Two juveniles charged with grand theft

JAY FELBERG
Managing Editor
jfelsberg@chipleypaper.com

CHIPLEY — The crime spree of two juveniles came to an end last week when local law enforcement arrested them on multiple charges.

The Washington County Drug Task Force reported the arrest of the two juvenile males, ages 14 and 16, in a news release Friday. According to the news release, the suspects entered a concession stand located on the Vernon High School grounds where they removed items including a John Deere Gator valued at $10,000. The suspects also did extensive damage to the football field. Investigators later found the abandoned Gator hidden in a neighboring wooded area.

The juveniles are charged with grand theft, burglary, petty theft and felony criminal mischief.

Sheriff Bobby Haddock ask that anyone with information on illegal activity contact the Washington County Sheriff's Office at 638-TIPS (8477) or by e-mail at tips@wcsco.us.

Report issued on drownings
SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

MARIANNA — Two of three men found dead in a Jackson County pond drowned with high levels of alcohol in their blood and no external injuries, autopsies and blood tests have confirmed, according to Florida Freedom Newspapers.

The deaths of Honorio H. Hernandez, 20, and Ismael H. Hernandez, 23, were accidental, according to District 14 Medical Examiner Dr. Michael Hunter.

A complete report was not yet available Thursday for a third dead man, 26-year-old Rene Salinas.

In mid-April, the men were pulled from a pond at Southern Cattle Company, a large ranch northwest of Marianna where friends said some, or possibly all, of them worked. Jackson County sheriff's investigators said from the beginning that alcohol appeared to be a factor. Blood test results obtained by The News Herald showed Honorio Hernandez's blood alcohol level was 0.12 and Ismael Hernandez's was 0.27.

The Sheriff's Office had all but closed its investigation in April when friends of the victims said they suspected foul play. They said the men were experienced swimmers who perhaps were robbed of a large amount of cash they were carrying to purchase a motorcycle.

Child Support Services for Healthy Start Mothers

Mary Lee Blankenship, Outreach Coordinator Florida Department of Revenue Child Support Enforcement Program

Statistics show that almost half of the babies born in Florida are born to single mothers. Many of these mothers are also clients of Healthy Start Coalitions across the state.

Children First is a program of the Florida Department of Revenue's Child Support Enforcement Program. Funding is provided through a federal grant from the Department of Health & Human Services. The goal of the project is to educate Healthy Start moms about child support and help them access services.

The Child Support Enforcement Program can help:

- Establish paternity (proof of fatherhood)
- Locate the parent of a child
- Get a support order, including health care coverage
- Enforce a new or existing support order

Healthy Start moms who need help with or want to learn more about child support services can call Mary Lee Blankenship at (850) 728-3825 or visit* her at the:

- Holmes County Health Department Mondays - 9 to 4
- Jackson County Health Department Tuesdays - 9 to 4
- Liberty County Health Department Thursdays - 9 to 4

*No appointment is necessary.

Children thrive when they have the love and support of both parents. The Child Support Enforcement Program can help with the financial support children need and deserve.

Two arrested on drug charges; counterfeit bills found in their trash

FLORIDA FREEDOM NEWSPAPERS

PANAMA CITY BEACH — Two women were arrested on drug charges Thursday after they were questioned in connection to counterfeit $20 bills found by a sanitation worker emptying the trash can at their address.

According to a Bay County Sheriff's Office report, Michele Skelly, 28, and Savannah Lynn Moran, 24, both of 5416 Sunset Ave., were charged with possession of marijuana with intent to sell or deliver, and possession of narcotic equipment.

About 9 a.m. Thursday, a sanitation worker emptying the trash can from that address into a garbage truck saw "numerous $20 bills" in the can. He and a coworker gathered the bills out of the trash and compared the bills to each other. Two of the serial numbers on the bills were the same, so they figured the money was counterfeit and contacted authorities.

As they were looking at the bills, two women left the residence in a silver Dodge Neon, the report said.

Also in the bag with the counterfeit bills were pieces of mail addressed to Skelly and receipts from various stores in which the purchases were made with cash, the report said. These were separated and collected as evidence.

While collecting the evidence, a deputy saw a silver Neon drive by the area. He stopped the car and made contact with Skelly, who followed him back to the residence, the report said. She said she had just dropped off Moran at her workplace.

Another deputy went to the job site, but saw Moran walking back home. He picked her up and brought her to the residence, where both women were read their Miranda rights, the report said. Investigators were called to the scene and the evidence was turned over to them. The report noted that the garbage can for the residence was assigned to a third party who was not arrested or charged.

No counterfeiting charges were lodged at this time against any of the parties, according to reports.

Tickets for Spanish Trail Playhouse's 'Arsenic & Old Lace' now on sale

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

CHIPLEY — Tickets for the Spanish Trail Playhouse production of "Arsenic & Old Lace" went on sale to sponsors, members, and season ticket holders on May 31. They will go on sale to the general public on Monday, June 7. Ticket prices are $12 adults, $10 seniors (65 and up) and military (with ID). Tickets may be purchased at the Spanish Trail Playhouse box office located at 680 2nd Street in Chipley from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday-Friday and 6 p.m.-9 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. You may reach the box office by calling 850-638-9113.

"Arsenic & Old Lace" tells the story of the wacky Brewster family members whose love for charity has taken an alarmingly murderous turn. This play of hilarity and homicide is a macabre tale of two charming and innocent ladies, Abby and Martha Brewster, who populate their cellar with the bodies of lonely old men whom they have "helped find peace." The hilarity continues through the antics of their nephew, Ted, who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt; Mortimer, the manic theatre critic; and Jonathan, the mad killer with the face of Boris Karloff. "Arsenic & Old Lace" is a frenzied, hilarious, madcap comedy that is sure to leave the audience aching with laughter.

Directed by Kevin Russell, the cast includes Trish Payne as Martha Brewster, Anthony Mosier as Teddy Brewster, Chris Kneiss as The Rev. Dr. Harper, Ashleigh Stowe as Elaine Harper, Danny Page as Officer Klein, Arthur Obar as Mr. Gibbs/Mr. Witherspoon, Terrie Garrett as Abby Brewster, Garrett Brolund as Mortimer Brewster, Steve Mason as Jonathan Brewster, Alex Squires as Officer Brophy, Adrian Allen as Officer O'Hara, Kevin Russell as Dr. Einstein, Harry Barton as Lieutenant Rooney, and Phyllis Sloan as Stage Manager.

"Arsenic & Old Lace," written by Joseph Kesselring and produced by special arrangement with Dramatist Play Service, Inc., will take the stage June 17-19, 2010, at 7 p.m. nightly and June 20, 2010, at 2 p.m. The Spanish Trail Playhouse is located at 680 Second Street in Chipley inside the Historic Chipley High School.

This production is sponsored in part by the Washington County Tourist Development Council. For further information, you may contact the Spanish Trail Playhouse at spanishtrailplayhouse@gmail.com. Visit www.spanishtrailplayhouse.com for more information.

Local man arrested on marijuana charges

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

BONIFAY — The Washington County Drug Task Force reports the arrest of a man from the Moss Hill Road area. Arrested was Robert Vincent Laconte, 49, of Holly Hills Road, according to a news release from Washington County Sheriff's Office. Laconte was arrested after a late night service of a search warrant at Laconte's house. During the drug raid, Task Force Investigators located a felony amount of marijuana, drug paraphernalia and approximately $13,771 in cash in the residence.

Laconte was arrested and charged with felony possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Sheriff Bobby Hadcock ask that anyone with information on illegal drug activity contact WCSO at 638-TIPS (8477) or by e-mail at tips@wcsco.us.

Sheriff's Maj. Donnie Branch then said investigators would keep the case open until they confirmed the drownings. He did not return a phone call Thursday, May 27.

There were five swimmers at the pond before the drownings, investigators said. The two who survived, described as illegal aliens who spoke little English, left the area soon after the investigation began, according to Branch.

Robbery suspects sought

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

MARIANNA — On Sunday, May 23, at approximately 9:30 p.m., the Jackson County Sheriff's Office 911 center received a call from a subject at 2 Fairview Road south of Marianna requesting an ambulance for a subject bleeding from the head. Upon arrival, deputies determined that the subject had been a victim of a robbery, according to a news report from JCSO.

The victim, 66-year-old Harold Drucker, reported that he was sitting in his living room watching television when he heard a knock at his door. When Drucker opened the door he was struck in the head with a blunt object. The suspect(s) continued striking the victim several times on the head and arms. Drucker reported that the suspects stole approximately $400 from his pants pockets during the robbery.

Jackson County Fire Rescue personnel transported Drucker to Bay Medical Center for medical treatment. As a result of the attack, Drucker suffered two broken hands, a concussion and several lacerations to his head. Anyone with information about this crime is asked to contact the Jackson County Sheriff's Office at 850-482-9664 or Jackson County Crime Stoppers at 850-526-5000.

Donate your old car

Now that summer is arriving, people may be thinking of donating their old cars as part of a clean up. The Boys and Girls Clubs would be happy to take their old cars. People donating to the clubs will not only get rid of unwanted car but will be contributing to the clubs. Boys and Girls Clubs really work with kids in most communities and offer a safer place.

If you wish to donate a car, call 800-246-0493. Not only will donators be helping the kids, they will be able to take a donation for income tax purposes.

Boat Lake Beach open in Sunny Hills

SUNNY HILLS — Boat Lake swimming beach and park has reopened in Sunny Hills now that lake levels have returned. The white sand beach and picnic facilities are well known throughout the area, but had not operated since late 2006 due to low water in the lake.

The facility is operated by the Sunny Hills Civic Association, Inc., a Florida non-profit corporation, and is open to the public with an admission fee from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., seven days per week through Labor Day, and then weekends thereafter, weather permitting. Day passes for children younger than 4 years are free, ages 4 – 12 are $3, and age 13 and older are $5. Season passes for ages 13 and over are $25 and for ages 4 – 12 are $15. For recognized organizations, group passes are $50 for up to 25 kids and two adults. Holders of season passes can also purchase guest passes for 10 visits at $40 or 20 visits for $80 that can be used all on one day or over the season. Exclusive use of the Pavilion is $100 per day with a refundable $50 security deposit. Pricing is very similar to prices in 2006. Members of the Sunny Hills Civic Association, Inc. receive discounts on pass purchases.

For more information, visit www.SunnyHillsFlorida.org, or you can call the concession stand during business hours at 773-0084.

I wanted to be there."

Wilson plans to answer what may be the most challenging specialty in the Army — airborne and infantry.

"It's the biggest challenge I see," Wilson said. "It appeals to me."

Mom Kim said she was very proud of her son, and as she gave Preston to God as a baby, she trusts in his future.

"God has a plan for his life and will put Preston where he can honor Him," Kim said.

Earlier that night Col. Claude Shipley (USA ret.), commander of the Chi-pley High Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, presented Wilson with his certificate of appointment to the Class of 2014 at West Point. A West Point graduate himself (Class of 1975), Shipley noted that Forbes Magazine has named the USMA as the number one university in the United States, and praised Wilson for preparing to join "The Long Gray Line" and the challenge of meeting the West Point motto of "Duty, Honor and Country."

"You are starting an adventure that few in America understand," Shipley said.

A look at memories that form the foundation of the Wells' family

My two younger sisters, Muriel and Gail, inadvertently had the names of their families left out of last week's story regarding the sign dedication.

Sister Muriel, the owner of the historic home, failed to have her husband, Roy, daughter, Maria, and sons, Austin and Graham, and Meredith, along with husband, Joe and children, Sophie, Paul and Ava were somehow omitted when the write up went to press.

Also missing from the article were Gail's husband, Lane, a son, Robert and daughter, Cecilia. The Prattler extends apologies for the error and really has no plausible explanation as to how it happened.

It was my intention to write further on the happy occasion anyhow and the mix up from last week gives me impetus to do so.

My sister, Hazel, who writes "The Happy Corner" for the Holmes County Times-Advertiser, wrote a column prior to the event as well as a follow up story.

The Prattler attempted to assign some special happening in the lives of each of the siblings in his presentation on the big day.

We have always called our older brother by the name Jim. His name is James Franklin, being named for our two grandfathers, James Thomas Wells and James Franklin Harris. In his childhood, when asked his name, he replied, "Jim James Franklin Wells." He has always been regarded as the titular head of the Wells siblings, a title he has worn honorably and effectively.

Perry Wells

In the Prattler's earlier years, he was going to be brave by asking our dad to let him off the truck on a run from Caryville to our home, thus allowing him to walk the one half mile to the home of Murray and Lena Harcus, where our family would be attending a wood-sawing that night.

The courageous youthful future newspaper writer immediately became frightened and panicked upon alighting from the vehicle. Upon observing the dust rising behind the Model A, I knew a walk, or run, home was my plight. Crying, yelling and scared, I ran the two miles to our home.

The family had just seated themselves at the supper table, where a mammoth coconut cake sat, all dressed with icing and ready to go to the wood sawing. Feelings of total rejection and abandonment overwhelmed the previously brave young Perry. A full blown crying tantrum set in with shouting to the top of the old lungs, "Uh huh, y'all thought I wouldn't get none." This episode has stayed with me throughout my life.

Our sister, Minnie, was joined by sister Hazel, on a childhood statement that has stuck in our memory down through the years. One of the hired hands on the farm was leaving after a day of working, when our mama told him, "Bring your daughter over some day when you are coming to work. Minnie Lee and Hazel love to play with her."

Minnie quickly responded, "I sure don't," with Seventeen of the 23 surviving grandchildren of Hugh and Marie Wells as they gathered on the front porch on May 15.

Hazel echoing, "I don't either." That incident has proven classic.

Hazel had her own story recorded in the recesses of our minds. She was told that she would be wearing a pair of Minnie's hand-me-down shoes to an all days sing — probably at New Effort Church. All of her pleas fell on deaf ears as she begged not to wear the shoes. While tearfully putting on the shoes, she was heard to say, "Everybody will think they are Minnie Lee's old shoes and sure 'nough they are."

Clyde seemed to have more stories attributed to him because of an especially keen, inquiring mind early in life. One of his jobs was to feed the mules. In late summer, the animal's feed was supplemented by bringing fresh corn cut even at the ground on the stalk and brought to the barn for feeding. For some reason, Daddy asked Clyde, "Did you feed the mules?"

His obviously evasive answer was, "I didn't give them no green corn."

"Then what did you give them?" Daddy asked.

"Nothing!" was the truthful answer Clyde gave.

That story is alive and well down to the third generation even today.

Max remained the baby longer than any of the other siblings. He was allowed to take his milk from a bottle longer than any of the others. On one occasion, mama forgot to take along the baby's bottle. When Daddy was told of this, he stopped the vehicle, went into a country grocery store and purchased a bottle of cold chocolate milk for the baby, which he gulped down without question.

Soon, the same thing happened again. When Max heard Mama tell Daddy the bad news, he immediately spoke out, "You get me some chocolate milk!"

Muriel was born the year Jim graduated from high school and the year before my graduation. She was only four at the time Jim and I finished our Army time and returned home. After listening to our conversation with our parents for several days, Muriel said to our mother, "Mama, Jim and Perry call y'all Mama and Daddy just like me and Gail."

Gail was only two upon our return home after military service. Upon hearing and observing our Dad and older brother, the Prattler, talking loudly, while trying to move some cows from one field to another, Gail ran into the house crying. When mama inquired as to her problem she replied, "Pa's hateful and I wish Perry would go back to the Army."

These are all treasured actual happenings in the lives of the eight Wells siblings.

Thanks for letting me relate a few of these actual events that enriched our lives and probably formed a bond of closeness that has kept us intact as a family all these years.

See you all next week.

2009 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report

We are pleased to announce that our drinking water meets all federal and state requirements.

We're pleased to present to you this year's Annual Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water. Our water source is ground water from four wells. The wells draw from the Floridan Aquifer. Because of the excellent quality of our water, the only treatment required is chlorine for disinfection purposes.

If you have any questions about this report or concerning your water utility, please contact Tim Ray at (850)638-6347. We encourage our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. If you want to learn more, please attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. They are held on the second Thursday of the month at 6:00 PM; City Hall.

The City of Chipley routinely monitors for contaminants in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws, rules, and regulations. Except where indicated otherwise, this report is based on the results of our monitoring for the period of January 1 to December 31, 2009. Data obtained before January 1, 2009, and presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with the laws, rules, and regulations.

In the table below, you may find unfamiliar terms and abbreviations. To help you better understand these terms we've provided the following definitions:

Maximum Contaminant Level or MCL: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal or MCLG: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Action Level (AL): The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system must follow.

Picocurie per liter (pCi/L) - measure of the radioactivity in water.

"ND" means not detected and indicates that the substance was not found by laboratory analysis.

Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l) – one part by weight of analyte to 1 million parts by weight of the water sample.

Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter (µg/l) – one part by weight of analyte to 1 billion parts by weight of the water sample.

Initial Distribution System Evaluation (IDSE) - An important part of the Stage 2 Disinfection Byproducts Rule (DBPR). The IDSE is a one-time study conducted by water systems to identify distribution system locations with high concentrations of trihalomethanes (THMs) and haloacetic acids (HAAs). Water systems will use results from the IDSE, in conjunction with their Stage 1 DBPR compliance monitoring data, to select compliance monitoring locations for the Stage 2 DBPR.

Maximum residual disinfection level (MRDL) - The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum residual disinfection level goal (MRDLG) – The level of drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk of health. MRDLG's to not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

CITY OF CHIPLEY

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

(A) Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.

(B) Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.

(C) Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses.

(D) Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can, also, come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.

(E) Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, the EPA prescribes regulations, which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Thank you for allowing us to continue providing your family with clean, quality water this year. In order to maintain a safe and dependable water supply, we sometimes need to make improvements that will benefit all of our customers. These improvements are sometimes reflected as rate structure adjustments. Thank you for understanding.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. The City of Chipley is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

In 2009 the Department of Environmental Protection performed a Source Water Assessment on our system. The assessment was conducted to provide information about any potential sources of contamination in the vicinity of our wells. There are 12 potential sources of contamination identified for this system with moderate susceptibility levels. The assessment results are available on the FDEP Source Water Assessment and Protection Program website at www.dep.state.fl.us/swapp or they can be obtained from Tim Ray at (850)638-6347.

We at the City of Chipley would like you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to insuring the quality of your water. If you have any questions or concerns about the information provided, please feel free to call any of the numbers listed.

SPECIAL TO SPORTS

The Lady Indians recently celebrated their state championship. They placed fifth in the nation.

Chipola finishes fifth in nation

SPECIAL TO SPORTS

ST. GEORGE, Utah —The Chipola Lady Indians finished fifth in the NJCAA National Softball Tournament on May 21.

Chipola mounted a late rally before falling to Seminole State College, 9-6, in an elimination game. Chipola entered the tournament as the No. 3 team in the NJCAA.

Seminole broke open a scoreless game with a pair of runs in the fifth off a two-run homer. Seminole added three more in the sixth to make it 5-0.

Chipola broke into the scoring column with a single run in the sixth, but Seminole answered with another run in the seventh in taking a 6-1 lead.

Chipola mounted a rally in the seventh, scoring twice to cut the lead to 6-3. With two outs, Seminole Pitcher Kaci Quintero induced what was thought to be the game-ending groundout off the bat of Ariell Van Hook. However, the Chipola coaching staff protested the play, contesting that the Seminole player who fielded the ball had not properly checked back into the lineup.

The protest was upheld and Van Hook returned to the plate. Two pitches later, she drove in Chipola's third run of the frame on a single to cut the lead to 6-4. Indian infielder Trish Bliss tied the score at 6-6 with a towering two-run blast to left field to force extra innings.

The score stayed tied until the ninth when Seminole erupted for three runs making the final score 9-6.

Van Hook finished 2-for-4 from the plate with two RBI to lead the Indians.

ans. Chipola starting pitcher Emma Stevenson, who reentered the game in the ninth, suffered the loss after allowing eight runs on 13 hits in 6.1 innings of work.

Chipola lost a 16-7 battle to in-state rival Miami-Dade in the semi-finals of the national tournament on May 21. The game was a rematch of the state championship which Chipola won 14-0 on May 2.

Miami pounded out five home runs as part of a 23-hit attack as the Sharks slugged their way past Chipola.

Both teams combined for 15 runs and 15 hits in the final two innings. Leading 6-2 in the sixth, Miami seemed to be on its way to a run-rule victory as the Sharks scored five runs in the frame, highlighted by two homeruns en route to an 11-2 advantage.

Chipola answered with five runs in the sixth, bolstered by a grand slam off the bat of Trish Bliss, which pulled Chipola back to a four-run deficit at 11-7. But Miami erupted for five more runs in the seventh, making the final 16-7.

Bliss finished with four RBI's to pace the Indians' offensive effort. Chipola starter Brittany Black was touched up for four runs in eight hits in 1.2 innings of work to take the loss.

Timely hits led the Chipola Lady Indians to defeat Chattanooga 10-4 on the opening day of the tournament. In the top of the first, Trish Bliss connected with a two-run homerun to give the Indians an early 2-0 lead.

Chattanooga took a 3-2 lead in the bottom of the fourth. The Lady Indians' bats came to life in the top of the sixth when Brittany Black doubled to center field and stole third base before Hannah Lovestrond was hit by a pitch. Selenita Pittman hit a three run shot to put the Lady Indians up 6-3.

In the top of the seventh, Chipola's Ariell Van Hook punched a straight line drive over the left center field fence to give Chipola an 8-4 lead.

Chipola pitcher Emma Stevenson earned the win. She allowed eight hits and three walks, striking out six in a complete game.

Chipola beat Georgia Perimeter 7-4 in the opening-round of the tournament on May 20. The Lady Indians jumped out to a 3-0 lead behind the bats of Nikki Roddy who homered to put the Indians up 2-0 in the bottom of the first inning. Van Hook extended the lead to 3-0 with a solo homer.

Georgia Perimeter struck back in the second scoring on a single and a two-run homerun to tie the game 3-3.

In the bottom of the sixth, Roddy doubled to score Hewett and increase the Chipola lead to 6-4. Van Hook was then walked and third baseman Trish Bliss was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Brittany Black hit a high flying pop-up that was mishandled by the entire Georgia Perimeter infield. Roddy scored from third making the final score, 7-4.

Chipola was led by Michelle Hewett, who was 3-4 with one RBI. Nikki Roddy was 2 for 2 with 3 RBIs and a homerun. Van Hook was 2-2 with a homerun and an RBI.

The Lady Indians finished the season as the Panhandle Conference Champions and the FCAA State Champions with a record of 49-13.

The one and only Coca-Cola 600

Monte Dutton

mdutton@gastongazette.com

CONCORD — The longest race, excepting those deemed officially to be a matter of endurance, is the Coca-Cola 600. It's defined by length, not time, as in the Rolex 24 at Daytona and the 12 Hours of Sebring. It's the longest "oval-track race" — now there's an imprecise term, since most aren't even remotely ovals — in the world.

But 600 miles — not 500, not 400 — gives Charlotte Motor Speedway a niche of its own that it has held since the track opened.

Michigan International Speedway once tried to hold a 600-mile race in 1969, but it rained and that track apparently heeded an omen that Mother Nature doesn't take likely a threat to Charlotte's uniqueness.

On the day in which the most famous automobile race in the world is held in Indianapolis, the longest of its kind resides in Charlotte. In a garage full of drivers who would dearly love to have the length of races shortened, no one messes with the Coca-Cola 600.

"I think all the drivers have different thoughts on what the big races are, but I do believe that the Coke 600 comes in everybody's conversation," said Jeff Burton, who has won the race twice. "Obviously you hear Daytona, you hear Indy, you hear the Coke 600, and then, for some people it's Darlington. For some people, it's the hometown track. It depends on what you are and what you personally feel."

"I think the Coke 600 is a really big race. It's so unique because it is 600 miles, and when you go back and look at who's won this race, it's pretty cool. I think it's pretty far up there."

"There are some races that are too long," Kasey Kahne said. "To me, some of those races, you don't even race until the end because too many things can happen."

You just save your stuff and wait until the end. That happens a lot of times. NASCAR races have always been long ... Some of the races are a bit long."

Like most everyone else, though, Kahne has no problem with the 600. He's won it twice, as well.

Of all the griping about making races shorter, Pocono gets the most grief, and its two races are 500 miles each. Last year the Pocono 500 lasted three hours, 36 minutes, 35 seconds. The 2009 Coca-Cola 600 was rain-shortened last year, but the 2008 race took 4:25:09.

Uniqueness sets this race apart. Relatively few would complain if Pocono's races were shortened to 400 miles. Shaving the Coke 600 to 500 would be akin to leveling the Green Monster at Fenway Park for additional luxury boxes.

It's not happening.

NWTF Educator of the Year

EDGEFIELD, S.C. — The National Wild Turkey Federation presents its annual Conservation Educator of the Year award to an exceptional teacher or instructor who incorporates conservation and the amazing comeback story of the wild turkey into their lessons for North America's youth.

As this year's academic year comes to a close, the time has come to nominate candidates for the 2010 award. Applications to nominate a worthy instructor are available at <http://www.nwtf.org/jakes/educators/award.html>. Educators also may personally apply for the award. Submissions must be postmarked by June 1 to be eligible.

Each year, the NWTF recognizes educators who demonstrate the most innovative use of the Wild About Turkey Education Box and also show their commitment to teaching conservation education in the classroom with its Conservation Educator of the Year award.

For more information, visit www.nwtf.org or call (800) THE-NWTF for details.

Marianna VA clinic open house

MARIANNA — The Marianna Veterans Administration Community Based Outpatient Clinic will have an enrollment open house on Tuesday, June 8, from 1-3 p.m. at 4970 State 90 east in Marianna.

Enrollment and eligible staff will be available to answer questions and enroll new clients.

For information call Tammy Moulton at 850-718-5620, or go to northflorida.va.gov.

Meeting for persons with Fibromyalgia

An organizational meeting will be held for persons that have been diagnosed with Fibromyalgia.

The first meeting will be held Wednesday, June 7, at Sage Day Spa, located at 116 Midway Street Suite B., Bonifay, FL.

For more information call Bobby Cole at 850-844-0078 or 850-326-1768.

A light lunch will be served.

Fibromyalgia is a health problem that causes wide-spread pain throughout the body.

Organizing the forum is Bobby Cole of Bonifay. According to Cole, many doctors are grasping at straws, and scratching their heads, when it comes to treatment of Fibromyalgia. "Some are so completely clueless and others have very far-fetched ideas."

Fibromyalgia pain can become almost unbearable at times. This is called "flare ups" and makes even a person's skin hurt.

There are also plans to bring in medical professionals to answer questions of concern about new medications, many of which have severe side effects.

If you or someone you know has this disease or suspects that they do, please urge them to come to the meetings.

Holmes Valley Quilters' enjoy a successful meeting

PHOTOS SPECIAL TO EXTRA

Guild member Laura Benton shows off her BOM for May.

Michelle Chitty
Vice President/Public Relations Officer
Special to Extra

The May meeting of the Holmes Valley Quilters was called to order at 5:30 p.m. Since guild members were excited to show off the projects they had been working on over the last month, the meeting began with "Sew-N-Tell."

Guild President Kathy Anderson announced the winner of the Greeting Card Challenge quilt contest: guild member Gerry Sterverson, who showed her quilt "I Didn't Know You Knew."

The next order of business was to remind members that charity quilts are due at the June meeting. The location of the meeting is to be announced at a future date.

Thanks were extended to Judy Reyes, Katie Brown and Leslie Long for the wonderful refreshments. The meeting was adjourned at 7:30 p.m.

Holmes Valley Quilters is a non-profit guild that was founded in January 2008 and serves the rural communities of Holmes, Washington, and Jackson counties in northwest Florida. Current Membership is 52.

You can contact us at holmesvalleyquilters@hotmail.com or check us out on the web at: <http://holmesvalleyquilters.embarqspace.com/> and Natalia Martinez of New York, N.Y. The bride's brother, Brian Shade of Clifton, N.J., was ring bearer. Following a honeymoon in the Cook Islands this July, the couple will relocate to New Orleans where the groom has taken a position at Tulane University's Freeman School of Business.

Shook named Chipola College faculty member of year, Kirkland award recipient

SPECIAL TO EXTRA

MARIANNA—Business professor Lee Shook was recently named Chipola College faculty member of the year and was chosen by his peers as the recipient of the 2010 Kirkland Award for Excellence in Teaching at Chipola College.

Since 1993 Shook has taught business courses at Chipola. He teaches both AA and BS level courses, including accounting, intermediate accounting, tax and general business. He was also instrumental in developing new courses in the start-up of Chipola's bachelor's degree in business management.

Shook is a coordinator for the IRS Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program. He also trains Chipola students to prepare and file tax returns at no charge to local residents. With the help of these student volunteers, Shook and his students filed 320 tax returns this year. Over the last five years, they have filed more than 1,000 returns.

Shook helped establish the Academic Center for Excellence (ACE) by serving on the ACE Faculty Advisory Committee. He also participated in the pilot of the First-Year Learning Experience (FYLE) component of the college's Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) serving as a mentor for 30 students. His fellow mentor Geraldine De-

Felix said, "Lee was remarkable in how he related to students. He also met weekly with other mentors during the pilot."

Shook earned a B.S. from University of Virginia and an M.P.A from University of Southern Mississippi.

The Chipola College Faculty Member of the year award includes reserved parking for a year, a $1,000 bonus, and a $100 gift certificate from the College Book Store.

The Kirkland Award was established by brothers—J.R. Kirkland and David Kirkland—in honor of their parents Carolyn and the late Willis Kirkland of Marianna. The award provides $1,000 to the annual recipient.

Business professor Lee Shook was recently named Chipola College Faculty member of the year and was chosen by his peers as the recipient of the 2010 Kirkland Award for Excellence in Teaching at Chipola College. Here, Shook (center) is congratulated by Chipola president Dr. Gene Prough (right) and senior vice president Dr. Sarah Clemons.

Chipley Gun and Pawn supports WHTC Foundation Scholarships

SPECIAL TO EXTRA

David and Zena Corbin, owners of Chipley Gun and Pawn Shop delivered a $750 check to the WHTC Foundation for student scholarships. The check immediately doubled itself through a matching grant provided by the Consortium of Florida Education Foundations.

Tommy Smith, WHTC director, accepted the donation on behalf of the Foundation. Smith said, "WHTC takes pride in serving the needs of our communities and training students to enter the high-wage occupations that will improve the quality of our workforce and economy. We are so appreciative of support like this from the Corbins. Scholarships from the WHTC Foundation are often the key to enabling many students to enroll in or complete our programs."

The Corbins regularly have made generous contributions to the Foundation's Scholarship program since 2005. Last week, the Foundation awarded thirty-one scholarships to new and continuing students, who were proud and grateful for the financial assistance.

Community businesses and citizens who are interested in making a donation to the Washington-Holmes Technical Center Foundation may contact Stephanie Halley at 638-1180 ext. 303.

Cogongrass Treatment Cost Share Program now available

SPECIAL TO EXTRA

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida Division of Forestry will again offer a Cogongrass Treatment Cost Share Program to eligible non-industrial private landowners in several north Florida counties through July 1.

The focus of the program is to impede the spread of cogongrass (Imperata cylindrica), one of the world's worst weeds, from Florida into Georgia.

In a separate component of the program, the Division of Forestry is partnering with 11 county road departments to facilitate the treatment of infestations along public right-of-ways, and applications will be accepted until July 1, and will be evaluated and ranked according to the size of the area to be treated, the proximity of the infestations to parks or other protected natural areas, and the existence of a practice plan or multi-resource management plan for the property.

Having fun being married

There are almost as many jokes about marriage as there are blonde jokes. One that I have heard a lot from the men through the years is, "When I got married, my dad said, 'Son remember this, in marriage you can choose to be right or to be happy.'" But I have found through 35 years of marriage, the best advice and marriage counseling comes directly from the Bible.

After all, it was God who created us and established marriage to be between one man and one woman for life. In creating man in His image, and the woman as his companion, God's design for marriage was very beautiful and should be the means by which all our physical needs for companionship here on earth can be met (Genesis 2:18-25, 1 Corinthians 7:1-4, Ephesians 5:22-27).

Most marriages that fail, fail because the married failed to love and put God first in their individual lives, which is the first commandment (Deuteronomy

FROM THE HEART
Tim Hall

6:5). When a person fails to understand the first commandment, you can be assured they will never be able to keep any of the others commandments. If a person cannot love God and be true to Him, how can a person expect to be able to love another person or experience true love?

So actually, the first step to being happy is to first love the One who loved you the most, as He has promised. If we would "seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness" then "all these things shall be added to you" (Matthew 6:33 NKJV).

Secondly, once the relationship with God is right, He will lead you to someone whose relationship with Him is also right. The Bible also teaches us, "Do not be unequally yoked together with unbelievers. For what fellowship has righteousness with lawlessness? And what communion has light with darkness?" (2 Corinthians 6:14 NKJV).

Thirty-five years ago on June 7, Judy and I stood before a group comprised of family, friends and God in the front of a church on a hill in north Georgia and said, "I do." That's actually an amazing accomplishment in the day in which we live, especially considering that we went steady for three years prior to that day. Also considering that she was only 15 and I was 16 when we began to date and that we lived more than 30 miles from each other.

So how in this world have we been able to accomplish this, still dreaming and planning and looking forward to years down the road, considering that in many ways we are different? She's laid back, easy going and a very likeable person, while I'm hyper-active, anxious and maybe not so likeable according to some people. She enjoys working and spending time on the computer, while I see a computer as part of my job. I like being out piddling with old cars, while her only concern for a car is, "Will it get me where I want to go and back?" As a young person, she said she would never be married to a preacher. She likes to stay home and I like to go. So you see it is an amazing accomplishment considering that one out of every two marriages in our generation has not survived.

Do you notice I used the word "survived" and not the "D" word? That's one of the reasons right there. We agreed when we married that the "D" word did not exist; it would never be in our vocabulary. You see we replaced that word with another word which is very important to us "commitment." That's the first key to a happy, successful marriage after love.

Our commitment was sealed as we made a covenant with each other before God and our families. So considering that we are stuck together, with no way out, so what do you do? Enjoy life together, make the best out of it, love the God that brought us together and love each other with all that is in us, and talk. As a matter of fact, talk a lot and listen a lot, it's called communication.

What's the secret to being happily married? Allow your love to grow for each other until it actually becomes adoration for each other and the things that are different about you. Be committed to each other even though that has become a bad word in the world we now live in. Then communicate, communicate, communicate, for you have no better friend than the love of your life, so there are no secrets.

To you who are reading this today, may you also know and enjoy a blessed and wonderful marriage, built on the solid foundation of your love for God and each other, commitment and communication. To Judy, Happy Anniversary, and as they say on birthdays, may we have many more! Love you!

Tim Hall is the author of "Church Go To Hell! Please?" and senior pastor of Gully Springs Baptist Church, three miles west of the light at U.S. Highway 79. He can be reached at timhall_2000@yahoo.com, timothyjhall.org or c/o Gully Springs Baptist Church, P.O. Box 745, 2824 Highway 90 West, Bonifay, FL 32425.

Spread The Wealth

How little it costs to take someone to lunch, or to leave an extra dollar or two on top of the standard tip. These small things do not go unnoticed, and they improve the quality of our lives and the lives of those we touch. When was the last time we bought flowers for the receptionist secretary where we work, or brought donuts to share with co-workers, or simply made cookies to share with family or friends? Although these are minor things, they spread happiness way out of proportion to the effort expended. And quite interestingly we will most likely never regret having given a generous tip or sharing a meal with someone. And, spreading the wealth doesn't have to cost a thing. We can give a compliment or ask someone how their day was, and then really listen to their response. When was the last time we complimented our husband or wife on the way they were dressed or the tastiness of a meal they prepared? When was the last time we invited a neighbor over for dinner? There are a thousand different ways to "spread the wealth," and each one will undoubtedly make us richer than what we give away.

O divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved as to love. For it is in giving that we receive; it is in pardoning that we are pardoned; and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

- St. Francis of Assisi

The Baptist College of Florida (BCF) in Graceville's registered trademark of "Changing the World Through the Unchanging Word" is exemplified in the far-reaching connections established by members of the faculty and students as they spend their summer vacations sharing the love of Christ in destinations around the globe. These world changers come from different backgrounds, different places, and different walks of life. But they all share two things in common: they are all faculty or students at BCF and they all are investing time this summer doing missions.

"We have an amazing bunch of students at BCF," BCF Missions Professor Rich Elligson said. "They don't just come to learn, they come to 'do.' Dozens of our students have taken up the challenge to do more than just 'spend the summer.' They are investing in Kingdom work." Students from virtually every degree program are spending anywhere from one week to two months doing on-site, hands-on mission work. "One group started as a team going with a partnering church to Ghana, West Africa for a two week project," Elligson said. "The next thing I knew, I was getting phone calls from them wanting to stay for the whole summer. So we spent the next few months working out details and by God's grace, it all worked out." That team left the day after graduation and will not be returning until sometime in July. "I hope the Baptists in Ghana know what they're in for!" Elligson quipped.

For the past four years, BCF Professor of Voice Kimberle Moon has traveled to Italy to perform and teach.

A BCF student shares her faith in Brazil.

Last year, Moon booked and taught nine workshops including Anatomy and Physiology of the Voice, English Diction and Vocal Health and Hygiene. She worked with professionals, amateurs and high school students. Moon will return this summer with BCF pianist Tanya Hobbie and one of her former students, Lori Slade. These three women comprise the musical theatre team assembled to train and illustrate various musical techniques as well as share their faith. "Tanya and I will be teaching the musical theatre numbers to the workshop participants while Lori choreographs the numbers for the performance at the end of the week," Moon said. "This is going to be such great fun!"

In addition to Africa and Italy, BCF faculty and students will be working in eight different states here in the U.S. and in 10 foreign countries over the summer. Some are participating as part of class work; others are doing it for the experience. But all are doing it because they share a deep burden to spread God's love and His saving message. "It's not because I have to go," said BCF junior Ben Bean, who will be spending three weeks in the Amazon River Basin. "It's because I want to. It's part of who I am, and part of what I want to be." Like all of the BCF students involved in missions this summer, Ben is excited about the opportunity to put his faith into action.

Pet BRIEFS

Horse cribbing and dentistry

Pet owners sometimes forget that animals need dental maintenance just like we do. It is important to stay on top of routine dentistry in order to help prevent more serious problems in the future. Aside from routine dental conditions that occur in horses, owners might encounter a behavior that is referred to as cribbing or crib biting that can have a negative effect on the incisor teeth.

"With cribbing (or crib biting) a fixed object is grabbed with the incisor teeth and air is drawn in repetitively through the mouth by the horse, causing a characteristic grunting noise. This behavior causes an abnormal appearance of the incisor teeth due to excessive wear," said Dr. Cleet Griffin, clinical assistant professor at Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences. "Usually this behavior is associated with boredom or confinement of horses. A remedy for every cribber does not exist. Prevention can include the use of mechanical devices to prevent grasping objects such as a muzzle. The muzzle is worn continually by the horse and limits cribbing behavior, but not eating or drinking. In my experience these seem very humane and work well at preventing the behavior. A 'cribbing collar' fits very snug around the throat latch area of the neck of the horse and discourages the horse from engulfing air. These have been utilized commonly to help prevent cribbing behavior. Other approaches that have been practiced include surgery, acupuncture, nutritional alterations, and environmental alterations to deter the behavior."

If a horse is cribbing and the owner is not aware of it, they might notice that wood has been chewed away from the feed manger or surrounding fencing. The behavior can also be very destructive to plastic water buckets and feed buckets. An annual oral exam can detect abnormal wear of the incisor teeth that results from cribbing.

"The annual oral exam also helps to detect sharp dental points that may cause discomfort during eating or riding. The examination detects abnormalities of eruption, damaged crowns, and overgrown teeth as well," Griffin said. "In Texas it is unlawful for anyone other than a licensed veterinarian to perform dental procedures on horses. For the annual visit, horses require a primary care veterinarian who is accustomed to performing routine dental procedures in horses. There are some veterinarians who limit their practice to dentistry and have undergone additional training to perform specialized procedures, who may be needed in certain situations."

Sometimes dental emergencies need to be addressed.

"The most common emergencies that involve teeth in my experience usually occur in juvenile age horses and it is not uncommon for these horses to sustain traumatic fracture of the bone involving the upper or lower incisor teeth," Griffin said. This can damage erupted teeth or the developing permanent teeth under the gum. In many instances surgical wiring can be used to fix the bone and teeth back into place for healing. "Also, I have seen horses in which an acute fracture to the crown of an incisor tooth or canine tooth has occurred causing exposed, bleeding dental pulp" said Griffin. With fractured teeth there are emergency treatments that can be undertaken in many instances by the veterinarian to reduce pain and prevent contamination of the exposed dental tissue in an effort to allow healing and eventual restoration of crown. Besides obvious signs such as bleeding, like the described case above, there are other things to watch for that might indicate oral discomfort in a horse. If, while riding, your horse displays abnormal irritated behavior such as head tossing, gaping the mouth, or slinging the head (especially after a bit is put into place) this could be a sign that the horse needs dental work.

"If the horse begins to exhibit unusual behavior while eating or chewing, such as excessive slobbering, tilting the head to the side, or dropping large chunks of poorly chewed feed material, that is a sign that some dental work needs to be done," Griffin said.

Most dental issues can be resolved or prevented with a yearly exam. If horse owners become complacent and neglect their horses' dental maintenance, it is possible that more severe problems could lead to esophageal choke or impaction colic.
