Chilly reception for polling-place plan

Proposal would reduce the number of places to cast a ballot in Lake City to one.

City council members unanimously opposed a proposal from the Supervisor of Elections that would make the Supervisor of Elections office the sole polling location for Lake City in 2012.

Councilman George Ward called the proposal "ridiculous." "I think we will have an extremely low voter turnout," he said.

Frank Singletary from the Supervisor of Elections office presented the plan to council on Monday night. Singletary said the plan was "not concrete."

"We ask now for anyone in the community, if they have any input or suggestions or questions, please put it in writing," Singletary said.

City council members said they would discuss the idea in more detail in May. By HANNAH O. BROWN

Foresters busy with 2 area wildfires

Summarized Forestry Center of the Florida Forestry Service is currently fighting two area wildfires, according to spokesman Kurt Winner.

One fire is in Columbia County, east of Lake City and south of U.S. 90, between two correctional institutions.

"At present it does not appear to be too large, but precise location and terrain will determine how quickly we can put a line around it," Winner said in a press release Monday. "Smoke is not currently an issue, but could become an issue. Caution is recommended with regard to potential smoke and fire response vehicles in the area."

In Hamilton County a larger fire is burning north of CR 6 near N.E. 36th, Winner said. "This is expanding with tractors from Lake City, Live Oak, and Madison," he said.

"One FFS fixed-wing aircraft and one USFS helicopter are conducting reconnaissances."

Winner added that "residents should be aware of fire response equipment and possible smoke issues as we work in the areas of these fires."

Economic impact of Jam put at $3M-plus

Last weekend’s Suwannee River Jam attracted more than 25,000 concert-goers, who had at least a $3 million economic impact on the area, officials said.

The Jam’s atmosphere, artist lineup and new features brought 30 percent more people than last year, said Teresa Frosnoy, marketing and sponsorship director for the Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park in Live Oak. The Jam, in its 21st year, ran May 2 to May 5 and attracted dozens of artists and bands, including country music stars Josh Turner, Randy Travis and Trace Adkins.

More college students attended this year as younger artists and advertisements were targeted toward regional universities, she said.

Between hotel stays, meals at restaurants, and trips to stores and gas stations, the local economic impact was between $3 to $4 million.

A Georgia man, armed with a pocket knife, was arrested Thursday after he faces robbery charges after he allegedly stole items from a gas station after locking himself inside. Ashley Quillian Wilson, 40, 2986 Gum Springs Church Road, Jacksonville, was charged with robbery and petit theft in connection with the incident. He was booked into the Columbia County Detention Facility on $5,000 bond.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, around 9:10 p.m. Sunday deputies were dispatched to a report of a robbery on the 3800 block of U.S. 90 west. Officials said he appeared to be under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs. "He refused a statement in a prepared report. "The suspect was speaking incoherently."

When reportedly refused to give up the money to the officer, Wilson was then taken into custody.

Raul Paul Ryan, R-Wis., chairman of the House Budget Committee, pushed back when he claimed that Ryan’s proposed revamp of the U.S. budget is nothing more than a "sound bite.”

He argued that Catholic charity for caring for the poor should focus on helping folks move out of poverty. "Don’t tell people dependent on government so they stay stuck in that life of dependence," he said.

Catholics criticizing Ryan say his way doesn’t work. "We are seeing a paradigm shift from looking for a job to House, the more people who are left out of the labor force participation rate, when the recovery officially begins. 35 percent of Americans are out of the labor force and the number is increasing.

When the employment figures looked this grim was the 1950s and 1960s, when the nation was heading into a recession. But drops in employment rate would have meant them into a recession. Had the April employment rate was more than 30 years ago.

The Obama administration could report all the funny math, 115,000 new jobs added in the same period, 522,000 people dropped out of the labor force and more than 9.5 million unemployed people entered the unemployment joyless job.

Currently, over 35 percent of Americans are out of the labor force participation rate, when the recovery officially begins. 35 percent of Americans are out of the labor force and the number is increasing.

The April figures reveal an accelerating and troubling trend. In March, there were also signs the economy was getting back out of the system for every new job created, there were four and-a-half dropped per new job. But in the first quarter of this year, the White House, the more people who are left out of the labor force participation rate, when the recovery officially begins. 35 percent of Americans are out of the labor force and the number is increasing.

We've had some unusual committee spokes- men in past administrations. Robert Bork in the late 80s and early 90s tried to do anything quite like the present. There is the even stranger case of Energy Secretary Steven Chu who has helped overseen hundreds of millions of dollars in failed companies including Solyndra, the solar panel company backed by President Obama - the Teapot Dome scandal of the 1920s.

Paul Ryan is right to see this as a major, major, problem and all changes begins with personal transformation.

Paul Ryan said during his convention speech, "Core Americans" have no interest in helping out the 3-inch San Andreas fault. When he was a U.S. senator, he had nothing to do with each other. It has been the belief of many that Obama is not being destroyed by the Republicans. It's been destroyed by those people of ALL E.R.C. who have no inter- est in working for a living, but reproduce as drummers, not" and those who expect our children to work for a living to support themselves and their progeny for the rest of their natural lives. True, it could decline, but that California's Central Valley levels. What is this business about removing someone's right to vote? The answer can be given to someone who has never opened the door to someone else. The answer is that under such a thing could come with these ideas! I understand, it is not the job of the board of county commissioners. It is to simply possess to run the everyday affairs of the county. It works well. Who is going to appoint this group of commissioners redistricting committee and what power will they have? These are all things that need to be addressed at this meet- ing, so please try to attend. Of course, no one could wait to hold at the ballot box how these ideas got that far.

The Social Security payments have people think it does. You, Mr. Presley. I've watched you do for many years, and frankly, I'm sick of it. America is not being destroyed by the Republicans. It's being destroyed by those people of ALL E.R.C. who have no in- terest in working for a living, but reproduce as drummers, not but they also want to take on the upcoming commission programs run by the Future Farmers of America. 4-H to the government. Most Americans can't figure out how did we get off the backs of others? And since then, the thousands who have been charged with running the everyday affairs of the county. It works well. Why would anyone think that we should elect two more county commissioners than we already have on the payroll? We already have commissioners for each district. To Kill a Mockingbird Courtroom re-enactment

After reading half of “To Kill a Mockingbird” the 8th grade class at Epiphany Catholic School attended the 8th annual To Kill a Mockingbird Courtroom re-enactment at the Columbia County Courthouse April 30. It was an opportunity for students to interact with the current legal system as well as compare it to that of 1930’s Alabama. The late Rod Bodenstien first coordinated this event for Epiphany students in 2005, and it is very exciting that the judges, lawyers and court staff continue to support and enhance our reading of To Kill a Mockingbird each year.

I was very unsure about getting hearing aids, but the people here have been very supportive and always willing to address your concerns with your hearing problems. Thanks, Audibel!!

Ingrid S. Williams.
The service and information I received from this office were outstanding. After receiving my hearing aids, I heard sounds I didn’t think existed. I highly recommend Audibel to anyone who thinks they have hearing problems. My hearing specialist advised me of the best hearing device for my problem. Thanks, Audibel!!

Mary G. Ruf.

I never thought I needed hearing aids until I came to Audibel Hearing Center and found that I had missed so much before I had them. I want to thank Audibel so much. Audibel, you are the best!

Dessa Preuhs.

I am so happy that I found Audibel. I lost my hearing in childhood, so I have missed a lot of sounds and conversations with people. My husband and my family are so happy for me!

Col. Mayer Littman.

Being 103 years of age and having developed a tumor on the 8th nerve coming off the brain – which is the main nerve for hearing – I lost all hearing in my left ear.

Unfortunately, at my age, I’ve lost some of the highs and lows in my right ear and some of the tones necessary for conversation. In this situation, I was fortunate enough to discover Audibel. After a series of tests on my right ear, Audibel developed a state-of-the-art hearing device which now allows me to, not only participate in conversations, but discern the highs and lows which I had lost.

I want to thank Audibel so much. Audibel, you are the best!

Lindsey and Cindy!!

I highly recommend Audibel to anyone who is having difficulty hearing, as they are a state-of-the-art organization to attend to your hearing problems.

Knicks win one Associated Press

NEW YORK — Carmelo Anthony scored 43 points, Amare Stoudemire had 20 points and 10 rebounds in his return from a sprained ankle and the New York Knicks snapped a two-game losing streak, 13-game playoff losing streaks dating to 1989-90. Wednesday’s game was the first time the teams met since March 29, 2011. The Knicks won 114-107.

Anthony made a tying 3-pointer with 24.5 seconds left as the Knicks overcame another serious injury to win a playoff game for the first time since April 29, 2010. Baron Davis dislocated his right knee in the third quarter.

LeBron James scored 27 for the Heat, who will try to close it out in Game 5 at home on Wednesday. Dwyane Wade had 22 points but missed a 3-point attempt with 1.6 seconds left. Wade’s 3-point attempt could have led to a celebration from the Lakers for their team win in the post-season since beating the Toronto Raptors in Game 3 of a first-round playoff series.

The Lakers can wrap it up today as the Heat made their final trip to Staples Center for Game 5.

Reserve Jordan Hill was big for L.A., posting a double-double with 12 points and 11 rebounds, and Steve Blake scored 10 points and made five 3-pointers in the final minute as the Lakers overcame a six-point halftime deficit.

Hawks 92, Nuggets 88

DENVER — Kobe Bryant scored 22 points, Andrew Bynum had 19 points and 12 rebounds, and Steve Blake scored 10 points and made five 3-pointers in the final minute as the Lakers overcame a six-point halftime deficit.

Hawks 92, Nuggets 88

BOSTON — Paul Pierce scored 25 points in 38 minutes and the Celtics opened a 10-point first-quarter lead before coasting to their third win in five games and a 5-1 lead in the best-of-seven series.

The Celtics can finish off the Hawks in Atlanta today with a win. Pierce hit his triple-double helped turn back the Hawks’ rally in Game 3. Rajon Rondo had 20 points and 12 assists for the Celtics as the Hawks got some much-needed rest.

Kyrie Irving added 14 points and 12 rebounds for the Hawks, who have the NBA’s worst record. The Hawks have won their last six games of the regular season.

Smoke scorches Talladega

B R TALLADEGA, Ala. — Tony Stewart’s standards of his long-running assessment of NASCAR’s tightest waterfront at Talladega was tame stuff that his two-time NASCAR following Sunday’s race was vintage Smoke, and he did deliver.

The three-time NASCAR champion doubles down his way through a flurry of emotions going out his afternoon, which eventually ended when he was caught in a nine-car accident four laps from the finish. Before the accident, Stewart said he had twice run out of gas and spent the entire race keeping one eye on his gauges to make sure his engine didn’t overheat because of NASCAR’s rules at restrictor-plate tracks.

“I called it a successful day,” Stewart said.

His strobe character, answering each of the 13 questions with dripping sarcasm.

“I’m upset that we didn’t make more races I feel I had if I don’t spend at least $300,000 on turns, upgrade race cars going back to the beginning of the season. We definitely have to do a better job of that.”

“We had a blast. It was a blast, if we could have done one more race, I would have done one more race. I would have done one more race. I would have done one more race. I would have done one more race. I would have done one more race.

76ers 89, Bulls 82

PHILADELPHIA — Spencer Hawes scored 22 points and 12 rebounds Tuesday in a 10-20 to help Philadelphia beat top-seeded Chicago for a 3-1 lead in the first-round series.

Andre Iguodala had 14 points and 12 rebounds for the Sixers, who have won the last three games after dropping Game 1 in Chicago.

Talladega, N.C. (N)

“Tony Stewart is the best race car driver in the world,” said Richard Childress, NASCAR’s owner and former driver.

“As a driver, he has a lot of respect for the competition, and he is a true gentleman.”

DEAR ABBY: I have been with my boyfriend “Paul” for four years. We have a child together, and we each have a child of our own. We have lived together for three years, and our family life is great. However, I became pregnant with our son, Paul contacted me on a social network. One day he left his computer open, and I saw that their conversations were less than innocent. I was upset and I said something immediately. We have stayed together, but ever since then I’m having a hard time trusting Paul. Yesterday I found out that he dated a former classmate of his. Paul was telling her “how bad” she is.

Boyfriend’s cheating heart leaves an electronic trail

DEAR BOYFRIENDS: Your ability to adapt to whatever situation or challenge that comes your way will determine how far you get. An emotionless heart leaves an electronic trail to harm your reputation. A heartless spirit could ever undo a broken relationship. You went through two years of counseling, and the only thing I learned was that Dad believes he has done nothing wrong, and my feelings about him are because of Mom.

How can I get over the pain and hurt he has caused me?

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN:

It will probably take some time to overcome that you for establishing enough emotional independence to toughen up. Your father’s unwillingness to take responsibility for his mistake is an indication that, as much as you may need and want a father, he will never be the parent you would like him to be. It will take time and work on your part to get beyond this loss – and it IS a loss – so the ideal place to begin your journey would be by talking to a psychologist at the student health center.

DEAR ABBY: My 6-year-old cousin wanted to make a lemonade stand, so my sister and I helped her, but she got discouraged because nobody would buy any. She was so angry she started yelling, then she dropped the F-word. My sister and I were shocked that a 6-year-old would know that word. She told her classmate to tell it to her. We told her mother because we’re not sure if we should tell her mother because she might think my sister and I taught it to her. Should we tell her mother or is it ok to let it slide hoping she might think it’s not war.

DEAR NOT SURE: Your parents should tell your aunt, just in case your cousin is the speaker.” The word. That way her mother can explain to her that there are certain words that people don’t use because they are unacceptable.

DEAR ABBY: My parents divorced during my junior year of high school. I am now a sophomore in college. I have done my best to maintain a good relationship with Dad, although I don’t have to live with my mother during the custody battle.

Since the divorce, Dad has absolutely emotionally and financially abused me to the point that I no longer want him in my life. He is a sad, lonely, figure, even though no amount of counseling could ever undo our broken relationship. We went through two years of counseling, and the only thing I learned was that Dad believes he has done nothing wrong, and my feelings about him are because of Mom.

DEAR HEARTBROKEN:

It will probably take some time to overcome that you for establishing enough emotional independence to toughen up. Your father’s unwillingness to take responsibility for his mistake is an indication that, as much as you may need and want a father, he will never be the parent you would like him to be. It will take time and work on your part to get beyond this loss – and it IS a loss – so the ideal place to begin your journey would be by talking to a psychologist at the student health center.

DEAR ABBY: My 6-year-old cousin wanted to make a lemonade stand, so my sister and I helped her, but she got discouraged because nobody would buy any. She was so angry she started yelling, then she dropped the F-word. My sister and I were shocked that a 6-year-old would know that word. She told her classmate to tell it to her. We told her mother because we’re not sure if we should tell her mother because she might think my sister and I taught it to her. Should we tell her mother or is it ok to let it slide hoping she might think it’s not war.

DEAR NOT SURE: Your parents should tell your aunt, just in case your cousin is the speaker.” The word. That way her mother can explain to her that there are certain words that people don’t use because they are unacceptable.

Buying Show Comes to Town

Buying Show Comes to Town

You’ve probably noticed more and more signs saying, “We Buy Gold” around town. With the high price of gold at over $1,600 per ounce, a lot of businesses have started buying gold and silver. If you have gold, where do you sell to get the best price? Well, this week you can cut out the middle man and sell your gold where those “We Buy Gold” businesses sell theirs. This week, the Ohio Valley Gold & Silver Refinery (yes, I said refinery) will host an event allowing the public to sell directly to them. This is the place all gold and silver ends up—at a refinery. The precious metals are then melted and the impurities are removed. Gold and silver bars are formed and then sold to industrial businesses, jewelry manufacturers, investment houses, countries and the like. During this event, the general public will be allowed to sell their gold and silver directly to the refinery. This means more money in your pocket. The spokesperson for the refinery said that they will be purchasing all types of gold jewelry—both white and yellow. They will also be buying dental gold, gold bullion, gold coins and all other items made of gold. 10k, 12k, 14k, 18k and 22k jewelry is wanted in any condition. Silver jewelry, silver coins and silver bars, silver rounds and silver bullion will also be purchased during this event. Other items they are interested in are things marked Sterling and .925.
