a debilitating medical condition. (7) "Personal caregiver" means a person who is at least twenty-one (21) years old who has agreed to assist with a qualifying patient's medical use of marijuana and has a caregiver identification card issued by the Department. A personal caregiver may assist no more than five (5) qualifying patients at one time. An employee of a hospice provider, nursing, or medical facility may serve as a personal caregiver to more than five (5) qualifying patients as permitted by the Department. Personal caregivers are prohibited from consuming marijuana obtained for the personal, medical use by the qualifying patient. (8) "Physician" means a physician who is licensed in Florida. (9) "Physician certification" means a written document signed by a physician, stating that in the physician's professional opinion, the patient suffers from a debilitating medical condition, that the potential benefits of the medical use of marijuana would likely outweigh the health risks for the patient, and for how long the physician recommends the medical use of marijuana for the patient. A physician certification may only be provided after the physician has conducted a physical examination of the patient and a full assessment of the patient's medical history. (10) "Qualifying patient" means a person who has been diagnosed to have a debilitating medical condition, who has a physician certification and a valid qualifying patient identification card. If the Department does not begin issuing identification cards within nine (9) months after the effective date of this section, then a valid physician certification will serve as a patient identification card in order to allow a person to become a "qualifying patient" until the Department begins issuing identification cards.

(1) LIMITATIONS. (a) Nothing in this section shall affect laws relating to non-medical use, possession, production or sale of marijuana. (2) Nothing in this section authorizes the use of medical marijuana by anyone other than a qualifying patient. (3) Nothing in this section allows the operation of a motor vehicle, boat, or aircraft while under the influence of marijuana. (4) Nothing in this law section requires the violation of federal law or purports to give immunity under federal law. (5) Nothing in this section shall require any accommodation of any on-site medical use of marijuana in any place of education or employment, or of smoking medical marijuana in any public place. (6) Nothing in this section shall require any health insurance provider or any government agency or authority to reimburse any person for expenses related to the medical use of marijuana. (d) DUTIES OF THE DEPARTMENT. The Department shall issue reasonable regulations necessary for the implementation and enforcement of this section. The purpose of the regulations is to ensure the availability and safe use of medical marijuana by qualifying patients. It is the duty of the Department to promulgate regulations in a timely fashion.

(1) Implementing Regulations. In order to allow the Department sufficient time after passage of this section, the following regulations shall be promulgated no later than six (6) months after the effective date of this section: a. Procedures for the issuance of qualifying patient identification cards to people with physician certifications, and standards for the renewal of such identification cards. b. Procedures for the issuance of personal caregiver identification cards to persons qualified to assist with a qualifying patient's medical use of marijuana, and standards for the renewal of such identification cards. c. Procedures for the registration of Medical Marijuana Treatment Centers that include procedures for the issuance, renewal, suspension, and revocation of registration, and standards to ensure security, record keeping, testing, labeling, inspection, and safety. d. A regulation that defines the amount of marijuana that could reasonably be presumed to be an adequate supply for qualifying patients' medical use, based on the best available evidence. This presumption is to quantity may be overcome with evidence of a particular qualifying patient's appropriate medical use. (2) Issuance of identification cards and registrations. The Department shall begin issuing qualifying patient and personal caregiver identification cards, as well as begin registering Medical Marijuana Treatment Centers no later than nine months (9) after the effective date of this section.

(3) If the Department does not issue regulations, or if the Department does not begin issuing identification cards and registering Medical Marijuana Treatment Centers within the time limits set in this section, any Florida citizen shall have standing to seek judicial relief to compel compliance with the Department's constitutional duties.

(4) The Department shall protect the confidentiality of all qualifying patients. All records containing the identity of qualifying patients shall be confidential and kept from public disclosure other than for valid medical or law enforcement purposes.

(e) LEGISLATION. Nothing in this section shall limit the legislature from enacting laws consistent with this provision. (f) SEVERABILITY. The provisions of this section are severable and if any clause, sentence, paragraph or section of this measure, or an application thereof, is adjudged invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction other provisions shall continue to be in effect to the fullest extent possible.

No. 3 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE V, SECTIONS 10, 11 (Legislature)

Ballot Title: Prospective Appointment of Certain Judicial Vacancies

Ballot Summary: Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution requiring the Governor to prospectively fill vacancies in a judicial office to which election for retention applies resulting from the justice's or judge's reaching the mandatory retirement age or failure to qualify for a retention election; and allowing prospective appointments if a justice or judge is not retained at an election. Currently, the Governor may not fill an expected vacancy until the current justice's or judge's term expires.

Full Text: ARTICLE V JUDICIARY

SECTION 10. Retention; election and terms.—

(a) Any justice or judge may qualify for retention by a vote of the electors in the general election next preceding the expiration of the justice's or judge's term in the manner prescribed by law. When if a justice or judge is ineligible for retention or fails to qualify for retention, a prospective vacancy is deemed to occur at the conclusion of the qualifying period for retention for the purpose of appointing a successor justice or judge, and a vacancy shall exist in that office upon the expiration of the term being served by the justice or judge. When a justice or judge so qualifies, the ballot shall read substantially as follows: "Shall Justice (or Judge) ... (name of justice or judge) ... of the ... (name of the court) ... be retained in office?" If a majority of the qualified electors voting within the territorial jurisdiction of the court vote to retain, the justice or judge shall be retained for a term of six years. The term of the justice or judge retained shall commence on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January following the general election. If a majority of the qualified electors voting within the territorial jurisdiction of the court vote to not retain, a prospective vacancy is deemed to occur immediately following the general election for the purpose of appointing a successor justice or judge, and a vacancy shall exist in that office upon the expiration of the term being served by the justice or judge. (b)(1) The election of circuit judges shall be preserved notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) unless a majority of those voting in the jurisdiction of that circuit approves a local option to select circuit judges by merit selection and retention rather than by election. The election of circuit judges shall be by a vote of the qualified electors within the territorial jurisdiction of the court. (2) The election of county court judges shall be preserved notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) unless a majority of those voting in the jurisdiction of that county approves a local option to select county judges by merit selection and retention rather than by election. The election of county court judges shall be by a vote of the qualified electors within the territorial jurisdiction of the court. (3)(a. A vote to exercise a local option to select circuit court judges and county court judges by merit selection and retention rather than by election shall be held in each circuit and county at the general election in the year 2000. If a vote to exercise this local option fails in a vote of the electors, such option shall not again be put to a vote of the electors of that jurisdiction until the expiration of at least two years.

b. After the year 2000, a circuit may initiate the local option for merit selection and retention or the election of circuit judges, whichever is applicable, by filing with the custodian of state records a petition signed by the number of electors equal to at least ten percent of the votes cast in the circuit in the last preceding election in which presidential electors were chosen. c. After the year 2000, a county may initiate the local option for merit selection and retention or the election of county court judges, whichever is applicable, by filing with the supervisor of elections a petition signed by the number of electors equal to at least ten percent of the votes cast in the county in the last preceding election in which presidential electors were chosen. The terms of circuit judges and judges of county courts shall be for six years.

SECTION 11. Vacancies.— (a)(1) Whenever a vacancy occurs in a judicial office to which election for retention applies, the governor shall fill the vacancy by appointing for a term ending on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of the year following the next general election occurring at least one year after the date of appointment, one of not fewer than three persons nor more than six persons nominated by the appropriate judicial nominating commission. (2) Whenever a prospective vacancy occurs in a judicial office for which election for retention applies, the governor shall fill the prospective vacancy by appointing a justice or judge from among at least three persons but not more than six persons nominated by the appropriate judicial nominating commission. The term of the appointment commences upon the expiration of the term of the office being vacated and ends on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of the year following the next general election. (b) The governor shall fill each vacancy on a circuit court or on a county court, wherein the judges are elected by a majority vote of the electors, by appointing for a term ending on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of the year following the next primary and general election occurring at least one year after the date of appointment, one of not fewer than three persons nor more than six persons nominated by the appropriate judicial nominating commission. An election shall be held to fill that judicial office for the term of the office beginning at the end of the appointed term. (c) The nominations shall be made within thirty days from the occurrence of a vacancy or prospective vacancy unless the period is extended by the governor for a time not to exceed thirty days. The governor shall make the appointment within sixty days after the nominations have been certified to the governor. (d) There shall be a separate judicial nominating commission as provided by general law for the supreme court, each district court of appeal, and each judicial circuit for all trial courts within the circuit. Uniform rules of procedure shall be established by the judicial nominating commissions at each level of the court system.

Jasper Legals

Such rules, or any part thereof, may be repealed by general law enacted by a majority vote of the membership of each house of the legislature, or by the supreme court, five justices concurring. Except for deliberations of the judicial nominating commissions, the proceedings of the commissions and their records shall be open to the public. 08/28, 09/25

ENMIENDAS CONSTITUCIONALES PROPOSTAS SOBRE LAS QUE SE VOTARÁ EL 4 DE NOVIEMBRE DEL 2014 AVISO DE ELECCIÓN

Yo, Ken Detzner, Secretario de Estado del Estado de la Florida, por el presente notifico que se llevarán a cabo elecciones en cada condado de la Florida, el 4 de noviembre del 2014, para la aprobación o el rechazo de una propuesta de modificación de la constitución del Estado de la Florida.

No. 1 ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL ARTÍCULO X, SECCIÓN 28 (Iniciativa)

Título de la boleta:

Conservación de aguas y tierras: dedicar fondos para adquirir y restaurar tierras objeto de conservación y recreación en el Estado de Florida

Resumen de la boleta:

Provee fondos para el Fondo Fiduciario de Adquisición de Tierras con el fin de adquirir, restaurar, mejorar y administrar tierras objeto de conservación, entre ellas pantanos y bosques; el hábitat de peces y vida silvestre; tierras que protegen los recursos hídricos y las fuentes de agua potable, incluidos los Everglades, y la calidad del agua en ríos, lagos y arroyos; playas y costas; tierras de recreación al aire libre; establecimientos agrícolas y ganaderos en actividad, y emplazamientos históricos o geológicos. Para ello se dedicará el 33% de los ingresos netos obtenidos del impuesto estatal existente sobre documentos durante este período.

Declaración sobre impacto financiero: Esta enmienda no incrementa ni reduce los ingresos estatales. El ingreso estatal limitado para los propósitos especificados en la enmienda se estima en $648 millones para el año fiscal 2015-16 y aumenta a $1,268 mil millones hacia el vigésimo año. Si eso traerá como consecuencia gastos estatales adicionales depende de futuras acciones legislativas y no puede determinarse. De la misma manera, tampoco puede determinarse el impacto sobre los ingresos de gobiernos locales, si los hubiera. No se prevén costos de gobiernos locales.

ARTÍCULO X VARIOS SECCIÓN 28. Fondo Fiduciario de Adquisición de Tierras.— a) Con vigencia el 1° de julio del año posterior a la aprobación de esta enmienda un período de 20 años a partir de esa fecha de entrada en vigor, el Fondo Fiduciario de Adquisición de Tierras recibirá no menos del 33% de los ingresos netos derivados del impuesto estatal existente sobre documentos, tal como se define en los estatutos vigentes al 1° de enero de 2012, enmendados de tanto en tanto, o de cualquier impuesto sucesor o de reemplazo, después de que el Departamento de Hacienda deduzca primero un cargo de servicio con el fin de pagar los costos de recopilación y aplicación del impuesto especial sobre documentos. b) El dinero del Fondo Fiduciario de Adquisición de Tierras se empleará únicamente con los siguientes propósitos: 1) Como lo establece la ley, para financiar o refinanciar: la adquisición o mejora de tierras, áreas de agua y derechos inmobiliarios relacionados, entre ellos las servidumbres de conservación y los recursos para tierras objeto de conservación, como, por ejemplo, pantanos, bosques y hábitat de peces y vida silvestre; áreas de administración de vida silvestre; tierras que protegen los recursos hídricos y las fuentes de agua potable, entre ellos las tierras que protegen la calidad y cantidad del agua en ríos, lagos, arroyos, manantiales, y tierras que brindan recarga de agua subterránea y sistemas acuíferos; tierras en el Área agrícola de los Everglades y el Área de protección de los Everglades, como están definidas en el Artículo II, Sección 7(b); playas y costas; tierras de recreación al aire libre, incluidos senderos recreativos, parques y espacios abiertos urbanos; paisajes rurales; establecimientos agrícolas y ganaderos en actividad, emplazamientos históricos o geológicos; junto con la administración, restauración de sistemas naturales y mejoramiento del acceso público o disfrute recreativo de las tierras objeto de conservación. 2) Para el pago del servicio de la deuda sobre los bonos emitidos conforme al Artículo VII, Sección 11(e). c) El dinero depositado en el Fondo Fiduciario de Adquisición de Tierras, tal como se define en los estatutos vigentes al 1° de enero de 2012, no estará mezclado ni se mezclará con el Fondo de Ingresos Generales del Estado.

No. 2 ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL ARTÍCULO X, SECCIÓN 29 (Iniciativa)

Título de la boleta:

Uso de marihuana para algunas enfermedades

Resumen de la boleta:

Permite el uso médico de la marihuana a las personas con enfermedades debilitantes, según lo determine un médico autorizado por el Estado de Florida. Permite a los cuidadores asistir a los pacientes en el uso médico de marihuana. El Departamento de Salud deberá inscribir y regular los centros que producen y distribuyen marihuana con fines médicos y deberán extender tarjetas de identificación a pacientes y cuidadores. Se aplica únicamente a las leyes del Estado de Florida. No autoriza infracciones de la ley federal ni ningún uso, posesión o producción de marihuana con fines que no sean médicos.

Declaración sobre impacto financiero: El aumento de costos generado por esta enmienda para el gobierno estatal y los gobiernos locales no puede determinarse. Habrá actividades adicionales de regulación y aplicación asociadas a la producción y venta de marihuana con fines médicos. Las tarifas compensarán al menos en parte los costos de regulación. Si bien el impuesto sobre la venta se aplica a las compras, los cambios fiscales no pueden determinarse de manera razonable, dado que, si no existe una acción legislativa o administrativa estatal, no está claro en qué medida la marihuana con fines médicos estará exenta de impuestos.

Texto completo:

ARTÍCULO X VARIOS SECCIÓN 29. Producción, posesión y uso de marihuana con fines médicos.— (a) POLÍTICA PÚBLICA. (1) El uso médico de marihuana por parte de un paciente calificado o un cuidador personal no está sujeto a responsabilidad ni a sanciones penales, o civiles, conforme a las leyes del Estado de Florida, excepto según se indica en esta sección. (2) El médico autorizado por el Estado de Florida no estará sujeto a responsabilidad penal o civil ni a sanciones, conforme a las leyes del Estado de Florida, por extender un certificado médico a una persona diagnosticada con una enfermedad debilitante de conformidad con esta sección. (3) Las acciones y el comportamiento de un centro de tratamiento de marihuana con fines médicos inscrito ante el Departamento, o sus empleados, según se contempla en esta sección y en cumplimiento de las reglamentaciones del Departamento, no estarán sujetos a responsabilidad ni a sanciones penales o civiles conforme a las leyes del Estado de Florida, excepto según se indica en esta sección.

(b) DEFINICIONES. A los fines de esta sección, las siguientes palabras y términos tendrán los siguientes significados: (1) «Enfermedad debilitante» significa cáncer, glaucoma, estado positivo del virus de inmunodeficiencia humana (VIH), síndrome de inmunodeficiencia adquirida (SIDA), hepatitis C, esclerosis lateral amiotrófica (ELA), enfermedad de Crohn, enfermedad de Parkinson, esclerosis múltiple u otras enfermedades para las cuales, a criterio del médico, los beneficios del uso médico de la marihuana probablemente serían superiores a los riesgos potenciales para la salud de un paciente.

(2) «Departamento» significa el Departamento de Salud o su agente sucesora. (3) «Tarjeta de identificación» significa un documento emitido por el Departamento que identifica a una persona que tiene un certificado médico o a un cuidador personal de por lo menos veintitún (21) años de edad que ha aceptado asistir a un paciente calificado en el uso médico de marihuana. (4) «Marihuana» tiene el significado otorgado al cannabis en la Sección 893.02(3) de los Estatutos de Florida (2013). (5) «Centro de tratamiento de marihuana con fines médicos» significa una entidad que adquiere, cultiva, posee, procesa (incluido el desarrollo de productos relacionados tales como alimentos, tinturas, aerosoles, aceites o ungüentos), transfiere, transporta, vende, distribuye, despacha o administra marihuana, productos que contienen marihuana, suministros relacionados o a material educativo a pacientes calificados o a sus cuidadores personales y que está inscrito ante el Departamento. (6) «Uso médico» significa la adquisición, posesión, uso, entrega, transferencia o administración de marihuana o suministros relacionados por parte de un paciente calificado o un cuidador personal para ser usados por un paciente calificado para el tratamiento de una enfermedad debilitante. (7) «Cuidador personal» significa una persona de por lo menos veintitún (21) años de edad que ha aceptado asistir a un paciente calificado en el uso médico de identificación de cuidador emitida por el Departamento. Un cuidador personal no puede asistir a más de cinco (5) pacientes por vez. Un empleado de un proveedor de cuidados paliativos o de un centro médico o de un hogar de ancianos puede actuar como cuidador calificados. Todos los registros que contengan la identidad de los pacientes calificados deberán ser confidenciales y estar exentos de divulgación pública excepto con fines médicos o referidos al cumplimiento de la ley válidos.

 (e) LEGISLACIÓN. Nada de lo contenido en esta sección limitará a la legislación para promulgar leyes coherentes con esta disposición.
 (f) DIVISIBILIDAD. Las disposiciones contenidas en esta sección son divisibles, y si cualquier tribunal competente declara la invalidez de cualquier cláusula, oración, párrafo o sección de esta medida, o su aplicación, las demás disposiciones continuarán vigentes en la mayor medida posible.

No. 3 ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL ARTICULO V, SECCIONES 10, 11 (Asamblea Legislativa)

Título de la boleta:
 Nomenclamiento Eventual para Ciertos Cargos Judiciales Vacantes

Resumen de la boleta:
 Proponer una enmienda a la Constitución del Estado en la que se establezca que el Gobernador debe cubrir las vacantes eventuales en los cargos judiciales que estén sujetos a elecciones de retención cuando los jueces o magistrados se encuentren por cumplir la edad legal para jubilarse o en el supuesto de que no califiquen para la elección de retención; y permitir los nombramientos eventuales si un juez o magistrado no se retiene en su cargo en una elección de retención. En la actualidad, el Gobernador no puede cubrir una vacante prevista hasta que termine el mandato del juez o magistrado actual.

Texto completo:
 ARTICULO V
 PODER JUDICIAL
 SECCIÓN 10. Retención; elección y mandatos.—

(a) Cualquier juez o magistrado puede calificar para la retención, la cual se produce mediante el voto de los electores en la próxima elección general que sea anterior a la conclusión del mandato del juez o magistrado por las causas establecidas por ley. Cuando Si un juez o magistrado no está habilitado para ser retenido o no cumple con los requisitos para la retención, se producirá una vacante eventual al finalizar el periodo de calificación de retención a fin de nombrar un juez o magistrado sucesor, y se producirá una vacante en ese cargo judicial a la finalización del mandato cumplido por el juez o magistrado. Cuando un juez o magistrado califique como tal para la retención, en la boleta se deberá leer claramente lo siguiente: "¿Deberá el Magistrado (o Juez)... (nombre del juez o magistrado)... de la... (nombre de la corte)... ser retenido en el cargo judicial?" Si la mayoría de los electores calificados que votan dentro de la jurisdicción territorial de la corte eligen retenerlo, entonces, el juez o magistrado continuará ejerciendo sus funciones durante un periodo de seis años. Este mandato del juez o magistrado que ha sido retenido comenzará el primer martes luego del primer lunes de enero siguiente a la elección general. Si la mayoría de los electores calificados que votan dentro de la jurisdicción territorial de la corte eligen no retenerlo, una vacante eventual se producirá inmediatamente luego de la elección general con la finalidad de nombrar a un juez o magistrado sucesor, y se producirá una vacante en ese cargo judicial a la finalización del mandato cumplido por el juez o magistrado.

(b)(1) Se deberá mantener el método de elección de jueces de circuito sin perjuicio de las disposiciones de la sub-sección (a), excepto que la mayoría de los votantes en la jurisdicción de dicho circuito aprueben la opción local de elegir a los jueces de circuito mediante el sistema de selección por mérito y elecciones de retención en lugar de mediante una elección. La elección de los jueces de circuito deberá realizarse mediante el voto de electores calificados dentro de la jurisdicción territorial de la corte.

(2) Se deberá mantener el método de elección de los jueces de la corte del condado, sin perjuicio de las disposiciones de la sub-sección (a), excepto que la mayoría de los votantes en la jurisdicción de dicho condado aprueben la opción local de elegir a los jueces del condado mediante el sistema de selección por mérito y elecciones de retención en lugar de mediante una elección. La elección de los jueces del Condado deberá realizarse mediante el voto de electores calificados dentro de la jurisdicción territorial de la corte.

Jasper Legals

(3)a. En la elección general del año 2000 se deberá votar en cada jurisdicción territorial de circuito y de condado para decidir si el modo de elegir a los jueces de circuito y a los jueces del condado será mediante el sistema de selección por mérito y elecciones de retención en lugar de mediante una elección. Si los electores votan por no ejercer esta opción local, esta opción no podrá someterse a votación de los electores en esa jurisdicción hasta que hayan transcurrido al menos dos años.

b. A partir del año 2000, cada circuito puede presentar la opción local de elección por mérito y elecciones de retención o de la elección de jueces de circuito, según corresponda, al presentar una solicitud ante el supervisor de las elecciones. Dicha solicitud deberá estar firmada por un número de electores igual a por lo menos el diez por ciento de los votos emitidos en la jurisdicción de ese circuito en la última elección presidencial efectuada.

c. A partir del año 2000, cada condado puede presentar la opción local de elección por mérito y elecciones de retención o la elección de los jueces del condado, según corresponda, al presentar una solicitud ante el supervisor de las elecciones. Dicha solicitud deberá estar firmada por un número de electores igual a por lo menos el diez por ciento de los votos emitidos en el condado en la última elección presidencial efectuada.

(a)(1) Siempre que se produzca una vacante en un cargo judicial sujeto a la elección de retención, el gobernador deberá cubrir la vacante mediante el nombramiento de una persona entre al menos tres y no más de seis personas nominadas por la comisión judicial de nombramientos correspondiente, por un periodo que finalizará el primer martes luego del primer lunes de enero del año siguiente a las próximas elecciones generales que se efectúen al menos un año después de la fecha del nombramiento.

(2) Siempre que se produzca una vacante eventual en un cargo judicial sujeto a la elección de retención, el gobernador deberá cubrir esa vacante eventual mediante el nombramiento de un juez o un magistrado de entre al menos tres personas y no más de seis personas nominadas por la comisión judicial de nombramientos correspondiente. El plazo del nombramiento comienza cuando finaliza el plazo del cargo que quedó vacante y concluye el primer martes luego del primer lunes de enero del año siguiente a la próxima elección general.

(b) El gobernador deberá cubrir cada vacante de una corte de circuito o de una corte de condado, en donde los jueces sean elegidos por mayoría de votos de los electores, al nombrar a una persona entre no menos de tres y no más de seis personas nominadas por la comisión judicial de nombramientos correspondiente, por un periodo que concluye el primer martes luego del primer lunes de enero del año que sigue a elección primaria y general que se efectúe por lo menos un año después de la fecha del nombramiento. Se deberá realizar una elección para cubrir ese cargo judicial por el periodo del cargo que comienza al finalizar el periodo del cargo por nombramiento.

(c) Los nombramientos se deberán realizar dentro de los treinta días desde que se ha producido la vacante o vacante eventual, excepto que el gobernador extienda el periodo por un lapso que no podrá exceder los treinta días. El gobernador deberá realizar el nombramiento dentro de los sesenta días desde que los nombramientos hayan sido certificados ante el gobernador.

(d) Tal como lo establece la legislación general, deberán existir diferentes comisiones judiciales de nombramientos para el Tribunal Supremo, para cada tribunal de apelación de distrito, y para cada circuito judicial en todos los juzgados de primera instancia del circuito. Las comisiones judiciales de nombramientos deberán establecer reglamentos de procedimiento uniformes en cada nivel del sistema judicial. Tales reglamentos, o cualquier parte de ellos, podrán ser derogados por las leyes generales promulgadas con la mayoría de votos de cada cámara de la Asamblea Legislativa, o por el Tribunal Supremo de Justicia con el voto concurrente de cinco magistrados. A excepción de las deliberaciones realizadas por las comisiones judiciales de nombramientos, los procedimientos de las comisiones y sus registros deberán estar abiertos al público.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Dr. Kohen and the student team onsite in White Springs.

UF partners with White Springs on year 2 of priority CFP projects

DEO grants additional planning funds for community and economic development

White Springs Mayor Helen Miller welcomed Dr. Martha Kohen, professor of construction, planning and design at the University of Florida School of Architecture, and her students in the Nature & Heritage Center, prior to a tour of three local sites slated for attention during 2014-15.

Converting the boat ramp on U.S. 41 into a park with services similar to Gibson Park and the Houlton Creek River Camp was first on the list. The objective is to turn the boat ramp into a destination that supports existing businesses by attracting more visitors to White Springs. The park conversion would generate more customers for Family Traditions, Fat Bellies, Dollar General, American Canoe Adventures and Rooster's Outfitters, as well as other businesses in town.

Next was a visit to property adjacent to the town's old sewer plant, recently conveyed to the town by the Suwannee River Water Management District. A public-private partnership to construct an eco-lodge on the property is the goal. The limited number of rooms and cabins for rent continues to constrain tourism at Stephen Foster Folk Culture Center and Big Shoals State Parks, participation in cycling events sponsored by the Suwannee Bicycle Association, and the eco-tourism businesses of American Canoe Adventures and Rooster's Outfitters. Building of the eco-lodge would provide temporary construction jobs, as well as permanent jobs to operate and maintain the lodge.

At the old Carver School, the UF group was met by local resident Teddy Bear Marshall, who provided an overview of the site's importance to the community. Teddy Bear expressed his appreciation that the site was finally getting the attention it deserves. Dr. Kohen's UF colleague, Dr. Charlie Hailey, has agreed to a "Design/Build" project at the Carver site in partnership with Brothers United. The Carver Neighborhood project fits into the category of community development, providing a venue for recreation, family parties and reunions, community get-togethers and the annual May Day event.

Planning funds for these three projects are being provided by the Department of Economic Opportunity's (DEO) Competitive Florida Partnership (CFP) program. Successfully completing the pilot program requirements (February to June 2014) has resulted in funding for "Year 2" to target high priority projects. The first two projects were selected for economic development as they add to the town's business infrastructure, and the third project was selected as the top priority for community/neighborhood development. These projects do not require matching funds from the town, but the Carver project, which includes construction, does require in-kind support from the community.

The White Springs CFP projects all meet DEO's program goal to promote community, economy and leadership in rural areas. Generating more revenue for White Springs requires more investment for job creation.

Flavor-Fall Truffles

From the kitchen of Chef Morgan Larracuente

Fall is here and in need of some delicious recipes to start off this season's holidays. It's time for our homes to be filled with the fresh scent of pumpkin spice and our taste buds should be overflowing with the rich, creamy flavor of these decadent chocolate truffles. Not only is this recipe simple to follow, but it can be transformed into hundreds of different flavors, making it a family favorite for any occasion. Once you have this basic ganache recipe down, you can start switching it up a notch by adding your favorite holiday flavors.

Basic Ganache Ingredients:

For milk chocolate:
8oz Milk Chocolate Chips
1cup Heavy Whipping Cream

For white or dark chocolate:
8oz White or Dark Chocolate Chips
3/4cup Heavy Whipping Cream

Truffle Ingredients:

Ganache, cooled
Coating Chocolate
2tsp Flavored Extract, optional
1cup Desired Toppings, optional

(To give an idea some of the optional toppings could include pumpkin spice, cinnamon, cocoa powder, shredded coconut, dried fruits, crushed cereals, etc.)

1. Place chocolate chips into a heat resistant bowl. In an medium pot, bring heavy whipping cream to a boil, careful not to allow it to overflow.
2. Pour heated heavy whipping cream over chocolate chips. Stir together until chocolate is completely melted and the mixture is smooth, about 1-2 minutes. If you are going to be creating different flavored ganaches, such as pumpkin or butterscotch, add the 2 teaspoons of your choice of extract at this time.
3. Set mixture aside and allow to cool to desired consistency. For quicker cooling, place bowl of ganache over an ice bath (container filled with ice).
4. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper and set aside.
5. Once ganache is cooled, roll teaspoon-size balls and place onto prepared baking sheet.
6. Melt coating chocolate and carefully roll each ball of ganache individually to coat completely. Immediately sprinkle with desired toppings or leave plain for the traditional truffle look.
7. Allow coating to harden, then serve or store for up to 2 weeks (but I can't promise they won't disappear immediately)!

Parrothead Club celebrates 5 years of support for Herry's Kids Pediatric Services

Submitted

At its recent board meeting held at The Great Outdoors Restaurant in High Springs, the Phlockers on the Suwannee Parrothead Club celebrated its five year association with Herry's Kids Pediatric Services, a program of Hospice of Citrus and the Nature Coast.

Since 2010, proceeds from this club's annual Tropical Night Rocks the Suwannee social gathering at Live Oak's Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park have been donated in support of children served by Herry's Kids Pediatric Services. The event, a draw for Parrothead chapters far beyond the club's Gainesville, Alachua, High Springs, Lake City and Live Oak region, includes canoeing, an annual kickball tournament and lots of live music.

Through 2014, these contributions have totaled $11,366.79.

"Each year, your caring generosity helps us bring needed services and wishes to children who live with serious health conditions," Hospice Director of Children's Services Marilyn Bloom told the group in thanking them for their continued support. "You ease their days and brighten their lives."

Herry's Kids Pediatric Services also offers grief support and therapeutic camps to young people who have experienced the loss of a loved one. There is no cost for any of its programs and services, which are made possible by support from individuals, groups, organizations and corporations in its communities. More information about programs at this nonprofit charitable hospice is available at 866-642-0962 or by visiting hospiceofcitrus.org.

Founded in 2007 as an official chapter of Parrot Heads in Paradise, an international organization inspired by and endorsed by Jimmy Buffett, the Phlockers on the Suwannee Parrothead Club is dedicated to preserving and improving the environment. It also is active in community-oriented projects and concerns which are charitable, educational and promote the general welfare of the community. As they pursue these goals, its members share their interest in the lifestyle and music of Jimmy Buffett, celebrating life with a tropical spirit. For membership information and a calendar of events, visit phlockersonthesuwanneephc.com.

HCHS 2014 graduate Nina Weise completes Navy basic training

Navy Seaman Nina Weise, daughter of Walter and Madeline Weise, of Jasper, graduated from U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, IL.

Training included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, firefighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

The capstone event of boot camp is "Battle Stations". This exercise gives recruits the skills and confidence they need to succeed in the fleet. "Battle Stations" is designed to galvanize the basic warrior attributes of sacrifice, dedication, teamwork and endurance in each recruit through the practical application of basic Navy skills and the core values of Honor, Courage and Commitment. Its distinctly "Navy" flavor was designed to take into account what it means to be a Sailor.

Weise is a 2014 graduate of Hamilton County High School, Jasper.
